The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.

The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

I. Rate Proposal
It is currently anticipated that there will be a change from currently effective water and wastewater rates for services provided during the fiscal year commencing July 1, 2000.
(1) Metered and unmetered water rates will increase by 1.0%
(2) The wastewater rate will remain at 159% of the corresponding water charge which is payable on each account
(3) With respect to water sales to municipalities and water districts north of the City, the regulated rate will be increased to approximately $414.42 per million gallons and the rate for amounts in excess of allowance quantities will be equal to the in-city metered rate of approximately $1,751.34 per million gallons

II. Multiple Family Conservation Proposal
The objective of this proposal is to promote greater water conservation and ensure the installation of water meters in multiple unit apartment buildings. The program is expected to replace the existing Transition Program, Retroactive Transition Program and Meter Billing Cap Program for residential buildings consisting of six or more dwelling units. It provides that owners of multiple family residential buildings of six or more units who replace or have replaced at least 70% of the toilet, sink and showerhead fixtures in a building with low flow water consuming fixtures may elect to be billed on the basis of a fixed charge per dwelling unit per year. The dwelling unit charge will be subject to the general rate level changes each year, if any. The Board will periodically review this fixed rate to ensure that it continues to be consistent with the Board's objectives. The proposal provides for implementation over a 3 year period, and the earliest date on which the charge will be effective is July 1, 2001. A detailed description of the program requirements is available.

III. Charges for Steam Condensate Discharges to Sewer System
The Board is proposing explicit charges for Steam Condensate discharges into the wastewater system as follows:

(1) In the case of End of System Condensate Discharges:
A) Retail Steam Customers identified as SteamClassification-1 (SC1- Small Users), the wastewater rate shall be applied to the amount of water equal to 90% of the HCF Equivalent of its steam consumption as determined by the steam provider.
B) Retail Steam Customers identified as Steam Classification-2 (SC2- Large Commercial), the wastewater rate shall be applied to the amount of water equal to 67% of the HCF Equivalent of its steam consumption as determined by the steam provider.
C) Retail Steam Customers identified as Steam Classification-3 (SC3- Large Residential), the wastewater rate shall be applied to the amount of water equal to 76% of the HCF Equivalent of its steam consumption as determined by the steam provider.

(2) In the case of steam condensate discharges into the wastewater system from any point along the Steam System up to the property line of properties receiving steam from such System, the steam provider shall pay a wastewater charge equal to 6.3% of all amounts billed to Retail Steam Customers.

The steam provider will compute steam usage by retail steam customers and issue bills for condensate discharges on behalf of the Board.

IV. Other Billing Policy Changes
It is also contemplated that certain billing and customer service policies will be changed or clarified, including the following:

(1) Dwelling Units - as applied to various billing policies and programs, the definition is modified from the number of units shown on the records of the Real Property Assessment Division to the number of units according to the Certificate of Occupancy.
(2) Retroactive Transition Program - renamed Pre-Transition Flat-Rate Program; program eligibility changed to commence as of the application date rather than the beginning of the fiscal year in which the application was submitted.
(3) Miscellaneous Fees and Charges - price adjustments to various miscellaneous service fees, including the renaming of the "Service Inspection Fee" to the "Water Connection Fee" and increasing the fee amount from $32 to $200.
(4) Account Reconciliation Fee - new miscellaneous fee to provide a mechanism, similar to the final meter reading for metered accounts, where purchasers of real property billed on the frontage system can ensure that the account will not be backbilled prior to their ownership.
(5) Refunds - make explicit the Board's authority to apply credit balances against other accounts of the same owner prior to a refund being issued.
(6) Wastewater Allowance - applicants requesting more than one Standard Wastewater Allowance per meter will be required to file an engineer's report; Delinquent accounts will, upon notice, have Wastewater Allowances revoked; if reinstated, a revoked Wastewater Allowance will be effective as of the date full payment is received.
(7) Meter Surcharge - clarify application of meter surcharge to when a customer fails to install a meter.
(8) Permanent Boiler - clarify instances where this existing frontage charge may be applied.
(9) Backbilling Limitation - clarify definition of culpable conduct to specifically include situations where a plumber fails to secure or return a permit, or where customer fails to provide access to premises.

All members of the public who wish to obtain copies of the Board's Information Booklet describing the rate proposal, and the proposed billing policy modifications, or who wish to testify at the hearing should contact Kevin Kunkle, New York City Water Board, 59-17 Junction Boulevard, 8th Floor, Corona, New York 11368, (718) 595-3601 not later than April 28, 2000. Oral testimony will be limited to five (5) minutes duration. A copy of any prepared or written statement may be submitted to the Water Board at the above address at least two days prior to the meeting.

PROCUREMENT

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR), published each business day, lists notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement information. Solicitations notices for most procurement above $25,000 for goods or services or above $50,000 for construction and construction related services are published for at least one day.

Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except legal holidays.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. The NYC's Procurement Policy Board rules require that agencies primarily solicit from bidder/proposer lists developed for each commodity/category. Suppliers interested in being placed on such lists may obtain an application from the following agencies:

Goods

● Department of Citywide Administrative Services, Division of Municipal Supplies, Office of Vendor Relations, 1 Centre St.,18th Floor, NY, NY 10007 (212) 669-8562.

Construction & Construction Related Services

● Mayor's Office of Construction,

Bidders List Unit, 75 Park Place, 7th Floor, New York, NY 10007 (212) 788-2502.

All Other Services

● Mayor's Office of Contracts, Bidders List Unit, 253 Broadway, 9th Floor, New York, NY 10007 (212) 788-0010 Applications may also be obtained directly from each City agency. Relevant names, addresses, and telephone numbers are listed in Chapter 4 of the Vendor Information Manual.(see next section)

VENDOR INFORMATION MANUAL

This manual contains information on how to do business with the City. It can be obtained, at no cost, from the Department of Business Services, 110 William Street - 2nd floor, New York 10038. Request should be made to Gordon Richards, Director - Procurement Outreach Program, (212) 513-6356 (Tel) or (212) 618-8899 (Fax).

PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Board of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority.Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10 am to 3 pm. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contracts at (212) 788-0010.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bill within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

To learn more about the City's prompt payment policy, you can obtain a copy of the City's Vendor Payment Guidelines form the Procurement Policy Board51 Chambers Street Room 1126, New York 10007 (212) 788-7820

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOPMENT TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – CSP – PIN# 071-00S003262 – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-fourth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 5 to 30 years and the drop-in centers will be for three years with one three year option to renew.

Pursuant to Section 312(c)(1)(ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgement is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03(c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated and 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed facility location.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8000, 33 Beaver Street 13th Flr., New York, NY 10004, to request a copy of the application, which is available for pick-up only Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This proposed rulemaking was omitted from the agency's regulatory agenda pending the approval of legislation by the State Legislature.

Section 1. The chapter heading of Chapter 20 of Title 28 of the Rules of the City of New York is amended to read as follows:

[Appointment of Administrators Pursuant to]Rules Concerning Article 7-A of the Real Property Actions and Proceedings Law.

Section 2. A new Section 20-02 is added to read as follows:

§ 20-02. Regulatory Agreement.

(a) When a building for which an administrator has been appointed pursuant to Article 7-A of the Real Property Actions and Proceedings Law ("RPAPL") is transferred to a new owner at any time following appointment of such administrator, section 778(10) of the RPAPL authorizes the Department of Housing Preservation and Development ("Department") to enter into a regulatory agreement ("Regulatory Agreement") with the new owner.

(b) A Regulatory Agreement shall require the owner to provide adequate, safe and sanitary housing accommodations for persons of low income, as such term is defined in Section 2 of the Private Housing Finance Law, and may require such additional provisions as the Department deems appropriate, including, but not limited to, income and occupancy restrictions.

(c) A Regulatory Agreement shall include a certification by the new owner of the real property containing such building that (i) the prior owner has no direct or indirect interest in such real property, and (ii) the prior owner has no direct or indirect interest in such new owner

(d) A Regulatory Agreement may provide that, upon transfer of such building to the new owner, any outstanding liens filed with and recorded by the city pursuant to this section shall immediately cease to accrue interest and that such liens, including both principal and interest thereon, shall automatically be reduced to zero after a fifteen year period of compliance with such Regulatory Agreement.

Section 3. A new Section 20-03 is added to read as follows:

§ 20-03. Rent Setting.

(a) The Department may adjust the legal regulated rents for each dwelling unit in a building that is subject to a Regulatory Agreement in order to ensure an adequate cash flow from rentals to maintain such building and pay all outstanding obligations. In establishing such rent, the Department may consider such factors as the Department deems relevant, including, but not limited to, allowances for vacancies, debt service coverage, debt service, fuel, common space utilities, repair and maintenance, cleaning supplies, insurance, custodial services, management fees, professional services, operating reserve, capital replacement reserve, real estate taxes, return on equity, anticipated capital repairs and water and sewer charges. The Department may project expenses based on the Department's experience and knowledge of the maintenance and operation of similar buildings. The adjusted rent may vary for vacant and occupied apartments.

(b) The Department shall use its best efforts to ensure that any necessary adjustment to such rent are structured so as to minimize the likelihood of any involuntary economic displacement of tenants who reside in buildings where such rent is adjusted. If temporary physical displacement is required as a direct result of rehabilitation work performed in such building that is required by the Department, suitable temporary relocation arrangements shall be provided.

(c) Prior to adjustment of the regulated rent, the Department shall notify the tenants of the proposed amount of such rent and afford the tenants a thirty (30) day opportunity to submit written comments to the Department. Such notification shall be in English and Spanish and shall be either posted in a common area of the building and affixed to or placed under each apartment door of the building, or mailed to every apartment in the building, as determined by the Department.

(d) Once the rent has been adjusted, the new owner shall send a written notice of the amount of such rent to all tenants at least thirty (30) days before the effective date of the adjusted rent. Such notification shall be in English and Spanish and shall be either posted in a common area of the building and affixed to or placed under each apartment door of the building, or mailed to every apartment in the building, as determined by the Department.

Section 4. A new Section 20-04 is added to read as follows:

§ 20-04. Miscellaneous Provisions.

(a) All determinations to be made by the Department in accordance with these rules shall be in the sole discretion of the Department.

(b) Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to limit the Department's authority pursuant to any applicable law.

(c) Provided that there has been a good faith effort to comply with these rules, technical violations of these rules shall not invalidate any action taken pursuant to these rules, nor shall such technical violations give rise to any rights, claims or courses of action. The Commissioner, upon good cause shown, may alter the timing or sequence of the actions described in these rules, provided all affected parties are given reasonable notice.

Statement of Basis and Purpose. These amended rules implement newly enacted state legislation authorizing evaporation of certain liens and the restructuring of rents pursuant to a regulatory agreement with the new owner of a building for which an administrator has been appointed pursuant to Article 7-A of the Real Property Actions and Proceedings Law.

Richard T. Roberts, Commissioner

In addition, the dockmaster shall establish and post regular hours during which the public shall have access to specified portions of the marina and boat basin.

§ 3-04 Guests.
Access to the marina, piers and boat basin by guests is subject to the following conditions:

a. All guests must comply with these rules. A guest who fails to comply with such rules may be expelled from the [marina] facility. A guest who repeatedly fails to comply with the rules may be permanently barred from the facility. Permittees may also be barred from having guests if their guests repeatedly fail to comply with the rules.

b. In the interest of safety, the dockmaster may limit the number of guests on a vessel.

c. A permittee must notify the dockmaster in writing of any person who will be boarding his or her vessel when the permittee is not in the marina or boat basin. Guests may not stay overnight on a vessel when the permittee is not on board without a guest pass issued by the dockmaster. The dockmaster may refuse or terminate such permission where he or she has reason to believe that there has been a transfer of the right to occupy the vessel by the permittee to the guest.

d. If a permittee intends to have a guest remain overnight on his or her vessel while the permittee is not on board, a guest pass must be obtained from the dockmaster. This pass [is good] may be issued for up to one [three] month[s]. No guest may remain in the marina or boat basin for longer than one [three] month[s] while the permittee is absent, although the dockmaster has discretion to extend this limit for good cause. § 3-05 Inspections.
All vessels in the marina, piers and boat basin may be boarded by authorized officers and employees of the department or of other City, state and federal agencies if necessary to respond to an emergency or urgent health or safety hazard, as part of a [marina wide] general health or safety inspection or as otherwise permitted by applicable law. It shall be a violation of these rules for a permittee to refuse to allow, prevent, or interfere with such boarding.

§ 3-06 Permits.
a. No person shall dock, store or launch a vessel at [the marina] a facility without an appropriate permit from the department [or] and without payment of all required fees.

b. A permit shall not be issued for a vessel which is unsafe or likely to cause injury to people or damage to property as determined by the dockmaster.

c. [On and after the effective date of these rules, dockage] Dockage permits shall only be issued for vessels that the dockmaster determines are capable of operating in open water. Before issuing a permit, the dockmaster may inspect a vessel and/or require a demonstration of the vessel's operational capability in open water. This provision shall not apply to the renewal of seasonal dockage permits for vessels which were docked in the [marina] boat basin prior to May 1, 1997, unless they are sold or otherwise transferred to another permittee.

d. [On and after the effective date of these rules, dockage] Dockage permits shall not be issued unless the applicant presents evidence of hull and liability insurance (or a security acceptable to the dockmaster), either state registration or documentation by the U.S. Coast Guard and successful completion of a U.S. Coast Guard boating safety course or sufficient nautical experience as determined by the dockmaster. In addition, the vessel for which the permit is to be issued must be well maintained and seaworthy, except that this [This] provision shall not apply to the renewal of seasonal dockage permits for vessels which were docked in the [marina] boat basin prior to May 1, 1997, unless the vessel is sold or otherwise transferred to another permittee.

e. A permit shall be issued to the named permittee for a particular vessel and is not transferable. If a permittee replaces a vessel, the dockmaster must approve the new vessel and a suitable slip must be found before it may be docked pursuant to the permit. The dockmaster shall reject a replacement vessel which is not capable of operating in open water or which is neither state registered nor documented by the U.S. Coast Guard. The dockmaster may inspect and/or require a demonstration of the replacement vessel's operational capability in open water.

f. All completed permit applications [may be obtained from the dockmaster and completed applications] shall be submitted to the [dockmaster] department. All outstanding fees, charges, fines and civil penalties must be paid before a renewal application will be considered.

g. The commissioner may revoke, terminate or refuse to renew any permit issued pursuant to this section (i) where the permittee or applicant for renewal has been found liable in a proceeding before the environmental control board or in a court of three or more violations of these rules or the rules set forth in chapters one and two of this title (ii) where the applicant for renewal or permittee has failed to pay any outstanding fees, charges, fines or civil penalties within 15 days of the date of mailing of a written notice of such outstanding amount (iii) where the permittee or applicant for renewal has been found liable in a proceeding before the environmental control board or in a court of engaging in disorderly behavior as defined in section 1-04(i), paragraphs (6) (7) and (9) of chapter one of this title or (iv) as provided in subdivision i of this section, in accordance with the needs or requirements of the department or the interests of the city as determined by the commissioner. The [dockmaster] department shall mail or hand deliver notice of the intention to revoke, refuse to renew or terminate a permit and the reasons therefor. In the event that a mailing address is unknown or mail is returned undelivered, such notice may, in lieu of mailing or hand delivery, be posted in a conspicuous place on the vessel.

h. A permittee or applicant for renewal may file written objections with the commissioner within 10 days from the date of such mailing, delivery or posting. The objections must set forth the reasons why the permit should not be terminated or revoked or should be renewed, and include any evidence supporting the objection. The filing of objections will not prevent the commissioner from barring the permittee from the [marina] facility if the commissioner specifically finds that it is in the public interest to do so. After considering any objections raised by the applicant or permittee, the commissioner shall make a final determination whether to revoke, refuse to renew or terminate the permit and shall provide notice of such determination to the permittee or applicant for renewal in the above manner.

i. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to create a property right in any permit. All permits issued by the department are by their nature terminable at will by the commissioner in accordance with the needs or requirements of the department or in the interest of the city as determined by the commissioner.

j. An applicant for renewal or a former permittee who has been found liable in a proceeding before the Environmental Control Board or in a court of violating any provision of these rules or the rules set forth in chapters one and two of this title or who has a delinquent payment record may be required to make a deposit before a renewal application will be considered.

k. [On or after the effective date of these rules] All permittees must maintain hull and liability insurance policies naming the City as an additional insured on the policy for docked vessels and provide the dockmaster with [The dockmaster may require a permittee to provide] a copy of the insurance certificate. Proof of such insurance must be submitted to the dockmaster by May 1 of each year. [This provision shall not apply to vessels docked in the marina prior to May 1, 1997, as long as they are not sold or otherwise transferred to another permittee.] The dockmaster may, in his or her discretion, allow the permittees at the boat basin who were docked prior to May 1, 1997, to substitute an alternative security for hull insurance.

l. The dockmaster may impose other reasonable conditions on the issuance or renewal of a permit to protect public safety or to safeguard the interests of the city.

m.(1) Where a permit expires or is revoked, terminated, or not renewed, the vessel must be removed from the [marina] facility within 20 days after written notice by the dockmaster to remove it is mailed or hand-delivered to the applicant or permittee. In the event that a mailing address is unknown or mail is returned undelivered, such notice may in lieu of such mailing be posted in a conspicuous place on the vessel. Where the vessel is not removed within 20 days, the department may remove the vessel or cause the vessel to be removed from the [marina] facility. Except where a boat enters the [marina] facility due to an emergency, the dockmaster may immediately and without notice remove any vessel which enters or remains in the [marina] facility without an appropriate permit.

(2) The permittee or owner shall be liable for the costs of removal and storage of the vessel, payable prior to release of the vessel. Any vessel removed from the [marina] facility which is not claimed within 30 days shall be deemed to be abandoned and [may be turned over to the police property clerk for disposal] shall be treated in accordance with applicable law.

Applications for the waiting list must be submitted on forms supplied by the department and accompanied by a processing fee of $25.

§ 3-08 Conduct.

No person shall use a toilet in the [marina] facility which discharges into the water without marine sanitation devices approved by the State Department of Environmental Conservation. [Once the pump out station becomes operational,] All vessels with waste holding tanks must discharge waste through the pump out station or by other methods approved by the State Department of Environmental Conservation.

b. No person shall discharge into the water or on the docks and walkways any oil, spirits, drift, debris, inflammable liquids, rubbish or refuse.

c. No person shall bring or park a motor vehicle on the promenade or docks without the prior written approval of the dockmaster.

The dockmaster may restrict the outdoor use of radios, record players, compact disc players, television receivers, tape recorders and other sound reproduction devices after 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and after midnight on Friday and Saturday.

e. Garbage shall be placed in plastic bags and deposited in designated receptacles.

The dockmaster may require the replacement of dock lines which he or she finds to be inadequate or, where necessary, may in his or her discretion replace the dock lines and charge the cost to the permittee or owner of the vessel.

c. Vessels may be temporarily relocated within or outside the [marina] facility in an emergency or to accommodate construction work at the [marina] facility. When a vessel must be moved to accommodate construction work the dockmaster will give the permittee or owner 48 hours written notice to move the vessel. If the vessel is not moved within the required time the dockmaster may move the vessel or cause the vessel to be moved and charge all costs associated with moving or storage to the permittee or owner.

§ 3-10 Condition of vessels.
a. All vessels in the [marina] facility and all equipment thereon shall be maintained in good order and free of any hazard to persons, vessels or [marina] facility structures. In addition, all vessels docked at the piers or the marina must be seaworthy.

b. No structural modifications may be made to the superstructure of a vessel docked at the [marina] facility and/or permitted to use the [marina] facility without the express written consent of the dockmaster. No modifications will be permitted which will in any way limit the movement of the vessel, change the center of gravity to the extent that the vessel is unseaworthy, restrict the navigation by removal of the helm station, inhibit the line of sight forward from the helm, increase the height of the vessel or extend the vessel over water beyond the existing hull or increase the load beyond the manufacturer's hull design capacity.

§ 3-11 Operation of vessels.
a. All vessels entering, leaving or moving within the [marina] facility shall be operated under mechanical power except in an emergency [or where the vessel is designed to operate solely under human power]. All vessels in the facility shall be operated at speeds so as not to create a wake.

b. A permittee holding a seasonal dockage permit must notify the dockmaster in writing prior to removing a vessel from the [marina] facility for more than 48 hours. In order to maximize access to the marina or boat basin, the dockmaster may issue a transient dockage permit for the permittee's assigned slip during such absence. A permittee who fails to notify the dockmaster of his or her scheduled return time or who returns before his or her scheduled return time may be required to [wait] remain outside the marina or boat basin until a vacant slip is available.

§ 3-12 Required safety equipment.

Electrical lines shall not be rigged or positioned so as to obstruct walkways or docks.

b. Electricity shall not be used for heating a vessel. The dockmaster may issue orders limiting or restricting the installation and use of appliances which he or she determines require quantities of electricity that may disrupt electrical service at the marina or boat basin.

c. At those times when the department does not supply fresh water to vessels docked at the marina or boat basin, permittees may fill on-board tanks from a [heated] water line at the head of the dock. Hoses shall not be rigged or positioned so as to obstruct walkways and docks, or to cause leakage or ice accumulation.

§ 3-14 Maintenance and use of docks.
a. Except as hereinafter provided, personal property shall not be stored on piers, docks or walkways. Personal property may be stored by a permittee in a dock box no larger than 30 cubic feet and no higher than 30 inches located on a fixed pier. At the marina, personal property may also be stored in dock boxes on floating docks if permission is granted by the dockmaster. The name of the permittee shall be clearly posted on the dock box. The dock box shall be positioned so as not to obstruct the walkway or impede access to the vessel. The location of the dock box shall be subject to the approval of the dockmaster. No dock boxes [shall be] are permitted on [a] floating piers at the boat basin.

Upon request of the permittee or owner, the dockmaster may in writing extend the time for removal of the vessel. If the vessel is not removed within the allowed time, the dockmaster may remove the vessel or cause it to be removed and may recover the cost of the removal and of storage or disposal of the vessel from the permittee or owner of the vessel. If there are more permittees than available spaces, the department shall maintain a waiting list of permittees eligible for [garage] parking permits, which shall be available upon request. [Garage] Parking permits are issued to the person named on the permit and are valid only for the registered vehicle identified on the permit. [Garage] Parking permits are not transferable. Any assignment or attempted assignment of a [garage] parking permit shall result in the cancellation of such permit.

Chapter 4 of title 56 of the official compilation of the Rules of the City of New York is amended to read as follows:

Rules Governing Mooring Fields under the Jurisdiction of the Department

§ 4-01 Application
These rules apply to the permissible use of mooring fields in Sheepshead Bay, Great Kills Harbor and adjacent to the West 79th Street [Marina] Boat Basin that are under jurisdiction of the department. These rules supplement the general rules which govern the use of city park land set forth in chapters one and two of this title. To the extent that they are not inconsistent herewith, the rules set forth in chapters one and two of this title apply to the use of the mooring fields.

§ 4-02 Definitions
"Boat Basin" The West 79th Street Boat Basin located in Riverside Park on the east bank of the Hudson River at West 79th Street in Manhattan.
"Commissioner" The Commissioner of Parks and Recreation.
"Department" The department of Parks and Recreation.
"Emergency" Any situation which the department determines threatens imminent personal injury or property damage.
"Marina" The World's Fair Marina in Flushing Bay, located in Flushing Meadows Corona Park, Queens.
"Mooring fields" Areas that are designated by the United States Coast Guard as Special Anchorage Areas and are under the jurisdiction of the department in Sheepshead Bay and Great Kills Harbor and the mooring fields adjacent to the 79th Street [Marina] Boat Basin.
"Permit" A permit to moor a vessel at a designated position in a mooring field.
"Permittee" The person whose name appears on a permit.
"Piers" The piers located on the northern side of Sheepshead Bay, adjacent to Emmons Avenue in Brooklyn.
"Vessel" A floating craft of any kind including but not limited to a boat, sailboat, motor boat, dinghy, canoe and kayak.
"Waiting list" A list of persons interested in obtaining permits, which shall be maintained by the department

§ 4-03 Inspections
All vessels moored in the mooring field may be boarded by authorized officers of the department or of other city, state and federal agencies if necessary to respond to an emergency, or as otherwise permitted by applicable law. It shall be a violation of these rules for a permittee to refuse to allow, prevent or interfere with such boarding.

§4-04 Permits
(a) No person shall place a mooring or moor a vessel in a mooring field without a permit from the department.

(b) A permit shall authorize the use of a mooring that meets the requirements of subdivision (a) of section 4-07 of this chapter, the location of a mooring at a particular position in the mooring field, and the mooring of a particular vessel identified by size, type and registration number.

(c) A permit shall be issued to the permittee named thereon and is not transferable.

(d) A permit shall not be issued for a vessel which is likely to cause injury to people or damage to property as determined by the department or for a vessel which exceeds 65 feet in length.

(e) A permit will not be issued to an applicant who has any outstanding fees, charges, fines or civil penalties due the department.

(f) The applicant for a permit must be the owner or lessee of the vessel. A permit shall not be issued unless the applicant presents evidence that the vessel is registered with the State Department of Motor Vehicles or the appropriate agency of another state or documented by the U.S. Coast Guard. If the applicant is not the registered or documented owner of the vessel, the applicant must present evidence that he or she is the lessee of the vessel. If a permittee intends to replace a vessel, he or she must notify the department in advance so the department can determine whether the existing location and mooring are acceptable for the new vessel. The new vessel may not be moored until the department grants a new permit. The department shall reject a replacement vessel that is not registered with the Department of Motor Vehicles or the appropriate agency of another state or documented by the U.S. Coast Guard.

(g) An applicant who owns or leases more than one vessel may apply for more than one permit; applications for additional permits will be placed on the department's waiting list until the department determines that the number of vacant mooring positions exceeds the number of applications.

(h) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions (f) and (g) of this section, the department may reserve a limited number of permits for moorings and issue them to (i) persons for use in connection with special events or other activities that promote the enjoyment by the public of the water for educational, recreational, or entertainment purposes, or (ii) yacht clubs and marinas having water frontage in Sheepshead Bay or Great Kills Harbor for the accommodations of guest vessels of such yacht clubs and marinas. No vessel shall be moored at such moorings for the accommodation of guest vessels of such yacht clubs or marinas for more than fifteen consecutive days. Any such person, yacht club or marina that is issued a permit pursuant to this subdivision shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter to the same extent and in the same manner as the owner or lessee of a vessel who is issued a permit pursuant to this chapter.

(i) The term of a permit issued for one year commences on May 1. The department may also issue permits for a term of one month or one day.

(j) Permittees must submit a written application for the renewal of permits issued for a term of one year no earlier than 90 days and no later than 30 days prior to the expiration of an existing permit. If a permittee does not use the mooring for at least four of the months of May through October, he or she will not be given priority for a renewal unless written notification of extended absence is given to the department prior to July 1. All outstanding fees, charges, fines, and civil penalties due the department must be paid before a renewal application will be considered.

(k) The commissioner may revoke, terminate, or refuse to renew any permit issued pursuant to this chapter (1) where the applicant for renewal or permittee has been found liable in a proceeding before the Environmental Control Board or in a court of violating any provisions of these rules or the rules set forth in chapters one and two and, in the case of vessels moored adjacent to the boat basin and piers [79th Street Marina], chapter three of this title, (2) where the applicant for renewal or permittee has failed to pay any fees, charges, fines or civil penalties within ten days of receipt of written notice from the department or (3) as provided in subdivision 1 of this section, in accordance with the needs or requirements of the department or the interests of the city as determined by the commissioner. The department shall send by certified mail notice of the intention to revoke, terminate, or refuse to renew a permit and the reasons therefore. In the event that a mailing address is unknown or mail is returned undelivered, such notice may, in lieu of mailing, be posted in a conspicuous place on the vessel. A permittee or applicant for renewal may file written objections with the commissioner within 15 days from the date of such mailing or posting, whichever is later. After considering any objections raised by the applicant or permittee, the commissioner shall make a final determination whether to revoke, terminate or refuse to renew the permit and shall provide notice of such determination to the permittee or applicant in the manner provided herein.

(l) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to create a property right in any permit. All permits issued by the department are by their nature terminable at will by the commissioner in accordance with the needs or requirements of the department or in the interests of the city as determined by the commissioner.

(m) The department may impose reasonable conditions on the issuance of a permit to protect public safety and to safeguard the interests of the city, including but not limited to a requirement that the permittee or applicant have his or her mooring inspected or obtain appropriate insurance and submit satisfactory evidence of having complied with such conditions.

(n) Where a permit is revoked, terminated or not renewed, the vessel and all parts of the mooring, including anchors, chains and buoys, must be removed from the mooring field within 30 days after notice by the department to remove the same is sent by certified mail to the applicant or permittee. In the event that a mailing address is unknown or mail is returned undelivered, such notice may, in lieu of such mailing or hand delivery, be posted in a conspicuous place on the vessel. Where the vessel and mooring are not removed within 30 days after the mailing or posting of such notice, whichever is later, the department may remove the vessel and mooring or cause the same to be removed from the mooring field. The permittee or owner shall be liable for the costs of removal and storage of the vessel and mooring, payable prior to release of the same. Any vessel or mooring removed from the mooring field that is not claimed within 30 days may be deemed to be abandoned and may be turned over to the police property clerk for disposal in accordance with applicable law.

(o) Every applicant and permittee must provide the department with an address in writing at which he or she may receive notice required by these rules or other applicable law. Any changes in address must be reported in writing to the department within 10 days.

§ 4-05 Waiting list
The department shall maintain a waiting list for the issuance of permits, which shall be available upon request from the department.

§ 4-06 Conduct
(a) No person shall use a toilet that discharges into the water without marine sanitation devices approved by the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation.

(b) No person shall discharge into the water any oil, spirits, drift, debris, inflammable liquids, rubbish, refuse or untreated human waste.

(c) Any person who engages in disorderly behavior as defined in paragraph 6, 7 or 9 of subdivision 1 of section 1-04 of chapter 1 of this title may, in addition to any other applicable penalties, be expelled from the mooring fields.

(d) No person shall make or cause or allow to be made unreasonable noise in the mooring field so as to cause public inconvenience, annoyance or harm. Unreasonable noise means any excessive or unusually loud sound that disturbs the peace, comfort or repose of a reasonable person of normal sensitivity or injures or endangers the health or safety of a reasonable person of normal sensitivity. The department may restrict the outdoor use of radios, record players, compact disc players, television receivers, tape recorders and other sound reproduction devices after 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and after 12 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

(e) No person shall make an open fire on any vessel except that a device specifically designated for use on a vessel may be used in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions for cooking on deck.

(B) the pendant safe working load shall be at least four times the anchor weight;

(C) the anchor type shall be either mushroom or navy;

(D)(i) if the vessel length is 15 feet or less, each anchor shall weigh at least 100 pounds and be connected to a buoy by a metal chain no less than 5/16 inches in diameter, and the pendant shall be at least 4 feet in length; (ii) if the vessel length is greater than 15 feet but not greater than 21 feet, each anchor shall weigh at least 150 pounds and be connected to a buoy by a metal chain no less than 3/8 inches in diameter, and the pendant shall be at least 8 feet in length; (iii) if the vessel length is greater that 21 feet but not greater than 26 feet, each anchor shall weigh at least 200 pounds and be connected to a buoy by a metal chain no less than 3/8 inches in diameter, and the pendant shall be at least 10 feet in length; (iv) if the vessel length is greater than 26 feet but less than or equal to 65 feet, each anchor shall weigh no less than 10 pounds per foot of vessel length and be connected to a buoy by a metal chain no less than 1/2 inch in diameter for each anchor weighing no more than 400 pounds, or not less than 5/8 inches in diameter for each anchor weighing more than 400 pounds, and the pendant shall be at least 10 feet in length.

(2) Moorings in the special anchorage area in Sheepshead Bay shall be secured by two anchors which shall be placed as indicated in figure 1. Moorings in all other mooring fields shall be secured by one anchor, provided, however, that the department may require the use of two anchors in any mooring field in order to provide additional positions at which moorings may be located or to enhance the safety of existing mooring locations.

(3) Mooring buoys shall be of a buoyant material sufficient to make at least one foot of the buoy visible above the water line.

(4) Buoys shall be painted with the permit number and the mooring location in black block letters no less than three inches high.

(5) Fixed mooring piles or stakes are not permitted.

(b) Vessels must be moored at locations designated by the department. The location assigned to the permittee shall be determined by the department based on vessel size, type, water depth and safety considerations. No vessel shall be moored in such a manner as to interfere with the use of a duly authorized mooring location or regular traffic channel. Mooring locations may not be changed or exchanged without the prior written approval of the department.

(c) All vessels shall be adequately tied to their moorings and shall have sufficient lines to secure the vessel in all wind and weather conditions. The department may affix additional lines as necessary to assure the safety of people or property.

The department may require, as a condition of renewing a permit, evidence that an inspection has been made, including a description by the person who made the inspection of the condition of the mooring and the qualifications of such person to make such inspection.

(f) Vessels and moorings may be temporarily relocated in an emergency or to accommodate dredging or other work in the mooring field. When a vessel or mooring must be removed to accommodate such work, the department will give the permittee or owner 45 days written notice to remove the vessel or mooring. If the vessel or mooring is not removed within 45 days, the department may remove the vessel and mooring, or cause the vessel or mooring to be removed and recover all costs associated with moving and storage from the permittee or owner.

§ 4-08 Condition of Vessels
All vessels in the mooring field and all equipment thereon must be maintained in good order and free of any hazard to persons or vessels. All vessels in the mooring field shall comply with all federal, state and local laws, rules and regulations concerning the condition of vessels and equipment.

§ 4-11 Removal of sunken vessels
A sunken vessel shall be removed from the mooring fields within 7 days after oral or written notice by the department to remove the vessel. Upon request of the permittee or the owner of the vessel, the department may, in writing, extend the time for removal of the vessel. If the vessel is not removed within the allowed time, the department may remove the vessel or cause it to be removed and may recover the cost associated with removal and of storage or disposal of the vessel from the permittee or owner of the vessel. If the department determines that a sunken vessel is discharging pollutants into the water or causing any other kind of an emergency, the department may take action to stop the cause of pollution and may remove or cause the vessel to be removed, without prior notice to the permittee or owner of the vessel, and recover all costs associated with removal and storage or disposal of the vessel from the permittee or owner of the vessel.

§ 4-12 Dinghies, kayaks and canoes

Statement of Basis and Purpose

The Department of Parks & Recreation ("Parks") has amended chapter 3 of its rules to incorporate the Sheepshead Bay Piers ("Piers") and the World's Fair Marina ("Marina"). The Piers were transferred to Parks from the Department of Business Services, and permits for vessel operators are now issued by Parks' Revenue Division. The Marina was formerly a Parks concession, but after the default of the former concessionaire in October 1999, Parks' Revenue Division also began issuing permits directly to vessel operators. These changes were not included in Parks' regulatory agenda because the premature termination of the concessionaire was not expected.

BINDING REPORTS

ISSUE DATE: 03/31/00	DOCKET #: 984314	CRB #: CRB 00-5650
ADDRESS WEST 4TH STREET-@JANE ST HISTORIC DISTRICT GREENWICH VILLAGE	BOROUGH: MANHATTAN	BLOCK/LOT: 777 / 77

This report is issued pursuant to Sections 3020 and 854 (h) of the New York City Charter and Section 25-318 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which require a report from the Landmarks Preservation Commission for certain plans for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or demolition of any improvement or proposed improvement which is owned by the City or is to be constructed upon property owned by the City and is or is to be located on a landmark site or in a historic district or which contains an interior landmark.

At the public meeting of March 28, 2000 following the public meeting of May 19, 1998 and the public hearing of May 5, 1998 the Landmarks Preservation Commission reviewed a proposal for altering a portion of the streetbed in order to close a segment of West 4th Street at its intersection with Jane Street and 8th Avenue, in the Greenwich Village Historic District. The work includes construction of a raised concrete triangle with a tree, pedestrian signal post, and several signs, and installation of metal bollards and fiberglass planters in the closed section of the West 4th Street streetbed. The proposed work was described on a plan, photographs, and perspective view of the proposed condition.

In reviewing this proposal, the Commission noted that the raised triangle had been constructed prior to the Commission's review, and that the work is viewed by the Department of Transportation and the community board as being interim, to be followed by further alterations to the triangle and closed streetbed, including possible installation of an AIDS memorial.

With regard to this proposal, the Commission found that the installation of the concrete triangle in the streetbed has not damaged or destroyed significant architectural features of the historic district; that the concrete of the triangle has weathered to a light gray, matching the color of most of the surrounding repaved sidewalks; that the planters and bollards in the streetbed will be harmonious with the character of this historic district; that the proposed work is an interim solution, presented while final plans for the site are developed, and represents a significant improvement over the existing condition; and that therefore the cumulative effect of this change would be to maintain the special architectural and historic character of the streetscape and the historic district. Based on these findings, the completed and proposed work is approved.

Please provide one or more 8 by 10 inch black and white photographs of the completed work to the Art Commission of the City of New York, for its archives.

This report is issued on the basis of the building and site conditions described in the application and disclosed during the review process. By accepting this permit, the applicant agrees to notify the Commission if the actual building or site conditions vary or if original or historic building fabric is discovered. The Commission reserves the right to amend or revoke this permit, upon written notice to the applicant, in the event that the actual building or site conditions are materially different from those described in the application or disclosed during the review process.

All approved drawings are marked approved by the Commission with a perforated seal indicating the date of approval. The work is limited to what is contained in the perforated documents. Other work or amendments to this filing must be reviewed and approved separately. This report constitutes the permit; a copy must be prominently displayed at the site while work is in progress. Please direct inquiries to Jeremy Woodoff.

ADDRESS	BOROUGH:	BLOCK/LOT:
FORT WASHINGTON PARK JEFFREY'S HOOK LIGHTHOUSE INDIVIDUAL LANDMARK	MANHATTAN	2178 / 3

To the Mayor, the Council, and the Commissioner, Dept. of Parks and Recreation.

This report is issued pursuant to Sections 3020 and 854 (h) of the New York City Charter and Section 25-318 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which require a report from the Landmarks Preservation Commission for certain plans for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or demolition of any improvement or proposed improvement which is owned by the City or is to be constructed upon property owned by the City and is or is to be located on a landmark site or in a historic district or which contains an interior landmark.

The Landmarks Preservation Commission has reviewed a proposal to undertake repairs at the Jeffrey's Hook Lighthouse, also called the Little Red Lighthouse, including fabrication of a missing portion of cast-iron pediment, replacement of damaged polycarbonate glazing, re-painting in matching colors, and installation of polyethylene netting at the upper level railings. The proposed work is described on drawings A-1 through A-9 dated 12.3.99, in specifications, and in photographs, all submitted by the New York Landmarks Conservancy as components of the application.

The Commission notes that the designation report describes the structure as a conical iron lighthouse built in 1880 and originally located at Sandy Hook, New Jersey, and relocated to its present site on the Hudson River in 1921.

The Commission finds that replacing the missing piece of window pediment to match the dimensions and details of the original will restore this significant feature to sound condition and original appearance; that replacing damaged glazing with matching material will help protect the structure from weather while restoring its historic appearance; and that installing a safety net at the upper railing, consisting of black polyethylene netting attached with stainless steel clamps, will not cause damage to any significant material and will have a minimal effect on the appearance of the building. Based on these findings, the proposed work is determined to be appropriate to the Jeffrey's Hook Lighthouse Individual Landmark.

Please provide shop drawings of the proposed netting and attachments to the Commission for review. Also, please provide one or more 8 by 10 inch black and white photographs of the completed work to the Art Commission of the City of New York, for its archives.

This report is issued on the basis of the building and site conditions described in the application and disclosed during the review process. By accepting this permit, the applicant agrees to notify the Commission if the actual building or site conditions vary or if original or historic building fabric is discovered. The Commission reserves the right to amend or revoke this permit, upon written notice to the applicant, in the event that the actual building or site conditions are materially different from those described in the application or disclosed during the review process.

All approved drawings are marked approved by the Commission with a perforated seal indicating the date of approval. The work is limited to what is contained in the perforated documents. Other work or amendments to this filing must be reviewed and approved separately. This report constitutes the permit; a copy must be prominently displayed at the site while work is in progress. The Landmarks Preservation Commission has reviewed a proposal for replacement of the flat roof and in-kind replacement of brick parapets, bluestone copings, and metal roof railings at the rear of the building. The proposed work is described on five drawings dated 2/23/00 and in specifications for contract no. PARK ROW HISTORIC DISTRICT AFRICAN BURIAL GROUND	MANHATTAN	0 / 0

To the Mayor, the Council, and the Honorable Commissioner of the Department of Transportation.

This report is issued pursuant to Section 25-318 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which requires a report from the Landmarks Preservation Commission for plans for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or demolition of any improvement or proposed improvement which is owned by the City or is to be constructed upon property owned by the City and is or is to be located on a landmark site or in a historic district or which contains an interior landmark.

The proposed work consists of excavating a utility trench for Time Warner that is 2 feet deep and 2 feet wide beginning in Millennium Park and ending at the eastern curbline of Park Row. The location is within The African Burial Ground and The Commons Historic District, as shown in the application submitted to the Commission by the Department of Transportation and docketed as #00-5283, submitted on March 17, 2000.

In reviewing this proposal, the Commission notes that the designation report states that the portion of lower Manhattan within the historic district has undergone intense public use since the mid-seventeenth century, resulting in the overlay of many significant historic improvements and resources--both above ground and below--all of which document the changing nature of the important area long devoted to communal, public, and civic purposes; and that, within the district, the African Burial Ground is historically significant in that it is one of the few preserved eighteenth-century African burial grounds in the Americas, and that it reflects the establishment at an early date of the society of Africans in New York City, which had one of the largest urban populations of Africans in the American colonies. The report also cites the significance of structures related to the civic use of the Commons. The Commission notes that the location of the proposed work is outside the boundaries of the African Burial Ground, the boundaries of which have been established based on historical documents.

With regard to this proposal, the Commission finds that the proposed work will not require the removal of or damage to any significant above-ground features of the historic district; that the removal of street paving will be temporary in nature; that the street paving to be excavated is composed of modern materials and is not a significant feature of the historic district; that the new paving will match the surrounding paving to remain in material, color, and detail, and therefore that the new paving will blend unobtrusively with the surrounding street and sidewalk paving.

The Commission also finds that, as the location of the proposed work is within landfill above the 18th century ground surface, the proposed excavation will be limited to the disturbance of only previously excavated soils; that there is low probability of encountering intact archaeological deposits, features, or human burials in the proposed work area. Based on these findings, the Commission determines the proposed work to be appropriate to The African Burial Ground and The Commons Historic District, and has no objection to the proposed work proceeding. The proposed work, therefore, is approved.

In issuing this report, the Commission stipulates that should artifacts, human remains, or other cultural material be encountered during the course of work, work should stop immediately pending Commission notification and review. If artifacts or other cultural material are encountered, contact Amanda Sutphin (212) 487-6844.

This report is issued on the basis of the building and site conditions described in the application and disclosed during the review process. By accepting this permit, the applicant agrees to notify the Commission if the actual building or site conditions vary or if original or historic building fabric is discovered. The Commission reserves the right to amend or revoke this permit, upon written notice to the applicant, in the event that the actual building or site conditions are materially different from those described in the application or disclosed during the review process.

All approved drawings are marked approved by the Commission with a perforated seal indicating the date of approval. The work is limited to what is contained in the perforated documents. Other work or amendments to this filing must be reviewed and approved separately. This report constitutes the permit; a copy must be prominently displayed at the site while work is in progress. Please direct inquiries to Amanda Sutphin.

■ PUBLIC HEARINGS

BOROUGH PRESIDENT OF BROOKLYN
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BY THE BOROUGH BOARD TUESDAY APRIL 18, 2000 6:00 P.M.
BROOKLYN BOROUGH HALL
209 JORALEMON STREET, COMMUNITY ROOM
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the following matters have been scheduled for a public hearing by the Brooklyn Borough Board.

UNIFIED BULK ZONING TEXT AMENDMENT (000244ZRY)

The Department of City Planning is seeking approval to amend the Zoning Resolution based on unifying the standards that control height, setback, open space, parking and density for new building construction and the enlargement of buildings. The amendment would also introduce comprehensive height limits and introduce a bulk modification special permit based on good building design. In addition, it would clarify regulations for any lot in more than one zoning district, limit floor area transfer potential based on the merging of zoning lots and limit the applicability of providing a public plaza in return for a floor area bonus.

All persons present wishing to speak will be heard in the order of their arrival. The hearing officer may limit the time per speaker to assure fairness to all persons wishing to speak. Individuals requesting sign language interpreters should contact the Borough President's Office at (718) 802-4033.

CITY PLANNING COMMISSION

■ PUBLIC HEARINGS

RESOLUTIONS have been adopted by the City Planning Commission scheduling public hearings on the following matters to be held in City Hall, New York, New York 10007, on Tuesday, April 25, 2000, commencing at 10:00 a.m.

CITYWIDE N 000244 ZRY

IN THE MATTER OF an application submitted by the Department of City Planning pursuant to Section 201 of the New York City Charter, for amendment of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York relating to various sections as follows:

Description of the Proposal - Unified Bulk Regulations

The Unified Bulk Regulations consists of more than 500 pages of zoning text modifications. The new text would modify and replace existing text, add new text, and reorganize and renumber major portions of the Zoning Resolution. For the purpose of this description, the proposal has been divided into seven broad categories of changes: changes affecting height and setback envelopes; changes to other bulk and density regulations; changes affecting split lots and zoning lot mergers; changes to bonuses for public spaces; changes to authorizations and special permits; associated changes; and changes to Special Districts. Each of these categories is summarized below.

Changes Affecting Height and Setback Envelopes The proposed height limits and setback rules would replace the multiple alternative envelopes in the existing text with one or two simple building envelopes for each zoning district. They would eliminate, among other provisions, tower-in-a-park buildings, sky exposure planes and height factor zoning. The proposed envelopes are designed to reflect the general built character of each zoning district. They are more restrictive in terms of height and bulk than the existing zoning, but allow more flexibility than a contextual zoning district. They are designed to allow all the permitted floor area to be used on a typical lot, but to limit the use of techniques that have produced out-of-scale buildings, such as inappropriate transfers of bulk across zoning district boundaries, transfers of unused development rights from existing buildings to a development site, and deductions of mechanical space from zoning floor area. In the highest density districts (R9, R10 and equivalents), for example, the district height limits are designed to accommodate a roughly 10% allowance for mechanical space and 25% for off-site floor area from a zoning lot merger.

Height and setback requirements in contextual zoning districts would not be changed under the Unified Bulk Program. In special districts, minimal changes needed to incorporate the new concepts and terminology of the Unified Bulk Program would be made where necessary. The proposed height limits would not be applicable in the Special Midtown and Special Lower Manhattan Districts. In the waterfront area, Unified Bulk height and setback rules would apply only to industrial uses currently exempt from the waterfront regulations, and its density regulations would replace the existing underlying regulations. Existing FAR's would be rounded.

In non-contextual medium-density and high-density districts (R6 to R10 and equivalents), two basic building types would be allowed: (1) a shorter contextual building and (2) a taller building with a setback. The goal is to bring new buildings back into scale within each district, but not to constrict them to a purely contextual shape. This approach also reflects the fact that in many districts development occurs in a context of taller buildings that do not hold the street wall. Developers of nonresidential buildings would be able to make a choice about which of the two building types best fits with the program, economics and other elements of a project. Residential buildings would be limited to the contextual shape except in defined circumstances where a taller building would be appropriate - for example, when they are adjacent to elevated structures. The maximum height of the more contextual building would be governed by a "standard" building height limit, which would vary on wide and narrow streets. The maximum height of the taller building would be set by a "district" height limit. The proposed district height limits are generally lower than the building heights that can be achieved under the existing zoning.

Each zoning district would have minimum and maximum heights for a residential building's base. To maintain the character of the streetscape, residential buildings utilizing the contextual shape would not be permitted to set back below the district's minimum base height and would be required to set back above the maximum base height. The minimum required setback would be 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street. The proposed base heights and standard height limits for most districts are based on the existing Optional Quality Housing height limits.

Residential buildings that share a side lot line with buildings that exceed the "standard" height by at least ten feet; that are located on full-block sites; that are part of Large Scale Residential Developments or General Large Scale Developments; or that are adjacent to elevated transit or road structures would be permitted to exceed the standard building height limit, up to the district height limit, and would not be required to set back further if they are set back from the street at grade. These buildings would be required to cover 33 percent of the lot at all levels below the top story to limit the potential for zoning lot mergers.

Commercial and community facility buildings could also be developed up to the district height limit and, when developed at the street line, would be required to set back at the maximum base height. However, commercial and community facility buildings that set back at street level would not be required to set back farther at the maximum base height.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Commercial Districts In the high density commercial districts (C4, C5 and C6 districts of 10 FAR or more), the proposed district height limits are 420, 495 or 720 feet reflecting the amount of commercial floor area permitted. These height limits were selected with the intention of allowing design flexibility within an envelope that accommodates a full build-out of the permitted floor area of a development site with a commercial tower occupying 40% of the zoning lot and floor-to-floor heights of 12 feet, together with an allocation for mechanical space (10% of building floor area) and for floor area from a zoning lot merger (25%). The height limits are designed to cap both deductions from zoning floor area for mechanical space and transfers of floor area by zoning lot merger, which sometimes have exceeded these percentages. Commercial and community facility buildings could set back from the street and then rise to the district height limit.

Residential buildings would be subject to the same district height limits in these commercial districts, but, unlike the commercial and community facility buildings, would be subject to the modified tower-on-a-base regulations described below.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Residential Districts The slimmer residential towers in high-density non-contextual residential districts (R9 and R10) have a more intimate relationship to the street and do not have the programmatic requirements of commercial and community facility buildings, which generate taller buildings. Accordingly, residential buildings in these districts would be subject not only to a shorter 360 foot height limit but to tighter building envelope requirements designed to produce a street wall that respects the prevailing scale of development and allows adequate light. The height limit, but not the tighter building envelope, would apply to community facility buildings in these districts.

Any tower with more than 25 percent of its floor area devoted to residential use would be subject to revised tower-on-a-base regulations. A residential building's base would be required to hold the street wall and would have a maximum height of 85 feet. Tower-on-a-base regulations would apply for the first time on narrow streets and would be modified to provide greater design flexibility without jeopardizing the objectives of limiting height, constraining zoning lot mergers and establishing a street wall. The changes would be as follows:

Establish street wall requirements for narrow streets. A street wall of from 45 to 85 feet high would be required for 70% of the lot line on narrow streets. Currently there are no such requirements beyond 100 feet of wide street.

Limit the placement of mid-lot towers. Currently, towers are permitted in the middle of a through lot in all districts that permit residential towers. In order to constrain such midblock towers, the rear yard equivalent requirements would be modified for through lots to require that mid-lot towers be located at least 30 feet from all side lot lines.

Simplify street wall requirements. The existing street wall recess and required match-up provisions would be eliminated, because they are too complicated and place unnecessary constraints on building design. Currently, developers are required to match building base heights to adjacent building heights if it is between 60 to 85 feet high and within ten feet of the street line. Architects have complained that the existing rules limit their ability to articulate a facade. A new building would be permitted to increase its street wall height to 100 feet in order to match-up with an adjacent street wall.

Waive street wall requirements at locations with minimal street wall character or adjacent to elevated structures such as subways or bridge abutments. The Tower-on-a-Base regulations were developed to ensure that the bases of residential towers were consistent with neighboring buildings. There are some settings, however, where the existing streetscape does not justify the street wall requirement, such as areas extensively developed pursuant to the 1961 bulk regulations where there is no defined street wall and areas where elevated subways, bridges and other structures make street walls inappropriate. In addition, street wall requirements would not apply to full-block sites.

Apply minimum tower coverage to all districts with a 360-foot height limit. The minimum tower coverage requirement (33% of the zoning lot) currently applicable on wide streets would be expanded to apply to all developments in R9, R10 and C1 and C2 equivalent districts that have a height limit of 360 feet. This change would reduce the amount of floor area that can be added to a building by means of a zoning lot merger. This requirement would not apply to C4, C5 and C6 districts with R9 or R10 equivalents, where commercial buildings that are not subject to the tower coverage requirement can rise above 360 feet.

Eliminate "packing the bulk". The "packing-the-bulk" rule requires that 55% of the floor area on a zoning lot be located below a height of 150 feet. The rule was intended to limit transfers of floor area by zoning lot mergers and by doing so to limit the height of the building. A review of existing tower-on-a-base buildings, however, shows that the minimum 33% tower-coverage requirement adequately addresses these concerns. The proposed district height limit would provide the definitive answer to concerns about building height.

Bulk Requirements in Lower-Density Districts for Residential Building Residential buildings in the lowest-density districts (R1 and R2) would be subject to a contextual envelope to replace the 1961 height and setback rules. The maximum lot coverage would be 35%. The maximum perimeter wall height would be 21 feet, with a sloping roof rising to 35 feet (the current R4A envelope), except on large lots where the perimeter wall could rise to 35 feet.

Such provisions are not needed in R3 to R5 districts, where residential buildings are already limited to a contextual envelope based on the small-scale building patterns of residences.

Bulk Requirements in Lower Density Districts for Community Facility, Commercial and Manufacturing Developments In R1-R5 districts, equivalent commercial overlays, C3, C4-1, C8-1 and M1-1 districts, bulk rules suitable for residential buildings do not work for community facility, commercial and manufacturing buildings, which require larger interior spaces. These buildings, where permitted, would be subject to new height and setback regulations that would provide more certainty as to scale than the existing sky exposure plane regulations. Again, two basic building types would be allowed. A contextual building could rise to a standard height limit of 50 feet, with a maximum base height of 30 feet. Above the maximum base height, setbacks of 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street would be required. A taller building would be permitted only in limited situations - to provide greater flexibility on community facility campuses and to accommodate structures needed for some industrial processes. In these settings, buildings could rise to the district height limit of 90 feet but would be limited to structures erected more than 100 feet from a street.

Bulk Requirements in Medium and High-Density Manufacturing Districts Many of the city's high-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of 10 (M1-6), developed with old loft buildings, have a significantly different character from areas developed later with taller buildings. Therefore, M1-6 districts generally would have a 210-foot height limit consistent with this high-density context, but no towers or plaza bonuses would be permitted. Exceptions would be made for districts in Manhattan where there are already towers, and loft buildings are interspersed with office development. Towers up to 495 feet (with a 40% coverage requirement) would be permitted in the M1-6 districts in Midtown Manhattan, such as the Garment District, Garment Center East and the area west of Penn Station.
In medium-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of between 2 and 5 FAR for commercial or manufacturing buildings (M1-2 through M1-5, M2 and M3), each district would have a maximum base height and district height limit commensurate with the heights of existing buildings in these districts and the programmatic needs of industrial structures.

Regulations for Existing Tower-in-the-Park Developments Existing "tower-in-the-park" residential developments were allowed to include taller buildings in exchange for additional open space and consequently many did not build out their full floor area. To preserve these open spaces, restrictions would be placed on enlargements of these developments. As-of-right enlargements of existing developments that exceed the standard height limit would not be permitted unless the lot area retained as open space is 70% in R6 districts, 65% in R7 districts and 60% in R8 districts. The City Planning Commission could authorize a reduction of the open space upon a finding that the remaining open space is adequate for the enlarged development and that the enlargement enhances the developments relationship to the surrounding community.

Changes to Other Bulk and Density Regulations Several changes would serve the important purpose of providing a more unified, simpler set of residential bulk and density regulations:

Floor Area Ratios The Unified Bulk Program would replace the current range of interconnected floor area ratios and open space ratios of the 1961 zoning with a single floor area ratio and coverage requirement for each district. FAR currently measured to the second decimal place (hundredths) would be measured to a single decimal place (tenths). This would be a marginal increase from the height factor maximums in some districts and a marginal decrease in others. On narrow streets in R6 districts, the maximum floor area ratio would decrease from 2.43 to 2.2. (Community facility FAR would be correspondingly lowered from 4.8 to 4.4).

The current increase in FAR available for contextual development on wide streets outside the Manhattan core under the optional Quality Housing regulations (to 3.0 in R6 districts, 4.0 in R7 districts and 7.2 in R8 districts), would be maintained in the same locations for developments that do not exceed the standard height.

Density Controls The use of zoning room counts as a control on density in R6 - R10 districts would be replaced with dwelling unit (or where permitted rooming unit) counts based on the permitted residential floor area. Dwelling unit counts are already used in R1 - R5 districts, contextual R6 through R10 districts, the R6-R10 Quality Housing Optional Regulations, residential conversions in the community districts covered by Section 15-00, in the Special Mixed Use Districts and in the waterfront regulations.

These density controls would also apply to the residential conversion of existing non-residential buildings governed by Section 15-00, which would marginally increase the permitted density in conversions of buildings with more floor area than permitted in the underlying zoning district.

The Quality Housing Program The Quality Housing Program would be eliminated. Its standards would be integrated into the generic regulations and would apply to all residential buildings containing more than nine dwelling units. The floor area deductions would only be available to buildings using the standard envelope.

The areas, called Study Areas, where the optional contextual regulations do not apply at present, would receive special regulations. These would limit residential buildings on the remaining applicable Study Area lots containing small homes to no more than four stories, and set the FAR at 1.85 for four story buildings and 1.62 for buildings of three or fewer stories. This would keep the current effective FARs for the buildings typically developed in these areas in place until rezoning studies are finished.

Changes Affecting Split Lots and Zoning Lot Mergers The rules governing zoning lots that are split by zoning district boundaries would be clarified and simplified to ensure greater predictability. Each portion of the lot would have to comply with all applicable use, bulk and parking regulations except as noted below.

Floor Area No floor area could be transferred across a district boundary on a split lot, except as follows:

Split lots where the zoning districts on both sides of the boundary have comparable floor area, height, setback and bulk controls would be treated like any other zoning lot -- as they are under the existing zoning. However, districts with similar floor area regulations for some uses but different height and setback regulations or different floor area regulations for other uses would no longer be considered comparable. To eliminate current ambiguities, the zoning would include a definitive list of the districts that are "comparable" for purposes of the transfer of floor area across district lines. This would prevent inappropriate shifts of floor area between Districts.

Split lots which were single zoning lots at the time the zoning district boundary splitting the lot was drawn, would be treated as if the entire lot were in the zoning district covering the larger portion of the lot if the smaller portion of the split lot is less than 25 feet wide. Where the smaller portion of the lot is more than 25 feet wide, floor area and density on a split lot could be shifted from the higher density district to the lower density only in an amount up to the weighted average FAR or density for the entire zoning lot. The weighted average rule applies today. However, because of ambiguities in the text, it is not always clear when a district is comparable and when the weighted average provisions apply.

In contextual developments outside Manhattan Community Boards 1 through 8, floor area and density could be shifted from the portion of a split lot in the lower-density district to the portion in the higher-density district, subject to a 20% cap on any increase in the higher density district. The same rule would apply within a single zoning district where a zoning lot is subject to different floor area ratios on different parts of the lot (for example in R6 districts where the FAR is 3.0 within 100 feet of a wide street and 2.2 elsewhere).

Density Dwelling units or rooming units (where permitted) could be located in any permitted residential floor area.

Lot Coverage Lot coverage could be averaged for any lot, and the requirement could be met anywhere on the lot.

Parking and Loading Parking and loading requirements could be averaged for any lot, and the parking or loading could be located anywhere on the lot in accordance with underlying curb cut and location regulations.

Changes Affecting Bonuses for Public Spaces

Elimination of Bonuses Many of the public spaces that have received floor area bonuses under the existing zoning have been found to produce only limited public benefits and are inconsistent with the goal of enhancing the street wall character of residential neighborhoods, which is one of the goals addressed by the Unified Bulk Program. Accordingly, bonuses for the following would be eliminated:

As-of-right residential plazas, which are inconsistent with the street wall character of neighborhoods and tend to become privatized.

Arcades, which are seldom built and undermine the street wall.

Through-block arcades, which, as a rule, contribute little except when they are part of a planned pedestrian network.

Sidewalk widenings, which, when located without regard to pedestrian volumes, are unnecessary.

Elevated and sunken plazas, which are inconsistent with the goal of assuring that public plazas are readily accessible.

Plazas in M1-6 districts characterized by pre-war loft buildings except in those Manhattan districts where new commercial towers are permitted.

Plazas in C6-1 (other than C6-1A) and C6-2 districts, the only generic middle-density districts that currently offer a plaza bonus. Density and pedestrian traffic in these districts do not justify the provision of the bonus.

Residential buildings in high-density C4, C5 and C6 districts would have a special permit bonus for an open space amenity based on superior design and the need for such amenity, ability to maximize sunlight on nearby parks or playgrounds and enhance the relationship of the development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Commercial and Community Facility Plazas Commercial and community facility plazas, given the public nature of the buildings that adjoin them, generally provide a valuable public amenity. The bonus for these amenities would be retained. Both types of plazas would be required to meet the updated and more exacting Urban Plaza standards. This change would leave the Zoning Resolution with one set of plaza design guidelines.

Approvals for Reductions in Bonused Public Spaces Currently, a special permit is required to reduce the size of a public space that generated a floor area bonus, unless there is a corresponding reduction in the floor area of the building or the substitution of equivalent complying space. However, transfers of floor area through zoning lot mergers or conversion of zoning floor area to mechanical space, which does not count as zoning floor area, have been used to reduce a building's reliance on a bonused public space to justify its zoning floor area and hence to enable a reduction in the size of the bonused space. The City Planning Commission has no opportunity to review the effects of such a modification on the public space. For this reason, any reduction of a public space that generated a floor area bonus would require a special permit.

Many developments containing bonused public space contain more open area than was required to generate the bonus floor area actually built. Assuming that other regulations are complied with, this excess space can be developed. A certification would be required, however, to ensure that the bonused public space still complies with the zoning requirements after it has been modified.

Changes Affecting Authorizations and Special Permits No system of bulk requirements is perfect. Inevitably, the proposed tightening of building envelopes will produce some situations where the rules do not produce the desired result in a specific location. For this reason, the Unified Bulk Program would replace existing approvals for bulk waivers with a broader two-tiered approach to waivers. Minor modifications of all street wall, coverage, court and distance between building regulations would be available by City Planning Commission authorization, if found to be consistent with and enhancing of neighborhood character. A City Planning Commission special permit would be available for more significant modifications, relating to height, tower coverage, street wall and yard regulations. To encourage innovation and quality architecture, this special permit would include a finding that the design of the development is of superior quality. A panel of architects and others concerned with design issues would be established to advise the City Planning Commission on the design merits of these special permit applications

Another City Planning Commission special permit would replace an existing Board of Standards and Appeals special permit. It would be available to community facility uses to provide flexibility for unique programmatic requirements or to integrating new buildings into existing campuses. The current BSA special permit is limited to campuses that existed in 1961. That special permit would be eliminated.

Associated Changes To implement the objectives of the Unified Bulk Program, the proposal would reorganize and consolidate a number of regulations.

The current Resolution's several dormer rules and separate balcony rules for the contextual and non-contextual districts, which do not differ significantly, would be merged.

The sole existing C5-2A district would be eliminated. It is mapped only along Manhattan's Lexington Avenue between 54th and 57th streets. As described in greater detail in the following section, the Department is proposing a related action that would rezone this portion of Lexington Avenue as a C5-2.5 district within the Special Midtown district with the same FAR and a similar bulk envelope.

A generic C5-2A district with the R10A bulk envelope would be established. This district would be the same as the existing C6-4A district but limited to only C5 uses. The Department expects to submit an application to map this designation in portions of the Park Avenue South area of Manhattan within the near future.

The current optional Quality Housing parking requirements would apply to new developments and enlargements that do not exceed the standard height limits. Existing 1961 parking requirements would be retained for developments that exceed these new envelopes (and have more on-site land available for parking). Existing buildings would be required to retain all previously required parking.

The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.

The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

NOTICE

On Tuesday, April 18, 2000 at 10:00 a.m. in City Hall, a public hearing is being held by the Office of the Deputy Mayor of Economic Development, Planning, and Administration in conjunction with the above ULURP hearing to receive comments related to a Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) concerning the proposed Queens Center Mall Expansion. The proposal includes 1) expansion onto the City-owned Municipal Parking Field No. 1 immediately across 92nd Street from the existing mall and onto two gas station parcels on the block currently occupied by the mall; 2) the construction of a retail/pedestrian bridge over 92nd Street; and 3) the addition of a fourth floor of retail above the existing mall. In addition to the mall expansion, the project would also include the construction of an approximately 1,061-space public parking garage. Solicitations notices for most procurement above $25,000 for goods or services or above $50,000 for construction and construction related services are published for at least one day.

Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except legal holidays.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOPMENT TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – CSP – PIN# 071-00S003262 – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-fourth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional reisdence contracts will range from 5 to 30 years and the drop-in centers will be for three years with one three year option to renew.

Pursuant to Section 312(c)(1)(ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgement is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03(c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be leaglly incorporated and 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed facility location.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8000, 33 Beaver Street 13th Flr., New York, NY 10004, to request a copy of the application, which is available for pick-up only Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CITY PLANNING COMMISSION

■ PUBLIC HEARINGS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT RESOLUTIONS have been adopted by the City Planning Commission scheduling public hearings on the following matters to be held in City Hall, New York, New York 10007, on Tuesday, April 25, 2000, commencing at 10:00 a.m.

CITYWIDE N 000244 ZRY

IN THE MATTER OF an application submitted by the Department of City Planning pursuant to Section 201 of the New York City Charter, for amendment of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York relating to various sections as follows:

Description of the Proposal - Unified Bulk Regulations

The Unified Bulk Regulations consists of more than 500 pages of zoning text modifications. The new text would modify and replace existing text, add new text, and reorganize and renumber major portions of the Zoning Resolution. For the purpose of this description, the proposal has been divided into seven broad categories of changes: changes affecting height and setback envelopes; changes to other bulk and density regulations; changes affecting split lots and zoning lot mergers; changes to bonuses for public spaces; changes to authorizations and special permits; associated changes; and changes to Special Districts. Each of these categories is summarized below.

Changes Affecting Height and Setback Envelopes The proposed height limits and setback rules would replace the multiple alternative envelopes in the existing text with one or two simple building envelopes for each zoning district. They would eliminate, among other provisions, tower-in-a-park buildings, sky exposure planes and height factor zoning. The proposed envelopes are designed to reflect the general built character of each zoning district. They are more restrictive in terms of height and bulk than the existing zoning, but allow more flexibility than a contextual zoning district. They are designed to allow all the permitted floor area to be used on a typical lot, but to limit the use of techniques that have produced out-of-scale buildings, such as inappropriate transfers of bulk across zoning district boundaries, transfers of unused development rights from existing buildings to a development site, and deductions of mechanical space from zoning floor area. In the highest density districts (R9, R10 and equivalents), for example, the district height limits are designed to accommodate a roughly 10% allowance for mechanical space and 25% for off-site floor area from a zoning lot merger.

Height and setback requirements in contextual zoning districts would not be changed under the Unified Bulk Program. In special districts, minimal changes needed to incorporate the new concepts and terminology of the Unified Bulk Program would be made where necessary. The proposed height limits would not be applicable in the Special Midtown and Special Lower Manhattan Districts. In the waterfront area, Unified Bulk height and setback rules would apply only to industrial uses currently exempt from the waterfront regulations, and its density regulations would replace the existing underlying regulations. Existing FAR's would be rounded.

In non-contextual medium-density and high-density districts (R6 to R10 and equivalents), two basic building types would be allowed: (1) a shorter contextual building and (2) a taller building with a setback. The goal is to bring new buildings back into scale within each district, but not to constrict them to a purely contextual shape. This approach also reflects the fact that in many districts development occurs in a context of taller buildings that do not hold the street wall. Developers of nonresidential buildings would be able to make a choice about which of the two building types best fits with the program, economics and other elements of a project. Residential buildings would be limited to the contextual shape except in defined circumstances where a taller building would be appropriate - for example, when they are adjacent to elevated structures. The maximum height of the more contextual building would be governed by a "standard" building height limit, which would vary on wide and narrow streets. The maximum height of the taller building would be set by a "district" height limit. The proposed district height limits are generally lower than the building heights that can be achieved under the existing zoning.

Each zoning district would have minimum and maximum heights for a residential building's base. To maintain the character of the streetscape, residential buildings utilizing the contextual shape would not be permitted to set back below the district's minimum base height and would be required to set back above the maximum base height. The minimum required setback would be 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street. The proposed base heights and standard height limits for most districts are based on the existing Optional Quality Housing height limits.

Residential buildings that share a side lot line with buildings that exceed the "standard" height by at least ten feet; that are located on full-block sites; that are part of Large Scale Residential Developments or General Large Scale Developments; or that are adjacent to elevated transit or road structures would be permitted to exceed the standard building height limit, up to the district height limit, and would not be required to set back further if they are set back from the street at grade. These buildings would be required to cover 33 percent of the lot at all levels below the top story to limit the potential for zoning lot mergers.

Commercial and community facility buildings could also be developed up to the district height limit and, when developed at the street line, would be required to set back at the maximum base height. However, commercial and community facility buildings that set back at street level would not be required to set back farther at the maximum base height.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Commercial Districts In the high density commercial districts (C4, C5 and C6 districts of 10 FAR or more), the proposed district height limits are 420, 495 or 720 feet reflecting the amount of commercial floor area permitted. These height limits were selected with the intention of allowing design flexibility within an envelope that accommodates a full build-out of the permitted floor area of a development site with a commercial tower occupying 40% of the zoning lot and floor-to-floor heights of 12 feet, together with an allocation for mechanical space (10% of building floor area) and for floor area from a zoning lot merger (25%). The height limits are designed to cap both deductions from zoning floor area for mechanical space and transfers of floor area by zoning lot merger, which sometimes have exceeded these percentages. Commercial and community facility buildings could set back from the street and then rise to the district height limit.

Residential buildings would be subject to the same district height limits in these commercial districts, but, unlike the commercial and community facility buildings, would be subject to the modified tower-on-a-base regulations described below.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Residential Districts The slimmer residential towers in high-density non-contextual residential districts (R9 and R10) have a more intimate relationship to the street and do not have the programmatic requirements of commercial and community facility buildings, which generate taller buildings. Accordingly, residential buildings in these districts would be subject not only to a shorter 360 foot height limit but to tighter building envelope requirements designed to produce a street wall that respects the prevailing scale of development and allows adequate light. The height limit, but not the tighter building envelope, would apply to community facility buildings in these districts.

Any tower with more than 25 percent of its floor area devoted to residential use would be subject to revised tower-on-a-base regulations. A residential building's base would be required to hold the street wall and would have a maximum height of 85 feet. Tower-on-a-base regulations would apply for the first time on narrow streets and would be modified to provide greater design flexibility without jeopardizing the objectives of limiting height, constraining zoning lot mergers and establishing a street wall. The changes would be as follows:

Establish street wall requirements for narrow streets. A street wall of from 45 to 85 feet high would be required for 70% of the lot line on narrow streets. Currently there are no such requirements beyond 100 feet of wide street.

Limit the placement of mid-lot towers. Currently, towers are permitted in the middle of a through lot in all districts that permit residential towers. In order to constrain such midblock towers, the rear yard equivalent requirements would be modified for through lots to require that mid-lot towers be located at least 30 feet from all side lot lines.

Simplify street wall requirements. The existing street wall recess and required match-up provisions would be eliminated, because they are too complicated and place unnecessary constraints on building design. Currently, developers are required to match building base heights to adjacent building heights if it is between 60 to 85 feet high and within ten feet of the street line. Architects have complained that the existing rules limit their ability to articulate a facade. A new building would be permitted to increase its street wall height to 100 feet in order to match-up with an adjacent street wall.

Waive street wall requirements at locations with minimal street wall character or adjacent to elevated structures such as subways or bridge abutments. The Tower-on-a-Base regulations were developed to ensure that the bases of residential towers were consistent with neighboring buildings. There are some settings, however, where the existing streetscape does not justify the street wall requirement, such as areas extensively developed pursuant to the 1961 bulk regulations where there is no defined street wall and areas where elevated subways, bridges and other structures make street walls inappropriate. In addition, street wall requirements would not apply to full-block sites.

Apply minimum tower coverage to all districts with a 360-foot height limit. The minimum tower coverage requirement (33% of the zoning lot) currently applicable on wide streets would be expanded to apply to all developments in R9, R10 and C1 and C2 equivalent districts that have a height limit of 360 feet. This change would reduce the amount of floor area that can be added to a building by means of a zoning lot merger. This requirement would not apply to C4, C5 and C6 districts with R9 or R10 equivalents, where commercial buildings that are not subject to the tower coverage requirement can rise above 360 feet.

Eliminate "packing the bulk". The "packing-the-bulk" rule requires that 55% of the floor area on a zoning lot be located below a height of 150 feet. The rule was intended to limit transfers of floor area by zoning lot mergers and by doing so to limit the height of the building. A review of existing tower-on-a-base buildings, however, shows that the minimum 33% tower-coverage requirement adequately addresses these concerns. The proposed district height limit would provide the definitive answer to concerns about building height.

Bulk Requirements in Lower-Density Districts for Residential Building Residential buildings in the lowest-density districts (R1 and R2) would be subject to a contextual envelope to replace the 1961 height and setback rules. The maximum lot coverage would be 35%. The maximum perimeter wall height would be 21 feet, with a sloping roof rising to 35 feet (the current R4A envelope), except on large lots where the perimeter wall could rise to 35 feet.

Such provisions are not needed in R3 to R5 districts, where residential buildings are already limited to a contextual envelope based on the small-scale building patterns of residences.

Bulk Requirements in Lower Density Districts for Community Facility, Commercial and Manufacturing Developments In R1-R5 districts, equivalent commercial overlays, C3, C4-1, C8-1 and M1-1 districts, bulk rules suitable for residential buildings do not work for community facility, commercial and manufacturing buildings, which require larger interior spaces. These buildings, where permitted, would be subject to new height and setback regulations that would provide more certainty as to scale than the existing sky exposure plane regulations. Again, two basic building types would be allowed. A contextual building could rise to a standard height limit of 50 feet, with a maximum base height of 30 feet. Above the maximum base height, setbacks of 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street would be required. A taller building would be permitted only in limited situations - to provide greater flexibility on community facility campuses and to accommodate structures needed for some industrial processes. In these settings, buildings could rise to the district height limit of 90 feet but would be limited to structures erected more than 100 feet from a street.

Bulk Requirements in Medium and High-Density Manufacturing Districts Many of the city's high-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of 10 (M1-6), developed with old loft buildings, have a significantly different character from areas developed later with taller buildings. Therefore, M1-6 districts generally would have a 210-foot height limit consistent with this high-density context, but no towers or plaza bonuses would be permitted. Exceptions would be made for districts in Manhattan where there are already towers, and loft buildings are interspersed with office development. Towers up to 495 feet (with a 40% coverage requirement) would be permitted in the M1-6 districts in Midtown Manhattan, such as the Garment District, Garment Center East and the area west of Penn Station.
In medium-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of between 2 and 5 FAR for commercial or manufacturing buildings (M1-2 through M1-5, M2 and M3), each district would have a maximum base height and district height limit commensurate with the heights of existing buildings in these districts and the programmatic needs of industrial structures.

Regulations for Existing Tower-in-the-Park Developments Existing "tower-in-the-park" residential developments were allowed to include taller buildings in exchange for additional open space and consequently many did not build out their full floor area. To preserve these open spaces, restrictions would be placed on enlargements of these developments. As-of-right enlargements of existing developments that exceed the standard height limit would not be permitted unless the lot area retained as open space is 70% in R6 districts, 65% in R7 districts and 60% in R8 districts. The City Planning Commission could authorize a reduction of the open space upon a finding that the remaining open space is adequate for the enlarged development and that the enlargement enhances the development's relationship to the surrounding community.

Changes to Other Bulk and Density Regulations Several changes would serve the important purpose of providing a more unified, simpler set of residential bulk and density regulations:

Floor Area Ratios The Unified Bulk Program would replace the current range of interconnected floor area ratios and open space ratios of the 1961 zoning with a single floor area ratio and coverage requirement for each district. FAR currently measured to the second decimal place (hundredths) would be measured to a single decimal place (tenths). This would be a marginal increase from the height factor maximums in some districts and a marginal decrease in others. On narrow streets in R6 districts, the maximum floor area ratio would decrease from 2.43 to 2.2. (Community facility FAR would be correspondingly lowered from 4.8 to 4.4).

The current increase in FAR available for contextual development on wide streets outside the Manhattan core under the optional Quality Housing regulations (to 3.0 in R6 districts, 4.0 in R7 districts and 7.2 in R8 districts), would be maintained in the same locations for developments that do not exceed the standard height.

Density Controls The use of zoning room counts as a control on density in R6 - R10 districts would be replaced with dwelling unit (or where permitted rooming unit) counts based on the permitted residential floor area. Dwelling unit counts are already used in R1 - R5 districts, contextual R6 through R10 districts, the R6-R10 Quality Housing Optional Regulations, residential conversions in the community districts covered by Section 15-00, in the Special Mixed Use Districts and in the waterfront regulations.

These density controls would also apply to the residential conversion of existing non-residential buildings governed by Section 15-00, which would marginally increase the permitted density in conversions of buildings with more floor area than permitted in the underlying zoning district.

The Quality Housing Program The Quality Housing Program would be eliminated. Its standards would be integrated into the generic regulations and would apply to all residential buildings containing more than nine dwelling units. The floor area deductions would only be available to buildings using the standard envelope.

The areas, called Study Areas, where the optional contextual regulations do not apply at present, would receive special regulations. These would limit residential buildings on the remaining applicable Study Area lots containing small homes to no more than four stories, and set the FAR at 1.85 for four story buildings and 1.62 for buildings of three or fewer stories. This would keep the current effective FARs for the buildings typically developed in these areas in place until rezoning studies are finished.

Changes Affecting Split Lots and Zoning Lot Mergers The rules governing zoning lots that are split by zoning district boundaries would be clarified and simplified to ensure greater predictability. Each portion of the lot would have to comply with all applicable use, bulk and parking regulations except as noted below.

Floor Area No floor area could be transferred across a district boundary on a split lot, except as follows:

Split lots where the zoning districts on both sides of the boundary have comparable floor area, height, setback and bulk controls would be treated like any other zoning lot -- as they are under the existing zoning. However, districts with similar floor area regulations for some uses but different height and setback regulations or different floor area regulations for other uses would no longer be considered comparable. To eliminate current ambiguities, the zoning would include a definitive list of the districts that are "comparable" for purposes of the transfer of floor area across district lines. This would prevent inappropriate shifts of floor area between Districts.

Split lots which were single zoning lots at the time the zoning district boundary splitting the lot was drawn, would be treated as if the entire lot were in the zoning district covering the larger portion of the lot if the smaller portion of the split lot is less than 25 feet wide. Where the smaller portion of the lot is more than 25 feet wide, floor area and density on a split lot could be shifted from the higher density district to the lower density only in an amount up to the weighted average FAR or density for the entire zoning lot. The weighted average rule applies today. However, because of ambiguities in the text, it is not always clear when a district is comparable and when the weighted average provisions apply.

In contextual developments outside Manhattan Community Boards 1 through 8, floor area and density could be shifted from the portion of a split lot in the lower-density district to the portion in the higher-density district, subject to a 20% cap on any increase in the higher density district. The same rule would apply within a single zoning district where a zoning lot is subject to different floor area ratios on different parts of the lot (for example in R6 districts where the FAR is 3.0 within 100 feet of a wide street and 2.2 elsewhere).

Density Dwelling units or rooming units (where permitted) could be located in any permitted residential floor area.
Lot Coverage Lot coverage could be averaged for any lot, and the requirement could be met anywhere on the lot.

Parking and Loading Parking and loading requirements could be averaged for any lot, and the parking or loading could be located anywhere on the lot in accordance with underlying curb cut and location regulations.

Changes Affecting Bonuses for Public Spaces

Elimination of Bonuses Many of the public spaces that have received floor area bonuses under the existing zoning have been found to produce only limited public benefits and are inconsistent with the goal of enhancing the street wall character of residential neighborhoods, which is one of the goals addressed by the Unified Bulk Program. Accordingly, bonuses for the following would be eliminated:

As-of-right residential plazas, which are inconsistent with the street wall character of neighborhoods and tend to become privatized.

Arcades, which are seldom built and undermine the street wall.

Through-block arcades, which, as a rule, contribute little except when they are part of a planned pedestrian network.

Sidewalk widenings, which, when located without regard to pedestrian volumes, are unnecessary.

Elevated and sunken plazas, which are inconsistent with the goal of assuring that public plazas are readily accessible.

Plazas in M1-6 districts characterized by pre-war loft buildings except in those Manhattan districts where new commercial towers are permitted.

Plazas in C6-1 (other than C6-1A) and C6-2 districts, the only generic middle-density districts that currently offer a plaza bonus. Density and pedestrian traffic in these districts do not justify the provision of the bonus.

Residential buildings in high-density C4, C5 and C6 districts would have a special permit bonus for an open space amenity based on superior design and the need for such amenity, ability to maximize sunlight on nearby parks or playgrounds and enhance the relationship of the development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Commercial and Community Facility Plazas Commercial and community facility plazas, given the public nature of the buildings that adjoin them, generally provide a valuable public amenity. The bonus for these amenities would be retained. Both types of plazas would be required to meet the updated and more exacting Urban Plaza standards. This change would leave the Zoning Resolution with one set of plaza design guidelines.

Approvals for Reductions in Bonused Public Spaces Currently, a special permit is required to reduce the size of a public space that generated a floor area bonus, unless there is a corresponding reduction in the floor area of the building or the substitution of equivalent complying space. However, transfers of floor area through zoning lot mergers or conversion of zoning floor area to mechanical space, which does not count as zoning floor area, have been used to reduce a building's reliance on a bonused public space to justify its zoning floor area and hence to enable a reduction in the size of the bonused space. The City Planning Commission has no opportunity to review the effects of such a modification on the public space. For this reason, any reduction of a public space that generated a floor area bonus would require a special permit.

Many developments containing bonused public space contain more open area than was required to generate the bonus floor area actually built. Assuming that other regulations are complied with, this excess space can be developed. A certification would be required, however, to ensure that the bonused public space still complies with the zoning requirements after it has been modified.

Changes Affecting Authorizations and Special Permits No system of bulk requirements is perfect. Inevitably, the proposed tightening of building envelopes will produce some situations where the rules do not produce the desired result in a specific location. For this reason, the Unified Bulk Program would replace existing approvals for bulk waivers with a broader two-tiered approach to waivers. Minor modifications of all street wall, coverage, court and distance between building regulations would be available by City Planning Commission authorization, if found to be consistent with and enhancing of neighborhood character. A City Planning Commission special permit would be available for more significant modifications, relating to height, tower coverage, street wall and yard regulations. To encourage innovation and quality architecture, this special permit would include a finding that the design of the development is of superior quality. A panel of architects and others concerned with design issues would be established to advise the City Planning Commission on the design merits of these special permit applications

Another City Planning Commission special permit would replace an existing Board of Standards and Appeals special permit. It would be available to community facility uses to provide flexibility for unique programmatic requirements or to integrating new buildings into existing campuses. The current BSA special permit is limited to campuses that existed in 1961. That special permit would be eliminated.

Associated Changes To implement the objectives of the Unified Bulk Program, the proposal would reorganize and consolidate a number of regulations.

The current Resolution's several dormer rules and separate balcony rules for the contextual and non-contextual districts, which do not differ significantly, would be merged.

The sole existing C5-2A district would be eliminated. It is mapped only along Manhattan's Lexington Avenue between 54th and 57th streets. As described in greater detail in the following section, the Department is proposing a related action that would rezone this portion of Lexington Avenue as a C5-2.5 district within the Special Midtown district with the same FAR and a similar bulk envelope.

A generic C5-2A district with the R10A bulk envelope would be established. This district would be the same as the existing C6-4A district but limited to only C5 uses. The Department expects to submit an application to map this designation in portions of the Park Avenue South area of Manhattan within the near future.

The current optional Quality Housing parking requirements would apply to new developments and enlargements that do not exceed the standard height limits. Existing 1961 parking requirements would be retained for developments that exceed these new envelopes (and have more on-site land available for parking). Existing buildings would be required to retain all previously required parking.

The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.

The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

PROCUREMENT

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR), published each business day, lists notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement information. Solicitations notices for most procurement above $25,000 for goods or services or above $50,000 for construction and construction related services are published for at least one day.

Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except legal holidays.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. The NYC's Procurement Policy Board rules require that agencies primarily solicit from bidder/proposer lists developed for each commodity/category. Suppliers interested in being placed on such lists may obtain an application from the following agencies:

Goods

● Department of Citywide Administrative Services, Division of Municipal Supplies, Office of Vendor Relations, 1 Centre St.,18th Floor, NY, NY 10007 (212) 669-8562.

Construction & Construction Related Services

● Mayor's Office of Construction,

Bidders List Unit, 75 Park Place, 7th Floor, New York, NY 10007 (212) 788-2502.

All Other Services

● Mayor's Office of Contracts, Bidders List Unit, 253 Broadway, 9th Floor, New York, NY 10007 (212) 788-0010 Applications may also be obtained directly from each City agency. VENDOR INFORMATION MANUAL

This manual contains information on how to do business with the City. It can be obtained, at no cost, from the Department of Business Services, 110 William Street - 2nd floor, New York 10038. Request should be made to Gordon Richards, Director - Procurement Outreach Program, (212) 513-6356 (Tel) or (212) 618-8899 (Fax).

PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Board of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority.Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10 am to 3 pm. PROMPT PAYMENT

It is policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bill within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

To learn more about the City's prompt payment policy, you can obtain a copy of the City's Vendor Payment Guidelines form the Procurement Policy Board51 Chambers Street Room 1126, New York 10007 (212) 788-7820

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOPMENT TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – CSP – PIN# 071-00S003262 – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-fourth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 5 to 30 years and the drop-in centers will be for three years with one three year option to renew.

Pursuant to Section 312(c)(1)(ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgement is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03(c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated and 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed facility location.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8000, 33 Beaver Street 13th Flr., New York, NY 10004, to request a copy of the application, which is available for pick-up only Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

PROPOSED NEW RULE CONCERNING APPROVAL OF BRACKET SIGNS IN CERTAIN HISTORIC DISTRICTS

2-20 Bracket Signs in the Tribeca East, Tribeca West, Tribeca North, Tribeca South, SoHo Cast-Iron, NoHo, and Ladies' Mile Historic Districts.

1. Introduction. The large commercial buildings that substantially define the character of the Tribeca East, Tribeca West, Tribeca North, Tribeca South, SoHo Cast-Iron, NoHo, and Ladies' Mile Historic Districts historically had a wide variety of signage, including rigid projecting signs. These signs, known as "bracket signs" extended out perpendicularly from the building face and typically had signage on both sides of the sign.

2. Definitions. As used in this subsection 2-20, the following words shall have the following meanings:

"Armature" shall mean a metal structural support for a rigid projecting sign.

"Bracket Sign" shall mean a rigid outdoor sign, with two display faces, installed perpendicular to a building facade and hanging from an armature, intended as an advertisement or announcement for the information or attraction of the public, consisting of the rigid background itself, and all letters, words, numerals, illustrations, decorations, trade marks, emblems, symbols or their figures or characters applied to the background. In addition, a bracket sign may consist of an outline of a shape intended to act as a symbol or sign for the establishment.

"Bracing" shall mean a member which is used to stiffen or support an armature; a strut which supports or fixes another member in position or a tie used for the same purpose.

"CNE" shall mean a Certificate of No Effect as defined by section 25-306 of the Administrative Code.

"Facade" shall mean an entire exterior face of a building.

3. Installation of Bracket Signs. The LPC staff shall issue a CNE for a bracket sign if the proposed work meets all of the following criteria:

1. The armature and bracing shall be installed below the second story within the storefront opening or on the flat face of a plain masonry pier and shall be mechanically fastened into the wooden storefront infill or into the mortar joints of a plain masonry pier, and such installation shall neither damage nor conceal any significant architectural features of the building.

2. The display faces of the bracket sign may be made of wood or metal. If the bracket sign has display faces, the letters, words, numerals, illustrations or graphics, etc. may be painted or applied onto the display faces, and may be raised slightly from the surface.

3. The bracket sign shall not be internally illuminated.

4. The placement of the bracket sign on the building shall be in close proximity to the commercial establishment that is advertised on the bracket sign. Only one bracket sign per ground floor commercial tenant shall be permitted. In buildings with more than one ground floor commercial tenant, one sign per tenant may be installed, provided that there is no more than one sign per 25 feet of building facade fronting on a street, and further provided that the size, design, placement, materials and details of all of the armatures match. A single armature for a bracket sign for an upper story tenant or tenants may be installed adjacent to the building entrance. This armature may hold more than one sign for such upper story tenants, provided such signs hang vertically underneath one another, and further provided that in no event shall the total dimensions of such signs, taken together, exceed the size requirements specified in c.5. below.

5. The size of the bracket sign shall conform to the requirements of the Zoning Resolution, but in no event shall the size exceed 24 inches by 36 inches, oriented horizontally or vertically. Novelty shapes, such as circles, polygons and irregular shapes, may be permitted provided such shapes fall within the above dimensions.

6. The projection of the bracket sign and armature beyond the property line shall conform to the requirements of the Zoning Resolution and Building Code, but in no event shall extend more than 40 inches from the facade.

7. The bracket sign shall be installed so that the lowest portion of the sign is at least ten (10) feet above the sidewalk.

8. The application is to install the bracket sign on a building located within the Tribeca East, Tribeca West, Tribeca North, Tribeca South, SoHo Cast-Iron, NoHo, and Ladies' Mile Historic Districts.

Statement of Basis and Purpose for Amendment

The City Council enacted Local Law 42 of 1996 and created the New York City Trade Waste Commission to rid the City's commercial carting industry of organized crime corruption, to protect businesses using private carting services, and to enhance competition in the industry. Local Law 42 vests the Commission with the power to make determinations concerning the fitness of persons and firms to participate in the commercial carting industry and to regulate the conduct of the entities and individuals subject to its jurisdiction. See Admin. Code §§ 16-504(a), (d). From time to time, in connection with fulfilling its mandate, the Commission issues orders and directives. In order to ensure compliance with such orders and directives, this amendment will add to the general prohibitions governing those subject to the Commission's jurisdiction a prohibition against violating any order or directive of the Commission.

In addition, in order that all firms and entities subject to the Commission's jurisdiction will be bound by the same basic rules governing their conduct in the carting industry, this amendment will include applicants for licenses and registrations, class 1 registrants (i.e., self-haulers), and principals and key employees among those subject to the general prohibitions.

Andrew S. Eristoff
Commissioner of Finance

Such election may be made or changed with the filing of an amended return for such taxable year. When a combined return is filed, the IBF election is made by the parent corporation included in such combined return and is binding on all corporations included in such combined return. CITYWIDE N 000244 ZRY

IN THE MATTER OF an application submitted by the Department of City Planning pursuant to Section 201 of the New York City Charter, for amendment of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York relating to various sections as follows:

Description of the Proposal - Unified Bulk Regulations

The Unified Bulk Regulations consists of more than 500 pages of zoning text modifications. The new text would modify and replace existing text, add new text, and reorganize and renumber major portions of the Zoning Resolution. For the purpose of this description, the proposal has been divided into seven broad categories of changes: changes affecting height and setback envelopes; changes to other bulk and density regulations; changes affecting split lots and zoning lot mergers; changes to bonuses for public spaces; changes to authorizations and special permits; associated changes; and changes to Special Districts. Each of these categories is summarized below.

Changes Affecting Height and Setback Envelopes The proposed height limits and setback rules would replace the multiple alternative envelopes in the existing text with one or two simple building envelopes for each zoning district. They would eliminate, among other provisions, tower-in-a-park buildings, sky exposure planes and height factor zoning. The proposed envelopes are designed to reflect the general built character of each zoning district. They are more restrictive in terms of height and bulk than the existing zoning, but allow more flexibility than a contextual zoning district. They are designed to allow all the permitted floor area to be used on a typical lot, but to limit the use of techniques that have produced out-of-scale buildings, such as inappropriate transfers of bulk across zoning district boundaries, transfers of unused development rights from existing buildings to a development site, and deductions of mechanical space from zoning floor area. In the highest density districts (R9, R10 and equivalents), for example, the district height limits are designed to accommodate a roughly 10% allowance for mechanical space and 25% for off-site floor area from a zoning lot merger.

Height and setback requirements in contextual zoning districts would not be changed under the Unified Bulk Program. In special districts, minimal changes needed to incorporate the new concepts and terminology of the Unified Bulk Program would be made where necessary. The proposed height limits would not be applicable in the Special Midtown and Special Lower Manhattan Districts. In the waterfront area, Unified Bulk height and setback rules would apply only to industrial uses currently exempt from the waterfront regulations, and its density regulations would replace the existing underlying regulations. Existing FAR's would be rounded.

In non-contextual medium-density and high-density districts (R6 to R10 and equivalents), two basic building types would be allowed: (1) a shorter contextual building and (2) a taller building with a setback. The goal is to bring new buildings back into scale within each district, but not to constrict them to a purely contextual shape. This approach also reflects the fact that in many districts development occurs in a context of taller buildings that do not hold the street wall. Developers of nonresidential buildings would be able to make a choice about which of the two building types best fits with the program, economics and other elements of a project. Residential buildings would be limited to the contextual shape except in defined circumstances where a taller building would be appropriate - for example, when they are adjacent to elevated structures. The maximum height of the more contextual building would be governed by a "standard" building height limit, which would vary on wide and narrow streets. The maximum height of the taller building would be set by a "district" height limit. The proposed district height limits are generally lower than the building heights that can be achieved under the existing zoning.

Each zoning district would have minimum and maximum heights for a residential building's base. To maintain the character of the streetscape, residential buildings utilizing the contextual shape would not be permitted to set back below the district's minimum base height and would be required to set back above the maximum base height. The minimum required setback would be 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street. The proposed base heights and standard height limits for most districts are based on the existing Optional Quality Housing height limits.

Residential buildings that share a side lot line with buildings that exceed the "standard" height by at least ten feet; that are located on full-block sites; that are part of Large Scale Residential Developments or General Large Scale Developments; or that are adjacent to elevated transit or road structures would be permitted to exceed the standard building height limit, up to the district height limit, and would not be required to set back further if they are set back from the street at grade. These buildings would be required to cover 33 percent of the lot at all levels below the top story to limit the potential for zoning lot mergers.

Commercial and community facility buildings could also be developed up to the district height limit and, when developed at the street line, would be required to set back at the maximum base height. However, commercial and community facility buildings that set back at street level would not be required to set back farther at the maximum base height.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Commercial Districts In the high density commercial districts (C4, C5 and C6 districts of 10 FAR or more), the proposed district height limits are 420, 495 or 720 feet reflecting the amount of commercial floor area permitted. These height limits were selected with the intention of allowing design flexibility within an envelope that accommodates a full build-out of the permitted floor area of a development site with a commercial tower occupying 40% of the zoning lot and floor-to-floor heights of 12 feet, together with an allocation for mechanical space (10% of building floor area) and for floor area from a zoning lot merger (25%). The height limits are designed to cap both deductions from zoning floor area for mechanical space and transfers of floor area by zoning lot merger, which sometimes have exceeded these percentages. Commercial and community facility buildings could set back from the street and then rise to the district height limit.

Residential buildings would be subject to the same district height limits in these commercial districts, but, unlike the commercial and community facility buildings, would be subject to the modified tower-on-a-base regulations described below.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Residential Districts The slimmer residential towers in high-density non-contextual residential districts (R9 and R10) have a more intimate relationship to the street and do not have the programmatic requirements of commercial and community facility buildings, which generate taller buildings. Accordingly, residential buildings in these districts would be subject not only to a shorter 360 foot height limit but to tighter building envelope requirements designed to produce a street wall that respects the prevailing scale of development and allows adequate light. The height limit, but not the tighter building envelope, would apply to community facility buildings in these districts.

Any tower with more than 25 percent of its floor area devoted to residential use would be subject to revised tower-on-a-base regulations. A residential building's base would be required to hold the street wall and would have a maximum height of 85 feet. Tower-on-a-base regulations would apply for the first time on narrow streets and would be modified to provide greater design flexibility without jeopardizing the objectives of limiting height, constraining zoning lot mergers and establishing a street wall. The changes would be as follows:

Establish street wall requirements for narrow streets. A street wall of from 45 to 85 feet high would be required for 70% of the lot line on narrow streets. Currently there are no such requirements beyond 100 feet of wide street.

Limit the placement of mid-lot towers. Currently, towers are permitted in the middle of a through lot in all districts that permit residential towers. In order to constrain such midblock towers, the rear yard equivalent requirements would be modified for through lots to require that mid-lot towers be located at least 30 feet from all side lot lines.

Simplify street wall requirements. The existing street wall recess and required match-up provisions would be eliminated, because they are too complicated and place unnecessary constraints on building design. Currently, developers are required to match building base heights to adjacent building heights if it is between 60 to 85 feet high and within ten feet of the street line. Architects have complained that the existing rules limit their ability to articulate a facade. A new building would be permitted to increase its street wall height to 100 feet in order to match-up with an adjacent street wall.

Waive street wall requirements at locations with minimal street wall character or adjacent to elevated structures such as subways or bridge abutments. The Tower-on-a-Base regulations were developed to ensure that the bases of residential towers were consistent with neighboring buildings. There are some settings, however, where the existing streetscape does not justify the street wall requirement, such as areas extensively developed pursuant to the 1961 bulk regulations where there is no defined street wall and areas where elevated subways, bridges and other structures make street walls inappropriate. In addition, street wall requirements would not apply to full-block sites.

Apply minimum tower coverage to all districts with a 360-foot height limit. The minimum tower coverage requirement (33% of the zoning lot) currently applicable on wide streets would be expanded to apply to all developments in R9, R10 and C1 and C2 equivalent districts that have a height limit of 360 feet. This change would reduce the amount of floor area that can be added to a building by means of a zoning lot merger. This requirement would not apply to C4, C5 and C6 districts with R9 or R10 equivalents, where commercial buildings that are not subject to the tower coverage requirement can rise above 360 feet.

Eliminate "packing the bulk". The "packing-the-bulk" rule requires that 55% of the floor area on a zoning lot be located below a height of 150 feet. The rule was intended to limit transfers of floor area by zoning lot mergers and by doing so to limit the height of the building. A review of existing tower-on-a-base buildings, however, shows that the minimum 33% tower-coverage requirement adequately addresses these concerns. The proposed district height limit would provide the definitive answer to concerns about building height.

Bulk Requirements in Lower-Density Districts for Residential Building Residential buildings in the lowest-density districts (R1 and R2) would be subject to a contextual envelope to replace the 1961 height and setback rules. The maximum lot coverage would be 35%. The maximum perimeter wall height would be 21 feet, with a sloping roof rising to 35 feet (the current R4A envelope), except on large lots where the perimeter wall could rise to 35 feet.

Such provisions are not needed in R3 to R5 districts, where residential buildings are already limited to a contextual envelope based on the small-scale building patterns of residences.

Bulk Requirements in Lower Density Districts for Community Facility, Commercial and Manufacturing Developments In R1-R5 districts, equivalent commercial overlays, C3, C4-1, C8-1 and M1-1 districts, bulk rules suitable for residential buildings do not work for community facility, commercial and manufacturing buildings, which require larger interior spaces. These buildings, where permitted, would be subject to new height and setback regulations that would provide more certainty as to scale than the existing sky exposure plane regulations. Again, two basic building types would be allowed. A contextual building could rise to a standard height limit of 50 feet, with a maximum base height of 30 feet. Above the maximum base height, setbacks of 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street would be required. A taller building would be permitted only in limited situations - to provide greater flexibility on community facility campuses and to accommodate structures needed for some industrial processes. In these settings, buildings could rise to the district height limit of 90 feet but would be limited to structures erected more than 100 feet from a street.

Bulk Requirements in Medium and High-Density Manufacturing Districts Many of the city's high-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of 10 (M1-6), developed with old loft buildings, have a significantly different character from areas developed later with taller buildings. Therefore, M1-6 districts generally would have a 210-foot height limit consistent with this high-density context, but no towers or plaza bonuses would be permitted. Exceptions would be made for districts in Manhattan where there are already towers, and loft buildings are interspersed with office development. Towers up to 495 feet (with a 40% coverage requirement) would be permitted in the M1-6 districts in Midtown Manhattan, such as the Garment District, Garment Center East and the area west of Penn Station.
In medium-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of between 2 and 5 FAR for commercial or manufacturing buildings (M1-2 through M1-5, M2 and M3), each district would have a maximum base height and district height limit commensurate with the heights of existing buildings in these districts and the programmatic needs of industrial structures.

Regulations for Existing Tower-in-the-Park Developments Existing "tower-in-the-park" residential developments were allowed to include taller buildings in exchange for additional open space and consequently many did not build out their full floor area. To preserve these open spaces, restrictions would be placed on enlargements of these developments. As-of-right enlargements of existing developments that exceed the standard height limit would not be permitted unless the lot area retained as open space is 70% in R6 districts, 65% in R7 districts and 60% in R8 districts. The City Planning Commission could authorize a reduction of the open space upon a finding that the remaining open space is adequate for the enlarged development and that the enlargement enhances the development's relationship to the surrounding community.

Changes to Other Bulk and Density Regulations Several changes would serve the important purpose of providing a more unified, simpler set of residential bulk and density regulations:

Floor Area Ratios The Unified Bulk Program would replace the current range of interconnected floor area ratios and open space ratios of the 1961 zoning with a single floor area ratio and coverage requirement for each district. FAR currently measured to the second decimal place (hundredths) would be measured to a single decimal place (tenths). This would be a marginal increase from the height factor maximums in some districts and a marginal decrease in others. On narrow streets in R6 districts, the maximum floor area ratio would decrease from 2.43 to 2.2. (Community facility FAR would be correspondingly lowered from 4.8 to 4.4).

The current increase in FAR available for contextual development on wide streets outside the Manhattan core under the optional Quality Housing regulations (to 3.0 in R6 districts, 4.0 in R7 districts and 7.2 in R8 districts), would be maintained in the same locations for developments that do not exceed the standard height.

Density Controls The use of zoning room counts as a control on density in R6 - R10 districts would be replaced with dwelling unit (or where permitted rooming unit) counts based on the permitted residential floor area. Dwelling unit counts are already used in R1 - R5 districts, contextual R6 through R10 districts, the R6-R10 Quality Housing Optional Regulations, residential conversions in the community districts covered by Section 15-00, in the Special Mixed Use Districts and in the waterfront regulations.

These density controls would also apply to the residential conversion of existing non-residential buildings governed by Section 15-00, which would marginally increase the permitted density in conversions of buildings with more floor area than permitted in the underlying zoning district.

The Quality Housing Program The Quality Housing Program would be eliminated. Its standards would be integrated into the generic regulations and would apply to all residential buildings containing more than nine dwelling units. The floor area deductions would only be available to buildings using the standard envelope.

The areas, called Study Areas, where the optional contextual regulations do not apply at present, would receive special regulations. These would limit residential buildings on the remaining applicable Study Area lots containing small homes to no more than four stories, and set the FAR at 1.85 for four story buildings and 1.62 for buildings of three or fewer stories. This would keep the current effective FARs for the buildings typically developed in these areas in place until rezoning studies are finished.

Changes Affecting Split Lots and Zoning Lot Mergers The rules governing zoning lots that are split by zoning district boundaries would be clarified and simplified to ensure greater predictability. Each portion of the lot would have to comply with all applicable use, bulk and parking regulations except as noted below.

Floor Area No floor area could be transferred across a district boundary on a split lot, except as follows:

Split lots where the zoning districts on both sides of the boundary have comparable floor area, height, setback and bulk controls would be treated like any other zoning lot -- as they are under the existing zoning. However, districts with similar floor area regulations for some uses but different height and setback regulations or different floor area regulations for other uses would no longer be considered comparable. To eliminate current ambiguities, the zoning would include a definitive list of the districts that are "comparable" for purposes of the transfer of floor area across district lines. This would prevent inappropriate shifts of floor area between Districts.

Split lots which were single zoning lots at the time the zoning district boundary splitting the lot was drawn, would be treated as if the entire lot were in the zoning district covering the larger portion of the lot if the smaller portion of the split lot is less than 25 feet wide. Where the smaller portion of the lot is more than 25 feet wide, floor area and density on a split lot could be shifted from the higher density district to the lower density only in an amount up to the weighted average FAR or density for the entire zoning lot. The weighted average rule applies today. However, because of ambiguities in the text, it is not always clear when a district is comparable and when the weighted average provisions apply.

In contextual developments outside Manhattan Community Boards 1 through 8, floor area and density could be shifted from the portion of a split lot in the lower-density district to the portion in the higher-density district, subject to a 20% cap on any increase in the higher density district. The same rule would apply within a single zoning district where a zoning lot is subject to different floor area ratios on different parts of the lot (for example in R6 districts where the FAR is 3.0 within 100 feet of a wide street and 2.2 elsewhere).

Density Dwelling units or rooming units (where permitted) could be located in any permitted residential floor area.
Lot Coverage Lot coverage could be averaged for any lot, and the requirement could be met anywhere on the lot.

Parking and Loading Parking and loading requirements could be averaged for any lot, and the parking or loading could be located anywhere on the lot in accordance with underlying curb cut and location regulations.

Changes Affecting Bonuses for Public Spaces

Elimination of Bonuses Many of the public spaces that have received floor area bonuses under the existing zoning have been found to produce only limited public benefits and are inconsistent with the goal of enhancing the street wall character of residential neighborhoods, which is one of the goals addressed by the Unified Bulk Program. Accordingly, bonuses for the following would be eliminated:

As-of-right residential plazas, which are inconsistent with the street wall character of neighborhoods and tend to become privatized.

Arcades, which are seldom built and undermine the street wall.

Through-block arcades, which, as a rule, contribute little except when they are part of a planned pedestrian network.

Sidewalk widenings, which, when located without regard to pedestrian volumes, are unnecessary.

Elevated and sunken plazas, which are inconsistent with the goal of assuring that public plazas are readily accessible.

Plazas in M1-6 districts characterized by pre-war loft buildings except in those Manhattan districts where new commercial towers are permitted.

Plazas in C6-1 (other than C6-1A) and C6-2 districts, the only generic middle-density districts that currently offer a plaza bonus. Density and pedestrian traffic in these districts do not justify the provision of the bonus.

Residential buildings in high-density C4, C5 and C6 districts would have a special permit bonus for an open space amenity based on superior design and the need for such amenity, ability to maximize sunlight on nearby parks or playgrounds and enhance the relationship of the development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Commercial and Community Facility Plazas Commercial and community facility plazas, given the public nature of the buildings that adjoin them, generally provide a valuable public amenity. The bonus for these amenities would be retained. Both types of plazas would be required to meet the updated and more exacting Urban Plaza standards. This change would leave the Zoning Resolution with one set of plaza design guidelines.

Approvals for Reductions in Bonused Public Spaces Currently, a special permit is required to reduce the size of a public space that generated a floor area bonus, unless there is a corresponding reduction in the floor area of the building or the substitution of equivalent complying space. However, transfers of floor area through zoning lot mergers or conversion of zoning floor area to mechanical space, which does not count as zoning floor area, have been used to reduce a building's reliance on a bonused public space to justify its zoning floor area and hence to enable a reduction in the size of the bonused space. The City Planning Commission has no opportunity to review the effects of such a modification on the public space. For this reason, any reduction of a public space that generated a floor area bonus would require a special permit.

Many developments containing bonused public space contain more open area than was required to generate the bonus floor area actually built. Assuming that other regulations are complied with, this excess space can be developed. A certification would be required, however, to ensure that the bonused public space still complies with the zoning requirements after it has been modified.

Changes Affecting Authorizations and Special Permits No system of bulk requirements is perfect. Inevitably, the proposed tightening of building envelopes will produce some situations where the rules do not produce the desired result in a specific location. For this reason, the Unified Bulk Program would replace existing approvals for bulk waivers with a broader two-tiered approach to waivers. Minor modifications of all street wall, coverage, court and distance between building regulations would be available by City Planning Commission authorization, if found to be consistent with and enhancing of neighborhood character. A City Planning Commission special permit would be available for more significant modifications, relating to height, tower coverage, street wall and yard regulations. To encourage innovation and quality architecture, this special permit would include a finding that the design of the development is of superior quality. A panel of architects and others concerned with design issues would be established to advise the City Planning Commission on the design merits of these special permit applications

Another City Planning Commission special permit would replace an existing Board of Standards and Appeals special permit. It would be available to community facility uses to provide flexibility for unique programmatic requirements or to integrating new buildings into existing campuses. The current BSA special permit is limited to campuses that existed in 1961. That special permit would be eliminated.

Associated Changes To implement the objectives of the Unified Bulk Program, the proposal would reorganize and consolidate a number of regulations.

The current Resolution's several dormer rules and separate balcony rules for the contextual and non-contextual districts, which do not differ significantly, would be merged.

The sole existing C5-2A district would be eliminated. It is mapped only along Manhattan's Lexington Avenue between 54th and 57th streets. As described in greater detail in the following section, the Department is proposing a related action that would rezone this portion of Lexington Avenue as a C5-2.5 district within the Special Midtown district with the same FAR and a similar bulk envelope.

A generic C5-2A district with the R10A bulk envelope would be established. This district would be the same as the existing C6-4A district but limited to only C5 uses. The Department expects to submit an application to map this designation in portions of the Park Avenue South area of Manhattan within the near future.

The current optional Quality Housing parking requirements would apply to new developments and enlargements that do not exceed the standard height limits. Existing 1961 parking requirements would be retained for developments that exceed these new envelopes (and have more on-site land available for parking). Existing buildings would be required to retain all previously required parking.

The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.
The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. The NYC's Procurement Policy Board rules require that agencies primarily solicit from bidder/proposer lists developed for each commodity/category. Suppliers interested in being placed on such lists may obtain an application from the following agencies:

Goods

Request should be made to Gordon Richards, Director - Procurement Outreach Program, (212) 513-6356 (Tel) or (212) 618-8899 (Fax).

PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Board of Education,

Metropolitan Transportation Authority,

Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority.Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bill within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOPMENT TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – CSP – PIN# 071-00S003262 – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-fourth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 5 to 30 years and the drop-in centers will be for three years with one three year option to renew.

Pursuant to Section 312(c)(1)(ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgement is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03(c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated and 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed facility location.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8000, 33 Beaver Street 13th Flr., New York, NY 10004, to request a copy of the application, which is available for pick-up only Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

AGENCY RULES

CITYWIDE ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

■ NOTICE

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF EMERGENCY RULES RELATING TO PRESS CONFERENCES, DEMONSTRATIONS AND SIMILAR ACTIVITIES IN THE IMMEDIATE VICINITY OF CITY HALL

PURSUANT TO section 1043(h)(1) of the New York City Charter and exercising the authority vested in the Department of Citywide Administrative Services by sections 1043(a), 811 and 822(a) of the New York City Charter, notice is hereby given of the adoption of the following emergency rules, effective immediately, relating to press conferences, demonstrations and similar activities in the immediate vicinity of City Hall. Matter underlined is new.

Section 1. Chapter 9 of Title 55 of the compilation of rules of the city of New York relating to press conferences, demonstrations and similar activities in the immediate vicinity of City Hall is repealed.
Section 2. Title 55 of the compilation of rules of the city of New York is amended by adding a new Chapter 10 to read as follows:

Chapter 10

Emergency Rules For Press Conferences, Demonstrations and Similar Activities in the Immediate Vicinity of City Hall

§ 10-01. These procedures apply to press conferences, demonstrations, picketing, speechmaking, vigils and like forms of expressive conduct by participants or onlookers ("covered activities") on the steps, sidewalk and plaza area fronting City Hall. The "plaza area" consists of the bluestone-paved area bordered on the north by the sidewalk fronting City Hall, on the south by City Hall Park and to the east and west by cobblestone parking areas.

§ 10-02. Covered activities shall not include the following public ceremonies and commemorations: (i) inaugurations; (ii) award ceremonies for city employees; and (iii) ceremonies held in conjunction with a City-sponsored ticker-tape parade.

§ 10-03. Covered activities shall be conducted in accordance with these requirements and under the terms of permits issued by the Police Department pursuant to § 10-06 below. Covered activities shall be conducted in a manner which does not endanger the safety or security of public employees and members of the general public, impede ingress to or egress from City Hall, or interfere with the rights of other persons engaged in covered activities. A maximum of 300 persons in total shall be permitted on the City Hall steps, sidewalk and plaza fronting City Hall for a three-hour time period in an area selected by the Police Department which reasonably accommodates groups of 300 or less. Groups of over 300 persons or who seek to hold a covered activity that exceeds three hours in duration shall be directed to obtain a permit for the use of City Hall Park or other comparable area in accordance with the rules of the Department of Parks and Recreation.

§ 10-04. Covered activities shall not be permitted when the Police Department determines that the covered activity would violate the provisions of § 10-05, or under the circumstances set forth in subdivision c of § 10-06. When areas of the steps, sidewalk or plaza area fronting City Hall are not available due to events enumerated in § 10-02, anticipated security needs or the presence of other groups engaged in covered activities, groups shall be informed of alternative locations or times that are available for the covered activities.

§ 10-05. Disorderly conduct or conduct which obstructs the usual use of City Hall entrances, foyers, and the parking area, which otherwise impedes public employees in the performance of their official duties, vehicular and pedestrian traffic around City Hall, or the general public from obtaining government services or attending proceedings at City Hall is prohibited. Conduct shall not be permitted which (a) reasonably presents a clear and present danger to the public safety, good order or health; (b) interferes with ingress to or egress from City Hall; or (c) may result in bodily harm to any individual, damage to property, or imminent breach of the peace such that good order cannot otherwise be maintained.

§ 10-06. These procedures shall be administered by the Police Department, on behalf of the Department of Citywide Administrative Services and the Department of Parks and Recreation. In administering these procedures, the following permit system will apply:

a. Applicants shall submit fully executed permit applications in a form prescribed by the Police Department to a designated office or division of the Police Department, which will process applications in the order they are received. In the event that multiple applications are received for the same time period, permits will be considered in the order of receipt of fully executed applications.

b. Applications shall be granted or denied within 10 business days of the Police Department's receipt of the application. Applications filed within 10 business days of a proposed covered activity shall be processed as expeditiously as possible. In the case of applications made 2 business days or less before the proposed covered activity and in the absence of exigent circumstances which prevented the applicant from earlier seeking a permit, the application may be denied where the size or nature of the activity reasonably requires an additional police presence and there is insufficient time to make such presence available. In this event, the applicant will be informed of alternative locations or times for the covered activity.

c. Permits may be denied on the following grounds:
(i) A permit has previously been granted to another applicant for a covered activity for the date and time requested.
(ii) It reasonably appears that the covered activity will present a clear and present danger to the public safety, good order or health.
(iii) The application proposes activities which would be in violation of law or regulation.
(iv) An event enumerated in § 10-02 was previously calendared for the same date and time.
(v) The Police Department determines that the proposed covered activity conflicts with security needs anticipated for the time and place of the proposed activity.
In the event that a permit is denied under paragraphs (i), (iv), or (v), the applicant will be informed of alternative locations or times available for the covered activity.

d. Covered activities are subject to the following additional limitations:

(i) Applicants for permits that are issued in error because an event enumerated in § 10-02 had previously been calendared or a permit had previously been granted for another covered activity will be notified and provided with a reasonable opportunity to conduct the covered activity at an alternative location or an alternative time.
(ii) No permit will authorize the erection or placement of structures.
(iii) Permits shall authorize only one covered activity by one permit holder at a time.
(iv) Permits shall extend for a period of not more than three hours.

e. Permits may be revoked prior to the scheduled covered activity under the following circumstances: (i) unanticipated security needs or other exigent circumstances; or (ii) information comes to the attention of the Police Department which indicates that the proposed activity reasonably presents a clear and present danger to the public safety, good order or health. Revocations of previously granted permits which occur at least 10 days prior to the covered activity shall be made in writing.

§ 10-07. During the conduct of covered activities, a permit may be revoked by the ranking on-site New York City police officer if the covered activity or other circumstances (i) present a clear and present danger to the public safety, good order or health; (ii) interfere with ingress to or egress from City Hall or otherwise violate the terms and conditions contained in the permit; or (iii) result in bodily harm to any individual, damage to property, or imminent breach of the peace such that good order cannot otherwise be maintained.

§ 10-08. Nothing in these procedures shall restrict the power and authority of the Police Department to preserve the public peace and safety in the vicinity of City Hall, including but not limited to using magnetometers or other security devices, submitting all persons, bags and packages to mechanical inspection or search.

§ 10-09. The Police Department may order the closure of or limit access to the City Hall area in the event of an emergency or period of heightened security.

§ 10-10. All permits issued shall include the conditions set forth above.

STATEMENT OF BASIS AND PURPOSE

This emergency rule is promulgated pursuant to the authority of the Commissioner of the Department of Citywide Administrative Services under sections 1043, 811, 822(a) of the New York City Charter. City Hall is the site of many important government functions. People visit City Hall to call at the offices of their elected representatives, to observe and participate in public proceedings of the City Council, the City Planning Commission and other bodies, and to address their elected representatives. Officeholders and candidates for public office use the City Hall area for press conferences and similar events. City Hall is a significant historical site which draws visitors, and school children tour City Hall to learn about City government. In addition, people seek to express their views to elected officials and others by engaging in public assemblies or demonstrations in the City Hall area.

The use of the City Hall steps, sidewalk and plaza for expressive activity must be considered in light of the significant governmental interest in providing for the safety and security of City Hall, the Mayor, other elected officials, people participating in public proceedings held at City Hall and other members of the public. Protecting the safety and security of the public and City Hall is the responsibility of the Police Department.

These procedures are intended to provide a framework for the Police Department to assure the safety and convenience of the public, the Mayor, members of the City Council and other elected officials.

William J. Diamond, Commissioner,
Department of Citywide Administrative Services,
April 17, 2000.

FINDING OF IMMEDIATE THREAT

IT IS HEREBY CERTIFIED that the immediate effectiveness of emergency rules governing activities in the immediate vicinity of City Hall is necessary to prevent an immediate threat to health, safety and property, that is, to the security of City Hall, elected officials, persons participating at public proceedings held at City Hall and other members of the public. I hereby make the following finding of immediate threat to health, safety and property necessary to establish that an emergency rulemaking is required in relation to the protection of health, safety and property.

The protection of security at City Hall is of vital importance to the public, as City Hall is the seat of municipal government and houses the operations of the Mayor, the City Council and other public employees. Likewise, City Hall is a significant location for those who seek to exercise their First Amendment rights and to petition their elected representatives. A duly promulgated permitting system for expressive activity in the immediate vicinity of City Hall was recently stayed by order of the federal district court. In the absence of a permitting system, the Police Department is unduly hampered in its ability to adequately protect City Hall, elected officials, members of the public and those who seek to participate in expressive activity in the area of City Hall. Pending the adoption of new rules in accordance with standard procedures of the City Administrative Procedures Act, it is necessary that the Police Department have in place procedures so that it may accept and act on permit applications for the use of the steps, sidewalk and plaza of City Hall for First Amendment activities. Therefore, at the Police Department's request, adoption of these new emergency rules is necessary to ensure that such procedures are in place, and to protect against immediate threat to the safety and security of the seat of municipal government.

IT THEREFORE HEREBY CERTIFIED that the immediate effectiveness of a rule enabling the Police Department to adequately protect the safety and security of City Hall is necessary to address an immediate threat to health, safety and property.

Dated: April 17, 2000

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

■ NOTICE

CITY OF NEW YORK
ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF THE FINAL SECTION 108 LOAN APPLICATION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT (HUD) FOR THE "INTERACT REHEARSAL STUDIOS AND CULTURAL CENTER COMPLEX"

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, COMMUNITY BOARDS, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

In accordance with the Section 108 Loan Program regulations at 24 CFR Part 570.704(a)(iv) regarding the application process for loan guarantees, notice is given that the Final Section 108 Loan application for the "Interact Rehearsal Studios and Cultural Center Complex" (IRSC) is available for viewing. The document will be submitted to HUD on April 25, 2000.

The Women's Interact Center, Inc. (WIC) proposes to create the IRSC by completely renovating 549-551 West 52nd Street in Manhattan (after the building is conveyed to it by the City of New York), an existing 10-story 49,190 gross sq. ft. building which it currently occupies. It will also construct a new 8-story addition containing 27,788 gross sq. ft. of studio and rehearsal space. The new construction will be fully integrated into the internal spaces of the renovated existing building. The building will be the home of four not-for-profit cultural tenants, as well as provide high quality dance and theater rehearsal studios for the profit and not-for-profit arts and entertainment community. The project as proposed will cost $18,469,824 to complete. The project already has received a HUD Economic Development Initiative Grant of $2 million to complement the requested Section 108 Loan of $13,595,000. A total of $2,874,824 in New York State grants and loans and WIC equity will also provide financing for the project.

The proposed project is eligible pursuant to HUD's Section 108 Loan regulations, 24 CFR 570.703(i)(2), which is consistent with the Community Development Block Grant Program's (CD) Section 570.204(a)(2) involving Special Activities by Community-Based Development Organizations. The project will meet the "National Objectives" requirements contained in 24 CFR 570.208(a)(4)(i) and (ii) through the retention of 114 full-time equivalent (fte) jobs and the creation of 493 fte jobs over the first three full years of the project's operation. According to 570.208(a)(4)(v), for the purposes of determining whether a job is held by or offered to a low- and moderate-income person, the person may be presumed to be a low-and moderate income person if the assisted business is located within a census tract with a poverty rate of at least 20%. The IRSC project meets this criteria as it is located within census tract 135, which has a poverty rate of more than 20%.

The City of New York is pledging its future CD funds as a condition of receiving the Section 108 Loan Guarantee. In the event the Section 108 Loan cannot be repaid by the Women's Interact Center, CD funds are pledged as security to ensure repayment.

The Final Section 108 Loan application for the IRSC may be viewed at the New York City Economic Development Corporation (EDC), 110 William Street, New York, New York. Please call Zsa Johnstone-Mosher at (212) 312-3572 to make an appointment to view the document.

In accordance with 24 CFR Part 58.35 of the HUD Environmental Review Procedures for Title I Community Development Block Grant Programs, the activities conducted under the programs listed below have been determined to be categorically excluded from the Environmental Assessment requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act. This notice is prepared on a programmatic basis.

NYCHA PUBLIC HOUSING MODERNIZATION
CD funds are used to improve buildings, grounds, dwelling units and community facilities operated by the New York City Housing Authority. Activities may include: window replacement, installation of child safety-guards, waterproofing of exterior walls, re-roofing, asbestos abatement, oil remediation, plumbing upgrade, alarm system installation, kitchen renovation, electrical wiring, lighting upgrade, new entrance doors, playground upgrade, elevator overhaul or replacement, heating plant upgrade, and installation of air conditioning systems, ramps and handrails. CD 26 Allocation: $2,744,000.

■ PUBLIC HEARINGS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT RESOLUTIONS have been adopted by the City Planning Commission scheduling public hearings on the following matters to be held in City Hall, New York, New York 10007, on Tuesday, April 25, 2000, commencing at 10:00 a.m.

CITYWIDE N 000244 ZRY

IN THE MATTER OF an application submitted by the Department of City Planning pursuant to Section 201 of the New York City Charter, for amendment of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York relating to various sections as follows:

Description of the Proposal - Unified Bulk Regulations

The Unified Bulk Regulations consists of more than 500 pages of zoning text modifications. The new text would modify and replace existing text, add new text, and reorganize and renumber major portions of the Zoning Resolution. For the purpose of this description, the proposal has been divided into seven broad categories of changes: changes affecting height and setback envelopes; changes to other bulk and density regulations; changes affecting split lots and zoning lot mergers; changes to bonuses for public spaces; changes to authorizations and special permits; associated changes; and changes to Special Districts. Each of these categories is summarized below.

Changes Affecting Height and Setback Envelopes The proposed height limits and setback rules would replace the multiple alternative envelopes in the existing text with one or two simple building envelopes for each zoning district. They would eliminate, among other provisions, tower-in-a-park buildings, sky exposure planes and height factor zoning. The proposed envelopes are designed to reflect the general built character of each zoning district. They are more restrictive in terms of height and bulk than the existing zoning, but allow more flexibility than a contextual zoning district. They are designed to allow all the permitted floor area to be used on a typical lot, but to limit the use of techniques that have produced out-of-scale buildings, such as inappropriate transfers of bulk across zoning district boundaries, transfers of unused development rights from existing buildings to a development site, and deductions of mechanical space from zoning floor area. In the highest density districts (R9, R10 and equivalents), for example, the district height limits are designed to accommodate a roughly 10% allowance for mechanical space and 25% for off-site floor area from a zoning lot merger.

Height and setback requirements in contextual zoning districts would not be changed under the Unified Bulk Program. In special districts, minimal changes needed to incorporate the new concepts and terminology of the Unified Bulk Program would be made where necessary. The proposed height limits would not be applicable in the Special Midtown and Special Lower Manhattan Districts. In the waterfront area, Unified Bulk height and setback rules would apply only to industrial uses currently exempt from the waterfront regulations, and its density regulations would replace the existing underlying regulations. Existing FAR's would be rounded.

In non-contextual medium-density and high-density districts (R6 to R10 and equivalents), two basic building types would be allowed: (1) a shorter contextual building and (2) a taller building with a setback. The goal is to bring new buildings back into scale within each district, but not to constrict them to a purely contextual shape. This approach also reflects the fact that in many districts development occurs in a context of taller buildings that do not hold the street wall. Developers of nonresidential buildings would be able to make a choice about which of the two building types best fits with the program, economics and other elements of a project. Residential buildings would be limited to the contextual shape except in defined circumstances where a taller building would be appropriate - for example, when they are adjacent to elevated structures. The maximum height of the more contextual building would be governed by a "standard" building height limit, which would vary on wide and narrow streets. The maximum height of the taller building would be set by a "district" height limit. The proposed district height limits are generally lower than the building heights that can be achieved under the existing zoning.

Each zoning district would have minimum and maximum heights for a residential building's base. To maintain the character of the streetscape, residential buildings utilizing the contextual shape would not be permitted to set back below the district's minimum base height and would be required to set back above the maximum base height. The minimum required setback would be 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street. The proposed base heights and standard height limits for most districts are based on the existing Optional Quality Housing height limits.

Residential buildings that share a side lot line with buildings that exceed the "standard" height by at least ten feet; that are located on full-block sites; that are part of Large Scale Residential Developments or General Large Scale Developments; or that are adjacent to elevated transit or road structures would be permitted to exceed the standard building height limit, up to the district height limit, and would not be required to set back further if they are set back from the street at grade. These buildings would be required to cover 33 percent of the lot at all levels below the top story to limit the potential for zoning lot mergers.

Commercial and community facility buildings could also be developed up to the district height limit and, when developed at the street line, would be required to set back at the maximum base height. However, commercial and community facility buildings that set back at street level would not be required to set back farther at the maximum base height.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Commercial Districts In the high density commercial districts (C4, C5 and C6 districts of 10 FAR or more), the proposed district height limits are 420, 495 or 720 feet reflecting the amount of commercial floor area permitted. These height limits were selected with the intention of allowing design flexibility within an envelope that accommodates a full build-out of the permitted floor area of a development site with a commercial tower occupying 40% of the zoning lot and floor-to-floor heights of 12 feet, together with an allocation for mechanical space (10% of building floor area) and for floor area from a zoning lot merger (25%). The height limits are designed to cap both deductions from zoning floor area for mechanical space and transfers of floor area by zoning lot merger, which sometimes have exceeded these percentages. Commercial and community facility buildings could set back from the street and then rise to the district height limit.

Residential buildings would be subject to the same district height limits in these commercial districts, but, unlike the commercial and community facility buildings, would be subject to the modified tower-on-a-base regulations described below.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Residential Districts The slimmer residential towers in high-density non-contextual residential districts (R9 and R10) have a more intimate relationship to the street and do not have the programmatic requirements of commercial and community facility buildings, which generate taller buildings. Accordingly, residential buildings in these districts would be subject not only to a shorter 360 foot height limit but to tighter building envelope requirements designed to produce a street wall that respects the prevailing scale of development and allows adequate light. The height limit, but not the tighter building envelope, would apply to community facility buildings in these districts.

Any tower with more than 25 percent of its floor area devoted to residential use would be subject to revised tower-on-a-base regulations. A residential building's base would be required to hold the street wall and would have a maximum height of 85 feet. Tower-on-a-base regulations would apply for the first time on narrow streets and would be modified to provide greater design flexibility without jeopardizing the objectives of limiting height, constraining zoning lot mergers and establishing a street wall. The changes would be as follows:

Establish street wall requirements for narrow streets. A street wall of from 45 to 85 feet high would be required for 70% of the lot line on narrow streets. Currently there are no such requirements beyond 100 feet of wide street.

Limit the placement of mid-lot towers. Currently, towers are permitted in the middle of a through lot in all districts that permit residential towers. In order to constrain such midblock towers, the rear yard equivalent requirements would be modified for through lots to require that mid-lot towers be located at least 30 feet from all side lot lines.

Simplify street wall requirements. The existing street wall recess and required match-up provisions would be eliminated, because they are too complicated and place unnecessary constraints on building design. Currently, developers are required to match building base heights to adjacent building heights if it is between 60 to 85 feet high and within ten feet of the street line. Architects have complained that the existing rules limit their ability to articulate a facade. A new building would be permitted to increase its street wall height to 100 feet in order to match-up with an adjacent street wall.

Waive street wall requirements at locations with minimal street wall character or adjacent to elevated structures such as subways or bridge abutments. The Tower-on-a-Base regulations were developed to ensure that the bases of residential towers were consistent with neighboring buildings. There are some settings, however, where the existing streetscape does not justify the street wall requirement, such as areas extensively developed pursuant to the 1961 bulk regulations where there is no defined street wall and areas where elevated subways, bridges and other structures make street walls inappropriate. In addition, street wall requirements would not apply to full-block sites.

Apply minimum tower coverage to all districts with a 360-foot height limit. The minimum tower coverage requirement (33% of the zoning lot) currently applicable on wide streets would be expanded to apply to all developments in R9, R10 and C1 and C2 equivalent districts that have a height limit of 360 feet. This change would reduce the amount of floor area that can be added to a building by means of a zoning lot merger. This requirement would not apply to C4, C5 and C6 districts with R9 or R10 equivalents, where commercial buildings that are not subject to the tower coverage requirement can rise above 360 feet.

Eliminate "packing the bulk". The "packing-the-bulk" rule requires that 55% of the floor area on a zoning lot be located below a height of 150 feet. The rule was intended to limit transfers of floor area by zoning lot mergers and by doing so to limit the height of the building. A review of existing tower-on-a-base buildings, however, shows that the minimum 33% tower-coverage requirement adequately addresses these concerns. The proposed district height limit would provide the definitive answer to concerns about building height.

Bulk Requirements in Lower-Density Districts for Residential Building
Residential buildings in the lowest-density districts (R1 and R2) would be subject to a contextual envelope to replace the 1961 height and setback rules. The maximum lot coverage would be 35%. The maximum perimeter wall height would be 21 feet, with a sloping roof rising to 35 feet (the current R4A envelope), except on large lots where the perimeter wall could rise to 35 feet.

Such provisions are not needed in R3 to R5 districts, where residential buildings are already limited to a contextual envelope based on the small-scale building patterns of residences.

Bulk Requirements in Lower Density Districts for Community Facility, Commercial and Manufacturing Developments In R1-R5 districts, equivalent commercial overlays, C3, C4-1, C8-1 and M1-1 districts, bulk rules suitable for residential buildings do not work for community facility, commercial and manufacturing buildings, which require larger interior spaces. These buildings, where permitted, would be subject to new height and setback regulations that would provide more certainty as to scale than the existing sky exposure plane regulations. Again, two basic building types would be allowed. A contextual building could rise to a standard height limit of 50 feet, with a maximum base height of 30 feet. Above the maximum base height, setbacks of 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street would be required. A taller building would be permitted only in limited situations - to provide greater flexibility on community facility campuses and to accommodate structures needed for some industrial processes. In these settings, buildings could rise to the district height limit of 90 feet but would be limited to structures erected more than 100 feet from a street.

Bulk Requirements in Medium and High-Density Manufacturing Districts Many of the city's high-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of 10 (M1-6), developed with old loft buildings, have a significantly different character from areas developed later with taller buildings. Therefore, M1-6 districts generally would have a 210-foot height limit consistent with this high-density context, but no towers or plaza bonuses would be permitted. Exceptions would be made for districts in Manhattan where there are already towers, and loft buildings are interspersed with office development. Towers up to 495 feet (with a 40% coverage requirement) would be permitted in the M1-6 districts in Midtown Manhattan, such as the Garment District, Garment Center East and the area west of Penn Station.
In medium-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of between 2 and 5 FAR for commercial or manufacturing buildings (M1-2 through M1-5, M2 and M3), each district would have a maximum base height and district height limit commensurate with the heights of existing buildings in these districts and the programmatic needs of industrial structures.

Regulations for Existing Tower-in-the-Park Developments Existing "tower-in-the-park" residential developments were allowed to include taller buildings in exchange for additional open space and consequently many did not build out their full floor area. To preserve these open spaces, restrictions would be placed on enlargements of these developments. As-of-right enlargements of existing developments that exceed the standard height limit would not be permitted unless the lot area retained as open space is 70% in R6 districts, 65% in R7 districts and 60% in R8 districts. The City Planning Commission could authorize a reduction of the open space upon a finding that the remaining open space is adequate for the enlarged development and that the enlargement enhances the development's relationship to the surrounding community.

Changes to Other Bulk and Density Regulations Several changes would serve the important purpose of providing a more unified, simpler set of residential bulk and density regulations:

Floor Area Ratios The Unified Bulk Program would replace the current range of interconnected floor area ratios and open space ratios of the 1961 zoning with a single floor area ratio and coverage requirement for each district. FAR currently measured to the second decimal place (hundredths) would be measured to a single decimal place (tenths). This would be a marginal increase from the height factor maximums in some districts and a marginal decrease in others. On narrow streets in R6 districts, the maximum floor area ratio would decrease from 2.43 to 2.2. (Community facility FAR would be correspondingly lowered from 4.8 to 4.4).

The current increase in FAR available for contextual development on wide streets outside the Manhattan core under the optional Quality Housing regulations (to 3.0 in R6 districts, 4.0 in R7 districts and 7.2 in R8 districts), would be maintained in the same locations for developments that do not exceed the standard height.

Density Controls The use of zoning room counts as a control on density in R6 - R10 districts would be replaced with dwelling unit (or where permitted rooming unit) counts based on the permitted residential floor area. Dwelling unit counts are already used in R1 - R5 districts, contextual R6 through R10 districts, the R6-R10 Quality Housing Optional Regulations, residential conversions in the community districts covered by Section 15-00, in the Special Mixed Use Districts and in the waterfront regulations.

These density controls would also apply to the residential conversion of existing non-residential buildings governed by Section 15-00, which would marginally increase the permitted density in conversions of buildings with more floor area than permitted in the underlying zoning district.

The Quality Housing Program The Quality Housing Program would be eliminated. Its standards would be integrated into the generic regulations and would apply to all residential buildings containing more than nine dwelling units. The floor area deductions would only be available to buildings using the standard envelope.

The areas, called Study Areas, where the optional contextual regulations do not apply at present, would receive special regulations. These would limit residential buildings on the remaining applicable Study Area lots containing small homes to no more than four stories, and set the FAR at 1.85 for four story buildings and 1.62 for buildings of three or fewer stories. This would keep the current effective FARs for the buildings typically developed in these areas in place until rezoning studies are finished.

Changes Affecting Split Lots and Zoning Lot Mergers The rules governing zoning lots that are split by zoning district boundaries would be clarified and simplified to ensure greater predictability. Each portion of the lot would have to comply with all applicable use, bulk and parking regulations except as noted below.

Floor Area No floor area could be transferred across a district boundary on a split lot, except as follows:

Split lots where the zoning districts on both sides of the boundary have comparable floor area, height, setback and bulk controls would be treated like any other zoning lot -- as they are under the existing zoning. However, districts with similar floor area regulations for some uses but different height and setback regulations or different floor area regulations for other uses would no longer be considered comparable. To eliminate current ambiguities, the zoning would include a definitive list of the districts that are "comparable" for purposes of the transfer of floor area across district lines. This would prevent inappropriate shifts of floor area between Districts.

Split lots which were single zoning lots at the time the zoning district boundary splitting the lot was drawn, would be treated as if the entire lot were in the zoning district covering the larger portion of the lot if the smaller portion of the split lot is less than 25 feet wide. Where the smaller portion of the lot is more than 25 feet wide, floor area and density on a split lot could be shifted from the higher density district to the lower density only in an amount up to the weighted average FAR or density for the entire zoning lot. The weighted average rule applies today. However, because of ambiguities in the text, it is not always clear when a district is comparable and when the weighted average provisions apply.

In contextual developments outside Manhattan Community Boards 1 through 8, floor area and density could be shifted from the portion of a split lot in the lower-density district to the portion in the higher-density district, subject to a 20% cap on any increase in the higher density district. The same rule would apply within a single zoning district where a zoning lot is subject to different floor area ratios on different parts of the lot (for example in R6 districts where the FAR is 3.0 within 100 feet of a wide street and 2.2 elsewhere).

Density Dwelling units or rooming units (where permitted) could be located in any permitted residential floor area.
Lot Coverage Lot coverage could be averaged for any lot, and the requirement could be met anywhere on the lot.

Parking and Loading Parking and loading requirements could be averaged for any lot, and the parking or loading could be located anywhere on the lot in accordance with underlying curb cut and location regulations.

Changes Affecting Bonuses for Public Spaces

Elimination of Bonuses Many of the public spaces that have received floor area bonuses under the existing zoning have been found to produce only limited public benefits and are inconsistent with the goal of enhancing the street wall character of residential neighborhoods, which is one of the goals addressed by the Unified Bulk Program. Accordingly, bonuses for the following would be eliminated:

As-of-right residential plazas, which are inconsistent with the street wall character of neighborhoods and tend to become privatized.

Arcades, which are seldom built and undermine the street wall.

Through-block arcades, which, as a rule, contribute little except when they are part of a planned pedestrian network.

Sidewalk widenings, which, when located without regard to pedestrian volumes, are unnecessary.

Elevated and sunken plazas, which are inconsistent with the goal of assuring that public plazas are readily accessible.

Plazas in M1-6 districts characterized by pre-war loft buildings except in those Manhattan districts where new commercial towers are permitted.

Plazas in C6-1 (other than C6-1A) and C6-2 districts, the only generic middle-density districts that currently offer a plaza bonus. Density and pedestrian traffic in these districts do not justify the provision of the bonus.

Residential buildings in high-density C4, C5 and C6 districts would have a special permit bonus for an open space amenity based on superior design and the need for such amenity, ability to maximize sunlight on nearby parks or playgrounds and enhance the relationship of the development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Commercial and Community Facility Plazas Commercial and community facility plazas, given the public nature of the buildings that adjoin them, generally provide a valuable public amenity. The bonus for these amenities would be retained. Both types of plazas would be required to meet the updated and more exacting Urban Plaza standards. This change would leave the Zoning Resolution with one set of plaza design guidelines.

Approvals for Reductions in Bonused Public Spaces Currently, a special permit is required to reduce the size of a public space that generated a floor area bonus, unless there is a corresponding reduction in the floor area of the building or the substitution of equivalent complying space. However, transfers of floor area through zoning lot mergers or conversion of zoning floor area to mechanical space, which does not count as zoning floor area, have been used to reduce a building's reliance on a bonused public space to justify its zoning floor area and hence to enable a reduction in the size of the bonused space. The City Planning Commission has no opportunity to review the effects of such a modification on the public space. For this reason, any reduction of a public space that generated a floor area bonus would require a special permit.

Many developments containing bonused public space contain more open area than was required to generate the bonus floor area actually built. Assuming that other regulations are complied with, this excess space can be developed. A certification would be required, however, to ensure that the bonused public space still complies with the zoning requirements after it has been modified.

Changes Affecting Authorizations and Special Permits No system of bulk requirements is perfect. Inevitably, the proposed tightening of building envelopes will produce some situations where the rules do not produce the desired result in a specific location. For this reason, the Unified Bulk Program would replace existing approvals for bulk waivers with a broader two-tiered approach to waivers. Minor modifications of all street wall, coverage, court and distance between building regulations would be available by City Planning Commission authorization, if found to be consistent with and enhancing of neighborhood character. A City Planning Commission special permit would be available for more significant modifications, relating to height, tower coverage, street wall and yard regulations. To encourage innovation and quality architecture, this special permit would include a finding that the design of the development is of superior quality. A panel of architects and others concerned with design issues would be established to advise the City Planning Commission on the design merits of these special permit applications

Another City Planning Commission special permit would replace an existing Board of Standards and Appeals special permit. It would be available to community facility uses to provide flexibility for unique programmatic requirements or to integrating new buildings into existing campuses. The current BSA special permit is limited to campuses that existed in 1961. That special permit would be eliminated.

Associated Changes To implement the objectives of the Unified Bulk Program, the proposal would reorganize and consolidate a number of regulations.

The current Resolution's several dormer rules and separate balcony rules for the contextual and non-contextual districts, which do not differ significantly, would be merged.

The sole existing C5-2A district would be eliminated. It is mapped only along Manhattan's Lexington Avenue between 54th and 57th streets. As described in greater detail in the following section, the Department is proposing a related action that would rezone this portion of Lexington Avenue as a C5-2.5 district within the Special Midtown district with the same FAR and a similar bulk envelope.

A generic C5-2A district with the R10A bulk envelope would be established. This district would be the same as the existing C6-4A district but limited to only C5 uses. The Department expects to submit an application to map this designation in portions of the Park Avenue South area of Manhattan within the near future.

The current optional Quality Housing parking requirements would apply to new developments and enlargements that do not exceed the standard height limits. Existing 1961 parking requirements would be retained for developments that exceed these new envelopes (and have more on-site land available for parking). Existing buildings would be required to retain all previously required parking.

The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.
The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

NOTICE

On Tuesday, April 25, 2000 at 10:00 a.m. in City Hall, a public hearing is being held by the City Planning Commission in conjunction with the above ULURP hearing to receive comments related to a Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) concerning the Unified Bulk Program and Related Zoning Map and Text Amendments, a proposal by the Department of City Planning for three interrelated zoning actions: 1) the Unified Bulk Program, a citywide zoning text amendment intended to simplify, rationalize and improve controls on the height and massing of development, 2) the Lexington Avenue Rezoning, which would rezone several blocks along Lexington Avenue between East 54th Street and East 57th Street from C5-2A to C5-2.5(MiD) and extend the Special Midtown District to include this area, and 3) zoning map and text amendments to create a new special district in the central business district of Downtown Brooklyn.

This hearing is being held pursuant to the State Environmental Quality Review Act (SEQRA) and the City Environmental Quality Review Act (CEQR), CEQR No. 00DCP034Y.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. DEVELOPMENT TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – CSP – PIN# 071-00S003262 – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-fourth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 5 to 30 years and the drop-in centers will be for three years with one three year option to renew.

Pursuant to Section 312(c)(1)(ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgement is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03(c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated and 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed facility location.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8000, 33 Beaver Street 13th Flr., New York, NY 10004, to request a copy of the application, which is available for pick-up only Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

■ NOTICE

CITY OF NEW YORK
ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF THE FINAL SECTION 108 LOAN APPLICATION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT (HUD) FOR THE "INTERART REHEARSAL STUDIOS AND CULTURAL CENTER COMPLEX"

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, COMMUNITY BOARDS, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

In accordance with the Section 108 Loan Program regulations at 24 CFR Part 570.704(a)(iv) regarding the application process for loan guarantees, notice is given that the Final Section 108 Loan application for the "Interart Rehearsal Studios and Cultural Center Complex" (IRSC) is available for viewing. The document will be submitted to HUD on April 25, 2000.

The Women's Interart Center, Inc. (WIC) proposes to create the IRSC by completely renovating 549-551 West 52nd Street in Manhattan (after the building is conveyed to it by the City of New York), an existing 10-story 49,190 gross sq. ft. building which it currently occupies. It will also construct a new 8-story addition containing 27,788 gross sq. ft. of studio and rehearsal space. The new construction will be fully integrated into the internal spaces of the renovated existing building. The building will be the home of four not-for-profit cultural tenants, as well as provide high quality dance and theater rehearsal studios for the profit and not-for-profit arts and entertainment community. The project as proposed will cost $18,469,824 to complete. The project already has received a HUD Economic Development Initiative Grant of $2 million to complement the requested Section 108 Loan of $13,595,000. A total of $2,874,824 in New York State grants and loans and WIC equity will also provide financing for the project.

The proposed project is eligible pursuant to HUD's Section 108 Loan regulations, 24 CFR 570.703(i)(2), which is consistent with the Community Development Block Grant Program's (CD) Section 570.204(a)(2) involving Special Activities by Community-Based Development Organizations. The project will meet the "National Objectives" requirements contained in 24 CFR 570.208(a)(4)(i) and (ii) through the retention of 114 full-time equivalent (fte) jobs and the creation of 493 fte jobs over the first three full years of the project's operation. According to 570.208(a)(4)(v), for the purposes of determining whether a job is held by or offered to a low- and moderate-income person, the person may be presumed to be a low-and moderate income person if the assisted business is located within a census tract with a poverty rate of at least 20%. The IRSC project meets this criteria as it is located within census tract 135, which has a poverty rate of more than 20%.

The City of New York is pledging its future CD funds as a condition of receiving the Section 108 Loan Guarantee. In the event the Section 108 Loan cannot be repaid by the Women's Interart Center, CD funds are pledged as security to ensure repayment.

The Final Section 108 Loan application for the IRSC may be viewed at the New York City Economic Development Corporation (EDC), 110 William Street, New York, New York. Please call Zsa Johnstone-Mosher at (212) 312-3572 to make an appointment to view the document.

CITY PLANNING COMMISSION

■ PUBLIC HEARINGS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT RESOLUTIONS have been adopted by the City Planning Commission scheduling public hearings on the following matters to be held in City Hall, New York, New York 10007, on Tuesday, April 25, 2000, commencing at 10:00 a.m.

CITYWIDE N 000244 ZRY

IN THE MATTER OF an application submitted by the Department of City Planning pursuant to Section 201 of the New York City Charter, for amendment of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York relating to various sections as follows:

Description of the Proposal - Unified Bulk Regulations

The Unified Bulk Regulations consists of more than 500 pages of zoning text modifications. The new text would modify and replace existing text, add new text, and reorganize and renumber major portions of the Zoning Resolution. For the purpose of this description, the proposal has been divided into seven broad categories of changes: changes affecting height and setback envelopes; changes to other bulk and density regulations; changes affecting split lots and zoning lot mergers; changes to bonuses for public spaces; changes to authorizations and special permits; associated changes; and changes to Special Districts. Each of these categories is summarized below.

Changes Affecting Height and Setback Envelopes The proposed height limits and setback rules would replace the multiple alternative envelopes in the existing text with one or two simple building envelopes for each zoning district. They would eliminate, among other provisions, tower-in-a-park buildings, sky exposure planes and height factor zoning. The proposed envelopes are designed to reflect the general built character of each zoning district. They are more restrictive in terms of height and bulk than the existing zoning, but allow more flexibility than a contextual zoning district. They are designed to allow all the permitted floor area to be used on a typical lot, but to limit the use of techniques that have produced out-of-scale buildings, such as inappropriate transfers of bulk across zoning district boundaries, transfers of unused development rights from existing buildings to a development site, and deductions of mechanical space from zoning floor area. In the highest density districts (R9, R10 and equivalents), for example, the district height limits are designed to accommodate a roughly 10% allowance for mechanical space and 25% for off-site floor area from a zoning lot merger.

Height and setback requirements in contextual zoning districts would not be changed under the Unified Bulk Program. In special districts, minimal changes needed to incorporate the new concepts and terminology of the Unified Bulk Program would be made where necessary. The proposed height limits would not be applicable in the Special Midtown and Special Lower Manhattan Districts. In the waterfront area, Unified Bulk height and setback rules would apply only to industrial uses currently exempt from the waterfront regulations, and its density regulations would replace the existing underlying regulations. Existing FAR's would be rounded.

In non-contextual medium-density and high-density districts (R6 to R10 and equivalents), two basic building types would be allowed: (1) a shorter contextual building and (2) a taller building with a setback. The goal is to bring new buildings back into scale within each district, but not to constrict them to a purely contextual shape. This approach also reflects the fact that in many districts development occurs in a context of taller buildings that do not hold the street wall. Developers of nonresidential buildings would be able to make a choice about which of the two building types best fits with the program, economics and other elements of a project. Residential buildings would be limited to the contextual shape except in defined circumstances where a taller building would be appropriate - for example, when they are adjacent to elevated structures. The maximum height of the more contextual building would be governed by a "standard" building height limit, which would vary on wide and narrow streets. The maximum height of the taller building would be set by a "district" height limit. The proposed district height limits are generally lower than the building heights that can be achieved under the existing zoning.

Each zoning district would have minimum and maximum heights for a residential building's base. To maintain the character of the streetscape, residential buildings utilizing the contextual shape would not be permitted to set back below the district's minimum base height and would be required to set back above the maximum base height. The minimum required setback would be 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street. The proposed base heights and standard height limits for most districts are based on the existing Optional Quality Housing height limits.

Residential buildings that share a side lot line with buildings that exceed the "standard" height by at least ten feet; that are located on full-block sites; that are part of Large Scale Residential Developments or General Large Scale Developments; or that are adjacent to elevated transit or road structures would be permitted to exceed the standard building height limit, up to the district height limit, and would not be required to set back further if they are set back from the street at grade. These buildings would be required to cover 33 percent of the lot at all levels below the top story to limit the potential for zoning lot mergers.

Commercial and community facility buildings could also be developed up to the district height limit and, when developed at the street line, would be required to set back at the maximum base height. However, commercial and community facility buildings that set back at street level would not be required to set back farther at the maximum base height.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Commercial Districts In the high density commercial districts (C4, C5 and C6 districts of 10 FAR or more), the proposed district height limits are 420, 495 or 720 feet reflecting the amount of commercial floor area permitted. These height limits were selected with the intention of allowing design flexibility within an envelope that accommodates a full build-out of the permitted floor area of a development site with a commercial tower occupying 40% of the zoning lot and floor-to-floor heights of 12 feet, together with an allocation for mechanical space (10% of building floor area) and for floor area from a zoning lot merger (25%). The height limits are designed to cap both deductions from zoning floor area for mechanical space and transfers of floor area by zoning lot merger, which sometimes have exceeded these percentages. Commercial and community facility buildings could set back from the street and then rise to the district height limit.
Residential buildings would be subject to the same district height limits in these commercial districts, but, unlike the commercial and community facility buildings, would be subject to the modified tower-on-a-base regulations described below.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Residential Districts The slimmer residential towers in high-density non-contextual residential districts (R9 and R10) have a more intimate relationship to the street and do not have the programmatic requirements of commercial and community facility buildings, which generate taller buildings. Accordingly, residential buildings in these districts would be subject not only to a shorter 360 foot height limit but to tighter building envelope requirements designed to produce a street wall that respects the prevailing scale of development and allows adequate light. The height limit, but not the tighter building envelope, would apply to community facility buildings in these districts.

Any tower with more than 25 percent of its floor area devoted to residential use would be subject to revised tower-on-a-base regulations. A residential building's base would be required to hold the street wall and would have a maximum height of 85 feet. Tower-on-a-base regulations would apply for the first time on narrow streets and would be modified to provide greater design flexibility without jeopardizing the objectives of limiting height, constraining zoning lot mergers and establishing a street wall. The changes would be as follows:

Establish street wall requirements for narrow streets. A street wall of from 45 to 85 feet high would be required for 70% of the lot line on narrow streets. Currently there are no such requirements beyond 100 feet of wide street.

Limit the placement of mid-lot towers. Currently, towers are permitted in the middle of a through lot in all districts that permit residential towers. In order to constrain such midblock towers, the rear yard equivalent requirements would be modified for through lots to require that mid-lot towers be located at least 30 feet from all side lot lines.

Simplify street wall requirements. The existing street wall recess and required match-up provisions would be eliminated, because they are too complicated and place unnecessary constraints on building design. Currently, developers are required to match building base heights to adjacent building heights if it is between 60 to 85 feet high and within ten feet of the street line. Architects have complained that the existing rules limit their ability to articulate a facade. A new building would be permitted to increase its street wall height to 100 feet in order to match-up with an adjacent street wall.

Waive street wall requirements at locations with minimal street wall character or adjacent to elevated structures such as subways or bridge abutments. The Tower-on-a-Base regulations were developed to ensure that the bases of residential towers were consistent with neighboring buildings. There are some settings, however, where the existing streetscape does not justify the street wall requirement, such as areas extensively developed pursuant to the 1961 bulk regulations where there is no defined street wall and areas where elevated subways, bridges and other structures make street walls inappropriate. In addition, street wall requirements would not apply to full-block sites.

Apply minimum tower coverage to all districts with a 360-foot height limit. The minimum tower coverage requirement (33% of the zoning lot) currently applicable on wide streets would be expanded to apply to all developments in R9, R10 and C1 and C2 equivalent districts that have a height limit of 360 feet. This change would reduce the amount of floor area that can be added to a building by means of a zoning lot merger. This requirement would not apply to C4, C5 and C6 districts with R9 or R10 equivalents, where commercial buildings that are not subject to the tower coverage requirement can rise above 360 feet.

Eliminate "packing the bulk". The "packing-the-bulk" rule requires that 55% of the floor area on a zoning lot be located below a height of 150 feet. The rule was intended to limit transfers of floor area by zoning lot mergers and by doing so to limit the height of the building. A review of existing tower-on-a-base buildings, however, shows that the minimum 33% tower-coverage requirement adequately addresses these concerns. The proposed district height limit would provide the definitive answer to concerns about building height.

Bulk Requirements in Lower-Density Districts for Residential Building Residential buildings in the lowest-density districts (R1 and R2) would be subject to a contextual envelope to replace the 1961 height and setback rules. The maximum lot coverage would be 35%. The maximum perimeter wall height would be 21 feet, with a sloping roof rising to 35 feet (the current R4A envelope), except on large lots where the perimeter wall could rise to 35 feet. Such provisions are not needed in R3 to R5 districts, where residential buildings are already limited to a contextual envelope based on the small-scale building patterns of residences.

Bulk Requirements in Lower Density Districts for Community Facility, Commercial and Manufacturing Developments In R1-R5 districts, equivalent commercial overlays, C3, C4-1, C8-1 and M1-1 districts, bulk rules suitable for residential buildings do not work for community facility, commercial and manufacturing buildings, which require larger interior spaces. These buildings, where permitted, would be subject to new height and setback regulations that would provide more certainty as to scale than the existing sky exposure plane regulations. Again, two basic building types would be allowed. A contextual building could rise to a standard height limit of 50 feet, with a maximum base height of 30 feet. Above the maximum base height, setbacks of 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street would be required. A taller building would be permitted only in limited situations - to provide greater flexibility on community facility campuses and to accommodate structures needed for some industrial processes. In these settings, buildings could rise to the district height limit of 90 feet but would be limited to structures erected more than 100 feet from a street.

Bulk Requirements in Medium and High-Density Manufacturing Districts Many of the city's high-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of 10 (M1-6), developed with old loft buildings, have a significantly different character from areas developed later with taller buildings. Therefore, M1-6 districts generally would have a 210-foot height limit consistent with this high-density context, but no towers or plaza bonuses would be permitted.
Exceptions would be made for districts in Manhattan where there are already towers, and loft buildings are interspersed with office development. Towers up to 495 feet (with a 40% coverage requirement) would be permitted in the M1-6 districts in Midtown Manhattan, such as the Garment District, Garment Center East and the area west of Penn Station.
In medium-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of between 2 and 5 FAR for commercial or manufacturing buildings (M1-2 through M1-5, M2 and M3), each district would have a maximum base height and district height limit commensurate with the heights of existing buildings in these districts and the programmatic needs of industrial structures.

Regulations for Existing Tower-in-the-Park Developments Existing "tower-in-the-park" residential developments were allowed to include taller buildings in exchange for additional open space and consequently many did not build out their full floor area. To preserve these open spaces, restrictions would be placed on enlargements of these developments. As-of-right enlargements of existing developments that exceed the standard height limit would not be permitted unless the lot area retained as open space is 70% in R6 districts, 65% in R7 districts and 60% in R8 districts. The City Planning Commission could authorize a reduction of the open space upon a finding that the remaining open space is adequate for the enlarged development and that the enlargement enhances the development's relationship to the surrounding community.

Changes to Other Bulk and Density Regulations Several changes would serve the important purpose of providing a more unified, simpler set of residential bulk and density regulations:

Floor Area Ratios The Unified Bulk Program would replace the current range of interconnected floor area ratios and open space ratios of the 1961 zoning with a single floor area ratio and coverage requirement for each district. FAR currently measured to the second decimal place (hundredths) would be measured to a single decimal place (tenths). This would be a marginal increase from the height factor maximums in some districts and a marginal decrease in others. On narrow streets in R6 districts, the maximum floor area ratio would decrease from 2.43 to 2.2. (Community facility FAR would be correspondingly lowered from 4.8 to 4.4).

The current increase in FAR available for contextual development on wide streets outside the Manhattan core under the optional Quality Housing regulations (to 3.0 in R6 districts, 4.0 in R7 districts and 7.2 in R8 districts), would be maintained in the same locations for developments that do not exceed the standard height.

Density Controls The use of zoning room counts as a control on density in R6 - R10 districts would be replaced with dwelling unit (or where permitted rooming unit) counts based on the permitted residential floor area. Dwelling unit counts are already used in R1 - R5 districts, contextual R6 through R10 districts, the R6-R10 Quality Housing Optional Regulations, residential conversions in the community districts covered by Section 15-00, in the Special Mixed Use Districts and in the waterfront regulations.

These density controls would also apply to the residential conversion of existing non-residential buildings governed by Section 15-00, which would marginally increase the permitted density in conversions of buildings with more floor area than permitted in the underlying zoning district.

The Quality Housing Program The Quality Housing Program would be eliminated. Its standards would be integrated into the generic regulations and would apply to all residential buildings containing more than nine dwelling units. The floor area deductions would only be available to buildings using the standard envelope.

The areas, called Study Areas, where the optional contextual regulations do not apply at present, would receive special regulations. These would limit residential buildings on the remaining applicable Study Area lots containing small homes to no more than four stories, and set the FAR at 1.85 for four story buildings and 1.62 for buildings of three or fewer stories. This would keep the current effective FARs for the buildings typically developed in these areas in place until rezoning studies are finished.

Changes Affecting Split Lots and Zoning Lot Mergers The rules governing zoning lots that are split by zoning district boundaries would be clarified and simplified to ensure greater predictability. Each portion of the lot would have to comply with all applicable use, bulk and parking regulations except as noted below.

Floor Area No floor area could be transferred across a district boundary on a split lot, except as follows:

Split lots where the zoning districts on both sides of the boundary have comparable floor area, height, setback and bulk controls would be treated like any other zoning lot -- as they are under the existing zoning. However, districts with similar floor area regulations for some uses but different height and setback regulations or different floor area regulations for other uses would no longer be considered comparable. To eliminate current ambiguities, the zoning would include a definitive list of the districts that are "comparable" for purposes of the transfer of floor area across district lines. This would prevent inappropriate shifts of floor area between Districts.

Split lots which were single zoning lots at the time the zoning district boundary splitting the lot was drawn, would be treated as if the entire lot were in the zoning district covering the larger portion of the lot if the smaller portion of the split lot is less than 25 feet wide. Where the smaller portion of the lot is more than 25 feet wide, floor area and density on a split lot could be shifted from the higher density district to the lower density only in an amount up to the weighted average FAR or density for the entire zoning lot. The weighted average rule applies today. However, because of ambiguities in the text, it is not always clear when a district is comparable and when the weighted average provisions apply.

In contextual developments outside Manhattan Community Boards 1 through 8, floor area and density could be shifted from the portion of a split lot in the lower-density district to the portion in the higher-density district, subject to a 20% cap on any increase in the higher density district. The same rule would apply within a single zoning district where a zoning lot is subject to different floor area ratios on different parts of the lot (for example in R6 districts where the FAR is 3.0 within 100 feet of a wide street and 2.2 elsewhere).

Density Dwelling units or rooming units (where permitted) could be located in any permitted residential floor area.
Lot Coverage Lot coverage could be averaged for any lot, and the requirement could be met anywhere on the lot.

Parking and Loading Parking and loading requirements could be averaged for any lot, and the parking or loading could be located anywhere on the lot in accordance with underlying curb cut and location regulations.

Changes Affecting Bonuses for Public Spaces

Elimination of Bonuses Many of the public spaces that have received floor area bonuses under the existing zoning have been found to produce only limited public benefits and are inconsistent with the goal of enhancing the street wall character of residential neighborhoods, which is one of the goals addressed by the Unified Bulk Program. Accordingly, bonuses for the following would be eliminated:

As-of-right residential plazas, which are inconsistent with the street wall character of neighborhoods and tend to become privatized.

Arcades, which are seldom built and undermine the street wall.

Through-block arcades, which, as a rule, contribute little except when they are part of a planned pedestrian network.

Sidewalk widenings, which, when located without regard to pedestrian volumes, are unnecessary.

Elevated and sunken plazas, which are inconsistent with the goal of assuring that public plazas are readily accessible.

Plazas in M1-6 districts characterized by pre-war loft buildings except in those Manhattan districts where new commercial towers are permitted.

Plazas in C6-1 (other than C6-1A) and C6-2 districts, the only generic middle-density districts that currently offer a plaza bonus. Density and pedestrian traffic in these districts do not justify the provision of the bonus.

Residential buildings in high-density C4, C5 and C6 districts would have a special permit bonus for an open space amenity based on superior design and the need for such amenity, ability to maximize sunlight on nearby parks or playgrounds and enhance the relationship of the development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Commercial and Community Facility Plazas Commercial and community facility plazas, given the public nature of the buildings that adjoin them, generally provide a valuable public amenity. The bonus for these amenities would be retained. Both types of plazas would be required to meet the updated and more exacting Urban Plaza standards. This change would leave the Zoning Resolution with one set of plaza design guidelines.

Approvals for Reductions in Bonused Public Spaces Currently, a special permit is required to reduce the size of a public space that generated a floor area bonus, unless there is a corresponding reduction in the floor area of the building or the substitution of equivalent complying space. However, transfers of floor area through zoning lot mergers or conversion of zoning floor area to mechanical space, which does not count as zoning floor area, have been used to reduce a building's reliance on a bonused public space to justify its zoning floor area and hence to enable a reduction in the size of the bonused space. The City Planning Commission has no opportunity to review the effects of such a modification on the public space. For this reason, any reduction of a public space that generated a floor area bonus would require a special permit.

Many developments containing bonused public space contain more open area than was required to generate the bonus floor area actually built. Assuming that other regulations are complied with, this excess space can be developed. A certification would be required, however, to ensure that the bonused public space still complies with the zoning requirements after it has been modified.

Changes Affecting Authorizations and Special Permits No system of bulk requirements is perfect. Inevitably, the proposed tightening of building envelopes will produce some situations where the rules do not produce the desired result in a specific location. For this reason, the Unified Bulk Program would replace existing approvals for bulk waivers with a broader two-tiered approach to waivers. Minor modifications of all street wall, coverage, court and distance between building regulations would be available by City Planning Commission authorization, if found to be consistent with and enhancing of neighborhood character. A City Planning Commission special permit would be available for more significant modifications, relating to height, tower coverage, street wall and yard regulations. To encourage innovation and quality architecture, this special permit would include a finding that the design of the development is of superior quality. A panel of architects and others concerned with design issues would be established to advise the City Planning Commission on the design merits of these special permit applications Another City Planning Commission special permit would replace an existing Board of Standards and Appeals special permit. It would be available to community facility uses to provide flexibility for unique programmatic requirements or to integrating new buildings into existing campuses. The current BSA special permit is limited to campuses that existed in 1961. That special permit would be eliminated.

Associated Changes To implement the objectives of the Unified Bulk Program, the proposal would reorganize and consolidate a number of regulations.

The current Resolution's several dormer rules and separate balcony rules for the contextual and non-contextual districts, which do not differ significantly, would be merged.

The sole existing C5-2A district would be eliminated. It is mapped only along Manhattan's Lexington Avenue between 54th and 57th streets. As described in greater detail in the following section, the Department is proposing a related action that would rezone this portion of Lexington Avenue as a C5-2.5 district within the Special Midtown district with the same FAR and a similar bulk envelope.

A generic C5-2A district with the R10A bulk envelope would be established. This district would be the same as the existing C6-4A district but limited to only C5 uses. The Department expects to submit an application to map this designation in portions of the Park Avenue South area of Manhattan within the near future.

The current optional Quality Housing parking requirements would apply to new developments and enlargements that do not exceed the standard height limits. Existing 1961 parking requirements would be retained for developments that exceed these new envelopes (and have more on-site land available for parking). Existing buildings would be required to retain all previously required parking.

The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.

The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOPMENT TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – CSP – PIN# 071-00S003262 – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-fourth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 5 to 30 years and the drop-in centers will be for three years with one three year option to renew.

Pursuant to Section 312(c)(1)(ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgement is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03(c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated and 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed facility location.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8000, 33 Beaver Street 13th Flr., New York, NY 10004, to request a copy of the application, which is available for pick-up only Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. a14-d31

§ 39-01 Definitions:

Fleet Program. "Fleet Program" means a [free] voluntary enrollment program whereby commercial organizations receive computer-generated hearing logs and can schedule hearings in PVB's Commercial Adjudication Unit (CAU) pursuant to §39-03 of these rules.

Fleet Program Enrollment Year. "Fleet Program Enrollment Year" means a period of one year commencing on the first day of December and ending on the thirtieth day of November.

At PVB's request, the company must supply copies of the registrations, lease agreements and other information. Failure to meet these requirements may result in the deletion of plates and/or termination of the company's enrollment in the Fleet Program without prior notice, in which event the company's enrollment fee for that fiscal year will be refunded.

(b) An owner of an independent taxicab or a shareholder of a corporation owning one or more medallions shall be exempt from the provisions of subsection (a) if:

Section 2. It is hereby proposed that Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), Chapter 6, For-Hire Vehicle Rules, Section 6-13, Partitions and Emergency Lights, subdivision (a), be amended by deleting paragraph (2) and by renumbering paragraphs (3) and (4), as follows:

A for-hire vehicle owner shall also equip the vehicle with a 0.085 inch thick plate of ballistic steel or its equivalent, installed inside the back rest of the front seat. The plate shall cover the complete back rest area which is exposed to the rear seat compartment.

(2) [The vehicle shall be exempt from the requirements of paragraph (1) if:

(i) the vehicle is driven only by the vehicle owner, and

(ii) the vehicle is equipped with a FCC-licensed commercial two-way radio with an emergency button that would notify the dispatcher that the driver is in trouble, or the vehicle is equipped with some other device specifically approved by the Chairperson to satisfy this requirement, and

(iii) the owner has not previously been found in violation of this rule with respect to the subject vehicle.

3] A for-hire vehicle shall be exempt from the requirements of paragraph (1) if the vehicle is affiliated only with a black car base or a luxury limousine base.

4 A for-hire vehicle shall be exempt from the requirements of paragraph (1) if the vehicle is equipped with at least the following two safety devices:

(i) a FCC-licensed commercial two-way radio with an emergency button that would notify the dispatcher that the driver is in trouble, and

(ii) some other device specifically approved by the Chairperson to satisfy this requirement, in addition to the trouble light required by Rule 6-13(b).

Statement of Basis and Purpose

This Rule by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") is proposed pursuant to authority conferred under Section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, which permits the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under Section 2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; and under Sections 19-503 and 19-503.1 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter.

In 1996, the Taxi and Limousine Commission mandated that most taxicabs be equipped with partitions. Immediately after the enactment of this Rule, the number of violent crimes committed against taxicab drivers dropped significantly. On June 1, 1997, a Rule mandating partitions in certain for-hire vehicles became effective. That Rule requires that all for-hire vehicles be equipped with a partition, unless the vehicle owner qualifies for one of the enumerated exemptions. Section 6-13(a)(2) of the For-Hire Vehicle Rules provides that a vehicle owner may be exempt from the partition requirement if, inter alia, the vehicle is driven exclusively by the owner. Since most for-hire vehicles qualify for an exemption from the partition requirement since they are driven exclusively by the vehicle owner, relatively few for-hire vehicles have been equipped with partitions or other security devices.

Section 1-17(b) of the Taxicab Owners' Rules also exempts certain taxicabs driven exclusively by the vehicle owner or a shareholder in the corporation owning taxicabs from the mandatory partition requirement. These exemptions to the partition requirements were enacted primarily because many for-hire vehicle owners and individually-owned taxicabs also use their vehicles as private and family vehicles, and the Commission allowed such owner/operators the option to choose to purchase partitions to protect themselves. Many taxicab and for-hire vehicle owners have placed themselves at risk by not installing protective equipment in their vehicles, where such equipment has been proven to be an effective deterrent to crime.

A recent increase in the number of assaults and violent crimes committed against drivers of for-hire vehicles prompted the Commission to issue a declaration of an immediate and imminent threat to the public health and safety on April 18, 2000, which was approved by the Mayor. The Commission also adopted an Emergency Rule pursuant to Section 1043(h) of the New York City Charter, repealing both the taxicab and the for-hire vehicle owner-operator exemptions to the partition requirement. The Rule proposed herein would enact this Emergency Rule as a final Rule of the Commission.

Independent studies have clearly demonstrated that the installation of partitions has reduced the number of crimes committed against taxicab and for-hire vehicle drivers. Accordingly, eliminating exemptions from the mandatory use of partitions or other security devices will promote driver safety.

Taxicabs that are presently mandated to have partitions shall not be relieved of this requirement through the installation of an in-vehicle camera. Taxicabs presently exempt from the partition requirement may comply with this Rule through the installation of either a partition or the in-vehicle camera, presently approved by the Commission as an alternative safety device, or another security device that may be approved by the Commission in the future.

For-hire vehicles that are not equipped with partitions may install either a partition or an approved in-vehicle camera to comply with the requirements of this Rule.

Pursuant to Section 1043(h)(2) of the New York City Charter, the Emergency Rule adopted by the Commission on April 18, 2000 shall be effective for no more than sixty (60) days unless the Commission publishes a notice of public hearing and comment within this (60) sixty-day period, and indicates that an extension of this Emergency Rule for an additional sixty (60) days is necessary to afford an opportunity for notice and comment and to adopt a final Rule. The TLC hereby declares that the extension of the Emergency Rule for an additional sixty (60) days is necessary to comply with the requirements of the City Administrative Procedure Act in enacting a final Rule.

Notice of Adoption of Emergency Rule Relating to Partitions in For-Hire Vehicles and Taxicabs

Notice is hereby given in accordance with Section 1043(b) of the Charter of the City of New York, that the Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") has adopted an Emergency Rule pursuant to Section 1043(h)(1) of the Charter, with respect to amendments to the Taxicab Owners' Rules and the For-Hire Vehicle Rules to eliminate an exemption from the mandatory partition requirement for vehicles operated exclusively by the vehicle owner.

The TLC has enacted such regulations pursuant to its authority under Charter Sections 1043(h)(1); 2303(a) and 2303(b); and under Sections 19-503 and 19-503.1 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York.

A public meeting in connection with this Emergency Rule was held on April 18, 2000, at 10 a.m., by the NYC Taxi and Limousine Commission at 40 Rector Street, Fifth Floor, New York, NY 10006. At this meeting the Commission found an immediate and imminent threat to public health, safety and welfare, which has also been approved by the Mayor. The Commission also voted to enact this Emergency Rule on April 18, 2000.

Section 1. Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), Chapter 6, For-Hire Vehicle Rules, Section 6-13, Partitions and Emergency Lights, subdivision (a), is hereby amended by deleting paragraph (2) and by renumbering paragraphs (3) and (4), as follows:

Italics indicate new material.
[ ] Brackets indicate deleted material.

(a) A for-hire vehicle shall be equipped with a partition and a protective plate which would isolate the driver from the rear seat passengers, unless the owner is exempt pursuant to paragraphs (2), (3) or (4) of this subdivision.

(1) The partition shall be made of lexan, margard or other polycarbonate material not less than 0.375 inches thick extending upward from the back of the front seat to the ceiling of the vehicle. There shall be a provision for communication with passengers and for a money slot while the partition is closed. Such partition may be able to be partially opened by the driver, as long as the driver can fully close the partition at any time. A for-hire vehicle owner shall also equip the vehicle with a 0.085 inch thick plate of ballistic steel or its equivalent, installed inside the back rest of the front seat. The plate shall cover the complete back rest area which is exposed to the rear seat compartment.

(2) [The vehicle shall be exempt from the requirements of paragraph (1) if:

(i) the vehicle is driven only by the vehicle owner, and

(ii) the vehicle is equipped with a FCC-licensed commercial two-way radio with an emergency button that would notify the dispatcher that the driver is in trouble, or the vehicle is equipped with some other device specifically approved by the Chairperson to satisfy this requirement, and

(iii) the owner has not previously been found in violation of this rule with respect to the subject vehicle.

3] A for-hire vehicle shall be exempt from the requirements of paragraph (1) if the vehicle is affiliated only with a black car base or a luxury limousine base.

4 A for-hire vehicle shall be exempt from the requirements of paragraph (1) if the vehicle is equipped with at least the following two safety devices:

(i) a FCC-licensed commercial two-way radio with an emergency button that would notify the dispatcher that the driver is in trouble, and

(ii) some other device specifically approved by the Chairperson to satisfy this requirement, in addition to the trouble light required by Rule 6-13(b).

Section 2. Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), Chapter 1, Taxicab Owners' Rules, Section 1-17, Partition, is hereby amended, as follows:

Italics indicate new material.
[ ] Brackets indicate deleted material.

§1-17 Partition.

(a) An owner shall equip all taxicabs, except as provided in subsection (b), with a transparent partition and a protective plate which would isolate the driver from the rear seat passengers, and with provision for air conditioning for the rear passenger compartment, as set forth in §§3-03(e)(3)(i) and 3-05 of the Taxicab Specifications.

(b) An owner of an independent taxicab or a shareholder of a corporation owning one or more medallions shall be exempt from the provisions of subsection (a) if

(1) the taxicab is driven by the medallion owner or corporate shareholder(s), and

(2) the rate card lists only the persons named in subdivision (1) as driver(s), and

(3) the taxicab is equipped with a cellular telephone which has an emergency dialing feature, in accordance with Owners Rule 1-13(b), [or] and the taxicab is equipped with some other device specifically approved by the commission to satisfy this requirement in addition to the trouble light required by Rule 1-18(a), and

(4) the owner has not previously been found in violation of this rule with respect to the subject medallion, and

(5) the owner has applied for and received a certification of exemption from the commission. Notwithstanding compliance with the above conditions, if a partition is the only approved location for display of the rate card and driver license in a particular model of automobile, then a partition is required.

Statement of Basis and Purpose

The Emergency Rule adopted herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") is promulgated pursuant to section 1043(h)(1) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing the Commission to promulgate emergency rules upon a declaration of an emergency relating to the public health, safety or welfare, or the provision of public services; section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, which permits the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under section 2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; and under sections 19-503 and 19-503.1 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter.

In accordance with section 1043(h)(1) of the New York City Charter, the TLC has made a finding of imminent and immediate threat to public health, safety, and property, and to the provision of a necessary public service. This finding has been approved by the Mayor.

On June 1, 1997, a rule mandating partitions in certain for-hire vehicles became effective. Although the rule mandates that all for-hire vehicles be equipped with a partition, unless the vehicle owner qualifies for one of the enumerated exemptions, most for-hire vehicles have not been equipped with partitions or other security devices.

Sections 1-17(b) of the Taxicab Owners' Rules and 6-13(a)(2) of the For-Hire Vehicle Rules provide that a vehicle owner may be exempt from the partition requirement if, inter alia, the vehicle is driven exclusively by the owner. Since approximately ninety (90%) percent of all for-hire vehicles are driven by owner-operators, the vast majority of for-hire vehicles are presently exempt from the partition requirement. In addition, a substantial number of taxicabs are driven exclusively by the vehicle owner or shareholder, and are exempt from this requirement. This exemption was created because many for-hire vehicle owners and individually-owned taxicabs also use their vehicles as private and family vehicles, and the Commission allowed such owner/operators the option to choose to purchase partitions to protect themselves. Many taxicab and for-hire vehicle owners have placed themselves at risk by not installing protective equipment in their vehicles, where such equipment has been proven to be an effective deterrent to crime.

Independent studies have clearly demonstrated that the installation of partitions has reduced the number of crimes committed against taxicab and for-hire vehicle drivers. Accordingly, eliminating exemptions from the mandatory use of partitions or other security devices will promote driver safety.

Taxicabs that are presently mandated to have partitions shall not be relieved of this requirement through the installation of an in-vehicle camera or other approved security device. Taxicabs presently not required to have partitions could comply with this rule through the installation of either a partition or an approved security device.

Notice of Opportunity to Comment

Notice is hereby given in accordance with Section 1043(b) of the Charter of the City of New York, that the Taxi and Limousine Commission proposes to amend the Taxicab Specifications to authorize the transfer of a vehicle fueled by Compressed Natural Gas ("CNG") to another medallion owner or owner's agent.

The Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") is proposing such regulations pursuant to the authority vested in the TLC under Charter Sections 2303(a) and 2303(b); and under Sections 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York.

A public hearing in connection with these proposed regulations will be held on May 25, 2000, at 10 a.m., by the NYC Taxi and Limousine Commission at 40 Rector Street, Fifth Floor, New York, NY 10006. Persons seeking to testify are requested to notify the Commission, either in writing at the address stated above, or by telephone: (212) 676-1117. Persons who request that a sign language interpreter or other form of reasonable accommodation for a disability be provided at the hearing are asked to notify the Commission by no later than May 23, 2000.

Written comments in connection with these proposed regulations may be sent through May 23, 2000, to:

Matthew W. Daus
Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs
New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission
40 Rector Street, 5th Floor
New York, New York 10006

Written comments and a summary of all comments received at the hearing will be available for public inspection at that office.

Statement of Basis and Purpose

The regulations proposed herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, which authorizes the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the City; under section 2303 (b)(6) of such Charter, which authorizes TLC to set standards for the safety, design, comfort and convenience of vehicles; under Section 2303(b)(11) of such Charter, which authorizes the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under Section 19-503(a) of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which authorizes the Commission to promulgate rules to further the objectives of the Charter and the Administrative Code.

The proposed Rule would amend the taxicab specifications that permit the transfer of a vehicle that was previously hacked-up pursuant to TLC rules, to another medallion.

On December 16, 1999, the TLC held a public hearing to review the effectiveness of the current CNG vehicle program, which combines incentives, such as special vehicle retirement rules applicable to CNG vehicles, as well as mandates, such as the requirement, since repealed, which required that fleet maintained Stand-By Vehicles (SBVs) be fueled by CNG. The TLC heard testimony and received written comments from the taxicab industry which indicated that there were problems associated with the CNG program, including the lack of a sufficient number of twenty-four (24) hour fueling sites, the lack of sites in locations near taxicab garages, the extensive amount of time needed to re-fuel CNG vehicles, cost and maintenance issues relating to the vehicles, and the unwillingness of taxicab drivers to lease such vehicles because of the additional time needed to fuel the vehicles. Other persons provided testimony in favor of the CNG program, noting the positive impact such a program has upon the environment.

After review of the testimony, the TLC voted to repeal the mandatory CNG vehicle usage for SBVs, while retaining existing provisions in the Rules encouraging the voluntary use of CNG-powered vehicles. The TLC proposes this amendment to the taxicab specifications to encourage continued voluntary usage of CNG vehicles. The TLC, from a policy standpoint, is committed to encouraging and promoting the voluntary use of CNG vehicles by its licensees. This Rule would permit existing owners of vehicles fueled by CNG, which were originally hacked-up as new vehicles, to be transferred from one medallion owner to another, so long as the vehicle passes the required TLC inspection and meets vehicle retirement requirements. Generally, a medallion owner is required to "hack-up", or equip for service as a taxicab, only new vehicles. Exceptions presently exist in cases where the vehicle is repossessed by a lender, or is being transferred from one medallion operated by an owner or agent to another medallion owned by the same owner or agent. Under this proposed amendment, a vehicle fueled by CNG could be transferred from one medallion owner to another, notwithstanding the fact that the vehicle does not otherwise qualify for a new vehicle "hack-up". This proposal would encourage the use of vehicles fueled by CNG since they could be sold or otherwise transferred to another taxicab owner or agent whose facilities might be more accessible to CNG fueling stations.

Section 1. It is hereby proposed that Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), Chapter 3, Taxicab Specifications, Section 3-01(e), Vehicle Hack-Up and Vehicle Transfer provisions, be hereby amended by the addition of a new subdivision (4) which would read as follows:

[ ] Brackets indicated deleted material.
Italics indicate new material.

Section 3-01(e) Vehicle Hack-Up and Vehicle Transfer

(e) A vehicle that was hacked-up pursuant to subdivision (b) may be transferred to another medallion, with the approval of the Commission, only if the vehicle passes inspection, has not yet met its retirement date as specified in Rule 3-02, and meets the requirements of either subsection (1), (2) [or],(3),or (4).

(1) Repossessions. The title owner at the time of transfer of the vehicle to another medallion has acquired the vehicle pursuant to a repossession sale by the previous owner's purchase money lender, and the repossession occurs within twenty-four months of hack-up.

(2) Long-term drivers. The title owner at the time of transfer of the vehicle to another medallion was a long-term driver of the vehicle, as defined in Rule 1-01, for at least five months of tits operation under the previous medallion and will be a long-term driver under the new medallion.

(3) Same medallion owner or agent. The owner of the medallion or the owner's agent transfers the vehicle to another medallion operated by the same owner or agent.

(4) Compressed Natural Gas Vehicle. The owner of a medallion or the owner's agent may transfer a vehicle fueled by Compressed Natural Gas to any other medallion owner or owner's agent.

Regulatory Agenda
Of the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission
Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 2001

Pursuant to Section 1042 of the Charter of the City of New York, the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC"), hereby publishes a Regulatory Agenda for the Fiscal Year ending June 30, 2001. This Regulatory Agenda describes briefly the subject areas in which it is anticipated that rules may be promulgated during the fiscal year.

The legal basis for each proposed rule is the authority conferred to the TLC pursuant to Chapter 65 of the City Charter and Title 19, Chapter 5 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York. The Charter confers upon the Commission the authority to promulgate regulations relating to public safety, comfort and convenience, standards and conditions of service, the issuance, suspension and revocation of licenses, and the development of a transportation policy relating to for-hire vehicles and taxicabs.

The individuals and entities likely to be subject to the proposed rules are the owners and drivers of licensed medallion taxicabs, for-hire vehicles, commuter vans and paratransit services vehicles; the owners of bases dispatching for-hire vehicles, paratransit services vehicles and commuter vans; taxicab brokers; taxicab agents; taximeter businesses; and representatives authorized to appear before the Commission's Adjudications Tribunal.

An agency official knowledgeable about the subject area of each proposal is:

Matthew W. Daus
Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs/General Counsel
Taxi and Limousine Commission
40 Rector Street, New York, New York 10006
Telephone: (212) 676-1117

This agenda is as complete as possible at time of publication. Some items listed herein might not become the subject of proposed rules. Failure to include an item in this agenda will not preclude action on such item.

Accessible Transportation

The TLC proposes changes in the Rules governing its licensees to encourage the development of transportation accessible to the disabled. Such new regulations, and amendments to existing regulations, may include the adoption of either incentives or mandatory requirements for the provision of accessible transportation, and may be applicable to the owners of taxicabs, for-hire vehicles and commuter vans. These proposals are scheduled for consideration in the Summer of 2000, if not sooner.

Persistent Violator Programs for Commuter Van and Paratransit Drivers

In 1998, the TLC enacted a revised Persistent Violator Program applicable to taxicab drivers, and extended the program to for-hire vehicle operators. The TLC plans to propose extension of this program, where serious rule violations are assigned "points", and repeat offenders are subject to license suspension or revocation, to both paratransit and commuter van drivers. These proposals are scheduled for consideration in the Summer or Fall of 2000, if not sooner.

Taxicab Agent Reforms
The Commission licenses and regulates taxicab agents. Existing rules are insufficient to deter misconduct or protect the public. The Commission is proposing a comprehensive set of regulatory reforms of the taxicab agent rules to ensure that agents act responsibly and in the public interest. The proposed rules will increase agent accountability for the medallions they operate. These proposals are scheduled for consideration in the Summer or Fall of 2000.

FHV Regulatory Reforms

Reforms of the For-Hire industry will be proposed by the Commission in order to improve driver quality and accountability to passengers and the Commission, and to raise the standards of service provided to the public. Changes may be proposed relating to the qualifications for obtaining and retaining a license, as well as standards of conduct for licensees. In addition, Amendments may be proposed to the For-Hire Vehicle Rules to promote consistency and uniformity with the Taxicab Drivers' rules. These proposals are scheduled for consideration in the Winter of 2000 or the Spring of 2001.

Taxicab and FHV License Requirements

The Commission issues licenses to drivers and owners of vehicles engaged in the transportation of vehicles for-hire. Minimum qualifications and criteria for obtaining and holding a TLC license are set forth in the Administrative Code. These requirements are supplemented by additional requirements contained in various Commission rules. Proposed rule amendments would establish clear, consistent and uniform standards for obtaining and retaining licenses issued by the Commission. This change would promote public safety and licensee accountability by ensuring that all licensees of the Commission are qualified. These proposals are scheduled for consideration in the Spring of 2001.

Statement of Basis and Purpose for Amendment

The City Council enacted Local Law 42 of 1996 and created the New York City Trade Waste Commission to rid the City's commercial carting industry of organized crime corruption, to protect businesses using private carting services, and to enhance competition in the industry. Local Law 42 vests the Commission with the power to make determinations concerning the fitness of persons and firms to participate in the commercial carting industry and to regulate the conduct of the entities and individuals subject to its jurisdiction. See Admin. Code §§ 16-504(a), (d). From time to time, in connection with fulfilling its mandate, the Commission issues orders and directives. In order to ensure compliance with such orders and directives, this amendment will add to the general prohibitions governing those subject to the Commission's jurisdiction a prohibition against violating any order or directive of the Commission.

In addition, in order that all firms and entities subject to the Commission's jurisdiction will be bound by the same basic rules governing their conduct in the carting industry, this amendment will include applicants for licenses and registrations, class 1 registrants (i.e., self-haulers), and principals and key employees among those subject to the general prohibitions.

BINDING REPORTS

ISSUE DATE: 04/04/00	DOCKET #: 002006	CRB #: CRB 00-5731
ADDRESS: RIVERSIDE PARK-@107 ST; RIVERSIDE PARK SCENIC LANDMARK	BOROUGH: MANHATTAN	BLOCK/LOT: 1897 / 1

To the Mayor, the Council, and the Commissioner, Department of Parks and Recreation.

This report is issued pursuant to Sections 3020 and 854 (h) of the New York City Charter and Section 25-318 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which require a report from the Landmarks Preservation Commission for certain plans for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or demolition of any improvement or proposed improvement which is owned by the City or is to be constructed upon property owned by the City and is or is to be located on a landmark site or in a historic district or which contains an interior landmark.

The Landmarks Preservation Commission has reviewed a proposal for the construction of a one-story addition on an existing park building. The scope of work includes associated site changes, including the construction of a foot bridge. The proposed work was described on existing and proposed site plans; photographs; a model; and sketches of proposed effects, which were presented at the Public Hearing and Public Meeting.

In reviewing this proposal, the Commission noted that the one story building was designed by Howard & Cauldwell and built in 1900 to house tools and serve as a station for park workers.

The Commission found that the enlarged building will relate harmoniously to this site; that creating an entrance into the building from the upper path with a footbridge and retaining the entrance from the lower path will integrate the building well with the park's historic circulation system; that the addition will not eliminate any significant building features or detract from the building's design; that enlarging the footprint of the building slightly will not damage any significant landscape features; that the materials of the addition, including the limestone and slate roofing, relate well to those of the existing building; that the bluestone pavement and wood fencing will match the pavement and fencing found in similar locations elsewhere in the park; that extending the paved area around the building to the south will not diminish any significant landscape features of the park; and that the cumulative effect of this proposal will not be to diminish the special architectural and historic character of the Riverside Park Scenic Landmark. Based on these findings, the proposed work was determined to be appropriate the Riverside Park Scenic Landmark.

Please provide final design drawings for review when they are available.

This report is issued on the basis of the building and site conditions described in the application and disclosed during the review process. By accepting this permit, the applicant agrees to notify the Commission if the actual building or site conditions vary or if original or historic building fabric is discovered. The Commission reserves the right to amend or revoke this permit, upon written notice to the applicant, in the event that the actual building or site conditions are materially different from those described in the application or disclosed during the review process.

All approved drawings are marked approved by the Commission with a perforated seal indicating the date of approval. The work is limited to what is contained in the perforated documents. Other work or amendments to this filing must be reviewed and approved separately. This report constitutes the permit; a copy must be prominently displayed at the site while work is in progress. Please direct inquiries to Kim Hoyt.

ISSUE DATE: 04/05/00	DOCKET #: 005276	SRB #: SRB 00-5754
ADDRESS: 460 BRIELLE AVENUE; Robitzek Building; NYC FARM COLONY-SEAVIEW HOSP.	BOROUGH: STATEN ISLAND	BLOCK/LOT: 955 / 1

To the Mayor, the Council, and the President of the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation.

This report is issued pursuant to Sections 3020 and 854 (h) of the New York City Charter and Section 25-318 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which require a report from the Landmarks Preservation Commission for certain plans for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or demolition of any improvement or proposed improvement which is owned by the City or is to be constructed upon property owned by the City and is or is to be located on a landmark site or in a historic district or which contains an interior landmark.

The Landmarks Preservation Commission has reviewed a proposal for the in-kind, building-wide replacement of aluminum windows at the 1968-1973 Robitzek hospital building (a.k.a. the J-K building); as shown and described in drawings G0.0, SP.1, A1.0 through A1.2, A2.0 through A2.10, and Project Manual, dated February 11, 2000, prepared by MJCL Architects, LLP, all submitted as components of the application.

In reviewing this proposal, the Commission notes that the New York City Farm Colony - Seaview Hospital Historic District designation report states that the Robitzek building, originally known as the New Infirmary or J-K Hospital Building, is a large five-story modern structure of orange brick with gray stone trim; that it is one of a group of three structures designed by Brown and Guenther in 1968 and completed in 1973, occupying the former site of several historic hospital buildings; and that the Robitzek building is characterized in the designation report as "non-contributing" to the special architectural and historic character of the original hospital campus and historic district.

With regard to the in-kind replacement of the aluminum windows at Robitzek Hall, the Commission finds that this work will have no effect on the significant protected features of the Seaview Hospital campus and historic district, and further finds in accordance with the provision of RCNY, Title 63, Section 3-04 that the proposed replacement windows will match the original windows in terms of configuration, operation, details, material, and finish.

Please send a copy of the final drawings, and one or more 8- by 10-inch black and white photographs of the completed work; to the archives of the Art Commission of the City of New York, City Hall, 3rd Floor, New York, NY 10007, Attn: Deborah Bershad.

This report is issued on the basis of the building and site conditions described in the application and disclosed during the review process. By accepting this permit, the applicant agrees to notify the Commission if the actual building or site conditions vary or if original or historic building fabric is discovered. The Commission reserves the right to amend or revoke this permit, upon written notice to the applicant, in the event that the actual building or site conditions are materially different from those described in the application or disclosed during the review process.

All approved drawings are marked approved by the Commission with a perforated seal indicating the date of approval. The work is limited to what is contained in the perforated documents. Other work or amendments to this filing must be reviewed and approved separately. This report constitutes the permit; a copy must be prominently displayed at the site while work is in progress. OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

■ NOTICE

CITY OF NEW YORK
ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF THE FINAL SECTION 108 LOAN APPLICATION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT (HUD) FOR THE "INTERART REHEARSAL STUDIOS AND CULTURAL CENTER COMPLEX"

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, COMMUNITY BOARDS, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

In accordance with the Section 108 Loan Program regulations at 24 CFR Part 570.704(a)(iv) regarding the application process for loan guarantees, notice is given that the Final Section 108 Loan application for the "Interart Rehearsal Studios and Cultural Center Complex" (IRSC) is available for viewing. The document will be submitted to HUD on April 25, 2000.

The Women's Interart Center, Inc. (WIC) proposes to create the IRSC by completely renovating 549-551 West 52nd Street in Manhattan (after the building is conveyed to it by the City of New York), an existing 10-story 49,190 gross sq. ft. building which it currently occupies. It will also construct a new 8-story addition containing 27,788 gross sq. ft. of studio and rehearsal space. The new construction will be fully integrated into the internal spaces of the renovated existing building. The building will be the home of four not-for-profit cultural tenants, as well as provide high quality dance and theater rehearsal studios for the profit and not-for-profit arts and entertainment community. The project as proposed will cost $18,469,824 to complete. The project already has received a HUD Economic Development Initiative Grant of $2 million to complement the requested Section 108 Loan of $13,595,000. A total of $2,874,824 in New York State grants and loans and WIC equity will also provide financing for the project.

The proposed project is eligible pursuant to HUD's Section 108 Loan regulations, 24 CFR 570.703(i)(2), which is consistent with the Community Development Block Grant Program's (CD) Section 570.204(a)(2) involving Special Activities by Community-Based Development Organizations. The project will meet the "National Objectives" requirements contained in 24 CFR 570.208(a)(4)(i) and (ii) through the retention of 114 full-time equivalent (fte) jobs and the creation of 493 fte jobs over the first three full years of the project's operation. According to 570.208(a)(4)(v), for the purposes of determining whether a job is held by or offered to a low- and moderate-income person, the person may be presumed to be a low-and moderate income person if the assisted business is located within a census tract with a poverty rate of at least 20%. The IRSC project meets this criteria as it is located within census tract 135, which has a poverty rate of more than 20%.

The City of New York is pledging its future CD funds as a condition of receiving the Section 108 Loan Guarantee. In the event the Section 108 Loan cannot be repaid by the Women's Interart Center, CD funds are pledged as security to ensure repayment.

The Final Section 108 Loan application for the IRSC may be viewed at the New York City Economic Development Corporation (EDC), 110 William Street, New York, New York. Please call Zsa Johnstone-Mosher at (212) 312-3572 to make an appointment to view the document.

CITY PLANNING COMMISSION

■ PUBLIC HEARINGS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT RESOLUTIONS have been adopted by the City Planning Commission scheduling public hearings on the following matters to be held in City Hall, New York, New York 10007, on Tuesday, April 25, 2000, commencing at 10:00 a.m.

CITYWIDE N 000244 ZRY

IN THE MATTER OF an application submitted by the Department of City Planning pursuant to Section 201 of the New York City Charter, for amendment of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York relating to various sections as follows:

Description of the Proposal - Unified Bulk Regulations

The Unified Bulk Regulations consists of more than 500 pages of zoning text modifications. The new text would modify and replace existing text, add new text, and reorganize and renumber major portions of the Zoning Resolution. For the purpose of this description, the proposal has been divided into seven broad categories of changes: changes affecting height and setback envelopes; changes to other bulk and density regulations; changes affecting split lots and zoning lot mergers; changes to bonuses for public spaces; changes to authorizations and special permits; associated changes; and changes to Special Districts. Each of these categories is summarized below.

Changes Affecting Height and Setback Envelopes The proposed height limits and setback rules would replace the multiple alternative envelopes in the existing text with one or two simple building envelopes for each zoning district. They would eliminate, among other provisions, tower-in-a-park buildings, sky exposure planes and height factor zoning. The proposed envelopes are designed to reflect the general built character of each zoning district. They are more restrictive in terms of height and bulk than the existing zoning, but allow more flexibility than a contextual zoning district. They are designed to allow all the permitted floor area to be used on a typical lot, but to limit the use of techniques that have produced out-of-scale buildings, such as inappropriate transfers of bulk across zoning district boundaries, transfers of unused development rights from existing buildings to a development site, and deductions of mechanical space from zoning floor area. In the highest density districts (R9, R10 and equivalents), for example, the district height limits are designed to accommodate a roughly 10% allowance for mechanical space and 25% for off-site floor area from a zoning lot merger.

Height and setback requirements in contextual zoning districts would not be changed under the Unified Bulk Program. In special districts, minimal changes needed to incorporate the new concepts and terminology of the Unified Bulk Program would be made where necessary. The proposed height limits would not be applicable in the Special Midtown and Special Lower Manhattan Districts. In the waterfront area, Unified Bulk height and setback rules would apply only to industrial uses currently exempt from the waterfront regulations, and its density regulations would replace the existing underlying regulations. Existing FAR's would be rounded.

In non-contextual medium-density and high-density districts (R6 to R10 and equivalents), two basic building types would be allowed: (1) a shorter contextual building and (2) a taller building with a setback. The goal is to bring new buildings back into scale within each district, but not to constrict them to a purely contextual shape. This approach also reflects the fact that in many districts development occurs in a context of taller buildings that do not hold the street wall. Developers of nonresidential buildings would be able to make a choice about which of the two building types best fits with the program, economics and other elements of a project. Residential buildings would be limited to the contextual shape except in defined circumstances where a taller building would be appropriate - for example, when they are adjacent to elevated structures. The maximum height of the more contextual building would be governed by a "standard" building height limit, which would vary on wide and narrow streets. The maximum height of the taller building would be set by a "district" height limit. The proposed district height limits are generally lower than the building heights that can be achieved under the existing zoning.

Each zoning district would have minimum and maximum heights for a residential building's base. To maintain the character of the streetscape, residential buildings utilizing the contextual shape would not be permitted to set back below the district's minimum base height and would be required to set back above the maximum base height. The minimum required setback would be 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street. The proposed base heights and standard height limits for most districts are based on the existing Optional Quality Housing height limits.

Residential buildings that share a side lot line with buildings that exceed the "standard" height by at least ten feet; that are located on full-block sites; that are part of Large Scale Residential Developments or General Large Scale Developments; or that are adjacent to elevated transit or road structures would be permitted to exceed the standard building height limit, up to the district height limit, and would not be required to set back further if they are set back from the street at grade. These buildings would be required to cover 33 percent of the lot at all levels below the top story to limit the potential for zoning lot mergers.

Commercial and community facility buildings could also be developed up to the district height limit and, when developed at the street line, would be required to set back at the maximum base height. However, commercial and community facility buildings that set back at street level would not be required to set back farther at the maximum base height.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Commercial Districts In the high density commercial districts (C4, C5 and C6 districts of 10 FAR or more), the proposed district height limits are 420, 495 or 720 feet reflecting the amount of commercial floor area permitted. These height limits were selected with the intention of allowing design flexibility within an envelope that accommodates a full build-out of the permitted floor area of a development site with a commercial tower occupying 40% of the zoning lot and floor-to-floor heights of 12 feet, together with an allocation for mechanical space (10% of building floor area) and for floor area from a zoning lot merger (25%). The height limits are designed to cap both deductions from zoning floor area for mechanical space and transfers of floor area by zoning lot merger, which sometimes have exceeded these percentages. Commercial and community facility buildings could set back from the street and then rise to the district height limit.
Residential buildings would be subject to the same district height limits in these commercial districts, but, unlike the commercial and community facility buildings, would be subject to the modified tower-on-a-base regulations described below.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Residential Districts The slimmer residential towers in high-density non-contextual residential districts (R9 and R10) have a more intimate relationship to the street and do not have the programmatic requirements of commercial and community facility buildings, which generate taller buildings. Accordingly, residential buildings in these districts would be subject not only to a shorter 360 foot height limit but to tighter building envelope requirements designed to produce a street wall that respects the prevailing scale of development and allows adequate light. The height limit, but not the tighter building envelope, would apply to community facility buildings in these districts.

Any tower with more than 25 percent of its floor area devoted to residential use would be subject to revised tower-on-a-base regulations. A residential building's base would be required to hold the street wall and would have a maximum height of 85 feet. Tower-on-a-base regulations would apply for the first time on narrow streets and would be modified to provide greater design flexibility without jeopardizing the objectives of limiting height, constraining zoning lot mergers and establishing a street wall. The changes would be as follows:

Establish street wall requirements for narrow streets. A street wall of from 45 to 85 feet high would be required for 70% of the lot line on narrow streets. Currently there are no such requirements beyond 100 feet of wide street.

Limit the placement of mid-lot towers. Currently, towers are permitted in the middle of a through lot in all districts that permit residential towers. In order to constrain such midblock towers, the rear yard equivalent requirements would be modified for through lots to require that mid-lot towers be located at least 30 feet from all side lot lines.

Simplify street wall requirements. The existing street wall recess and required match-up provisions would be eliminated, because they are too complicated and place unnecessary constraints on building design. Currently, developers are required to match building base heights to adjacent building heights if it is between 60 to 85 feet high and within ten feet of the street line. Architects have complained that the existing rules limit their ability to articulate a facade. A new building would be permitted to increase its street wall height to 100 feet in order to match-up with an adjacent street wall.

Waive street wall requirements at locations with minimal street wall character or adjacent to elevated structures such as subways or bridge abutments. The Tower-on-a-Base regulations were developed to ensure that the bases of residential towers were consistent with neighboring buildings. There are some settings, however, where the existing streetscape does not justify the street wall requirement, such as areas extensively developed pursuant to the 1961 bulk regulations where there is no defined street wall and areas where elevated subways, bridges and other structures make street walls inappropriate. In addition, street wall requirements would not apply to full-block sites.

Apply minimum tower coverage to all districts with a 360-foot height limit. The minimum tower coverage requirement (33% of the zoning lot) currently applicable on wide streets would be expanded to apply to all developments in R9, R10 and C1 and C2 equivalent districts that have a height limit of 360 feet. This change would reduce the amount of floor area that can be added to a building by means of a zoning lot merger. This requirement would not apply to C4, C5 and C6 districts with R9 or R10 equivalents, where commercial buildings that are not subject to the tower coverage requirement can rise above 360 feet.

Eliminate "packing the bulk". The "packing-the-bulk" rule requires that 55% of the floor area on a zoning lot be located below a height of 150 feet. The rule was intended to limit transfers of floor area by zoning lot mergers and by doing so to limit the height of the building. A review of existing tower-on-a-base buildings, however, shows that the minimum 33% tower-coverage requirement adequately addresses these concerns. The proposed district height limit would provide the definitive answer to concerns about building height.

Bulk Requirements in Lower-Density Districts for Residential Building Residential buildings in the lowest-density districts (R1 and R2) would be subject to a contextual envelope to replace the 1961 height and setback rules. The maximum lot coverage would be 35%. The maximum perimeter wall height would be 21 feet, with a sloping roof rising to 35 feet (the current R4A envelope), except on large lots where the perimeter wall could rise to 35 feet. Such provisions are not needed in R3 to R5 districts, where residential buildings are already limited to a contextual envelope based on the small-scale building patterns of residences.

Bulk Requirements in Lower Density Districts for Community Facility, Commercial and Manufacturing Developments In R1-R5 districts, equivalent commercial overlays, C3, C4-1, C8-1 and M1-1 districts, bulk rules suitable for residential buildings do not work for community facility, commercial and manufacturing buildings, which require larger interior spaces. These buildings, where permitted, would be subject to new height and setback regulations that would provide more certainty as to scale than the existing sky exposure plane regulations. Again, two basic building types would be allowed. A contextual building could rise to a standard height limit of 50 feet, with a maximum base height of 30 feet. Above the maximum base height, setbacks of 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street would be required. A taller building would be permitted only in limited situations - to provide greater flexibility on community facility campuses and to accommodate structures needed for some industrial processes. In these settings, buildings could rise to the district height limit of 90 feet but would be limited to structures erected more than 100 feet from a street.

Bulk Requirements in Medium and High-Density Manufacturing Districts Many of the city's high-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of 10 (M1-6), developed with old loft buildings, have a significantly different character from areas developed later with taller buildings. Therefore, M1-6 districts generally would have a 210-foot height limit consistent with this high-density context, but no towers or plaza bonuses would be permitted. Exceptions would be made for districts in Manhattan where there are already towers, and loft buildings are interspersed with office development. Towers up to 495 feet (with a 40% coverage requirement) would be permitted in the M1-6 districts in Midtown Manhattan, such as the Garment District, Garment Center East and the area west of Penn Station.
In medium-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of between 2 and 5 FAR for commercial or manufacturing buildings (M1-2 through M1-5, M2 and M3), each district would have a maximum base height and district height limit commensurate with the heights of existing buildings in these districts and the programmatic needs of industrial structures.

Regulations for Existing Tower-in-the-Park Developments Existing "tower-in-the-park" residential developments were allowed to include taller buildings in exchange for additional open space and consequently many did not build out their full floor area. To preserve these open spaces, restrictions would be placed on enlargements of these developments. As-of-right enlargements of existing developments that exceed the standard height limit would not be permitted unless the lot area retained as open space is 70% in R6 districts, 65% in R7 districts and 60% in R8 districts. The City Planning Commission could authorize a reduction of the open space upon a finding that the remaining open space is adequate for the enlarged development and that the enlargement enhances the development's relationship to the surrounding community.

Changes to Other Bulk and Density Regulations Several changes would serve the important purpose of providing a more unified, simpler set of residential bulk and density regulations:

Floor Area Ratios The Unified Bulk Program would replace the current range of interconnected floor area ratios and open space ratios of the 1961 zoning with a single floor area ratio and coverage requirement for each district. FAR currently measured to the second decimal place (hundredths) would be measured to a single decimal place (tenths). This would be a marginal increase from the height factor maximums in some districts and a marginal decrease in others. On narrow streets in R6 districts, the maximum floor area ratio would decrease from 2.43 to 2.2. (Community facility FAR would be correspondingly lowered from 4.8 to 4.4).

The current increase in FAR available for contextual development on wide streets outside the Manhattan core under the optional Quality Housing regulations (to 3.0 in R6 districts, 4.0 in R7 districts and 7.2 in R8 districts), would be maintained in the same locations for developments that do not exceed the standard height.

Density Controls The use of zoning room counts as a control on density in R6 - R10 districts would be replaced with dwelling unit (or where permitted rooming unit) counts based on the permitted residential floor area. Dwelling unit counts are already used in R1 - R5 districts, contextual R6 through R10 districts, the R6-R10 Quality Housing Optional Regulations, residential conversions in the community districts covered by Section 15-00, in the Special Mixed Use Districts and in the waterfront regulations.

These density controls would also apply to the residential conversion of existing non-residential buildings governed by Section 15-00, which would marginally increase the permitted density in conversions of buildings with more floor area than permitted in the underlying zoning district.

The Quality Housing Program The Quality Housing Program would be eliminated. Its standards would be integrated into the generic regulations and would apply to all residential buildings containing more than nine dwelling units. The floor area deductions would only be available to buildings using the standard envelope.

The areas, called Study Areas, where the optional contextual regulations do not apply at present, would receive special regulations. These would limit residential buildings on the remaining applicable Study Area lots containing small homes to no more than four stories, and set the FAR at 1.85 for four story buildings and 1.62 for buildings of three or fewer stories. This would keep the current effective FARs for the buildings typically developed in these areas in place until rezoning studies are finished.

Changes Affecting Split Lots and Zoning Lot Mergers The rules governing zoning lots that are split by zoning district boundaries would be clarified and simplified to ensure greater predictability. Each portion of the lot would have to comply with all applicable use, bulk and parking regulations except as noted below.

Floor Area No floor area could be transferred across a district boundary on a split lot, except as follows:

Split lots where the zoning districts on both sides of the boundary have comparable floor area, height, setback and bulk controls would be treated like any other zoning lot -- as they are under the existing zoning. However, districts with similar floor area regulations for some uses but different height and setback regulations or different floor area regulations for other uses would no longer be considered comparable. To eliminate current ambiguities, the zoning would include a definitive list of the districts that are "comparable" for purposes of the transfer of floor area across district lines. This would prevent inappropriate shifts of floor area between Districts.

Split lots which were single zoning lots at the time the zoning district boundary splitting the lot was drawn, would be treated as if the entire lot were in the zoning district covering the larger portion of the lot if the smaller portion of the split lot is less than 25 feet wide. Where the smaller portion of the lot is more than 25 feet wide, floor area and density on a split lot could be shifted from the higher density district to the lower density only in an amount up to the weighted average FAR or density for the entire zoning lot. The weighted average rule applies today. However, because of ambiguities in the text, it is not always clear when a district is comparable and when the weighted average provisions apply.

In contextual developments outside Manhattan Community Boards 1 through 8, floor area and density could be shifted from the portion of a split lot in the lower-density district to the portion in the higher-density district, subject to a 20% cap on any increase in the higher density district. The same rule would apply within a single zoning district where a zoning lot is subject to different floor area ratios on different parts of the lot (for example in R6 districts where the FAR is 3.0 within 100 feet of a wide street and 2.2 elsewhere).

Density Dwelling units or rooming units (where permitted) could be located in any permitted residential floor area.
Lot Coverage Lot coverage could be averaged for any lot, and the requirement could be met anywhere on the lot.

Parking and Loading Parking and loading requirements could be averaged for any lot, and the parking or loading could be located anywhere on the lot in accordance with underlying curb cut and location regulations.

Changes Affecting Bonuses for Public Spaces

Elimination of Bonuses Many of the public spaces that have received floor area bonuses under the existing zoning have been found to produce only limited public benefits and are inconsistent with the goal of enhancing the street wall character of residential neighborhoods, which is one of the goals addressed by the Unified Bulk Program. Accordingly, bonuses for the following would be eliminated:

As-of-right residential plazas, which are inconsistent with the street wall character of neighborhoods and tend to become privatized.

Arcades, which are seldom built and undermine the street wall.

Through-block arcades, which, as a rule, contribute little except when they are part of a planned pedestrian network.

Sidewalk widenings, which, when located without regard to pedestrian volumes, are unnecessary.

Elevated and sunken plazas, which are inconsistent with the goal of assuring that public plazas are readily accessible.

Plazas in M1-6 districts characterized by pre-war loft buildings except in those Manhattan districts where new commercial towers are permitted.

Plazas in C6-1 (other than C6-1A) and C6-2 districts, the only generic middle-density districts that currently offer a plaza bonus. Density and pedestrian traffic in these districts do not justify the provision of the bonus.

Residential buildings in high-density C4, C5 and C6 districts would have a special permit bonus for an open space amenity based on superior design and the need for such amenity, ability to maximize sunlight on nearby parks or playgrounds and enhance the relationship of the development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Commercial and Community Facility Plazas Commercial and community facility plazas, given the public nature of the buildings that adjoin them, generally provide a valuable public amenity. The bonus for these amenities would be retained. Both types of plazas would be required to meet the updated and more exacting Urban Plaza standards. This change would leave the Zoning Resolution with one set of plaza design guidelines.

Approvals for Reductions in Bonused Public Spaces Currently, a special permit is required to reduce the size of a public space that generated a floor area bonus, unless there is a corresponding reduction in the floor area of the building or the substitution of equivalent complying space. However, transfers of floor area through zoning lot mergers or conversion of zoning floor area to mechanical space, which does not count as zoning floor area, have been used to reduce a building's reliance on a bonused public space to justify its zoning floor area and hence to enable a reduction in the size of the bonused space. The City Planning Commission has no opportunity to review the effects of such a modification on the public space. For this reason, any reduction of a public space that generated a floor area bonus would require a special permit.

Many developments containing bonused public space contain more open area than was required to generate the bonus floor area actually built. Assuming that other regulations are complied with, this excess space can be developed. A certification would be required, however, to ensure that the bonused public space still complies with the zoning requirements after it has been modified.

Changes Affecting Authorizations and Special Permits No system of bulk requirements is perfect. Inevitably, the proposed tightening of building envelopes will produce some situations where the rules do not produce the desired result in a specific location. For this reason, the Unified Bulk Program would replace existing approvals for bulk waivers with a broader two-tiered approach to waivers. Minor modifications of all street wall, coverage, court and distance between building regulations would be available by City Planning Commission authorization, if found to be consistent with and enhancing of neighborhood character. A City Planning Commission special permit would be available for more significant modifications, relating to height, tower coverage, street wall and yard regulations. To encourage innovation and quality architecture, this special permit would include a finding that the design of the development is of superior quality. A panel of architects and others concerned with design issues would be established to advise the City Planning Commission on the design merits of these special permit applications Another City Planning Commission special permit would replace an existing Board of Standards and Appeals special permit. It would be available to community facility uses to provide flexibility for unique programmatic requirements or to integrating new buildings into existing campuses. The current BSA special permit is limited to campuses that existed in 1961. That special permit would be eliminated.

Associated Changes To implement the objectives of the Unified Bulk Program, the proposal would reorganize and consolidate a number of regulations.

The current Resolution's several dormer rules and separate balcony rules for the contextual and non-contextual districts, which do not differ significantly, would be merged.

The sole existing C5-2A district would be eliminated. It is mapped only along Manhattan's Lexington Avenue between 54th and 57th streets. As described in greater detail in the following section, the Department is proposing a related action that would rezone this portion of Lexington Avenue as a C5-2.5 district within the Special Midtown district with the same FAR and a similar bulk envelope.

A generic C5-2A district with the R10A bulk envelope would be established. This district would be the same as the existing C6-4A district but limited to only C5 uses. The Department expects to submit an application to map this designation in portions of the Park Avenue South area of Manhattan within the near future.

The current optional Quality Housing parking requirements would apply to new developments and enlargements that do not exceed the standard height limits. Existing 1961 parking requirements would be retained for developments that exceed these new envelopes (and have more on-site land available for parking). Existing buildings would be required to retain all previously required parking.

The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.
The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

(A copy of the complete Unified Bulk Program Zoning Text Amendment may be obtained from the Department of City Planning's Book Store at 22 Reade Street.)

Solicitations notices for most procurement above $25,000 for goods or services or above $50,000 for construction and construction related services are published for at least one day.

thru Fridays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except legal holidays.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. The NYC's Procurement Policy Board rules require that agencies primarily solicit from bidder/proposer lists developed for each commodity/category. Suppliers interested in being placed on such lists may obtain an application from the following agencies:

Goods

● Department of Citywide Administrative Services, Division of Municipal Supplies, Office of Vendor Relations, 1 Centre St.,18th Floor, NY, NY 10007 (212) 669-8562.

Construction & Construction Related Services

● Mayor's Office of Construction, Bidders List Unit, 75 Park Place, 7th Floor, New York, NY 10007 (212) 788-2502.

All Other Services

● Mayor's Office of Contracts, Bidders List Unit, 253 Broadway, 9th Floor, New York, NY 10007 (212) 788-0010 Applications may also be obtained directly from each City agency. Relevant names, addresses, and telephone numbers are listed in Chapter 4 of the Vendor Information Manual.(see next section)

VENDOR INFORMATION MANUAL

This manual contains information on how to do business with the City. It can be obtained, at no cost, from the Department of Business Services, 110 William Street - 2nd floor, New York 10038. Request should be made to Gordon Richards, Director - Procurement Outreach Program, (212) 513-6356 (Tel) or (212) 618-8899 (Fax).

PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Board of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority.Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10 am to 3 pm. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contracts at (212) 788-0010.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bill within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOPMENT TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – CSP – PIN# 071-00S003262 – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-fourth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 5 to 30 years and the drop-in centers will be for three years with one three year option to renew.

Pursuant to Section 312(c)(1)(ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgement is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03(c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated and 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed facility location.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8000, 33 Beaver Street 13th Flr., New York, NY 10004, to request a copy of the application, which is available for pick-up only Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Resolution of the Board of Health of the Department of Health of the City of New York

At a meeting of the Board of Health of the Department of Health, held April 18, 2000, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, the Board of Health has taken and filed among its records reports that in areas throughout the City of New York there are sunken lots, property below grade, or other places which are insufficiently drained and where water may accumulate and stagnant water may collect; and

Whereas, upon these and other properties, there are household and other items including, but not limited to, tires, flower pots, household or other containers such as, trash, garbage and recycling containers without drainage holes, roof gutters clogged with leaves or other debris, swimming and wading pools, bird baths, swimming pool covers, outdoor plumbing fixtures and hose bibs dripping water to the ground and other materials, appurtenances and fixtures which allow the accumulation of water; and

Whereas, such accumulations of water create conditions conducive to insect life in general, and to the breeding and nurturing of mosquitoes in particular; and

Whereas, certain mosquitoes have been found to harbor viral diseases, including West Nile Virus/encephalitis, which are transmissible to and may be fatal to humans; and

Whereas, mosquitoes breed rapidly, and the potential presence of West Nile Virus is immediately dangerous to life and health; and

Whereas, the Board of Health regards the aforesaid reports as sufficient proof to authorize the declaration that any accumulations of water in which mosquitoes may breed are in a condition and in effect immediately dangerous to human life and health and constitute a public nuisance; and

Whereas, immediate abatement of such nuisances is necessary to prevent the breeding and proliferation of infectious mosquitoes; and

Whereas, personal service or service pursuant to subdivisions (a) or (b) of §17-148 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York of orders requiring the abatement of such nuisance and conditions in effect dangerous to life and health upon each of the persons who, pursuant to the provisions of Title 17 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, has a duty or liability to abate such nuisance and conditions, would result in a delay prejudicial to the public health, welfare, and safety; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Board of Health hereby declares that such places having an accumulation of water capable of breeding mosquitoes are in a condition and in effect immediately dangerous to life and health and constitute a public nuisance; and be it further

Resolved, that the Board of Health hereby declares that such nuisances are widespread throughout the City; and be it further

Resolved, that all persons who, pursuant to the provisions of Title 17 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and such other chapters, titles, sections, laws or rules as are applicable thereto, have the duty or liability to abate such nuisance and conditions in effect dangerous to life and health, are hereby ordered to forthwith abate such nuisance and conditions in effect dangerous to life and health by eliminating such accumulations of water and the conditions conducive to further accumulation, or by otherwise eliminating the capacity of accumulated water to support mosquito breeding; and be it further

Resolved, that in the event that such persons or any of them shall fail to comply with this order within five days after service thereof pursuant to §17-148 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, the Department of Health is hereby authorized and directed to take all necessary steps to forthwith secure the abatement of said nuisances and conditions in effect dangerous to life and health.

Resolved further, that this resolution shall take effect immediately.

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

■ NOTICE

CITY OF NEW YORK
ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF THE FINAL SECTION 108 LOAN APPLICATION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT (HUD) FOR THE "INTERART REHEARSAL STUDIOS AND CULTURAL CENTER COMPLEX"

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, COMMUNITY BOARDS, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

In accordance with the Section 108 Loan Program regulations at 24 CFR Part 570.704(a)(iv) regarding the application process for loan guarantees, notice is given that the Final Section 108 Loan application for the "Interart Rehearsal Studios and Cultural Center Complex" (IRSC) is available for viewing. The document will be submitted to HUD on April 25, 2000.

The Women's Interart Center, Inc. (WIC) proposes to create the IRSC by completely renovating 549-551 West 52nd Street in Manhattan (after the building is conveyed to it by the City of New York), an existing 10-story 49,190 gross sq. ft. building which it currently occupies. It will also construct a new 8-story addition containing 27,788 gross sq. ft. of studio and rehearsal space. The new construction will be fully integrated into the internal spaces of the renovated existing building. The building will be the home of four not-for-profit cultural tenants, as well as provide high quality dance and theater rehearsal studios for the profit and not-for-profit arts and entertainment community. The project as proposed will cost $18,469,824 to complete. The project already has received a HUD Economic Development Initiative Grant of $2 million to complement the requested Section 108 Loan of $13,595,000. A total of $2,874,824 in New York State grants and loans and WIC equity will also provide financing for the project.

The proposed project is eligible pursuant to HUD's Section 108 Loan regulations, 24 CFR 570.703(i)(2), which is consistent with the Community Development Block Grant Program's (CD) Section 570.204(a)(2) involving Special Activities by Community-Based Development Organizations. The project will meet the "National Objectives" requirements contained in 24 CFR 570.208(a)(4)(i) and (ii) through the retention of 114 full-time equivalent (fte) jobs and the creation of 493 fte jobs over the first three full years of the project's operation. According to 570.208(a)(4)(v), for the purposes of determining whether a job is held by or offered to a low- and moderate-income person, the person may be presumed to be a low-and moderate income person if the assisted business is located within a census tract with a poverty rate of at least 20%. The IRSC project meets this criteria as it is located within census tract 135, which has a poverty rate of more than 20%.

The City of New York is pledging its future CD funds as a condition of receiving the Section 108 Loan Guarantee. In the event the Section 108 Loan cannot be repaid by the Women's Interart Center, CD funds are pledged as security to ensure repayment.

The Final Section 108 Loan application for the IRSC may be viewed at the New York City Economic Development Corporation (EDC), 110 William Street, New York, New York. Please call Zsa Johnstone-Mosher at (212) 312-3572 to make an appointment to view the document.

IVEN THAT RESOLUTIONS have been adopted by the City Planning Commission scheduling public hearings on the following matters to be held in City Hall, New York, New York 10007, on

CITYWIDE N 000244 ZRY

IN THE MATTER OF an application submitted by the Department of City Planning pursuant to Section 201 of the New York City Charter, for amendment of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York relating to various sections as follows:

Description of the Proposal - Unified Bulk Regulations

The Unified Bulk Regulations consists of more than 500 pages of zoning text modifications. The new text would modify and replace existing text, add new text, and reorganize and renumber major portions of the Zoning Resolution. For the purpose of this description, the proposal has been divided into seven broad categories of changes: changes affecting height and setback envelopes; changes to other bulk and density regulations; changes affecting split lots and zoning lot mergers; changes to bonuses for public spaces; changes to authorizations and special permits; associated changes; and changes to Special Districts. Each of these categories is summarized below.

Changes Affecting Height and Setback Envelopes The proposed height limits and setback rules would replace the multiple alternative envelopes in the existing text with one or two simple building envelopes for each zoning district. They would eliminate, among other provisions, tower-in-a-park buildings, sky exposure planes and height factor zoning. The proposed envelopes are designed to reflect the general built character of each zoning district. They are more restrictive in terms of height and bulk than the existing zoning, but allow more flexibility than a contextual zoning district. They are designed to allow all the permitted floor area to be used on a typical lot, but to limit the use of techniques that have produced out-of-scale buildings, such as inappropriate transfers of bulk across zoning district boundaries, transfers of unused development rights from existing buildings to a development site, and deductions of mechanical space from zoning floor area. In the highest density districts (R9, R10 and equivalents), for example, the district height limits are designed to accommodate a roughly 10% allowance for mechanical space and 25% for off-site floor area from a zoning lot merger.

Height and setback requirements in contextual zoning districts would not be changed under the Unified Bulk Program. In special districts, minimal changes needed to incorporate the new concepts and terminology of the Unified Bulk Program would be made where necessary. The proposed height limits would not be applicable in the Special Midtown and Special Lower Manhattan Districts. In the waterfront area, Unified Bulk height and setback rules would apply only to industrial uses currently exempt from the waterfront regulations, and its density regulations would replace the existing underlying regulations. Existing FAR's would be rounded.

In non-contextual medium-density and high-density districts (R6 to R10 and equivalents), two basic building types would be allowed: (1) a shorter contextual building and (2) a taller building with a setback. The goal is to bring new buildings back into scale within each district, but not to constrict them to a purely contextual shape. This approach also reflects the fact that in many districts development occurs in a context of taller buildings that do not hold the street wall. Developers of nonresidential buildings would be able to make a choice about which of the two building types best fits with the program, economics and other elements of a project. Residential buildings would be limited to the contextual shape except in defined circumstances where a taller building would be appropriate - for example, when they are adjacent to elevated structures. The maximum height of the more contextual building would be governed by a "standard" building height limit, which would vary on wide and narrow streets. The maximum height of the taller building would be set by a "district" height limit. The proposed district height limits are generally lower than the building heights that can be achieved under the existing zoning.

Each zoning district would have minimum and maximum heights for a residential building's base. To maintain the character of the streetscape, residential buildings utilizing the contextual shape would not be permitted to set back below the district's minimum base height and would be required to set back above the maximum base height. The minimum required setback would be 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street. The proposed base heights and standard height limits for most districts are based on the existing Optional Quality Housing height limits.

Residential buildings that share a side lot line with buildings that exceed the "standard" height by at least ten feet; that are located on full-block sites; that are part of Large Scale Residential Developments or General Large Scale Developments; or that are adjacent to elevated transit or road structures would be permitted to exceed the standard building height limit, up to the district height limit, and would not be required to set back further if they are set back from the street at grade. These buildings would be required to cover 33 percent of the lot at all levels below the top story to limit the potential for zoning lot mergers.

Commercial and community facility buildings could also be developed up to the district height limit and, when developed at the street line, would be required to set back at the maximum base height. However, commercial and community facility buildings that set back at street level would not be required to set back farther at the maximum base height.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Commercial Districts In the high density commercial districts (C4, C5 and C6 districts of 10 FAR or more), the proposed district height limits are 420, 495 or 720 feet reflecting the amount of commercial floor area permitted. These height limits were selected with the intention of allowing design flexibility within an envelope that accommodates a full build-out of the permitted floor area of a development site with a commercial tower occupying 40% of the zoning lot and floor-to-floor heights of 12 feet, together with an allocation for mechanical space (10% of building floor area) and for floor area from a zoning lot merger (25%). The height limits are designed to cap both deductions from zoning floor area for mechanical space and transfers of floor area by zoning lot merger, which sometimes have exceeded these percentages. Commercial and community facility buildings could set back from the street and then rise to the district height limit.
Residential buildings would be subject to the same district height limits in these commercial districts, but, unlike the commercial and community facility buildings, would be subject to the modified tower-on-a-base regulations described below.

Bulk Requirements in High Density Residential Districts The slimmer residential towers in high-density non-contextual residential districts (R9 and R10) have a more intimate relationship to the street and do not have the programmatic requirements of commercial and community facility buildings, which generate taller buildings. Accordingly, residential buildings in these districts would be subject not only to a shorter 360 foot height limit but to tighter building envelope requirements designed to produce a street wall that respects the prevailing scale of development and allows adequate light. The height limit, but not the tighter building envelope, would apply to community facility buildings in these districts.

Any tower with more than 25 percent of its floor area devoted to residential use would be subject to revised tower-on-a-base regulations. A residential building's base would be required to hold the street wall and would have a maximum height of 85 feet. Tower-on-a-base regulations would apply for the first time on narrow streets and would be modified to provide greater design flexibility without jeopardizing the objectives of limiting height, constraining zoning lot mergers and establishing a street wall. The changes would be as follows:

Establish street wall requirements for narrow streets. A street wall of from 45 to 85 feet high would be required for 70% of the lot line on narrow streets. Currently there are no such requirements beyond 100 feet of wide street.

Limit the placement of mid-lot towers. Currently, towers are permitted in the middle of a through lot in all districts that permit residential towers. In order to constrain such midblock towers, the rear yard equivalent requirements would be modified for through lots to require that mid-lot towers be located at least 30 feet from all side lot lines.

Simplify street wall requirements. The existing street wall recess and required match-up provisions would be eliminated, because they are too complicated and place unnecessary constraints on building design. Currently, developers are required to match building base heights to adjacent building heights if it is between 60 to 85 feet high and within ten feet of the street line. Architects have complained that the existing rules limit their ability to articulate a facade. A new building would be permitted to increase its street wall height to 100 feet in order to match-up with an adjacent street wall.

Waive street wall requirements at locations with minimal street wall character or adjacent to elevated structures such as subways or bridge abutments. The Tower-on-a-Base regulations were developed to ensure that the bases of residential towers were consistent with neighboring buildings. There are some settings, however, where the existing streetscape does not justify the street wall requirement, such as areas extensively developed pursuant to the 1961 bulk regulations where there is no defined street wall and areas where elevated subways, bridges and other structures make street walls inappropriate. In addition, street wall requirements would not apply to full-block sites.

Apply minimum tower coverage to all districts with a 360-foot height limit. The minimum tower coverage requirement (33% of the zoning lot) currently applicable on wide streets would be expanded to apply to all developments in R9, R10 and C1 and C2 equivalent districts that have a height limit of 360 feet. This change would reduce the amount of floor area that can be added to a building by means of a zoning lot merger. This requirement would not apply to C4, C5 and C6 districts with R9 or R10 equivalents, where commercial buildings that are not subject to the tower coverage requirement can rise above 360 feet.

Eliminate "packing the bulk". The "packing-the-bulk" rule requires that 55% of the floor area on a zoning lot be located below a height of 150 feet. The rule was intended to limit transfers of floor area by zoning lot mergers and by doing so to limit the height of the building. A review of existing tower-on-a-base buildings, however, shows that the minimum 33% tower-coverage requirement adequately addresses these concerns. The proposed district height limit would provide the definitive answer to concerns about building height.

Bulk Requirements in Lower-Density Districts for Residential Building
Residential buildings in the lowest-density districts (R1 and R2) would be subject to a contextual envelope to replace the 1961 height and setback rules. The maximum lot coverage would be 35%. The maximum perimeter wall height would be 21 feet, with a sloping roof rising to 35 feet (the current R4A envelope), except on large lots where the perimeter wall could rise to 35 feet. Such provisions are not needed in R3 to R5 districts, where residential buildings are already limited to a contextual envelope based on the small-scale building patterns of residences.

Bulk Requirements in Lower Density Districts for Community Facility, Commercial and Manufacturing Developments In R1-R5 districts, equivalent commercial overlays, C3, C4-1, C8-1 and M1-1 districts, bulk rules suitable for residential buildings do not work for community facility, commercial and manufacturing buildings, which require larger interior spaces. These buildings, where permitted, would be subject to new height and setback regulations that would provide more certainty as to scale than the existing sky exposure plane regulations. Again, two basic building types would be allowed. A contextual building could rise to a standard height limit of 50 feet, with a maximum base height of 30 feet. Above the maximum base height, setbacks of 10 feet on a wide street and 15 feet on a narrow street would be required. A taller building would be permitted only in limited situations - to provide greater flexibility on community facility campuses and to accommodate structures needed for some industrial processes. In these settings, buildings could rise to the district height limit of 90 feet but would be limited to structures erected more than 100 feet from a street.

Bulk Requirements in Medium and High-Density Manufacturing Districts Many of the city's high-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of 10 (M1-6), developed with old loft buildings, have a significantly different character from areas developed later with taller buildings. Therefore, M1-6 districts generally would have a 210-foot height limit consistent with this high-density context, but no towers or plaza bonuses would be permitted. Exceptions would be made for districts in Manhattan where there are already towers, and loft buildings are interspersed with office development. Towers up to 495 feet (with a 40% coverage requirement) would be permitted in the M1-6 districts in Midtown Manhattan, such as the Garment District, Garment Center East and the area west of Penn Station.
In medium-density manufacturing districts that allow an FAR of between 2 and 5 FAR for commercial or manufacturing buildings (M1-2 through M1-5, M2 and M3), each district would have a maximum base height and district height limit commensurate with the heights of existing buildings in these districts and the programmatic needs of industrial structures.
Regulations for Existing Tower-in-the-Park Developments Existing "tower-in-the-park" residential developments were allowed to include taller buildings in exchange for additional open space and consequently many did not build out their full floor area. To preserve these open spaces, restrictions would be placed on enlargements of these developments. As-of-right enlargements of existing developments that exceed the standard height limit would not be permitted unless the lot area retained as open space is 70% in R6 districts, 65% in R7 districts and 60% in R8 districts. The City Planning Commission could authorize a reduction of the open space upon a finding that the remaining open space is adequate for the enlarged development and that the enlargement enhances the development's relationship to the surrounding community.

Changes to Other Bulk and Density Regulations Several changes would serve the important purpose of providing a more unified, simpler set of residential bulk and density regulations:

Floor Area Ratios The Unified Bulk Program would replace the current range of interconnected floor area ratios and open space ratios of the 1961 zoning with a single floor area ratio and coverage requirement for each district. FAR currently measured to the second decimal place (hundredths) would be measured to a single decimal place (tenths). This would be a marginal increase from the height factor maximums in some districts and a marginal decrease in others. On narrow streets in R6 districts, the maximum floor area ratio would decrease from 2.43 to 2.2. (Community facility FAR would be correspondingly lowered from 4.8 to 4.4).

The current increase in FAR available for contextual development on wide streets outside the Manhattan core under the optional Quality Housing regulations (to 3.0 in R6 districts, 4.0 in R7 districts and 7.2 in R8 districts), would be maintained in the same locations for developments that do not exceed the standard height.

Density Controls The use of zoning room counts as a control on density in R6 - R10 districts would be replaced with dwelling unit (or where permitted rooming unit) counts based on the permitted residential floor area. Dwelling unit counts are already used in R1 - R5 districts, contextual R6 through R10 districts, the R6-R10 Quality Housing Optional Regulations, residential conversions in the community districts covered by Section 15-00, in the Special Mixed Use Districts and in the waterfront regulations.

These density controls would also apply to the residential conversion of existing non-residential buildings governed by Section 15-00, which would marginally increase the permitted density in conversions of buildings with more floor area than permitted in the underlying zoning district.

The Quality Housing Program The Quality Housing Program would be eliminated. Its standards would be integrated into the generic regulations and would apply to all residential buildings containing more than nine dwelling units. The floor area deductions would only be available to buildings using the standard envelope.

The areas, called Study Areas, where the optional contextual regulations do not apply at present, would receive special regulations. These would limit residential buildings on the remaining applicable Study Area lots containing small homes to no more than four stories, and set the FAR at 1.85 for four story buildings and 1.62 for buildings of three or fewer stories. This would keep the current effective FARs for the buildings typically developed in these areas in place until rezoning studies are finished.

Changes Affecting Split Lots and Zoning Lot Mergers The rules governing zoning lots that are split by zoning district boundaries would be clarified and simplified to ensure greater predictability. Each portion of the lot would have to comply with all applicable use, bulk and parking regulations except as noted below.

Floor Area No floor area could be transferred across a district boundary on a split lot, except as follows:

Split lots where the zoning districts on both sides of the boundary have comparable floor area, height, setback and bulk controls would be treated like any other zoning lot -- as they are under the existing zoning. However, districts with similar floor area regulations for some uses but different height and setback regulations or different floor area regulations for other uses would no longer be considered comparable. To eliminate current ambiguities, the zoning would include a definitive list of the districts that are "comparable" for purposes of the transfer of floor area across district lines. This would prevent inappropriate shifts of floor area between Districts.

Split lots which were single zoning lots at the time the zoning district boundary splitting the lot was drawn, would be treated as if the entire lot were in the zoning district covering the larger portion of the lot if the smaller portion of the split lot is less than 25 feet wide. Where the smaller portion of the lot is more than 25 feet wide, floor area and density on a split lot could be shifted from the higher density district to the lower density only in an amount up to the weighted average FAR or density for the entire zoning lot. The weighted average rule applies today. However, because of ambiguities in the text, it is not always clear when a district is comparable and when the weighted average provisions apply.

In contextual developments outside Manhattan Community Boards 1 through 8, floor area and density could be shifted from the portion of a split lot in the lower-density district to the portion in the higher-density district, subject to a 20% cap on any increase in the higher density district. The same rule would apply within a single zoning district where a zoning lot is subject to different floor area ratios on different parts of the lot (for example in R6 districts where the FAR is 3.0 within 100 feet of a wide street and 2.2 elsewhere).

Density Dwelling units or rooming units (where permitted) could be located in any permitted residential floor area.
Lot Coverage Lot coverage could be averaged for any lot, and the requirement could be met anywhere on the lot.

Parking and Loading Parking and loading requirements could be averaged for any lot, and the parking or loading could be located anywhere on the lot in accordance with underlying curb cut and location regulations.

Changes Affecting Bonuses for Public Spaces

Elimination of Bonuses Many of the public spaces that have received floor area bonuses under the existing zoning have been found to produce only limited public benefits and are inconsistent with the goal of enhancing the street wall character of residential neighborhoods, which is one of the goals addressed by the Unified Bulk Program. Accordingly, bonuses for the following would be eliminated:

As-of-right residential plazas, which are inconsistent with the street wall character of neighborhoods and tend to become privatized.

Arcades, which are seldom built and undermine the street wall.

Through-block arcades, which, as a rule, contribute little except when they are part of a planned pedestrian network.

Sidewalk widenings, which, when located without regard to pedestrian volumes, are unnecessary.

Elevated and sunken plazas, which are inconsistent with the goal of assuring that public plazas are readily accessible.

Plazas in M1-6 districts characterized by pre-war loft buildings except in those Manhattan districts where new commercial towers are permitted.

Plazas in C6-1 (other than C6-1A) and C6-2 districts, the only generic middle-density districts that currently offer a plaza bonus. Density and pedestrian traffic in these districts do not justify the provision of the bonus.

Residential buildings in high-density C4, C5 and C6 districts would have a special permit bonus for an open space amenity based on superior design and the need for such amenity, ability to maximize sunlight on nearby parks or playgrounds and enhance the relationship of the development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Commercial and Community Facility Plazas Commercial and community facility plazas, given the public nature of the buildings that adjoin them, generally provide a valuable public amenity. The bonus for these amenities would be retained. Both types of plazas would be required to meet the updated and more exacting Urban Plaza standards. This change would leave the Zoning Resolution with one set of plaza design guidelines.

Approvals for Reductions in Bonused Public Spaces Currently, a special permit is required to reduce the size of a public space that generated a floor area bonus, unless there is a corresponding reduction in the floor area of the building or the substitution of equivalent complying space. However, transfers of floor area through zoning lot mergers or conversion of zoning floor area to mechanical space, which does not count as zoning floor area, have been used to reduce a building's reliance on a bonused public space to justify its zoning floor area and hence to enable a reduction in the size of the bonused space. The City Planning Commission has no opportunity to review the effects of such a modification on the public space. For this reason, any reduction of a public space that generated a floor area bonus would require a special permit.

Many developments containing bonused public space contain more open area than was required to generate the bonus floor area actually built. Assuming that other regulations are complied with, this excess space can be developed. A certification would be required, however, to ensure that the bonused public space still complies with the zoning requirements after it has been modified.

Changes Affecting Authorizations and Special Permits No system of bulk requirements is perfect. Inevitably, the proposed tightening of building envelopes will produce some situations where the rules do not produce the desired result in a specific location. For this reason, the Unified Bulk Program would replace existing approvals for bulk waivers with a broader two-tiered approach to waivers. Minor modifications of all street wall, coverage, court and distance between building regulations would be available by City Planning Commission authorization, if found to be consistent with and enhancing of neighborhood character. A City Planning Commission special permit would be available for more significant modifications, relating to height, tower coverage, street wall and yard regulations. To encourage innovation and quality architecture, this special permit would include a finding that the design of the development is of superior quality. A panel of architects and others concerned with design issues would be established to advise the City Planning Commission on the design merits of these special permit applications Another City Planning Commission special permit would replace an existing Board of Standards and Appeals special permit. It would be available to community facility uses to provide flexibility for unique programmatic requirements or to integrating new buildings into existing campuses. The current BSA special permit is limited to campuses that existed in 1961. That special permit would be eliminated.

Associated Changes To implement the objectives of the Unified Bulk Program, the proposal would reorganize and consolidate a number of regulations.

The current Resolution's several dormer rules and separate balcony rules for the contextual and non-contextual districts, which do not differ significantly, would be merged.

The sole existing C5-2A district would be eliminated. It is mapped only along Manhattan's Lexington Avenue between 54th and 57th streets. As described in greater detail in the following section, the Department is proposing a related action that would rezone this portion of Lexington Avenue as a C5-2.5 district within the Special Midtown district with the same FAR and a similar bulk envelope.

A generic C5-2A district with the R10A bulk envelope would be established. This district would be the same as the existing C6-4A district but limited to only C5 uses. The Department expects to submit an application to map this designation in portions of the Park Avenue South area of Manhattan within the near future.

The current optional Quality Housing parking requirements would apply to new developments and enlargements that do not exceed the standard height limits. Existing 1961 parking requirements would be retained for developments that exceed these new envelopes (and have more on-site land available for parking). Existing buildings would be required to retain all previously required parking.

The existing R10 Infill regulations, a precursor to contextual zoning applicable in Manhattan Community District 7, would be eliminated, although the 10 FAR requirement would be retained. Since the adoption of the Infill regulations, most of the R10 districts in Community Board 7 have been rezoned to R10A. The proposed new R10 height and setback regulations would be appropriate for the handful of potential development sites in the remaining R10 districts in Community District 7.

The R7-3 and R9-1 districts, which currently are only available for mapping on waterfront blocks or in Special Mixed Use districts, would be eliminated from those regulations and established as generic districts.

Two of the four limited height districts, LH-2 and LH-3, have never been mapped. They would be eliminated since contextual districts are available to control height.

The height of all developments in residential and commercial districts would be measured from the base plane. This would provide greater certainty as to the effectiveness of the new height limits in areas where residences are permitted. Currently, height is measured from curb level in non-contextual districts, and from the base plane in R6-R10 contextual districts and for residential buildings in R3-R5 districts, and for buildings under the optional Quality Housing regulations.

The minimum distance between towers for twin or multiple tower buildings would be set at 45 feet, where the facing towers are no more than 60 feet deep, to make this building type practical. Currently, the minimum distance is 60 feet.
The rules regulating elevator and stair bulkheads would be clarified to ensure sufficient room for bulkheads on small lots.

To protect adjacent residential rear yards, rear yard equivalents would be required for through lots in C6-2A and C6-3A districts above the lesser of two stories or 30 feet. Currently, a rear yard equivalent is required only for residential buildings.

Changes to Special Districts. There are 32 Special Purpose Districts that have additional zoning regulations designed to achieve specific, localized planning objectives in individual communities. Most of these districts incorporate bulk regulations that supplement or supercede the underlying zoning. Where necessary these districts would be revised to insure that the revised bulk requirements do not undermine the intentions of the individual Special District.

(A copy of the complete Unified Bulk Program Zoning Text Amendment may be obtained from the Department of City Planning's Book Store at 22 Reade Street.)

NOTICE

On Tuesday, April 25, 2000 at 10:00 a.m. in City Hall, a public hearing is being held by the City Planning Commission in conjunction with the above ULURP hearing to receive comments related to a Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) concerning the Unified Bulk Program and Related Zoning Map and Text Amendments, a proposal by the Department of City Planning for three interrelated zoning actions: 1) the Unified Bulk Program, a citywide zoning text amendment intended to simplify, rationalize and improve controls on the height and massing of development, 2) the Lexington Avenue Rezoning, which would rezone several blocks along Lexington Avenue between East 54th Street and East 57th Street from C5-2A to C5-2.5(MiD) and extend the Special Midtown District to include this area, and 3) zoning map and text amendments to create a new special district in the central business district of Downtown Brooklyn.

BIDDERS LIST APPLICATIONS

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction related services each year. PREQUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from prequalified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a prequalified list, criteria for prequalification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to prequalify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questioner may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of prequalified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearing (OATH) Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of prequalified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Board of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority.Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

The City pays interest on any late invoice after the expiration of a 15-day "grace" period. There are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest; these are listed in Section 5-07 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments every six months, in January and July of each year.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations: Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, to Services, or to Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.
