Services (Other Than Human Services)

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-05S-002-829 – DUE 05-24-05 AT 5:00 P.M. – The New York City Department of Homeless Services ("DHS") is issuing a Request for Proposals seeking up to two appropriately qualified vendors to provide on-call Construction Management services for Capital and Expense renovation projects at Adult and Family residential shelter sites citywide. These services may include plans for general construction, plumbing, mechanical, electrical, HVAC and elevator systems, structural work and site work. DHS maintains approximately 200 homeless shelter sites citywide. To ensure that all applicable regulatory codes are met, DHS must undertake various construction and renovation projects at these locations. The size of the structures vary significantly from armories to residential brownstones. Additional shelter sites may be added during the term of this contract.

It is anticipated that the term of the contract(s) awarded from this RFP will be for three (3) years, subject to the availability of funds . The contract(s) may additionally include a one year option to renew, likewise subject to the availability of funds. The agency reserves the right prior to contract award to determine the length of the contract term and each option to renew, if any.

It is anticipated that the maximum available funding for Capital funded projects is $2,500,000 and for Expense funded projects $1,000,000.

The Request for Proposals will be available for pick-up beginning Friday, April 8, 2005 at the Department of Homeless Services, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor Bid Desk, New York, NY. 10004.

The pre-proposal conference will be held on Tuesday, April 26, 2005 at 1:30 P.M. at the Department of Homeless Services, 33 Beaver Street, 17th Floor Training Room, New York, NY 10004.

Any questions regarding this solicitation should be directed to Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer, DHS, 33 Beaver Street, Room 1312, New York, N.Y. 10004 at (212) 361-8413 or e-mail at cpitter@dhs.nyc.gov

DEVELOP TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCE FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-00S-003-262 – DUE 01-03-06 AT 5:00 P.M. – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families including the Neighborhood Based Cluster Residence and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-forth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 3 to 20 years including renewal options and depending on the financial terms and conditions.

Pursuant to Section 312 (c) (1) (ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgment is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03 (c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated as a for-profit entity; 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed Standalone facility location(s); and 3) must demonstrate an intent to enter into lease agreements with the owner(s) or management designee(s) for each property.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: John Iaffaldano, Associate Staff Analyst, Office of Contracts and Procurement at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8435, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor, NY, NY 10004, to request a copy of the RFP application, which is available for pick-up Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Use the following address unless otherwise specified in notice, to secure, examine or submit bid/proposal documents, vendor pre-qualification and other forms; specifications/ blueprints; other information; and for opening and reading of bids at date and time specified above.

EMPIRE STATE DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

■ NOTICE

Determination and Findings by the New York State Urban Development Corporation d/b/a Empire State Development Corporation Pursuant to EDPL Section 204 with Respect to the New York Sports and Convention Center Land Use ImprovementProject and Civic Project

The New York Sports and Convention Center Land Use Improvement Project and Civic Project (the "Project") involves the revitalization of a substandard and deteriorated area now occupied principally by a rail yard, located between 30th and 33rd Streets on the west side of Manhattan, between 11th and 12th Avenues (the "Rail Yard"), near the Jacob Javits Convention Center. Also included within the Project will be 33rd Street, between 11th and 12th Avenues (the "33rd Street Parcel"), and a volume of air space above the northerly sidewalk of 30th Street, between 11th and 12th Avenues (the "30th Street Air Space"). The Rail Yard, the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space together constitute the "Project Site". The Project will consist of: (a) the construction of a steel and concrete platform over the Rail Yard (the western portion of Caemmerer Yard); (b) the closure of the 33rd Street Parcel to vehicular traffic; (c) the construction by New York Jets Development LLC, an affiliate of New York Jets LLC, of an approximately 75,000-seat, multi-use facility suitable for convention center and trade show events, professional football events, and other uses; and (d) the construction of a pedestrian bridge over Route 9A facilitating access to the Hudson River Park. In furtherance of the Project, ESDC will acquire title to the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space, which are owned by the City of New York, using its eminent domain power. The Project is a coordinated effort among the State of New York, the City of New York (the "City"), Metropolitan Transportation Authority, New York State Urban Development Corporation d/b/a Empire State Development Corporation ("ESDC") and New York Jets LLC. The City has indicated it will not oppose the acquisition.

Public Process

ESDC adopted a General Project Plan for the Project on November 4, 2004.

On December 16, 2004, a duly noticed public hearing was held in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 of the New York State Eminent Domain Procedure Law ("EDPL") and Sections 6 and 16 of the New York State Urban Development Corporation Act in order, among other things, to inform the public, to solicit comments on the Project from the public, and to review the public use to be served by the Project and the impact on the environment and residents of the locality where the Project will be constructed.

At the hearing, the public was provided with information concerning the public use, benefits, and purposes to be served by the proposed Project, the Project location, and the general effect of the proposed Project on the environment and residents of the locality. This information was provided by the Hearing Officer and representatives of ESDC, as part of their opening remarks, and, among other things, through written materials made available to the public at the hearing, including the November 2004 Final Generic Environmental Impact Statement ("FGEIS") and the General Project Plan. The hearing provided an opportunity for the public to comment upon the Project. The record of the December 16th hearing remained open for additional written comments until and including January 18, 2005. ESDC adopted and affirmed a modified General Project Plan simultaneously with the adoption of this Determination & Findings. All testimony and comments received, ESDC's modified General Project Plan, the FGEIS, and all other relevant documents have been reviewed, made part of the record and afforded full consideration.

Pursuant to EDPL §204, and having given due consideration to the complete hearing record, which includes all documents submitted and all public comments, ESDC makes the following findings and determination concerning the Project:

I. The Public Use, Benefit, and Purpose To Be Served by the Project [EDPL § 204(B) (1)].

The Project will provide the following public uses, benefits and purposes:

A. Elimination of substandard and deteriorated conditions. The Rail Yard portion of the Project Site encompasses approximately 13 acres of prime Manhattan real estate, but is used now principally as a rail yard for storage and maintenance of rail cars, generating limited economic benefits to the City and State. The Project Site is unattractive and inaccessible, tending to arrest the growth and development of the area. The Project will eliminate all substandard, deteriorated, unattractive and insanitary conditions at the Project Site and be a catalyst for development of the area.

B. Creation of independent venue for concerts, sports events and trade shows. The proposed facility will serve as an independent venue to attract concerts, sports events and trade shows. It will also provide retail amenities for office workers, convention visitors, and tourists. Such uses will boost the convention and tourism industry, and benefit local restaurants, hotels and other businesses which support such uses.

C. Creation of venue which can be used in combination with the Jacob Javits Convention Center. The proposed facility can be used in combination with the Javits Center to attract additional trade shows and conventions for which the Javits Center would be of insufficient size, even after its expansion, and which would otherwise select other cities. Such uses will benefit local tourism, restaurants, hotels and other businesses which support such uses.

D. Economic Benefits. The Project presents an opportunity to create new jobs and new revenue for the City and State. For example, ESDC staff projects that the construction of the Project will create over 18,500 direct and indirect job years of construction-period employment. ESDC also projects that on-going operations will create more than 2,900 new direct and indirect permanent jobs (without consideration of the additional jobs which a Super Bowl would generate). ESDC staff also projects over $422 million in New York City tax revenues and over $506 million in State tax revenues resulting from the Project (without consideration of the additional taxes which a Super Bowl would generate). The Jets, with the assistance of Ernst & Young, and the New York City Economic Development Corporation predict similarly substantial economic benefits from the Project.

E. Recreational Benefits. The Project will provide a venue for entertainment and sports activities for the public through development of a world-class sports facility. The possible hosting of the 2012 Olympics, as well as major sports events such as the Super Bowl and the NCAA finals, would attract millions of visitors and provide a recreational venue for City, State and nearby residents. The National Football League has announced that the Super Bowl scheduled for February 2010 will be played in New York City, assuming the NYSCC is constructed according to the current schedule.

F. Sustainable Design. The facility will be a high performance, environmentally-responsible structure, expected to incorporate a rainwater recovery system allowing for the re-use of millions of gallons of rainwater for non-potable use and to serve as a model for other similar structures.

G. Community and Retail Facilities. The NYSCC will include a small museum, an approximately 199-seat community theatre, retail and other active uses, and open-air market stalls which will act as a catalyst for the area by creating publicly accessible spaces and thereby implementing suggestions of the City of New York Department of City Planning.

II. Project Location and Reasons for Selection of that Location [EDPL §204(B)(2)].

The Project Site is located just south of the Javits Center, between 30th and 33rd Streets, 11th and 12th Avenues and it includes the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space. The 30th Street Air Space which will be acquired by ESDC will comprise a volume of air space above the city sidewalk, extending 800 feet from 11th Avenue to 12th Avenue, and extending from the northerly line of 30th Street southerly 12' 9 ¾". The air space will begin at elevation 25' above the Manhattan Borough Datum ("MBD") and continue to elevation 85' above the MBD.

The Project Site was selected because of its proximity to the Javits Center, its underdeveloped character and long-stagnant history as a rail yard supporting Penn Station, and strategic location positioning it to be a catalyst to the development of the entire Hudson Yards area as envisioned in the FGEIS. The absence of any residential or commercial relocation as a result of the Project, and the absence of any curtailment of LIRR train operations, renders this site uniquely conducive to development of such a large facility without relocation or unusual adverse construction impacts. The Project Site was also selected due to its proximity to the Hudson Yards Program area and is well situated to be part of that Program.

III. General Effect of the Project on the Environment [EDPL §204(B)(3)].

The FGEIS and, more particularly, the Findings adopted by ESDC under the State Environmental Quality Review Act ("SEQRA") are relied upon and hereby incorporated by reference. The FGEIS is one of the largest environmental studies ever undertaken in this State. To the maximum extent practical, the Project attempts to minimize or avoid adverse environmental effects.

IV. General Effect of the Project on the Residents of the Locality [EDPL § 204(B)(3)].

The Project would have substantial beneficial economic, social and environmental benefits for the residents of the City as a whole, as well as some adverse impacts which will be mitigated to the extent feasible. The benefits are summarized above.

There are no known residents at the Project Site. The Project will replace an underdeveloped and unattractive rail yard with a multi-use facility capable of generating substantial economic activity for the City and State, encouraging use of the waterfront, and providing a facility for recreational and entertainment uses for the public. The Project will also provide space for neighborhood ground-floor retail use, a theatre, a museum, open-air market stalls fronting on the sidewalk.

The Project will attract substantial numbers of people to the Hudson River waterfront and encourage access to the waterfront. The elevated pedestrian connection along the southerly side of the multi-use facility, together with the open space on the northerly side of the facility, will provide pedestrian access from the Hudson Yards area and from the multi-use facility to the new pedestrian bridge at West 33rd Street, and will enhance access to the Hudson River Park and the waterfront.

V. Other Relevant Factors [EDPL §204(B)(4)].

At the public hearing, and during the submission period under the EDPL and the UDC Act, oral and written public comments were received. Among the negative public comments, there were statements that alternate uses of the Project Site were insufficiently explored, that public sector financial contributions were not commensurate with the public benefits to be derived and that financial projections for the Project were flawed or insufficient. All comments have been given due consideration. This is part of the process in which ESDC has taken into account positive and negative public opinion as well as public concerns over the Project's possible negative impacts. Throughout the planning period, ESDC has identified and, where feasible, developed mitigation measures to alleviate potential significant negative effects.

DETERMINATION

Based on due consideration of the record and the foregoing findings, it is determined that ESDC should exercise its power of condemnation in order to implement the New York Sports and Convention Center Land Use Improvement Project and Civic Project and specifically to acquire the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space.

Copies of this Determination and Findings of the Empire State Development Corporation are available and will be forwarded without cost upon request by writing to:

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

CONSTRUCTION/CONSTRUCTION SERVICES OR CONSTRUCTION RELATED SERVICES

The City of New York is committed to achieving excellence in the design and construction of its capital program, and building on the tradition of innovation in architecture and engineering that has contributed to the City's prestige as a global destination.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Department of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority. Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contract Services at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction.

Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-05S-002-829 – DUE 05-24-05 AT 5:00 P.M. – The New York City Department of Homeless Services ("DHS") is issuing a Request for Proposals seeking up to two appropriately qualified vendors to provide on-call Construction Management services for Capital and Expense renovation projects at Adult and Family residential shelter sites citywide. These services may include plans for general construction, plumbing, mechanical, electrical, HVAC and elevator systems, structural work and site work. DHS maintains approximately 200 homeless shelter sites citywide. To ensure that all applicable regulatory codes are met, DHS must undertake various construction and renovation projects at these locations. The size of the structures vary significantly from armories to residential brownstones. Additional shelter sites may be added during the term of this contract.

It is anticipated that the term of the contract(s) awarded from this RFP will be for three (3) years, subject to the availability of funds . The contract(s) may additionally include a one year option to renew, likewise subject to the availability of funds. The agency reserves the right prior to contract award to determine the length of the contract term and each option to renew, if any.

It is anticipated that the maximum available funding for Capital funded projects is $2,500,000 and for Expense funded projects $1,000,000.

The Request for Proposals will be available for pick-up beginning Friday, April 8, 2005 at the Department of Homeless Services, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor Bid Desk, New York, NY. 10004.

The pre-proposal conference will be held on Tuesday, April 26, 2005 at 1:30 P.M. at the Department of Homeless Services, 33 Beaver Street, 17th Floor Training Room, New York, NY 10004.

Any questions regarding this solicitation should be directed to Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer, DHS, 33 Beaver Street, Room 1312, New York, N.Y. 10004 at (212) 361-8413 or e-mail at cpitter@dhs.nyc.gov

DEVELOP TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCE FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-00S-003-262 – DUE 01-03-06 AT 5:00 P.M. – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families including the Neighborhood Based Cluster Residence and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-forth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 3 to 20 years including renewal options and depending on the financial terms and conditions.

Pursuant to Section 312 (c) (1) (ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgment is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03 (c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated as a for-profit entity; 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed Standalone facility location(s); and 3) must demonstrate an intent to enter into lease agreements with the owner(s) or management designee(s) for each property.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: John Iaffaldano, Associate Staff Analyst, Office of Contracts and Procurement at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8435, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor, NY, NY 10004, to request a copy of the RFP application, which is available for pick-up Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Section 1. Subdivision (b) of section 2-08 of Title 56 of the Official Compilation of the Rules of the City of New York is amended by adding a new paragraph 7 to read as follows:

(7) Applications for special event and demonstration permits for events to take place on the Great Lawn in Central Park must be received no less than two (2) or more than six (6) months before the date of the proposed event. However, applications for special event permits involving a demonstration made less than two (2) months before the proposed event where exigent circumstances prevented timely application shall be still accepted, provided that the limitation on the number of events on the Great Lawn in subdivision (t) of this section have not already been reached. Applications will be date and time stamped when received by the Department. Applications will be considered in the order in which they are received as shown by the date and time stamp.

§ 2. Paragraphs 4 and 5 of subdivision (c) of section 2-08 of Title 56 of the Official Compilation of the Rules of the City of New York are amended and a new paragraph 6 is added to read as follows:

(4) within the preceding two years, the applicant has been granted a permit and did, on that prior occasion, knowingly violate a material term or condition of the permit, or any law, ordinance, statute or regulation relating to use of the parks;
[or]
(5) the event would interfere unreasonably with the enjoyment of the park by other users[.]; or
(6) with respect to events on the Great Lawn, the conditions for events contained in subdivision (t) of this section are not complied with.

§ 3. Section 2-08 of Title 56 of the Official Compilation of the Rules of the City of New York is amended by adding new subdivisions (t), (u) and (v) to read as follows:

(t) The following conditions apply to applications for permits for special events and demonstrations on the Great Lawn:
(1) In any calendar year there will be no more than six permits granted for special events on the Great Lawn. For purposes of this subdivision, a special event may be a demonstration. Two Metropolitan Opera performances and two New York Philharmonic performances account for four (4) of the six (6) special events. By January 1 of each year, the Metropolitan Opera and the New York Philharmonic must exercise their priority to hold their respective two events. If they choose not to hold either one or both of their events, then the available number of other events on the Great Lawn will increase accordingly.

(2) Attendance may not exceed 50,000 persons.

(3) Events may only take place during the third or fourth week of August or during the first two weeks of September. The Metropolitan Opera and New York Philharmonic events or any event in lieu of the Metropolitan Opera or New York Philharmonic events will take place in June and July.

(4) Special events are subject to cancellation by the Commissioner at any time in the event wet conditions exist that will increase the likelihood of damage to the grass.

(5) The load-in plan for the event must be approved by the Commissioner in order to assure that (A) the maximum number of persons attending does not exceed 50,000; (B) the flow of persons through park landscapes on appropriately designated paths for that purpose shall be orderly; and (C) the attendees will not damage adjacent landscapes.

(6) The applicant shall post a bond in an amount sufficient to pay for any anticipated damage to the Great Lawn in connection with the scheduled event and made payable to the Department. The amount of the bond will be determined by the Commissioner based upon the following factors: (A) the length of the event; (B) the time of year of the event; (C) the nature of the event, including but not limited to, the type of equipment that will need to be brought onto the Great Lawn, the location of such equipment, and the use of any vehicles on the Great Lawn; (D) the number of people attending the event; (E) experience regarding any prior events of the same or a similar nature; and (F) whether the event or any activities associated with the event present a high risk of property damage. However, the Commissioner shall have the authority to waive the bond required by this subdivision where the applicant is able to demonstrate that such bond cannot be obtained without imposing an unreasonable hardship on the applicant. Any request for a waiver of the bond required by this subdivision shall be included by the applicant in their application submitted under this section. The burden of demonstrating unreasonable hardship shall be on the applicant and may be demonstrated by a showing that the cost of obtaining the bond for the event exceeds twenty-five percent (25%) of the applicant's budget for the event. The budget for the event must include not only cash, but also the actual value of any materials and services to be used by the applicant for the event.

(7) A written acknowledgement by the applicant stating, where applicable, how the applicant will comply with the foregoing provisions must be fully executed no less than 10 days prior to the scheduled event's initial load in. However, for a special event application involving a demonstration that is made less than ten days before the proposed event, where exigent circumstances prevented timely application, the written acknowledgment must be executed as soon as practicable before the event's initial load-in.

(u) Special conditions for special events and demonstrations on the Sheep Meadow, and the North Meadow, and the Heckscher Ballfields. The Department will not grant any permits for special events or demonstrations on the Sheep Meadow and the North Meadow in Central Park. The Sheep Meadow is reserved solely for passive recreation and the North Meadow is reserved solely for permitted athletic events and passive recreation. In anticipation of the Heckscher Ballfields further restoration in fall 2005, the Heckscher Ballfields will be available for special events and demonstrations until the restoration works begins. However, after such further restoration, the Heckscher Ballfields will be reserved solely for permitted athletic events and passive recreation.

(v) Special conditions for special events and demonstrations on the East Meadow. The East Meadow in Central Park and the paved areas south of the Bethesada Terrace, including the Literary Walk and the Bandshell areas, are available for large special events or demonstrations that cannot be held on the Great Lawn. However, the Department will not permit more than two (2) events per month that occupy the East Meadow for twenty-four hours or more. The time that an event occupies the East Meadow starts at the occurrence of the initial load-in of equipment and any other materials for the event and concludes when the load-out of the event, including the removal from the park of all equipment and any other materials for the event, is completed.

STATEMENT OF BASIS AND PURPOSE

These regulations are proposed to establish the use of certain restored lawns and landscapes within Central Park in accordance with sound horticulture practice so as to maintain those areas in a healthy condition. The preservation of these lawns and landscapes makes possible a full range of active and passive recreational use to the benefit of the City's residents and visitors, as well as assures the greater availability of such preserved lawns and landscapes for use by the public.

As a result of many years of overuse and limited resources for maintenance, the condition of Central Park had deteriorated to the point where many lawns were barren landscapes devoid of plants and shrubs. Through a combination of private philanthropy and public funds in excess of 24 million dollars, a long-term restoration project was undertaken which resulted in the restoration of the Sheep Meadow by 1980, the North Meadow by 1999 and Great Lawn between 1995 and 1997. In the case of the Great Lawn, restoration included the installation of an advanced irrigation and drainage system. Limitations on uses of these restored lawns and a vigorous lawn care and management plan made possible through both public and private funding have resulted in the preservation of these areas in their restored condition.

These regulations codify what has been a successful program of regulated use and planned maintenance since the restoration, and provide a clear set of rules for permitted uses in the restored areas of the Park. They seek to foster enjoyment of the park by millions of annual users who participate in athletic leagues, sunbathe, picnic and attend special events. Healthy lawns and landscapes are an integral component of an enjoyable park experience. Damage to the grass requires that a lawn be closed for repair, displacing both regularly scheduled and spontaneous use. These regulations seek to minimize damage while balancing a variety of competing uses so that the lawns can provide maximum enjoyment for all.

The prevention of lawn damage requires management informed by principles of good horticulture. The regulations permit a variety of uses consistent with accepted horticulture principles for lawn and landscape management. The regulations reflect scientifically based horticulture needs, including seasonal cycles, and the impact of various uses on the grass and surrounding landscapes. Limitations on all use in wet conditions, limitations on some use during certain months and at certain locations, the requirement of appropriate load-in plans for, and control of attendance at, large special events are examples of provisions designed to minimize damage to the lawns and landscapes.

The Great Lawn

The history of use on the Great Lawn has been fairly consistent over several decades prior to its restoration. Concerts by the Metropolitan Opera and the New York Philharmonic, which are free to the public, have taken place on the Great Lawn for approximately the last 25 years. The continuation of these concerts after the restoration established that they are extremely low impact events that cause little, if any, damage. Most other large special events that have taken place on the Great Lawn pre-date the restoration to a time when the lawn was in a seriously degraded condition. The stage and heavy equipment used at those events created ruts in the bare ground and, along with large number of participants, seriously compacted the soil. In addition, the unregulated entry of participants into the event site frequently allowed delicate plantings and landscapes to be overrun and destroyed. Since the restoration, there have been few requests for large special events, and the few that have taken place have demonstrated the need for the restrictions on use contained in these regulations. For example, in 1997 the Family Reunion, which traditionally takes place after the New York Marathon, was held on the Great Lawn. Because it caused extensive damage, it was moved to Central Park West, a paved area where it continues to take place on an annual basis. In 2003, a large popular music concert featuring the Dave Mathews band was held on the Great Lawn. It was attended by 80,000 people, and despite vigorous efforts to protect the lawn including a staged load-in plan and private security to enforce the plan, there was substantial damage which required the lawn to be closed for repair for an extended period. The schedule for athletic events on the Great Lawn takes into account the seasonal requirements for seeding and nurturing of the grass and causes no damage other than normal wear and tear that is addressed through regular maintenance. Finally, there has always been scheduled athletic use on the ball fields of the Great Lawn. Since restoration those activities have continued with stricter regulation.

As a result of this prior experience with use and its effects, the regulations for the Great Lawn limit the number and size of events that can take place there and the time of year during which they can occur. In addition, they mandate an approved load-in plan for equipment and crowds to avoid damage to both the lawns and surrounding landscapes, as well as a prohibition on use when the lawn is wet. A bond is required to cover the potential damage with a waiver provision for when the bond would pose a financial hardship. Hardship is determined by reference to the budget for the event, a provision designed to insure an equitable and realistic assessment of financial ability to post a bond for the event.

Sheep Meadow and North Meadow

The Sheep Meadow and the North Meadow have been planted with hardy grass but do not have an advanced irrigation or drainage system similar to that of the Great Lawn. Consequently, they are particularly prone to soil compaction, which could result from special events drawing large crowds. This fact was well demonstrated when after several years of experiencing extensive damage in Sheep Meadow from the opening ceremonies for the AIDS Walk, the Parks Department determined that after the 2003 event this gathering could no longer take place in the Sheep Meadow and would instead be held on the paved surfaces near the Bandshell in Central Park. Since that time, special events are no longer permitted on the Sheep Meadow. The North Meadow is reserved for athletic and passive recreational activity and has not been the host for non-athletic events since its restoration.

Heckscher Ballfields.

Since their initial restoration in the early 1980s the Heckscher Ballfields have been used only for softball and passive recreation. Because they are scheduled for further restoration in the fall 2005, the Parks Department has made them available to host special events in 2005 until the restoration work begins. After further restoration, however, the Heckscher Ballfields will again be limited to softball and passive recreation.

The East Meadow

The East Meadow has not yet been restored and remains open to special events. In addition, any future restoration will be such as to ensure that the East Meadow may continue to host special events along with other suitable areas in the park, such as the paved areas south of the Bethesada Terrace, including the Literary Walk and the Bandshell, and Rumsey playfield. The use restrictions contained in these regulations with respect to the East Meadow are minimal and ensure an area in the park for special events on an ongoing basis.

EMPIRE STATE DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

■ NOTICE

Determination and Findings by the New York State Urban Development Corporation d/b/a Empire State Development Corporation Pursuant to EDPL Section 204 with Respect to the New York Sports and Convention Center Land Use ImprovementProject and Civic Project

The New York Sports and Convention Center Land Use Improvement Project and Civic Project (the "Project") involves the revitalization of a substandard and deteriorated area now occupied principally by a rail yard, located between 30th and 33rd Streets on the west side of Manhattan, between 11th and 12th Avenues (the "Rail Yard"), near the Jacob Javits Convention Center. Also included within the Project will be 33rd Street, between 11th and 12th Avenues (the "33rd Street Parcel"), and a volume of air space above the northerly sidewalk of 30th Street, between 11th and 12th Avenues (the "30th Street Air Space"). The Rail Yard, the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space together constitute the "Project Site". The Project will consist of: (a) the construction of a steel and concrete platform over the Rail Yard (the western portion of Caemmerer Yard); (b) the closure of the 33rd Street Parcel to vehicular traffic; (c) the construction by New York Jets Development LLC, an affiliate of New York Jets LLC, of an approximately 75,000-seat, multi-use facility suitable for convention center and trade show events, professional football events, and other uses; and (d) the construction of a pedestrian bridge over Route 9A facilitating access to the Hudson River Park. In furtherance of the Project, ESDC will acquire title to the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space, which are owned by the City of New York, using its eminent domain power. The Project is a coordinated effort among the State of New York, the City of New York (the "City"), Metropolitan Transportation Authority, New York State Urban Development Corporation d/b/a Empire State Development Corporation ("ESDC") and New York Jets LLC. The City has indicated it will not oppose the acquisition.

Public Process

ESDC adopted a General Project Plan for the Project on November 4, 2004.

On December 16, 2004, a duly noticed public hearing was held in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 of the New York State Eminent Domain Procedure Law ("EDPL") and Sections 6 and 16 of the New York State Urban Development Corporation Act in order, among other things, to inform the public, to solicit comments on the Project from the public, and to review the public use to be served by the Project and the impact on the environment and residents of the locality where the Project will be constructed.

At the hearing, the public was provided with information concerning the public use, benefits, and purposes to be served by the proposed Project, the Project location, and the general effect of the proposed Project on the environment and residents of the locality. This information was provided by the Hearing Officer and representatives of ESDC, as part of their opening remarks, and, among other things, through written materials made available to the public at the hearing, including the November 2004 Final Generic Environmental Impact Statement ("FGEIS") and the General Project Plan. The hearing provided an opportunity for the public to comment upon the Project. The record of the December 16th hearing remained open for additional written comments until and including January 18, 2005. ESDC adopted and affirmed a modified General Project Plan simultaneously with the adoption of this Determination & Findings. All testimony and comments received, ESDC's modified General Project Plan, the FGEIS, and all other relevant documents have been reviewed, made part of the record and afforded full consideration.

Pursuant to EDPL §204, and having given due consideration to the complete hearing record, which includes all documents submitted and all public comments, ESDC makes the following findings and determination concerning the Project:

I. The Public Use, Benefit, and Purpose To Be Served by the Project [EDPL § 204(B) (1)].

The Project will provide the following public uses, benefits and purposes:

A. Elimination of substandard and deteriorated conditions. The Rail Yard portion of the Project Site encompasses approximately 13 acres of prime Manhattan real estate, but is used now principally as a rail yard for storage and maintenance of rail cars, generating limited economic benefits to the City and State. The Project Site is unattractive and inaccessible, tending to arrest the growth and development of the area. The Project will eliminate all substandard, deteriorated, unattractive and insanitary conditions at the Project Site and be a catalyst for development of the area.

B. Creation of independent venue for concerts, sports events and trade shows. The proposed facility will serve as an independent venue to attract concerts, sports events and trade shows. It will also provide retail amenities for office workers, convention visitors, and tourists. Such uses will boost the convention and tourism industry, and benefit local restaurants, hotels and other businesses which support such uses.

C. Creation of venue which can be used in combination with the Jacob Javits Convention Center. The proposed facility can be used in combination with the Javits Center to attract additional trade shows and conventions for which the Javits Center would be of insufficient size, even after its expansion, and which would otherwise select other cities. Such uses will benefit local tourism, restaurants, hotels and other businesses which support such uses.

D. Economic Benefits. The Project presents an opportunity to create new jobs and new revenue for the City and State. For example, ESDC staff projects that the construction of the Project will create over 18,500 direct and indirect job years of construction-period employment. ESDC also projects that on-going operations will create more than 2,900 new direct and indirect permanent jobs (without consideration of the additional jobs which a Super Bowl would generate). ESDC staff also projects over $422 million in New York City tax revenues and over $506 million in State tax revenues resulting from the Project (without consideration of the additional taxes which a Super Bowl would generate). The Jets, with the assistance of Ernst & Young, and the New York City Economic Development Corporation predict similarly substantial economic benefits from the Project.

E. Recreational Benefits. The Project will provide a venue for entertainment and sports activities for the public through development of a world-class sports facility. The possible hosting of the 2012 Olympics, as well as major sports events such as the Super Bowl and the NCAA finals, would attract millions of visitors and provide a recreational venue for City, State and nearby residents. The National Football League has announced that the Super Bowl scheduled for February 2010 will be played in New York City, assuming the NYSCC is constructed according to the current schedule.

F. Sustainable Design. The facility will be a high performance, environmentally-responsible structure, expected to incorporate a rainwater recovery system allowing for the re-use of millions of gallons of rainwater for non-potable use and to serve as a model for other similar structures.

G. Community and Retail Facilities. The NYSCC will include a small museum, an approximately 199-seat community theatre, retail and other active uses, and open-air market stalls which will act as a catalyst for the area by creating publicly accessible spaces and thereby implementing suggestions of the City of New York Department of City Planning.

II. Project Location and Reasons for Selection of that Location [EDPL §204(B)(2)].

The Project Site is located just south of the Javits Center, between 30th and 33rd Streets, 11th and 12th Avenues and it includes the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space. The 30th Street Air Space which will be acquired by ESDC will comprise a volume of air space above the city sidewalk, extending 800 feet from 11th Avenue to 12th Avenue, and extending from the northerly line of 30th Street southerly 12' 9 ¾". The air space will begin at elevation 25' above the Manhattan Borough Datum ("MBD") and continue to elevation 85' above the MBD.

The Project Site was selected because of its proximity to the Javits Center, its underdeveloped character and long-stagnant history as a rail yard supporting Penn Station, and strategic location positioning it to be a catalyst to the development of the entire Hudson Yards area as envisioned in the FGEIS. The absence of any residential or commercial relocation as a result of the Project, and the absence of any curtailment of LIRR train operations, renders this site uniquely conducive to development of such a large facility without relocation or unusual adverse construction impacts. The Project Site was also selected due to its proximity to the Hudson Yards Program area and is well situated to be part of that Program.

III. General Effect of the Project on the Environment [EDPL §204(B)(3)].

The FGEIS and, more particularly, the Findings adopted by ESDC under the State Environmental Quality Review Act ("SEQRA") are relied upon and hereby incorporated by reference. The FGEIS is one of the largest environmental studies ever undertaken in this State. To the maximum extent practical, the Project attempts to minimize or avoid adverse environmental effects.

IV. General Effect of the Project on the Residents of the Locality [EDPL § 204(B)(3)].

The Project would have substantial beneficial economic, social and environmental benefits for the residents of the City as a whole, as well as some adverse impacts which will be mitigated to the extent feasible. The benefits are summarized above.

There are no known residents at the Project Site. The Project will replace an underdeveloped and unattractive rail yard with a multi-use facility capable of generating substantial economic activity for the City and State, encouraging use of the waterfront, and providing a facility for recreational and entertainment uses for the public. The Project will also provide space for neighborhood ground-floor retail use, a theatre, a museum, open-air market stalls fronting on the sidewalk.

The Project will attract substantial numbers of people to the Hudson River waterfront and encourage access to the waterfront. The elevated pedestrian connection along the southerly side of the multi-use facility, together with the open space on the northerly side of the facility, will provide pedestrian access from the Hudson Yards area and from the multi-use facility to the new pedestrian bridge at West 33rd Street, and will enhance access to the Hudson River Park and the waterfront.

V. Other Relevant Factors [EDPL §204(B)(4)].

At the public hearing, and during the submission period under the EDPL and the UDC Act, oral and written public comments were received. Among the negative public comments, there were statements that alternate uses of the Project Site were insufficiently explored, that public sector financial contributions were not commensurate with the public benefits to be derived and that financial projections for the Project were flawed or insufficient. All comments have been given due consideration. This is part of the process in which ESDC has taken into account positive and negative public opinion as well as public concerns over the Project's possible negative impacts. Throughout the planning period, ESDC has identified and, where feasible, developed mitigation measures to alleviate potential significant negative effects.

DETERMINATION

Based on due consideration of the record and the foregoing findings, it is determined that ESDC should exercise its power of condemnation in order to implement the New York Sports and Convention Center Land Use Improvement Project and Civic Project and specifically to acquire the 33rd Street Parcel and the 30th Street Air Space.

Copies of this Determination and Findings of the Empire State Development Corporation are available and will be forwarded without cost upon request by writing to:

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

CONSTRUCTION/CONSTRUCTION SERVICES OR CONSTRUCTION RELATED SERVICES

The City of New York is committed to achieving excellence in the design and construction of its capital program, and building on the tradition of innovation in architecture and engineering that has contributed to the City's prestige as a global destination.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Department of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority. Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contract Services at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction.

Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOP TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCE FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-00S-003-262 – DUE 01-03-06 AT 5:00 P.M. – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families including the Neighborhood Based Cluster Residence and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-forth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 3 to 20 years including renewal options and depending on the financial terms and conditions.

Pursuant to Section 312 (c) (1) (ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgment is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03 (c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated as a for-profit entity; 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed Standalone facility location(s); and 3) must demonstrate an intent to enter into lease agreements with the owner(s) or management designee(s) for each property.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: John Iaffaldano, Associate Staff Analyst, Office of Contracts and Procurement at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8435, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor, NY, NY 10004, to request a copy of the RFP application, which is available for pick-up Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Use the following address unless otherwise specified in notice, to secure, examine or submit bid/proposal documents, vendor pre-qualification and other forms; specifications/ blueprints; other information; and for opening and reading of bids at date and time specified above.

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

CONSTRUCTION/CONSTRUCTION SERVICES OR CONSTRUCTION RELATED SERVICES

The City of New York is committed to achieving excellence in the design and construction of its capital program, and building on the tradition of innovation in architecture and engineering that has contributed to the City's prestige as a global destination.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Department of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority. Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contract Services at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction.

Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Section 5-07 of the Rules of Procedure for Environmental Review (CEQR) and 6 NYCRR 617.8 (State Environmental Quality Review) that the New York City Police Department, CEQR lead agency, will prepare a draft environmental impact statement for the One Police Plaza Security Plan, CEQR No.04NYPD02M. Following the events of September 11, 2001, the New York City Police Department (NYPD) and the United States Marshals Service (USMS) established security measures in order to protect City, State, and Federal facilities in the "civic center" portion of lower Manhattan which were, and continue to be considered potential targets. Security measures implemented by the NYPD included the installation of attended security checkpoint booths, planters, bollards and hydraulic-operated delta barriers to restrict the access of unauthorized vehicles from the roadways situated adjacent to the civic facilities located near NYPD headquarters at One Police Plaza. As a result of a court order issued on October 15, 2004 by New York State Supreme Court Justice Walter B. Tolub, the New York City Police Department (NYPD) has agreed to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for the above mentioned security plan.

The NYPD prepared an Environmental Assessment Statement (EAS) for the above mentioned security plan in January 2004 pursuant to an order issued on August 1, 2003 by New York State Supreme Court Justice Walter B. Tolub in the matter of Chatham Green, Inc. et al. v. Bloomberg et al. (Index No. 107569/03). NYPD issued a Negative Declaration, which was subsequently challenged in a second lawsuit, Chatham Towers, Inc. et al. v. Bloomberg et al. (Index No. 107761/04). In an opinion dated October 15, 2004, Justice Tolub found that the EAS did not take a "hard look" as required by law, specifically for the technical areas, including Community Facilities and Services, Socioeconomic Conditions, Neighborhood Character, Traffic and Parking, and Transit and Pedestrians.

In light of Justice Tolub's October 15, 2004 determination that an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) was appropriate, the NYPD has agreed to prepare an EIS in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law, 6 NYCRR Part 617, the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, Executive Order 91 of 1977, as amended, and the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, found at Title 62, Chapter 5 of the Rules of the City of New York (CEQR). Public comments are requested with respect to the above mentioned issues to be addressed in the draft environmental impact statement.

A public scoping meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, May 24, 2005 from 4:00 PM to 8:00 PM in the 2nd floor Auditorium at 125 Worth Street, New York, New York 10013. A photo I.D. is required to enter the building. Written comments will be accepted by the lead agency through the tenth day following the scoping meeting (June 3, 2005).

Copies of the Draft Scope of Work and the Environmental Assessment Statement may be obtained from the Office of Environmental Coordination, 100 Gold Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038, Robert Kulikowski, Director (212) 788-2937.

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-05S-002-829 – DUE 05-24-05 AT 5:00 P.M. – The New York City Department of Homeless Services ("DHS") is issuing a Request for Proposals seeking up to two appropriately qualified vendors to provide on-call Construction Management services for Capital and Expense renovation projects at Adult and Family residential shelter sites citywide. These services may include plans for general construction, plumbing, mechanical, electrical, HVAC and elevator systems, structural work and site work. DHS maintains approximately 200 homeless shelter sites citywide. To ensure that all applicable regulatory codes are met, DHS must undertake various construction and renovation projects at these locations. The size of the structures vary significantly from armories to residential brownstones. Additional shelter sites may be added during the term of this contract.

It is anticipated that the term of the contract(s) awarded from this RFP will be for three (3) years, subject to the availability of funds . The contract(s) may additionally include a one year option to renew, likewise subject to the availability of funds. The agency reserves the right prior to contract award to determine the length of the contract term and each option to renew, if any.

It is anticipated that the maximum available funding for Capital funded projects is $2,500,000 and for Expense funded projects $1,000,000.

The Request for Proposals will be available for pick-up beginning Friday, April 8, 2005 at the Department of Homeless Services, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor Bid Desk, New York, NY. 10004.

The pre-proposal conference will be held on Tuesday, April 26, 2005 at 1:30 P.M. at the Department of Homeless Services, 33 Beaver Street, 17th Floor Training Room, New York, NY 10004.

Any questions regarding this solicitation should be directed to Calvin Pitter, Deputy Agency Chief Contracting Officer, DHS, 33 Beaver Street, Room 1312, New York, N.Y. 10004 at (212) 361-8413 or e-mail at cpitter@dhs.nyc.gov

DEVELOP TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCE FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-00S-003-262 – DUE 01-03-06 AT 5:00 P.M. – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families including the Neighborhood Based Cluster Residence and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-forth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 3 to 20 years including renewal options and depending on the financial terms and conditions.

Pursuant to Section 312 (c) (1) (ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgment is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03 (c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated as a for-profit entity; 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed Standalone facility location(s); and 3) must demonstrate an intent to enter into lease agreements with the owner(s) or management designee(s) for each property.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: John Iaffaldano, Associate Staff Analyst, Office of Contracts and Procurement at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8435, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor, NY, NY 10004, to request a copy of the RFP application, which is available for pick-up Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Name, Description and Location of Proposal:

132nd Street Demapping
The applicant, Whiterock Ventures LLC, is proposing to demap an approximately 17,523 square foot portion of 132nd Street, that runs north/south between 11th Avenue and 14th Avenue in the College Point section of Queens, Community District 7.

This portion of 132nd Street is currently unbuilt and is mapped adjacent to three lots (Block 4012, Lots 1, and 143; and Block 4011, Lot 1), which are owned by the applicant and currently are used for parking. The proposed action would facilitate the construction of a 13,774 square-foot commercial building containing retail and office use with a 47-space accessory parking lot. Without the proposed action, the existing parking lot would remain. The subject site is located in an M1-1 zoning district. It is expected that construction will be completed in 2007.

Statement of No Significant Effect Upon Modification:
The Environmental Assessment and Review Division of the Department of City Planning, on behalf of the City Planning Commission, has completed its technical review of the Environmental Assessment Statement dated April 5, 2005, prepared in connection with the ULURP Application (050241 MMQ). The City Planning Commission has determined that the proposed action will have no significant effect on the quality of the environment, once it is modified as follows:

1. The applicant agrees via a restrictive declaration to prepare a hazardous materials sampling protocol including a health and safety plan, which would be submitted to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) for approval. The applicant agrees to test and identify any potential hazardous material impact pursuant to the approved sampling protocol and, if any such impact is found, submit a hazardous material remediation plan including a health and safety plan to DEP for approval. If necessary, remediation measures would be undertaken pursuant to the remediation plan.

The restrictive declaration also restricts the manner in which the property may be developed or redeveloped, by requiring the sampling protocol and remediation measures to serve as a condition precedent to any change of use in any such development or redevelopment of the property.

Supporting Statement:
The above determination is based on an environmental assessment which finds that:

1. A Phase I Environmental Site Assessment (ESA), available in the proposal's CEQR file, was prepared in July 2002 for the project site. The Phase I ESA was reviewed by DEP's Office of Environmental Planning and Assessment, and a restrictive declaration was recommended, as stated in a memo by DEP, on March 15, 2005, due to the potential presence of hazardous materials on the site as a result of past on-site land uses. The declaration requires that detailed Phase II testing would occur and is binding upon the property's successors and assigns. The declaration serves as a mechanism to assure the potential for hazardous material contamination that may exist in the sub-surface soils, groundwater, and existing buildings on the project site would be characterized prior to any site disturbance (i.e., site grading, excavation, demolition, or building construction).

On April 5, 2005, the restrictive declaration was signed, recorded and executed. With the implementation of the condition described above, no significant adverse impact related to hazardous materials would occur.

2. No other significant adverse effects on the environment which would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable.

It is fully agreed and understood that if the foregoing conditions, modification, and alterations are not fully incorporated into the proposed action, this Conditional Negative Declaration shall become null and void. In such event, the applicant shall be required to prepare a Draft Environmental Impact Statement before preceding further with said proposal.

This Conditional Negative Declaration has been prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the Environmental Conservation Law 6NYCRR part 617.

Rezoning of Bronx Block 2953
The applicant, VIP Community Services, is proposing an amendment to the Zoning Map to change an M1-2 district to an R7-1 district on the western portion of the block (Block 2953, Lots 1, 6, 9, 11, 12, and 13) bounded by East 175th Street to south, Prospect Avenue to the west and East 176th Street to the north in the Crotona section of Bronx Community District 6. The remainder of Block 2953 is currently zoned M1-2, and as described below, includes an (E) designation for noise on Block 2953, all lots. This (E) designation will remain for this block.

The proposed action would facilitate a proposal by the applicant to develop a five story residential building on a vacant parcel located at 760 East 176th Street (Lot 13). The applicant intends to apply to the New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services for funding to operate a residential treatment facility. This funding is pending at the time of this CEQR review, is discretionary, and subject to SEQR. A coordinated review is not being conducted. It is expected that the redevelopment of the applicant's site would be completed by 2007. The remaining lots in the rezoning area are developed with residential uses (Lots 1, 9 and 11), a community facility (Lot 12), and a vacant parcel (Lot 6). The area proposed for this rezoning is contiguous to an operational Department of Sanitation (DOS) facility.

A 1982 zoning amendment to the Zoning Map changed an R7-1 district to an M1-2 district on Block 2953, all lots, permitting the construction of a DOS sanitation garage on Lot 24 (CEQR No. 82- 214X). The sanitation garage was constructed and is currently in operation. The current proposal would return the western portion of the block to the former R7-1 zoning

The Environmental Assessment Statement for the proposal indicates that the proposed action could also facilitate the development of a potential development site in the rezoning area. This site, located on Lot 6, could be developed with approximately 20 dwelling units. This site is currently vacant. A site assessment based on current and past uses for the site and adjacent sites was conducted by the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) for Lot 6 and did not rule out the potential presence of hazardous materials on this site. The materials could include petroleum based, non-petroleum based, or both. Consequently, the proposed action would place an (E) designation for hazardous materials on Block 2953, Lot 6. The placement of the (E) designation on the zoning map would eliminate the potential for significant adverse impact from hazardous materials and would ensure that appropriate testing and remediation, if needed, would be undertaken. The text of the (E) designation is as follows:

Due to the possible presence of hazardous materials on the aforementioned designated site there is potential for contamination of the soil and groundwater. To determine if contamination exists and preform and appropriate remediation, the following tasks must be undertaken by the fee owners(s) of the lot restricted by this (E) designation prior to any demolition or disturbance of soil on the lot.

The fee owner(s) of the lot restricted by this (E) designation will be required to prepare a scope of work for any soil, gas, or groundwater sampling and testing needed to determine if contamination exists, the extent of the contamination, and to what extent remediation may be required. The scope of work will include all relevant supporting documentation, including site plans and sampling locations. This scope of work will be submitted to DEP for review and approval prior to implementation. It will be reviewed to ensure that an adequate number of samples will be collected and that appropriate parameters are selected for laboratory analysis.

No sampling program may begin until written approval of a work plan and sampling protocol is received from DEP. The number and location of sample sites should be selected to adequately characterize the type and extent of the contamination, and the condition of the remainder of the site. The characterization should be complete enough to determine what remediation strategy (if any) is necessary after review of the sampling data. Guidelines and criteria for choosing sampling sites and performing sampling will be provided by DEP upon request.

A written report with findings and a summary of the data must be presented to DEP after completion of the testing phase and laboratory analysis for review and approval. After receiving such test results, a determination will be provided by DEP if the results indicate that remediation is necessary.

If DEP determines that no remediation is necessary, written notice shall be given by DEP.

If remediation is necessary according to test results, a proposed remediation plan must be submitted to DEP for review and approval. The fee owner(s) of the lot restricted by this (E) designation must perform such remediation as determined necessary by DEP. After completing the remediation, the fee owner(s) of the lot restricted by this (E) designation should provide proof that the work has been satisfactorily completed.

A DEP-approved construction-related health and safety plan would be implemented during excavation and construction activities to protect workers and the community from potentially significant adverse impacts associated with contaminated soil and/or groundwater. This Plan would be submitted to DEP for review and approval prior to implementation.

Statement of No Significant Effect Upon Modification:

The Environmental Assessment and Review Division of the Department of City Planning, on behalf of the City Planning Commission, has completed its technical review of the Environmental Assessment Statement dated April 6, 2005, prepared in connection with the ULURP Application (030370 ZMX). The City Planning Commission has determined that the proposed action will have no significant effect on the quality of the environment, once it is modified as follows:

1. For the properties located at 760 East 176th Street (Block 2953, Lot 13) the applicant agrees via a restrictive declaration to prepare a hazardous materials sampling protocol, including a health and safety plan, which would be submitted to DEP for approval. The declaration establishes an agreement to test and identify any potential hazardous material impacts pursuant to the approved sampling protocol and, if any such impact is found, submit a hazardous material remediation plan including a health and safety plan to DEP for approval. If necessary, remediation measures would be undertaken pursuant to the remediation plan.

Supporting Statement:

The above determination is based on an environmental assessment which finds that:

1. A Phase I Environmental Site Assessment (ESA), available in the proposal's CEQR file, was prepared in January 2003 for the property under the control of the applicant located at 760 East 176th Street (Lot 13). The ESA was reviewed by DEP's Office of Environmental Planning and Assessment, and a restrictive declaration was recommended, as stated in a memo by DEP dated January 19, 2005, due to the potential presence of hazardous material on the site as a result of past and present land uses at the applicant's site. The declaration requires that Phase II testing would occur and is binding upon the property's successors and assigns. The declaration serves as a mechanism to assure the potential for hazardous material contamination that may exist in the sub-surface soils and groundwater on the applicant's sites would be characterized prior to any site disturbance (i.e., site grading, excavation, demolition, or building construction).

On February 11, 2005 the restrictive declaration was signed and recorded and was executed on March 21, 2005. On February 10, 2005 DEP communicated to City Planning that they approved the language of the restrictive declaration and in an April 6, 2005 letter sent to City Planning, DEP confirmed that they had received a copy of the recorded and executed restrictive declaration.

With the implementation of the condition described above, no significant adverse impact related to hazardous materials would occur.

2. The proposed action would not result in significant adverse noise impacts. The (E) designation for noise placed on Block 2953, all Lots as a part of the 1982 DOS facility rezoning action (CEQR No. 82-214X) would remain and the requirements of the (E) designation would continue to apply. This (E) designation requires the Sanitation Department to protect the residential use on Block 2953 by maintaining noise zone (N-2) levels, 65 db(A) daytime and 55 db(A) night time at the property line of the residential properties on the block.

3. No other significant adverse effects on the environment which would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable.

It is fully agreed and understood that if the foregoing conditions, modification, and alterations are not fully incorporated into the proposed action, this Conditional Negative Declaration shall become null and void. In such event, the applicant shall be required to prepare a Draft Environmental Impact Statement before preceding further with said proposal.

This Conditional Negative Declaration has been prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the Environmental Conservation Law 6NYCRR part 617.

Name, Description and Location of Proposal:

Cambria Heights Rezoning
The New York City Department of City Planning (DCP) is proposing Zoning Map amendments for all or portions of 198 blocks in the eastern Queens neighborhood of Cambria Heights, Community District 13. The rezoning area is generally bounded by Murdock Avenue to the north, Cross Island Parkway to the east, 121st Avenue and Francis Lewis Boulevard to the south and Springfield and Francis Lewis Boulevards to the west.

The amendments to the Zoning Map are as follows:

- a change from an R4 to an R4B district;
- a change from an R3-2 to an R4B district;
- a change from an R4 to an R3-1;
- a change from an R3-2 to an R4-1;
- a change from an R4 to an R3A;
- a change from an R3-2 to a R3A;
- a change from an R2 to an R2A;
- a change from an R3-2 to an R2A;
- a change from an R4 to an R2A; and
- a change from C1-2 and C1-3 overlays to C2-2 and C2-3 overlays.

The purpose of the rezoning is to preserve the existing low-density character of the neighborhood, which is primarily comprised of single and two-family detached homes. The proposed action will limit new developments to single and two-family semi-detached and detached housing, thereby ensuring that future development will be consistent with and accurately reflect the neighborhood's existing pattern of development. Existing semi-detached, attached, and multifamily buildings would become legally non-conforming uses within the Rezoning Area. The proposed zoning would not significantly alter land use nor would it affect the amount of future development.

In addition to the aforementioned zoning map amendments, DCP also proposes modifications to the proposed R2A zoning designation, which is being created in connection with the Bayside Rezoning (N 050148 ZRY). The proposed revision to R2A zoning designation would establish a front yard line up requirement that would help guide development to better match the existing character of the neighborhoods where this zoning designation would be applied.

Statement of No Significant Effect:
The Environmental Assessment and Review Division of the Department of City Planning, on behalf of the City Planning Commission, has completed its technical review of the Environmental Assessment Statement dated April 8, 2005, prepared in connection with the ULURP Application (050400 ZMQ and 050401 ZRY). The City Planning Commission has determined that the proposed action will have no significant effect on the quality of the environment.

Supporting Statement:
The above determination is based on an environmental assessment which finds that no significant effects on the environment which would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable.

This Negative Declaration has been prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the Environmental Conservation Law 6NYCRR part 617.

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

CONSTRUCTION/CONSTRUCTION SERVICES OR CONSTRUCTION RELATED SERVICES

The City of New York is committed to achieving excellence in the design and construction of its capital program, and building on the tradition of innovation in architecture and engineering that has contributed to the City's prestige as a global destination.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Department of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority. Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contract Services at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction.

Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

DEVELOP TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCE FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-00S-003-262 – DUE 01-03-06 AT 5:00 P.M. – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families including the Neighborhood Based Cluster Residence and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-forth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 3 to 20 years including renewal options and depending on the financial terms and conditions.

Pursuant to Section 312 (c) (1) (ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgment is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03 (c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated as a for-profit entity; 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed Standalone facility location(s); and 3) must demonstrate an intent to enter into lease agreements with the owner(s) or management designee(s) for each property.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: John Iaffaldano, Associate Staff Analyst, Office of Contracts and Procurement at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8435, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor, NY, NY 10004, to request a copy of the RFP application, which is available for pick-up Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

AGENCY RULES

HOUSING PRESERVATION & DEVELOPMENT

Notice of Adoption of Rules Governing

Tax Exemption under § 421-a, §421-g and § 489 of the Real Property Tax Law

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN PURSUANT TO THE AUTHORITY VESTED IN THE Commissioner of Housing Preservation and Development by §1802 (6)(c) and in accordance with the requirements of §1043 of the New York City Charter that the Department of Housing Preservation and Development intends to adopt rules governing tax exemption under §421-a, § 421-g and § 489 of the Real Property Tax Law of the State of New York. Additions to the rules are underlined and proposed deletions are [bracketed].

The required public hearing was held on April 7,2005.

Section 1. Paragraph (4) of subdivision (f) of section 5-03 of chapter 5 of title 28 of the Rules of the City of New York is amended to read as follows:

(4) Permanent residential use. All dwelling units must be leased for permanent residential purposes for a term of not less than one year so long as tax benefits are in effect. Permanent residential use shall not include use as a hotel, dormitory, employee residence or facility, fraternity or sorority house, resort housing or any similar type of non-permanent housing. For purposes of this [subdivision (f)] chapter, a "hotel" shall mean (i) any Class B multiple dwelling, as such term is defined in the Multiple Dwelling Law, (ii) any structure or part thereof containing living or sleeping accommodations which is used or intended to be used for transient occupancy, (iii) any apartment hotel or transient hotel as defined in the Zoning Resolution, or (iv) any structure or part thereof which is used to provide short term rentals or owned or leased by an entity engaged in the business of providing short term rentals. For purposes of this definition, a lease, sublease, license or any other form of rental agreement for a period of less than six months shall be deemed to be a short term rental. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) a structure or part thereof owned or leased by a not-for-profit corporation for the purpose of providing governmentally funded emergency housing shall not be considered a hotel for purposes of this chapter, and (ii) benefits may be pro-rated by deducting out work attributable to Class B units in a building containing both Class A and Class B units, provided that all units in a building are registered with DHCR as rent stabilized or rent controlled units, and are utilized for permanent residential use.

§ 2. The definition of "Hotel" contained in section 6-01 of chapter 6 of title 28 of the Rules of the City of New York is amended to read as follows:

Hotel. "Hotel" shall mean (i) any Class B multiple dwelling, as such term is defined in the Multiple Dwelling Law, (ii) any structure or part thereof containing living or sleeping accommodations which is used or intended to be used for transient occupancy, (iii) any apartment hotel or transient hotel as defined in the Zoning Resolution, or (iv) any structure or part thereof which is used to provide short term rentals or owned or leased by an entity engaged in the business of providing short term rentals. For purposes of this definition, a lease, sublease, license or any other form of rental agreement for a period of less than six months shall be deemed to be a short term rental. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a structure or part thereof owned or leased by a not-for-profit corporation for the purpose of providing governmentally funded emergency housing shall not be considered a hotel for purposes of this chapter.

§ 3. The definition of "Hotel" contained in section 32-02 of chapter 32 of title 28 of the Rules of the City of New York is amended to read as follows:

Hotel. "Hotel" shall mean (i) any Class B multiple dwelling, as such term is defined in the Multiple Dwelling Law, (ii) any structure or part thereof containing living or sleeping accommodations which is used or intended to be used for transient occupancy, (iii) any apartment hotel or transient hotel as defined in the Zoning Resolution, or (iv) any structure or part thereof which is used to provide short term rentals or owned or leased by an entity engaged in the business of providing short term rentals. For purposes of this definition, a lease, sublease, license or any other form of rental agreement for a period of less than six months shall be deemed to be a short term rental. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a structure or part thereof owned or leased by a not-for-profit corporation for the purpose of providing governmentally funded emergency housing shall not be considered a hotel for purposes of this chapter.

Statement of Basis and Purpose. Real Property Tax Law §§ 421-a and 421-g both expressly state that hotels are not eligible for the respective tax exemption benefits. However, neither statute defines "hotel." Similarly, Administrative Code § 11-243(r) provides for the withdrawal of J-51 benefits if a structure becomes operated exclusively for hotel use, but does not define "hotel". The proposed amendment clarifies that space owned or leased by a not-for-profit corporation for the purpose of providing governmentally funded emergency housing is not a hotel.

LANDMARKS PRESERVATION COMMISSION

■ NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN PURSUANT TO THE AUTHORITY GRANTED to the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission ("Commission") by Sections 25-303, 25-305, 25-306, 25-307, 25-308, 25-310, 25-313 and 25-319 of Title 25, Chapter 3 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, and in accord with Section 3020 of the New York City Charter, and after a duly advertised public hearing held on January 20, 2004, that the Landmarks Preservation Commission has adopted the following new Rule relating to the installation of public pay telephones in areas under the Commission's jurisdiction.

RULE RELATING TO REGULATION OF PUBLIC PAY TELEPHONES

Statement of Basis and Purpose of Proposed Rule

The Landmarks Preservation Commission is authorized to promulgate regulations governing the protection, preservation, enhancement, perpetuation and use of landmarks, interior landmarks and improvements located within historic districts. The Commission issues approvals for work on such designated landmarks and within such districts which, following procedures stated in Sections 25-305, 25-306, 25-307, 25-308, 25-310 and 25-318 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, it determines to be appropriate in accordance with the factors and standards provided under Sections 25-306, 25-307, 25-310, 25-318.

The purpose of the proposed rule is to set forth the Landmarks Preservation Commission's regulatory policies regarding the installation of public pay telephones.

Chapter 2 of Title 63 of the Rules of the City of New York is amended by adding a new section 2-21, to read as follows. New material is indicated by underlining.

2-21 Rules Relating to Installation of Public Pay Telephones

(a) Introduction. Public pay telephones have been part of the city's street scape for half a century. First introduced in the 1950s pursuant to a franchise agreement with the city, legally permitted public pay telephones contribute to the urban experience as well as provide an important communication link for business, pleasure and public health and safety. These public pay telephones have traditionally had a quiet presence on the street scape that allowed for their identification without calling undue attention to themselves. The provisions set forth below are intended to ensure that public pay telephones installed in areas under the jurisdiction of the Landmarks Preservation Commission are installed in a manner that does not damage or destroy historic fabric and that the design and placement of such phones shall not call undue attention to themselves or detract from the significant architectural features of an improvement or a historic district or adversely affect a historic district's distinct sense of place.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Curbfront" shall mean the sidewalk curb that divides the sidewalk from the roadway.

(2) "Public pay telephone" or PPT" shall be defined by Section 23-401(f) of the Administrative Code of the City of New York.

(3) "PPT Enclosure" shall be defined as any associated housing or enclosure that partially or fully surrounds a PPT, and including an associated pedestal, which has been approved by the Art Commission.

(4) "PPT Franchise Agreement" shall mean a franchise granted by the City pursuant to the revised solicitation issued by the Department of Information Technology and Telecommunications ("DoITT") on June 9, 1997 pursuant to Resolution No. 2248 or any subsequent solicitation with a similar purpose whether or not such subsequent solicitation includes all or part of the components of the June 9, 1997 solicitation.

(c) Approval of PPT Enclosure Design and Installation.

(1) No application to the Commission, and no certificate, approval, permit or report shall be required for a proposal to install a PPT Enclosure if such proposal meets the following criteria:

(i) The PPT Enclosure is proposed to be installed no farther than 24 inches and no closer than 18 inches of the curbfront in an area zoned for commercial or manufacturing uses pursuant to the New York City Zoning Resolution;

(ii) Each PPT Enclosure shall be designed to be inconspicuous and to not call undue attention to itself, and shall have an exterior dimension no greater than 35" wide x 44" long x 90" high. A maximum of two PPTs may be installed in-line together, but in such instance the enclosure shall be no greater than 35" wide x 88" long x 90" high. The height limitation shall include the height of a mast if one is installed. The PPT Enclosure may have clear glazing panels and shall be rectilinear if the PPT Enclosure is designed to have advertising panels;

(iii) The PPT Enclosure shall not be installed in or on, or in the mortar joints between, bluestone, granite, slate or brick paving material, nor shall such paving material be disturbed in any manner in connection with the installation of the PPT;

(iv) The PPT Enclosure shall not be installed in front of an improvement designated as a landmark;

(v) The telephone and power lines to and from such PPT Enclosure, or any conduit containing such lines, shall not be visible;

(vi) The nonglazed portion of the PPT Enclosure shall be a dark brown, dark green, black or dark grey color, or is uncolored stainless steel or clear-finished aluminum. If the PPT Enclosure is less than 15 inches by 36 inches, all portions of the PPT Enclosure shall be stainless steel or clear-finished aluminum;

(vii) If the PPT Enclosure has advertising panels, the advertising panels shall be limited to two side panels, each of which is not larger than 27" wide x 57" high. There shall be no advertising panel on the rear of the PPT Enclosure facing the street. The advertising panels shall not be illuminated in any fashion. Advertising shall be limited solely to the PPT Enclosure. No advertising shall be permitted on a PPT Enclosure that is smaller than 27" wide x 57 inches high. No PPT Enclosure shall have any light emitting diode (L.E.D.) lettering, design or advertising. In addition to the above, a PPT Enclosure may identify the name or logo of the owner of the PPT and the fact that it is a public telephone. Where such identification is illuminated, it shall be illuminated internally from behind the lens, be limited to the top two inches of the PPT Enclosure, and may occur on all sides of the PPT Enclosure; and

(viii) The proposed PPT installation meets all applicable terms, conditions and requirements of the PPT Franchise Agreement, and all applicable distance, clearance and other siting requirements set forth in Title 67 of the Rules of the City of New York

(2)(i) All other proposals to install a PPT Enclosure shall be reviewed and approved by the Landmarks Preservation Commission by a certificate of appropriateness public hearing, report, permit for minor work or certificate of no effect, as appropriate.

(ii) Application Procedures for proposals to install a PPT Enclosure requiring a certificate, permit or report. An application form shall be filed for each proposed PPT Enclosure. Notwithstanding the requirements of section 2-01 of Title 63 of the Rules of the City of New York, the application form for the installation of a PPT Enclosure shall be signed by the person who owns the PPT or the agent or principal of such person, or any other person authorized to apply for a permit to install a PPT pursuant to the PPT Franchise Agreement or Title 67 of the Rules of the City of New York. No advertising shall be permitted on non-curbside PPTs or PPT Enclosure.

(3) Nothing in this rule shall be interpreted to obviate the need to obtain all necessary approvals from the Department of Information Technology and Telecommunications for all installations of PPT Enclosures.

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

CONSTRUCTION/CONSTRUCTION SERVICES OR CONSTRUCTION RELATED SERVICES

The City of New York is committed to achieving excellence in the design and construction of its capital program, and building on the tradition of innovation in architecture and engineering that has contributed to the City's prestige as a global destination.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Department of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority. Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contract Services at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction.

Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Reports of the Committee on Finance

Report for Res. No. 841-A

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution concerning the increase in the annual expenditure for the 82nd Street Business Improvement District and the Jamaica Center Mall Special Assessment District and the setting of the time and place for the hearing of the local law increasing the annual expenditure for such districts.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on February 16, 2005 (Minutes, page 1024) the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This resolution sets a date for a public hearing pursuant to requests from one Business Improvement District ("BID") and one Special Assessment District to increase their annual expenditures as of July 1, 2004.

Pursuant to § § 25-410(b) and 25-416 of the Administrative Code, a BID or Special Assessment District may obtain an increase in its budget (i.e. the total amount allowed to be expended annually by the BID or Special Assessment District for improvements, services maintenance and operation) by means of the adoption of a local law amending the BID or Special Assessment District's district plan. Such a local law may be adopted by the City Council after a determination that it is in the public interest to authorize such an increase in the maximum annual amount, and that the tax and debt limits prescribed in section 25-412 of the Administrative Code will not be exceeded. Notice of the hearing on this local law must be published in at least one newspaper having general circulation in the district specifying the time when and the place where the hearing will be held and stating the increase proposed in the maximum amount to be expended annually.

Although this is the only relevant legal requirement for the provision of notice prior to the Council approving these BID and Special Assessment District budget increases, in 2002 when the Committee considered budget increases for 19 BIDs, the Finance Committee Chair informed the Department of Business Services that it desired written notices of the proposed increases and the hearing date to be mailed to property owners within the BIDs, and would only consider budget increases for those BIDs providing such additional notice. The Chair has requested that the same procedure be followed with regard to the increases that are the subject of this resolution.

The BID and Special Assessment District have requested to increase the amount to be expended annually, beginning on July 1, 2004, as follows: 82nd Street BID, from $187,000 to $194,900; and Jamaica Center Mall Special Assessment District, from $590,000 to $737, 500 (equal to $595,500 in sub-district 1 and $142,000 in sub-district 2 of such district).

The date set by this resolution for the hearing on the legislation that would increase the annual expenditures of the 82nd Street BID and the Jamaica Center Mall Special Assessment District is March 23rd, 2005 at 10:30 a.m. in the Committee Room in City Hall.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

(The following is the text of Res. No. 841:)

Res. No. 841-A

Resolution concerning the increase in the annual expenditure for the 82nd Street Business Improvement District and the Jamaica Center Mall Special Assessment District and the setting of the time and place for the hearing of the local law increasing the annual expenditure for such districts.

By Council Members Weprin, Sears and Gennaro (by request of the Mayor).

Whereas, pursuant to Chapter 4 of Title 25 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York or the predecessor of such Chapter (the "BID Law") the City established the 82nd Street Business Improvement District in the City of New York; and

Whereas, the Jamaica Center Mall Special Assessment District was established by the Board of Estimate pursuant to Chapter 665 of the laws of New York of 1978; and

Whereas, Section 25-416 of the BID Law (whose parallel provision in the General Municipal Law is Section 980-0) states, in relevant part, that "special... .assessment districts... .shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter [the BID Law] but shall not be required to comply with any provisions of this chapter which are contrary to or more restrictive than those under which the district was established...."; and

Whereas, Section 25-410 (b) of the BID Law provides a procedure for authorizing "the amount to be expended annually" in business improvement districts, and pursuant to Section 25-416 of the BID Law in special assessment districts; and

Whereas, pursuant to Local Law 82 for the year 1990, the City Council assumed responsibility for adopting legislation relating to Business Improvement Districts; and

Whereas, pursuant to Section 25-410 (b) of the BID Law, an increase in the amount to be expended annually may be adopted by local law, provided that the City Council determines, after a public hearing, that it is in the public interest to authorize the increase and that the tax and debt limits prescribed in Section 25-412 of the BID Law will not be exceeded; and

Whereas, the Business Improvement District and the Special Assessment District wish to increase the amount to be expended annually beginning on July 1, 2004, as follows: 82nd Street, $194,900; and Jamaica Center Mall, $737,500.

Whereas, pursuant to Section 25-410 (b) of the BID Law, the City Council is required to give notice of the public hearing by publication of a notice in at least one newspaper having general circulation in the districts specifying the time when and the place where the hearing will be held and stating the proposed amount to be expended annually; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Council of the City of New York, pursuant to Section 25-410 (b) of the BID Law hereby directs that:

(i) March 23rd, 2005 is the date and the City Council Committee Room, 2nd floor, City Hall, is the place and 10:30 a.m. is the time for a public hearing (the "Public Hearing") to hear all persons interested in the legislation, which would increase the amount to be expended annually in the Business Improvement District and the Special Assessment District; and

(ii) On behalf of the City Council and pursuant to Section 25-410 (b) of the BID Law, the 82nd Street District Management Association, Inc. and the Jamaica Center Improvement Association, Inc. are hereby authorized to publish in a newspaper of general circulation in each district, not less than ten (10) days prior to the Public Hearing, a notice stating the time and place of the Public Hearing and setting forth the increase in the amount to be expended annually in the Business Improvement District and the Special Assessment District.

At this point, the Speaker (Council Member Miller) announced that the following items had been preconsidered by the Committee on Finance and have been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for L.U. No. 408

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving Section 202 Supportive Housing Program for the Elderly, Scheuer House of Brighton Beach.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on March 9, 2005 the annexed Land Use resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

(The following is the text of a memo to the Finance Committee from the Finance Division of the New York City Council:)

March 8, 2005

TO: Hon. David Weprin Chair, Finance Committee

Members of the Finance Committee

FROM: David Pechefsky, Finance Division

RE: Finance Committee Agenda of March 9: Resolution approving a tax exemption for one Preconsidered Land Use Item; Council District 48

HPD has submitted a request to the Council to approve a property tax exemption for a Section 202 Supportive Housing Program for the Elderly development of 153 units in Council Member Nelson's District. The sponsor of the project intends to refinance its original HUD mortgage in order to fund needed repairs, decrease debt service costs, and facilitate the provision of additional services to tenants.

As part of this plan, HPD is requesting that a tax exemption be granted for thirty-five years on substantially the same terms as the current tax exemption for this project. This extended tax exemption would be subject to regulatory agreements that would require that the buildings continue to be operated as low-income senior housing. Because the Board of Estimate had previously approved property tax exemptions for these projects under the terms usually granted to Section 202 developments there is no immediate impact on City revenues should the Council approve of this item. The value of the tax exemption is estimated to be approximately $204,000 in Fiscal 2006 and $10.2 million over the 35 year length of the exemption.

Council Member Nelson approves of this item.

Accordingly, your Committee recommends its adoption.

In connection herewith, Council Members Weprin and Nelson offered the following resolution:

Res. No. 875

Resolution approving a partial exemption from real property taxes for a property located at 3161 Brighton 6th Street (Block 8693, Lot 12), Brooklyn, pursuant to Section 577 of the Private Housing Finance Law (Preconsidered L.U. No. 408).

By Council Members Weprin and Nelson.

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development ("HPD") submitted to the Council its request dated February 7, 2005 that the Council take the following action regarding property located at 3161 Brighton 6th Street (Block 8693, Lot 12), the Borough of Brooklyn:

Approve a partial exemption of the property from real property taxes pursuant to Section 577 of the Private Housing Finance Law;

Reports of the Committee on General Welfare

Report for Int. No. 266-A

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving and adopting, as adopted a Local Law to amend the New York City charter, in relation to the administration for children's services.

The Committee on General Welfare to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1148) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

The Committee on General Welfare, chaired by Council Member Bill de Blasio, will meet on Wednesday, March 9, 2005, at 11:15 a.m. to consider Prop. Int. No. 266-A, which would amend the New York City charter in relation to the administration for children's services.

Background

There were approximately 896,000 victims of child abuse and neglect nationwide in 2002.[1] In New York City there were 51,477 reports of abuse and/or neglect in City Fiscal Year 2004, including approximately 17,300 substantiated cases.[2] In October 2004 alone the State Central Register referred 4,064 abuse and neglect reports involving 6,019 children to the Administration for Children's Services ("ACS").[3] The State Central Register refers reports of alleged incidents of abuse or neglect in New York City to ACS, where they are entered into a computer database system and investigated.

ACS uses the state-administered CONNECTIONS computer database system to track child protective cases. Tracking child protective cases helps ACS provide ongoing services to families where there have been allegations or findings of child abuse or neglect, including counseling, parenting classes, domestic violence intervention and substance abuse treatment.[4]

ACS currently uses the name of the mother of the child to identify child protective cases. Cases are identified using the mother's name regardless of the mother's role in the child protective case or active role in the child's life. Persons who have had cases opened under their names regardless of their direct involvement in the case or investigation may feel stigmatized by their perceived involvement in a child protective matter or suffer adverse consequences from their perceived involvement. Furthermore, tracking child protective cases using the name of the mother perpetuates the assumption that the mother is responsible for children. In addition, tracking cases by the mother's name may not facilitate child-oriented services. Using the child's name to track a child protective case facilitates communication and coordination with other organizations or individuals who provide services to children, including doctors, schools, and caregivers of children who do not reside with their parents. At the General Welfare Committee's December 9, 2004 hearing regarding Int. No. 266, ACS provided testimony indicating its plans to review alternative ways of tracking child protective cases.

Jurisdictions across the country track child protective cases in various ways. Illinois primarily tracks child protective cases by the head of the household, which includes both parents in a two-parent household, the parent in a one-parent household, or the primary caregiver if the child does not reside with either parent.[5] In California, the Children and Family Services Division of the California Department of Social Services operates a statewide database in which new child protective cases are categorized using the child's name.[6] California's child case tracking system, the Child Welfare Services Case Management System ("CWS/CMS"), was the largest statewide child welfare case management system in the United States as of June 2002.[7] In the California system, any case can be located using its assigned identification number, the alleged perpetrator of abuse or neglect, the victim or other persons associated with or involved in the case.

Child protective services are designed to best ensure the safety and well-being of the child. Prop. Int. No. 266-A would require modification of the system used by ACS to track child protective cases and evaluation of similar types of tracking devices and other data collection systems to ensure that the system treats all persons fairly and does not stigmatize individuals based on gender or relationship to a child.

Analysis

Prop. Int. No. 266-A would amend Section 617 of the New York City charter to add a new subdivision c that would prohibit the agency practice of using any tracking system, record keeping or reporting system or data collection system or device that may prejudice, stigmatize or otherwise harm a person because of his or her gender or relationship to a child or children involved in a child protective matter.

Report for Int. No. 408-A

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the posting or dissemination in homeless shelters of signage and other materials relating to the reporting of child abuse and neglect and to proper infant sleeping position and arrangement.

The Committee on General Welfare to which was referred on July 21, 2004 (Minutes, page 3474) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

The General Welfare Committee, chaired by Council Member Bill de Blasio, will meet on Wednesday, March 9, 2005, at 11:15 a.m. to consider Prop. Int. No. 408-A, which would amend the administrative code of the city of New York in relation to requiring the posting or dissemination in homeless shelters of signage and other materials relating to the reporting of child abuse and neglect and to proper infant sleeping position and arrangement.

Background

On May 20, 2004, 3-month-old Colesvinton Florestal died from physical abuse allegedly inflicted by his parents. At the time of the infant's death, the Florestal family, including his parents and his 5-year-old half-brother, lived in the Hamilton Hotel, a private hotel that contracts with the Department of Homeless Services ("DHS") to provide shelter for homeless families. The Florestal family had been involved with the City's child welfare system since 1999, and Ms. Florestal herself also had spent time in foster care. At the time of Colesvinton Florestal's death the family did not have an active case with the Administration for Children's Services ("ACS") and therefore was not receiving services from the agency.[8] The deaths of Colesvinton Florestal and other young children in New York City's shelter system necessitate increased dissemination of information about child abuse and neglect and the importance of proper infant sleeping positions at homeless shelters in New York City.

ACS investigates approximately 55,000 reports of child abuse and/or neglect involving over 88,000 children in New York City annually.[9] According to ACS, there were 56 child fatalities with signs of abuse and neglect reported to the State Central Register ("SCR") in 2003.[10] Of the 56 child fatalities in 2003, 10 occurred in the shelter system.[11] A preliminary review of fatalities of children reported to the SCR in 2004 indicates a disturbing increase in child fatalities in New York City. As of September 2004, 58 child fatalities had been reported to the SCR citywide.[12] Furthermore, 29 of the 58 reported child fatalities in the first 9 months of 2004 were among families with prior ACS involvement, as compared to 16 in the first 9 months of 2003.[13] According to media reports, 15 infant fatalities in the first 9 months of 2004 were attributed to suffocation resulting from rollover while co-sleeping with parents, as compared to 1 rollover death in the first 9 months of 2003.[14]

The General Welfare Committee held oversight hearings on infant fatalities in homeless shelters on June 30, 2004 and November 9, 2004. In June 2004, ACS and DHS convened an interagency task force to discuss information sharing between agencies, and on July 30, 2004, ACS and DHS announced new initiatives aimed at improving services provided to homeless families with child welfare involvement.[15] These initiatives include introducing a universal screen for open, active child welfare cases for all family shelter applicants, conducting routine training of shelter staff on how to recognize and report abuse and neglect, updating instructions to child welfare staff on identifying families with active cases in the shelter system, transferring information gathered at intake to shelter staff, distributing child safety videos in six languages and brochures to DHS shelters, and conducting routine data checks to determine which families in the shelter system have current child welfare involvement.[16] Furthermore, at the General Welfare Committee's November 9, 2004, oversight hearing on infant fatalities in homeless shelters, ACS and DHS testified regarding the implementation of a screen for families with closed child welfare cases as part of the new family shelter intake system.[17] ACS and DHS also described the role of the new ACS Family Services Team, comprised of up to 12 ACS employees, which will participate in the shelter intake and application process for families with children.

In addition, on October 7, 2004, ACS announced a "Child Safe" initiative in response to the increase in child fatalities as of September 2004 that includes the implementation of a public awareness campaign and community forums on how parents and communities can keep children safe.[18] On October 12, 2004, ACS announced a collaborative effort with several non-profit organizations to better protect children by making safe equipment for children more accessible.[19]

Prop. Int. No. 408-A complements other initiatives aimed at enhancing the safety of children in the city's shelter system by increasing awareness about child abuse and neglect and educating parents and providers about the dangers of co-sleeping and the importance of proper sleeping positions for infants.

Analysis

Prop. Int. No. 408-A would add a new section 21-314.1 to chapter 3 of title 21 of the administrative code of the city of New York. Prop. Int. No. 408-A would require DHS to create and/or update signs and other materials relating to the reporting of child abuse and maltreatment, and to place these signs in conspicuous places in all Tier II shelters and all other facilities that shelter homeless families.[20] These signs would include a textual example of behavior that necessitates reporting,[21] the name and contact information of the person or agency that should receive the reports,[22] and an explanation of who are mandated reporters according to law.[23]

Prop. Int. No. 408-A would also require DHS to create and/or update signs and other materials relating to proper infant sleeping position that include a textual and pictorial representation of proper infant sleeping position and arrangement.[24] These signs would be placed conspicuously at Tier II shelters and any other facilities that shelter homeless families. All materials would be translated into Arabic, Chinese, Haitian Creole, Korean, Russian, and Spanish.[25] In addition, Prop. Int. No. 408-A would require the establishment and provision of training for appropriate shelter employees on how to instruct parents with regard to proper infant sleeping position and arrangement.[26]

Effective Date

This local law shall take effect ninety days after its enactment.

(The following is the Fiscal Impact Statement for Int. No. 408-A:)

	Effective FY 05	FY Succeeding Effective FY 06	Full Fiscal Impact FY 05
Expenditures (-)	Minimal	Minimal	Minimal

IMPACT ON REVENUES: There would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: There would be a minimal impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation. This minimal cost could be absorbed by the Department's current Other Than Personal Services budget.

Report for Int. No. 522-A

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, notwithstanding the objection of the Mayor, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to creating disclosure requirements for child care facilities.

The Committee on General Welfare to which was referred on December 15, 2004 (Minutes, page 5601) and originally adopted by the Council on January 19, 2005 (Minutes, page 126) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

The Committee on General Welfare, chaired by Council Member Bill de Blasio, will meet on Wednesday, March 9, 2005, at 11:15 a.m. to consider Int. No. 522-A, which would amend the administrative code of the city of New York in relation to creating disclosure requirements for child care facilities. Int. No. 522-A was passed by the Council on January 19, 2005, and vetoed by Mayor Bloomberg on February 15, 2005. The Council received the Mayor's veto message at the Stated Meeting on February 16, 2005. Today's hearing will consider whether the Council should pass Int. No. 522-A, the Mayor's veto notwithstanding.

Background

On August 11, 2004, a seven-month old infant died at a Group Family Day Care facility in Forest Hills, Queens, hours after a team of inspectors from the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's ("DOHMH") Bureau of Day Care ("BDC") visited the site. According to media reports, Matthew Perilli suffocated when two toddlers piled toys and stuffed animals on top of him as he lay in his crib.[27] The tragic death led to changes at the BDC and a sustained examination of oversight exercised by DOHMH, including the amount of information regarding child day care facilities made available to the public.

According to the BDC, there are a total of 12,593 child care facilities in New York City.[28] Of this total, approximately 9,433 are regulated facilities, including 1,931 Group Day Care facilities, 1,967 Group Family Day Care facilities, 4,525 Family Day Care facilities, and 1,010 School Age facilities.[29] DOHMH regulates and licenses Group Day Care pursuant to Article 47 of the New York City Health Code.[30] The New York State Office of Children and Family Services ("OCFS") contracts with DOHMH to regulate Group Family Day Care, Family Day Care, and School Age program sites within New York City.[31]

The complex array of city and state regulations and the different types of child care create confusion about child care programs in New York City. Furthermore, parents cannot currently easily access basic information about child care programs that they need to make informed decisions about their children's care. The "Report on the Bureau of Day Care," released on October 7, 2004 by the Division of Financial and Strategic Management at DOHMH, found a lack of parental understanding regarding the regulatory procedures that day care operators must follow and the standard of care that facilities must provide.[32] While OCFS posts some information about providers on its website,[33] DOHMH does not make information about all types of child care in New York City easily accessible, nor does it currently provide information about inspections or violations. The Report on the Bureau of Day Care recommended that DOHMH post information regarding providers, child capacity, and the complaint process on both the internet and on-site at day care facilities.[34]

Int. No. 522-A would require child care providers to distribute information regarding past inspections to persons utilizing their child care services. In addition, the bill would require providers to notify parents of any serious violations by posting a sign on the door or by providing a copy of the violation to parents directly within 24 hours of receiving a citation for a serious violation. Int. No. 522-A would also require child care providers to post signs indicating that the most recent inspection report may be accessed through DOHMH's website or the website of the New York State Office of Children and Family Services ("OCFS"). Increased availability of information would enable parents to make informed decisions regarding child care services in New York City.

Res. No. 878

Resolution approving an Urban Development Action Area Project located at 470 Convent Avenue (Block 2065/Lot 48), Manhattan, and waiving the urban development action area designation requirement and the Uniform Land Use Review Procedure, pursuant to Sections 693 and 694 of the General Municipal Law (L.U. No. 310; 20055089 HAM).

By Council Members Katz and Martinez.

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development ("HPD") submitted to the Council on October 13, 2004 its request dated September 27, 2004 that the Council take the following actions regarding the following Urban Development Action Area Project (the "Project") located at 470 Convent Avenue (Block 2065/Lot 48), Community District 9, Borough of Manhattan (the "Disposition Area"):

1. Find that the present status of the Disposition Area tends to impair or arrest the sound growth and development of the municipality and that the proposed Urban Development Action Area Project is consistent with the policy and purposes stated in Section 691 of the General Municipal Law;

2. Waive the area designation requirement of Section 693 of the General Municipal Law pursuant to said Section;

3. Waive the requirements of Sections 197-c and 197-d of the New York City Charter pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law;

4. Approve the Project as an Urban Development Action Area Project pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law; and

5. Approve a partial exemption of the Project from real property taxes pursuant to Section 577 of Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law (the "Tax Exemption");

WHEREAS, the Project is to be developed on land that is now a municipally-owned area as defined in Section 692 of the General Municipal Law, consists solely of the rehabilitation or conservation of existing private or multiple dwellings or the construction of one- to four-unit dwellings, and does not require any change in land use permitted under the New York City Zoning Resolution;

WHEREAS, the project description that HPD provided to the Council states that the purchaser in connection with the Sale (the "Sponsor") is a duly organized housing development fund company under Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law;

WHEREAS, upon due notice, the Council held a public hearing on the Project on February 28, 2005;

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the land use and financial implications and other policy issues relating to the Project;

RESOLVED:

The Council finds that the present status of the Disposition Area tends to impair or arrest the sound growth and development of the City of New York and that a designation of the Project as an urban development action area project is consistent with the policy and purposes stated in Section 691 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council waives the area designation requirement of the Disposition Area as an urban development action area under Section 693 of the General Municipal Law pursuant to said Section.

The Council waives the requirements of Sections 197-c and 197-d of the New York City Charter pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council approves the Project as an Urban Development Action Area Project pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law.

The Project shall be disposed of and developed upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Project Summary that HPD has submitted to the Council, a copy of which is attached hereto.

The Council approves the partial Tax Exemption as follows:

The partial tax exemption provided hereunder shall commence upon the date of conveyance of the housing project to Sponsor ("Effective Date") and shall terminate upon July 1, 2029 ("Expiration Date"); provided, however, that such partial tax exemption shall terminate if the Department of Housing Preservation and Development determines that (i) Sponsor is not organized as a housing development fund corporation, (ii) Sponsor is not operating the housing project in accordance with the requirements of Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law, (iii) such real property has not been, or is not being, developed, used, and/or operated in compliance with the requirements of all applicable agreements made by Sponsor with, or for the benefit of, the City of New York.

Those portions of the property included in the housing project which are devoted to business or commercial use (collectively, "Commercial Property"), if any shall not be eligible for real property tax exemption hereunder. The Commercial Property shall be subject to full real property taxation; provided, however, that nothing herein shall prohibit Sponsor from utilizing any abatement, exemption, or other tax benefit for which the Commercial Property would otherwise be eligible.

All of the value of the property, other than the Commercial Property, included in the housing project (collectively, "Residential Property") shall be exempt from real property taxes, other than assessments for local improvements; provided, however, that Sponsor shall make a partial annual real estate tax payment on the Residential Property. Sponsor shall make such partial annual real estate tax payment on an assessed valuation equal to the lesser of (i) an amount equal to the full assessed valuation of the Residential Property, or (ii) an amount calculated by multiplying $3 500 times the number of residential units included in the housing project and increasing such product by six percent (6%) on July 1, 1990 and July 1 of each successive year, but not by more than twenty percent (20%) in any five-year period.

Tenant shall be solely responsible for the security of the Premises and Tenant's operations thereat, and must coordinate its security measures with the other tenants, occupants and users of the Staten Island Homeport Pier (including, without limitation, the U.S. Navy which has a docking agreement with the City of New York for the northern portion of the Staten Island Homeport Pier) and elsewhere at the Staten Island Homeport to ensure the overall security of the Premises.

Section 3.5 Tenant's Access Through Homeport to and from the Premises. During the Term, Tenant shall have the right to access the Premises via the Staten Island Homeport and the Staten Island Homeport Pier through a designated gate or gates at the entrance to the Staten Island Homeport and/or the Staten Island Homeport Pier. Landlord and Lease Administrator may establish such security and/or identification measures for Tenant and its Agents and Invitees as Landlord and Lease Administrator may reasonably deem appropriate to maintain adequate security for the Premises and the Staten Island Homeport.

Section 3.6 Landlord's Access to the Premises. Tenant shall at all times permit inspection of the Premises by the Landlord and the Lease Administrator and their Agents and shall permit inspection thereof by or on behalf of prospective future occupants and parties involved with the development of the Premises or the Staten Island Homeport. Landlord, and Lease Administrator and their respective Agents shall have the right at all times to enter upon the Premises with workers, materials and equipment to construct, reconstruct, lay, relay, maintain, operate and inspect Landlord's and/or Lease Administrator's facilities in or adjacent to the Premises. The easement reserved hereby is in addition to any other easement, right-of-way or other rights that constitutes a Title Matter as described in Exhibit B attached hereto.

Section 3.7 Municipal Easement. Landlord hereby reserves for itself and Lease Administrator, and their respective Agents and Invitees, an easement for ingress and egress to, from and over the Premises for the following purposes: (i) to maintain, replace and repair existing municipal facilities located within the Premises, if any; (ii) to maintain its fire communications facilities, sewers, water mains, and street sub-surface and pier sub-surface below the Premises, if any; and (iii) to access the bulkhead area and the pier and other facilities adjacent to the Premises. The easement reserved hereby is in addition to any other easement, right-of-way or other rights that constitutes a Title Matter as described in Exhibit B hereto.

Section 3.8 Lease is Subject to Title Matters. This Lease and the interest of the Tenant in the Lease and Premises is subject to the encumbrances, exceptions, reservations, conditions of title and other matters affecting Landlord's interest in the Premises whether or not of record set forth in Exhibit B hereto (the "Title Matters").

PERMITTED USE

Section 4.1 Permitted Use. The Premises shall be used and occupied only for the Permitted Use specified in Section 1.9 of Article 1 hereof and for no other purpose.

Section 4.2 Prohibited Activities.

(a) Tenant shall not use or occupy the Premises, or permit or suffer the Premises or any part thereof to be used or occupied, for any unlawful, illegal, prohibited, or hazardous business, use or purpose or in any way in violation of any Laws or any of the terms and conditions of this Lease, or in such manner as may make void or voidable any insurance then in force with respect to the Premises. Immediately, upon the discovery of any such unlawful, illegal, prohibited, or hazardous business, use or purpose, Tenant shall take all necessary steps, legal and equitable, to compel the discontinuance thereof, including if necessary, the removal from the Premises of any Agent or Invitee using any portion of the Premises for any such business, use or purpose.

(b) Tenant agrees that the following activities, by way of example only and without limitation, are inconsistent with this Lease and are strictly prohibited: (a) any activity, or the maintaining of any object, item, substance or thing, which is not within the Permitted Use; (b) any activity, or the maintaining of any object, item, substance or thing, which will in any way increase the existing rate of, affect or cause a cancellation of, any fire or other insurance policy covering the Premises or elsewhere in the Staten Island Homeport, any part thereof or any of its contents; (c) any activity or object or item substance or thing which will overload or cause damage to the Premises; (d) any activity or any other article, object, item, substance or thing, which constitutes waste or public or private nuisance to owners or occupants of adjacent premises or properties, including, but not limited to, the preparation, manufacture or mixing of anything that might emit any objectionable odors, noises or lights onto adjacent properties, or the use of loudspeakers or sound or light apparatus which can be heard or seen outside the Premises; (e) any activity which will in any way injure, obstruct or interfere with the rights of other tenants or of owners or occupants of adjacent premises or properties, including rights of ingress and egress; (f) use of the Premises for recreational uses (e.g., fishing or marina uses other than Permitted Uses) or personal living quarters; (g) loitering on the Premises or elsewhere in the Staten Island Homeport by any of the Tenant's Agents or Invitees; (h) any auction, distress, fire, bankruptcy or going-out-of-business sale on the Premises without the prior written consent of Landlord or Lease Administrator.

Section 4.3 No Advertisement. Tenant shall not affix any advertisement, notice or sign in, to, or on the Premises other than those required by law, without first obtaining the specific written consent and authorization of Lease Administrator.

Section 4.4 Legality of Use: Landlord and Lease Administrator make no representation as to the legality of use of the Premises for Tenant's intended purposes. In the event any use or proposed use is declared illegal by a court of competent jurisdiction, Tenant covenants and agrees that neither Landlord, Lease Administrator, nor Apple, their respective officers, officials, directors, agents, representatives, invitees and employees, shall be liable for any damages arising out of or related to such illegal use and that Tenant shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless Landlord, Lease Administrator, Apple, their respective Agents and Invitees against any liability or expense therefor in accordance with Article 13 entitled "Indemnification" hereof.

TERM OF LEASE

Section 5.1 Initial Term: The Premises are leased by Tenant from the Landlord for the Term specified in Section 1.2 of Article 1 of this Lease.

Section 5.2 Renewal Terms: If applicable, Tenant shall be entitled to options to renew the Initial Term of the Lease specified in Section 1.3 of this Lease.

RENT

Tenant shall pay to Landlord, in the manner herein described, the following Rental:

Section 6.1 Base Rent. Tenant shall pay to Landlord Base Rent, as set forth in Section 1.4 hereof. Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.5 pertaining to the Rent Commencement Date, Tenant shall make the first payment of Base Rent on or before the Commencement Date and thereafter shall pay the Base Rent, in advance, in equal monthly installments, on or before the first day of each calendar month throughout the Term. If the Commencement Date is other than the first day of the month, or the Expiration Date is other than the last day of the month, the Base Rent for those months shall be apportioned as the number of days of occupancy bears to those months.

Section 6.2 Base Rent Adjustment. If applicable, as set forth in Section 1.6, commencing on the first Anniversary Date of this Lease and on each Anniversary Date thereafter, the Base Rent shall be adjusted for the succeeding year in direct proportion to the percentage increase in the Current Index over the Base Index. In no case shall the Base Rent, as adjusted, be less than the Base Rent in effect immediately prior to the Anniversary Date. If the Current Index has increased over the Base Index, the adjusted Base Rent shall be determined by multiplying the Base Rent set forth in Section 1.4 by a fraction, the numerator of which is the Current Index and the denominator of which is the Base Index, as follows:

Section 6.3 Percentage Rent. If applicable, as set forth in Section 1.7 hereof, Tenant agrees to pay Percentage Rent to Landlord on the terms and conditions set forth in the Addendum attached hereto.

Section 6.4 Additional Rent. Tenant shall pay or cause to be paid, and discharge or cause to be discharged, when the same shall become due, but in any event not later than the first day of the month following the giving of any notice related thereto, any and all amounts of Additional Rent, as defined in Article 2. If Tenant fails to pay or discharge any amount, liability or obligation of Additional Rent, the Landlord and Lease Administrator shall have all rights, powers and remedies provided herein or by law or in equity that the Landlord would have in the case of non-payment of the Base Rent.

Section 6.5 Late Payment Charge. Tenant acknowledges that late payment by Tenant to Landlord of Base Rent and/or Additional Rent will cause Landlord, Lease Administrator and/or Apple increased costs not contemplated by this Lease, the exact amount of which will be extremely difficult to ascertain. Such costs include, but are not limited to, processing and accounting charges. Accordingly, a late charge will be paid by Tenant for each month that such Rental, or any portion thereof, remains due and unpaid, plus reasonable attorneys' fees incurred by Landlord and/or the Lease Administrator by reason of Tenant's failure to pay Base Rent and/or Additional Rent when due under this Lease. If any installment of the Base Rent and/or Additional Rent shall become overdue for ten (10) days beyond the date on which it is due and payable as provided in this Lease, a late charge of two percent (2%) (with a minimum late charge of Ten Dollars ($10.00) (computed on a 30-day month) on the sum so overdue shall become immediately due and payable to Landlord as liquidated damages for the administrative costs and expenses incurred by Landlord by reason of Tenant's failure to make prompt payment and said late charges shall be payable by Tenant without notice or demand. The parties agree that such late charges represent a fair and reasonable estimate of the cost which Landlord and Lease Administrator will incur by reason of any late payment by Tenant. The failure by Landlord or Lease Administrator to insist upon the performance by Tenant of its obligations to pay late charges in one or more instances shall not constitute a waiver by Landlord or Lease Administrator of their right to enforce the provisions of this Section 6.5 in any other instance thereafter occurring. The provisions of this Section 6.5 shall not be construed to extend any grace periods or notice periods regarding any Rental payments required to be made by Tenant under this Lease. The provisions of this Section 6.5 shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease.

Section 6.6 Manner and Place of Payment. All payments of Base Rent, Additional Rent, and other Rental hereunder shall be paid to Landlord (or, in the case of Impositions, to such other entity as required by the rules and regulations governing payment thereof) when the same shall become due and payable as provided herein, without abatement, deduction, set off, prior notice or demand (except as otherwise provided in this Lease), by check (or by certified check where such payment is called for herein) drawn on an account maintained with a bank that is a member of the New York Clearing House Association (or any successor entity with similar functions), accepted subject to collection and payable to the order of Apple Industrial Development Corp. at its address set forth in Section 1.11 hereof, or to the order of such other entity, or at such other address as Landlord or Lease Administrator may designate in writing. All payments made in pursuant to this Lease by Tenant shall be denominated in United States Dollars, which shall be the currency of account for all purposes. Impositions shall be payable in the form and to the location provided by rules and regulations governing the payment thereof.

Section 6.7 Acceptance of Partial Performance; No Waiver. The acceptance by Landlord, Lease Administrator, Tenant or Apple of any partial performance of any obligation hereunder (including, without limitation, partial payment of Base Rent or any Additional Rent) on the part of any party to be performed hereunder, or the failure by Landlord, Lease Administrator, Tenant or Apple to enforce any provision of this Lease shall not be considered a waiver of any of said party's rights either under this Lease, at law or in equity.

Section 6.8 Net Lease. It is the intention of Landlord and Tenant that, except as provided in Article 7 of this Lease regarding Impositions: Taxes and Assessments, (a) Rental shall be absolutely net to Landlord without any abatement, diminution, reduction, deduction, counterclaim, credit, setoff, or offset whatsoever so that each lease year of the Term shall yield, net to Landlord, all Rental, and (b) except as expressly provided in this Lease with respect to Landlord's actions and omissions, Tenant shall pay all costs, expenses and charges of every kind relating to the Premises (except as otherwise provided in Article 7) that may arise or become due or payable during or after (but attributable to a period falling within) the Term.

IMPOSITIONS; TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS

Section 7.1 Impositions. Tenant shall be solely responsible for the payment of all Impositions (as defined in Article 2 and including, without limitation, all fees, charges and taxes) related to the Premises, the Tenant's use and occupation of the Premises , and the Tenant's business hereunder, except for real property taxes.

Section 7.2 Payment of Impositions. Tenant shall pay Impositions in the form, to the entity, and at the location provided by the rules and regulations governing the payment of such Impositions as if Tenant owned the Premises.

Section 7.3 Evidence of Payment. Tenant shall, upon Landlord's request, furnish to Landlord, within thirty (30) days after the later of the date when an Imposition is due and payable and the date upon which such request is made, canceled checks or official receipts of the appropriate taxing authority or other proof reasonably satisfactory to Landlord and Lease Administrator, evidencing the payment thereof.

Section 7.4 Survival. The provisions of this Article 7 pertaining to Impositions: Taxes and Assessments shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease.

ARTICLE 8
SECURITY DEPOSIT

Section 8.1 Tenant shall pay to Landlord or Lease Administrator (or at the Lease Administrator's direction to Apple) on or before the Commencement Date, in addition to the advance payment of the first month's Base Rent, a security deposit, in cash, in the sum specified as the Initial Deposit in Section 1.8, as security for the faithful performance by Tenant of all terms, covenants and conditions of this Lease. If the Base Rent is increased pursuant to any of the provisions of this Lease, Tenant shall increase the amount of the security deposit to maintain the same ratio of security deposit to Base Rent as existed at the Commencement Date. Any increase in the security deposit shall be delivered to Landlord or Lease Administrator (or at the Lease Administrator's direction to Apple) on the same date that such increase in the Base Rent is first due. Tenant agrees that Landlord and/or Lease Administrator (or at the Lease Administrator's direction to Apple) may (but shall not be required to) apply the security deposit in whole or in part to (a) pay any sum due to Landlord or Lease Administrator under this Lease; (b) compensate Landlord and Lease Administrator for any damage to the Premises caused by Tenant; or (c) cure any default by Tenant. If Landlord, Lease Administrator, and/or Apple uses any portion of the security deposit to cure any default by Tenant hereunder, Tenant shall immediately replenish the security deposit to the original amount. Landlord's and Lease Administrator 's obligation with respect to the security deposit is solely that of debtor and not trustee. Tenant shall not be entitled to any interest on such deposit. If Tenant is not in default at the termination of this Lease and there are no outstanding claims at law or in equity by the Landlord or Lease Administrator against Tenant or its Agents or Invitees, Landlord or Lease Administrator shall return the unused balance of the security deposit to Tenant after Tenant vacates and surrenders the Premises. The amount of the security deposit shall in no way limit Tenant's obligations under this Lease, and nothing contained in this Article 8 shall in any way diminish or be construed as waiving any of Landlord's and Lease Administrator 's other remedies set forth in this Lease or provided by Law or equity.

ARTICLE 9
UTILITY SERVICES AND OTHER SERVICES:

Section 9.1 Utilities. Tenant shall make arrangements and shall pay all charges for all utilities to be furnished on, in or to the Premises or to be used by Tenant or Tenant's Agents and Invitees, including, without limitation, gas, electrical, water, sewer and telecommunications services. Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.10, Tenant shall pay all charges for utilities, including charges for the connection and installation of the utilities specified in Section 1.10 from the location points specified therein or otherwise designated by the Landlord or Lease Administrator. Landlord and Lease Administrator make no representation as to the nature or condition of any of the utilities serving the Premises, or the adequacy of the same for Tenant's use of the Premises hereunder. Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense, install and/or maintain, as applicable, and repair all necessary utility meters and submeters, except as otherwise provided in Section 1.10.

Section 9.2 No Obligation of Landlord to Supply or Repair Utilities. Landlord shall not be required to supply any facilities, services or utilities whatsoever to the Premises and shall not have any duty or obligation to make any alteration, change, improvement, replacement, restoration or repair any such services or utilities, and, subject to the terms hereof, Tenant assumes the full and sole responsibility for the condition, operation, alteration, change, improvement, replacement, restoration, repair, maintenance and management of the said services and utilities.

Section 9.3 Tenant's Maintenance and Repair of Utilities. Tenant shall be obligated, at its sole cost and expense, to repair and maintain in good operating condition all utilities located within the Premises and all utilities installed by Tenant (whether within or outside the Premises). In the event that (i) Tenant requests Landlord or Lease Administrator to perform such maintenance or repair, whether emergency or routine, and (ii) either Landlord and/or Lease Administrator agree to perform such maintenance or repair, then Landlord or Lease Administrator, as applicable, shall charge Tenant for the cost of the work performed at the then prevailing standard rates, and Tenant agrees to pay those charges to Landlord or Lease Administrator, as applicable, promptly upon billing. Tenant shall pay for repair of utilities located outside the Premises (regardless of who installed the same) which are damaged by or adversely affected by Tenant's use (or the Tenant's Agents' or Invitees' use) of such utility and shall be responsible for all damages, liabilities and claims arising therefrom. Tenant shall procure all permits, approvals and licenses necessary to effectuate this provision. With respect to any work to be performed by or for Tenant to modify, repair, and/or improve any electrical lines serving the Premises, Tenant shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses incurred by Landlord and/or the Lease Administrator in providing its own or engaging third party electrician(s) or other licensed professional engineer(s) to review the plans and specifications for such work and to supervise and/or inspect such work.

Section 9.4 Ownership of Utility Improvements and No Warranty. The parties agree that any and all utility improvements shall become part of the realty and are not trade fixtures. Landlord and Lease Administrator make no representation or warranty that utility services, including telecommunications services, will not be interrupted. Landlord and Lease Administrator shall not be liable in damages or otherwise for any failure or interruption of any utility services, including telecommunications services, furnished to the Premises. No such failure or interruption shall constitute a basis for constructive eviction, nor entitle Tenant to terminate this Lease or abate the Rental.

Section 9.5 Other Services. Landlord shall not be required to supply any other services whatsoever to the Premises. Tenant shall make arrangements and shall pay all charges for all other services to be furnished on, in or to the Premises or to be used by Tenant or required pursuant to the U.S. Navy Contract, including, without limitation, garbage and trash collection, janitorial service and extermination service.

MAINTENANCE AND REPAIRS

Section 10.1 Tenant's Maintenance and Repair of the Premises. Tenant, at its sole cost and expense, at all times during the Term, shall put, keep and maintain the Premises and Improvements and every part thereof, and the structures thereat or to be erected thereat, if any, in good and sufficient repair and condition including without limitation, all electrical, mechanical, plumbing, communications, operating and docking systems within the Premises. Docking system includes all docking facilities, including aids to navigation, fendering, slips, ramps, floats, walkways, and mooring points (buoys, bitts, bollards, etc). Maintenance and repair required by Tenant as contemplated in this paragraph does not include structural repairs and replacements, except to the extent that the structural repairs or replacement is to any Improvement, equipment, or alteration made by the Tenant or on behalf of the Tenant (such as those pursuant to Section 11.2) and except to the extent that the Tenant shall be responsible for any structural repair or replacement required on account of Tenant's failure to satisfy its maintenance and repair obligations hereunder or required on account of any negligent or culpable act of Tenant or any of the Tenant's Agents or Invitees or any other person or entity acting on behalf of Tenant. Tenant shall provide written notice to Landlord and Lease Administrator within twenty-four (24) hours of any significant damage to the Premises. In addition to and without limiting the right of inspection set forth in Section 3.6, Landlord and/or Lease Administrator and any of their respective Agents may inspect the Premises during the Term and may direct Tenant to repair, paint or perform maintenance work on the Premises. Under no circumstances shall Landlord or Lease Administrator be obligated to maintain or repair the Premises at any time.

Section 10.2 No Rental Reductions. Tenant shall not be entitled to any charge reduction or set-off whatsoever for repairs or alterations to the Premises or for any other reason.

ARTICLE 11
IMPROVEMENTS

Section 11.1 Improvements, Changes, or Alterations. Tenant shall not make any Improvements to the Premises except with the prior written consent of Landlord or Lease Administrator.

Section 11.2 Tenant's Construction Obligations. After the Commencement Date and on such date as Tenant in its reasonable judgment deems adequate to coordinate with the arrival of the U.S. Navy Ship(s), Tenant, at no cost to the Landlord, shall cause the construction of all Improvements to the Premises required under the U.S. Navy Contract thereof (the "Berthing Improvements"[if any]). Tenant shall perform or construct all Berthing Improvements in accordance with this Lease. Tenant shall cause the Berthing Improvements to be completed on or before the period of performance set forth in the U.S. Navy Contract, or within such extension of time as the Landlord or Lease Administrator may reasonably grant in writing. Unless otherwise advised by the Landlord or Lease Administrator, in their sole discretion, all Berthing Improvements, upon the expiration of the Lease, shall become the property of Landlord and Tenant will not be required to remove Berthing Improvements.

Section 11.3 Dredging. Tenant is responsible for all dredging to extent required under the U.S. Navy Contract to provide layberth services at the Premises for the U.S. Navy Ships, at the Tenant's sole cost and expense, including costs of disposing of dredged materials in accordance with all Laws, Environmental Laws, and Regulatory Approvals.

Section 11.4 Regulatory Approvals. Tenant shall not make, nor cause or suffer to be made, any Improvements to the Premises until Tenant shall have procured and paid for all Regulatory Approvals required to be obtained for such Improvements, including, but not limited to, any building or similar permits required by City of New York, in the exercise of its jurisdiction with respect to the Premises, in its governmental capacity.

Section 11.5 Construction Requirements. All Improvements to the Premises made by or on behalf of Tenant shall be subject to the following conditions, which Tenant covenants faithfully to perform:

(a) All Improvements shall be constructed in a good and workmanlike manner and in compliance with all applicable building, zoning and other applicable Laws, and compliance with the terms of and the conditions imposed in any Regulatory Approval.

(b) All Improvements shall be performed with reasonable dispatch, delays beyond the reasonable control of Tenant excepted; and

(c) At the completion of the construction of the Improvements, Tenant shall furnish one (1) set of "as-built" drawings of the same made on or to the Premises to the Landlord or Lease Administrator. Unless otherwise stated as a condition of the Regulatory Approval, this requirement may be fulfilled by the submittal after completion of the Improvements of a hand-corrected copy of the approved permit drawing(s).

Section 11.6 Removal of Non-Consented Improvements. If Tenant constructs any Improvements to the Premises without Landlord's or Lease Administrator's prior written consent or without complying with Article 11, then, in addition to any other remedy available to Landlord and Lease Administrator, the Landlord and Lease Administrator may require Tenant to remove, at Tenant's expense, any or all such Improvements and to repair, at Tenant's expense and in good workmanlike fashion, any damage occasioned thereby.

Section 11.7 No Cost to Landlord or Lease Administrator. All Improvements made to the Premises at any time during the Term shall, at no cost or expense to Landlord or Lease Administrator, become property of Landlord, unless the Landlord first waives it right to the Improvement in writing.

Section 11.8 Landlord's and Lease Administrator's Consent. Landlord's and Lease Administrator's consent, if any, to any such proposed Improvement shall be conditioned upon Tenant's agreement to pay the reasonable fees and expenses incurred by Landlord and Lease Administrator in providing its own or engaging third party architect(s) or licensed professional engineer(s) to review the plans and specifications for such Improvement and to supervise and/or inspect the performance of such Improvement by Tenant or its Agents.

Section 11.9 Restoration to Original Condition. No later than the Expiration Date, Tenant shall restore the Premises to its original or proper condition, in Landlord's and Lease Administrator's reasonable determination, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, unless otherwise directed in writing by the Landlord or the Lease Administrator. In the event Tenant fails or neglects to do so, Landlord and Lease Administrator shall have the right to remove any Improvements and affect the restoration of the Premises, or any part thereof, at the Tenant's cost and expense.

COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS AND SECURING APPROVALS

Section 12.1 Compliance with Laws. Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense, comply with and observe the provisions of this Lease and any and all laws, rules, regulations, requirements, ordinances, resolutions, codes, and orders of any and all administrations, departments, bureaus and boards of federal, state and local authorities applicable to this Lease, the Premises, Improvements, the Staten Island Homeport Pier, the Staten Island Homeport, the slips or water adjacent to the Premises, and/or to the berthing of ships or layberth services being provided at the Premises by the Tenant and/or the use, occupancy, or maintenance of the Premises (collectively referred to as the "Laws").

Section 12.2 Regulatory Approvals and Permits. Tenant understands that Tenant's use, occupancy, and operations on the Premises, changes in use, or Improvements to the Premises may require a regulatory approval or permit ("Regulatory Approval"). This Lease does not grant authority for any operation or use which requires any other permit or approval. Tenant must obtain and comply with any such authorization(s), permit(s), or approval(s) at its sole cost and expense, including, without limitation, any required review or approval by or permit from any governmental entities (including, without limitation, the City of New York acting in its governmental capacity). Tenant shall be solely responsible for obtaining any such Regulatory Approval. All costs associated with applying for and obtaining any necessary Regulatory Approval shall be borne by Tenant. Tenant shall be solely responsible for complying with any and all conditions imposed by regulatory agencies as part of a Regulatory Approval. Any fines or penalties imposed as a result of the failure of Tenant to comply with the terms and conditions of any Regulatory Approval shall be paid and discharged by Tenant, and Landlord and Lease Administrator shall have no liability, monetary or otherwise, for said fines and penalties. To the fullest extent permitted by Law, Tenant agrees to indemnify and hold the Landlord and Lease Administrator and their Agents harmless from and against any loss, expense, cost, damage, attorneys' fees, penalties, claims or liabilities which Landlord or Lease Administrator may incur as a result of Tenant's failure to obtain or comply with the terms and conditions of any Regulatory Approval.

Section 12.3 Noise Control. As part of the obligation to comply with the Laws and in no manner a limitation on that obligation, Tenant shall comply with 24.201 et.seq. of the Administrative Code of the City of New York (the "Noise Control Code"). Tenant shall not permit or cause to be permitted, operated, conducted, constructed or manufactured on the Premises devices or activities which would cause a violation of the Noise Control Code. Any such devices and activities shall incorporate advances in the art of noise control developed for the kind and level of noise emitted or produced by such devices or activities in accordance with the regulations issued by the Department of Environmental Protection of the City of New York, or its successor.

INDEMNIFICATION

Section 13.1 Indemnification, Defense and Hold Harmless. Tenant shall forever defend, indemnify and hold harmless Landlord, Lease Administrator and Apple, and their respective Agents and Invitees, including, without limitation, their officials, directors, officers, agents, representatives, invitees and employees, from and against any and all liabilities, claims, demands, penalties, fines, settlements, damages, costs, expenses and judgments of whatever kind or nature, known or unknown, contingent or otherwise:

(a) for injury to any person or persons, including death, or any damage to property of any nature in connection with or arising out of, in whole or in part, (i) any event which occurs on or at the Premises and/or elsewhere on or at the Staten Island Homeport, and/or the adjacent slips, water, lands underwater, berths, pier sheds, and marginal and adjacent streets during the Term, or (ii) any act(s) or omission(s) of Tenant or Tenant's Agents or Invitees (as defined in Article 2 occurring on or in proximity to the Premises, including but not limited to, the lands underwater, slips adjacent to the Staten Island Homeport Pier, the berths, moorings, piersheds and marginal and adjacent streets, or (iii) this Lease, including, without limitation, any personal injury, including death, or property damage related to any collapse or failure of all or any part of the Premises, whether or not due to the presence of marine borers and rot in the pier piles, or

(b) relating to or arising from any of the Tenant's failure to make any payment or to perform or comply with any of the other covenants, agreements, terms or conditions contained in this Lease on Tenant's part to be kept, observed, performed or complied with and/or the exercise by Landlord, Lease Administrator, or their Agents of any remedy provided in this Lease with respect to such failure;

(c) relating to or arising from any and all liens and encumbrances which may be filed or recorded against the Premises or any public improvement lien filed against any funds of Landlord, or Lease Administrator or Apple as a result of actions taken by or on behalf of Tenant, its Agents or Invitees, or

(d) relating to or arising from the presence in the waters adjacent to the Premises of any sunken waterborne craft or other obstruction, other than a craft owned and operated by the City of New York that sank through no fault or negligence of Tenant, or

(e) arising out of, or in any way related to, the presence, storage, transportation, disposal, release or threatened release by Tenant or any of its Agents or Invitees of any Hazardous Materials (as herein defined) over, under, in, on, from or affecting the Premises or elsewhere at the Staten Island Homeport or any persons, real property, personal property, or natural substances thereon or affected thereby during the Term of this Lease, including, without limitation, any such liability, suits, obligations, fines, damages, penalties, claims, costs, charges and expenses imposed upon, incurred by or asserted against Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple under any of the Environmental Laws (including, without limitation, CERCLA, TOSCA, the New York State Navigation Law and/or the Clean Water Act), or

(f) any claim against or liability of any of the Landlord, Lease Administrator and Apple, and their respective Agents and Invitees concerning or related to the existence of any Hazardous Materials in, on, at, under, or about the Premises, and/or on, in, or around the U.S. Navy Ships or any other ship berthed or moored at the Premises or elsewhere at the Staten Island Homeport which claim or liability arose out of or resulted from any acts or omissions by Tenant or any of Agents or Invitees.

Section 13.2 Hazardous Materials Indemnification. In addition to and in no manner limiting the indemnification, defense, and hold harmless obligations of the Tenant set forth in Section 13.1 above, Tenant shall also forever defend, indemnify and hold harmless Landlord, Lease Administrator and Apple, and their respective Agents and Invitees, including without limitation, their officials, directors, officers, agents, representatives, invitees and employees, harmless from any and all claims, judgments, damages, penalties, fines, costs, liabilities or losses which arise during or after the Term of this Lease as a result of the Handling of Hazardous Materials in, on, at, under, or about the Premises by Tenant, its Agents or Invitees, including without limitation, all costs of investigating and remediating the same, damages for diminution in the value of the Premises, damages for the loss or restriction on use of rentable or usable space or of any amenity of the Premises, damages arising from any adverse impact on marketing of any such space and sums paid in settlement of claims, attorneys' fees, consultant fees and expert fees. This indemnification of Landlord, Lease Administrator and Apple, and their respective Agents and Invitees includes, but is not limited to, costs incurred in connection with any investigation of site conditions or any clean-up, remediation, removal or restoration work requested by Landlord or Lease Administrator or required by any federal, state or local governmental agency or political subdivision because of Hazardous Materials present in the soil, baywater, or groundwater in, on, at, under, or about the Premises or in any Improvements which Hazardous Materials were introduced in, on, at or under the Premises during Tenant's occupancy thereof by any party other than the Landlord or Lease Administrator or their Agents. Without limiting the foregoing, if the presence of any Hazardous Material in, on, at, under or about the Premises caused or permitted by Tenant results in any contamination of the Premises, Tenant, at its sole expense, promptly shall take all action that is necessary to return the Premises, and/or any other part of the Staten Island Homeport so affected, to the condition existing prior to the introduction of such Hazardous Material in, on, at, under or about the Premises; provided that Landlord or Lease Administrator approval of such actions shall first be obtained, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld so long as such actions could not potentially have any material adverse effect upon the Premises. Tenant's obligations hereunder shall survive the termination of this Lease.

Section 13.3 Definition of Hazardous Materials. For purposes of this paragraph "Hazardous Materials" means (i) any "hazardous waste" as defined under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 6901 et seq., or (ii) "hazardous substance" as defined under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 9601 et seq., or (iii) "hazardous materials" as defined under the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, 49 U.S.C. Section 1801 et seq., or (iv) "hazardous waste" as defined under New York Environmental Conservation Law Section 27-0901 et seq., or (v) "hazardous substance" as defined under the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. Section 1321 et seq., or (vi) "petroleum" as defined under the New York State Navigation Law, Chapter 37, Article 12, Section 172 (15), or (vii) flammable explosives or radioactive materials; (viii) petroleum, petroleum products or petroleum hydrocarbons, including, but not limited to, gasoline, diesel, oil, natural gas or synthetic gas used for fuel, grease, organic lead, benzene, toluene, ethyl benzene, halocarbons, xylene, cadmium, chromium, lead and zinc products; (ix) any asbestos, asbestos-containing material or polychlorinated biphenyl ; or (x) as well as any additional substances or materials which from time to time are classified or considered to be hazardous or toxic or a pollutant or contaminant under the laws of the City, State of New York, the United States of America, or otherwise regulated.

The provisions of this Article 13 entitled "Indemnification" shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease.

INSURANCE

Section 14.1 Insurance Requirements. At all times during the Term, Tenant, at its sole cost and expense, shall carry and maintain in full force and effect, or cause to be carried and maintained in full force and effect, insurance coverage of the types, forms, standards, limits, sublimits, and minimums that are standard in the industry for the Permitted Uses under this Lease and which Landlord and Lease Administrator, from time to time, requires be carried and maintained.

DAMAGE AND DESTRUCTION

Section 15.1 Notice of Damage and Destruction by Tenant. If the Premises or any part thereof shall be damaged by fire or other casualty, Tenant shall give immediate notice thereof to Landlord and this Lease shall continue in full force and effect except as hereinafter set forth.

Section 15.2 Partial Damage and Destruction. If the Premises are partially damaged or rendered partially unusable by fire or other casualty, the damages thereto may be repaired by and at the expense of Landlord, in the discretion of the Landlord, and, then to the extent provided in this Article, the rent, until such repair shall be substantially completed, shall be apportioned from the day following the casualty according to the part of the Premises which is usable.

Section 15.3 Total Damage and Destruction. If the Premises are totally damaged or rendered wholly unusable by fire or other casualty, then, to the extent provided in this Article, the rent shall be proportionately paid up to the time of the casualty and thenceforth shall cease until the date when the Premises shall have been repaired and restored by Landlord, subject to Landlord's right to elect not to restore, repair, or rebuild the same as hereinafter provided.

Section 15.4 Landlord's and Tenant's Limited Right to Early Termination. If the Premises are rendered wholly unusable, or (whether or not the Premises are damaged in whole or in part) if the Staten Island Homeport Pier or other portion of the Staten Island Homeport, shall be so damaged that Landlord shall decide to demolish it, or to rebuild it or not to rebuild it, in whole or in part, then, in any of such events, Landlord may elect to terminate this Lease by written notice to Tenant, given within 120 days after such fire or casualty, specifying a date for the expiration of the Lease, which date shall not be more than 60 days after the giving of such notice, and upon the date specified in such notice the term of this Lease shall expire as fully and completely as if such date were the date set forth above for the termination of this Lease and Tenant shall forthwith quit, surrender and vacate the Premises without prejudice however, to Landlord's rights and remedies against Tenant under the Lease provisions in effect prior to such termination, and any Rental owing shall be paid up to such date and any payments of Rental made by Tenant which were on account of any period subsequent to such date shall be returned to Tenant. In the event that Landlord does not serve a termination notice as provided for herein and Landlord, in its sole discretion, and Landlord decides not to make the repairs and restorations under the conditions of Section 15.2 and Section 15.3 hereof, then, if the Tenant is no longer able to comply with the requirements of the U.S. Navy Contract because of the conditions of the Premises or other portions of the Staten Island Homeport, Tenant may elect to terminate this Lease by written notice to Landlord and Lease Administrator, specifying a date for the expiration of the Lease, which date shall not be less than 120 days after the giving of such notice. Unless Landlord informs Tenant that the conditions of the Premises shall be repaired at least to the extent necessary for the Tenant to comply with its U.S. Navy Contract, then upon the date specified in Tenant's notice the term of this Lease shall expire as fully and completely as if such date were the date set forth above for the termination of this Lease and Tenant shall forthwith quit, surrender and vacate the Premises without prejudice however, to Landlord's rights and remedies against Tenant under the Lease provisions in effect prior to such termination, and any Rental owing shall be paid up to such date and any payments of Rental made by Tenant which were on account of any period subsequent to such date shall be returned to Tenant. After any such casualty, Tenant shall cooperate with Landlord's restoration by removing from the Premises as promptly as reasonably possible, all of Tenant's salvageable inventory and movable equipment, furniture, and other property.

Section 15.5 Tenant's Continuing Liability, Insurance, and Waiver of Subrogation. Except as provided otherwise in this Article, Tenant shall not be relieved from liability that may exist as a result of damage from fire or other casualty. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each party shall look first to any insurance in its favor before making any claim against the other party for recovery for loss or damage resulting from fire or other casualty, and to the extent that such insurance is in force and collectible and to the extent permitted by law, Landlord and Tenant each hereby releases and waives all right of recovery against the other or any one claiming through or under each of them by way of subrogation or otherwise. The release and waiver herein referred to shall be deemed to include any loss or damage to the Premises and/or to any personal property, equipment, trade fixtures, goods and merchandise located therein. The foregoing release and waiver shall be in force only if both releasors' insurance policies contain a clause providing that such a release or waiver shall not invalidate the insurance. If, and to the extent, that such waiver can be obtained only by the payment of additional premiums, then the party benefiting from the waiver shall pay such premium within ten days after written demand or shall be deemed to have agreed that the party obtaining insurance coverage shall be free of any further obligation under the provisions hereof with respect to waiver of subrogation.

Section 15.6 Insured Risks. If the Premises shall be partially or totally damaged or rendered unusable by any of the risks required to be insured against by Tenant, the Base Rent and Additional Rent reserved hereunder shall not be abated in whole or in part, until and except to the extent that Landlord shall actually receive proceeds of the insurance required to be secured and maintained by Tenant.

Section 15.7 Tenant Acknowledgement. Tenant acknowledges that: (i) Landlord shall not carry insurance on the Improvements installed by Tenant or on personal and business property of the Tenant and its Agents and Invitees; furniture or furnishings or any fixtures or equipment, or improvements, or appurtenances removable by Tenant; (ii) Landlord shall not be obligated to repair and/or restore the same following damage thereto or destruction thereof by fire or other casualty; and (iii) the insurance, repair and restoration of the Improvements and/or personal and business property of the Tenant and its Agents and Invitees shall be the sole responsibility of Tenant. Unless this Lease shall terminate as provided in this Article, Tenant shall undertake the repair and restoration of the Improvements and personal and business property of the Tenant and its Agents and Invitees substantially to the same condition as existed prior to such casualty or with such Improvements thereto as Landlord shall previously have approved pursuant to Article 11. All such repair and restoration work shall be performed at Tenant's sole cost and expense, employing the proceeds of insurance, to the extent available, therefor.

Section 15.8 Property Insurance Adjustment of Loss. All policies of property insurance required to be carried by Tenant pursuant to Article 14 shall provide for the adjustment of loss by Tenant where the loss is less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) and by Landlord and Tenant jointly where the loss equals or exceeds one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). Landlord, however, reserves the right to assign the proceeds of such insurance to Tenant upon receiving satisfactory assurances from Tenant that the proceeds will be employed for the repair and restoration of the damaged or destroyed Improvements and/or personal and business property of the Tenant and its Agents and Invitees.

Section 15.9 Property Insurance Proceeds. If Tenant is required to carry such property insurance then all property insurance proceeds payable to and received by Tenant as a result of damage or destruction of the Improvements and/or personal and business property of the Tenant and its Agents and Invitees shall constitute trust funds to be held and applied by Tenant solely for the repair and restoration of such damaged or destroyed Improvements and personal and business property of the Tenant and its Agents and Invitees before being employed for any other purpose. If this Lease shall terminate or expire before the completion of the repair and restoration of the Improvements, all proceeds of insurance received or receivable by Tenant with respect thereto and not previously employed by Tenant for the repair and restoration thereof shall be assigned and paid over to Landlord on the Expiration Date.

Section 15.10 Waiver of RPL Section 227. Tenant hereby waives the provisions of Section 227 of the Real Property Law and agrees that the provisions of this Article shall govern and control in lieu thereof.

CONDEMNATION

Section 16.1 Condemnation. In the event the Premises are subject to a condemnation proceeding commenced during the Term of this Lease, this Lease shall be deemed to have terminated thirty (30) days prior to the commencement of such proceeding. In such event, Tenant shall not be entitled to any part of any award in connection with such proceedings, nor to any set-off, reduction or refund of any Charges, if any. The Landlord shall be entitled to any and all payment, income, rent, award, or any interest therein whatsoever which may be paid or made in connection with any taking or conveyance hereunder, and Tenant shall have no claim against Landlord or otherwise for the value of any unexpired term of this Lease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the same shall not diminish Landlord's recovery for such taking, Tenant shall have the right to make a claim, and to receive any award specifically made to Tenant, for moving expenses and for loss or damage to Tenant's trade fixtures, equipment and movable furniture.

DEFAULT AND TERMINATION

Section 17.1 Default

(a) If Tenant defaults in fulfilling any of the covenants of this Lease, including, without, limitation the payment of Base Rent, or if the Premises becomes vacant or deserted; or if this Lease be rejected under §365 of Title 11 of the U.S. Code (bankruptcy code); if any execution or attachment shall be issued against Tenant or any of Tenant's property whereupon the Premises shall be taken or occupied by someone other than Tenant; or if Tenant shall default with respect to any other lease between Landlord and Tenant; or if Tenant shall have failed, after five (5) days written notice, to redeposit with Landlord any portion of the security deposited hereunder which Landlord has applied to the payment of any Base Rent and/or Additional Rent due and payable hereunder; or failed to take possession of the Premises within thirty (30) days after the Commencement Date, of which fact Landlord shall be the sole judge; then in any one or more of such events, upon Landlord serving a written five (5) days notice upon Tenant specifying the nature of said default and upon the expiration of said five (5) days, if Tenant shall have failed to comply with or remedy such default, or if the said default or omission complained of shall be of a nature that the same cannot be completely cured or remedied within said five (5) day period, and if Tenant shall not have diligently commenced during such default within such five (5) day period, and shall not thereafter with reasonable diligence and in good faith, proceed to remedy or cure such default, then Landlord may serve a written three (3) days notice of cancellation of this Lease upon Tenant, and upon the expiration of said three (3) days this Lease and the Term thereunder shall end and expire as fully and completely as if the expiration of such three (3) day period were the day herein definitely fixed for the end and expiration of this Lease and the Term thereof and Tenant shall then quit and surrender the Premises to Landlord but Tenant shall remain liable as hereinafter provided.

(b) If the notice provided for in (a) hereof shall have been given, and the Term shall expire as aforesaid: then Landlord may without notice, re-enter the Premises either by force or otherwise, and dispossess Tenant by summary proceedings or otherwise, and the legal representative of Tenant or other occupant of Premises and remove their effects and hold the Premises as if this Lease had not been made, and Tenant hereby waives the service of notice of intention to re-enter or to institute legal proceedings to that end. If Tenant shall make default hereunder prior to the date fixed as the commencement of any renewal or extension of this Lease, Landlord may cancel and terminate such renewal or extension agreement by written notice.

Section 17.2 Remedies of Landlord and Waiver of Redemption. In case of any such default, re-entry expiration and/or dispossess by summary proceedings otherwise, (a) the Base Rent, and Additional Rent, shall become due thereupon and be paid up to the time of such re-entry, dispossess and/or expiration, (b) Landlord may re-let the Premises or any part or parts thereof, either in the name of Landlord or otherwise, for a term or terms, which may at Landlord's option be less than or exceed the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of the Term of this Lease and may grant concessions or free rent or charge a higher rental than that in this Lease, (c) Tenant or the legal representatives of Tenant shall also pay Landlord as liquidated damages for the failure of Tenant to observe and perform said Tenant's covenants herein contained, any deficiency between the Rental hereby reserved and or covenanted to be paid and the net amount, if any, of the rents collected on account of the subsequent lease or leases of the Premises for each month of the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of the Term of this Lease. The failure of Landlord to re-let the Premises or any art or parts thereof shall not release or affect Tenant's liability for damages. In computing such liquidated damages there shall be added to the said deficiency such expenses as Landlord may incur in connection with re-letting, such as legal expenses, attorneys' fees, brokerage, advertising and for keeping the Premises in good order or for preparing the same for re-letting. Any such liquidated damages shall be paid in monthly installments by Tenant on the rent day specified in this Lease and any suit brought to collect the amount of the deficiency for any month shall not prejudice in any way the rights of Landlord to collect the deficiency for any subsequent month by a similar proceeding. Landlord, in putting the Premises in good order or preparing the same for re-rental may, at Landlord's option, make such alterations, repairs, replacements, and/or decorations in the Premises as Landlord, in Landlord's sole judgment considers advisable and necessary for the purpose of re-letting the Premises, and the making of such alterations, repairs, replacements, and/or decorations shall not operate or be construed to release Tenant from liability hereunder aforesaid. Landlord shall in no event be liable in any way whatsoever for failure to re-let the Premises, or in the event that the Premises are re-let, for failure to collect the rent thereof under such re-letting, and in no event shall Tenant be entitled to receive any excess, if any, of such net rents collected over the sums payable by Tenant to Landlord hereunder. In the event of a breach or threatened breach by Tenant of any of the covenants or provisions hereof, Landlord shall have the right of injunction and the right to invoke any remedy allowed at law or in equity as if re-entry, summary proceedings and other remedies were not herein provided for. Mention in this Lease of any particular remedy, shall not preclude Landlord from any other remedy, in law or in equity. Tenant hereby expressly waives any and all rights of redemption granted by or under any present or future laws.

Section 17.3 Upon Expiration of Lease. Upon the Expiration Date, Tenant shall surrender Premises and vacate the Premises, the Staten Island Homeport Pier and the Staten Island Homeport free and clear of all occupants and ships and of all personal property, equipment, trade fixtures, debris, and return possession of the Premises to Landlord. In the event that Tenant leaves any of its property including, without limitation, trade fixtures, at or upon the Premises or elsewhere at the Staten Island Homeport after the Expiration Date, Landlord or Lease Administrator may, in their sole discretion, dispose of same and charge Tenant for the cost of such disposal, or keep the property as abandoned property.

Section 17.4 Outgoing Condition Survey. Within three (3) months after the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease, Tenant shall cause to be presented to Landlord an outgoing condition survey and inspection report based on a survey made within one week after the Expiration Date. The engineer selected by Tenant to prepare such report shall be acceptable to Landlord, and shall be accompanied on the inspection by an engineer or engineers selected and paid for by Landlord. Tenant shall bear the full cost and expense of preparation of the outgoing condition survey and inspection report. Based upon the outgoing condition survey and inspection report, Landlord shall notify Tenant of any repair work reasonably necessary to be performed by Tenant so that the Premises are in the condition they were required to be maintained by this Lease. Upon receipt thereof, Tenant shall perform or cause to be performed all work at its sole cost and expense. Landlord shall reasonably determine the necessity for and the adequacy of any necessary repairs.

Section 17.5 Delivery of Contracts, etc. Upon expiration or upon a re-entry by Landlord upon the Premises pursuant to this Article, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord Tenant's executed counterparts of any service and maintenance contracts then affecting the Premises, true and complete maintenance records for the Premises for the three (3) immediately preceding years, all original licenses and permits then pertaining to the Premises, Certificates of Occupancy then in effect for the Improvements, and all warranties and guarantees then in effect which Tenant has received in connection with any work or services performed or equipment installed at the Premises, together with a duly executed assignment of the above to Landlord (which assignment of contracts, licenses and permits shall become effective with regard to any of the same upon Landlord's acceptance of same), and copies of all financial reports, books and records as required by this Lease and any and all other documents of every kind and nature whatsoever relating to the operation of the Premises and the condition of the Improvements.

The provisions of this Article 17 entitled Default and Termination shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease

SUNKEN CRAFT OR OTHER OBSTRUCTIONS

If, during the Term of this Lease, the Premises or the slips or water that are adjacent to the Premises shall become obstructed in whole or in part by the sinking of any waterborne craft or other obstruction as a result of Tenant's use of the Premises and/or operation or actions at the Premises (including, without limitation, the berthing or provision of layberth services for U.S. Navy Ships or any other ships at the Staten Island Homeport on behalf of the Tenant), Tenant, after notice from Landlord, shall promptly remove such obstruction(s), or cause the same to be removed, without cost or expense to Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple. In accordance with the provisions of Article13, Tenant shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless Landlord and Lease Administrator from any damages or claims for damages that may arise by reason of the presence in these waters of any sunken waterborne craft or other obstruction. If Tenant fails to remove any such obstruction(s), Landlord or Lease Administrator or Apple may, at their sole discretion, after notice to Tenant, undertake the removal thereof, and, in such event, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord or Lease Administrator for their expenses so incurred.

LIENS AGAINST PREMISES: DISCHARGE OF LIENS:

Section 19.1 Tenant shall not create, cause to be created or allow to exist (i) any lien, encumbrance or charge upon the Premises or elsewhere at the Staten Island Homeport or any part thereof, (ii) any lien, encumbrance or charge upon any assets of, or funds appropriated to, Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple, or (iii) any other matter or thing whereby the estate, rights or interest of Landlord in and to the Premises or elsewhere at the Staten Island Homeport or any part thereof might be impaired. If any mechanic's, laborer's, vendor's, materialman's or similar statutory lien is filed against the Premises or elsewhere at the Homeport or any part thereof, or if any public improvement lien is created, or caused or suffered to be created by the Tenant, or shall be filed against any assets of, or funds appropriated to, Landlord or Lease Administrator, then Tenant shall within thirty (30) days after receipt of notice of the filing of such mechanic's, laborer's, vendor's, materialman's or similar statutory lien or public improvement lien, cause it to be vacated or discharged of record by payment, deposit, bond, order of court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise.

Section 19.2 Should Tenant elect to dispute the validity of any such lien or charge placed, filed or recorded against the Premises or elsewhere at the Staten Island Homeport, in lieu of canceling or discharging the same, Tenant (i) shall furnish to Landlord or Lease Administrator a bond or bonds in connection therewith in such form and amount as shall be approved by Landlord and (ii) shall bring an appropriate proceeding to discharge such lien and shall prosecute such proceeding with diligence and continuity; except that if, despite Tenant's efforts to seek discharge of the lien, Landlord or Lease Administrator believes such lien is about to be foreclosed and so notifies Tenant, Tenant shall immediately cause such lien to be discharged as of record or Landlord or Lease Administrator may use the bond or other security furnished by Tenant in order to discharge the lien.

Section 19.3 The provisions of this Article 19 entitled "Liens Against Premises: Discharge of Liens" shall survive the expiration and early termination of this Lease.

NO ASSIGNMENT OR SUBLETTING:

Section 20.1 Tenant shall not assign this Lease, or grant any sublet, use of or license of the whole or any part of the Premises, nor allow the same to be occupied by any person or entity other than Tenant, whether by merger, consolidation, purchase of assets, transfer of stock in Tenant, transfer of joint venture or partnership interests in Tenant, operation of law or otherwise without the prior written consent of Lease Administrator in each instance. Additionally, Tenant shall not mortgage or pledge this Lease or any part thereof, or in any way charge or encumber the rights granted herein, or any part thereof.

LANDLORD EXCULPATION

Section 21.1 The liability of Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple, for damages or otherwise, shall be limited to Landlord's interest in the Premises, the proceeds payable to Landlord of any insurance policies covering or relating to the Premises, and any awards payable to Landlord in connection with any condemnation of part or all of the Premises. In no event, however, shall Landlord's interest in the Premises include: (i) any rights, claims, or interests of Landlord that at any time may arise from or be a result of Landlord's governmental powers or rights or Landlord's actions in its governmental capacity; (ii) any rents, issues, or proceeds from or in connection with the Premises, or that would otherwise be within Landlord's interest in the Premises, from and after such time as such items have been received by Landlord; or (iii) any proceeds resulting from a levy under execution or attachment against Landlord's fee interest in the Premises (it being understood and agreed that Tenant shall not seek to effect such a levy under execution or attachment). None of the elected officials, directors, officers, partners, joint venturers, principals, shareholders, employees, agents or servants of Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple shall have any liability (personal or otherwise) hereunder or be subject to levy, execution or other enforcement procedure for the satisfaction of any remedies of Tenant available hereunder.

CITY REQUIREMENTS

Section 22.2 Conflict of Interest. Tenant warrants and represents that no officer, official, director, representative, agent or employee of Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple has received any payment or other consideration for the granting of this Lease and that no officer, official, director, representative, agent, or employee of Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple has any interest, directly or indirectly in Tenant, this Lease, or the proceeds thereof. Tenant acknowledges that Landlord is relying on the warranty and representation contained in this Article 22 and that Landlord would not enter into this Lease absent the same. It is specifically agreed that, in the event the facts hereby warranted and represented prove, in the opinion of Landlord, to be incorrect, Landlord shall have the right to terminate this Lease upon twenty-four (24) hours notice to Tenant and to rescind this transaction in all respects.

Section 22.3 Investigation. The parties to this Lease agree to cooperate fully with any investigation, audit, or inquiry conducted by a State of New York ("State") or City governmental agency or authority that is empowered directly or by designation to compel the attendance of witnesses and to examine witnesses under oath, or conducted by the Inspector General of a governmental agency that is a party in interest to the transaction, submitted bid, submitted proposal, contract, permit, lease or license that is the subject of the investigation, audit or inquiry.

(a) If any person has been advised that his or her statement, and any information from such statement, will not be used against him or her in any subsequent criminal proceeding and still refuses to testify before a grand jury or other governmental agency or authority empowered directly or by designation to compel the attendance of witnesses and to examine witnesses under oath concerning the award of or performance under any transaction, agreement, lease, permit, contract or license entered into with the City, the State or any political subdivision or public authority thereof, or the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, or any local development organization within the City, or any public benefit corporation organized under the laws of the State, then Tenant may be subject to a hearing or penalties as set forth in Sub-Sections 22.1.3 and 22.1.4 of this Article 22 entitled "Investigation" herein or;

(b) If any person refuses to testify for a reason other than the assertion of his or her privilege against self incrimination in an investigation, audit or inquiry conducted by a City or State governmental agency or authority empowered directly or by designation to compel the attendance of witnesses and to take testimony under oath, or by the Inspector General of the governmental agency that is a party in interest in, and is seeking testimony concerning the award of, or the performance under, any transaction, agreement, lease, permit, contract or license entered into with the City, the State, or any political subdivision thereof or any local development corporation within the City, then Tenant may be subject to a hearing or penalties as set forth in Sections 22.3 and 22.4 of this Article 22 entitled "Investigation" herein.

(c) The Commissioner of DSBS ("Commissioner") or the agency head whose agency is a party in interest to the transaction, submitted bid, submitted proposal, contract, lease, permit or license may convene a hearing, upon not less than five (5) days' written notice to the parties involved to determine if any penalties should attach for the failure of a person to testify.

(d) If any non-governmental party to the hearing requests an adjournment, the Commissioner or the agency head who convened the hearing may, upon granting the adjournment, suspend any contract, lease, permit or license pending the final determination pursuant to paragraph 22.5 below without the City incurring any penalty or damages for delay or otherwise.

Section 22.4 The penalties that may attach after the final determination by Landlord may include, but shall not exceed:

(a) The disqualification for a period not to exceed five (5) years from the date of any adverse determination for any person or any entity of which such person was a member, shareholder, officer, director, employee or agent at the time the testimony was sought, from submitting bids for, or transacting business with, or entering into or obtaining any contract, lease, permit or license with or from the City; and/or

(b) The cancellation or termination of any and all existing City contracts, leases, permits or licenses that the refusal to testify concerns and that have not been assigned as permitted under this Lease, nor the proceeds of which pledged to an unaffiliated and unrelated institutional lender for fair value prior to the issuance of the notice scheduling the hearing, without the City incurring any penalty or damages on account of such cancellation or termination; monies lawfully due for goods delivered, work done, rentals, or fees accrued prior to the cancellation or termination shall be paid by the City.

Section 22.5 The Commissioner or agency head shall consider or address in reaching his or her other determination and in assessing an appropriate penalty the factors in paragraphs (a) and (b) below. He or she may also consider, if relevant and appropriate, the criteria established in paragraphs (c) and (d) below, in addition to any other information which may be relevant and appropriate.

(a) The party's good faith endeavors or lack thereof to cooperate fully and faithfully with any governmental investigation or audit including, but not limited to the discipline, discharge, or disassociation of any person failing to testify, the production of accurate and complete books and records, and the forthcoming testimony of all other members, agents, assignees or fiduciaries whose testimony is sought.

(b) The relationship of the person who refused to testify to any entity that is a party to the hearing, including, but not limited to, whether the person whose testimony is sought has an ownership interest in the entity and/or the degree of authority and responsibility the person has within the entity.

(c) The nexus of the testimony sought to the subject entity and its contracts, leases, permits or licenses with the City.

(d) The effect a penalty may have on an unaffiliated and unrelated party or entity that has a significant interest in an entity subject to penalties under 22.4 above, provided that the party or entity has given actual notice to the Commissioner or agency head upon the acquisition of the interest, or at the hearing called for in 22.3 (a) above gives notice and proves that such interest was previously acquired. Under either circumstance the party or entity must present evidence at the hearing demonstrating the adverse impact such a penalty would have on such person or entity.

(d) The term "member" as used herein shall be defined as any person associated with any other person or entity as a partner, director, officer, principal or employee.

Section 22.7 In addition to and notwithstanding any other provision of this Lease, the Commissioner or the agency head may, at his or her discretion, terminate this Lease upon twenty four (24) hours' written notice in the event Tenant fails to promptly report in writing to the Commissioner of Investigation of the City of New York any solicitation of money, goods, requests for future employment or other benefit or thing of value, by or on behalf of any employee of the City, Lease Administrator, or other person, firm, corporation or entity for any purpose which may be related to the procurement or obtaining of this Lease by Tenant, or affecting the performance of this Lease.

The provisions of Section 22.3 through 22.7 entitled "Investigation" shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease.

Section 22.8 Local Law 69 Report. Upon execution of this Lease, Tenant, if it has not already done so, shall complete and return to Lease Administrator (a) a questionnaire (the "Questionnaire") in the form annexed hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibit D describing, in substance, how many and what types of jobs Tenant in good faith estimates that it will create and retain with regard to its activities in the Premises or with respect to this Lease and its projected timetable for the creation and retention of jobs for the first seven (7) years after the Commencement Date, and (b) the attachments required by the Questionnaire. Tenant agrees that thereafter it will receive and in good faith consider such proposals as the City and City-related entities may make with regard thereto and shall provide the City and such entities with the opportunity (x) to refer candidates who are City residents having the requisite experience for the positions in question, and/or (y) to create a program to train City residents for those jobs. If the information filled in on the Questionnaire changes between the date of its submittal to Lease Administrator and the Commencement Date, Tenant shall promptly submit an amended Questionnaire to Lease Administrator. The above provisions shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease.

PROCEDURAL AND MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS

Section 23.1 Governing Law. This Lease and its performance shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, excluding New York's rules regarding conflict of laws and any rule requiring construction against the party drafting this Lease.

Section 23.2 No Oral Modification. This Lease may not be altered, modified or amended in any manner whatsoever except by a written instrument signed by Landlord, Lease Administrator and Tenant.

Section 23.3 Landlord's Consent. Section 23.4 Notices: All notices and communications pursuant to this Lease to the Landlord, Lease Administrator, Apple, and the Tenant shall be made in accordance with procedures set forth in Section 1.11 (pertaining to Specific Lease Information). Additionally, demands, notices, consents, approvals or orders to be made or given by Landlord to Tenant, and any acts relating hereto that may or shall be performed by Landlord, may be made, given, or performed by Lease Administrator with the same effect as if made given or performed by Landlord, except for the designation of a new Lease Administrator, which may be done only by Landlord.

Section 23.5 Captions. The captions are inserted for reference purposes only and in no way define, limit or describe the scope or intent of this Lease, or affect this Lease in any way.

Section 23.8 Venue. Further, with respect to such an action brought by Landlord or Lease Administrator, Tenant expressly waives and relinquishes any right it might otherwise have (i) to move to dismiss on grounds of forum non conveniens, (ii) to remove to Federal Court, or (iii) to move for a change of venue to a New York State court outside of New York County. The foregoing consent, however, shall not affect or limit in any manner or to any extent the right of Landlord, Lease Administrator or Apple to enforce such rights and remedies in any other jurisdiction.

Section 23.9 Survival. Any and all obligations and/or liabilities of Tenant under this Lease which accrue prior to the Expiration Date or which survive by the express terms of this Lease shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease.

Section 23.10 Warranty. The undersigned signatory for Tenant, by signing this Lease, personally warrants that he or she has the power and authority to enter into this Lease on behalf of Tenant and to bind Tenant to the terms and conditions of this Lease.

Section 23.11 Signature in Counterparts. This instrument may be signed in separate counterparts, each of which, when taken together, shall constitute one and the same instrument.

Section 23.12 Entire Agreement. This Lease states the entire and integrated agreement between Landlord and Tenant and supersedes all prior negotiations, representations and agreements, whether written or oral.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Landlord and Tenant have executed this Lease as of the day and year first above written.

ADDENDUM
TO HOMEPORT LAYBERTH FACILITY LEASE

Section 1.12. Addendum of Amendments, Additions, and Deletions to the Lease. This Section 1.12 sets forth amendments, additions, and deletions to Articles 2 through 23 of the Lease that are made part of the Lease. To the extent that there is a conflict with the amendments, additions, and deletions set forth in this Section 1.12 (as further described in this Addendum), this Section 1.12 (with the Addendum) shall control over Articles 2 through 23 and the sections contained therein.

(a) Amendment of Security Deposit. Subsection (a) of Section 1.12 amends and replaces in its entirety Section 8.1 of the Lease pertaining to Security Deposit with the following:

Security Deposit. Tenant shall pay to Landlord or Lease Administrator (or at the Lease Administrator's direction to Apple) on or before the Commencement Date a security deposit in the amount equal to one (1) months' Base Rent. The security deposit shall be in the form of cash, or certificates of deposit, or letter of credit or other similar instruments or securities payable only to Landlord or Lease Administrator (or at the Lease Administrator's direction to Apple) and acceptable to Landlord or Lease Administrator with the sole signature or endorsement required to redeem the principal amount of the instrument that of the Landlord or Lease Administrator, or a bond or undertaking written with an insurer admitted in New York State in a form acceptable to Landlord or Lease Administrator. The security deposit shall be in the sum specified as the Initial Deposit in Section 1 .8, as security for the faithful performance by Tenant of all terms, covenants and conditions of this Lease. Tenant agrees that Landlord and/or Lease Administrator (or at the Lease Administrator's direction to Apple) may (but shall not be required to) apply the security deposit in whole or in part to (a) pay any sum due to Landlord or Lease Administrator under this Lease; (b) compensate Landlord and Lease Administrator for any damage to the Premises caused by Tenant; or (c) cure any default by Tenant. If Landlord, Lease Administrator and/or Apple uses any portion of the security deposit to cure any default by Tenant hereunder, Tenant shall immediately replenish the security deposit to the original amount. Landlord's and Lease Administrator's obligation with respect to the security deposit is solely that of debtor and not trustee. If Tenant elects to deposit certificates of deposit or other interest-bearing instruments, Tenant may obtain all interest payable on such certificates or instruments as the same becomes due. If the Base Rent is increased pursuant to any of the provisions of this Lease, Tenant shall increase the amount of the security deposit to maintain the same ratio of security deposit to Base Rent as existed at the Commencement Date. Any increase in the security deposit shall be delivered to Landlord or Lease Administrator (or at the Lease Administrator's direction to Apple) on the same date that such increase in the Base Rent is first due. If Tenant is not in default at the termination of this Lease and there are no outstanding claims by the Landlord or Lease Administrator pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Lease and/or at law or in equity against Tenant or its Agents or Invitees, then Landlord or Lease Administrator shall return the unused balance of the security deposit to Tenant after Tenant vacates and surrenders the Premises. The amount of the security deposit shall in no way limit Tenant's obligations under this Lease, and nothing contained in this Article 8 shall in any way diminish or be construed as waiving any of Landlord's or Lease Administrator's other remedies set forth in this Lease and/or at law or in equity.

Reports of the Committee on Transportation

Report for Int. No. 185-A

Report of the Committee on Transportation in favor of approving and adopting, as amended a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to creation of a review process in the event of the closure of a publicly mapped street.

The Committee on Transportation to which was referred on February 26, 2004 (Minutes, page 857) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On February 17, 2005, the Committee on Transportation, chaired by Council Member John Liu, will hold a hearing on Proposed Int. No. 185-A. This Committee held two hearings on prior versions of Proposed Int. No. 185-A on May 3, 2004 and on January 27, 2005. The Committee also held a hearing on June 13, 2003, in the immediately prior legislative session of the City Council, on the predecessor to this bill, Proposed Int. No. 465-A. Proposed Int. No. 185-A would amend section 19-107 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York.

BACKGROUND

There are many occasions when the temporary closure of a publicly mapped street is appropriate. Repairs may be ongoing to utilities lying beneath the street surface, sewer or pipe work may be transpiring, and any number of other necessary activities may be undertaken in a manner that upsets the surface of the street and makes travel upon such street by pedestrians and vehicles dangerous. The Commissioner of the New York City Department of Transportation is currently authorized to close a street, or a portion thereof, when he or she deems travel upon such street to be dangerous to life. It is unlawful for any other person to close a street, or any portion of a street, to pedestrian or vehicular traffic without a permit from the Commissioner[35]. Current law does not limit the duration of time that a street may remain closed.

Oftentimes, a street is temporarily, and legally, closed, for purposes of performing legitimate work, without the local community board or Council Member being advised, consulted or even notified. These streets frequently remain closed for substantial periods of time thereby disrupting neighborhood activity and the local economy. It is the purpose of this legislation to establish a mandatory notification requirement for the benefit of the local community relevant to street closures and to require a detailed reporting and accountability requirement regarding why the street is closed. The legislation is in no way meant to impede essential construction and repair projects or to jeopardize public safety in any way where legitimate security issues have caused a street closure.

ANALYSIS

Proposed Int. No. 185-A initially amends section 19-107 of title 19 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York by re-lettering the existing text as subdivision (a) and dividing such text into two paragraphs, (i) and (ii). New subdivisions (b) and (c) follow in order to provide a more organized structure to the section.

Subdivision (a) is divided in the following manner. Paragraph (i) states that, unless otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for any person to close any street, or a portion thereof, within the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of the New York City Department of Transportation (Commissioner), to pedestrian or vehicular traffic without a permit from the Commissioner.

Paragraph (ii) grants the Commissioner the authority to temporarily close any street, or a portion thereof, when he or she determines that travel therein would be dangerous to life due to "street activities such as building operations, repairs to street pavements, sewer connections, or blasting for the purpose of removing rock from abutting property" or when such closure may be necessary for a public purpose. The foregoing is existing text. Proposed Int. No. 185-A would add new text that would recognize that the Commissioner may close a street upon the advice of the Police Commissioner, the Fire Commissioner or the Commissioner of the Office of Emergency Management to promote or protect safety or life. The bill would add a new requirement in such street closure events wherein the Commissioner would be required to make available to the community board and Council Member in whose district the closed street is located information regarding any such closure which continues beyond five business days, including a statement of the reason or reasons for the Lower Ma-

[1]Section 19-107 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, the law that would be amended by Proposed Int. No. 185-A, reads as follows: "Except as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for any person to close any street, or a portion thereof, within the jurisdiction of the commissioner, to pedestrian or vehicular traffic without a permit from the commissioner. The commissioner may temporarily close or may issue a permit to temporarily close to pedestrian or vehicular traffic any street, or a portion thereof, within his or her jurisdiction, when, in his or her judgment, travel therein is deemed to be dangerous to life, in consequence of there being carried on in such street activities such as building operations, repairs to street pavements, sewer connections, or blasting for the purpose of removing rock from abutting property or when such closure may be necessary for a public purpose."

for such closure and the estimated date for the street, or any portion thereof, to reopen.

New subdivision (b) addresses the situation where a publicly mapped street that is used for vehicular or vehicular and pedestrian access is fully closed to vehicular access for more than one hundred eighty consecutive days. In such event, the Commissioner would be required to issue, or cause to be issued, a CRIA statement – a community reassessment, impact and amelioration statement – that must be approved by the Commissioner or other government entity initiating the street closure. The CRIA statement would need to be delivered to both the community board and the Council Member in whose district the street is located on or before the two hundred tenth day of the closure.

The CRIA statement would be required to include the following information: the objectives of the closure and the reasons why the continued street closure is necessary to attain those objectives, which in the case of a closure initiated by a local law enforcement agency for security reasons would be satisfied by a statement from such law enforcement agency that the street has been closed and will remain closed for security reasons; identification of the least expensive alternative means of attaining those objectives and the costs of such alternatives, or a statement and explanation as to the unavailability of such alternatives, which in the case of a closure initiated by a local law enforcement agency for security reasons shall be satisfied by a statement from the law enforcement agency that there are no alternative means available; how the continued street closure will impact access and traffic flow to and within the surrounding community, including but not limited to, access to emergency vehicles, residences, businesses, facilities, paratransit transportation and school bus services; and any recommendations to mitigate adverse impact and increase access to and within the area. Where a closure was initiated for security reasons, the Police Department would ensure that the CRIA statement does not reveal confidential or sensitive information that would potentially compromise security or safety. In no event shall issuance of the CRIA statement be delayed beyond the required time period.

The requirement for the issuance of a CRIA statement may be satisfied by delivery of an environmental assessment statement, environmental impact statement, or similar document required by law to be prepared in relation to the street closure. This substitution for the CRIA statement is appropriate because of the breadth of items and issues analyzed under these types of environmental analyses and the satisfaction in knowing that such an environmental review would provide the local affected community with important information relevant to the street closure.

Prior to the issuance of a CRIA statement, the Commissioner, in the case of a closure for which as permit issued by the Department of Transportation is required, would also be required to hold at least one public forum, publicized in advance, in any affected community at which the community would be able to register its input concerning any potential adverse impacts of the street closure. Such input may include, but not be limited to, concerns regarding timeliness of emergency vehicle response and traffic congestion resulting in a potential increase in noise and any other adverse conditions caused by the closure. Where a street is closed for security reasons, the local law enforcement agency that initiated the closure of the street would be required to hold the public forum. Following the public forum(s), the local Council Member may forward to the government entity which held the public forum(s) issues raised at the public forum(s). Such government entity would then be required to make its best efforts to respond to the issues raised, utilizing the expertise of other City agencies, if appropriate. Such response would be required to be appended to the CRIA statement. The public forum requirements would also be applicable where an environmental review is properly substituted in lieu of a CRIA statement.

Finally, new subdivision (c) provides a definition of the term "street closure" for purposes of section 19-107. The bill provides that a street closure shall not include a street closure undertaken by a federal or state governmental entity. This exemption reflects the fact that it is unreasonable to require local government to account in any detailed manner for the actions of governmental entities at other levels of government and outside the control of such local government.

Proposed Int. No. 185-A would be effective one hundred eighty days after it is enacted into law and would apply to any street closures which commence after the enactment date of this local law, except those street closures related to construction pursuant to a project for which a bid has been issued by the City prior to the effective date of the local law, and provided further that the local law would apply to those closures initiated by a local law enforcement agency for security reasons, which, if closed prior to the enactment of the local law, will be deemed to have commenced on the date of enactment of the local law. However, where the latter clause of the immediately prior sentence is involved, the government entity responsible for issuing the CRIA statement may obtain up to an additional one hundred eighty days to complete such statement by notifying the local Council Member of its inability to complete the CRIA statement within the customary two hundred ten days from enactment of the local law. In such cases, a public forum must still be held within the initial two hundred ten days.

Additionally, the Commissioner of Transportation would be empowered to take any actions necessary prior to the effective date of the local law, and would be required to adopt any necessary rules, including but not limited to, rules that may require a public or private entity seeking permission for a street closure to prepare the CRIA statement.

CONCLUSION

Proposed Int. No. 185-A is about accountability in government where protracted street closures are concerned. It is simply designed to provide information and rational explanations to the people affected the most, the local community board and Council Member, about why a given street has been closed for a protracted time period.

The delivery of the CRIA statement, or an appropriate, environmental review mandated by law, to the local community board and Council Member allows those affected parties access to detailed information surrounding the impact of the street closure and insight about the Department of Transportation's justification for keeping the street closed. For the first time, detailed information as to the reasons, objectives, alternatives and impacts to the community would be required to be furnished to the affected community when a street is closed for more than one hundred eighty days. This accountability process described in Proposed Int. No. 185-A is intended to help the local community understand why and to what extent their immediate environment is being disrupted and what, if any, alternatives exist that would result in the mitigation of inconveniences and adverse impacts.

Int. No. 185-A

By Council Members Gerson, Yassky, Brewer, Jackson, Koppell, Lopez, Quinn, Stewart, Gonzalez, Avella, Martinez, Gennaro and Nelson.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to creation of a review process in the event of the closure of a publicly mapped street.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 19-107 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

§ 19-107 Temporary closing of streets. a. (i) Except as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for any person to close any street, or a portion thereof, within the jurisdiction of the commissioner, to pedestrian or vehicular traffic without a permit from the commissioner.

(ii) The commissioner may temporarily close or may issue a permit to temporarily close to pedestrian or vehicular traffic any street, or a portion thereof, within his or her jurisdiction, when, in his or her judgment, travel therein is deemed to be dangerous to life, in consequences of there being carried on in such street activities such as building operations, repairs to street pavements, sewer connections, or blasting for the purpose of removing rock from abutting property, or upon advice from the police commissioner, fire commissioner or commissioner of the office of emergency management that such closure will promote or protect safety or life, or when such closure may be necessary for a public purpose. In such event, the commissioner shall make available to the community board and council member in whose district such street is located information regarding any such closure which continues beyond five business days, state the reason or reasons for such closure and the estimated date for the street, or any portion thereof, to reopen.

b. In the event that a publicly mapped street that is used for vehicular or vehicular and pedestrian access, for which vehicular access is fully closed for more than one hundred eighty consecutive days, the commissioner shall issue or cause to be issued a community reassessment, impact and amelioration (CRIA) statement that has been approved by the commissioner or other government entity initiating the street closure which shall be delivered to both the community board and the council member in whose district the street is located on or before the two hundred tenth day of the closure. Such CRIA statement shall contain the following: the objectives of the closure and the reasons why the continued street closure is necessary to attain those objectives, which in the case of a closure initiated by a local law enforcement agency for security reasons shall be satisfied by a statement from the local law enforcement agency that the street has been closed and will remain closed for security reasons; identification of the least expensive alternative means of attaining those objectives and the costs of such alternatives, or a statement and explanation as to the unavailability of such alternatives, which in the case of a closure initiated by a local law enforcement agency for security reasons shall be satisfied by a statement from the law enforcement agency that there are no alternative means available; how the continued street closure will impact access and traffic flow to and within the surrounding community, including but not limited to, access to emergency vehicles, residences, businesses, facilities, paratransit transportation and school bus services; and any recommendations to mitigate adverse impact and increase access to and within the area. In the case of a closure initiated for security reasons, the police department shall ensure that the CRIA statement does not reveal non-routine investigative techniques or confidential information or potentially compromises the safety of the public or police officers or otherwise potentially compromise law enforcement investigations or operations, provided that the issuance of the CRIA statement shall not be delayed beyond the required time period. The requirement for the issuance of a CRIA statement as described in this subdivision may be satisfied by delivery of an environmental assessment statement, environmental impact statement, or similar document required by law to be prepared in relation to the street closure. Prior to the issuance of a CRIA statement, the commissioner, in the case of a closure for which a permit issued by the department is required, shall hold at least one public forum, publicized in advance, in any affected community at which the community may register its input concerning any potential adverse impacts of the street closure, including but not limited to concerns regarding timeliness of emergency vehicle response and traffic congestion resulting in a potential increase in noise and any other adverse conditions caused by the closure. In the case of a street closure effectuated for security reasons by a local law enforcement agency, such law enforcement agency shall hold the public forum provided herein. Following the public forum(s), the council member in whose district the street closure is located may forward to the government entity which held the public forum(s) issues raised at the public forum(s) by the participants. The government entity which held the public forum(s) shall make its best efforts to respond to the issues raised, utilizing the expertise of other city agencies if appropriate, and shall provide such response to be appended to the CRIA statement. In the case that an environmental assessment statement, environmental impact statement, or similar document is substituted in lieu of the CRIA statement, as provided for above, the public forum provisions provided herein shall still apply.

c. For purposes of this section, a "street closure" shall not include a street closure undertaken by a federal or state governmental entity.

§ 2. This local law shall take effect one hundred eighty days after it is enacted into law and shall apply to any street closures which commence after the day this local law is enacted into law, except those street closures related to construction pursuant to a project for which a bid has been issued by the city prior to the effective date of this local law, and provided further that it shall apply to those closures initiated by a local law enforcement agency for security reasons, which, if closed prior to the enactment of this local law, shall be deemed to have commenced on the date of enactment of this local law. However, if the government entity responsible for issuing the community reassessment, impact and amelioration (CRIA) statement described in subdivision b for such closure initiated by a local law enforcement agency for security reasons and in effect on the date of enactment of this local law is unable to complete such statement within two hundred ten days of the date of enactment of this local law, the commissioner shall so notify the council member in whose district the street closure is located and the time within which to issue the CRIA statement shall be extended to no more than one hundred eighty additional days, provided that a public forum is held within the first two hundred ten days. In addition, the commissioner of transportation may take any actions necessary prior to such effective date for the implementation of this local law, and shall adopt any necessary rules including, but not limited to, rules that may require a public or private entity seeking permission for a street closure to prepare the CRIA statement.

RESOLUTIONS

The following are the respective Committee Reports for each of the Resolutions referred to the Council for a voice-vote pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Council:

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 88

Report of the Committee on Health in favor of approving Resolution calling on the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene to study the long-term effects of living and working near multiple antennas and base stations.

The Committee on Health to which was referred on February 4, 2004 (Minutes, page 677) the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

On Thursday, February 17, 2005 the Committee on Health will vote on Res. No. 88, which calls on the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene to study the long-term effects of living and working near multiple antennas and base stations.

Background

The combination of antenna towers and associated electronic equipment is referred to as a "cellular or PCS cell site." PCS systems use a different radio frequency, the 1.9 GHz band, than cellular phones and generally use all-digital technology for transmission and reception.[1] Typical heights for cell site towers are 50-200 feet. Antennas are usually arranged in groups of three with one antenna in each group used to transmit signals to mobile units, and the other two antennas used to receive signals from mobile units. In order to provide quality reception to their cellular customers, cellular carriers must erect cell sites that have little obstruction between the cell site and their customers. In New York City, where tall buildings frequently block the wireless signals from going through, this requires the construction of many cell sites throughout the City. The total number of cell sites required in the City is multiplied because each carrier transmits on a different radiofrequency (RF). Because the Department of Buildings does not keep permits for cell sites separate from other building permits and because these permits do not indicate specifically that they are for cell sites, there has been no official count or estimate of how many cell sites exist in the New York City area.

At a cell site, the total RF power that could be transmitted from each transmitting antenna depends on the number of radio channels (transmitters) that have been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and the power of each transmitter. Although the FCC permits an effective radiated power (ERP) of up to 500 watts per channel (depending on the tower height), the majority of cellular sites in urban and suburban areas operate at an ERP of 100 watts per channel or less.[2]

An ERP of 100 watts corresponds to an actual radiated power of 5-10 watts, depending on the type of antenna used. Antennas are built to direct its transmission and not have it dispersed randomly, so the actual radiated power measures the actual amount of radiation that is released from the antenna. As with all forms of electromagnetic energy, the actual radiated power from a cellular or PCS transmitter rapidly decreases as one moves away from the antenna. Consequently, normal ground-level exposure is much less than the exposure that might be encountered if one were very close to the antenna and in its main transmitted beam. Measurements made near typical cellular and PCS cell sites have shown that ground-level power densities are well below limits recommended by RF/microwave safety standards used by the FCC.[3]

The National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) requires agencies of the federal government to evaluate the effects of their actions on the quality of the human government. In order to meet its responsibilities under NEPA, the FCC has adopted requirements for evaluating the environmental impact of its actions. One of the environmental factors addressed by the Commission's requirements is human exposure to RF emissions from FCC regulated transmitters and facilities. In 1996, the FCC set guidelines for evaluating human exposure to RF radiation emissions from fixed transmitting antennas, such as cell sites.[4] The FCC's guidelines are identical to those recommended by the National Council on Radiation Protection and Measurements (NCRP), a non-profit corporation chartered by Congress to develop information and recommendations concerning radiation protection. The FCC's guidelines are also similar to the 1992 guidelines recommended by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI), a non-profit, privately-funded, membership organization that coordinates development of voluntary national standards in the United States, and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE), a non-profit technical and professional engineering society.[5]

In the case of cellular site transmitters, the FCC's RF exposure guidelines recommend a maximum permissible exposure level to the general public of approximately 580 microwatts per square centimeter.[6] This limit is many times greater than RF levels typically found near the base of cellular towers or in the vicinity of other, lower-powered cell site transmitters. The FCC set a compliance date of September 1, 2000, and is required to investigate where there is credible evidence of violations of these guidelines.[7]

The FCC guidelines have been endorsed by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), and the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH). In 1999, the EPA concluded: "It (is) EPA's view that the FCC exposure guidelines adequately protect the public from all scientifically established harms that may result from RF energy fields generated by FCC Licensees."[8]

Many studies have been done by the industry, universities, such as the University of Minnesota, University of Wisconsin at Madison, University of Victoria in British Columbia, University of Sydney, as well as other non-governmental organizations (NGOs), such as the American Cancer Society and Memorial Sloan Kettering, and foreign governments. These entities have reviewed the body of research on RF emissions that has been done and in the end conclusions have either varied or been inconclusive. The World Health Organization (WHO) reported in 2000 that "current scientific evidence indicates that exposure to RF fields, such as those emitted by mobile phones and their base stations, is unlikely to induce or promote cancers;"[9] and the American Cancer Society has published articles in its journal, ACS News Today, stating that consumers do not need to be concerned about RF emissions from cellular phones or their antennas.[10]

Despite some favorable studies, there have also been some studies that have found a negative health impact on organisms that are exposed to RF radiation emissions that are within the regulations of the FCC. One study conducted by Dr. Peter M. Zwamborn and the Organization for Applied Scientific Research found that people exposed to radiation that mimicked radiation levels from third generation (3G) cell sites experienced significant negative effects on well being and cognitive functions, including significant levels of nausea, headaches and tingling sensations.[11] 3G cell sites have become more common in the United States as cellular phone technology has advanced, creating phones that allow customers to get better quality reception, text message and send pictures from their phones. In addition, a recent study published in the June 2003, Environmental Health Perspectives, a journal of the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, part of the United States Department of Health and Human Services, found that electromagnetic fields (EMFs) emitted by certain mobile phones damaged neurons in the brains of rats.[12]

Because of the lack of consensus in the research community and the deficiency in research that focuses on the health effects of being exposed to RF radiation emissions over a long period of time (most research examines exposure over hours or days), concerns about the long-term health effects of RF radiation emissions on community residents who live in close proximity to cell sites have arisen among community groups.

In 1984, Zoning Resolution 22-21 was amended to require cell-phone companies to obtain a special permit from the Board of Standards and Appeals before they could install a "telephone exchange or other communications equipment structure" in a residential neighborhood. To be granted such a permit, a company had to fill out a detailed application that, to be filled out properly, could cost as much as $75,000 in engineering, architectural and legal fees, and had to answer the questions and listen to the objections of the community in which the structure was to be erected.[13] In July 1998, Richard Visconti, the Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Buildings under Mayor Giuliani, issued a "Technical Notice" that effectively repealed the provisions of the Zoning Regulation 22-21.[14]

The federal Telecommunications Act of 1996 (TCA) preempts state and local governments from basing decisions regarding where to site personal wireless services facilities (base stations for mobile phones, pagers, wireless internet, etc.) on the environmental effects of the RF radiation emissions this technology requires in order to operate.[15] Currently, the FCC is the sole regulator of RF radiation emissions from cellular base station antennas.

Res. No. 88

Res. No. 88 would note that, according to "Talking Points – Wireless in the Community" by T-Mobile, the number of Americans using wireless services has increased more than 1,000 percent in the past decade, to approximately 135 million users. Res. No. 88 would also note that in order to respond to the growing demands in cellular usage and to provide efficient cellular service, cellular providers have created networks of cell sites using wireless towers or antennas. Res. No. 88 would explain that these wireless antennas, also called base stations, are communication devices that receive and transmit radio frequency ("RF") energy. Additionally, Res. No. 88 would point out that in order to ensure maximum reach and to ensure minimum interference, these wireless antennas are located above ground, usually on top of buildings in commercial and residential areas, on water towers, and sometimes even in the tops of artificial trees installed to blend with natural surroundings. Res. No. 88 would assert that the proliferation of these base stations has caused major concern in New York City about the possible health effects that such stations may cause.

Res. No. 88 would note that while the Federal Communications Commission, the agency responsible for regulating wireless antenna emissions, stated in its report entitled Questions and Answers about Biological Effects and Potential Hazards of Radio-Frequency Electromagnetic Fields ("Q&A"), that it is unlikely that persons living or working within buildings with rooftop cellular and PCS antennas would be exposed to RF levels that could approach or exceed applicable safety limits, that statement is contradictory to other statements contained in Q & A, for example, that further investigation is needed to confirm the finding by some scientific literature which suggests that exposure to relatively low levels of RF radiation may cause human health hazards. In addition, Res. No. 88 would point out that the World Health Organization states that although it is unlikely that exposure to RF from base stations will lead to cancer, there are also gaps in knowledge that need to be filled, such as the long-term effects of multiple base stations in a small area, before better health risk assessments about the effects of base stations can be made.

Finally, Res. No. 88 would assert that despite the prevalence of base stations in New York City, there seems to be no definite answer regarding the potential adverse health effects posed by living and working near these base stations.

Report of the Committee on Environmental Protection in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution calling upon the Governor and New York State Legislature to execute the Memorandum of Understanding required for the implementation of the landmark 2003 New York State Brownfield Cleanup Program and distribution of funding through the Brownfield Opportunity Areas Program.

The Committee on Environmental Protection to which was referred on February 2, 2005 (Minutes, page 818) the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

On March 9, 2005, the Committee on Environmental Protection will hold a vote on Proposed Res. No. 795-A, which calls upon the Governor and New York State Legislature to execute the Memorandum of Understanding required for the implementation of the landmark 2003 New York State Brownfield Cleanup Program and distribution of funding through the Brownfield Opportunity Areas Program.

I. Background

In November of 2004 and February of 2005, the Committee on Environmental Protection held hearings on the status of New York City's Brownfields Program and brownfields, in general. At the February 2005 hearing, testimony was heard on two bills and a resolution: Int. No. 567, which relates to developing a comprehensive program for the remediation and reuse of brownfields; Int. No. 582, which relates to tax lien foreclosure by action in rem for properties where the redevelopment or reuse of which may be complicated by the presence or potential presence of contamination; and, Res. No. 795, which calls upon the Governor and New York State Legislature to execute the Memorandum of Understanding required for the implementation of the landmark 2003 New York State Brownfield Cleanup Program and distribution of funding through the Brownfield Opportunity Areas Program.

The aforementioned bills and resolution seek to transform brownfield sites in New York City from community blights into community assets. To that end, certain changes were made to Res. No. 795, resulting in Proposed Res. No. 795-A. Today, The Committee will vote on Proposed Res. No. 795-A.

II. Brownfields

A brownfield site is commonly considered to be any real property, the redevelopment or reuse of which may be complicated by the presence or potential presence of a hazardous waste, petroleum, pollutant, or contaminant.[1] Such sites exist in nearly every community in New York State. In New York City, the Mayor's Office of Environmental Coordination (MOEC) "coordinates the City's official brownfields efforts. These involve participation in the Brownfields program of New York State's Clean Water/Clean Air Bond Act and administration of a Brownfields Economic Redevelopment Initiative Pilot Grant, which was received from the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in 1996."[2] According to the MOEC

"[t]he City's three Bond Act sites are the Maspeth Railroad Place site in Maspeth, Queens; Bush Terminal Landfill Piers 1-4 in Sunset Park, Brooklyn; and Barretto Point in Hunts Point, the Bronx. Under the grant, the City convened a Brownfields Task Force to study economic, technical and legal issues affecting brownfields redevelopment in New York City. The City also selected five pilot sites for investigation: "Public Place" in Carroll Gardens, Brooklyn; Vernam Barbadoes in Arverne, Queens; Barretto Point in Hunts Point, the Bronx; Mariners Marsh in Port Ivory, Staten Island; and Bushwick Housing in Bushwick, Brooklyn. In addition, MOEC assists City agencies with brownfields issues generally, helping with community involvement, state/federal agency interactions, investigation, remediation, and end-use planning issues."[6]

The presence of brownfields in New York City are a major policy concern because there is a limited supply of vacant land in the City and brownfields make up a large portion of the relatively few sites available in the City for development, and in some instances brownfields blight neighborhoods. Despite the fact that "brownfields are generally less contaminated than the better-known federal and state Superfund sites, they can still pose significant threats to public health and the environment."[4] In fact, "[c]ontaminants can leach into the groundwater, and from there can flow into surrounding waterways. Depending on the level of contamination, the presence of hazardous materials in a neighborhood can cause long-term health problems."[5] Furthermore, "the presence of contaminants inhibits the development of the site, which means [New York City] collects only a fraction of the potential property tax revenue from owners. Cleaning up the land can restore it to productive use and generate tax revenue."[6]

According to a fiscal brief prepared in 2003 by the New York City Independent Budget Office (IBO), "[t]here are an estimated 3,000 acres to 4,000 acres of brownfields in the city."[7] Unfortunately, "[l]eft untouched, brownfields pose environmental, legal and financial burdens on a community and its taxpayers. However, after cleanup, these sites can again become the powerful engines for economic vitality, jobs and community pride that they once were."[8]

III. New York State Brownfields Programs

In 1994, an administrative Voluntary Cleanup Program (VCP) was established in New York State for brownfields, "which are generally not as contaminated as those sites on either the federal or state Superfund lists."[9]

According to the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC), the VCP was established "to enhance private sector cleanups and to reduce the development pressures on "Greenfield" sites."[10] The VCP functioned under a

"cooperative approach among the New York State Department Environmental Conservation (the Department), the New York State Department of Health (NYSDOH), and Volunteers to investigate and/or remediate contaminated sites and return these sites to productive use."[11] Under the VCP, a Volunteer entered "into a Voluntary Cleanup Agreement (VCA) with the Department and thereafter submitted one or more work plans to investigate and/or remediate a site."[12]

The goal under the VCP was "to remediate the site to a level that is protective of public health and the environment for the Contemplated Use of the property."[13]

"Of the 332 Voluntary Cleanup Agreements that DEC has entered into, 51 sites are located in New York City."[14]

In a further attempt aimed at protecting public health by insuring cleaner water, cleaner air and more open space, in November 1996, the voters of New York State approved the 1996 New York State Clean Water/Clean Air Bond Act ("Bond Act"). The $1.75 billion dollar Bond Act "provided funding for protection and restoration projects across the state, falling under five main categories: clean water, safe drinking water, solid waste, municipal environmental restoration, and air quality."[15] According to the IBO,

"Through the municipal environmental restoration component, local governments were eligible for funding to clean up municipally owned brownfields through the state's Environmental Restoration Program (ERP). Statewide, $200 million of the $1.75 billion was to be used for ERP.

Under ERP, [prior to the passage of the State's recent brownfield legislation discussed in section III infra,] the state would reimburse local governments for 75 percent of the eligible costs of investigating and/or cleaning up contamination on eligible sites. After the clean up occurred, the municipality could choose to either sell the property for redevelopment or dedicate the property to public use. Any profits from a sale had to be shared with the state."[16]

Unfortunately, it appears that "New York City has not taken advantage of available state resources for environmental cleanup."[17] In fact, "of the $200 million made available through the 1996 bond act for municipal brownfields cleanup, approximately $175 million to $180 million remains, which is available to all municipalities within the State of New York. [As of December 2003], the city has been awarded about $1 million."[18] The IBO has noted that

"[a]dvocates and local and state officials point to a variety of reasons why New York City and other local governments have not done more to take advantage of DEC's (New York State Department of Environmental Conservation) programs in the past, including the difficulty of navigating the agency's regulations, conflicts between state and federal cleanup standards, and title restrictions."[19]

There are also brownfield remediation projects in which the private sector is currently involved. For example, sites "are remediated as part of private real estate transactions in cases in which anticipated rents or sale prices will cover cleanup cost."[20] Additionally, the City's "New Marketplace" housing plan, "announced in December of 2002, included the New Venture Incentive Program, a loan program that will provide financing for land acquisition and cleanup."[21] Through this housing plan, the City's Department of Housing Preservation and Development will provide, through 2009, "$200 million in loan funds to private developers building housing affordable to households earning no more than 165 percent of area median income."[22]

Another cleanup fund available in New York City is through the City's partnership with the New York Metro Brownfields Redevelopment Fund. The Fund "is using public financing to leverage private investment in a revolving loan fund for brownfields cleanup."[23] Unlike the New Venture Incentive Program, previously mentioned, "eligible projects for this fund will not be restricted to housing. Borrowers will be provided with technical assistance."[24] Nevertheless, despite this rise in new programs to spur remediation and redevelopment, "liability and cost issues have "deterred private landowners from cleaning up sites."[25]

As a strong signal of its commitment to addressing the issue of brownfields, in September 2003, the New York State legislature passed the Superfund/Brownfield Law "to promote cleanup of the state's brownfields."[26]

IV. New York State's Superfund/Brownfield Law

On October 7, 2003, the Governor of New York signed into law the long-awaited new Superfund/Brownfield Law, which, among other things, created a Brownfield Cleanup Program ("BCP") for New York State.[27] The BCP, codified as new Title 14 of Article 27 of the Environmental Conservation Law, was formed to encourage the voluntary remediation of brownfields and "to address the environmental, legal, and financial barriers that often hinder the redevelopment and reuse of contaminated properties. . . ."[28] Earlier this year, the State legislature passed a bill containing "technical corrections" to the initial brownfields law, which the Governor signed on October 5th.

The goal of the BCP is to "remediate the site to a level that is protective of public health and the environment; taking into account the current, intended, and reasonably anticipated future use of the site."[29] Prior to the enactment of the Superfund/Brownfield Law, the DEC remediated brownfields through the VCP (discussed in Section II, supra), upon which the BCP is modeled, but which had no explicit statutory authority or regulations. "This lack of formality, combined with the prospect of joint and several liability under the federal Superfund law, [had] discouraged investment in the cleanup and redevelopment of contaminated properties."[30] The BCP "helps citizens, developers and community groups transform brownfields into productive community assets by providing resources for all phases of remediation, from planning to redevelopment."[31] Such resources include various tax incentives and technical assistance grants of up to $50,000 each to help "facilitate participation of a citizen group in the cleanup decision-making process for a site."[32]

Those who the DEC accepts to participate in the BCP are separated into two categories – "participants" and "volunteers" – the former group consisting of those who owned a site at the time of contamination or are otherwise responsible for it and the latter group consisting of those not liable for such contamination or whose involvement with a site arose after the contamination occurred but were not responsible for it of for any new contamination. But for certain exceptions, eligible sites include "any real property, the redevelopment or reuse of which may be complicated by the presence or potential presence of a hazardous waste, petroleum, pollutant, or contaminant. . . ."[33]

The DEC requires that an applicant enter into a "brownfields cleanup agreement" (BCA) with the agency, by which the applicant "makes a commitment to undertake certain remedial activities under the Department's oversight".[34] This agreement addresses, among other things, preparation and submission of investigation work plans, a citizen participation plan, and payment of DEC oversight costs. If a remedial investigation shows that remediation of a site is needed, a remedial work plan is developed. The BCP incorporates a multi-track approach to clean-ups, which is dependent upon the proposed use of the site.

Based upon a review of a Final Engineering Report, if the DEC determines that the remediation requirements have been or will be achieved through a work plan, the agency issues a "certificate of completion" (COC), pursuant to which the applicant, and his or her successors or assigns, is released from liability to the State for hazardous waste or petroleum at or emanating from the site. However, the COC also contains "reopeners", which provide for its modification or revocation for "good cause" or where noncompliance with the BCA or misrepresentation has occurred. In addition, the COC triggers the potential tax credits offered pursuant to the BCP. Opportunities for public comment and participation exist throughout the BCP process, including during the period before the DEC approves the proposed remedial investigation report, finalizes the proposed remedial work plan and approves the final engineering report. The regulations implementing the BCP are not yet in place, but are currently in development.

In addition to establishing the BCP, the Superfund/Brownfield Law refinances the State's superfund program and "improve[s] the municipal Environmental Restoration Program funded through the 1996 Clean Water/Clean Air Bond Act to encourage even more municipal participation."[35] Specifically, the "legislation increases the state grant to municipalities from 75 percent of eligible costs to 90 percent of eligible on-site costs and 100 percent of eligible off-site costs, allowing the municipality to leverage other funds to pay their share."[36] Furthermore, it includes community based organizations working in concert with a local government in the term "municipality" and allows municipalities to retain their profits made from the sale of any property remediated with funds from the ERP program.

V. Federal Brownfields Programs

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is the principal federal agency in "cleaning up active facilities, or abandoned hazardous waste sites and preparing the land for redevelopment or redeployment."[37] The EPA's brownfields program is built upon four basic goals and principles:

"protecting the environment, partnering for success, stimulating the marketplace, and promoting sustainable reuse. As the federal leader of the national Brownfields Program, EPA is committed to supporting training, research and technical assistance that will further the goals of the program and provide enhanced knowledge, tools, and processes to the broad range of non-Federal brownfields stakeholders (e.g., state, local and other non-governmental entities).

On January 11, 2002, President George W. Bush signed into law the Small Business Liability Relief and Brownfields Revitalization Act. This law expands potential federal financial assistance for training, research, and technical assistance related to brownfields cleanup and redevelopment. The new law requires the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to publish guidance to assist applicants in preparing grant proposals. These guidelines implement that requirement for training, research, and technical assistance grants and cooperative agreements.

Funding for the brownfields training, research, and technical assistance grants and cooperative agreements is authorized under §104(k)(6) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, as amended, (CERCLA or Superfund), 42 U.S.C. 9604(k)(6). This statute authorizes EPA to provide, or fund eligible entities or nonprofit organizations to provide brownfields training, research, and technical assistance to individuals and organizations. EPA awards grants and cooperative agreements authorized by §104(k) under a statutory ranking system that includes factors relating to community need, impact on human health and the environment, stimulation or leveraging of other funds, eligibility for funding from other sources, effective use of existing infrastructure. In addition to the statutory factors, EPA also evaluates applicants based on their ability to manage grants and other policy based factors intended to promote effective stewardship of Federal funds."[38]

Additional EPA brownfields programs include:

The State and Tribal Response Programs, which provides a noncompetitive $50 million grant program to establish and enhance state and tribal response programs.

The Brownfields Economic Redevelopment Initiative, which provides New Yorkers with funding, technical assistance and resources to clean up brownfields.[39]

In June of 2004, the City of New York was awarded a $270,000 EPA brownfield assessment grant, as part of EPA's announcement that $75.4 million in Brownfields grants were being awarded nationwide for a variety of projects under the federal Small Business Liability Relief and Brownfields Revitalization Act, "to examine potential environmental contamination on the Mariners Marsh property in Staten Island."[40] According to the MOEC, "[t]he money will allow the NYC Department of Parks & Recreation to investigate potential environmental contamination from former industrial operations on the site."[41] Moreover, [t]he new grant will enable the Department of Parks & Recreation to complete the environmental assessment on the entire 107-acre property, which will be composed of natural areas and habitat restoration and used for active recreation. The investigation will concentrate on fill that was placed on the property during the course of former industrial operations, including ironworks, shipbuilding, and railyards."[42]

The City has also previously received two 2003 EPA brownfield grants:

"$750,000 Revolving Loan Fund grant to launch the NY Metro Brownfields Redevelopment Fund, and $400,000 Assessment grant to Housing Preservation & Development for environmental assessments including Broadway Triangle in Williamsburg, Brooklyn."[43]

VI. RES. NO. 795 – EXECUTE THE MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

A. Summary of Res. No. 795

In calling for the Governor and New York State Legislature to execute the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) required for the implementation of the landmark 2003 New York State Brownfield Cleanup Program and distribution of funding through the Brownfield Opportunity Areas Program (BOA), the Resolution cites the unparalleled opportunity the BOA provides to see vacant land in minority and underserved communities redeveloped, improved, and put to productive use. The New York State Superfund/Brownfield Law of 2003 stipulates that a MOU be executed by the Governor, the Temporary President of the New York State Senate, Senator Joseph L. Bruno, and the Speaker of the New York State Assembly, Assemblyman Sheldon Silver, to authorize the expenditure of funds associated with the Brownfield Cleanup Program, including the Brownfield Opportunity Areas Program as set forth in Section 970-R of the General Municipal Law. The Resolution states that, to date, approximately 20 percent of the applications for BOA Program funding have come from the five borough of New York City. The Resolution further states that the BOA Program is the key to unlocking the potential for revitalizing New York City's neighborhoods by redeveloping brownfield properties to meet vital community needs such as affordable housing, open space, and local job-creating businesses.

An additional clause was added to the original Res. No. 795 calling upon the Governor and New York State Legislature to agree upon a MOU that ensures a multi-year funding stream for the BOA Program, which will ensure continual uninterrupted funding. Additionally, the new clause request that the State routinely report on key programmatic decisions in order to promote accountability, and that, ideally, an advisory committee should be established to assist the State in implementing the Program. Finally, the Resolution asserts that the failure to reach agreement on the MOU has delayed the disbursement of the $30 million appropriated thus far for the BCP/BOA Programs, thereby, depriving New Yorkers and their communities of much needed relief and benefits. Unfortunately, Governor Pataki and the New York State Legislature have failed to reach agreement on the MOU.

VIII. Conclusion

As previously noted, brownfields are a major policy concern and impediment to development in New York City because of the lack of available land, which would allow for "significant investments in open space, housing, or commercial or industrial facilities."[44] In light of this fact, it is critical that the City and State pursue measures that provide for the extensive clean up of brownfield sites. To that end, "[e]nvironmental, community development, housing, and economic development organizations have long hoped that brownfields legislation would lead to extensive cleanup of land."[45] Proposed Res. No. 795-A and the new Superfund/Brownfield Law are a step in the right direction and, upon execution of a MOU, the new Superfund/Brownfield Law should have a positive impact in the City's efforts to reclaim brownfields.

Funding for the brownfields training, research, and technical assistance grants and cooperative agreements is authorized under §104(k)(6) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, as amended, (CERCLA or Superfund), 42 U.S.C. 9604(k)(6). This statute authorizes EPA to provide, or fund eligible entities or nonprofit organizations to provide brownfields training, research, and technical assistance to individuals and organizations. EPA awards grants and cooperative agreements authorized by §104(k) under a statutory ranking system that includes factors relating to community need, impact on human health and the environment, stimulation or leveraging of other funds, eligibility for funding from other sources, effective use of existing infrastructure. In addition to the statutory factors, EPA also evaluates applicants based on their ability to manage grants and other policy based factors intended to promote effective stewardship of Federal funds."[38]

Additional EPA brownfields programs include:

The State and Tribal Response Programs, which provides a noncompetitive $50 million grant program to establish and enhance state and tribal response programs.

The Brownfields Economic Redevelopment Initiative, which provides New Yorkers with funding, technical assistance and resources to clean up brownfields.[39]

In June of 2004, the City of New York was awarded a $270,000 EPA brownfield assessment grant, as part of EPA's announcement that $75.4 million in Brownfields grants were being awarded nationwide for a variety of projects under the federal Small Business Liability Relief and Brownfields Revitalization Act, "to examine potential environmental contamination on the Mariners Marsh property in Staten Island."[40] According to the MOEC, "[t]he money will allow the NYC Department of Parks & Recreation to investigate potential environmental contamination from former industrial

The City has also previously received two 2003 EPA brownfield grants:

"$750,000 Revolving Loan Fund grant to launch the NY Metro Brownfields Redevelopment Fund, and $400,000 Assessment grant to Housing Preservation & Development for environmental assessments including Broadway Triangle in Williamsburg, Brooklyn."[43]

VI. RES. NO. 795 – EXECUTE THE MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

A. Summary of Res. No. 795

In calling for the Governor and New York State Legislature to execute the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) required for the implementation of the landmark 2003 New York State Brownfield Cleanup Program and distribution of funding through the Brownfield Opportunity Areas Program (BOA), the Resolution cites the unparalleled opportunity the BOA provides to see vacant land in minority and underserved communities redeveloped, improved, and put to productive use. The New York State Superfund/Brownfield Law of 2003 stipulates that a MOU be executed by the Governor, the Temporary President of the New York State Senate, Senator Joseph L. Bruno, and the Speaker of the New York State Assembly, Assemblyman Sheldon Silver, to authorize the expenditure of funds associated with the Brownfield Cleanup Program, including the Brownfield Opportunity Areas Program as set forth in Section 970-R of the General Municipal Law. The Resolution states that, to date, approximately 20 percent of the applications for BOA Program funding have come from the five borough of New York City. The Resolution further states that the BOA Program is the key to unlocking the potential for revitalizing New York City's neighborhoods by redeveloping brownfield properties to meet vital community needs such as affordable housing, open space, and local job-creating businesses.

An additional clause was added to the original Res. No. 795 calling upon the Governor and New York State Legislature to agree upon a MOU that ensures a multi-year funding stream for the BOA Program, which will ensure continual uninterrupted funding. Additionally, the new clause request that the State routinely report on key programmatic decisions in order to promote accountability, and that, ideally, an advisory committee should be established to assist the State in implementing the Program. Finally, the Resolution asserts that the failure to reach agreement on the MOU has delayed the disbursement of the $30 million appropriated thus far for the BCP/BOA Programs, thereby, depriving New Yorkers and their communities of much needed relief and benefits. Unfortunately, Governor Pataki and the New York State Legislature have failed to reach agreement on the MOU.

VIII. Conclusion

As previously noted, brownfields are a major policy concern and impediment to development in New York City because of the lack of available land, which would allow for "significant investments in open space, housing, or commercial or industrial facilities."[44] In light of this fact, it is critical that the City and State pursue measures that provide for the extensive clean up of brownfield sites. To that end, "[e]nvironmental, community development, housing, and economic development organizations have long hoped that brownfields legislation would lead to extensive cleanup of land."45 Proposed Res. No. 795-A and the new Superfund/Brownfield Law are a step in the right direction and, upon execution of a MOU, the new Superfund/Brownfield Law should have a positive impact in the City's efforts to reclaim brownfields.

Whereas, The BCP was formed to encourage the voluntary remediation of brownfields and to address the environmental, legal, and financial barriers that often hinder the redevelopment and reuse of contaminated properties; and

Whereas, The presence of brownfields in New York City are a major policy concern because there is a limited supply of vacant land in the City and brownfields make up a large portion of the relatively few sites available in the City for development, and in some areas brownfields create or add to neighborhood blight; and

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 796-A

Report of the Committee on Transportation in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to amend the public authorities law to provide for a minimum staffing level of one conductor and one operator on trains operated in passenger service on lines in the New York City transit system that travel through tunnels, under a body of water, or over a bridge; or during instances when trains in passenger service are composed of more than four cars, or are greater than three hundred sixty feet in length, or are able to carry a passenger load of more than 750 persons.

The Committee on Transportation to which was referred on February 2, 2005 (Minutes, page 820) the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On March 1, 2005, the Committee on Transportation, chaired by Council Member John Liu, will hold a hearing on Proposed Res. No. 796-A. Proposed Res. No. 796-A calls upon the New York State Legislature to amend the public authorities law to provide for a minimum staffing level of one conductor and one operator on trains operated in passenger service on lines in the New York City transit system that travel through tunnels; under a body of water; or over a bridge; or during instances when trains in passenger service are composed of more than four cars, or are greater than three hundred sixty feet in length, or are able to carry a passenger load of more than 750 persons.

This hearing will review this resolution within the context of safety issues and concerns potentially affecting transit riders and workers with the implementation of the Computer Based Train Control automated system. Those invited to testify include Lawrence G. Reuter, President, New York City Transit; Andrew Albert, President, New York City Transit Riders Council; Roger Toussaint, President, Transport Workers Union – Local 100; Linda Angello, Commissioner, New York State Department of Labor; Richard Mendelson, Area Director, United States Department of Labor; and Raymond Kelly, Commissioner, New York City Police Department; Nicholas Scoppetta, Commissioner, New York City Fire Department; and Joseph F. Bruno, Commissioner, Office of Emergency Management.

BACKGROUND AND ANALYSIS

As part of an ongoing modernization program, the New York City Transit Authority (NYCT) is planning to automate trains over the next 30 to 40 years, which will allow trains to be tracked, driven, and targeted for repair all by computer. This Communications-Based Train Control (CBTC) System is estimated to begin on the L Train (the Canarsie line) as early as July 2005.

With CBTC, NYCT claims it can more flexibly allot space between trains. This is because each train would be designated its own specific signal. When that signal passes a sensor along a subway line, computers on board the train will relay a radio message to terminals located at a new central operating center. This Radio Control Center, currently under construction at 54th Street and 9th Avenue on the site of an old bus depot, will become the headquarters for the entire subway line. Replacing the Rapid Transit Operations Command Center on Jay Street, the new center will house the main system computers, which will process information sent from all the trains and relay back messages directing them along their route. The system is said to be designed to track every train at all times, informing passengers when the next train will be arriving.[1]

CBTC advocates argue that the new system will factor in the incline of the tracks, the number of passengers and the weather, enabling NYCT to operate train service with more precision and efficiency, thereby allowing trains to run closer together and more frequently. Such automated systems are in place in other major cities such as San Francisco, Washington DC, London, and especially Paris, where the move towards more "driver-less" trains is viewed as a model.

CBTC EXPANSION AND OPPOSITION TO ELIMINATING STAFF

It is the long-term intention of the New York City Transit Authority to expand the CBTC system to all trains in the City of New York if the system is successful on the Canarsie Line. Moreover, while present plans call for trains operated by the CBTC system to continue to be manned by trained conductors, the MTA plans to eliminate conductors on CBTC-controlled trains on the Canarsie line and elsewhere.

This plan raises substantial concerns in light of the recent track fires on the A and C line at Chambers Street, the F and V subway line running under Sixth Avenue in Manhattan; and other prior incidents that underscore the actual or potential role of conductors and operators on trains during an emergency. According to an article in Newsday, the derailment of an F train and electric fires and smoke (caused when power was prematurely restored) prompted the motorman, conductor and track workers to evacuate about 50 passengers.[2] Later that day, the collapse of a 200-foot portion of third rail on the same line forced the evacuation of hundreds of riders.[3] Reportedly, since 2002, train operators, conductors or other transit employees have safely evacuated passengers in 11 instances from fire and smoke conditions alone.[4]

Opponents argue that, compared to the CBTC, operators and conductors can more reliably be responsive to the safety of track workers; to any hindrances blocking the tracks or doors that could cause injury or delays; to the needs of a sick passenger; and to any emergency circumstance that would require an entire train to be evacuated, especially in an underground water tube or tunnel.

PROPOSED SOLUTION: MINIMUM STAFFING ON TRAINS

Proposed Res. No. 796-A calls on the New York State Legislature to pass Assembly bill A0354, which would amend the Public Authorities to provide minimum staffing of trains operating passenger service. Through the passage of this amendment, the New York State Legislature would ensure that at least one operator and one conductor would be deployed on each train in passenger service operated by the New York City Transit Authority in areas where or during periods when emergencies might arise. Example of such instances include when trains regularly travel through tunnels under bodies of water or on bridges; when trains are greater than three hundred sixty feet in length; when trains are composed of more than four cars; or when there is heavy passenger volume.

Proposed Res. No 796-A is a revised version of the original resolution (Res. No 796) that was referred to the Committee. The revisions are confined to referencing the specific bill introduced in the State Assembly (A0354) and several elements of the bill.

CONCLUSION

Many questions remain among the public and within the MTA and NYCT as to whether improved service and adequate safeguards would accompany the implementation of a CBTC system. This hearing creates a forum to discuss these various concerns and the importance of minimum staffing levels as a means of addressing them.. Riders and transit workers need to be absolutely assured that the new automated system satisfies all existing and applicable safety requirements and is not considered a replacement for the presence of conductors and operators.

INTRODUCTION AND READING OF BILLS

Int. No. 583

By The Speaker (Council Member Miller) and Council Members DeBlasio, Comrie, Quinn, Yassky, Brewer, Clarke, Fidler, Gerson, James, Koppell, Liu, Monserrate, Nelson, Palma, Perkins, Seabrook, Stewart and Weprin.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to stem cell research.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. It is estimated that approximately 128 million Americans suffer from the crippling physical, economic and psychological burdens of chronic, degenerative and acute diseases, including, but not limited to, Alzheimer's disease, cancer, diabetes and Parkinson's disease. Treating such diseases, and the lost productivity they cause, costs the United States hundreds of billions of dollars annually. Estimates of such economic costs do not account for the extreme human loss and suffering associated with such diseases.

The United States has historically welcomed open scientific inquiry and technological innovation, and this environment, combined with the commitment of public and private resources, has made this nation the preeminent world leader not only in medical care and treatments, but also in the important fields of biomedicine and biotechnology.

The Council finds that human stem cell research offers immense promise for developing new medical therapies for debilitating diseases, and could lead to unprecedented treatments and potential cures for Alzheimer's disease, cancer, diabetes, Parkinson's disease and other diseases. The Council also finds that the biomedical industry is a critical and growing component of New York City's economy and would be significantly diminished by certain limitations imposed on stem cell research. The Council also recognizes that stem cell research, including the use of embryonic stem cells, presents important ethical and policy concerns which must be carefully considered and balanced.

In addition to permitting the conduct of research involving stem cells to take place in New York City, it is also the intent of the Council to ensure that when the City purchases health insurance, it also purchases enhanced services that will provide options relating to stem cell research.

§2. Title 17 of the administrative code of the city of New York is hereby amended by adding a new section 17-188 to read as follows:

§17-188 a. Short title. This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Stem Cell Research Act."

b. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Agency" shall mean a city, county, borough, administration, department, office, division, bureau, board or commission, or a corporation, institution or other agency of government, the expenses of which are paid in whole or in part from the city treasury.

(2) "City" shall mean the city of New York.

(3) "Fertility treatments" shall mean all treatments or procedures performed at a medical facility in conformity with the standards of the American Society for Reproductive Medicine and with any standards set by an appropriate city, state or federal entity, that involve the handling of human egg and sperm for the purpose of facilitating pregnancy, including, but not limited to, artificial insemination, in vitro fertilization, semen analysis, sperm aspiration, gamete intrafallopian transfer, zygote intrafallopian transfer, embryo cryopreservation, egg or embryo donation, vasectomy reversal, surrogate birth and any other reproductive treatment deemed "non-experimental" by the American Society for Reproductive Medicine or an appropriate city, state or federal entity.

(4) "Human cloning" shall mean the replication of a single human being by cultivating a cell with genetic material from such human being through the egg, embryo, fetal and/or newborn stages, resulting in the manifestation of a new human being whose genetic material has been derived solely from the genetic material of the first-said human being.

(5) "Stem cells" shall mean human embryonic stem cells, human embryonic germ cells and human adult stem cells from any source, including somatic cell nuclear transplantation.

c. Stem cell research permitted. The conduct of research involving the derivation and use of stem cells shall be permitted in the city. Any individual engaging in such work shall give full consideration to the ethical and medical implications of such research. All such research shall be reviewed by the advisory review board established pursuant to subdivision h of this section.

d. Provision of information to fertility patients. No agency shall enter into an agreement or contract with any health insurer to provide health insurance coverage to employees of the city and their eligible dependents that does not contain a provision whereby such health insurer agrees to ensure that the health care providers that offer fertility treatments with whom the health insurer contracts (i) will provide timely, relevant and appropriate information to patients sufficient to allow them to make an informed and voluntary choice regarding the disposition of any human embryos remaining following such fertility treatments, (ii) will present any individual to whom such information is provided with the option of storing any such unused embryos, donating such embryos to another individual, discarding such embryos or donating such embryos for research and (iii) will ensure that any individual who elects to donate embryos remaining after fertility treatments for research shall provide written consent thereof, in such form and manner as determined pursuant to rules promulgated by the department.

e. Prohibitions. (1) No person shall knowingly engage or assist, either directly or indirectly, in human cloning in the city, and nothing in this section shall be construed to permit such human cloning.

(2) A person may not knowingly, for valuable consideration, purchase or sell embryonic or cadaveric fetal tissue for research purposes. For purposes of this paragraph, "valuable consideration" does not include reasonable payment for the removal, processing, disposal, preservation, quality control, storage, transplantation or implantation of any body part or material. Embryonic or cadaveric fetal tissue may be donated for research purposes.

f. Funding. Notwithstanding any other law, rule or regulation, city funds appropriated for the purpose of medical research may be used for research involving stem cells, embryonic and/or fetal tissue; provided, however, that such funds may not be appropriated or used in connection with any research involving human cloning.

g. Advisory review board. There shall be established within the department an advisory review board, consisting of six individuals, including the commissioner, or his or her designee, physicians, other health care providers, medical researchers and representatives from community groups focusing on treatment of diseases. The review board shall recommend policies, consistent with the provisions of this section, applicable to research that is subject to the provisions of this section. Such recommended policies shall include, but not be limited to, permissible research acts and practices, policies and procedures regarding the provision of information to patients pursuant to subdivision d of this section and the monitoring of the provision of such information, and other compliance with the provisions of this section or any rules promulgated pursuant to this section. The mayor shall appoint three members of the board, one of which shall be the commissioner, or his or her designee, and the speaker of the council shall appoint three members of the board. Members shall serve for a term of three years and may be removed for cause. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as the original position was filled. The commissioner shall be appointed the chair during such board's first meeting, which shall be convened within one hundred and twenty days after the effective date of the local law that added this section. The board shall meet at least quarterly and all members of the board shall serve without compensation, except that each member shall be allowed actual and necessary expenses to be audited in the same manner as other city charges. No person shall be ineligible for membership on the review board because such person holds any other public office, employment or trust, nor shall any person be made ineligible to or forfeit such person's right to any public office, employment or trust by reason of such appointment.

h. Rules. The department shall promulgate such rules as may be necessary to implement the provisions of this section.

§3. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or other portion of this local law, including any requirement imposed or credit authorized pursuant to it, is for any reason declared unconstitutional or invalid, in whole or in part, by any court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed severable, and such unconstitutionality or invalidity shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this local law, which remaining portions shall continue in full force and effect.

Referred to the Committee on Health.

A Local Law in relation to the expenditure of payments in lieu of taxes and requiring a monthly report on the collection and use of all such payments to the City of New York.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Statement of legislative findings and intent.

Legislative appropriation of public funds is a bedrock principal of representative democracy, enshrined in the Federal and State Constitutions and local governmental Charters across the country. Article 1 section 9 of the United States Constitution provides "No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law", while in New York, Article 7 Section 7 of the New York State Constitution provides that "no money shall ever be paid out of the state treasury or any of its funds or any of the funds under its management except in pursuance of an appropriation by law." Similarly, section 109 of the Charter provides "[n]o money...shall be paid from any fund under the management of the city, or any fund under the management of any agency or officer of the city, or any other entity, the majority of the members of whose board are city officials or are appointed directly or indirectly by city officials, except in pursuance of an appropriation by the council or other specific legal authorization..." (Charter §227(a) emphasis added).

The Council finds that this fundamental principal of legislative appropriation of public funds is not always adhered to. For example, recent reports indicate that the Administration has expended, and intends to expend, payments in lieu of taxes (PILOTs) without the required Council appropriation. This violates not only the principal of legislative appropriation, but also the specific Charter requirements that expenditures of municipal funds be made pursuant to Council appropriation, as well as State law governing PILOTs.

The State General Municipal Law requires that any PILOT payments received by an industrial development agency be remitted to the affected tax jurisdiction within thirty days of receipt. The State Comptroller has opined that PILOTs received by a municipality's industrial development agency constitute general revenues of the municipality and must be included as estimated revenues for purposes of preparing the municipality's budget. Thus, both State law and the City's Charter make clear that PILOTs must be paid into the City's general fund and can only be spent pursuant to a budgetary appropriation adopted by the Council.

Because it appears that, in addition to having unlawfully spent PILOTs without Council appropriations, the Administration has failed to comprehensively account for PILOTs, the Council hereby exercises its existing legislative authority by reaffirming that no City funds be expended without Council appropriation and taking a first step in ensuring accountability for these funds.

§2. Consistent with section one of this local law, no City funds, including but not limited to PILOTs, may be expended without an appropriation by the Council in accordance with the Charter of the City of New York.

§3. Within 10 days of the effective date of this local law and no later than the first day of every month thereafter, the Mayor shall provide to the Council a report providing the following information with respect each payment in lieu of taxes (1) the amount of such PILOT; (2) the person or entity paying such PILOT; (3) the agency or entity that established such PILOT; (4) the amount of the real property or other tax for which the person or entity paying the PILOT would have been responsible were the property or transaction not the subject of the tax exemption and the difference between such amount and the PILOT; (5) the agency or entity collecting such PILOT; (6) the funds or accounts into which each such PILOT is paid; (7) if any such PILOT or portion of such PILOT has not been paid into the City's general fund, the use to which such PILOT or portion thereof has been put. Provided, however, that if the first monthly report following the initial report due ten days after the effective date of this local law would be due within 15 days of such initial report, such first monthly report shall not be required. For purposes of this local law the phrase "payment in lieu of taxes" or "PILOT" shall mean any payment made to the New York City Industrial Development Agency, the New York City Economic Development Corporation or other local development corporation, or to the City or any agency or agent thereof, equal to the amount, or a portion of, real property taxes or other taxes, which would have been levied by or on behalf of the city if the project was not tax exempt.

Res. No. 856

Resolution mourning the death and celebrating the life of Peter Zvi Malkin, the man who captured Adolph Eichmann.

By The Speaker (Council Member Miller) and Council Members Vallone Jr., Nelson, Recchia, Brewer, Comrie, Fidler, Gennaro, Gerson, Liu, McMahon, Perkins, Sanders, Seabrook, Stewart, Weprin and Quinn.

Whereas, The Council has learned with deep sorrow of the death on March 1, 2005 of legendary Mossad agent Peter Zvi "Zvika" Malkin who among his countless and often unpublicized exploits, is best known to the world as the person who captured the notorious Nazi SS officer Adolph Eichmann whose responsibilities included sending millions of Jews (including Malkin's sister, brother-in law, their small children and 150 relatives) to German death camps during the Second World War; and

Whereas, Peter Malkin joined the Mossad, Israel's security agency soon after the creation of the State of Israel and in 27 years of service rose to be its head of operations; and

Whereas, Throughout his career in hostile countries he posed as, and actually was, an accomplished artist whose odd hours painting in his "studio" raised little suspicion; and

Whereas, His exploits ranged from tracking terrorists to sneaking into hostile countries' missile factories to photograph their blueprints, to hiding beneath a very large table at an Arab League meeting to eavesdrop on planned actions against Israel, to so many heroic deeds which for security reasons can never be told; and

Whereas, Peter Malkin said that he never carried a gun, his only weapon was his brain which he used so efficiently to plan and carry out every mission; and

Whereas, After several attempts to find Eichmann failed, Isser Harel, the founder of the Mossad sent Malkin and a team of agents to Argentina in 1960 where upon locating Eichmann Peter convinced his commanders to let him trail Eichmann alone so not to scare him off; and

Whereas, He told Israeli journalist and long time friend Uri Dan "I was determined to catch him because the eyes of six million are following me"; and

Whereas, When the moment of capture approached as Eichmann, living under the assumed name of Ricardo Klement, got off a bus bringing him home from work at a Mercedes Benz plant, Malkin approached him and called out "Un momentito senor" before grabbing the wanted Nazi and hustling him into a waiting car; and

Whereas, Eichmann was kept in a safe house in Argentina before being secretly smuggled out of the country disguised as a drunken El-Al pilot aboard a plane carrying Israeli diplomat Abba Eban returning from an official visit to Argentina; and

Whereas, During his stay at the safe house, Malkin, against orders, had long discussions with Eichmann to try to understand how human beings could perpetrate such evil; and

Whereas, In one such discussion he asked Eichmann "My sister had a boy, blond and cheerful as your son (Eichmann had a new family in Argentina) whom I have seen many times during the last days. Why is it that your son walks freely, while my sister's (murdered) son can't?" Eichmann stared at Malkin for a moment and replied "Yes, but he was Jewish, wasn't he?"; and

Whereas, Eichmann was tried in a televised and highly emotional trial in Jerusalem in 1961 and upon being found guilty of crimes against humanity is the only person (despite 55 years of terrorism against Israel) ever to be executed in Israel; and

Whereas, In his defense of his role in the mass murder of so many millions of innocent people Eichmann testified that he was only "following orders"; and

Whereas, The role that Peter Malkin played in this historic capture and his many, many other heroic deeds on behalf of a civilized world will forever be remembered; and

Whereas, After his retirement from the Mossad in 1976, Peter who divided his time between America and Tel Aviv, Israel spent much of every year living in New York City, a place he loved to explore, some days walking 15 or 20 miles from borough to borough; and

Whereas, After retirement Peter dedicated his life to his family, friends, his painting, and advising and lecturing around the world on security issues. He loved to speak to large crowds of university students and in one example so typical of wherever he spoke, the students of Yale University refused to let him leave and kept asking him question after question for hours and hours on end; and

Whereas, He helped many American law enforcement agencies and was instrumental in the capture of a KGB agent bribing Brazilian army officers to buy American weapons, smashing international drug rings and confirming stories told under interrogation by Frank Terpil a rogue CIA agent accused of selling explosives to terrorists; and

Whereas, Much of his unpaid service to America was performed at the request of his long time friend Manhattan District Attorney Robert Morgenthau who he met during the Terpil interrogations and who would later sponsor Peter for United States citizenship; and

Whereas, At a memorial service held for Peter at Park East Synagogue on March 2, 2005, before his body was flown to Israel for a funeral and burial, Bob Morgenthau said he believed Peter to be "the outstanding intelligence agent of the 20th century"; and

Whereas, Peter Malkin was much more than a famous spy; he was a warm, very funny, caring, unassuming individual, a man with the uncanny ability to turn an adversary into a friend and what friends he had – they ranged from heads of states to heads of major corporations and from world known personalities to the ordinary man in the street, and to a group of friends who were proudest of the fact that their lives were touched and changed forever by knowing and spending time with this extraordinary human being; and

Whereas, Eight years ago, the City Council, under the sponsorship of former Speaker Peter Vallone and Finance Chair Herb Berman honored Peter Malkin at a Proclamation Ceremony. Peter stated that it was as honor that he would always treasure and he proudly and prominently displayed the proclamation in his New York City apartment; and

Whereas, Some States permanently disenfranchise some or all ex-offenders who have fully served their sentences, regardless of the nature or seriousness of the offense; and

Whereas, Even in States where ex-offenders may regain the right to vote, few have the financial and political resources to succeed; and

Whereas, Currently an estimated 4.7 million individuals in the United States, roughly 1 in 44 adults, cannot vote as a result of a felony conviction; and

Whereas, Here in New York State approximately 130,000 otherwise qualified individuals are prevented from voting as a result of their status as ex-offenders; and

Whereas, Segregationists designed many of the felony disenfranchisement statutes in the United States to work in conjunction with other measures such as literacy tests, grandfather clauses, white primaries, and poll taxes to exclude African-Americans from the polls; and

Whereas, Felony disenfranchisement continues to deprive African-Americans and Latinos in vastly disproportionate numbers, regardless of the fact that many of the other measures crafted by segregationists have since been outlawed; and

Whereas, African-Americans across the United States are five times more likely than whites to become disenfranchised because of their status as ex-offenders; and

Whereas, Latinos face similarly disproportionate rates of felony disenfranchisement as African-Americans; and

Whereas, African-Americans and Latinos in New York State suffer even greater disparities in their rates of felony disenfranchisement when compared to whites than do minorities in other states; and

Whereas, Approximately 676,000 American women are also prevented from voting because they are ex-offenders; and

Whereas, Permanent disenfranchisement of ex-offenders who have fully served their sentences does not achieve any of the recognized goals of penal policy, namely incapacitation, deterrence, retribution, and/or rehabilitation; and

Whereas, Even if it were to serve a legitimate function, permanent disenfranchisement of individuals who have fully served their sentences is not a proportional form of punishment; and

Whereas, There exists no evidence that ex-offenders who are allowed to vote subvert elections in any way; and

Whereas, There is no evidence that ex-offenders are any more likely to commit electoral fraud than non-offenders; and

Whereas, Disenfranchisement encourages recidivism by making it more difficult for ex-offenders to reintegrate into society; and

Whereas, The purpose of the Civic Participation Act of 2005 is to restore fairness in the Federal election process by ensuring that ex-offenders who have fully served their sentences are not denied the right to vote; and

Whereas, The Civic Participation Act of 2005 remedies many of the problems arising out of felony disenfranchisement by simply establishing that individuals who are citizens of the United States may vote in Federal elections, even if they have been convicted of a felony, so long as they are no longer incarcerated, on parole, or on probation; and

Whereas, The effects of the Civic Participation Act, would be to expand the franchise, combat discrimination, reduce recidivism, and strengthen our democracy; and

Whereas, The Count Every Vote Act of 2005 is an omnibus bill designed to resolve many of the problems that continue to plague the Federal electoral process, including felony disenfranchisement; now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York urges the United States Congress to pass the Count Every Vote Act of 2005, introduced in the Senate by Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton and in the House by Representative Stephanie Tubbs Jones, a comprehensive package of pro-democracy, pro-voter legislation that contains the Civic Participation Act of 2005, a measure to restore voting rights in Federal elections to ex-offenders who have completed their sentences.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to an annual Fire Department terrorism response drill.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. According to Porter Goss, Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, "it may only be a matter of time" before terrorists use weapons of mass destruction against the United States. New York City, the site of two previous terrorist attacks, remains one of the nation's most likely targets.

The New York City Fire Department's (FDNY) emergency drills are pre-scheduled events, with pre-identified employees of the emergency medical service and firefighters training on overtime outside of normal work hours. It is never a surprise that a drill is going to occur; only the type of incident is a surprise.

Such drills do not test how FDNY personnel will respond to what they perceive to be a real-life situation or assess whether the city can maintain regular services during the course of a disaster. These drills also do not test the ability of FDNY personnel to travel to an incident, whether from existing assignments or from their homes, and do not gauge whether there will be problems, like those that occurred on 9/11, with too many units responding to an incident and without reporting to the Department.

The Council finds that the FDNY cannot adequately assess its terrorism preparedness without surprise drills. Accordingly, the Council declares it reasonable and necessary to require the FDNY to conduct at least one surprise terrorism drill annually.

§15-129 Terrorism drills. The department shall conduct at least one surprise drill per year to test the ability of firefighters and the emergency medical service to respond to a large-scale biological, chemical, nuclear or radiological terrorist incident.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to hazardous materials training for the emergency medical service.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. According to Porter Goss, Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, "it may only be a matter of time" before terrorists use weapons of mass destruction against the United States. New York City, the site of two previous terrorist attacks, remains one of the nation's most likely targets.

The Fire Department's Emergency Medical Service (EMS) is responsible for decontamination and inoculation in emergency incidents involving chemical, biological, radiological or nuclear/hazardous-materials (CBRN/Haz-Mat). Nonetheless, the EMS is insufficiently prepared to respond to CBRN/Haz-Mat incidents involving large numbers of exposed persons. For example, the president of the Uniformed EMT's & Paramedics has testified before the City Council that in a major incident "what we're going to be delivering is freshly decontaminated bodies to the morgue." Other union officials have dismissed the training provided to most members of EMS as a "joke" and have summed up this training as "basically . . . tell[ing] the individual that they should not go in the direction that the wind is blowing." The rank-and-file of the EMS believe that the FDNY is "absolutely not" adequately prepared for a large-scale CBRN/Haz-Mat incident.

The Council finds that proper training of the EMS is essential for the city's terrorism preparedness. Accordingly, the Council declares it reasonable and necessary to require that the EMS have sufficient numbers of trained personnel to respond to a large-scale CBRN/Haz-Mat incident.

§15-129 Emergency medical service hazardous materials training. The department shall assess the number of trained emergency medical service personnel, and the level of training, required to decontaminate and inoculate at any large scale terrorist incident involving chemical, biological, radiological or nuclear/hazardous-materials, and shall train sufficient personnel to respond to any such incidents.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. Minority and female recruitment has been a perennial problem for the Fire Department: of the uniformed members of the Department, 91.6% are Caucasian; of over 8,700 members, only 28 are women. In contrast, 65% of New York City residents are minorities and 50% are women.

The former Fire Cadet program is one of the few highly successful steps the New York City Fire Department ("FDNY") has ever undertaken to improve diversity. Seventy-three current firefighters were once Fire Cadets, of which 45 or 58% are minority and 3 are women. According to the FDNY's Deputy Commissioner for Administration, Douglas White, no other program, past or present, has had as much effect on diversity in the Department.

The Council finds that re-establishing a Fire Cadet program is essential for the FDNY to begin reflecting the diversity of New York City. Accordingly, the Council declares that it is reasonable and necessary to require the establishment of a Fire Cadet program.

15-129 Fire cadet program. The commissioner shall establish an annual program in which 300 students enrolled in the city university of new york shall participate in a six-month paid work-study program to expose them to working firefighters, fire prevention and other fire department activities. After completion of such program, such students shall receive three months training for becoming emergency medical technicians.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to reforming the ranking procedure for the open competitive firefighter exam.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. Minority and female recruitment has been a perennial problem for the Fire Department: of the uniformed members of the Department, 91.6% are Caucasian; of over 8,700 members, only 28 are women. In contrast, 65% of New York City residents are minorities and 50% are women.

The open competitive firefighter exam enables the Fire Department to identify people who have the necessary strength and intelligence to become firefighters. However, beyond identifying candidates who can meet these thresholds, the hiring process does a poor job of distinguishing among the candidates, to the detriment of minorities and women.

Candidates for the position of firefighter are invited to the Fire Academy in the order of their rank on the FDNY hiring list, which is determined by combining scores on the written and physical exams, and then adding on any bonus points. Up to 25 points can be added to a candidate's raw exam scores: 5 points for residents of New York City; 5 points for veterans; 5 points for offspring of members of the city's uniformed agencies who died in the line of duty; and 10 points for siblings of firefighters or police officers who died in the line of duty during the World Trade Center attack.

In order to be placed on the FDNY's hiring list, candidates must achieve passing scores on both a written SAT-like exam and a physical exam. The passing grade on the 1999 written exam was 85%, and on the physical exam a candidate cannot fail more than two of eight tasks. These thresholds ensure that any candidate placed on the FDNY's hiring list meets necessary intelligence and strength criteria. Indeed, the list established from the 1999 written exam was exhausted, meaning every passing candidate who cleared background checks was eventually offered a position in the Fire Academy. Presumably all these candidates were qualified to become firefighters or they would not have been offered a place in the Fire Academy.

Relative ranking on the FDNY's hiring list, however, does not accurately reflect differences in firefighting ability. First, the existence of up to 25 bonus points that, with the exception of points for veterans, though laudable, appear to have no bearing on qualities relating to firefighting, makes it difficult to believe that placement on the civil service list fully reflects merit and fitness. Second, the written exam tests certain important qualities, such as visual-spatial skills and reading comprehension, but cannot and does not test many of the characteristics that make a good firefighter. In addition to physical strength and intelligence, firefighters should possess bravery, quick thinking, common sense, leadership skills, and ability to function well under pressure, to follow orders and work in a quasi-military structure, and to work well in a team.

As a result, one cannot say with any degree of confidence that someone with a total score of 99, and ranked at the top of the FDNY's hiring list, would be a better firefighter than someone with a total score of 89, who may be too low on the list to ever be hired. The person with the higher score, for example, may have received 10 bonus points for being the sibling of a police officer who died on September 11, 2001. Alternatively, the difference in scores could entirely reflect differences on the written exam, which, as just discussed, is more of a test of general intelligence than firefighting ability. Moreover, in the context of the 1999 written exam, the candidate with a lower score still would have passed the exam with a minimum score of 85%.

That factors other than firefighting ability influence the ordering of a list of qualified firefighter candidates is not problematic in of itself. Since all candidates on the hiring list meet criteria the FDNY has established, they are all capable of becoming effective firefighters. The ranking is problematic, however, because minorities and women tend to be lower on the list. As a result, it typically takes longer for minorities and women to be invited to the Fire Academy, increasing the chances that they will have begun alternative careers or otherwise have lost interest in becoming firefighters. In addition, since the hiring list is often not exhausted, well-qualified minorities and women on the list may never be called to the Fire Academy.

The Council finds that the current civil service ranking of firefighter candidates does not fully reflect merit and fitness, and leads to the hiring of fewer minorities and women. Accordingly, the Council declares that it is reasonable and necessary to reform the ranking procedure for the open competitive firefighter exam.

§2. Chapter one of title 15 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 15-129 to read as follows:

15-129 Ranking of firefighter candidates. Firefighter candidates from the open competitive firefighter exam shall be ranked on the eligible to hire list in two zones, the high zone and the low zone. The high zone shall encompass the top scoring fifty percent of candidates who successfully pass the firefighter written and physical exams. The low zone shall encompass the bottom scoring fifty percent of candidates who successfully pass the firefighter written and physical exams. Within each zone, the department shall randomly order the candidates.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to providing separate women's bathrooms and showers in all New York City firehouses.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. Firefighters spend long hours at firehouses, with shifts that include overnight stays, and must be available on a moment's notice. Firehouses thus become firefighters' home away from home and are equipped with eating, sleeping, bathroom, and shower facilities. Even more than typical employees, firefighters require bathroom and shower facilities after fighting fires, given the smoke and soot conditions at fires and the physically intensive nature of their work. As a result, all firehouses include these facilities.

The vast majority of the city's firehouses, however, do not have separate bathroom and shower facilities for women. Instead, firehouses are normally equipped with one large, open bathroom to be used by all firefighters. The absence of separate facilities for each sex contributes to an atmosphere that is unwelcome for women and hinders the FDNY's longstanding goal of improving its diversity. Frequently, women firefighters can only take a shower or use the bathroom in private by locking the one large bathroom typical of most firehouses. Women firefighters are often placed in the uncomfortable position of preventing the rest of the firehouse from using the bathroom or showers, something that can build resentment among their male counterparts.

The New York City Council finds that the city's existing firehouses are inadequately fitted for a modern workforce that includes both men and women. Accordingly, the Council declares that it is reasonable and necessary to require all firehouses to include separate bathroom and shower facilities for firefighters of each sex.

§2. Chapter 1 of title 15 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding section 15-129, to read as follows:

§3. This local law shall become effective 90 days after its enactment into law.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to joint training by the hazardous materials teams of the New York City Fire Department and the New York City Police Department.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. According to Porter Goss, Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, "it may only be a matter of time" before terrorists use weapons of mass destruction against the United States. New York City, the site of two previous terrorist attacks, remains one of the nation's most likely targets.

The Citywide Incident Management System ("CIMS") organizes the responsibilities of city agencies during different emergency situations. Both the Fire Department ("FDNY") and Police Department ("NYPD") are granted authority during incidents that involved chemical, biological, radiological or nuclear/hazardous-materials (CBRN/Haz-Mat). In such incidents, the FDNY is responsible for life safety operations and mass decontamination, whereas the NYPD is responsible for overall site management, assessment and investigations. The NYPD is designated the "primary agency" at CBRN/Haz-Mat incidents.

The question of who directs the response to an emergency has been an ongoing source of concern and controversy in New York City, particularly between the FDNY and the NYPD. The rivalry between the departments is longstanding and on-going. Although the FDNY and NYPD are given overlapping responsibilities in CBRN/Haz-Mat situations, the hazardous materials personnel of the two departments do not train together on a sufficiently regular basis.

The Council finds that cooperation and coordination between the FDNY and NYPD at CBRN/Haz-Mat is essential for the city's terrorism preparedness. Accordingly, the Council declares it reasonable and necessary to require regular and frequent joint training by the hazardous materials teams of the FDNY and the NYPD.

§2. Chapter one of title 15 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 15-129 to read as follows:

§15-129 Hazardous materials training. Any fire department personnel responsible for responding to incidents involving hazardous materials shall train at least monthly together with any police department personnel responsible for responding to incidents involving hazardous materials.

§3. Chapter one of title 14 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 14-152 to read as follows:

§14-152 Hazardous materials training. Any police department personnel responsible for responding to incidents involving hazardous materials shall train at least monthly together with any fire department personnel responsible for responding to incidents involving hazardous materials.

Res. No. 860

Resolution calling upon the Congress of the United States to adopt legislation protecting the right to earn overtime pay and reversing the affects of detrimental new federal regulations that significantly weaken overtime protections.

By Council Members Clarke, Brewer, Comrie, James, Koppell, Nelson, Palma, Perkins, Sanders, Seabrook and Quinn.

Whereas, Until recently, certain workers, pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, had the right to be paid at enhanced rates for overtime work; and

Whereas, According to the Center for Policy Alternatives, this right extended to approximately 90 million workers, who were entitled to be paid time-and-a-half if they worked more than 40 hours in a week; and

Whereas, Regulations promulgated by the United States Department of Labor at 29 C.F.R. Part 541, which became effective on August 23, 2004, revised regulations governing the exemption from overtime pay for executive, administrative, professional, outside sales, and certain computer employees, making it easier for employers to classify their employees as exempt from the right to earn overtime pay; and

Whereas, Three separate tests must be met to classify a white-collar employee as exempt from overtime protections, and thus ineligible for overtime pay; and

Whereas, These three tests consist of a "salary level" test, which dictates that employees earning less than a certain level each week cannot be exempt, a "salary basis" test, which mandates that employees must be paid a set salary, rather than an hourly wage, in order to be exempt, and a "duties" test, which requires that a worker cannot be denied overtime pay unless his or her duties are primarily administrative, professional or executive in nature; and

Whereas, While the Bush Administration's new overtime regulations change the "salary level" test, making it easier for some, but more difficult for others, to earn overtime pay, the changes made to the "duties" test are more damaging to overtime rights; and

Whereas, The Bush Administration's new regulations make is easier for an employer to meet the "duties" test by eliminating the requirement that exempt employees possess the authority to exercise a certain amount of discretion or independent judgment in their work, and by weakening education requirements so that workers with a high school diploma and a similar low level of work experience may be classified as exempt; and

Whereas, According to the Economic Policy Institute, as a result of the new federal overtime regulations, nationally, 78 occupational groups, out of 257 "white-collar" occupations, including 2.5 million salaried employees and 5.5 million hourly workers, will lose their right to overtime pay; and

Whereas, According to the Center for Policy Alternatives, jobs directly affected by the new regulations include police, firefighters, licensed practical nurses, emergency medical technicians, dental hygienists, lab technicians, retail managers, insurance claims adjusters, paralegals, draftsmen, surveyors, technical writers, bookkeepers, cooks, factory supervisors and journalists; and

Whereas, In order to restore the rights of millions of such individuals to overtime pay for overtime work, the Congress of the United States should adopt the Overtime Rights Protection Act, S.223, introduced on January 31, 2005, which would amend the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, to reverse the dilution of overtime protections resulting from the Bush Administration's revised regulations; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Congress of the United States to adopt legislation protecting the right to earn overtime pay and reversing the affects of detrimental new federal regulations that significantly weaken overtime protections.

Res. No. 861

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress to tighten advertising restrictions in the federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act and to allow localities to legislate in this area, in order to reduce the exposure of youth to tobacco advertising.

By Council Members Fidler, Liu, Quinn, Gennaro, James, Nelson, Foster, Reyna, Gentile, Recchia, Barron, Boyland, Brewer, Comrie, Gerson, Gonzalez, Koppell, Palma, Perkins, Sanders, Seabrook, Sears, Vallone Jr., Weprin and Gentile.

Whereas, The National Center for Chronic Disease and Prevention reported in 2003 that 21.9 percent of high school students smoked cigarettes; and

Whereas, The "Youth Tobacco Survey" issued in 2000, by the Centers for Disease Control, found that 49.5 percent of surveyed students had smoked at one point in their lives, 23.1 percent were currently using a tobacco product and 14.5 percent used tobacco products other than cigarettes; and

Whereas, According to testimony delivered to the City Council Committee on Youth Services by the Kings County Reality Check Organization ("Reality Check"), 90 percent of all current adult smokers began using tobacco as teens; and

Whereas, According to a 2002 article authored by K.M. Cummings in Tobacco Control magazine (the "Tobacco Control" article), cigarette manufacturers are in the business of making a profit, and such profits depend on the ability to recruit new smokers; and

Whereas, The Tobacco Control article also states that in a market where brand loyalties are shaped at an early age, there is a strong incentive for tobacco companies to target young beginning smokers, and such companies have routinely researched the smoking habits of teenagers and competed vigorously to capture a share of the youth smoking market; and

Whereas, In an effort to reduce youth exposure to cigarette advertising, the federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act (the "CLAA"), which prescribes mandatory health warnings for cigarette packaging and advertising and pre-empts similar state regulations, was enacted; and

Whereas, The United States Supreme Court in Lorillard Tobacco Co. et al. v. Reilly, Attorney General of Massachusetts et al. (2001), held that pursuant to §1333 and § 1334(b) of the CLAA, states and localities cannot legislate additional requirements or prohibitions based on smoking and health with respect to the advertising or promotion of cigarettes; and

Whereas, Other initiatives aimed at reducing youth exposure to tobacco advertising include the prohibition of tobacco product advertisements from television and radio during the 1970s and the implementation of the Master Settlement Agreement in 1998, which prohibited the use of cartoon characters, in cigarette advertising, cigarette oriented "gear" for children and tobacco advertising in magazines with youth readership of 15 percent or greater; and

Whereas, Despite the above-mentioned initiatives to curb tobacco use by youth, evidence described in the Tobacco Control article demonstrates that the tobacco industry has continued to market and "subtlety" advertise its products to youth, and has a strategic interest in placing youth oriented brands, promotions and advertising in locations where young people congregate; and

Whereas, The continued advertising efforts of tobacco companies, along with the current levels of tobacco use among youth, present compelling evidence that the federal government should take additional steps to restrict cigarette advertising aimed at young people; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to tighten advertising restrictions in the federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act and to allow localities to legislate in this area, in order to reduce the exposure of youth to tobacco advertising.

Resolution calling upon the City of New York to allocate the Department of Parks and Recreation's annual capital budget more equitably to all five boroughs, in that the Fiscal Year 2005 capital budget allocations only allotted 42.2% of the budget to the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island, while 57.8% is allotted to Manhattan.

By Council Members Foster, Avella, Barron, Clarke, Comrie, Gentile, James, Koppell, Monserrate, Seabrook and Sears

Whereas, The Fiscal Year 2005 Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) capital budget allocates $273,425,000 for projects, of which $222,853,000, or 81.5%, is allocated to projects in the five boroughs, and an additional $50,572,000, or 18.5%, is allocated for citywide projects; and

Whereas, The Fiscal Year 2005 DPR capital budget needs to be allocated more equitably, since 42.2% is allotted to the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island, while 57.8% is allotted to Manhattan; and

Whereas, In relation to the amount of parkland in each borough, the Bronx has 6,962 acres for 1.3 million residents, Staten Island has 7,350 acres for 450,000 residents, Manhattan has 2,686 acres for 1.5 million residents, Queens has 7,206 acres for 2.2 million residents, while Brooklyn has 4,505 acres for 2.5 million residents; and

Whereas, The Fiscal Year 2005 DPR capital budget allocation to the five boroughs of $222,853,000 gave $19,002,000, or 8.5%, to the Bronx, $42,029,000, or 18.9% to Queens, $22,250,000, or 10% to Brooklyn, $10,814,000, or 4.8% to Staten Island, but gave $128,758,000, or 57.8%, to Manhattan; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the City of New York to allocate the Department of Parks and Recreation's annual capital budget more equitably to all five boroughs, in that the Fiscal Year 2005 capital budget allocations only allotted 42.2% of the budget to the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island, while 57.8% is allotted to Manhattan.

Res. No. 863

Resolution calling upon the appropriate committee of the Council of the City of New York to hold a hearing on the Mayor's 2005 State of the City Address that announced the establishment of a "Commission on Construction Opportunity" and the "Building Jobs Through Building New York" initiative and on proposals from other parties that describe approaches to redress the historic and systemic denial of opportunities for minorities and women to receive their fair share of private and government contracts and employment in New York City.

By Council Members Foster, Barron, Clarke, Comrie, Gerson, Gonzalez, James, Reyna, Sanders, Seabrook and Vann.

Whereas, The Mayor announced in his 2005 State of the City Address the establishment of a "Commission on Construction Opportunity" (the Commission) and spoke of a "city of opportunity," about being "firmly committed to broadening opportunities in employment and contracting;" and creating a city where employment and contracting will be "representative of New York's diversity" and stated that "all New Yorkers should have a fair chance at these jobs"; and

Whereas, The Commission will consist of developers, contractors, union representatives, senior members of the Administration and Congressman Charles Rangel; and

Whereas, Hearings on the Mayor's initiatives, and proposals from other parties, are vital to redress the historic and systemic denial of opportunities for minorities and women to receive their fair share of private and government contracts and employment in New York City; and

Whereas, On June 12, 2003, Mayor Bloomberg signed Executive Order No. 36 designed to support minority-owned businesses and women-owned businesses by enhancing their ability to secure contracts with City agencies; and

Whereas, The Mayor also announced a new initiative called "Building Jobs Through Building New York" to focus initially on how the construction industry can directly benefit young people and returning veterans, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the appropriate committee of the Council of the City of New York hold a hearing on the Mayor's 2005 State of the City Address that announced the establishment of a "Commission on Construction Opportunity" and the "Building Jobs Through Building New York" initiative and on proposals from other parties that describe approaches to redress the historic and systemic denial of opportunities for minorities and women to receive their fair share of private and government contracts and employment in New York City.

Res. No. 864

Resolution opposing Governor Pataki's decision to move the Jamaica office of the New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance, Division of Disability Determinations, and up to 200 vital jobs, from its current location in downtown Jamaica, Queens.

By Council Members Gennaro, Comrie, Addabbo, Jr., Avella, Jennings, Monserrate, Sanders, Sears, Weprin, Fidler, Gerson, Gonzalez, Katz, Stewart and Quinn.

Whereas, Over the past thirty years, the City and State of New York have been working tirelessly to revitalize downtown Jamaica as a business, commercial and residential hub, including building and replacing vital infrastructure, creating York College, enhancing cultural institutions and completing the Jamaica AirTrain hub; and

Whereas, The Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance (OTDA) Jamaica Office opened in 1985 as part of New York State's decentralization efforts and with the express purpose of bringing government services and employment to economically distressed areas, such as downtown Jamaica; and

Whereas, As part of the OTDA, the Division of Disability Determinations makes medical determinations on disability claims filed with the Social Security Administration for individuals living with a disability in Queens, Long Island and Brooklyn; and

Whereas, The community has come to rely on the services the Jamaica office provides, with more than 27,000 applications for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) filed in 2003, and more than 150 local residents seeking assistance at this location each month; and

Whereas, State workers were notified in 2004 of plans to transfer the OTDA Division of Disability Determinations from the Jamaica site to lower Manhattan, relocating approximately 200 jobs; and

Whereas, A great burden will be created for some local clients, especially those in the disabled community, who depend on the convenience and closeness of the Jamaica office to provide vital services and assist them with obtaining critical benefits; and

Whereas, The impact on local businesses will also be significant, since the payroll staff of the Division of Disability Determinations in Jamaica is nearly $9 million annually, and the presence of these workers in the heart of Jamaica has been a catalyst to businesses and revitalization; and

Whereas, Losing such a substantial number of OTDA jobs will have a highly detrimental impact on the local community, dramatically set back the revitalization efforts of downtown Jamaica and ultimately represents a disinvestment -not an investment- in the future of this area; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York opposes Governor Pataki's decision to move the Jamaica office of the New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance, Division of Disability Determinations, and up to 200 vital jobs, from its current location in downtown Jamaica, Queens.

Res. No. 865

Resolution calling upon the United States Senate to reject passage of S. 131, the Clear Skies Act of 2005, which undermines both the substance and spirit of the Clean Air Act, one of the nation's landmark environmental laws.

By Council Members Gennaro, Barron, Brewer, Clarke, Fidler, Foster, Gerson, James, Koppell, Nelson, Perkins, Recchia Jr., Reyna, Sanders, Stewart, Weprin and Quinn.

Whereas, The Clean Air Act of 1970, amended in 1977 and 1990, one of the nation's landmark environmental laws, limits air emissions from stationary and mobile sources to ensure that all Americans have the same basic health and environmental protections, and allows individual states to have stronger pollution controls; and

Whereas, The Clear Skies Act changes existing protections of the Clean Air Act that enable state and local governments to limit the amount of power plant and industrial pollution that affects the health and environment of their citizens; and

Whereas, The changes to the Clean Air Act include legislation that would: repeal the Clean Air Act requirement that every coal-fired power plant in the nation do the maximum to lower toxic mercury pollution, repeal for two decades the Clean Air Act program to protect national park air quality from smokestack pollution, amend the New Source Review to exclude power plants from the long-standing Clean Air Act requirement to modernize pollution controls when expanding operations and increasing pollution in surrounding communities and neighborhoods, would postpone by years the Clean Air Act deadlines to restore healthy air for major American cities such as New York City and pushing back these deadlines has real consequences that are reflected in asthma attacks in children and other lung disease, would curtail the rights of downwind states and cities to protect their citizens from harmful smokestack pollution produced outside their borders, allows all industrial sources that discharge pollution "through a stack or duct" to take advantage of these new Clean Air Act loopholes and provides additional exemptions from requirements for industrial boilers to control a suite of toxic pollutants such as arsenic and lead, and, finally, the Clear Skies Act of 2005 ignores heat-trapping greenhouse gases; and

Whereas, The Congressional Research Service has found that these changes "alter, delete or hold in abeyance for some time" existing protections of the Clean Air Act and "would diminish the suite of options states currently have to achieve compliance with air quality standards"; and

Whereas, Refineries and manufacturing plants, may emit a number of hazardous air pollutants, including particulate matter (PM), nitrogen oxides, sulfur dioxides, and mercury, which can cause serious adverse health effects, particularly to sensitive subpopulations such as children, the elderly, and those with already compromised health; and

Whereas, Fossil fuel-fired utilities are the largest source of human-generated mercury emissions in the United States, and coal-burning power plants account for about 40% of the mercury emissions, or about 48 tons per year, by far the nation's largest single source of unregulated emissions of mercury; and

Whereas, The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the United States Department of Health and Human Services and the United States Food and Drug Administration are so concerned with the high levels of mercury contained in some fish and shellfish that they jointly issued in March 2004 a federal advisory for mercury in fish noting that consumption "may harm an unborn baby or young child's developing nervous system"; and

Whereas, According to a news article which appeared in the March 16, 2004 issue of The New York Times, the "Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has estimated that one in eight women have mercury concentration in their bodies that exceeds safety levels"; and

Whereas, According to the EPA "[c]hildren who are exposed to low concentrations of methylmercury prenatally are at increased risk of poor performance on neurobehavioral tasks, such as those measuring attention, fine motor function, language skills, visual-spatial abilities, and verbal memory"; and

Whereas, The Clear Skies Act will allow mercury pollution levels well above what is required by the Clean Air Act and, by repealing the requirement that each power plant to the maximum to lower toxic mercury pollution, and by instead allowing very weak emissions caps, long compliance deadlines and "paper" credits for past reductions, will eliminate the human health benefits of state mercury pollution control programs now in effect; and

Whereas, In light of the alarming health threats posed by mercury, it is incumbent upon us as public servants to address the root of the problem by requiring power plants to reduce their mercury emissions using the best control technologies available; and

Whereas, According to the EPA, the health effects associated with particulate matter (PM) include premature death, aggravated asthma, chronic bronchitis, decreased lung function and acute respiratory symptoms; and

Whereas, It is also believed that the largest proportion of deaths caused by particulate matter (PM) is related to cardiovascular illness; and

Whereas, Nitrogen oxides combine with volatile organic compounds in the air, such as hydrocarbons, to form ground-level ozone, or smog, in the presence of heat and sunlight; and

Whereas, Ground-level ozone may cause a variety of respiratory problems, including aggravated asthma, decreased lung capacity and increased susceptibility to respiratory illnesses, and it is damaging to lung tissue in high concentrations and during long-term exposure; and

Whereas, The major health concerns associated with exposure to high concentrations of sulfur dioxide include effects on breathing, respiratory illness, alterations in pulmonary defenses, and aggravation of existing cardiovascular disease; and

Whereas, Sulfur dioxide, which converts in the atmosphere to sulfate particles, also contributes to harmful particulate pollution in New York City, lower visibility and acid deposition, the latter of which has been of great concern in New York State; and

Whereas, The EPA has officially designated the New York Metropolitan Area as a nonattainmnet area for PM 2.5 and the 1-hour and 8-hour ozone standards; and

Whereas, The EPA has declared that 30 counties in New York State fail to meet the federal health-based air quality standard for ozone ("smog") including the entire New York metropolitan area, Albany and Rochester, and that nearly ninety-percent of New York residents live in one of these counties; and

Whereas, Exposure to ozone can have serious effects on respiratory health and numerous studies have linked ozone with school absences resulting from sore throats, coughs, asthma attacks, decreased lung function in asthmatics, long-term lung damage in children and premature death; and

Whereas, In the five boroughs of New York City alone, more than 1 million people have been diagnosed with asthma, including 300,000 children; and

Whereas, The EPA recently found that the following ten counties in New York State are out of compliance with the federal health-based standard for particulate pollution: Bronx, Kings, Nassau, New York, Orange, Queens, Richmond, Rockland, Suffolk and Westchester; and

Whereas, A vast body of epidemiological and toxicological evidence strongly links ambient particulate pollution exposure to an array of adverse health effects and premature mortality including heart attacks, asthma attacks, and hospital admissions; and

Whereas, Power plant smokestacks across the eastern half of the nation discharge staggering amounts of sulfur dioxide and oxides of nitrogen pollution that is carried hundreds of miles downwind where it forms harmful ozone and particulate pollution; and

Whereas, New York City suffers from some of the highest asthma rates in the country; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, in 2000, children in New York City "were almost twice as likely to be hospitalized for asthma as children in the United States as a whole," with the Bronx, in recent years, being the borough with "the overall highest rates of asthma hospitalizations, deaths and prevalence among children as well as adults"; and

Whereas, The New York Times reported in 2003 that a study found that one out of every four children in central Harlem has asthma -- a rate that is far greater than experts had previously expected and that is "one of the highest rates ever documented for an American neighborhood"; and

Whereas, The Los Angeles Times reported in 2004 that additional studies have concluded that "routine exposure to dirty air during childhood actually harms lung development, leading to a permanently reduced ability to breathe" and that "[e]nvironmental pollutants in New York City – including combustion byproducts . . . – may increase the rate of low birth weight babies and babies with smaller heads, both [of] which may be linked to lower I.Q. and poorer school performance"; and

Whereas, The Clean Air Act in its current form, and with adequate implementation and enforcement, contains effective requirements and mechanisms for reducing emissions of nitrogen oxides and sulfur dioxides to levels protective of public health; and

Whereas, Senator James M. Inhofe's "Clear Skies Act" proposal will undermine both the substance and spirit of the Clean Air Act in several significant ways; and

Whereas The Clear Skies Act delays for too long, until 2016, the date for achieving compliance with pollutant caps for nitrogen oxides and sulfur dioxide, and fails to protect human health from toxic mercury pollution by eliminating the requirement that each power plant control mercury pollution, inappropriately using a trading program for a toxic substance, delaying reductions under the trading program for more than a decade and exempting numerous power plants from any mercury pollution reduction requirement, even the flawed trading program; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, The Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Senate to reject S. 131, the Clear Skies Act of 2005, which undermines both the substance and spirit of the Clean Air Act, one of the nation's most important environmental laws.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to establishing a commission to study the feasibility of creating public/private partnerships to develop and operate job centers for immigrant day laborers.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative intent. The Council finds that immigrant day laborers often work under dangerous conditions, without the benefit of proper training, equipment or safety precautions. An estimated 15,000 day laborers live and work in New York State, including between 5,800 and 8,300 in the greater metropolitan region, the vast majority of whom are believed to be immigrants. A recent survey of day laborers in New York City found that almost 85% of those surveyed have experienced some type of abuse in the industry: 50 percent experienced non-payment of wages, and 56 percent were paid less than the agreed upon wage. The informal congregation of day laborers on City streets while they wait for employment creates additional concerns regarding day labor employment.

In New York City, non-profit and community organizations have set up a handful of formally designated hiring sites, known as job centers, where day laborers and employers are able to connect under regulated conditions. These arrangements provide day laborers with viable and preferable alternatives to congregation on city streets, facilitate monitoring of health and safety conditions and improved enforcement of wage and hour laws, and create more systematic mechanisms for service providers to reach the day laborer community, which is otherwise transient and disorganized. The Council finds that job centers can improve the day labor industry through ensuring the use of contracts that clearly spell out agreed upon wages and dates of payment, assuring the availability of equipment essential for worker safety, gloves, and overalls, and by connecting employers with workers who have appropriate skills. The Council further finds that job centers have proven to be successful models for addressing the issues and concerns regarding day labor employment.

§2. Title 21 of the administrative code of the city of New York is hereby amended by adding a new chapter 8 to read as follows:

CHAPTER 8

DAY LABORER JOB CENTERS

§ 21-801. Commission on Day Laborer Job Centers. a. There is hereby established an advisory commission on immigrant day laborer job centers (the "Commission"), which shall examine the feasibility of fostering public/private partnerships to develop and implement job centers for day laborers.

b. The Commission shall consist of 20 members, at least 12 of whom shall be immigrant day laborers or representatives of groups with experience working on issues affecting immigrant day laborers. The mayor shall appoint six of these members, at least three of whom shall be immigrant day laborers, and the speaker of the city council shall appoint six of these members, at least four of whom shall be immigrant day laborers. The mayor shall appoint four of the remaining members of the commission, who shall include the commissioner of the mayor's office on immigrant affairs, the commissioner of the department for small business services and the commissioner of the new york police department, or their designees. The speaker of the city council shall appoint four of the remaining members. The Commission shall be chaired by the commissioner for the mayor's office of immigrant affairs or a designee. The Commission shall include at least one person with experience in academic research regarding immigrant day labor.

c. The members of the Commission shall be appointed within forty-five days of the effective date of this section and shall serve without compensation, except that each member shall be allowed actual and necessary expenses to be audited in the same manner as other city charges. Any member of the Commission may be removed from the Commission by the appointing official for cause. Any vacancy occurring by removal shall be filled by the appointing official in the same manner as the original appointment. The terms of members of the Commission shall expire one month after the Commission submits the report required by subdivision h of this section.

d. Membership on the Commission shall not constitute the holding of a public office and members of the Commission shall not be required to take and file oaths of office before serving on the Commission.

e. No person shall be ineligible for membership on the Commission because such person holds any public office, employment or trust, nor shall any person be made ineligible for or forfeit such person's right to any public office, employment or trust by reason of such appointment.

f. The commissioner of the mayor's office on immigrant affairs shall provide staff assistance to the Commission in all matters under the Commission's jurisdiction.

g. The Commission may request information from any agency as may be necessary to carry out its responsibilities and shall receive such information to the extent permitted by law. The Commission also may request from any not-for-profit organization providing services to immigrant day laborers such information other than information which is required by law to be kept confidential.

h. No later than nine months from the effective date of the local law that added this chapter, the Commission shall submit to the Mayor and the Speaker of the Council a report containing the findings and recommendations of the Commission.

§3. Effect of invalidity; severability. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase or other portion of this local law is, for any reason, declared unconstitutional or invalid, in whole or in part, by any court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed severable, and such unconstitutionality or invalidity shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this local law, which shall continue in full force and effect.

Resolution calling upon the Governor of the State of New York to consider enacting legislation declaring psuedoephedrine, an essential ingredient in the making of methamphetamine, a controlled substance in order to restrict the of sale of over-the-counter cold medicine containing this ingredient, and further calling on the federal government to support the "Combat Meth Act of 2005."

By Council Members López, Comrie, Fidler, Gerson, Gonzalez, Nelson, Perkins, Seabrook, Vann and Quinn.

Whereas, Methamphetamine (meth), also known as poor man's coke, crystal meth and ice, is a toxic, addictive stimulant that produces temporary hyperactivity and euphoria; and

Whereas, Meth comes in various forms, including powders, crystals or tablets, and can be injected, snorted, smoked or ingested; and

Whereas, According to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA), meth is highly addictive, with some experts stating that users can become dependent after just one use; and

Whereas, Recent studies have shown that meth is more dangerous to the brain than heroin, alcohol or cocaine; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services, the number of New Yorkers seeking treatment for meth addiction continues to rise, with 1,152 meth users seeking treatment in 2003, up 24% from 2002 and 59% from 2001; and

Whereas, Meth can be easily produced in small home laboratories with common household chemicals and cold medicines, and recipes can be accessed on the Internet; and

Whereas, Pseudoephedrine, a decongestant that relieves nasal discomfort caused by colds, allergies and hay fever, is also a key ingredient used to produce meth; and

Whereas, The U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate have introduced the "Combat Meth Act of 2005" (H.R. 314 and S. 103), which would regulate the sale of psuedoephedrine by declaring it a controlled substance, allowing the sale of products containing pseudoephedrine only in pharmacies, not in grocery or convenience stores; and

Whereas, Pursuant to this legislation, customers purchasing products containing pseudoephedrine would have to buy the medicine from a pharmacist, show photo identification and sign a log book; and

Whereas, Approximately twenty states are also considering legislation that would restrict the purchasing of common cold medicines that contain psuedoephedrine; and

Whereas, The state of Oklahoma classified psuedoephedrine as a controlled substance in April 2004, and since the law's passage, seizures of meth laboratories have fallen 81 percent; and

Whereas, The state of New York, has introduced legislation (A. 00215 and S. 484), which would make the sale of more than three (3) containers of certain medication containing pseudoephedrine unlawful, but does not label pseudoephedrine as a controlled substance; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Governor of the State of New York to consider enacting legislation declaring psuedoephedrine, an essential ingredient in the making of methamphetamine, a controlled substance in order to restrict the of sale of over-the-counter cold medicine containing this ingredient, and further calling on the federal government to support the "Combat Meth Act of 2005."

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to making the issuance of Metrocards to every first responder a requirement in order to adequately protect the public.

Be it enacted as by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Legislative Intent and Findings

The Council hereby finds and declares that in order to ensure public safety for millions of subway commuters, it is necessary to equip all first responders including police officers, firefighters, emergency medical technicians and private ambulance paramedics with a Metrocard for easy access to the subway system in the event of an emergency.

On Saturday, February 19, 2005, 26-year-old German Cabrera was shot on the subway platform at the West 18th Street IRT station in Chelsea. Police officers responding to the incident were delayed in reaching the victim because they had no Metrocards to pass through the revolving high-wheel turnstiles. The paramedics that arrived were also in a similar predicament as they too were without a Metrocard and had to be swiped in by a rider.

In these instances, of course, a working MetroCard proves to be just as important a tool to a police officer and paramedic as a pistol and bullet-resistant vest or a defibrillator.

It is not the intent of the Council to infringe upon these agencies' authority over assigning operational equipment. However, in light of the possible closing of 164 subway booths and the reported increase in violent incidents in the subway system, as well as impediments such as high-wheel turnstiles, the Council finds it necessary to adopt legislation that would make certain that all first responders have access to the transit system without difficulty.

§2. Chapter 1 of title 10 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to add a new section 10-164, to read as follows:

§ 10-164. Issuance of Metrocards to first responders

a. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

1. "First responder" shall mean any member of the Police Department, Fire Department, Emergency Medical Service or employee of a private ambulance company that contracts with the Fire Department to provide E911 services, or any other city employee who is responsible for immediately responding to an emergency incident.

2. "Metrocard" shall refer to the magnetic strip access cards used to gain entry to the city's subway stations by swiping through the turnstiles.

b. Issuance of Metrocards

1. The city shall issue every first responder a Metrocard as a standard piece of equipment.

Res. No. 867

Resolution calling upon President George W. Bush and the United States Congress to maintain funding in the proposed 2006 fiscal year federal budget for the Microloan program administered by the United States Small Business Administration.

By Council Members Nelson, Gennaro, Sanders, Seabrook and Weprin.

Whereas, The 2006 fiscal year federal budget proposed by President George W. Bush completely eliminates the Microloan program administered by the United States Small Business Administration (SBA); and

Whereas, The Microloan program is a funding stream made available by the federal government to the smallest of small businesses, with a loan cap of $35,000 for businesses with five or fewer employees, commonly known as microenterprises; and

Whereas, Funding supplied through the Microloan program is critical for low and moderate income small entrepreneurs and represents the source of essential start-up capital and ensures the receipt of business training; and

Whereas, According to the Association for Enterprise Opportunity based in Virginia, the Microloan program is the nation's largest funder – public or private – of microenterprise capital and technical assistance; and

Whereas, there are approximately 21 million microenterprises across the country, which account for 17% of all private employment nationally, many of which would not have been possible without loans from the Microloan program; and

Whereas, The number of loans and total monetary loan amounts disbursed through the federal Microloan program have steadily risen over the last five years from 2,147 loans in 2000 for a total loan amount of $23,168,440 to 2,405 loans in 2004 for a total loan amount of $32,710,970, a clear sign of the success of the program and its impact upon microenterprise growth nationwide; and

Whereas, In 2003, out of a total of 2,400 Microloan program loans, 31% went to African-Americans and 14% went to Latinos; and

Whereas, Prospective minority microenterprise-owners in New York would be especially adversely impacted by the elimination of the Microloan program by virtue of New York City's population demographics and the relative high cost of living and doing business in New York City compared with other large cities in the United States; and

Whereas, The Presidential Administration has proposed to eliminate the Microloan program in favor of the Community Express Program in the federal 7(a) program (name derived from section 7(a) of the Small Business Act), SBA's primary business loan program to help qualified small businesses obtain financing when they might not be eligible for business loans through normal lending channels; and

Whereas, The 7(a) program would not provide the same opportunities for prospective minority microenterprise-owners that the Microloan program has supplied, in large part because 7(a) loans are made by banks with the assistance of the federal government rather than by the federal government itself through use of carefully selected intermediaries; and

Whereas, Microloan program loans are funds that are disbursed by the federal government without the assistance of banks, and, in most cases, the loans that are proffered are ones that would be declined by banks; and

Whereas, The Presidential Administration had proposed terminating the Microloan program in Fiscal Year 2005, but the program funding was restored by Congress; and

Whereas, The loss of the Microloan program would deal a crippling blow to microenterprises across the United States that rely heavily on this funding stream to make their businesses viable; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon President George W. Bush and the United States Congress to maintain funding in the proposed 2006 fiscal year federal budget for the Microloan program administered by the United States Small Business Administration.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the regulation of illegal alterations and conversions.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 26-127.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 6 of 1993, is amended to read as follows:

§26-127.2 Violations of the zoning resolution in residential districts; illegal alterations or conversions; public nuisance; order of closure. a. Any building or part thereof that is located in a residential district, which is occupied for a commercial or manufacturing use in violation of the zoning resolution without a valid certificate of occupancy or any building with respect to which there are in the aggregate at least ten thousand dollars of unpaid fines and civil penalties, imposed as a result of one or more illegal alterations or conversions involving a change in occupancy or use is hereby declared to be a public nuisance.

b. If a building or part thereof in which such a nuisance occurs is not occupied primarily as a residence or if the aforementioned unpaid fines and civil penalties remain unpaid for thirty days or more from the date set for correction in the notice of violation or from the date that a final determination is made either before the environmental control board or another administrative tribunal even if the building is occupied primarily as a residence, the commissioner may, in addition to or as an alternative to any other remedy under any other provision of law, after notice and the opportunity for a hearing in accordance with this section, order the closing of such building or part thereof to the extent necessary to abate the nuisance.

c. A notice of hearing with respect to an order of closure shall be served on the owner and mortgagee of record of such building or part thereof and on the person alleged to be occupying such building or part thereof for commercial or manufacturing use in the following manner:

(1) service may be made on the owner by delivering such notice to the owner or to an agent of the owner or to a person of suitable age and discretion at the residence or place of business of the owner or, if upon reasonable application such delivery cannot be completed, by affixing such notice in a conspicuous place at the owner's place of business or residence or by placing it under the entrance door at either of such locations or by delivering such notice to a person employed by the owner to work at or to manage or maintain the premises at which the nuisance is located and, in all instances except personal delivery upon such owner by mailing the notice of hearing as follows:

(i) to the person registered with the department of housing preservation and development as the owner or agent of the premises, at the address filed with such department in compliance with article two of subchapter four of chapter two of title twenty-seven of the administrative code; or

(ii) to the person designated as owner of the building or designated to receive real property tax or water bills for the building at the address for such person contained in one of the files compiled by the department of finance for the purpose of the assessment or collection of real property taxes and water charges or in the file compiled by the department of finance from real property transfer forms filed with the city register upon the sale or transfer of real property; or

(iii) to the person in whose name the real estate affected by the order of the commissioner is recorded in the office of the city register or the county clerk as the case may be at the address set forth on the recorded instrument.

(2) service may be made on an owner that is a corporation pursuant to section three hundred six of the business corporation law; however, service upon a corporation shall be deemed to have been completed forty-five days following service upon the secretary of state;

(3) service may be made upon mortgagees of record by mailing such notice to the mortgagees at the address set forth on the recorded instrument;

(4) service may be made upon an occupant (i) by delivering such notice to the occupant or to a person employed by the occupant to work at or to manage or maintain the premises at which the nuisance is located; or (ii) by affixing such notice to the premises at which the nuisance is located in a conspicuous place or by placing a copy under the entrance door of such premises and mailing a copy of such notice to the occupant at such premises; (iii) and in all instances except personal delivery upon such occupant, by mailing the notice of hearing to the occupant at the premises at which the nuisance is located.

(5) proof of service pursuant to paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) of this subdivision shall be filed with the commissioner;

d. Such hearing shall be conducted by the office of administrative trials and hearings. The administrative law judge assigned to hear the matter shall submit his or her proposed findings of fact and recommended decision to the commissioner. If based on such recommended decision, proposed findings of fact, and the record of the hearing the commissioner determines that the building or part thereof is located in a residential district and that it has been occupied for a commercial or manufacturing use in violation of the zoning resolution without a valid certificate of occupancy or determines that there are in the aggregate at least ten thousand dollars of unpaid fines and civil penalties, imposed as a result of one or more illegal alterations or conversions involving a change in occupancy or use and that such unpaid fines or civil penalties have remained unpaid for thirty days or more from the date set for correction in the notice of violation or from the date that a final determination is made either before the environmental control board or another administrative tribunal even if the building is occupied primarily as a residence, he or she may issue an order of closure. Such order shall not bar legally required ingress or egress for residential occupancy of parts of the building, which are not subject to the order of closure.

e. At such hearing it shall not be a defense that an owner, occupant, lessor, lessee, mortgagee, or other person having an interest in the property lacked knowledge of or did not acquiesce or participate in the commercial or manufacturing use of such property or in the illegal alteration or conversion of such property.

f. A closure ordered by the commissioner pursuant to this section shall not constitute an act of possession, ownership, or control by the city over the closed premises.

g. An order of closure shall be posted at the building or part thereof, which is the subject of such order, and shall be mailed to the record owner of such premises, and any record mortgagee at the address for such person set forth in the recorded instrument, and to the person designated as owner or agent of the building or designated to receive real property tax or water bills for the building at the address for such person contained in one of the files compiled by the department of finance for the purpose of the assessment or collection of real property taxes and water charges or in the file compiled by the department of finance from real property transfer forms filed with the city register upon the sale or transfer of real property. A copy shall also be filed with the county clerk or register of the county in which such premises are located. Such filing shall be notice of the order to any subsequent owner and such owner shall be subject to such order.

h. On the tenth business day after the posting of such order and upon the written directive of the commissioner, police officers and authorized employees of the department shall act upon and enforce such order by sealing, padlocking, or otherwise preventing access to the premises in a manner that will not bar legally required ingress or egress for residential occupancy of parts of the building that are not subject to the closure order.

i. If at any time after the issuance of such order, the owner, mortgagee, or other person having an interest in the property provides assurance, in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, that the commercial or manufacturing use of the premises has been discontinued and will not reoccur, or such owner, mortgagee, or other person establishes that the premises may be lawfully occupied for such manufacturing or commercial use, or the owner, mortgagee, or other person having an interest in the property provides assurance, in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, that the illegal alteration or conversion of the property has been discontinued and the property has been restored to compliance with all applicable provisions of law, the commissioner shall rescind the closure order. If such order is rescinded, the commissioner shall, upon request of such owner, mortgagee, or other person, provide a copy of such [recission] rescission order, which may be filed with the county clerk or register of the county in which such premises are located.

j. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to use or occupy or to permit any other person to use or occupy any building or part thereof that has been sealed, padlocked, or otherwise closed pursuant to an order of the commissioner. Mutilation or removal of a posted order of the commissioner shall be punishable by a fine of not more than two hundred fifty dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding fifteen days, or both, provided such order contains therein a notice of penalty.

k. Intentional disobedience or resistance to any provision of an order issued by the commissioner pursuant to this section, in addition to any other punishment prescribed by law, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both.

Resolution calling upon the New York State Assembly to pass A1899 and the New York State Senate to pass S1551, legislation that would require health insurance companies doing business in the State of New York to cover the cost of colorectal screening procedures for those over 50 years of age and for those under 50 years of age who are considered at high risk for the disease.

By Council Members Oddo, Gallagher, Lanza, Foster, Gennaro, Gentile, Lopez, Nelson, Quinn, Provenzano, Addabbo Jr., Avella, Brewer, Fidler, James, Katz, McMahon, Perkins, Recchia, Seabrook, Sears, Stewart, Weprin and Reed.

Whereas, The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reports that colorectal cancer is the second leading cancer killer in the United States; and

Whereas, According to the American Cancer Society, each year, nearly 150,000 people in the United States are diagnosed with colorectal cancer; and

Whereas, The American Cancer Society estimates that nearly 60,000 people in the United States die from colorectal cancer annually; and

Whereas, The National Colorectal Cancer Research Alliance (NCCRA) estimates that the total number of lives lost annually is more than the number of lives lost from breast cancer and AIDS combined; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH), approximately 1,500 New Yorkers die from colorectal cancer annually, despite the fact that this disease is, according to the NCCRA, curable 90% of the time if detected early; and

Whereas, Screening methods able to detect colorectal cancer in its early stages include colonoscopy, sigmoidoscopy, fecal occult blood testing (FOBT), double contrast barium enema, and computer tomographic colonoscopy (virtual colonoscopy); and

Whereas, DOHMH estimates that 250,000 New Yorkers age 50 and over have undetected colon polyps, which can develop into colorectal cancer; and

Whereas, DOHMH recommends those who are 50 years of age and older undergo periodic colorectal cancer screening; and

Whereas, People should be encouraged to get screened for this disease, and that they should not be discouraged from utilizing life-saving screening procedures because of the high costs that are involved; and

Whereas, Health insurance companies that do business in the State of New York should be required to cover the costs of such necessary and life-saving screening procedures; and

Whereas, A1899 and S1551 have been introduced in the New York State Legislature, which would require insurance companies to cover the costs of these life-saving screening procedures; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Assembly to pass A1899 and the New York State Senate to pass S1551, legislation that would require health insurance companies doing business in the State of New York to cover the cost of colorectal screening procedures for those over 50 years of age and for those under 50 years of age who are considered at high risk for the disease.

Res. No. 869

Resolution in support of the United Nations' International Conference on Population and Development Programme of Actions, also known as the "Cairo Programme of Actions," which establishes consensus on a variety of development goals including gender equality, equity and the empowerment of women.

By Council Members Quinn, Reyna, Brewer, Gioia, Moskowitz, Arroyo, Barron, Clarke, Gonzalez, James, Nelson, Palma, Sanders and Vann.

Whereas, In September 1994, The United Nations hosted an international conference on population and development in Cairo, Egypt, with the goal of establishing a consensus on a variety of development goals; and

Whereas, The conference recognized that status of women's health as an indicator of national and world health; and

Whereas, The conference also recognized that currently too many women throughout the world do not have access to adequate healthcare; and

Whereas, According to a report, entitled "A Promise to Save Women's Lives Through Family Planning," by the Alan Guttmacher Institute (AGI), an estimated 515,000 women die every year – 98 percent of them in developing countries – as a result of pregnancy or childbirth; and

Whereas, The World Health Organization (WHO) estimates that for every maternal death that occurs worldwide, an additional 30 women – some 15 million women annually – experience pregnancy-related health problems that often are serious and result in long-term disability; and

Whereas, According to a report by Population Action International (PAI), entitled "A Promise to Improve Reproductive Health," every year 80 million unintended pregnancies occur world wide, with more than half of these pregnancies ending in an abortion; and

Whereas, PAI also reports that an estimated 120 million women in developing countries say they would prefer to plan their families but lack access to contraception; and

Whereas, Voluntary family planning and other reproductive health services can help couples avert high-risk pregnancies, prevent unwanted childbearing and abortion, and avoid diseases such as HIV/AIDS and other sexually transmitted infections that may lead to death, disability and infertility; and

Whereas, According to the Safe Motherhood Initiative (SMI), at least 30 to 40 percent of infant deaths are the result of poor care during pregnancy and delivery, which could be avoided with improved maternal health, adequate nutrition and health care during pregnancy and appropriate care during childbirth; and

Whereas, A report by SMI, entitled "A Promise to Keep Mothers Safe," found that poor maternal health and nutrition contributes to low birth weight in 20 million babies each year – almost 20 percent of all births; and

Whereas, A report by Women's Edge, entitled "A Promise to Educate Girls," argues that women around the world have difficulty educating themselves about improving their families' health, since two-thirds of the 880 million illiterate adults around the world are women and 60 percent of the 113 million children not enrolled in primary school world wide are girls; and

Whereas, The United Nations' International Conference on Population and Development drafted a programme of actions, now known as the "Cairo Programme of Actions," which established principles that countries should follow in order to ensure a healthier population and world community; and

Whereas, the Cairo Programme of Action reflects an historic global consensus of 179 countries and presents a concrete plan to save women's lives, promote human dignity and preserve our planet through family planning and reproductive health care services; and

Whereas, March 8, 2005 is International Women's Day; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York supports the United Nations' International Conference on Population and Development Programme of Actions, also known as the Cairo Programme of Actions, which establishes consensus on a variety of development goals including gender equality, equity and the empowerment of women.

Res. No. 870

Resolution calling on Congress to repeal the Weldon Refusal Clause, which would allow institutions to refuse to comply with existing or future laws that protect women's access to abortion services.

By Council Members Quinn, Reyna, Brewer, Gioia, Moskowitz, Arroyo, Clarke, Comrie, Foster, Gerson, James, Palma and Perkins.

Whereas, on December 8, 2004, President Bush signed into law the Fiscal Year 2005 Consolidated Appropriations Act, which included a sweeping federal "refusal clause" within a Labor, Health and Human Services and Education spending bill, dramatically impacting access to reproductive health care services; and

Whereas, The Weldon Refusal Clause, authored by Representative Dave Weldon (R-FL), prohibits "discrimination" against any "health care entity" that will not "perform, pay for, provide coverage of, or refer for abortions; regardless of federal, state or local laws to the contrary;" and

Whereas, The Weldon Refusal Clause goes beyond normal "conscience clause" protections already in effect and which are designed to accommodate those with moral or religious objections to providing abortion information and services regardless of federal, state, or local laws to the contrary; and

Whereas, The National Family Planning and Reproductive Health Association (NFPRHA), which filed a suit seeking to enjoin enforcement of the Weldon Refusal Clause, argues that the vague and sweeping nature of the clause has the potential to dramatically curb women's access to reproductive health care information and services; and

Whereas, Title X of the Public Health Service Act regulations that govern federal family planning funding has been an integral component of the national public health care system, providing high-quality family planning services and other preventative health care to low-income and uninsured individuals who may otherwise lack access to health care; and

Whereas, Title X funds provide subsidized family planning services, health education and referrals for other health and social services; and

Whereas, NFPRHA contends that the Weldon Refusal Clause is at odds with Title X, which require all institutions receiving Title X funds to provide referrals for abortion services to women who request such information; and

Whereas, Due to the vagueness of the Weldon Refusal Clause and depending on interpretation of the provision, some City and State legislation regarding family planning services, such as providing rape victims with information about emergency contraception, could be considered illegal; and

Whereas, Due to potential conflicts between the Weldon Refusal Clause, Title X and local and state legislation, health care providers could become confused and potentially jeopardize Title X funding by trying to comply with the Weldon Refusal Clause; and

Whereas, Because the Weldon Refusal Clause is part of a large Labor, Health and Human Services and Education spending bill, federal funding for State and City services, such as schools, could be held up in an effort to restrict women's reproductive health options; and

Whereas, The Weldon Refusal Clause violates a women's right to choose to have a safe and legal abortion; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on Congress to repeal the Weldon Refusal Clause, which would allow institutions to refuse to comply with existing or future laws that protect women's access to abortion services.

Res. No. 871

Resolution asking Congress to approve the conversion of $2 billion in Liberty Zone tax credit financing to help finance the construction of a JFK Lower Manhattan Rail Link.

By Council Members Sanders and Comrie.

Whereas, The Lower Manhattan Development Corporation (LMDC), the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA), along with The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey (PANYNJ), and the New York City Economic Development Corporation (EDC), have proposed the construction of a Lower Manhattan Rail Link (LMRL); and

Whereas, The LMRL will allow those departing from Kennedy Airport heading towards Lower Manhattan to travel on the existing AirTrain tracks which would run along a viaduct in the middle of the Van Wyck Expressway to Jamaica, Queens; and

Whereas, The construction of a new 1,500 foot connector will carry trains from the existing AirTrain tracks to the Long Island Rail Road (LIRR) tracks heading into Brooklyn and upon reaching the Atlantic Terminal in Brooklyn, would enter a new three-mile long tunnel through Brooklyn and travel beneath the East River into Lower Manhattan; and

Whereas, The LMRL will as currently proposed will terminate near Hanover Square, which is also the proposed terminus of the prospective Second Avenue subway, and the "E" train at the World Trade Center Station, as well as the Atlantic Terminal in Brooklyn; and

Whereas, The proposed LMRL, which is estimated to cost $6 billion for the construction of a new tunnel across the East River, is estimated to serve approximately 36.5 million passengers in its first year of operation, with a daily average ridership of 100,000 passengers; and

Whereas, It is vital that the financing for the LMRL does not take away funding from the Second Avenue Subway, or the East Side Access Projects, as all of these projects are of equal importance; and

Whereas, After the 9/11 attacks, Congress approved a $20 billion aid package to New York with $5 billion allocated as tax incentives for Lower Manhattan, and

Whereas, These tax incentives have greatly aided the City's economy in recovering from the attacks, however a significant portion of these tax incentives still remain unused; and

Whereas, The Governor and Mayor have asked the federal government to agree to let New York "cash in" the unused portion of tax incentives for funds that may instead be spent on improving the downtown transportation infrastructure which will stimulate future economic growth; and

Whereas, With an approximate $560 million committed to the LMRL by the PANYNJ and an expected contribution of $400 million from the MTA, the additional $2 billion if converted from the tax incentives proposed by President Bush's FY 2005 Budget could position the City and State to raise the remaining funds from other sources; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of New York is asking Congress to approve the conversion of $2 billion in Liberty Zone tax credit financing to help finance the construction of a JFK Lower Manhattan Rail Link.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to making it a crime to operate a motor vehicle or construction vehicle while intoxicated or impaired by drugs at a construction site or to enter upon a construction site under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section One. Legislative Intent and Findings. In a first time report examining alcohol and drug abuse among workers in the United States, the federal Department of Health and Human Services in 1996 found that the highest rates of drug and alcohol use were reported among workers in the construction industry. The prevalence of drug and alcohol use among construction workers is disturbing because public and worker safety is imperiled at locations where heavy equipment and machinery are used.

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) regulates many aspects of workplace safety, yet it has not established a specific standard regarding workplace alcohol and drug use, or programs regarding alcohol and drug use. Under the federal Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988, any individual or company that receives a contract or grant from the federal government must agree, among other things, to publish and to provide a policy statement to all employees informing them about illegal drug use and to establish a drug free awareness program. These provisions, however, do not apply to contractors or individuals who do not receive federal funds for their projects.

New York State law provides that an employee may be disqualified from receiving unemployment benefits for testing positive on a drug test or for using alcohol or drugs in violation of work rules, and worker compensation benefits may be denied to an employee whose injury is occasioned solely by the employee's intoxication from alcohol or a controlled substance.

Under the state's Vehicle and Traffic Law, operation of a motor vehicle or other heavy equipment and machinery in an intoxicated condition while on a construction site does not appear to be covered by the state's Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) laws. Under its terms, the state's DWI law applies "upon public highways, private roads open to motor vehicle traffic and any other parking lot." A parking lot means "any area or areas of private property, including a driveway, near or contiguous to and provided in connection with premises and used as a means of access to and egress from a public highway to such premises and having a capacity for the parking of four or more motor vehicles." These definitions do not appear to encompass a construction site, which is usually a privately owned area, not a highway, and not open to the public.

Despite the danger of alcohol and drug use while at a construction site, there is no federal, state or local law that makes it a crime to operate a motor vehicle or other construction vehicle at a construction site while intoxicated or impaired by drugs. Just as the State Legislature has made a determination that the placing of a key into the ignition of a car on a public street while intoxicated is a criminal offense, so too should the operation of any heavy equipment or machinery in an intoxicated condition at a construction site result in criminal penalties, particularly in light of the dangers associated with construction work.

In addition, because of the heightened safety risks associated with a construction site, it should also be illegal for any person to access a construction site in an intoxicated or impaired condition, or to possess or use alcohol at a construction site. The possession or use of controlled substances is already illegal under state law.

§2. Section 27-1009 of article one of subchapter 19 of title 27 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding new paragraphs e through n, to read as follows:

§27-1009 General requirements.

(e) No person may enter upon a construction site under the influence of alcohol or other drug to the degree that he or she may endanger himself or herself or other persons on the construction site. For purposes of this subdivision, "drug" shall have the same meaning as in the vehicle and traffic law.

(f) No person shall possess or use alcohol on a construction site.

(g) No person shall operate any motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition on a construction site.

(h) No person shall operate any motor vehicle while such person has .04 of one per centum or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood as shown by chemical analysis of such person's blood, breath, urine or saliva, made pursuant to the provisions of the vehicle and traffic law, on a construction site.

(i) No person shall operate a motor vehicle while the person's ability to operate such a motor vehicle is impaired by the use of a drug on a construction site. For purposes of this subdivision, "drug" shall have the same meaning as in the vehicle and traffic law.

(j) No person shall operate a construction vehicle while in an intoxicated condition on a construction site. For purposes of this subdivision, "construction vehicle" shall mean any vehicle or combination of vehicles that is designed and used primarily for activities at a construction site.

(k) No person shall operate a construction vehicle while such person has .04 of one per centum or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood as shown by chemical analysis of such person's blood, breath, urine or saliva, made pursuant to the provisions of the vehicle and traffic law, on a construction site. For purposes of this subdivision, "construction vehicle" shall mean any vehicle or combination of vehicles that is designed and used primarily for activities at a construction site.

(l) No person shall operate a construction vehicle while the person's ability to operate such a construction vehicle is impaired by the use of a drug on a construction site. For purposes of this subdivision, "construction vehicle" shall mean any vehicle or combination of vehicles that is designed and used primarily for activities at a construction site. For purposes of this subdivision, "drug" shall have the same meaning as in the vehicle and traffic law.

(m) A violation of subdivisions e and f shall be a violation subject to a fine of up to $250 or fifteen days imprisonment, or both.

(n) A violation of subdivisions g, h, i, j, k or l shall be a misdemeanor subject to a fine of up to $1,000 or one year imprisonment, or both.

§3. This local law shall take effect immediately.

Int. No. 599

By Council Members Vallone Jr., Comrie, Fidler, Gerson, Nelson, Recchia, Sears and Weprin.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the regulation of laser pointers.

Section 1. Legislative Findings of Fact and Declaration of Policy.

Laser pointers are commonly used by lecturers to highlight areas on a chart or screen. In the hands of "pranksters," however, they have been also used to flash on movie screens, to annoy people at malls and sporting events, and of greater concern, to flash them in people's eyes. There have also been recent unfortunate events where juveniles have misused laser pointers in a manner leading to injury. Incidents have occurred where laser pointers were aimed at police officers causing them to believe a laser sight of a handgun or rifle had targeted them. Laser pointers have also been used to disrupt classroom activities and have been aimed at drivers of automobiles, which can lead to car accidents.

In 2003, a Queens high school student, possessing a laser pointer on school premises (not for valid instructional, school-related or employment purposes), pointed this laser at his teacher causing her imminent fear that the light from the laser pointer would cause physical harm to her eyes. The student was subsequently charged with a violation of §10-134.2 of the New York City Administrative Code, but the charge was dismissed as jurisdictionally defective.

While a reading of New York City Administrative Code §10-134.2 indicates that the City Council intended to make the possession of a laser pointer on school premises by a person under twenty years old unlawful, unless it is being used in supervised educational instruction, the local law is drafted so as to preclude the Family Court from ever exercising jurisdiction over a child under the age of sixteen who violates the provision of the Code. Pursuant to Administrative Code §10-134.2 (h), a person under twenty who violates §10-134.2(d) by possessing a laser pointer on school premises is guilty of a violation for the first offense and a misdemeanor for any subsequent violations. However, because a person under the age of sixteen can never criminally be prosecuted for committing a violation due to the defense of infancy (Penal Law §30.00 [1]), and because a juvenile cannot be adjudicated delinquent based upon the commission of a violation, there can be no prior violation which would render a second violation of § 10-134.2 (d) a misdemeanor under article 3 of the Family Court Act. This seems to be at odds with one of the primary objectives of the law which is to keep laser pointers from being possessed by minors. Thus, the City Council finds that the law should be amended to cure this defect.

§2. Subdivision (h) of § 10-134.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

h. Any person who violates subdivision b, c, d or e of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Any person who violates subdivision d of this section shall be guilty of a violation for the first offense and a misdemeanor for all subsequent offenses.]

§3. This local law shall take effect sixty days after it shall be enacted.

Res. No. 872

Resolution urging the New York State Legislature to include DEP response vehicles as an "authorized emergency vehicle" for purposes of using a siren.

By Council Members Vallone Jr., Fidler, Nelson and Weprin.

Whereas, There are approximately 600 water main breaks every year in New York City and those that are serious and cause floods have detrimental effects on the lives of their victims; and

Whereas, In addition to the routine day-to-day operation of the water and sewer systems, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) Bureau of Water and Sewer Operations (BWSO) is responsible for responding to emergency situations including water main breaks, leaks and other failures that result in street flooding; and

Whereas, On February 16, 2005, a 20-inch water main break in an Astoria neighborhood flooded homes and submerged vehicles with nearly 1 million gallons of water, affecting numerous homes and homeowners on 70th Avenue and Ditmars Blvd.; and

Whereas, According to several reports, it took DEP responders over two and a half hours after the pipe burst to locate the proper shut-off valve and stem the flow of water; and

Whereas, DEP officials stated that responding crews were delayed by traffic en route from Flushing, clearly demonstrating the need for sirens on DEP emergency vehicles which could have aided the crews in arriving at the scene sooner; and

Whereas, Current New York state law reads that sirens "shall not be used on any vehicle other than an authorized emergency vehicle" which includes any "ambulance, police vehicle, correction vehicle, fire vehicle, civil defense emergency vehicle, emergency ambulance service vehicle, blood delivery vehicle, county emergency medical services vehicle, environmental emergency response vehicle, sanitation patrol vehicle, hazardous materials emergency vehicle and ordnance disposal vehicle of the armed forces of the United States"; and

Whereas, Additionally, "environmental emergency response vehicles" authorized to use a siren are defined by state law as "every designated vehicle ... charged with the responsibility for environmental protection, while engaged in a response to a report of an emergency resulting from an actual or potential release, spill or leak of, or other exposure to, hazardous substances," excluding DEP emergency vehicles responding to street flooding; and

Whereas, Just as ambulances, fire trucks and police cars are equipped with sirens for the purpose of getting their members to their destination in the shortest time possible, DEP emergency vehicles responding to water main breaks and street flooding should be equipped with sirens as well, in order to limit the amount of human and property loss caused by street flooding incidents; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the city of New York urges the New York State Legislature to include DEP response vehicles as an "authorized emergency vehicle" for purposes of using a siren.

Res. No. 873

Resolution denouncing any budgetary reduction in federal homeland security funding and programs for hiring police officers.

By Council Members Vallone Jr., Addabbo Jr., Fidler, Gentile, Gerson, Nelson, Reyna and Weprin.

Whereas, President Bush's proposed $2.57 trillion budget for Fiscal Year 2006 would eliminate or drastically reduce more than 150 government-wide programs; and

Whereas, The proposed budget cuts include more than $1 billion in loss of funding for vital law enforcement assistance programs that state, local, tribal and university police agencies rely on to protect their communities from crime and terrorism; and

Whereas, Funding for the U.S. Department of Justice Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS), which provides grants to communities to hire police officers, would be reduced from $499 million to $22 million, greatly hindering community policing efforts; and

Whereas, Since the 1994 establishment of COPS, several programs such as Accelerated Hiring, Education and Deployment (AHEAD), Phase 1 and the Universal Hiring Program (UHP) provided communities with the resources to hire additional community policing personnel; and

Whereas, Over the past decade, these programs provided direct, flexible funding to more than 13,000 communities across the nation and facilitated the hiring of 117,000 new police officers; and

Whereas, In New York City, the programs have placed 7,000 much needed officers on the streets, and with the President's proposed budget cut, the city is expected to lose an estimated $70 million, enough to hire more than 900 new police officers; and

Whereas, According to Joseph Estey, president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), "This budget cuts funding for critical law enforcement assistance programs by 90 percent, forcing many departments to continue using antiquated and inefficient communications equipment and others to lay off officers"; and

Whereas, A 2003 report of the House Committee on Commerce, Justice and State noted that the Federal Bureau of Investigation "is diverting resources away from traditional crime-fighting to strengthen its counter terrorism capabilities, leaving a void that only state and local law enforcement are positioned to fill"; and

Whereas, With state and local law enforcement agencies at the forefront in the war against crime and terrorism, it is imperative that the federal government ensure that these agencies are adequately equipped with appropriate capabilities and staffing levels by maintaining current homeland security and law enforcement programs that fund these endeavors; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York denounces any budgetary reduction in federal homeland security funding and programs for hiring police officers.

Res. No. 874

Resolution urging the New York City Department of Probation and the New York State Division of Parole to track certain sex offenders with Global Positioning System monitoring technology.

By Council Member Vallone Jr.

Whereas, Sex offenders on probation or parole continue to leave communities across the nation feeling vulnerable and helpless in protecting their loved ones; and

Whereas, In combating sex offense crimes, New York State maintains a Sex Offender Registry which currently lists more than 18,000 sex offenders on parole, probation or in prison; and

Whereas, Additionally, the New York State Division of Parole has specialized units for the supervision of sex offenders and other high-risk cases, staffed by specially trained parole officers who make additional field contacts with the offenders and use standard surveillance devices such as electronic monitoring units to assist in the supervision effort; and

Whereas, The existing New York City probation system relies on the Department of Probation's High Risk and Special Offender Unit to provide intense supervision to approximately 1400 registered sex offenders and predatory pedophiles and the Mayoral Specially Targeted Offenders Project (STOP) targets the most dangerous of these offenders through tougher enforcement of Megan's Law; and

Whereas, Even with these initiatives, parole officers, probation supervisors and law enforcement agents do not have the resources and capabilities to effectively monitor the movements of each probationer or parolee; and

Whereas, Although New York City prosecutors are aggressively pursuing convictions against sex offenders who fail to register or verify their addresses under Megan's law, many unregistered sex offenders remain at large, posing a potential threat; and

Whereas, According to Professor Karen J. Terry of John Jay College of Criminal Justice, who has spent eight years studying sex offender recidivism, "the current system is ineffective in tracking sex offenders" and that "studies in about a dozen states found registration laws alone to be ineffective in reducing sex offender recidivism because of low compliance," which ranges from 30 to 70 percent; and

Whereas, In recent news, 16-year-old Stephanie Caruso was reportedly lured from her Hampton Bays home by a convicted sex offender on parole; and

Whereas, Companies such as iSECUREtrac, CellTrack, VeriTracks and Pro Tech Monitoring have introduced Global Positioning System (GPS) technology that tracks high risk offenders via a GPS ankle bracelet that notifies law enforcement members of the offenders' movements with close to real time accuracy; and

Whereas, The GPS tracking system also informs the tracking center of any equipment tampering and can be programmed to sound an alarm if the offender is in close proximity to prohibited "exclusionary zones" such as playgrounds or schools; and

Whereas, This technology has already been implemented in 32 states and Washington D.C. as well as a few European cities; within New York, the Suffolk County Legislature recently passed a bill authorizing the use of GPS monitoring devices to track high risk sex offenders; and

Whereas, In Florida, where the tracking system has been in operation since 1997, recidivism rates among sex offenders have gone from around 50 percent to between 3 and 7 percent; and

Whereas, In light of the potential risks associated with repeat offenders and the responsibility of state and city lawmakers to protect vulnerable populations, the GPS monitoring technology is a reasonable next step to safeguarding the welfare of New Yorkers; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York urges the New York City Department of Probation and the New York State Division of Parole to track certain sex offenders with Global Positioning System monitoring technology.

Referred to the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services.
