READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS OFFICAL NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

The following agencies are not subject to Procurement Policy Board rules and do not follow all of the above procedures: City University, Department of Education, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Health & Hospitals Corporation, Housing Authority. Suppliers interested in applying for inclusion on bidders list should contact these entities directly (see Vendor Information Manual) at the addresses given.

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contracts at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

INVOCATION

The Invocation was delivered by Rabbi Ari Spiegel, First Roumanian American Congregation, 89 Rivington Street, New York, NY.

I would like to thank the Speaker, my very own Councilman, Alan Gerson, from District 1, Public Advocate, and the colleagues, for giving me the opportunity to be here today.

Some of the members asked me not to speak too much, because they said they're bored of speeches. So, I told them, with permission of the Speaker, that instead of giving a speech, I'm going to tell them a very small story that was inspired by this Council.

Last year this Council, under the Speaker, passed a bill that was introduced by Alan Gerson to change the streets of where my synagogue is located on Rivington Street, the First Roumanian American Congregation, which opened up in 1885 after my late father, Rabbiacal Spiegel Way. Last week there was an elderly gentleman walking down that street. He hasn't been to the Lower East Side for a very long time. And by the way, I invite you all back down to the Lower East Side. It's a very nice neighborhood. He saw the street name Rabbiacal Spiegel Way, and that inspired him to come into the synagogue. He told me a small story.

He said, as a young boy I grew up in a small town in England called Gates, and there was a fire in the synagogue, and there were two tablets in the synagogue with the Ten Commandments. One of them burnt and one of them didn't. When the Rabbi gave a speech, he explained that the tablets that had the commandments between a man and his maker did not burn. The one that burnt was about commandments between one human being and his fellow human being.

The Rabbi said, "it's all very nice that someone is good with his maker, but how much we have to stress how good one has to be with his fellow human being."

You know, New York City, I grew up in New York on the Lower East Side, as Alan can tell you, Alan Gerson, we've seen a lot of changes only for the better. New York City is a beacon of light for the entire nation, but I think that it's the members of this Council that make that light shine so very bright.

I wish you all God speed, and I wish you success in all your endeavors. Thank you.

Council Member Gerson moved to spread the Invocation in full upon the Record.

ADOPTION OF MINUTES

Council Member Fidler moved that the Minutes of the Stated Council Meeting of May 5, 2004 be adopted as printed.

Communication from the Mayor - Mayors veto and disapproval message of Introductory Number 137-B, in relation to the provision of equal employment benefits to the employees of city contractors.

June 3, 2004

Honorable Victor L. Robles
City Clerk and Clerk of the Council
Municipal Building, 2nd Floor
New York, NY 10007

Dear Mr. Robles:

Transmitted herewith is the bill disapproved by the Mayor. The bill is as follows:

Introductory Number 137-B

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the provision of equal employment benefits to the employees of city contractors.

Sincerely,

Karen Meara

(The following is the text of the Mayor's Veto Message for Int. No. 137-B:)

June 3, 2004

Hon. Victor Robles
City Clerk and Clerk of the Council
Municipal Building
New York, NY 10007

Dear Mr. Robles:

Pursuant to Section 37 of the New York City Charter, I hereby disapprove Introductory No. 137-B, which would generally require contractors of the City and other public entities, including those who sell or lease real property to the City or such other entities, to provide benefits for domestic partners or designated "household members" of their employees on the same basis as they provide such benefits for the spouses of their employees.

I personally believe that domestic partners deserve the same rights as all families. That's why our Administration has continued the policies begun by my predecessors by treating employees with domestic partners in the same manner as those who have spouses, to the maximum extent permitted by law. I believe it's the right thing to do, and I encourage all companies to provide equal benefits to the domestic partners of their employees. The provision of equal benefits for domestic partners of City employees has been and will continue to be the policy of the City.

I also believe that our Administration has a responsibility to uphold the law and to protect the long-term fiscal health of the City. This bill is just one of a number of bills that the Council has advanced that would impose obligations on companies that seek to do business with the City. On both legal grounds and policy grounds, our Administration has opposed such efforts in the past, and must continue to do so, despite our support for the general intention of the bill.

The appellate courts of this state have on several occasions struck down bid specifications that make specific demands on procurement and contracts, but do not advance the interests embodied in the general State laws that regulate competitive bidding. Those interests are: "protection of the public fisc by obtaining the best work at the lowest possible price," and "prevention of favoritism, improvidence, fraud and corruption." Among the measures thus invalidated were, for example, local manufacture preferences and requirements for certain project labor agreements. Like those measures, Intro. 137-B is unlawful. The bill imposes an across-the-board social policy mandate applicable to virtually every purchase by the City of goods or services and is thus wholly unjustifiable in light of these state laws and precedents. Further, the bill curtails the Charter powers of the Mayor to evaluate vendor integrity and capability, and of City officials, including the Mayor and the Council itself, to acquire real property interests, thus requiring a referendum under State law and the Charter. Moreover, the application of Intro. 137-B to benefits covered by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) through ERISA plans raises serious questions of federal preemption.

In addition to these legal defects, Intro. 137-B would create an unfair competitive disadvantage for firms located within the City as compared to those outside of the City, because City vendors would be required to provide benefits to domestic partners and designated household members of all their employees, while those located elsewhere would at most only have to do so with respect to employees involved in the performance of the contract. The bill thus provides an unfortunate incentive for New York City businesses to relocate outside the City and bid for City business from their new locations, thereby costing the City jobs and tax revenues. The additional imposition on City businesses merely highlights the violation of competitive bidding laws.

Our procurement system is already cumbersome, and, whether we like it or not, many companies choose not to do business with us because of our existing requirements. Faced with the potential for reduced competition, or worse, creating a competitive advantage for companies located out of the City, the reality of the City's fiscal challenges, and the strictures of state law that prohibit imposing conditions inconsistent with the goals of competitive bidding on the procurement process, I cannot support this proposed legislation. When companies choose to forego dealing with the City based upon our efforts to dictate their employment policies, all New Yorkers also lose, not only because we still do not succeed at achieving the social policy change we seek, but also because the competition for the City's business is reduced.

I urge the Council to join with me in reviewing the cumulative effect of initiatives such as Intro. 137-B on the City's procurement process, and in identifying better ways of expanding benefits and opportunities citywide for all those who have domestic partners.

Introductory Number 137-B is hereby disapproved.

Sincerely,

Michael R. Bloomberg

REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Report of the Committee on Economic Development

Report for Res. No. 370-A

Report of the Committee on Economic Development in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution in support of the applications of the Applicants for certification of eligibility to apply for New York State Wage Tax Credits under the Zone Equivalent Area provisions of the New York State Empire Zones Program.

The Committee on Economic Development to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2181) the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

On June 3, 2004 at 12:30 pm, the Committee on Economic Development, chaired by Council Member James Sanders, Jr. will conduct a hearing to consider requests for Council resolutions in connection with the New York State Zone Equivalent Area benefits program.

Zone Equivalent Areas (ZEAs), authorized by the New York State Legislature, and designated by the New York State Department of Economic Development (DED), are census tracts that have poverty and unemployment demographics that are equivalent to that found in Empire Zones.[1] ZEA-certified businesses are not entitled to the array of Empire Zone benefits, but rather, are only entitled to a wage tax credit under state tax law upon certification by the New York State Department of Economic Development (DED). In addition to locating in a ZEA, the business seeking this benefit must either project job creation within the ZEA, or, if job creation is unlikely, must state in writing how certification will result in maintaining employment in the firm within the ZEA. The wage tax credit is earned by a business that has complied with program requirements, including a demonstration that it has created or retained jobs within the ZEA-certified business. When the business files for the ZEA benefit with their tax return, they receive the wage tax credit against taxes that the business would ordinarily owe to New York State. The amount of tax credit a business receives is determined by the employment level compared to the average of the four prior years (the base period). The company receives $1,500 per new job created above the average of the base period or $3,000 per new job if that new employee is a targeted worker (e.g. welfare recipients) as defined in the Labor Law.[2]

A basic requirement of the law governing Empire Zones, which extends to ZEAs, is the requirement for approval by the local governing body of the area from which a business is shifting. The law states in pertinent part:

"...a business enterprise that has shifted its operations, or some portions thereof, from an area within New York State not designated as an empire zone or zone equivalent area to an area so designated shall not be certified to receive such benefits except where such shift is entirely within a municipality and has been approved by the local governing body of such municipality..."[3].

Thus, even a business moving within a municipality from a "non-zone" into a zoned area has to obtain a "shift resolution" in order to be certified by DED. The explanation given by DED for the resolution requirement is that it concerns the economic impact that could derive from the relocation or "shift" of a significant business from one area to another within a municipality. [4]

New York City does not designate, approve, nor certify a business for tax benefits. The resolution simply indicates that New York City supports the application for certification of a particular business by DED. After the Council issues a resolution, the business must submit the resolution to DED to complete its application for certification. Once the application is complete, DED will review and process the application to determine whether the business meets Program eligibility criteria and whether the business is in good standing with the State of New York.

The Council has received five applications for certification of eligibility to apply for New York State Wage Tax Credits under the Zone Equivalent Area Provisions of the New York State Empire Zone Program. The applicants for certification are:

B & H Foto & Electronics Corp., Fine Point Technologies, Inc., Bank of Montreal, Eyetech Pharmaceuticals, Inc., and VNU Marketing Information, Inc. (the Applicants).

A copy of Proposed Res. No. 370-A is attached.

Update

On June 3, 2004 the Committee on Economic Development passed Proposed Res. No. 370-A by a vote of seven in the affirmative, none in the negative, with two abstentions.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

Res. No. 370-A

Resolution in support of the applications of the Applicants for certification of eligibility to apply for New York State Wage Tax Credits under the Zone Equivalent Area provisions of the New York State Empire Zones Program.

By Council Member Sanders Jr., James, Gonzalez, Jennings Jr., Liu, Quinn and Gennaro.

Whereas, The New York State Empire Zones Program contains provisions that apply to Zone Equivalent Areas (ZEAs), which are areas that, although not within the boundaries of Empire Zones, are nonetheless characterized by high unemployment and poverty rates; and

Whereas, The Empire Zones Program provides that businesses located in ZEAs or which relocate to ZEAs may become eligible to receive New York State Wage Tax Credits if they receive certification from the New York State Department of Economic Development (DED) and also meet the requirements of the New York State Department of Finance to receive the New York State Wage Tax Credit; and

Whereas, The Empire Zones Program requires that businesses which seek State Wage Tax Credits must either project job creation within a ZEA, or, if job creation is

Report of the Committee on Environmental Protection

Report for Int. No. 110-A

Report of the Committee on Environmental Protection in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to penalties and signage regarding the idling of motor vehicles.

The Committee on Environmental Protection to which was referred on February 4, 2004 (Minutes, page 500) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

On June 7, 2004, the Committee on Environmental Protection ("Committee"), chaired by Council Member James Gennaro, will vote on a revised version of Proposed Int. No. 110-A, in relation to penalties and signage regarding the idling of motor vehicles. The Committee held hearings on a previous version of Proposed Int. No. 110-A on April 29, 2004, and on a predecessor bill, Int. No. 587, on November 13, 2003.

I. Idling Restrictions in New York City

New York City's idling restrictions are outlined in Section 24-163 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which states that the engine of a motor vehicle, other than a legally authorized emergency motor vehicle, may idle no longer than three minutes while parking, standing or stopping, unless the engine is used to operate a loading, unloading or processing device. The engine of a bus may not idle at all at any terminal point, whether or not enclosed, along an established route when the ambient temperature is in excess of forty degrees Fahrenheit. Currently, pursuant to local law, the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), the Police Department (NYPD) and the Department of Transportation (DOT) can enforce the City's idling restrictions, while the DEP Commissioner recently delegated authority to the Department of Parks and Recreation, as well.

New York State regulations also contain certain idling restrictions. Specifically, Section 217-3.2 of title six of the New York Code of Rules and Regulations states:

No person who owns, operates or leases a heavy duty vehicle including a bus or truck, the motive power for which is provided by a diesel or nondiesel fueled engine or who owns, leases or occupies land and has the actual or apparent dominion or control over the operation of a heavy duty vehicle including a bus or truck present on such land, the motive power for which said heavy duty vehicle is provided by a diesel or non-diesel fueled engine, shall allow or permit the engine of such heavy duty vehicle to idle for more than five consecutive minutes when the heavy duty vehicle is not in motion, except as otherwise permitted by section 217-3.3 of this Subpart.

The purpose of both the City and State idling restrictions is to protect the environment and the health of City and State residents, workers and visitors by minimizing the amount of time vehicles are idling, thus minimizing the harmful emissions from such vehicles.

II. Idling Facts

A recent flyer produced by students at the University of Washington, with help from the City of Seattle's Office of Sustainability and Environment, provides some interesting facts. The facts include the following true and false questions:

• Idling uses more gas than shutting off your passenger car or light duty truck and restarting it.

True. Idling for more than 30 seconds burns more gas than it takes to restart the engine.

• Prolonged idling reduces the operating life of a vehicle's engine.

True. A study comparing idling verses restarting an engine found that the benefits of turning off a car or light duty truck far outweigh the costs associated with restarting it.

• You should warm up your engine before driving your passenger car.

False. The best way to warm up an engine is to drive it.

• If you spend at least 5 minutes idling each day, it can cost you an average of $35 a year in gas.

True. Turning off your engine if idling more than 30 seconds saves gas and reduces air pollution.

• Cars and trucks are major sources of air pollution. They contribute to global warming and other air quality problems.

True.

• For every gallon of gas burned, twenty pounds of carbon dioxide enters our atmosphere.

True. Carbon dioxide is one of the major "greenhouse gases" that contribute to global warming.

• Vehicle emissions contribute to health problems.

True. Air pollution from vehicle exhaust contributes to asthma, chronic bronchitis and other lung problems.[5]

III. Pollution from Idling

Idling "creates air pollution, further exacerbating an existing health problem; the sound and smell annoy other drivers and pedestrians, thus fostering animosity; and, when viewed in the context of global warming, idling your car is about as responsible as fanning the flames of your burning house."[6] It is without question that "[w]e've all experienced the harmful effects of idling, whether we're walking past a row of trucks or buses on a busy city street, holding our breath trying to avoid inhaling the toxic exhaust fumes, or right in our own neighborhood, where remote car starters turn on vehicles while the owners are still at the breakfast table."[7] Also, "[d]iesel exhaust from idling school buses can accumulate on and around the bus and pose a health risk, particularly to children."[8]

Moreover, diesel emissions from motor vehicles pose serious health concerns for those who live and work in New York City. In addition to a finding by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) that diesel exhaust is a likely carcinogen, pollutants that are associated with diesel emissions, such as particulate matter and nitrogen oxides, result in respiratory problems, such as aggravated asthma and decreased lung function. Thus, the health impacts associated with diesel exhaust are particularly disturbing in New York City, where 700,000 adults and 300,000 children have been diagnosed with asthma at some point during their lives.[9]

IV. HEALTH EFFECTS OF DIESEL EXHAUST

1. General Discussion

Although the idling restrictions apply to all motor vehicles, with an exemption for legally authorized emergency vehicles, those vehicles that pose the most serious concern are those that run on standard diesel fuel. Exposure to diesel exhaust may result in serious, adverse health effects. In addition to particulate matter, nitrogen oxides and sulfur oxides, the exhaust contains a number of air toxins, including benzene, formaldehyde and dioxin.[10] The negative health impacts stemming from these emissions are especially detrimental to children and the elderly.

What may be most alarming about diesel exhaust is the considerable evidence that it is a likely carcinogen. In the EPA's Health Assessment Document for Diesel Engine Exhaust, "diesel exhaust was classified as likely to be carcinogenic to humans by inhalation at environmental exposures..."[11] In addition, human epidemiological studies demonstrate an association between exposure to the exhaust and increased lung cancer rates in occupational settings.[12] "A number of other agencies (National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health [(NIOSH)], International Agency for Research on Cancer, the World Health Organization, California EPA, and the US Department of Health and Human Services) have made similar classifications."[13] In fact, as early as 1988, NIOSH first recommended that diesel exhaust be considered a potential occupational carcinogen.[14]

The connection between diesel exhaust and asthma is also of great consequence to New York City, which suffers from some of the highest asthma rates in the country. According to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, in 2000, children in New York City "were almost twice as likely to be hospitalized for asthma as children in the United States as a whole", with the Bronx, in recent years, being the borough with "the overall highest rates of asthma hospitalizations, deaths and prevalence among children as well as adults."[15] (emphasis in original) In addition, a recent study found that one out of every four children in central Harlem has asthma -- a rate that is far greater than experts had previously expected and that is "one of the highest rates ever documented for an American neighborhood."[16]

2. Particulate Matter

Particulate matter "represents a broad class of chemically and physically diverse substances. It can be principally characterized as discrete particles that exist in the condensed (liquid or solid) phase spanning several orders of magnitude in size."[17] The particles that tend to be of most concern, however, are the "fine" particles, which may deeply penetrate lung tissue. These tiny particles are "directly emitted from combustion sources and are formed secondarily from gaseous precursors such as sulfur dioxide, oxides of nitrogen, or organic compounds.[18]

The health effects associated with these fine particles include aggravated asthma, chronic bronchitis, decreased lung function and acute respiratory symptoms.[19] It is also believed that "the largest proportion of deaths caused by particulate matter [is] related to cardiovascular illness".[20] According to the EPA's National Air Toxics Assessment – the Agency's ongoing, comprehensive evaluation of air toxics in the United States – New York City is among the areas of the country with the highest modeled ambient air concentrations of diesel particulate matter.[21]

3. Nitrogen Oxides

Nitrogen oxides combine with volatile organic compounds in the air, such as hydrocarbons, to form ground-level ozone, or smog, in the presence of heat and sunlight.[22] Ozone may cause a variety of respiratory problems, including aggravated asthma, decreases in lung capacity and increased susceptibility to respiratory illnesses.[23] It is damaging to lung tissue in high concentrations and during long-term exposure.[24] The EPA recently classified the New York metropolitan area as being a moderate nonattainment area for the agency's new 8-hour ozone standard.[25]

4. Sulfur Dioxide

"The major health concerns associated with exposure to high concentrations of sulfur dioxide (SO2) include effects on breathing, respiratory illness, alterations in pulmonary defenses, and aggravation of existing cardiovascular disease."[26] Sulfur dioxide, which converts in the atmosphere to sulfate particles, also contributes to lower visibility and acid deposition, the latter of which has been of great concern in New York State.[27]

5. Toxins

Diesel exhaust also contains a number of toxins that may produce harmful health effects, such as benzene, formaldehyde, lead, mercury and dioxins. Benzene, a known carcinogen, may cause disorders of the blood and the blood-forming tissues, while formaldehyde, which is classified by the EPA as a probable human carcinogen, may cause irritation of the eyes, nose and throat. [24,25] Lead and mercury may cause birth defects and other • reproductive problems and may also affect the nervous system.[26] Finally, "[d]ioxins are toxic to the immune system, interfere with hormone function, and are toxic to reproduction."[27]

As previously mentioned, "vehicle idling also contributes to other environmental problems such as deteriorating air quality and smog, which directly affect the health of our children and other vulnerable members of our community, including seniors and people with respiratory problems."[28] Essentially, idling by cars, truck and buses produce pollution that contribute to problems like climate change and smog-which affects the health of all New Yorkers.

V. Proposed Int. No. 110-A

Section one of proposed Int. No. 110-A amends section 24-178 of the Administrative Code of New York City by adding a specific penalty for violations of section 24-163 of the Code. In doing so, the bill also increases the potential penalty that may be assessed for a first violation of the idling law and establishes a penalty structure for multiple violations. The potential penalties have not been amended since the idling restrictions were enacted in 1985 and the proposed changes would help deter noncompliance.

Section one of the legislation maintains the minimum penalty of not less than $220 for a first violation, but increases the potential maximum from not more than $875 , to not more than $1,000. The bill also sets forth minimum and maximum penalties for multiple violations of the idling restrictions, which is not provided for in the current penalty structure, and which are as follows: a minimum of $330 and a maximum of $1,500 for a second violation within two years and a minimum of $440 and a maximum of $2,000 for a third or subsequent violation within a period of two years.

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 110-A contains requirements for the DOT regarding posting signs relating to the idling restrictions. New subdivision (b) of section 24-163 of the Code, added by section two of the legislation, states that the DOT shall post signs related to prohibited idling that comply with the standards set forth in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices.[29] Such signs shall include the maximum penalty associated with a violation of the idling restrictions, where practicable, and shall be posted as follows:

(1) at each exit within New York City of each bridge and tunnel having only one terminus in the City;

(2) at a minimum of five locations in each borough where two or more truck routes intersect;

(3) at each bus layover area designated by the Commissioner of Transportation pursuant to 34 RCNY 4-10(c)(3);

(4) at each multiple use bus terminal point;

(5) in close proximity to each school bus depot; and

(6) at other appropriate locations as jointly determined by the Commissioners of Environmental Protection and Transportation, including, but not limited to, locations for which the City receives a substantial number of complaints of idling motor vehicles.

New subdivision (c) of section 24-163 of the Code, added by section two of the legislation, defines a "multiple use bus terminal point" as a location that is both a terminal point of at least one bus route (other than a school bus route) and a bus stop (other than a school bus stop) on one or more bus routes. A "school bus depot" is defined as any garage, lot or other facility where buses that transport children to or from schools are parked over night.

New subdivision (d) of section 24-163 of the Code, added by section two of the legislation, states that in any proceeding relating to a violation of the idling restrictions, it shall not be a defense that a sign required by the legislation was absent at the time of violation.

Section three of the bill provides that the legislation shall take effect six months after its enactment.

VI. Amendments to Proposed Int. No. 110-A, Considered on April 29, 2004

Section one of the current version of Proposed Int. No. 110-A does not differ from the corresponding section of the legislation heard on April 29, 2004.

Subdivision (a) of section two of the current version of Proposed Int. No. 110-A does not differ from the corresponding subdivision contained in the legislation heard on April 29, 2004.

New subdivision (b) contained in section two of the current legislation differs from the corresponding subdivision contained in the legislation heard on April 29, 2004, as follows:

• New subdivision (b) of the previous version of the legislation required that signs include the time restrictions ;regarding idling and the maximum penalties that may be imposed for a violation of such restrictions, whereas the current legislation requires that signs are posted "related to prohibited idling" that include the maximum associated penalty, where practicable. In addition, the previous version did not refer to the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices.

• New subdivision (b) contained in section two of the current version of Proposed Int. No. 110-A requires that signs are posted, upon the effective date of the legislation (or six months after its enactment into law), at a minimum of five locations in each borough where two or more truck routes, whether local or through routes, intersect. The previous version of the legislation required that signs be posted at at least ten truck route intersections and starting points within each borough no later than six months after the effective date of the legislation, or one year from its enactment into law. In addition, that requirement had been included in the portion of the legislation that states that signs shall be posted at other appropriate locations throughout the City, as jointly determined by the Commissioners of Environmental Protection and Transportation.

• New subdivision (b) of the current legislation clarifies that a sign shall be posted at each bus layover area (other than school bus layover areas) designated by the Commissioner of Transportation pursuant to 34 RCNY 4-10(c)(3), rather than at each "bus layover point", which had not been defined.

• New subdivision (b) of the current legislation requires that a sign is posted at each multiple use bus terminal point.

• New subdivision (b) of the current legislation requires that a sign is posted in close proximity to each school bus depot, rather than in close proximity to the entrance to each school bus depot.

• The requirement to post signs where complaints are received was moved to the portion of the legislation that states that signs shall be posted at other appropriate locations throughout the City, as jointly determined by the Commissioners of Environmental Protection and Transportation. In addition, in the previous version of the legislation, DOT was requited to post signs at locations for which the City receives "multiple", rather than "a substantial number" of complaints of idling motor vehicles.

Finally, the definition of "school bus depot" was moved to subdivision (c), which also contains a definition of "multiple use bus terminal point", and a new subdivision (d) was added, regarding the fact that it shall not be a defense that a sign required by this section was absent at the time of a violation.

Report of the Committee on Finance

At this point the Speaker (Council Member Miller) announced that the following item had been preconsidered by the Committee on Finance and had been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for Res. No. 404

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving a Resolution authorizing the filing of applications for state assistance payments for Municipal Park projects, Local Waterfront Revitalization Projects, and Hudson River Estuary projects within the City of New York and the signing of associated state contracts under the appropriate laws of New York State.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

Background

Article 54 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law ("ECL") sets up an environmental protection fund for the funding of certain environmental goals. Article 54 (or the "Environmental Protection Act") provides that the Commissioner of the New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation "may, in the name of the state,...contract to make...state assistance payments to a municipality toward the cost" of a municipal park project (ECL §54-0103).

Title 11 of Article 54 of the ECL provides that the Secretary of State is authorized to provide "on a competitive basis, within amounts appropriated, state assistance payments to municipalities toward the cost of any local waterfront revitalization program." (ECL §54-1101). Title 3 of Article 11 of the ECL establishes a Hudson River estuarine district, and provides that the state Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) establish a program in order to protect, preserve restore and enhance the Hudson River estuary. Applications for State assistance payments to support projects to implement the Hudson River Estuary plan can be made to the State DEC.

This Resolution would authorize the Commissioner of the City's Department of Parks and Recreation to apply for such state assistance payments for thirty-four projects, and, if the applications are approved, to enter into project agreements for state assistance contracts.

PROJECT DESCRIPTIONS:

The Mayor's Memorandum in Support, attached to this report as Exhibit I, provides general descriptions of the thirty-four projects for which state assistance payments are being sought. The projects are grouped into six categories as follows: (1) 1 City-wide project; (2) 7 Bronx projects; (3) 8 Brooklyn projects; (4) 9 Manhattan projects; (5) 5 Queens projects; and (6) 4 Staten Island projects.

ANALYSIS:

Title 9 of Article 54 of the ECL defines a municipal park project as "a project undertaken by a municipality or a not-for-profit corporation for the acquisition, development or improvement of recreational facilities including construction of structures, roads and parking facilities" (ECL §54-0901). According to Title 9 of Article 54, all such municipal park projects, must be undertaken in New York State (§§ 54-0903). Total state assistance payments for municipal park projects under Title 9 of Article 54 cannot exceed fifty percent of the project cost. This Article also provides in the case of park projects, that "for the purpose of determining the amount of the state assistance payments, the cost of the project shall not be more than the amount set forth in the application for state assistance payments approved by the commissioner" (§§ 54-903)

Article 54 provides that the Commissioner of the State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation (or "State Commissioner") and a municipality may enter into a contract for the undertaking of a municipal park project. Such projects shall be recommended to the State Commissioner by the governing body of the municipality and, when approved by the State Commissioner, may be undertaken by the municipality. In the case of a city or village, "governing body" is defined as "the local legislative body thereof...."

According to Section 54-0907, the State Commissioner shall impose contractual conditions on a municipality receiving state assistance payments "to ensure that a public benefit shall accrue from the use of public funds by such municipality...." Some of the conditions imposed by the State Commissioner may include, the limitation on the right of the municipality to demolish or convey certain property, public access or use of certain property, granting of facade easements to New York State, or a requirement that all plans for restoration or demolition be subject to approval by the State Commissioner.

Title 11 of Article 54 sets forth similar requirements for local waterfront revitalization projects. This title authorizes the Secretary of State to provide state assistance payments for these local projects on a competitive basis. As in the case of municipal park projects, state assistance payments for these local waterfront projects cannot exceed fifty percent of the cost of the project; and for the purpose of determining the amount of the state assistance payments, the costs of the project shall not be more than the amount set forth in the application (ECL §54-1101). The Secretary of State can also impose contractual requirements and conditions upon any municipality receiving state assistance payments to ensure that "a public benefit shall accrue from the use of such funds..." (ECL §54-1101).

Title 3 of Article 11 of the ECL establishes a Hudson River estuarine district which includes the title waters of the Hudson river, and the tidal waters of its tributaries and wetlands from the federal lock and dam at Troy, to the Verrazano-Narrows (§11-0306). This section provides that the State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) establish a Hudson River estuary management program in order to protect, preserve restore and enhance the Hudson River estuary.

State assistance payments to support projects to implement the Hudson River Estuary plan are specifically authorized in the 1996 Clean Water/Air Bond Act (ECL Article 56). Article 56 generally provides for applications to be made by municipalities for the state assistance payments, and requires that the municipality enter into a contract with the appropriate state authority (in this case DEC) for the undertaking of the project.[28]

Preconsidered Resolution No. 404:

This Preconsidered Resolution, if adopted by the City Council, would authorize the filing of applications with the Secretary of State, the DEC and/or the Commissioner of the New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation, for state assistance payments for various municipal park projects, local waterfront revitalization programs, and/or Hudson River Estuary Action Plan projects. In addition, the Resolution would authorize the execution of any contracts required under Article 54 of the ECL in connection with such state assistance payments. The Resolution would direct and authorize Adrian Benepe, Commissioner of the New York City Department of Parks and Recreation, to be the official representative of New York City in any matters dealing with the application for state assistance payments, including providing any additional information to the State Commissioner, DEC or Secretary of State and executing the resulting contracts, if any.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

Reports of the Committee on Housing and Buildings

Report for Int. No. 126-A

Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to building safety.

for the Lower Ma-

[28] According to the Administration, there is no longer funding available under the 1996 Clean Water/Clean Air Bond Act and State Officials have indicated that money for Hudson River Estuary projects will be made available under Article 54 of the ECL. The Administration is following the same procedure for its applications for these Hudson River Estuary Projects as it has followed in the past.

The Committee on Housing and Buildings to which was referred on February 4, 2004 (Minutes, page 572) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

BACKGROUND AND INTENT:

The World Trade Center Building Code Task Force (Task Force) was convened on March 19, 2002 by the Department of Buildings to "review current building design, construction and operating requirements and determine if modifications for extreme events were needed to ensure public safety in new and existing buildings."[29] In response to the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks and the subsequent collapse of the World Trade Center, the Department of Buildings (DOB) established the Task Force to review the events and conditions that led to a failure of building operations. New York City has more than 900,000 buildings, with more than 5,300 that are considered to be high-rise buildings.[30] In February 2003, the Task Force formally announced 21 recommendations to the Mayor. The Mayor accepted the recommendations of the Task Force and then, through the Department of Buildings, identified 13 of the 21 recommendations for incorporation into this legislation to enhance the safety of high-rise office buildings after the events of September 11th. The Task Force based its findings on currently available information and was supportive of the concurrent building and fire safety investigation by the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) that is authorized by Congress.[31]

The Committee is conducting a third hearing on this legislative item. The first hearing occurred on February 24, 2004 and the second on April 26, 2004. The Committee has heard from a broad range of interests including representatives of the Department of Buildings, the Fire Department, the real estate industry, fire safety professionals, manufacturers and members of the general public. The version of the bill that is before the Committee today is dated May 28th at 1:20 p.m.

Pro. Int. No. 126 A - Main provisions[32]:

Open Web Steel Joists. This legislation would prohibit the use of open web steel joists in all new high-rise buildings, except those classified in occupancy group J-2 (i.e. multiple dwellings) or occupancy group J-3 (i.e. one- and two-family dwellings), until appropriate fireproofing standards are promulgated by the Commissioner of Buildings.

Impact-Resistant Stair and Elevator Enclosures. The use of impact-resistant stair and elevator enclosures are required in high-rise office buildings constructed or altered after July 1, 2006. The Commissioner of Buildings is mandated to promulgate appropriate standards and establish the appropriate applicability for the use of such standards by January 1, 2006.

Scissor Stairs. The use of scissor stair assemblies is prohibited in new and altered high-rise office buildings with floor plates of over 10,000 square feet.

Exit Markings, Exit Signage, and Back-up Power to Exit Signs. New and existing high-rise office buildings, would be required to install photoluminescent markings on exit doors and in exit stairs beginning July 1, 2006. The Commissioner of Buildings is mandated to promulgate technical standards for photoluminescent markings on or before January 1, 2006.

New and existing high-rise office buildings would also be required to install signage where exit stairs have horizontal extensions, where stairwell re-entry doors are recessed, and where re-entry in a stairwell is restricted for more than four consecutive stories. Owners of existing high-rise office buildings must comply with this new requirement by July 1, 2007.

According to the DOB, buildings built prior to 1984 that were required by Local Law 16 of 1984 to install illuminated exit signage by 1987, will be required to provide back-up power to these exits signs if they have not already done so. Owners of such existing buildings will have until July 1, 2007 to certify compliance. (DOB has indicated that these buildings include all pre-1984 high-rise buildings classified as mercantile, industrial, and institutional occupancy, and all pre-1984 buildings classified as office, educational, or hotel occupancy.)

Fire Towers. The bill permits the use of fire towers as an available option to comply with the existing exit stair provisions and imposes minimum standards under the Building Code for their use.

Elevator Vestibules. In new high-rise office buildings, elevators serving four or more stories would now be required to have smoke stop elevator vestibules.

[30] Prepared Statement of Patricia J. Lancaster, Commissioner of Buildings, February 12, 2004, at National Institute of Standards and Technology's Public Meeting on the World Trade Center Investigation.

[31] "In response to the WTC tragedy, the National Institute of Standards and Technology is conducting a three-part plan: a 24-month building and fire safety investigation to study the factors contributing to the probable cause (or causes) of post-impact collapse of the WTC Towers (WTC 1 and 2) and WTC 7; a research and development program to provide the technical basis for improved building and fire codes, standards, and practices; and a dissemination and technical assistance program to engage leaders of the construction and building community in implementing proposed changes to practices, standards and codes." http://wtc.nist.gov/ NIST also intends to make recommendations for improvements in emergency preparedness and response.

[32] The Committee wishes to acknowledge the staff of the Department of Buildings for their assistance with this summation.

Inspection of Sprayed-on Fireproofing. When alterations are performed in spaces classified in occupancy group E (i.e. business), a controlled inspection must be conducted to assess exposed existing sprayed-on fireproofing for compliance and integrity.

Sprinklers. Owners of all existing office buildings 100 feet in height or greater that are not already fully sprinklered will be required to fully sprinkler their buildings on or before July 1, 2019, and to file interim reports within the fifteen year period. According to DOB, partial waivers may be granted where installation would be impracticable due to structural conditions or due to interior landmark designation, in which case additional safety measures may be required. Owners may apply for an extension of the installation deadline in cases of undue hardship.

Oversized Fuel Oil Transfer Piping. The bill prohibits the use of oversized fuel oil transfer piping for all new installations and alterations.

Standards for Fuel Oil Transfer Piping. The bill imposes new minimum requirements for fuel oil transfer piping to generators where there is no storage tank above the lowest floor for all new installations and alterations.

Floor Drains in Elevator Shafts and Elevator Vestibules. Floor drains in elevator shafts and in elevator vestibules are to be excluded from fixture count calculations under the bill.

Air Intake Locations. Outdoor air intakes for mechanical ventilation systems serving spaces above the second floor and serving spaces greater than 10,000 square feet of floor area are mandated to be located at least twenty feet (20') above ground level, at least twenty feet (20') from ventilation exhausts, and twenty-five (25') feet from loading bays.

Inspection of Fire Dampers. A controlled inspection of the fire dampers must be conducted when new ventilation systems are installed.

Emergency Evacuation Drills. The bill would amend the Fire Prevention Code and empowers the Fire Commissioner to promulgate rules requiring owners of office buildings to develop emergency action plans for full building evacuation procedures for fire and non-fire related events.

Amendments to Int. No. 126

The original bill was amended to clarify the requirements for outdoor air intakes for mechanical ventilation systems. The bill was also amended to clarify the requirements concerning fuel oil transfer piping. Modest revisions were also made to clarify the provisions pertaining to smoke protection for elevators serving high-rise buildings with spaces classifies as office space (occupancy group E). Otherwise, additional minor revisions were made to clarify the text of the bill where necessary in provisions of the document.

Since the hearing on April 26, 2004, the provisions of the bill that contained specific dates for owners to comply with the new requirements in the legislation, as well as the provisions of the bill that contained dates by which the appropriate rules or reference standards were to be promulgated, have all been increased by a period of six months, accordingly, throughout the bill. In the provision pertaining to outdoor air intakes contained in bill section 20, an amendment was made to new subdivision f of section 27-754, at page 15, line 17, such that the terminology was changed from "or" to "and" so that the relevant portion of the provision now reads as "outdoor air intakes serving spaces above the second story and serving spaces greater than ten thousand square feet of floor area."

Environmental assessment

Related to this matter is a Preconsidered Resolution finding that enactment of Proposed Int. No. 126-A does not have a significant adverse impact on the environment and is consistent with the state environmental quality review act. The Department of Buildings, as lead agency pursuant to section 5-03(d) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, considered the relevant environmental issues with regards to this legislation. The Department determined that the issuance of a Negative Declaration was appropriate. The Committee must determine if the findings contained in this environmental assessment are to be accepted.

Update

On Monday, June 7, 2004, by a vote of nine in the affirmative, zero in the negative and no abstentions, the Committee adopted the Preconsidered Resolution finding that enactment of Proposed Int. No. 126-A does not have a significant adverse impact on the environment and is consistent with the state environmental quality review act.

The Committee then adopted Proposed Int. No. 126-A by a vote of nine in the affirmative, zero in the negative and no abstentions.

Accordingly, the Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

(The following is the Fiscal Impact Statement for Int. No. 126-A:)

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY 05 (in millions)	FY Succeeding Effective FY 06 (in millions)	Full Fiscal Impact FY 20 (in millions)
Expenditures (-)	$170,000	$340,000	$2.6 million
Net	$170,000	$340,000	$2.6 million

IMPACT ON REVENUES: The bill provides for new penalties for violations of this legislation, however, the intent of such fines is to compel compliance not to generate revenue.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: The primary cost to the City for implementing this bill relates to retrofitting with fire sprinklers in high-rise commercial buildings managed by the Department of Citywide Administrative Services (DCAS). DCAS estimates that for the thirty-four buildings it manages that would be subject to the requirements of this legislation this cost would total approximately $34 million or $2.3 million a year assuming that the full 15 years allowed for implementing this provision of the bill was taken. Since this work is capitally eligible this would result in additional debt service costs of approximately $170,000 a year for each $2.3 million in capital funds expended. These debt service costs would peak at approximately $2.6 million at the time that the retrofitting work is completed for all buildings.

(g) Inspection of existing sprayed-on fire protection during alterations in office spaces and in occupancy group E spaces. In office spaces and spaces classified in occupancy group E, where an alteration exposes any required sprayed-on fire protection of structural members, or where, pursuant to an alteration persons are required to enter or access areas in which such sprayed-on fire protection is capable of being observed, the existing required spray-on fire protection shall be subject to the controlled inspection requirements of section 27-132 of this code. Such controlled inspection shall require a determination (i) that the existing sprayed-on fire protection as originally applied or installed complies with the applicable requirements of this code, including those for installation methods, materials, thickness and coverage; and (ii) that, since its original application, the integrity of the existing sprayed-on fire protection has not been compromised, damaged or displaced by the current alteration or by any prior alteration or other event.

The elevator vestibule shall be separated from the building occupancy by smoke barriers extending from floor slab to floor slab.

(b) Permitted penetrations. Penetrations in addition to those permitted in section 27-353.3 (smoke barrier) shall be provided with smoke dampers as defined in reference standard RS 13-1, except that a package pass through or communication opening not exceeding one square foot in area need not be provided with smoke dampers.

(c) Access to exits. Access to an exit on any floor through the enclosed elevator vestibule shall be permitted if the occupied areas on that floor have access to at least one other required exit that does not require passing through the elevator vestibule.

(d) On floors with a floor area of less than twenty-five hundred square feet, the commissioner may accept an alternative design or construction method that accomplishes the purposes of this section, or, if the commissioner determines that compliance with this section is impracticable in whole or in part, the commissioner may authorize an exemption from the requirements of this section.

§27-353.3 Smoke barrier. A smoke barrier may or may not have a fire resistance rating. Smoke barriers may have openings that are protected by automatic closing devices, adequate to inhibit movement of smoke through the opening. [Door openings to scissor stairs shall be at least fifteen feet distant from each other. In all other buildings, the minimum distance between such doors shall be the greater of thirty feet or one-third the maximum travel distance of the floor, provided, however, that where such distance will result in travel distances exceeding those authorized in section 27-357 additional vertical exits shall be provided.] Where this results in a distance between exits exceeding the maximum travel distances required by section 27-357, additional remote vertical exits shall be provided.

(b) In addition to the requirements of subdivision (a) of this section:

(1) For exits serving spaces classified in occupancy groups G or J-2, in no event shall such exits be less than fifteen feet distant from each other.

However, where an applicant demonstrates by the inclusion of calculations on the plans that a greater diameter is necessary to ensure the proper flow for the functioning of the system, such greater diameter may be permitted. All oil stored above the lowest floor shall be in tanks complying with subdivision (b) of section 27-829 of this code; piping shall not be used for fuel storage purposes.

(11) In systems with equipment above the lowest floor where such equipment is designed to operate utilizing fuel pumped as needed from the lowest floor and without utilizing fuel oil stored above the lowest floor, piping diameters throughout such systems shall not exceed the design flow (three times the maximum firing rate as calculated by the engineer or architect). However, piping diameters within rooms containing such equipment may exceed the calculated design flow pipe size to provide limited reservoir storage to prime equipment, provided such reservoir storage is counted toward the maximum two hundred seventy-five gallons of oil storage per story as provided for in subdivision b of section 27-829 of this code.

(3) Application to buildings with a full system of automatic sprinklers. The provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to buildings in existence on the effective date of this subdivision in which a full system of automatic sprinklers was installed or required to be installed pursuant to any other provision of law. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to limit the applicability of any other provision of this code requiring sprinklers in the buildings referred to herein.

(b) Converted buildings. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, on and after the effective date of this subdivision, no building one hundred feet or more in height shall be converted to an office building or to a building classified in occupancy group E, whether or not application for such conversion is required to be filed with the department, unless a full system of automatic sprinklers is installed in such building in accordance with this subchapter prior to such conversion.

Such rules may require the owners of such buildings to develop a written emergency action plan, with provisions for identifying qualified personnel, conducting drills, distributing instructions or informative materials to occupants, and/or such other standards, procedures or requirements that the fire commissioner determines will serve to ensure orderly evacuation. Such rules may also establish requirements for the occupants of such buildings with respect to evacuation and the planning therefore. These requirements shall be in addition to the requirements of other provisions of sections 27-4267 or 27-4267.3 of this code and any other law, rule or regulation enforced by the department.

§28. This local law shall take effect on the one hundred twentieth day after it shall have been enacted into law except that prior to such date the commissioner of buildings and the fire commissioner may promulgate rules or take other administrative actions to facilitate the implementation of such provisions.

Report for Res. No. 401

Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings in favor of approving a Resolution finding that enactment of Proposed Int. No. 126-A does not have a significant adverse impact on the environment and is consistent with the state environmental quality review act.

The Committee on Housing and Buildings to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

BACKGROUND:

On June 7, 2004, the Committee on Housing and Buildings, chaired by Council Member Madeline Provenzano, is expected to vote on Proposed Int. No. 126-A. The enactment of local legislation is considered to be an "action" subject to the New York State Environmental Quality Review Act (Environmental Conservation Law, Article 8) and the City Environmental Quality Review Procedure (CEQR), which require an analysis of the environmental impacts of taking that action. One possible outcome of the environmental analysis is a determination that the proposed action will not have a "significant adverse environmental impact", warranting the issuance of a Negative Declaration. Such an environmental analysis was performed regarding the enactment of Proposed Int. No. 126-A and it was determined that the issuance of a Negative Declaration was, in fact an appropriate outcome. Preconsidered Res. No. 401 is the mechanism by which the Council adopts that Negative Declaration.

Update

On Monday, June 7, 2004, the Committee adopted this Preconsidered Resolution by a vote of nine in the affirmative, zero in the negative and no abstentions.

NEGATIVE DECLARATION

NAME: Intro 126-A

LOCATION: Citywide

SEQRA CLASSIFICATION: The project is classified as an unlisted action action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the land use implications and other policy issues relating to the Project;

RESOLVED:

Report of the Committee on Public Safety

Report for Int. No. 142-A

Report of the Committee on Public Safety in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to prohibiting the use of racial or ethnic profiling by law enforcement officers.

The Committee on Public Safety to which was referred on February 4, 2004 (Minutes, page 617) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

The Committee took testimony regarding Intro 142 and the New York City Police Department's (NYPD) racial profiling policies on February 23, 2004. The NYPD, Center for Constitutional Rights, New York Civil Liberties Union, National Latino Officers Association, and Neighborhood Defenders Service of Harlem offered testimony regarding the bill and related issues.

I. Racial Profiling: NYPD Policy

Racial profiling, as defined in NYPD Operations Order 11, is "the use of race, color, ethnicity or national origin as the determinative factor for initiating police action." The Operations Order goes on to state that the NYPD "is committed both to the impartial enforcement of law and the protection of Constitutional rights ... All police-initiated enforcement actions ... will be based on the standards required by the Fourth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution or other applicable law. Officers must be able to articulate the factors which led them to take enforcement action, in particular those factors leading to reasonable suspicion for a stop and question, or probable cause for an arrest."[1]

In a recently settled class action lawsuit, Daniels, et al v. the City of New York, ten young men sought an injunction barring the NYPD's Street Crime Unit (SCU), a plainclothes unit which was disbanded in recent years, from the alleged unconstitutional stopping and frisking of New York City residents. The plaintiffs alleged that SCU officers stopped and frisked them without the reasonable suspicion of criminal activity required by the Fourth Amendment, and that the officers selectively targeted them on the basis of their race and national origin in violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.[2]

On September 18, 2003, the City and plaintiffs agreed to a settlement of the case. The settlement stipulation prohibits all racial profiling by the NYPD and requires that such policy comply with the United States and New York State Constitutions. In addition, the settlement requires annual in-service training for members of the force on the Department's racial profiling policy and public information and outreach to inform communities about the Department's policy and citizens' rights.[3] The settlement is in effect until December 31, 2007.

[1] The Fourth Amendment to the US Constitution reads that "the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated..." Other applicable law includes the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which requires that all "persons within the jurisdiction of the United States shall have the same right in every State and Territory to ... the full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for the security of persons and property as is enjoyed by white citizens," and any person who is deprived of "any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws, shall have a cause of action."

II. Summary of Intro. 142-A

Intro 142-A creates a new section 14-151 of the administrative code, entitled "Racial or Ethnic Profiling Prohibited."

Section a of the bill defines "racial or ethnic profiling" as the "practice of a member of the force of the police department or other law enforcement officer that relies on race, ethnicity, religion or national origin as the determinative factor in initiating law enforcement action against an individual, rather than an individual's behavior or other information or circumstances that links a person or persons of a particular race, ethnicity, religion or national origin to suspected unlawful activity." "Law enforcement officer" is defined as "(i) a peace officer or police officer as defined in the Criminal Procedure Law who is employed by the city of New York; or (ii) a special patrolman appointed by the police commissioner pursuant to section 14-106 of the administrative code."

Section b sets forth the substantive provisions of the bill, and reads that "[e]very member of the police department or other law enforcement officer shall be prohibited from racial or ethnic profiling."

The effective date of the bill is "60 days after its enactment into law; provided, however, that effective immediately, the addition, amendment and /or repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of this local law on its effective date are authorized and directed to be made and completed on or before such effective date."

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

EEPC may meet as necessary to implement the provisions of Chapter 36 of the Charter, but at least once every eight weeks.

• taking such other actions as are appropriate to effectuate the provisions and purposes of Chapter 36 of the Charter.

EEPC is also empowered with compliance procedures to insure that City agencies are adhering to the law.

If appointed by the Council as a member of EEPC, Ms. Buggs will be eligible to serve for the remainder of a four-year term that began on July 1, 2003, and will expire on June 30, 2007. Ms. Buggs will fill a vacant position previously held by Carole Catherine Rimokh, Esq. Ms. Buggs previously served as a member of EEPC from June 2000 - July 2002. Report for State Legislation Res. No. 1

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Padavan, S.5931, and Assembly Member Weprin, A.9417, "AN ACT authorizing the city of New York to sell and convey certain property to Yeshiva Har Torah".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on February 4, 2004 (Minutes, page 625) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), the New York City Parks Department ("Parks Department") owns a 0.63 acre strip of land along the Grand Central Parkway in Queens County. The land is adjacent to property owned by the Yeshiva Har Torah, where a 450 seat private school will be developed. The legislation would allow the Yeshiva to purchase the property from the Parks Department for use to develop access for school buses, sewer connections and a playground.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would restate the authority of the state legislature to allow the sale of the property, pursuant to a home rule message passed by the City Council, to Yeshiva Har Torah for fair market value. Section 2 would describe the specific map coordinates of this property, adjacent to the Grand Central Parkway in the borough and county of Queens.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend paragraph 1 of subdivision b of section 13-143 of the administrative code of the city of New York to add service as an "EMT member" to the list of uniformed officers for whom service immediately prior to service in the police force counts as service in the police force for purposes of eligibility for and determination of benefits under the police pension fund.

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

Active members who are improved benefit plan members are also allowed to borrow up to 75 percent of the member's accumulated deductions. According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), there are times when a retired member needs financial assistance and should have the ability to borrow from their pension fund. This bill would allow retired members the ability to do so.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:
Section 1 of this bill would amend section 13-342 of the administrative code of the city of New York to allow original plan members to borrow up to 90 percent of their accumulated contributions upon retirement. Report for State Legislation Res. No. 62

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Maltese, S.2899, and Assembly Member Seminerio, A.3087, "AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the designation of deputy warden (warden level II) in the department of correction of the city of New York".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1177) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), to be designated as a Deputy Warden in the Department of Correction, an individual must serve, at minimum, one year as an Assistant Deputy Warden and two years as a Corrections Captain, a significant length of service. However, currently, such individuals are not afforded appropriate due process protection under Section 75 of the Civil Service Law.

In explaining why such protections should be provided to Deputy Wardens, the MOU provides the example of when the State legislature adopted legislation in 1990 requiring that police officers be designated as detectives within 18 months of being assigned to and performing detective functions. These officers were also accorded civil service protections on the premise that members of the civil service system should not be kept in a given job capacity for more than a reasonable length of time, here 18 months, without receiving the appropriate job classification. The MOU also notes that the Corrections Department has now taken the position that the designation of Deputy Warden (Warden level II) is a non-managerial and non-confidential position exempt from due process guidelines. This bill would provide such guidelines for certain persons designated as Deputy Wardens.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of this bill would amend section 9-117 of the administrative code of the city of New York by adding a new section d which would state that any person who has received permanent appointment as an assistant deputy warden, is promoted to the position of deputy warden, and serves more than one year, shall be permanently appointed to that rank and accorded the protections of the civil service law.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 70

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Sampson, S.4347-B, and Committee on Rules, A.8433-A, "AN ACT to amend chapter 341 of the laws of 2002, relating to authorizing the city of New York to reconvey its interest in certain real property acquired by in rem tax foreclosure in the borough of Brooklyn to former owner Richard Bothwell, notwithstanding expiration of the two year period within which application may be made to the city to release its interest in property thus acquired; Block No. 3868, Lots No. 20 and 22 on tax map for the borough of Brooklyn also known as 891-895 Mother Gaston Boulevard in the borough of Brooklyn, in relation to identifying the correct former of such real property as Carol Ajoku".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on March 24, 2004 (Minutes, page 1378) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

This action was based on non-payment of taxes due to inadvertence of Carol Ajoku, the former owner of the property. Carol Ajoku is the daughter and sole surviving heir of Richard Bothwell, the original former owner of the property.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would restate the authority of the state legislature to make this reconveyance. Section 1 would also state that the city of New York acquired title to premises designated as Lots No. 20 and 22 in tax block 3868, also known as 891-895 Mother Gaston Boulevard in the borough of Brooklyn, through an in rem tax foreclosure action based on non-payment of taxes by the former owner of the property, amended as Carol Ajoku. Report for State Legislation Res. No. 84

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Padavan, S.4258-A, and Committee on Rules, A.8668-A, "AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to the employment of retired New York city police and fire department personnel".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on April 1, 2004 (Minutes, page 1513) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

As stated in the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), a 'retired person' may not return to public service without loss, suspension or diminution of their retirement allowance, with certain narrow exceptions as defined in the State Retirement and Social Security law. This prohibition is said to prevent many qualified individuals from offering further public service. This legislation would allow retired members of the New York City Police Department and New York City Fire Department to work as teachers in New York City schools.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend section 211 of the Retirement and Social Security law by adding a new subdivision 9 which would allow any retired member of the New York city police pension fund or any retired member of the New York city fire department pension fund to attain a position in teaching service in the city of New York and earn an unrestricted income provided that s/he agrees to waive any right to earn a pension or pension credits during the term of his or her subsequent public service. Section 2 of the bill would amend section 212 of the Retirement and Social Security Law by adding a new subdivision 3 to read in the same manner as the new subdivision 9 added by section 1.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 99

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Smith, S.6685, and Assembly Member Clark, A.10485, "AN ACT authorizing the city of New York to reconvey its interest in certain real property acquired by in rem tax foreclosure in the borough of Queens to former owner Tiberian Baptist Church, notwithstanding expiration of the two year period within which application may be made to the city to release its interest in property thus acquired; Block No. 10950, Lot No. 161 on tax map for the borough of Queens".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 5, 2004 (Minutes, page 1983) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

The city of New York acquired title to premises designated as lot no. 161 in tax block 10950, on the tax map of the borough of Queens, also known as 111-27 Farmers Boulevard, through an in rem tax foreclosure action. This action was based on non- payment of taxes due to inadvertence of Tiberian Baptist Church, the former owner of the property.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would restate the authority of the state legislature to make this reconveyance. Section 1 would also state that the city of New York acquired title to premises designated as Lot No. 161 in tax block 10950, also known as 111-27 Farmers Boulevard, St. Albans in the borough of Queens through an in rem tax foreclosure action based on non-payment of taxes by the former owner of the property, Tiberian Baptist Church. Sections 2 and 3 would authorize the city of New York to release its interest and reconvey the real property to Tiberian Baptist Church and condition the reconveyance upon the approval of the in rem foreclosure release board, submission of an application for release in writing to the city commissioner of general services accompanied by a certified title search, affidavit of ownership, and all fees, payments, taxes, interest penalties and charges as otherwise required by section 11-424 of the administrative code of the city of New York.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 112

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Velella, S.7015, and Committee on Rules, A.11043, "AN ACT to amend the general municipal law, in relation to providing a special accidental death benefit to emergency medical technicians employed in the city of New York".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2171) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), there are 3,000 Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT), paramedics and their supervisors working with the New York City Fire Department (FDNY). These workers respond to almost 2 million emergency calls per year. Currently, FDNY EMT's and paramedics work alongside city firefighters and police officers in conditions of great danger and stress, yet are only entitled to the line of duty death benefits of city employees in low risk jobs. This legislation would extend a special accidental death benefit now currently enjoyed by other uniformed officers to EMT's and paramedics. This special benefit would consist of the individual's last year's salary minus any death benefit received from the city or from a pension system and applicable social security and workers compensation benefits.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend section 208-f of the general municipal law to provide the special accidental death benefit to survivors of deceased employees of the City of New York or the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation (HHC) in a title whose duties were those of an emergency medical technician or advanced emergency medical technician, or whose duties required the supervision of the aforementioned, and who were members of the pension or retirement system covering city employees or the relevant employees of HHC at the time of the accident at issue.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 113

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Velella, S.7159, and Committee on Rules, A.11042, "AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York and the retirement and social security law, in relation to providing improved ordinary death benefits to emergency medical technicians employed in the city of New York".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2172) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), this bill would provide ordinary death benefits to emergency medical technicians (EMT), paramedics and their supervisors at the same level available to other New York City Fire Department (FDNY) first-responders who joined the department at the same time, as well as to city sanitation workers, and police and correction officers. There are approximately, 3,000 Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT), paramedics and their supervisors working with the New York City Fire Department (FDNY). These workers respond to almost 2 million emergency calls per year. Currently, FDNY EMT's and paramedics work alongside city firefighters and police officers in conditions of great danger and stress, yet are only entitled to the same death benefits as city employees in low risk jobs.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend items iii and iv of subparagraph a of paragraph 2 of section 13-148 of the administrative code of the city of New York to provide that upon the death of a member or a former member of the city's retirement system, who is employed as an EMT, as an Advanced EMT, or as a supervisor of EMT's or Advanced EMT's, there would be paid to that member's estate or designee a benefit to include the amount of reserve equal to the present value of the pension he or she would have received if he or she had retired and became entitled to a pension on the day immediately preceding his or her death. Section 2 of the bill would include the amended section iv described above in the list of benefits that would be paid to a designee under subdivision c of section 13-148. Section 3 of the legislation would amend section 448 of the retirement and social security law to include emergency medical technicians in the list of those eligible for a death benefit under the law. Section 4 would add a definition of emergency medical technician to section 450 of the retirement and social security law.

Section 5 would reletter subdivisions c, d and e of section 606 of the retirement and social security law as subdivisions d, e and f, and add a new subdivision c that would outline the death benefit that would be available to EMT's, paramedics and their supervisors. A member of the retirement system would only have to complete a specified period of service, regardless of age. The benefit would be equal to three times the member's salary raised to the next highest multiple of one thousand dollars, but no higher than three times the maximum salary specified in the civil service law. Beneficiaries may also elect to receive a lump sum payment in amount equal to the pension reserve that would have been established had the member retired on the date of his or her death, or the value of the death benefit and the reserve-for-increased-take-home-pay, if any, whichever is greater. The bill would also hold that if such an EMT, paramedic or supervisor were to die after having retired from service, but before a first payment of a retirement allowance, such person would be deemed to have been in service at the time of his or her death for purposes of this new subdivision only. In this situation, the pension reserve established pursuant to this paragraph would be determined as of the date of retirement and pension payments payable for the period of time prior to the retiree's death would be deducted from any benefits payable pursuant to this subdivision. This subdivision would also include a definition of emergency medical technician for purposes of such subdivision.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 114

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Velella, S.7017, and Committee on Rules, A.11041, "AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to providing a three-quarters pay accidental disability pension for persons employed by the city of New York as urban park rangers and associate urban park rangers".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2173) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), Urban Park Rangers and Associate Urban Park Rangers employed by the city of New York number approximately 220, possess twenty-four hour peace officer status and are charged with providing law enforcement services in the City's parks system. These officers are not armed, but provide crowd and traffic control at parks events, act as a deterrent to criminal activities and intercede in physical alterations and other criminal activity that they come upon within New York City parks. This disability pension plan would enhance the protection offered to these individuals when they are seriously and permanently injured in the line of duty. The bill would provide for a three-quarters pay accidental disability pension for such officers.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would add a new subdivision e to section 444 of the retirement and social security law to provide that members of the city retirement system who are employed by the city of New York as an Urban Park Ranger or Associate Urban Park Ranger who are granted accidental disability retirement benefits shall receive a pension of three-quarters or his or her final average salary. Section 2 of the bill would add a new subdivision c to section 607-b of the retirement and social security law to provide that such officers who become physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duties as the natural and proximate result of an accident sustained in the performance or discharge of his or her own duties, not caused by his or her own willful negligence, and sustained while actually a member of the retirement system, would be paid an accidental disability retirement allowance equal to three-quarters of final average salary.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend section 13-149 of the administrative code of the city of New York to provide an accidental death benefit consisting of a lump sum payment of the reserve-for-increased-take-home-pay and a pension of one-half of the five-year-average compensation of a given member of Tier 1 of the New York City Employees Retirement System (NYCERS) who is an employee of the city of New York or the New York city health and hospitals corporation in a title whose duties are those of an emergency medical technician or advanced emergency medical technician. Report for State Legislation Res. No. 117

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senators Golden, Maltese, Marchi, Mendez, Padavan and Velella, S.6699, and Committee on Rules, A.10883, "AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to including in a twenty-five year retirement program members of the New York city employees' retirement system employed as traffic enforcement agents (level 4); and to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to including in a twenty-five year retirement program members of the New York city employees' retirement system employed as traffic enforcement agents (level 4) who are subject to articles 11 and 15 of such law".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2174) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

As stated in the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), Traffic Enforcement Agents, Level 4, are members of the New York Police Department (NYPD) and are authorized to perform special duties, such as issuing and serving Criminal Court summonses and process, making arrests and performing car stops. These agents are also assigned to major construction sites for the purpose of enforcing traffic and pedestrian safety and are given special assignments on the City's arterial highways and sites of serious vehicle accidents. These officers work under physically demanding conditions and face many of the same challenges faced by police, firefighters and emergency medical technicians. This legislation would provide for a member paid 25-year retirement plan, regardless of age for level 4 traffic enforcement agents employed by the NYPD.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend section 13-157.3 of the administrative code of the city of New York to include traffic enforcement agents (level 4) in the definition of special officers within the category of peace officers. Section 2 of the bill would amend section 13-157.3 of the administrative code of the city of New York to provide that the starting date of the program would be the effective date of the amendment to this section of the code. Section 3 would amend the retirement and social security law to state that traffic enforcement agents (level 4) may retire without regard to age. Section 4 of the legislation would amend the definition of "special officers" in section 445-f of the retirement and social security law to include traffic enforcement agents (level 4). Section 5 of the legislation would amend section 445-f of the retirement and social security law to provide that the starting date of the program would be the effective date of the amendment to this section of the code. Section 6 of the legislation would amend the definition of "special officers" in section 604-f of the retirement and social security law to include traffic enforcement agents (level 4). Section 7 of the bill would amend section 604-f of the retirement and social security law to hold that the starting date of the program would be the effective date of the amendment to this section of the law. Section 8 would amend section 613 of the retirement and social security law to include these agents in the list of special officers for whom the city of New York would be required to pick up and pay to the retirement system all additional member contributions which otherwise would be required to be deducted from such member's compensation pursuant to section 604-e of the retirement and social security law. Section 9 would amend section 13-125.2 of the administrative code to require the city of New York to pick up and pay all additional member contributions for these traffic enforcement agents pursuant to subdivision e of section 13-157.3. Section 10 would amend section 125.2 of the administrative code to include these agents in the list of special officers for whom the city of New York would be obligated to pick up additional member contributions pursuant to section 445-f of the retirement and social security law.

IMPACT ON REVENUES: Enactment of this legislation would not impact City revenue collections.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: Based on the assumption that only those employees who will elect into this plan will receive a benefit greater than the additional cost required to be paid by them, there will be a cost for this legislation. The cost will be spread over a period of time consistent with the actuarial methods used in calculating such costs. In order to determine the cost it would be necessary to know the number of employees in these titles and the length of service each of them have. This information is not available at this time but based on estimates, the cost should not exceed $100,000 a year and will probably be significantly less especially since some employees will elect into this plan and pay more in increased contributions then they will ultimately receive in benefits. If at a later date the actuary for the City of New York determines that there is a cost for this legislation the first year any cost will be required by the City of New York will not be until fiscal year 2006.

At this point the Speaker (Council Member Miller) announced that the following item had been preconsidered by the Committee on State and Federal Legislation and had been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 121

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Padavan, S.7334, and Committee on Rules, A.11280, "AN ACT to amend the civil service law, in relation to additional member contributions by employees of the department of sanitation in cities having a population of one million or more".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), Chapter 528 of the laws of 2001 allowed certain employees of the New York City Sanitation Department who were suspended for reasons relating to the City's fiscal condition between 1990 and 1993, and who were subsequently rehired within 33 months to be deemed to have been in continuous service for seniority and pension service credit purposes. Under the statute, effected employees are required to pay an additional 2 percent of earnings until the date of retirement or completion of 30 years of service, whichever is earlier. Chapter 579 of the Laws of 2002 clarified an existing inconsistency in the retirement benefits afforded to sanitation employees by stipulating that such employees make additional contributions only until their date of retirement or 20 years of service, whichever is earlier. However, these provisions did not extend to employees covered under Chapter 528. This legislation would reduce the payment period for sanitation employees covered under Chapter 528 to twenty years from thirty years.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend item c of subparagraph 1 of paragraph b of subdivision 7-a of section 80 of the civil service law by replacing the word "thirty" with "twenty" with regards to the requirement that additional member contributions under the law end on the earlier of a member's date of retirement or his or her completion of that specified number (amended to twenty from thirty) of years of service.

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Maltese, S.6108, and Assembly Member Abbate, A.7174-A, "AN ACT to make certain widows and children of certain former uniformed employees of New York city police departments eligible for special accidental death benefits pursuant to section 208-f of the general municipal law".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), certain named persons were former uniformed employees of the police department of the city of New York or the New York city transit police who were killed while retired from such employment and while acting as police officers on September 11, 2001. This bill would reinstate these members to full active status as of September 11, 2001, at their highest achieved work and status, and make the widows and children of the named individuals eligible for special accident death benefits under section 208-f of the general municipal law.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would find that Richard N. Poulous, Howard B. Kirschbaum, Philip V. Calcagno and Salvatore Lopes were formerly uniformed employees of the police department of the city of New York and that Charles Mills was formerly a uniformed employee of the New York city transit police department. The bill would also find that all the above were killed while retired from employment and acting as police officers during the events of September 11, 2001. The bill would then reinstate these members to full active status as of September 11, 2001, at their highest achieved work and status without any disruption or return of their previously received retirement benefits, and make the widows and children of the named individuals eligible special accident death benefits under section 208-f of the general municipal law.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

See Council Finance Division fiscal impact statement.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

This legislation shall take effect immediately, and shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after September 10, 2001.

RESOLUTIONS

The following are the respective Committee Reports for each of the Resolutions referred to the Council for a voice-vote pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Rules of the Council:

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 291-A

Report of the Committee on Veterans in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution calling upon the Congress of the United States to approve S.50, the Veterans Health Care Guarantee Act, and H.R. 2318, the Assured Funding for Veterans Health Care Act, which would institute a mandatory funding mechanism for the Department of Veterans Affairs health care system.

The Committee on Veterans to which was referred on April 21, 2004 (Minutes, page 1749) the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

Background

On May 25, 2004, the Committee on Veterans will hold a hearing on Res. No. 291-A, which calls upon the Congress of the United States to approve S.50, the Veterans Health Care Guarantee Act and H.R. 2318, the Assured Funding for Veterans Health Care Act, which would institute a mandatory funding mechanism for the Department of Veterans Affairs health care system. A first hearing on this resolution was heard on April 27, 2004.

Analysis

Res. No. 291-A would note that according to the "Independent Budget – Fiscal Year 2005" (the "Independent Budget") a publication that represents the collaborative efforts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, (the "VFW), Disabled American Veterans, Paralyzed Veterans of America and AMVETS, federal funding for health care provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs (the "VA") is discretionary, with funding levels determined through an annual appropriations bill process. Furthermore, Res. No. 291-A would point out that as a result of funding shortfalls with respect to this discretionary funding mechanism, the needs of our nation's sick and disabled veterans are not being adequately addressed.

Res. No. 291-A would also note that in an article entitled Mandatory Funding for Veterans Health Care, the VFW stated that the level of discretionary funding allocated to the VA health care system consistently falls short of VFW and Independent Budget recommendations, forcing the VA to add to the inadequate appropriation by requesting supplemental funding, which still does not approach proper funding levels. Additionally, Res. No. 291-A would note that the President's own Task Force to Improve Health Care Delivery for Our Nation's Veterans recognized that even if the VA was operating at maximum efficiency, it would not have the capacity to meet its obligations to enrolled veterans with its current level of funding. Next, Res. No. 291-A would point out that the Partnership for Veterans Health Care Budget Reform, an umbrella organization that represents nine of the nation's most prominent veterans organizations, indicated in its pamphlet entitled Honor America's Commitment to Veterans (the "Partnership Pamphlet"), its belief that the current discretionary funding method for veterans health care is broken.

Res. No. 291-A would note that According to the Partnership Pamphlet, the enrolled patient population in the VA health care system has surged from 2.9 million in 1996 to 6.8 million in 2003, a 134 percent increase, while monies appropriated by the federal government and earmarked to be received by the VA health care system have only increased 44 percent during the same time period. Res. No. 291-A would note that according to the Partnership Pamphlet, as a direct result of the unreliable and insufficient discretionary funding mechanism, the VA has been forced to ration care by denying services to veterans and by curtailing needed medical treatment. Furthermore, Res. No. 291-A would point out that according to South Dakota Senator Tim Johnson, as a direct result of the current discretionary funding systems shortfalls, there were as many as 300,000 veterans waiting for appointments at VA hospitals. Additionally, Res. No. 291-A would point out that because of these funding shortfalls, the VA has also been unable to modernize a number of its facilities and cannot purchase sufficient state of the art medical equipment. Res. No. 291-A would also point out that the Veterans Health Care Guarantee Act, Senate Bill 50, introduced by Senator Johnson, and the Assured Funding for Veterans Health Care Act, House Bill 2318, introduced by Congressman Lane Evans, would provide an assured and adequate level of funding for veterans health care.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

Pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Rules of the Council, the Public Advocate (Ms Gotbaum) called for a voice vote. Hearing no objections, the Public Advocate (Ms. Gotbaum) declared Res No. 291-A to be adopted.

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 295

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a Resolution Supporting the Elimination of the Sunset Provisions of the Local Government Records Management Improvement Fund (LGRMIF) and the Cultural Education Fund (CEF).

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on April 21, 2004 (Minutes, page 1756) the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

Background

On June 2, 2004, the Committee on State and Federal Legislation will hold a hearing on Res. No. 295, which supports the elimination of the sunset provisions of the Local Government Records Management Improvement Fund (LGRMIF) and the Cultural Education Fund (CEF).

Analysis

Resolution 295 would note that the Local Government Records Management Improvement Fund (LGRMIF) was created in 1989 to provide technical assistance and grants to establish, improve or enhance records management programs of New York's more than 4,300 local governments. The resolution would also note that the closely related Documentary Heritage Program (DHP) for grants and technical assistance to non-governmental historical records repositories is also supported by the LGRMIF.

Next, the resolution would note that a sunset date for LGRMIF was established in the original legislation to permit its operation as a five-year experiment and extended twice, most recently to December 31, 2005. The resolution would then note that the LGRMIF has effectively supported essential advisory services and 6,300 grants totaling over $113 million to improve the management of records for over half of all New York State's local governments.

The resolution would also note that the LGRMIF and the programs it supports continue to operate at a high standard of excellence and provide direct and significant benefit to local governments at no cost to the taxpayers. The resolution would indicate that the city of New York has benefited from technical assistance, training, publications and grants supported by the LGRMIF. Then, the resolution would note that the State Legislature created the closely-related Cultural Education Fund (CEF) to support the New York State Archives, New York State Library and New York State Museum on behalf of all New Yorkers, and the Office of Public Broadcasting, and provided CEF with an identical sunset date. Finally, the resolution would note that the LGRMIF and CEF continue to be critically important in the fulfillment of the many records and information related responsibilities of the Clerk of the City Council, as well as to the cultural and scientific needs of the people of New York State.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

JOEL RIVERA, Chairperson; JOSEPH P. ADDABBO JR., MARIA BAEZ, ERIK MARTIN DILAN, LEWIS A. FIDLER, MICHAEL E. MCMAHON, HIRAM MONSERRATE, HELEN SEARS, VINCENT J. GENTILE, Committee on State and Federal Legislation, June 2, 2004.

Resolution extending real property tax exemptions for certain affordable housing developments.

By The Speaker (Council Member Miller) and Council Members Baez, Brewer, Comrie Jr., Foster, Gerson, James, Koppell, Liu, Martinez, Recchia Jr., Sanders Jr., Sears, Stewart, Weprin and Jackson.

Whereas, Certain housing developments owned, operated or maintained by limited-profit housing companies organized under Article II of the Private Housing Finance Law, limited-dividend housing companies organized under Article IV of the Private Housing Finance Law, a municipal housing authority, housing development fund companies organized under Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law where such Article XI company purchased or leased the housing development from the City, or the Urban Development Corporation or a successor entity (collectively referred to as the "Housing Companies"), currently receive real property tax exemptions from the City of New York ("City") pursuant to applicable provisions of the Private Housing Finance Law and/or the Public Housing Law; and

Whereas, Each of those real property tax exemptions is for a period of time that was limited to the length of the mortgages of the respective housing developments or was established by statute; and

Whereas, The State Legislature has authorized the local legislative body of the City of New York to extend the period of real property tax exemption by Chapters 389 and 449 of the Laws of 2003; and

Whereas, Such real property tax exemptions may be continued for a period of up to fifty years from the expiration of the current real property tax exemption period or until such time as the housing development is no longer operated under the restrictions and for the purposes set forth in the relevant provisions of the Private Housing Finance Law and/or the Public Housing Law, whichever is sooner; and

Whereas, The Council of the City of New York ("Council"), acting as the local legislative body of the City, has determined that it is in the best interests of the City to assist these Housing Companies to maintain affordable rents and carrying charges by granting an extension of the real property tax exemption for such Housing Companies; and

Whereas, The Council wishes to provide an inducement to the Housing Companies to remain in the programs by which affordable rents and carrying charges are maintained; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council hereby approves for each Housing Company currently receiving a real property tax exemption pursuant to the Private Housing Finance Law and/or the Public Housing Law an extension of such real property tax exemption for a period of fifty years to take effect upon the expiration of the current real property tax exemption or until such time as the housing development is no longer operated under the restrictions and for the purposes set forth in the relevant provisions of the Private Housing Finance Law and/or the Public Housing Law, whichever is sooner; and, be it further

Resolved, That the extension of such real property tax exemption shall be granted upon the condition that when any supervising agency that regulates compliance with the applicable provisions of the Private Housing Finance Law and/or the Public Housing Law deems it appropriate, an existing regulatory agreement or contract shall be extended or modified or a new agreement or contract be executed and, be it further,

Resolved, That such extended real property tax exemption is further conditioned upon compliance with the applicable provisions of the Private Housing Finance Law and/or Public Housing Law and the applicable rules, regulations or other requirements of the supervising agency, whether or not any regulatory agreement or contract is in effect; and, be it further,

Resolved, That the approval for an extension of a real property tax exemption provided for in this resolution may be rescinded by resolution of the Council in circumstances where the supervising agency recommends that the extension of such real property tax exemption not be approved; and, be it further

Resolved, That in the event a particular Housing Company fails to comply with the requirements of the Private Housing Finance Law and/or the Public Housing Law, the applicable rules, regulations or other requirements of the supervising agency, or the terms of any regulatory agreement or contract, the City is authorized to terminate the continued real property tax exemption herein approved for such Housing Company.

Res. No. 389

Resolution calling upon government officials to protect and uphold First Amendment rights to freedom of speech, association and assembly.

By The Speaker (Council Member Miller) and Council Members Perkins, Yassky, Brewer, Comrie Jr., Foster, Gerson, James, Koppell, Liu, Lopez, Martinez, Palma, Quinn, Reed, Sanders Jr., Sears, Stewart, Weprin and Moskowitz.

Whereas, The exercise of the First Amendment rights of speech, association and assembly is essential to the well being of a democratic society; and

Whereas, New York City has a long tradition that celebrates robust public discussion of public issues, including the unfettered expression of opinions and view points at public demonstrations, marches (or parades) and rallies; and

Whereas, Peaceful political expression is entitled to protection under the United States Constitution, the Bill of Rights and the New York State Constitution; and

Whereas, The forthcoming Republican National Convention will test New York's commitment to freedom of speech, association, and expression; and

Whereas, The members of the Council of the City of New York believe that there is no inherent conflict between the City's duty to secure public safety and protect lawful political activity; and

Whereas, The members of the Council of the City of New York want to ensure that permit applications for public demonstrations related to the Republican National Convention are acted upon in a timely manner and that such permits are not unreasonably denied or, if granted, do not place unreasonable constraints upon the location or route and the duration of such activities; and

Whereas, The members of the Council of the City of New York want to ensure that the Handschu decree is enforced in a manner that does not infringe upon New Yorkers' participation in lawful political activity, and the decree provides for oversight and accountability regarding the Police Department's investigation and surveillance of such activity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon Mayor Michael Bloomberg, Police Commissioner Raymond Kelly, and Parks Commissioner Adrian Benepe to affirm and uphold the exercise of First Amendment rights in New York City and, in particular, upon the occasion of the 2004 Republican National Convention; and be it further

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York affirms its strong support for First Amendment values and principles and therefore calls upon City officials to --

(a) Take affirmative measures to uphold and protect the rights of speech, expression and association in New York City and, in particular, at the 2004 Republican National Convention, including the creation and implementation of systems and procedures to ensure --

(i) reasonable and prompt action on permit applications for public demonstrations, marches and rallies;

(ii) that there is not an unreasonable denial of permit applications or issuance of permits that place unreasonable constraints upon expressive activity;

(iii) that written explanations are provided when permits are denied, in whole or in part, and suitable alternatives are offered that to the extent reasonably possible meet the requirements of permit applicants;

(b) Refrain from the use of force—including the use of horses, pepper spray or other instruments of unreasonable force—in policing public demonstrations except to the reasonable extent required as necessitated by legitimate law-enforcement purposes;

(c) Make every effort to permit individuals and organizations to engage in peaceful protest activities in close proximity to and within sight and sound of the object of their protest;

(d) Make every effort to facilitate access to as well as freedom of movement at public demonstrations, marches and rallies through effective communication in advance of and at the site of public demonstrations;

(e) Minimize the use of barricades to confine the movement of people at public demonstrations;

(f) Refrain from the use of four-sided enclosures known as "pens" to contain people engaged in expressive activities except in limited circumstances based on legitimate and reasonable security concerns, and in such circumstances ensure that such enclosures have sufficient openings to allow people to exit a pen, move freely around the demonstration site and return to the pen if there is sufficient space;

(g) Train City police officers and others involved in the administration and policing of public demonstrations, marches and rallies about the First Amendment rights of persons engaged in lawful expressive activities;

(h) Refrain from engaging in a preliminary inquiry or investigation of individuals or groups, as provided in the Handschu decree, based solely upon their participation in activities protected by the First Amendment, such as political advocacy or the practice of religion;

(i) Ensure that pursuant to the Handschu decree, all allegations or other information which warrant a preliminary inquiry of political activity have been made in writing and that a full investigation of such political activity set forth, in writing, the facts or circumstances warranting such activity; and be it further

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York acknowledges the police department's and other city officials' responsibility to protect protesters and the city; however, in executing their responsibility to administer and police public demonstrations in a manner that protects public safety, city officials must ensure that First Amendment activity is not prohibited, denied or limited except based upon legitimate public safety concerns.

Resolution calling upon the Metropolitan Transportation Authority and New York City Transit and the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority to install cameras on all its buses.

By Council Members Baez, Foster and Lopez.

Whereas, Technology can be utilized to enhance public safety, reduce and deter criminality, and discourage false complaints against the City of New York; and

Whereas, Terrorism has become a more serious threat since the September 11 tragedy with growing concerns that New York City's public transportation system is a prime target; and

Whereas, The Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) has enhanced security measures since September 11, 2001, and since the Madrid bombing in March 2004, have installed more surveillance cameras in subway stations and tunnels; and

Whereas, The Federal Bureau of Investigation issued a Homeland Security bulletin in April 2004 to police departments around the United States warning that terrorists might try to bomb rail lines and buses this summer; and

Whereas, The bulletin states that transit officials can improve security on trains and buses by reviewing security camera footage each day for signs of terrorist surveillance; and

Whereas, While installing cameras on city buses can improve tracking of terrorist activities on these vehicles, the cameras can also serve to monitor and deter daily municipal problems such as assault, harassment, vandalism and false "slip and fall" incidents inside and outside the buses; and

Whereas, Several transportation authorities in other municipalities have installed cameras in buses including in New Orleans, Louisiana, where officials have used video evidence to help convict people on an array of gun, theft and fraud charges; and

Whereas, Other municipalities with cameras in buses include Minneapolis, Minnesota, San Francisco and Sacramento, California, Charlotte, North Carolina, Seattle, Washington, Burlington, Vermont, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and Southbend, Indiana, the last three of which have installed cameras in school buses; and

Whereas, These cameras can be installed on bus ceilings and directly behind the driver to send out a radio signal that a police officer can intercept with a modified laptop and monitor the activities of the bus in "real time" or download the information to review later; and

Whereas, Currently neither the MTA, New York City Transit, nor the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority has installed any cameras in New York City buses, but has reportedly been in discussions with a French-based company that is outfitting Paris-area buses with surveillance equipment, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, New York City Transit, and the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Surface Transit Operating Authority to install cameras on all its buses.

A Local Law to amend the New York City Charter, in relation to the energy efficient use of City office equipment.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of Legislative Findings and Intent. In Fiscal 2002, New York City spent approximately $350 million on electricity, using over 4 billion kilowatt-hours. Reducing the City's electricity use will not only save money, but will also reduce stress on the power grid, reduce the need to build new power plants, and may improve local air quality.

The City can achieve some energy savings at no cost by taking advantage of the power management options of its computers, printers, facsimile machines, and photocopy machines. In order to maximize the effectiveness of power management on computers, screensavers must be disabled, as they prevent computers from entering into low power modes.

Commercially available software can enable power management options of computers over a network. The Council recently purchased one such program for its approximately 600 computers, which is conservatively predicted to save $8451 on energy costs and 105,636 kWh per year. The Department of Information Technology and Telecommunications estimates that the City operates been 100,000 and 125,000 personal computers. If the savings projected for the City Council hold true for the rest of the City, the City could save $1,408,500 annually and 17606 MWh by using a power savings program with 100,000 computers.

Accordingly, the Council declares that it is reasonable and necessary to require that power management functions are enabled on City computers, printers, facsimile machines, and photocopy machines.

§2. Chapter 48 of the New York City Charter, as added by vote of the electors at the general election held on November 7, 1989, is amended by adding a new section 1075 to read as follows:

§ 1075. Energy efficiency. a. The department shall ensure that power management functions on all city-owned or operated computers, printers, facsimile machines, and photocopy machines are calibrated to achieve the highest energy savings practicable.

b. All computer monitors and central processing units shall be set to enter into a low power mode after the shortest practicable period of inactivity. The department shall disable any screensavers or other computer programs that may interfere with the capability of a computer monitor or central processing unit to enter into a low power mode. The department may depart from the provisions of this subdivision when compliance would endanger public safety or cause instability in computer systems.

§3. This local law shall take effect 90 days after enactment.

Resolution urging Congress and the President to take immediate steps to ensure that WIC is adequately funded to meet caseload needs for the remainder of the current Federal Fiscal Year ending September 30, 2004, and calling on the Federal Government to ensure that WIC participants in New York City and across the nation are not placed on waiting lists or cut from this critical nutrition and health program for Federal Fiscal Year 2005 and beyond.

By Council Members Brewer, Baez, Barron, Comrie Jr., Dilan, Foster, Gerson, Liu, Lopez, Martinez, Monserrate, Nelson, Palma, Reed, Sanders Jr., Sears, Serrano, Vann and Weprin.

Whereas, The Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children ("WIC") has an extraordinary 30-year record of preventing children's health problems and improving their health, growth and development; and

Whereas, WIC serves approximately 290,000 women, infants and children in New York City and more than 7.89 million women, infants and children nationally—nearly one out of every two children born in this nation annually; and

Whereas, Nutrition services at WIC include educating families about nutrition and breastfeeding, supplying nutritious foods, and providing improved healthcare access for low and moderate income women and children who have, or are at risk of developing, nutrition related health problems; and

Whereas, WIC has been shown to reduce infant mortality and low and very-low birth weights, while dramatically reducing health care costs; and

Whereas, Studies show that WIC children enter school ready to learn and demonstrate better cognitive performance than children without proper nourishment; and

Whereas, WIC's committed, results-oriented, entrepreneurial staff stretch resources to serve women and children and to ensure program effectiveness and integrity; and

Whereas, As the nation's premier public health nutrition program, WIC is a cost-effective, sound investment that ensures the health of our children; and

Whereas, WIC is drawing down its contingency funds in 2004 and faces a projected $135 million shortfall in funding for 2005 due to a 7% increase in dairy costs, a 20% increase in egg prices and a 30% increase in the wholesale cost of DHA/ARA enhanced infant formulas; and

Whereas, WIC is vital to the overall health and nutritional well being of low-income, vulnerable, nutritionally at-risk women, infants and children of this City; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York urges Congress and the President to take immediate steps to ensure that WIC is adequately funded to meet caseload needs for the remainder of the current Federal Fiscal Year ending September 30, 2004, and calls on the Federal Government to ensure that WIC

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the purchase of Energy Star certified appliances whenever appliances in rental apartments are replaced.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Statement of findings and purpose. Home electricity and gas expenses represent a substantial cost for many low-income New Yorkers in rental apartments. For example, nationally in 1997, households in multi-family buildings spent an average of $848 per year on energy.[33] In addition, since much of New York City's electricity is produced within the City, energy consumption translates directly into greater local pollution, including emissions of sulfur dioxide, nitrogen oxides, particulate matter, carbon dioxide and mercury. These pollutants contribute to respiratory disease, heart disease, smog, acid rain and climate change. Moreover, as energy demand rises, so does our reliance on dirty, inefficient power plants and the City and nation's dependence on foreign oil and natural gas.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency certifies a wide range of household appliances and building materials as energy efficient through its Energy Star program, including refrigerators, room air conditioners, dishwashers, clothes washers, ceiling fans, windows, doors and skylights. For example, Energy Star qualified dishwashers use 25% less energy than the federal minimum standard for energy consumption. Energy Star certified products are widely available and generally have little or no cost premium compared with uncertified products. Even when Energy Star products are more expensive than conventional options, these products more than pay for the increased price over time through reduced energy costs.

When people buy appliances for their own homes, they have an incentive to ensure the appliance uses the least energy possible because homeowners pay for their energy costs. When landlords, however, purchase appliances, they do not have the same incentive. Since it is tenants who generally pay for energy costs, the primary financial concern for landlords is to limit the up-front costs of appliances, without regard for energy consumption.

The Council finds that the increased purchase of Energy Star certified appliances and other products for apartments in New York City will substantially reduce household energy costs as well as the City's electricity consumption and air pollution. Accordingly, the Council declares that it is reasonable and necessary to require that landlords purchase Energy Star certified appliances whenever they replace certain appliances in rental apartments.

§2. Subdivision a of section 27-2004 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding new paragraphs 48 and 49 to read as follows:

48. Energy Star shall mean a designation from the United States environmental protection agency indicating that a product meets the energy efficiency standards set forth by the agency for compliance with its Energy Star program.

49. Household appliance shall mean any device that utilizes a power supply, whether electricity, natural gas, oil, or otherwise, including, but not limited to, any refrigerator, room air conditioner, dishwasher, clothes washer, ceiling fan, or light fixture, within a tenant-occupied dwelling unit that is provided by the dwelling unit owner. This definition shall also include any boiler or water heater where a tenant pays directly for any portion of the energy costs of such appliance and any window, exterior door, or skylight in a tenant-occupied dwelling unit.

§2. Subchapter two of chapter two of title 27 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new article 14 to read as follows:

Article 14

ENERGY STAR APPLIANCES

§27-2056.1 Energy Star Appliances.

§27-2056.1 Energy Star Appliances. Whenever any household appliance in any tenant-occupied dwelling unit is installed or replaced, such new or replacement appliance shall be certified as Energy Star.

§3. This local law shall take effect ninety days after its enactment, except that the commissioner of housing preservation and development shall take all actions necessary to implement this local law on or before the date upon which it shall take effect.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to collective bargaining rights of traffic enforcement agents and sanitation enforcement agents.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. The Council finds that employees working for the police department of the city of New York ("NYPD") as traffic enforcement agents, as well as those employees working for the sanitation department of the city of New York ("DSNY") as sanitation enforcement agents, have certain terms and conditions of employment similar to those of the uniformed services of the city of New York, including police, fire, sanitation and correction services. These terms and conditions of employment raise issues which are materially different than the issues affecting non-uniformed city employees. Furthermore, the Council recognizes that uniformed forces in the police, fire, sanitation and correction departments have certain unique bargaining rights under the New York City Collective Bargaining Law. The Council intends by this amendment to the administrative code to ensure that those individuals employed by the NYPD as traffic enforcement agents, as well as those individuals employed by the DSNY as sanitation enforcement agents, are accorded the same unique bargaining rights as the uniformed forces of the city.

§2. Paragraph 4 of subdivision (a) of section 12-307 of the administrative code of the city of New York is hereby amended to read as follows:

(4) all matters, including but not limited to pensions, overtime and time and leave rules which affect employees in the uniformed police, fire, sanitation and correction services, or any other police officer as defined in subdivision thirty-four of section 1.20 of the criminal procedure law who is also defined as a police officer in this code, shall be negotiated with the certified employee organizations representing the employees involved. For purposes of this paragraph only[,]:

(i) employees of the uniformed fire service shall also include persons employed by the fire department of the city of New York as fire alarm dispatchers and supervisors of fire alarm dispatchers[. For purposes of this paragraph only, employees of the uniformed fire service shall also include persons employed by the fire department of the city of New York as], emergency medical technicians and advanced emergency medical technicians, as those terms are defined in section three thousand one of the public health law, and supervisors of emergency medical technicians or advanced emergency medical technicians;

(ii) employees of the uniformed police service shall also include persons employed by the police department of the city of New York as traffic enforcement agents and school safety officers; and

(iii) employees of the uniformed sanitation service shall also include persons employed by the sanitation department of the city of New York as sanitation enforcement agents;

Whereas, The New York City Department of Parks and Recreation manages 14 miles of beaches and 53 outdoor pools located throughout the City's five boroughs; and

Whereas, In order to keep the beaches and pools safe, the City's Department of Parks and Recreation hires and trains a lifeguard staff which supervises the public use of the City's beaches and pools; and

Whereas, Recreation on boats and jet-skis and at beaches and pools, as well as fishing, can be fun, enjoyable and healthy activities so long as individuals practice water safety; and

Whereas, According to the United States Army Corps of Engineers' National Water Safety Program, drowning is the second leading cause of accidental deaths for persons 15 through 44 years of age; and

Whereas, According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), drowning is the second leading cause of injury-related death for children aged 1 through 14 years; and

Whereas, The CDC reported that in the year 2000, 3,482 people unintentionally drowned in the United States, an average of 9 people per day, and that more than 75% of the drownings occurred among males; and

Whereas, Statistics from the CDC's National Center for Injury Prevention and Control indicate that the drowning rate among African-Americans is approximately 1.4 times that among whites; and

Whereas, According to the United States Army Corps of Engineers' National Water Safety Program, most drowning victims had no intention of being in water, such as boaters and individuals who are fishing, and drown within 10-30 feet of safety; and

Whereas, Exercising water safety measures can prevent drownings and water-related injuries and ensure that fun does not unnecessarily turn into tragedy; and

Whereas, Individuals who plan to be near any water source – particularly near pools, rivers, and the ocean – are urged to exercise water safety measures recommended by the American Red Cross, the Journal of the American Medical Association, and the American Medical Association; and

Whereas, The recommended water safety measures include, but are not limited to, taking a boating course to learn about navigation rules, emergency procedures and the effects of wind, water conditions and weather, developing a float plan so that anytime you go out in a boat you would give a responsible person details about where you will be and how long you will be gone, learning how to swim if you intend to play or work around water, wearing a properly fitted Coast Guard-approved life jacket when boating and fishing, never mixing alcohol and swimming since alcohol impairs your judgment, balance, and coordination, affects your swimming and diving skills, and reduces your body's ability to stay warm, always practicing the "buddy system" and never swimming alone, swimming only in supervised areas, always obeying all rules and posted signs and entering feet first into water if you do not know the depth, paying attention to local weather conditions and forecasts and stop swimming and boating at the first indication of bad weather since water conducts electricity, not taking chances by over estimating your swimming skills, swimming only in designated swimming areas, never leaving a child unobserved around water including bathtubs and sinks, and knowing how to prevent, recognize, and respond to emergencies; and

Whereas, The Council of the City of New York believes that the month of June 2004, and the month of June of every year thereafter, should be designated as Water Safety Month to serve as a reminder of the vital importance of water safety as we approach warm weather months; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York recognizes the month of June 2004, and the month of June of every year thereafter, as Water Safety Month in the City of New York and urge all New Yorkers and visitors, who plan to be near any water source, to apply water safety measures to prevent drownings and water-related injuries.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a survey regarding clean on-site power generation for city facilities.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter two of title four of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding thereto a new section 4-207 to read as follows:

§ 4-207 Clean on-site power generation survey. a. By January 1, 2005, the department of citywide administrative services, in conjunction with the economic development corporation and the department of buildings, shall conduct a survey of all buildings, structures or similar facilities owned by the city to determine whether clean on-site generation projects are appropriate for such facilities. Such survey shall include, but not be limited to, the incorporation of technical and financial considerations. For the purposes of this section only, the term "clean on-site generation" shall mean electric generation that is connected to the distribution level of the grid, is located at or near the intended place of use and produces fewer emissions of carbon dioxide than a new combined-cycle natural-gas fired power plant of similar capacity. This term may include the generation of electricity through cogeneration, solar power, wind power, anaerobic digesters, fuel cells and the use of microturbines.

b. The survey required to be completed pursuant to subdivision a of this section shall be reviewed by the agencies listed in that subdivision every two years and shall be updated, as appropriate, to reflect newly acquired facilities, changes in existing facilities and any circumstances that may alter the conclusions made in such survey.

c. The survey and updates required to be completed pursuant to subdivision a and subdivision b of this section shall be submitted to the mayor and the speaker of the council within ten days of their completion.

§2. This local law shall take effect immediately.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. The administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding thereto a new section 4-207 to read as follows:

§ 4-207 Building commissioning, energy efficiency and conservation training. a. By January 1, 2005, the department of citywide administrative services, in conjunction with the economic development corporation, the department of buildings, the department of environmental protection and any other appropriate city office or agency, shall develop and implement a building commissioning program for all city-owned buildings, which shall ensure that the building systems operating within such buildings are doing so efficiently and according to their original design.

b. The program required to be developed and implemented pursuant to subdivision a of this section shall include training in energy efficiency and conservation for all building managers, building engineers, operations and maintenance staff and other appropriate employees of the city of New York. Such training shall include, but not be limited to, the use of energy-efficient heating, ventilation and cooling systems, the reduction of electric lighting loads, energy-efficient building and building system upgrades, the incorporation of energy efficiency into planning processes and energy-efficient operations and maintenance practices.

c. The program required to be developed and implemented pursuant to subdivision a of this section shall be reviewed every two years by the mayor and the agencies listed in that subdivision and shall be updated, as appropriate.

d. By January 1, 2006, and by January 1 of every two years thereafter, the mayor shall provide a report to the speaker of the council, regarding the program developed and implemented pursuant to subdivision a of this section, which shall include, but not be limited to, an assessment of the building systems operating within each city-owned building, in accordance with that subdivision.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to mitigating the heat island effect.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Statement of findings and purpose. New York City is approximately two degrees centigrade hotter than surrounding areas and this heat island effect is responsible for an estimated 5.4% of peak electricity demand. One cause of the heat island effect is the many black-tarred roofs and roadways in the City that attract and retain heat.

Reflective surfaces, in contrast, tend to stay cool in the sun. According to studies by Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, the City would experience lower temperatures, energy savings, and reduced levels of smog if the City's dark roofs were replaced with more reflective ones. According to the laboratory, reflective roofing could lead to net savings of $16 million in energy costs annually for residents and businesses.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency certifies roof coverings as part of its Energy Star program. Roof coverings for low-sloped roofs are eligible for an Energy Star label if they have an initial solar reflectance of 65%, with at least 50% reflectance after three years from installation. Roof coverings for steep-sloped roofs are eligible for an Energy Star label if they have an initial solar reflectance of 25%, with at least 15% reflectance after three years from installation.

The Council finds that the widespread use of reflective roofing products will decrease summer temperatures, peak electricity demand, and air pollution.

Accordingly, the Council declares that it is reasonable and necessary to require the use of reflective roofing products for all new and altered low and medium sloped roofs.

§2. Section 27-232 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

ROOF COVERING. The covering applied to the exterior surface of a roof for weather resistance, fire resistance, wear, solar reflectance, and/or appearance, but not including insulation.

§3. Section 27-232 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding the following definition after the definition of "EMERGENCY INTERLOCK RELEASE SWITCH" and before the definition of "ENGINEER":

ENERGY STAR. A designation indicating that a product meets the energy efficiency standards set by the United States environmental protection agency for compliance with its ENERGY STAR program.

§4. Section 27-232 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding the following definition after the definition of "GRANDSTAND" and before the definition of "GROUND SIGN":

GREEN ROOF. A roof area covered wholly or in part with plants and landscaping material in accordance with a plan approved by the department of buildings.

§5. Chapter one of title 27 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new subchapter 20 to read as follows:

Subchapter 20

Green Building Standards

§27-1080 Roof Reflectance.

§27-1080 Roof Reflectance. a. For construction projects for which plans are submitted for approval on or after January 1, 2005, any new or altered roof with a slope having a ratio of 5 inches to 12 inches or less shall be covered with ENERGY STAR roof coverings.

b. The requirements of this section shall not apply to any portion of a roof that is covered by a green roof, decking covering one-third or less of the aggregate area of the roof, or photovoltaic or solar thermal equipment.

§6. This local law shall take effect ninety days after its enactment, except that the commissioner of buildings shall take all actions necessary to implement this local law on or before the date upon which it shall take effect.

§19-162.3 License plate frames. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, it shall be permissible for the license plate on a motor vehicle to be placed within a metal or plastic frame while a vehicle is parked so long as such frame does not obscure the numbers, letters or other identifying information on such license plate and does not in any way hinder the identification of that motor vehicle.

Res. No. 393

Resolution calling upon the State Legislature to adopt and the Governor to sign A 3723-B and S 3963-B, which would eliminate the current cap contained in the State Real Property Tax Law on State aid to the City for maintaining a system of improved real property tax administration.

By Council Members Jackson, Clarke, Comrie Jr., Foster, Gentile, James, Lopez, Martinez, Nelson, Palma, Quinn, Reyna, Rivera, Vann and Weprin.

Whereas, Section 1573 of the State Real Property Tax Law ("RPTL") contains provisions for State assistance to assessing units if the assessing units maintain certain standards of quality assessment administration; and

Whereas, Under the formula for aid set forth in the RPTL, assessing units are entitled to annual State reassessment aid in the amount of five dollars per parcel for qualifying assessment rolls filed up to a specified threshold and in the amount of three dollars per parcel for qualifying assessment rolls filed subsequent to such threshold until 2009; and

Whereas, RPTL §1573 contains a provision capping such aid to any assessing unit for a given year at $500,000; and

Whereas, Such a cap unfairly and uniquely limits aid to New York City; the memo of support for A 3723-B indicates that "[e]very other locality receives its full share except the City of New York;"

Whereas, Without the cap, New York City would be eligible to receive roughly $4.2 million in additional State aid for each year that the RPTL provides for a $5 per parcel payment for assessments on its approximately 952,751 relevant land parcels and roughly $2.4 million in additional State aid for each year that the RPTL provides for a $3 per parcel payment for assessments; and

Whereas, New York City is in demonstrated need of this additional aid to enhance its assessment system, which has recently weathered indictment of 18 current and former City assessors for corruption and would benefit significantly from additional resources to promote accountability and professionalism, now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the State Legislature to adopt and the Governor to sign A 3723-B and S 3963-B, which would eliminate the current cap contained in the State Real Property Tax Law on State aid to the City for maintaining a system of improved real property tax administration.

Res. No. 394

Resolution calling upon President Bush and the United States Congress to eliminate the shortfall in funding for Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers and to restore full funding for Fiscal Year 2004.

By Council Members Katz, Foster, Reyna, Avella, Baez, Barron, Brewer, Clarke, Comrie Jr., Dilan, Fidler, Gentile, Gerson, James, Liu, Lopez, McMahon, Monserrate, Nelson, Palma, Quinn, Recchia Jr., Rivera, Sanders Jr., Vann, Weprin and Jackson.

Whereas, The Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher program was established in 1976 and primarily helps families with income levels no greater than 80 percent of area median income; and

Whereas, Section 8 vouchers enable these low-income families to pay no more that 30% of their household income in rent, with the difference in rent covered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the agency that administers Section 8 vouchers; and

Whereas, The Associated Press reported that the Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers help "nearly 2 million families through some 2,500 local agencies;" and

Whereas, There are approximately 112,000 individuals and families that receive Section 8 vouchers in New York City; and

Whereas, In its Fiscal Year 2004 budget, Congress took measures to sustain full funding of Section 8 vouchers; and

Whereas, In a way inconsistent with Congressional intent, HUD changed the formula for funding allocations on April 22, 2004 in Notice PIH 2004-7, putting the Section 8 program in jeopardy of inadequate funding; and

Whereas, Public housing authorities across the nation, including the New York City Housing Authority, had allocated vouchers during Fiscal Year 2004 before Notice PIH 2004-7 changed the formula retroactively, thereby creating a shortfall; and

Whereas, Notice PIH 2004-7 notified public housing authorities that Section 8 vouchers would be funded at the level of August 1, 2003, adjusted for rental inflation according to a formula set by HUD; and

Whereas, In some areas, voucher costs have risen faster than inflation; and

Whereas, Existing vouchers have never before been cut in the almost thirty-year history of the Section 8 program; and

Whereas, Public Housing Authorities may be forced to resort to reducing the value of existing vouchers, restricting eligibility, or cutting the number of available vouchers, among other tactics; and

Whereas, the two agencies in New York City that administer Section 8 vouchers, the New York City Housing Authority and the Department of Housing Preservation and Development estimate their funding shortfalls for Fiscal Year 2004 at $40 million and $15.5 million, respectively; and

Whereas, The New York Times has called the cuts "ill-advised" and called HUD's approach "hostile;" and

Whereas, H.R. 4263, introduced by Rep. Barney Frank, would rectify the immediate 2004 funding shortfall; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon President Bush and the United States Congress to eliminate the shortfall in funding for Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers and to restore full funding for Fiscal Year 2004.

Res. No. 395

Resolution strongly denouncing the crimes committed against civilian populations in the western region of Darfur and the actions of the government of Sudan in connection with those crimes, and urging the government of the United States to call for international pressure to end the reign of terror that exists in that region, and further urging the United Nations Security Council to denounce these crimes and demand that the Sudanese government disarm, disband and withdraw the Janjaweed militias that engage in ethnic cleansing frequently in conjunction with government forces, and to take urgent measures to ensure the protection of civilians at risk, provide for the effective and unrestricted delivery of humanitarian aid and reverse ethnic cleansing by creating conditions for the safe return of more than one million people already displaced in Darfur.

By Council Members Koppell, Clarke, Comrie Jr., Jennings Jr., Nelson, Sanders Jr., Stewart and Jackson.

Whereas, According to the CIA World Factbook, since 1983 Sudan has been embroiled in a civil war that has led to the deaths of more than 2 million people and the displacement of over 4 million others; and

Whereas, Recent reports have indicated that the armed forces of the government of Sudan, along with government-supported militias, have committed numerous systematic attacks against the civilian populations of the African Fur, Masaalit and Zaghawa ethnic groups in the Darfur region; and

Whereas, The attacks include massacres, rape, and indiscriminate aerial bombardment that have killed thousands, displaced countless others, and destroyed villages, food stocks and other supplies essential to the civilian population; and

Whereas, The government of Sudan has reportedly failed to take any immediate steps to stop these attacks, reverse the ethnic cleansing and provide the necessary protection and assistance to the millions of displaced civilians; and

Whereas, According to a report recently issued by the United Nations Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights, the horrific attacks committed against the civilian populations in the Darfur region of Sudan may constitute war crimes and/or crimes against humanity; and

Whereas, Among the recommendations found in the report are a call for the government of Sudan to publicly and unequivocally condemn all actions and crimes committed by the Janjaweed militias and ensure that all militias are immediately disarmed and disbanded; and

Whereas, The report also urges full and unimpeded access for humanitarian workers in order to ensure the delivery of much needed humanitarian assistance to the Darfur region; and

Whereas, The report also calls for an international commission of inquiry the mandate of which would include identifying what crimes have been committed against the civilian populations in the Darfur region; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York strongly denounces the crimes committed against civilian populations in the western region of Darfur and the actions of the government of Sudan in connection with those crimes, and urges the government of the United States to call for international pressure to end the reign of terror that exists in that region; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York urges the United Nations Security Council to denounce these crimes and demand that the Sudanese government disarm, disband and withdraw the Janjaweed militias that engage in ethnic cleansing frequently in conjunction with government forces, and to take urgent measures to ensure the protection of civilians at risk, provide for the effective and unrestricted delivery of humanitarian aid and reverse ethnic cleansing by creating conditions for the safe return of more than one million people already displaced in Darfur.

Res. No. 396

Resolution in support of S.1359, the "International Remittances Services Enhancement and Protection Act," to remove the regulatory barriers that discourage credit unions from offering services to the poor and to require full disclosure of the fees and exchange rates to consumers, and S.1344, the "Money Wire Act," to mandate greater transparency in the money wiring process.

By Council Members Lopez, Comrie Jr., James, Nelson, Sanders Jr., Vann and Jackson.

Whereas, Across New York, hundreds of thousands of immigrants struggle to save money to wire it to their families back in their homeland; however, because of inadequate regulation of money wiring services and ad hoc standards, many unsuspecting people are at risk of getting ripped off by unforeseeable fees or unfair exchange rates; and

Whereas, In response to this ongoing consumer threat, two federal legislative initiatives, co-sponsored by Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton, were recently introduced, designed to foster consumer awareness and ease the burden of fees and transaction costs; and

Whereas, The "International Remittances Services Enhancement and Protection Act," S.1359, would allow credit unions to provide international money transfer services and would require disclosures in connection with international money transfers from all money transmitting service providers; and

Whereas, The "Money Wire Improvement and Remittance Enhancement Act" ("Money Wire Act"), S.1344, would amend the Electronic Fund Transfer Act to require additional disclosures relating to exchange rates in transfers involving international transactions and for other purposes; and

Whereas, Together, these two initiatives should enhance the disclosure of important consumer information thereby enabling consumers to make informed and knowledgeable decisions about where they do business and thus, help them avoid paying unfair charges during money wiring transactions; and

Whereas, Currently, because of the lack of transparency in the money wiring process, many consumers are sending money overseas oblivious to the fact that they are being charged high hidden fees and unfair exchange rates, which often result in a large amount of money being consumed by transaction costs; and

Whereas, According to the Inter-American dialogue, of the $25 billion in remittances sent from immigrants in the United States to family members in Latin American and Caribbean regions last year, nearly $4 billion was eaten up by fees and other transaction costs; and

Whereas, S.1359 and S.1344 are consumer protection measures that will ensure that when people send their hard-earned money they are not being deceived as to the true costs of these transactions through undisclosed charges and penalties; and

Whereas, The International Remittances Services Enhancement and Protection Act and the Money Wire Act will open up the remittance market to credit unions while also fostering transparency in the money transfer business by requiring complete disclosure of the fees and exchange rates money transmitters charge; this will give immigrants the information they need to make informed choices about who they allow to handle their transactions; it is hoped that this will increase competition among businesses, thereby reducing costs and improving service; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York supports the passage of S.1359, the "International Remittances Services Enhancement and Protection Act," to remove the regulatory barriers that discourage credit unions from offering services to the poor, and to require full disclosure of the fees and exchange rates to consumers, and S.1344, the "Money Wire Act," to mandate greater transparency in the money wiring process.

Res. No. 397

Resolution denouncing the use of torture and other inhumane treatment of Iraqi prisoners and detainees by some members of the United States Armed Forces and other American personnel at the Abu Ghraib prison near Baghdad, and urging the United States Congress to conduct a full and open investigation of the abuse at the Abu Ghraib prison and to adopt legislation affirming a no tolerance of torture policy that would hold accountable violators, as well as the supervisors of any violators, of the human right to not be subjected to torture or other cruel, inhumane treatment or punishment.

By Council Members Martinez, Koppell, Barron, Clarke, Comrie Jr., James, Lopez, Sanders Jr., Stewart, Vann, Weprin and Jackson.

Whereas, The United States is currently engaged in military operations in Iraq that were designed to remove Saddam Hussein from power and free the Iraqi people from his oppressive regime; and

Whereas, The Abu Ghraib prison was used by Saddam Hussein and members of his oppressive regime to inflict cruel and inhumane punishment and torture against the Iraqi people and is a symbol of the pain and suffering that they have had to endure for more than twenty years; and

Whereas, The United States has criticized the oppressive and inhumane treatment against the Iraqi people and human rights violations by Saddam Hussein as a travesty against the Iraqi people and as an indicator of his threat to the world; and

Whereas, Over the course of the American military campaign, the United States Armed Forces have detained many Iraqis at the Abu Ghraib prison near Baghdad; and

Whereas, Recent photographs and videos from Iraq have documented the mistreatment, torture and sexual humiliation of Iraqi prisoners at the Abu Ghraib prison in Baghdad by some members of the United States Armed Forces as well as other American personnel; and

Whereas, The photographs and videos show members of the United States Armed Forces, as well as other American personnel, engaged in numerous sadistic and blatant criminal abuses against Iraqi prisoners that appear to violate international law and humanitarian rules; and

Whereas, Article 84 of the Fourth Geneva Conventions require the housing of prisoners of war and "persons deprived of liberty for any other reason" in facilities that afford "every guarantee of hygiene and healthfulness;" and

Whereas, The torture or inhumane treatment against prisoners of war or detainees is generally regarded as a grave and blatant breach of the standards and code of conduct set forth by the Geneva Conventions; and

Whereas, The United Nations' Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhumane and Degrading Treatment or Punishment, of which the United States is a signatory, recognizes Article 6 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and Article 7 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, providing that no one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhumane or degrading treatment or punishment and that protection from such treatment is an equal and inalienable right of all human beings; and

Whereas, The inhumane acts committed by some members of the United States Armed Forces and other American personnel are contrary to the principles of freedom, democracy and justice so valued by the American people; and

Whereas, The inhumane acts committed by some members of the United States Armed Forces and other American personnel are also contrary to the objectives of the United States in its quest to form a new Iraqi government that will lead the Iraqi people toward freedom and democracy; and

Whereas, The prohibition against torture is universal and covers all countries and persons, whether in captivity or free, regardless of nationality, whether a person is being held in the U.S. or in another country, or whether a person is deemed a combatant or civilian; and

Whereas, All applicable international human rights laws apply to U.S. officials operating abroad and domestically, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York denounces the use of torture and other inhumane treatment of Iraqi prisoners and detainees by some members of the United States Armed Forces and other American personnel at the Abu Ghraib prison near Baghdad; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York urges the United States Congress to conduct a full and open investigation of the abuse at the Abu Ghraib prison and to adopt legislation that would affirm a no tolerance of torture policy that would hold accountable violators, as well as the supervisors of any violators, of the human right to not be subjected to torture or other cruel, inhumane treatment or punishment.

Res. No. 398

Resolution supporting the passage of H.R. 3735, legislation introduced by Congressman Rangel that would grant permanent residency to the immediate family members of Amadou Diallo.

By Council Members Monserrate, Barron, Seabrook, Clarke, Comrie Jr., Fidler, Foster, James, Liu, Lopez, Palma, Rivera, Sanders Jr., Stewart, Vann and Jackson.

Whereas, According to the 2000 U.S. Census, 13.5 million immigrants came to the United States between 1990 and 2000; and

Whereas, Amadou Diallo came to the United States from Guinea in 1996 at the age of 18, with hopes of pursuing an education; and

Whereas, On February 4, 1999, Amadou Diallo died after being shot by four New York City police officers who fired 41 bullets, hitting him 19 times; and

Whereas, At the time he was shot, Amadou Diallo was unarmed and had no history of crime; and

Whereas, Amadou Diallo's death led to a public outcry against racial profiling and police brutality in New York City and nationwide; and

Whereas, Several members of Amadou Diallo's family travelled to New York after his death, to address their loss in the community in which Amadou Diallo lived; and

Whereas, In the United States, the Diallo family founded the Amadou Diallo Educational, Humanitarian and Charity Foundation, which promotes educational opportunities for immigrants and works to end racial profiling and police brutality; and

Whereas, Though members of Amadou Diallo's family wish to remain in the United States permanently and currently reside in New York and Maryland, their temporary visas have expired; and

Whereas, The Diallo family has received "deferred action" status from the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services ("USCIS"), but could face deportation proceedings if this status is changed; and

Whereas, While members of the Diallo family have applied for permanent residency, the backlog at USCIS is at an all time high and the process of obtaining permanent residency could take years; and

Whereas, On January 27, 2004, Representative Charles Rangel introduced H.R. 3735, a bill that would give permanent residency to members of Amadou Diallo's immediate family; and

Whereas, The bill would adjust the status of Amadou Diallo's parents, siblings, and other close family members to allow them to remain in the United States; and

Whereas, This legislation would enable Amadou Diallo's three younger siblings to pursue an education in the United States and give his parents and other family members the opportunity to further their work resulting from his tragic death; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York supports the passage of H.R. 3735, legislation introduced by Congressman Rangel that would grant permanent residency to the immediate family members of Amadou Diallo.

By Council Members Nelson, Fidler, Clarke, Comrie Jr., Gentile, Koppell, Liu, Reed, Serrano, Weprin and Jackson.

Whereas, The Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe ("OSCE") is the largest regional security organization in the world, with 55 participating States from Europe, Central Asia and North America; and

Whereas, OSCE is active in early warning, conflict prevention, crisis management and post-conflict rehabilitation, using an approach to security that is both comprehensive and co-operative; and

Whereas, OSCE held its second international conference on anti-Semitism in Vienna on June 19 and 20, 2004, which was attended by more than 150 delegates from OSCE participating States and over 100 non-governmental organizations; and

Whereas, The conference addressed anti-Semitism and its manifestations in Europe, Central Asia and North America, and the role that governments and civil society can take to promote greater tolerance; and

Whereas, At the conclusion of OSCE's second international conference on anti-Semitism, its Chairman-in-Office, Bulgarian Foreign Minister Solomon Pessy, read the conference's "Berlin Declaration," which is the organization's accepted summary of the proceedings and which highlights the steps that member States agreed to take to combat anti-Semitism or other forms of religious or racial hatred; and

Whereas, According to the "Berlin Declaration," among the steps that OSCE members committed to take was an endeavor to gather reliable information and statistics about anti-Semitic crimes, as well as other hate-crimes, and to report these findings to its members States and to the public through its Warsaw-based human rights watchdog, the Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights; and

Whereas, The "Berlin Declaration" contains other measures to help combat anti-Semitism and other forms of religious or racial hatred, such as the commitment by OSCE member States to strive to ensure that their legal systems foster a safe environment free from anti-Semitic harassment, violence or discrimination in all fields of life; and

Whereas, The "Berlin Declaration" also contains a commitment by member States to promote remembrance of and, as appropriate, education about the tragedy of the Holocaust and the importance of having respect for all ethnic and religious groups; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York supports the "Berlin Declaration," a document summary of the second international conference on anti-Semitism recently held by the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe.

Res. No. 400

Resolution calling upon the appropriate committee of the Council to hold a hearing to examine the role that the sale of used mattresses play in the recent surge in bedbug infestations.

By Council Members Perkins, Comrie Jr., Quinn and Vann.

Whereas, Bedbugs, scientifically named Cimex lectularius, are oval, wingless insects that are about a quarter inch long and reddish-brown in color; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH), early infestations of bedbugs are found around the tufts, seems, and folds of mattresses and daybed covers, later spreading to cracks and crevices in the bedspreads and, if permitted to proliferate, eventually establishing themselves behind baseboards, window and door casings, pictures, and moldings, and in furniture, loosened wallpaper, and cracks in plaster and partitions; and

Whereas, Although bedbugs feed largely on blood of humans, they also feed on other mammal and birds; and

Whereas, According to the University of Kentucky's Entomology Program, bedbugs are not assumed to transmit diseases, though they often leave their hosts with itching and inflammation due to bites; and

Whereas, DOHMH recommends several methods to reduce the infestation of bedbugs including: washing affected parts of bedrooms where the bugs are likely to be found, such as bedding, linens and curtains, with hot water and drying them to kill the bedbugs, wiping away all dust from the bed frame, other nearby furniture and the floors, vacuuming carpets and mattresses well, and using an over-the-counter bedding spray or calling a licensed professional exterminator; and

Whereas, An entomologist at Cornell University stated in a May 30, 2004, Daily News article entitled, "Bedbugs Blitz City" (the "Daily News article"), that complaints about the bedbugs are increasing in hotels and buildings; and

Whereas, A nationwide survey performed by Pest Control Technology magazine conveyed that there was a 19% increase in bedbug complaints during an 18-month time frame from summer 2003 to winter 2004; and

Whereas, A May 19, 2004 ABC News segment entitled, "Return of the Bedbugs" (the "ABC News segment"), attributes increased world travel to the resurgence of bedbugs and that household items such as bedding, clothing, luggage or furniture are easy targets to transport bedbugs; and

Whereas, The Daily News article states that used furniture, especially mattresses, may contribute to an increased chance of bedbug infestation; and

Whereas, New York City is among various areas up and down the East Coast that have the greatest bedbug infestation problem, according to the ABC News segment; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the appropriate committee of the Council to hold a hearing to examine the role that the sale of used mattresses play in the recent surge in bedbug infestations.

Res. No. 402

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to repeal State Law which currently bans the passage of local dangerous dog legislation that is specific as to breed, so that New York City may ban the ownership or sale of dangerous dogs, including pit bulls, within the City.

By Council Members Vallone Jr., Fidler, James, Koppell, McMahon, Nelson and Sanders Jr.

Whereas, On May 19, 2004, a six-year old Brooklyn girl was savagely attacked by a pit bull as she stood with her mother on a City street near her home; suffering a broken leg and lacerations, the young victim was rushed to Kings County hospital where she was admitted in stable condition; and

Whereas, While her injuries were serious, the brutal attack was intercepted by quick-thinking neighbors whose intervention likely spared the young girl from life-threatening harm; unfortunately, many recent victims of dangerous dog attacks, particularly small children, have not been so lucky; and

Whereas, This mauling was just the latest in a series of unprovoked attacks by dangerous dogs upon City residents in recent months, many of which resulted in serious physical injury; among the victims of these attacks was Elijah Torres, a three year-old Bronx boy whose mauling and brave recovery inspired the introduction of Elijah's Law, one of a number of State bills introduced in response to the rash of dog attacks; and

Whereas, While various State legislative efforts are being debated, localities such as New York City remain powerless to enact breed specific local dangerous dog legislation to protect their residents from dangerous dog attacks; and

Whereas, Like New York City, many communities nationwide have reported increased incidents of attacks by dangerous dogs, especially attacks on children; however, unlike New York, these cities, including Denver and Cincinnati, have been able to take decisive legislative action to protect their citizens by enacting bans on pit bulls, the breed determined to be most frequently responsible for attacks; and

Whereas, In contrast, however, New York City is currently unable to enact such legislation; under Section 107 of the New York State Agriculture and Markets Law, municipalities, including New York City, are prohibited from passing any laws which would regulate dangerous dogs in a manner which is specific as to breed; and

Whereas, Overwhelmingly, in most cases of vicious dog attacks, certain specific breeds are consistently implicated, most notably, pit bulls and Rottweilers; and

Whereas, While there may be exceptions, evidence strongly suggests that these breeds have aggressive and violent tendencies which can easily be provoked and, when they are provoked, such dogs have the potential to inflict serious bodily harm to their victims, including death; and

Whereas, In densely populated urban environments like New York City, where one's actions significantly affect those around them, such dangerous tendencies, coupled with the potential for owner negligence and disregard for leash laws, pose a very high public health and safety hazard, one which can be minimized with the enactment of restrictions on the ownership, possession or sale of dogs deemed dangerous; and

Whereas, In recent years, dogs have assaulted and maimed, without provocation, many victims, including small children who are often completely helpless to defend themselves from a brutal attack; and

Whereas, In a City like New York, where the inappropriate actions of one person can have severe consequences for many, and where dogs are often the weapon of choice of drug dealers and gangs seeking to intimidate and terrorize neighborhoods, the potential harm of dangerous dogs to the community warrants effective and meaningful legislative action; and

Whereas, In order to properly protect the health and safety of all individuals living and working in New York City, the City must have the ability to restrict the ownership, possession and sale of breeds of dogs deemed dangerous; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to repeal State Law which currently bans the passage of local dangerous dog legislation that is specific as to breed, so that New York City may ban the ownership or sale of dangerous dogs, including pit bulls, within the City.

Res. No. 403

Resolution calling upon the Legislature of the State of New York to increase the criminal penalties for driving with a suspended license.

By Council Members Vallone Jr., Avella, Fidler, Rivera and Weprin.

Whereas, On Sunday, May 30, 2004, a 40-year-old unlicensed drunk driver led police on a high speed chase in Central Islip while a 6-year-old boy sat in the front passenger seat without wearing a seatbelt; and

Whereas, On Wednesday, May 19, 2004, an 83-year-old widow was killed in a hit-and-run incident in Queens by a 22-year-old driver who currently has three license suspensions, two speeding violations, and a 2002 conviction for driving without a license; and

Whereas, In an August 2003 incident in Queens, a 21-year-old driver with 20 license suspensions was driving without his headlights on when he ran a stop sign and killed a 33 year old mother of two when he drove into her car; and

Whereas, A 33-year-old Queens man who has had his driver's license suspended 146 times continues to drive and is routinely cited for reckless driving; in 1999, he hit and killed a 73-year-old woman while she was crossing the street, but he could not be charged with vehicular manslaughter because he was not acting recklessly or with negligence; and

Whereas, It is clear from these incidents, and others, that the current criminal penalties for driving with a suspended license have not stopped motorists with a suspended license from driving or prevented the deaths of innocent members of the community; according to the New York Daily News, "there are at least 100,000 unlicensed drivers in the city" and "unlicensed drivers are involved in 20% of traffic fatalities," and the Automobile Club of New York states that unlicensed drivers are almost five times more likely to be involved in fatal crashes than those with valid driver's licenses; and

Whereas, In his 2004 State of the State address, Governor Pataki announced a five-point road safety plan which includes the fingerprinting of unlicensed drivers to prevent them from obtaining a new license; as Governor Pataki stated, "Reports from law enforcement officials indicate that a large number of drivers whose licenses are suspended or revoked falsify DMV records to avoid penalties and attempt to obtain a new license under another name;" and

Whereas, Numerous District Attorneys, including Queens County District Attorney Richard Brown, support Governor Pataki's proposal; and

Whereas, Currently under New York Vehicle and Traffic Law §511, there are three degrees of aggravated unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle; and

Whereas, Aggravated unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle in the third degree, a misdemeanor which involves the operation of a motor vehicle upon a public highway while a person knows or has reason to know that his or her license is suspended, is punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or a term of imprisonment of not more than thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment; and

Whereas, Aggravated unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle in the second degree, also only a misdemeanor, involves the operation of a motor vehicle with a suspended license when the person's license has been suspended for, among other things, a previous conviction for driving with a suspended license; or if the suspension or revocation is based upon a refusal to submit to a chemical test; or if the suspension was a mandatory suspension pending prosecution; or if such driver has in effect three or more suspensions, imposed on at least three separate dates, for failure to answer, appear or pay a fine, is punishable, depending on the subparagraph, by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars; and a term of imprisonment not less than seven days nor more than one hundred eighty days; or where appropriate a sentence of probation; or a term of imprisonment as a condition of a sentence of probation as provided in the penal law; and

Whereas, Aggravated unlicensed operation in the first degree, a Class E Felony which involves the operation of a motor vehicle with a suspended license while under the influence of alcohol or a drug; or operating a motor vehicle while such person has in effect ten or more suspensions, imposed on at least ten separate dates for failure to answer, appear or pay a fine, is punishable by a fine in an amount not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars; and a term of imprisonment as provided in the penal law; or where appropriate and a term of imprisonment is not required by the penal law, a sentence of probation; or a term of imprisonment as a condition of a sentence of probation as provided in the penal law; and

Whereas, Currently under New York Vehicle and Traffic Law §511-d, the aggravated failure to answer appearance tickets or pay fines imposed, a misdemeanor which involves a person having in effect twenty or more suspensions, imposed on at least twenty separate dates, for failure to answer, appear or pay a fine, is punishable by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars; or a term of imprisonment of not more than one hundred eighty days; or both such fine and imprisonment; and

Whereas, It is clear that these violations, most of which are misdemeanors, do not deter reckless and potentially deadly behavior, and do not adequately reflect the seriousness of driving with a suspended license; and

Whereas, Elevating the criminal penalties for driving with a suspended license would permit judges to impose stiffer penalties, thus protecting the community from these dangerous drivers; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Legislature of the State of New York to increase the criminal penalties for diving with a suspended license.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

PROVISIONS OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION - OVERVIEW: The enactment of this proposed legislation would continue for the five actuarially-funded New York City Retirement Systems ("NYCRS") for Fiscal Year 2005 the rates in use for Fiscal Year 2004 to credit interest on Tier I and Tier II member contributions and Increase-Take-Home-Pay ("ITHP") Reserves.

This proposed legislation would also continue for the NYCRS for Fiscal Year 2005 the use of the Actuarial Interest Rate ("AIR") assumption used to compute employer contributions for Fiscal Year 2004.

The Effective Date of the proposed legislation would be July 1, 2004.

IMPACT ON EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS: The continuation for Fiscal Year 2005 of the same 8.25% rate of interest that was used in Fiscal Year 2004 to credit interest on Tier I and Tier II member contributions and ITHP Reserves would not change the amount or the timing of expected employer contributions.

The continuation for Fiscal Year 2005 of the same AIR assumption that was used for Fiscal Year 2004 would not change the expected pattern of employer contributions.

Note: The Actuary is expecting to propose revised actuarial assumptions and methods to be effective Fiscal Year 2005.

The estimated financial impact of proposed legislation incorporating those revised actuarial assumptions and methods is expected to differ, possibly significantly, from the financial impact computed using the actuarial assumptions and methods continued from Fiscal Year 2004.

FISCAL NOTE IDENTIFICATION: This estimate is intended for use only during the 2004 Legislative Session. It is Fiscal Note 2004-03, dated April 27, 2004, prepared by the Chief Actuary for the New York City Retirement Systems.

Referred to the Committee on State and Federal Legislation.

The provisions of this act are intended to provide retirees and other retirement system and pension fund beneficiaries with certain benefits which are authorized by the Internal Revenue Code, and the effectiveness of this act and the benefits it confers are completely contingent upon the authorization of such benefits by the Internal Revenue Code.

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately and shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after July 1, 2000, provided, however, that this act shall remain in effect only as long as the benefits provided therein are authorized by the Internal Revenue Code; provided that the state comptroller of the city of New York shall notify the legislative bill drafting commission upon the occurrence of the enactment of the legislation provided for in this act in order that the commission may maintain an accurate and timely effective data base of the official text of the laws of the state of New York in furtherance of effecting the provisions of section 44 of the legislative law and section 70-b of the public officers law.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50: OVERVIEW OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION: This proposed legislation would add Sections 13-196, 13-583, 13-267.1, and 13-379.1 to the Administrative Code of the City of New York ("ACNY") and would add Subdivision 24 to Section 2575 of the Education Law to provide for Excess Benefit Plans for certain retirees and other beneficiaries of the New York City Employees' Retirement System ("NYCERS"), the New York City Teachers' Retirement System ("TRS"), the New York City Police Pension Fund ("POLICE"), the New York City Fire Pension Fund ("FIRE") and the New York City Board of Education Retirement System ("BERS") (collectively referred to herein as the New York City Retirement Systems ("NYCRS")), respectively, whose benefits are limited by Section 415(b) of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC").

The Effective Date of the proposed legislation would be the date of enactment, with the legislation deemed to be in full force and effect on and after July 1, 2000.

BACKGROUND: Certain benefit payments made to individuals participating in tax-exempt pension trust funds are subject to maximum annual limits specified in IRC Section 415(b).

However, IRC Section 415(m) permits State and Local government pension plans to establish plans for the purpose of paying that portion of benefits otherwise limited by IRC Section 415(b).

IMPACT ON BENEFITS: Enactment of this proposed legislation would ensure that retirees and other beneficiaries (collectively referred to as "beneficiaries") of the five NYCRS would receive the full amount of the benefits originally anticipated under the ACNY, the Retirement and Social Security Law ("RSSL"), the General Municipal Law ("GML") and the Education Law.

Under the proposed legislation, five Excess Benefit Plans would be established, as permitted by IRC Section 415(m), one for each of the five NYCRS, with the sole purpose of each to provide replacement benefits to beneficiaries whose annual retirement benefits are limited because such benefits exceed the limitations imposed by IRC Section 415(b).

ESTABLISHMENT OF FUNDS: In conjunction with each of the Excess Benefit Plans, the proposed legislation would establish five Excess Benefit Funds, one for each of the Excess Benefit Plans. Each of the Excess Benefit Funds would be maintained for the sole purpose of providing replacement benefits to eligible beneficiaries in its Excess Benefit Plan.

For each of the NYCRS, the contributions to its respective Excess Benefit Fund would be held separate and apart from the assets held by the other funds of its NYCRS, provided, however, that the assets for each of the five Excess Benefit Funds could be invested with the assets of its NYCRS. The Excess Benefit Fund assets would be accounted for separately from the assets of the related NYCRS.

PROCEDURAL CHANGES: All beneficiaries of a NYCRS whose retirement benefits for a plan year would be limited because of IRC Section 415(b) would be eligible participants in such NYCRS' Excess Benefit Plan for that plan year.

Note: The NYCRS plan years and IRC 415 limitation years for the NYCRS run from July 1 to June 30.

Participation in an Excess Benefit Plan would be determined for each plan year. No beneficiary of a NYCRS would be an eligible participant in an Excess Benefit Plan for any plan year for which his or her retirement benefits were not limited because of IRC Section 415(b).

The replacement benefit payable to any beneficiary for any plan year in which the beneficiary were limited would be equal to the difference between (1) the full amount of the retirement benefits otherwise payable to the beneficiary for that plan year prior to any limitation because of IRC Section 415(b) and (2) the retirement benefits payable to the beneficiary for that plan year as limited because of IRC Section 415(b).

Replacement benefits would be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the NYCRS retirement benefits being replaced.

At no time would a beneficiary eligible for benefits under an Excess Benefit Plan be permitted directly or indirectly to defer compensation under an Excess Benefit Plan.

FINANCING MECHANICS: The required employer contributions to each of the five Excess Benefit Funds for each plan year would be an amount, as determined by the Actuary for the respective NYCRS, which is necessary to pay the total amount of replacement benefits from each Excess Benefit Fund for that plan year.

Such required employer contributions would be paid into each of the five Excess Benefit Funds from an allocation of the employer contribution amounts at such times and in such amounts as determined by the Actuary.

The benefit liabilities of each of the five Excess Benefit Plans would be funded on a plan year to plan year basis, provided, however, that any employer contributions to an Excess Benefit Fund, including any investment earnings on such contributions, which are not used to pay replacement benefits for the current plan year, would be used to pay replacement benefits for future plan years.

ADDITIONAL ACTUARIAL PRESENT VALUES OF BENEFITS, ULTIMATE COSTS AND NEAR-TERM EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS: Relative to the benefits originally provided by the ACNY, RSSL, GML and Education Law without regard to any limitation imposed by IRC Section 415(b), enactment of this proposed legislation would not have any impact on the Actuarial Present Values of Benefits ("APVB").

However, enactment of this proposed legislation would be expected to increase the ultimate costs of each of the five NYCRS as currently established, since certain benefits limited by IRC Section 415(b) would, with enactment of the proposed legislation, be paid in full.

Although precise calculations have not been made for all groups, the Actuary has determined that the additional, ultimate costs (i.e., increased APVB) as of June 30, 2003 would not be likely to exceed $30 million for all five of the NYCRS.

Translated into annual employer costs, an additional APVB of $30 million would equal approximately $3.5 million per year.

Enactment of this proposed legislation would be expected to have minimal near-term impact on annual employer contributions to the NYCRS since the Actuary currently prepares the actuarial valuation of the NYCRS as if all benefits would be paid and not be limited by IRC Section 415(b).

UNMEASURED ADDITIONAL COSTS/SAVINGS: The enactment of this proposed legislation would be expected to modestly increase administrative costs.

OVERALL SUMMARY OF EXPECTED FINANCIAL IMPACT OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

In summary, this proposed legislation would be expected to have a modest financial impact.

CENSUS DATA: The data taken into account for the estimates of replacement benefit paid from each of the five Excess Benefit Funds on a yearly basis have been derived from information received from the administrative staffs of the NYCRS, the census data supplied for the June 30, 2003 actuarial valuations of the NYCRS and from projections made by the office of the Actuary.

ACTUARIAL ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODS: Estimates of the amount of replacement benefits paid from each of the Excess Benefits Funds on a yearly basis and the APVB attributable to them have been calculated consistent with the actuarial assumptions and methods in effect for the five NYCRS as of June 30, 2003.

FISCAL NOTE IDENTIFICATION: This estimate is intended for use only during the 2004 Legislative Session. It is Fiscal Note 2004-02, dated April 2, 2004, prepared by the Chief Actuary for the New York City Employees' Retirement System, the New York City Teachers' Retirement System, the New York City Board of Education Retirement System, the New York City Police Pension Fund and the New York City Fire Pension Fund.

Referred to the Committee on State and Federal Legislation.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subject to the provisions of this act, but notwithstanding any provision of any general, special, or local law to the contrary, the city of New York is hereby authorized to discontinue permanently the use as park lands the lands described in section three of this act and to transfer such lands to the New York City transit authority, an affiliate of the metropolitan transportation authority, to grant easements under park lands described in section four of this act and to discontinue temporarily the use as park lands the lands described in section five of this act, for use in connection with the construction of a new subway tunnel approach and a reconstructed South Ferry subway station on the Seventh Avenue line of the New York City transit authority. Upon the completion of construction, the New York City transit authority shall restore the surface of the lands described in sections four and five of this act and the lands shall continue to be used for park purposes.

§ 2. The authorizations provided in section one of this act shall be effective only upon the condition that at the time of the discontinuance of the park lands and the granting of the easement interests in park lands described in sections three, four and five of this act to the New York City transit authority, the city shall acquire additional park lands of equal or greater fair market value and/or perform capital improvements to existing park and recreational facilities which are equal to or greater than the fair market value of those park lands being discontinued and easement interests being granted by this act.

§ 3. The lands hereby authorized to be discontinued permanently as park land by section one of this act and designated to be transferred to the metropolitan transportation authority are located in the city, county and state of New York in parks known as Peter Minuit Plaza and Battery Park, and are bounded and described as follows, and as shown on maps and metes and bounds descriptions dated February 24, 2004, prepared by The RBA Group, Morristown, NJ, Thomas R. SUPPLEMENTAL REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Report of the Committee on Education

Report for Int. No. 261-A

Report of the Committee on Education in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to requiring that the department of education of the city of New York provide voter registration forms to students.

The Committee on Education to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1142) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

On, June 16, 2004, at 10:00 a.m., the Committee on Education, chaired by Council Member Eva Moskowitz, will hold a hearing on proposed Int. 261-A, entitled the "Young Adult Voter Registration Act." This proposed law would amend the Administrative Code to require the New York City Department of Education (the "Department") to provide voter registration forms to all students who receive diplomas. The Committee and the Committee on Investigations, chaired by Council Member Eric Gioia, held a hearing on proposed Int. 261-A on June 9, 2004, at which the Department of Education and civics groups testified. No opposition to the bill was raised, although the witnesses made several proposals to change the proposed law. On the basis of those proposals, the bill's sponsors modified the law slightly to clarify its intent.

Background And Rationale For the Proposed Local Law

Proposed Int. 261-A was proposed to remedy the shocking lack of voter participation by young people. Approximately 791,063 people between the ages of 18-25 live in New York City.[34] About 1.7 million people in the City are eligible to vote but unregistered. Of them, statistically, about 166,000 18-24 year olds are eligible to vote but unregistered.[35] However, in the 2002 general election in the City, only about 180,000 people under 25 were registered to vote, and of those, only 31,672, or 17.5% of them actually voted.[36] That figure is the lowest of any age group within the City and is about half of the average turnout of 37.4%.[37]

These statistics reflect an ongoing decline in voter participation among young people. For example, in national presidential elections, from 1972 through 2000, the annual voter turnout declined 13% among voters aged 18-24 years, from 61% to 42%.[38] It is generally recognized that voter turnout at all levels is declining in New York City and nationwide.

The right to vote is guaranteed in the United States Constitution[39] and, for residents of New York State, in Article II, § 1 of the New York State Constitution. To vote in New York State, a person must be a United States citizen over 18 year of age, and a resident of the State for 30 days prior to the election. To vote in a local election, the voter must reside locally for 30 days prior to the election.[40]

Registration is also required to vote and is, accordingly, the first, necessary step towards participation in City, State and national elections. The success of voter registration laws and programs, therefore, bears a direct impact on the number of eligible voters and the number of citizens who ultimately exercise their franchise at each election.

Governmental Voter Registration Efforts

Virtually every level of government in the United States has programs to encourage voter registration. These programs range from National Voter Registration Forms[41] to Motor/Voter laws that permit voter registration at the state Department of Motor Vehicles,[42] to on-line voter registration websites and other programs run by State agencies, municipalities and county Boards of Election.[43]

New York City, too, employs several mechanisms to encourage potential voters to register to vote. For example, it has established agency-based voter registration programs, pursuant to Local Law 29 of 2000 (codified at Chapter 46, § 1057-a, of the City Charter), that require participating City agencies to make voter registration materials available to their clients during the course of agency business and to incorporate registration materials into their paperwork.[44]

These mechanisms are not ideal for reaching the City's youth, however. For example, 50% of City residents do not hold a driver's licenses[45] and relatively fewer own cars than elsewhere in the State. Young adults, therefore, often fall outside of the reach of the State's Motor/Voter law and, as a result, are less likely to become registered through the Department of Motor Vehicles. Likewise, the Department of Education is not a "participating City agency" under Charter § 1057-a.[46] Although the Administrative Code requires the Department to make registration materials available in all high schools,[47] this approach appears to be relatively ineffective and not to have generated a significant number of new voter registrations.

The proposed local law, proposed Int. 261-A, is designed to remedy these shortcomings and to increase registration among young adults by targeting them at school, and by inculcating their sense of civic responsibility by linking their success in graduating to society's expectation that they register to vote. Proposed Int. 261-A reflects a growing trend nationwide to increase voter registration by targeting graduating high school students. For example, the Pennsylvania Department of State recently mailed voter registration cards to public and private schools encouraging them to distribute the cards during or after graduation ceremonies.[48] In Vermont, the Secretary of State designates a week in May as "High School Voter Registration Week."[49] Springfield, Massachusetts, goes a step further and provides voter registration tables in its high school cafeteria.[50] Proposed Int. 261-A takes these ideas a step further by delivering voter registration cards directly to graduating seniors, a group that contains the highest number of eligible voters among the high school population.

The Proposed Local Law – Int. 261-A

The proposed local law would require the Department to provide voter registration forms to all graduating high school students, at the same time and in the same manner as such students receive their diplomas.

Section 1 of the proposed local law contains legislative findings.

Section 2 of the proposed local law would repeal Administrative Code §3-209, which currently contains legislative findings in support of Administrative Code § 3-210.

Section 2 of the proposed local law would also enact a new § 3-209. Proposed § 3-209(a) would name this new section as the "Young Adult Voter Registration Act." Proposed §309(b) would require each public or private high school within the City to make voter registration materials available to students during the school year. This proposed provision is identical to the current Administrative Code § 3-210, which would be repealed.

Proposed § 2-309(c), in turn, would require the Department to provide postage-paid, New York City Board of Elections voter registration forms to all graduating students who receive a high school diploma, at the same time and in the same manner as such students receive their diplomas. Proposed § 3-209(d) would require the Department to make such forms available in the main school office throughout the school year and provide students with adequate notice about such availability, and proposed § 3-209(e) would require the Department to request sufficient voter registration forms for these purposes from the Board of Elections.

Section 3 of the proposed local law would repeal Administrative Code § 3-210, which, if the legislation is enacted, will be incorporated into the newly-enacted § 3-209 as §3-209(b).

Int. No. 261-A

By Council Members Gioia, Moskowitz, Addabbo Jr., Barron, Brewer, Clarke, Comrie Jr., Foster, Gentile, Gerson, Gonzalez, Jackson, Jennings Jr., Koppell, Liu, Lopez, Monserrate, Reyna, Rivera, Sanders Jr., Seabrook, Stewart, Vann, Weprin, Boyland, Gennaro, James, Katz, McMahon, Quinn, Recchia Jr., Reed, Serrano, Martinez and Palma.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring that the New York city department of education provide voter registration forms to students.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings. The Council of the city of New York affirms that voting is a central tenet of democracy. The vitality of the democratic process depends on voter participation in elections. Yet, far too few New Yorkers vote in local, state or national elections, and voter participation has been declining. The Council finds that affirmative steps are necessary to encourage and increase voter participation in all elections.

The Council further finds that this decline and lack of participation is due, in part, to the fact that voters find it difficult to register to vote. Although both city and state laws provide mechanisms for distributing voter registration forms by city and state agencies as part of agency-based voter registration programs, the New York City Department of Education does not participate in such programs. The Council finds that the Department of Education is uniquely positioned in the City to enhance the participation of young people in the democratic process by distributing voter registration forms to potential young voters.

§ 2. Section 3-209 of the administrative code of the city of New York is hereby REPEALED and RE-ENACTED as follows:

§3-209 a. Short title. This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Young Adult Voter Registration Act."

b. Registration of voters. Each public or private high school within the city shall make available during the school year to seniors such materials as may be published by the board of elections relating to voter registration and, where appropriate, shall provide applications for registration and enrollment, and may assist in the execution of such applications.

c. Registration of graduating seniors. The department of education of the city of New York shall provide a postage paid board of elections of the city of New York voter registration form to each graduating student who receives a high school diploma, including but not limited to a Regents, local, general equivalency or Individualized Education Program diploma. The department shall deliver such voter registration form to each graduating student at the same time and in the same manner as it delivers diplomas to each such student.

d. Forms to be available at school. The department of education of the city of New York shall ensure that postage paid board of elections voter registration forms are available in the main or central office of each high school under the jurisdiction of the department for students who wish to obtain one. The department shall also ensure that each such high school provides adequate notice to its students of the availability of such forms in its main or central office.

e. Sufficient quantity of forms. The department shall request from the board of elections of the city of New York a sufficient quantity of voter registration forms to meet the requirements of this subdivision.

§4. Section 3.210.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York is hereby renumbered as section 3-210.

§5. If any subsection, sentence, clause, phrase or other portion of this local law is, for any reason, declared unconstitutional or invalid, in whole or in part, by any court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed severable and such unconstitutionality or invalidity shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the local law that added this section, which remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect.

§ 6. This local law shall take effect thirty days after its enactment into law.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 34

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Maltese, S.2936-A, and Assembly Member Abbate, et al, A.5915-A, "AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the crediting of prior service by the police pension fund of such city".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on February 26, 2004 (Minutes, page 950) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), recent court settlements have resolved disputes over eligibility issues for credit granted pursuant to Chapter 646 of the Laws of 1999 and Chapter 552 of the Laws of 2000. Specifically, this bill would codify these settlements and credit police and certain other uniformed officers with immediate prior service in certain law enforcement titles for purposes of determining eligibility for and the amount of benefits under the police pension fund.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of this bill would provide that service as a peace officer, as defined in section 2.10 of the criminal procedure law, sheriff, deputy sheriff, marshal or district attorney investigator, or any position specified in appendix A of operations order 2-25 of the police department of the city of New York dated December 11, 2002, which immediately precedes service in the police force, and any period of allowable service in the uniformed transit police force, uniformed correction force, housing police service and the uniformed police force of the department of sanitation immediately preceding service in the police force, would be deemed to be service in the police force for purposes of eligibility for benefits and to determine the amount of benefits under the police pension fund.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

See Finance Division Fiscal Impact Statement.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

This legislation would take effect immediately.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

(For text of the printed State bill, please refer to the New York State Senate and State Assembly.)

(The following is the Fiscal Impact Statement for State Legislation Res. No. 34:)

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY 05	FY Succeeding Effective FY 06	Full Fiscal Impact FY 05

IMPACT ON REVENUES: There is no impact on revenue.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: This legislation will have no cost to the City of New York. In November 2002 there was a stipulation entered into between the City of New York and the Police Benevolent Association that states this peace officer service is to qualify toward the eligibility requirement for determent the minimum period necessary to retire for service. However, it appears the police pension fund has not implemented this agreement for members who were credited peace officers service prior to the stipulation agreement when the credited service was considered not eligible to meet the eligibility requirement for minimum service. As a result this legislation codifies an existing agreement and as such enforces that agreement and adds no new benefits or cost.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 52

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Maltese, S.5885, and Assembly Member Titus, A.9678, "AN ACT authorizing the city of New York to reconvey its interest in certain real property acquired by in rem tax foreclosure in the borough of Queens to former owner Bernadette C. Ernst, notwithstanding expiration of the two year period within which application may be made to the city to release its interest in property thus acquired; Block No. 11820, Lot No. 38 on tax map for the borough of Queens".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1106) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

The New York City Charter requires that sale of city-owned property be at public auction or by sealed bids, except as otherwise provided by law. Therefore, state legislative authorization is necessary to permit reconveyance of city-owned property to the former owner.

This legislation authorizes the city of New York to reconvey the real property designated as Block No.11820, Lot No. 38 on the tax map of Queens to the former owner Bernadette C. Ernst. Such reconveyance may be made upon approval of the In Rem Foreclosure Release Board subject to the grantee meeting certain conditions precedent.

The City of New York acquired title to these premises based on non-payment of taxes. Reportedly, the non-payment of taxes was due to the inadvertent failure of the former owner of such property, to pay taxes thereon.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 60

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Velella, S.2365-A, and Assembly Members Abbate, Colton, Aubry, Seddio, Cymbrowitz and Lavelle, et al, A.5175-A, "AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to allowing correction members of the New York city employees' retirement system to obtain retirement credit for certain periods of child care leave".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1176) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), many correction officers are forced to take a leave of absence after the birth of a child or an adoption beyond that afforded through sick leave. Existing law includes no means of preserving a correction officer's retirement benefits during such a period of leave. Last year, similar legislation was enacted allowing members of the police pension fund to obtain retirement credit for periods of leave for child care. This law would extend to correction officers a similar option.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of this bill would amend section 13-107 of the administrative code of the city of New York by adding a new subdivision k that would state that any correction member who is absent without pay for child care leave of absence pursuant to regulations of the New York City Department of Correction shall be eligible for credit for such period of child care leave provided such member files a claim for such service credit with the retirement system by December 31, 2004 or within 90 days of termination of the child care leave, whichever is later. The member would also be required to contribute to the retirement system an amount which such member would have contributed during the period of such child care leave, together with interest thereon. Service credit provided pursuant to this subdivision shall not exceed one year of credit for each period of authorized child care leave. The law would also stipulate that in the event that there is any conflict between the provisions of this subdivision and provisions of any other law or code to the contrary, the provisions of this subdivision would govern.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2154) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support, District Attorney Investigators are currently not afforded the same retirement benefits as their colleagues in police departments, despite the fact that investigators similarly risk their lives daily in the course of their employment. This legislation would remedy that inequity by instating a twenty-year retirement program for District Attorney Investigators.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would create a new section 13-157.4 in the Administrative Code of the City of New York, which would establish a twenty-year retirement program for eligible investigator members. Under the new section, any participant who: 1) has completed twenty or more years of service as a police officer; 2) files an application with the retirement system indicating when he or she desires to retire; and 3) is a participant in the twenty-year program at the time of retirement shall receive a benefit of fifty percent of the salary earned in the year prior to retirement plus, for each additional year or fraction of a year of credited service beyond twenty years, one-sixtieth of his or her final average salary for the period from the completion of twenty years of credited service to the date of retirement.

The new §13-157.4 would also establish that any participant who discontinues service other than by death or retirement but has completed at least five but no more than twenty years of service as a police officer and does not withdraw in whole or part his or her member contribution shall be entitled to a deferred vested benefit. Such member contribution shall be required of all investigator members of the twenty-year retirement program.

Finally, the new section would clarify that an investigator member of the twenty-year program shall be entitled to the same rights, benefits, privileges and obligations as a member of the police force who is a member of the police pension fund. However, an in investigator member of the twenty-year retirement program shall not be entitled to any additional retirement credit.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 108

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Velella, S.7163, and Assembly Member Abbate, A.10280, "AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to coverage for additional members of the New York city employees' retirement system".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2169) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), certain members of the New York city employees retirement system (NYCERS) or the New York city board of education retirement system (NYCBERS), employed as a special officer, parking control specialist, school agent, campus peace officer and New York city taxi and limousine inspector titles, have established a twenty-five year retirement plan in recognition of the dangerous duties they are required to perform. Employees in the titles of public health sanitarian, market agent, associate market agent, market aide, inspector consumer affairs, associate inspector consumer affairs, investigator, fraud investigator, associate investigator and associate fraud investigator who hold peace officer status are also responsible for carrying out law enforcement duties which bear high levels of risk of harm. These duties include undercover work, surveillance of suspects, participation in raids and responding to calls to subdue and disarm suspects. This bill would extend the list of titles qualifying for peace officer status eligible for the twenty-five year retirement plan regardless of age. This retirement plan would be self-funded as members' pension contributions would be increased to cover the additional costs of the plan. Participation in the plan would be optional.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend section 445 of the retirement and social security law to add peace officer/city investigator member of the New York city employees' retirement system or the New York city board of education retirement system to the list of members of retirement systems subject to the provisions of this law who may retire without regard to age upon completion of a specified number of years of service. Section 2 of the bill would amend section 445-f of the retirement and social security law to establish an optional twenty-five year improved benefit retirement program for certain employees, and would add the titles of public health sanitarian, market aide, market agent, associate market agent, inspector consumer affairs, associate inspector consumer affairs, investigator, fraud investigator, associate investigator, associate fraud investigator, fire protection inspector and associate fire protection inspector members to the list of titles who could participate in the optional twenty-five year improved benefit retirement program created by the law. Subdivision a(6-a) would define "peace officer" for purposes of the law as a special officer, a parking control specialist, a school safety agent, a campus peace officer or a taxi and limousine inspector. Subdivision a(6-b) would define "city investigator member" as a public health sanitarian, an associate public health sanitarian, a market aide, a market agent, an associate market agent, an inspector consumer affairs, an associate inspector consumer affairs, an investigator, a fraud investigator, an associate investigator, an associate fraud investigator, a fire protection inspector or an associate fire protection inspector. Subdivision a(6-c) would define "peace officer/city investigator member" to mean a member of NYCERS or NYCBERS who is either a peace officer or city investigator member.

Section 2 of the bill would also amend the starting date of this retirement program to mean the date of enactment of this section with respect to a peace officer member. The bill would also state that "allowable service" as a city investigator member shall mean all service while employed by the city of New York or by the New York city health and hospitals corporation, the New York city board of education, the city university of New York or the New York city taxi and limousine commission in a city investigator title except that allowable service in the titles investigator, associate investigator, fraud investigator and associate fraud investigator shall only mean service while employed in the city of New York's department of finance, department of corrections, housing preservation and development, department of transportation or taxi and limousine commission.

Section 3 of the bill would amend section 604-f of the retirement and social security law to establish a twenty-five year retirement program for certain employees, and would add public health sanitarian, market aide, market agent, associate market agent, inspector consumer affairs, associate inspector consumer affairs, investigator, fraud investigator, associate investigator, associate fraud investigator, fire protection inspector and associate fire protection inspector to the list of titles eligible for the twenty-five year retirement program created by the law. Subdivision a(5-a), a(5-b) and a(5-c) would repeat the definitions used in section 604-f, respectively, of "peace officer member," "city investigator member" and "peace officer/city investigator member" for purposes of the law. The starting date of the retirement program would be the date of enactment of this law with respect to a city investigator member and December 19, 2001 with respect to a peace officer member. Section 3 would also repeat the definition of "allowable service" stated above for purposes of section 604-f. Sections 4 and 5 of the bill describe the circumstances under which the city of New York must pick up and pay to the retirement system the additional member contributions of the peace officer/city investigator member which would otherwise be required to be deducted from such members compensation.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 119

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Golden, S.6974, and Committee on Rules, A.10886-A, "AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to eligibility for benefits payable by the firefighters' variable supplements fund".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on May 19, 2004 (Minutes, page 2176) the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

Both firefighters and corrections officers are eligible for variable supplements fund benefits. However, according to the Memorandum in Support of the legislation, under existing law, when a corrections officer becomes a firefighter, he or she cannot use the time served as a corrections officer toward time needed to qualify for the firefighters' variable supplement benefits. The proposed legislation would change this situation.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

This proposed legislation would amend section 13-385 of the administrative code of the city of New York, by adding a new subdivision h. The new subdivision would allow a member of the firefighters' pension fund, subchapter two, who was a uniformed corrections officer immediately prior to becoming a firefighter and transferred credit for his or her corrections officer service-from the New York City Employees Retirement System (NYCERS) to the firefighters pension fund, to use the earliest date of the transferred corrections officer service as the date of entry into the fire department pension fund for purposes of the fire department's variable supplements fund benefits. According to the Memorandum in support, this effectively would allow the time served as a corrections officer to be used to qualify for the fire department variable supplements fund benefits.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

See Finance Division Fiscal Impact Statement.

EFFECTIVE DATE

This legislation would take effect immediately, and be deemed to have been in effect on and after July 1, 2003, and shall apply to payments made by the firefighters variable supplements fund on or after that date.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 125

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Velella, S.7154, and Assembly Member Abbate, A.10279, "AN ACT to amend the civil service law, in relation to provisional appointments".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), while the term of a provisional appointment is 9 months, some public employers have abused this authority by delaying the establishment of eligible lists, thus making provisional appointments a permanent feature of the public workforce. Many provisional employees serve terms of two years or more. Provisional appointees enjoy lesser rights in the civil service system. These employees can be terminated at will, have none of the due process protections afforded permanent civil service employees, are ineligible to take promotional examinations and accrue no seniority. This bill would address some of these shortcomings by affording provisional employees some of the due process protections of a permanent employee.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of this bill would amend subdivision 4 of section 65 of the civil service law to provide that in any city containing more than one county, an agreement between a public employer and an employee organization (as those terms are defined by article fourteen of the chapter containing section 65) shall contain provisions providing disciplinary grievance-arbitration procedures which shall be applicable to any provisional appointee who has served for a period of twenty-four months or more in a position or similar positions which are covered by such agreement.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

The administrative code of the city of New York currently allows active members of the New York City Fire Department with three years of continuous service and who are original plan members to borrow up to 75 percent of the member's accumulated contributions in the Department's pension fund, subject to repayment. Active members who are improved benefit plan members are also allowed to borrow up to 75 percent of the member's accumulated deductions. This bill would allow retired members the ability to do so.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of this bill would amend section 13-342 of the administrative code of the city of New York to allow original plan members to borrow up to 90 percent of their accumulated contributions upon retirement. Section 1 would also allow improved benefits plan members to borrow up to 90 percent of their accumulated deductions upon retirement.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), Rose Treiber was a per diem substitute teacher with a start date of September 8, 1972 and met the qualifications for tier reinstatement pursuant to Chapter 106 of the laws of 2002. For reasons not ascribable to her own negligence, Ms. Treiber did not file an application for reinstatement. This legislation would allow Ms. Treiber to apply for retroactive membership in tier one of the New York city teachers' retirement system.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would find that Rose Treiber, who is presently employed with New York city department of education and a member of the New York city teachers' retirement system with registration number OOT713488, was previously employed by the New York city board of education on September 8, 1972 through June, 1973 as a per diem substitute teacher. The bill would also find that, for reasons not ascribable to her own negligence, she did not apply for tier reinstatement in that retirement system. The bill would then grant Ms. Treiber with retirement service credit for her service upon application with the head of the New York city teachers' retirement system by the thirty-first of December next succeeding the date of passage of this act. Report for State Legislation Res. No. 137

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senators Golden, Maltese and Morahan, S.7500, and Committee on Rules, A.11580, "AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to providing for medical review for employees of governmental entities performing emergency medical services in the city of New York who apply for disability pension benefits".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

This proposed legislation would grant emergency medical technicians (EMTs) or advanced EMTs the same medical review of their performance of duty disability pension applications as that afforded to other members of the New York City Employees' Retirement System (NYCERS), including uniformed sanitation officers who are entitled to the same three-quarters performance of duty disability pensions as EMTs.

ANALYSIS:

The proposed legislation would provide that any member of employed by the City or the Health and Hospitals Corporation as an emergency medical technician (EMT) or advanced EMT who has made application for, or who, after the effective date of the legislation makes application for, a performance of duty disability pension would be entitled to invoke the medical review procedure established pursuant to §605(e) of the State Retirement and Social Security Law.

Performance of duty disability pensions are awarded to EMTs or advanced EMTs if they become physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of their duties as a result of injury sustained in the performance of their duties. The benefit is equal to three-quarters of their final average salary. Section 605(e) of the Retirement and Social Security Law has authorized NYCERS to establish a procedure for the medical review of determinations it makes on disability retirement applications which must be substantially similar to the medical review procedure provided in section 13-169 of the City's Administrative Code, and must provide that where a request for medical review is filed on behalf of an applicant for disability retirement, that request will be null and void unless the applicant executes a waiver providing that he or she waives any and all rights which he or she might otherwise have to seek or obtain any other disposition of such application for disability retirement by court or administrative proceedings or otherwise. Pursuant to this authority, NYCERS has adopted a procedure for medical review of such decisions, which this legislation would make available to EMTs and Advanced EMTs applying for performance of duty disability benefits.

This legislation would provide school safety officers with a leave of absence, with pay, that could not be charged against their leave credits, if they are disabled due to an assault arising from their employment.

ANALYSIS:

The proposed legislation would add a new section, §207-r, to the" State General Municipal Law providing that school safety officers employed by the police department who are disabled as a result of an assault in the course of their employment, must be granted a leave of absence with pay not to exceed 18 months. The legislation provides that the school safety officer must file a claim for workers' compensation and is entitled to receive the difference between the officer's weekly salary and their workers' compensation benefit without any charge to his or her annual or sick leave. As a condition to receiving these benefits, the officer would have to exercise an assignment of any judgment or settlement in any third party action arising from the incident in the amount of any pay and medical disbursements made by the city.

The proposed legislation provides that the final determination as to whether the disability arose out of an assault shall be made by the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (OATH). Finally, the officer would be required to undergo medical examinations as requested by the City and return to work when found fit for duty by the Workers' Compensation Board.

Report for State Legislation Res. No. 141

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass bills introduced by Senator Golden, S.7457, and Committee on Rules, A.11487, "AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to the additional member contributions payable by participants in the twenty-five year retirement programs for certain members of the uniformed force of the New York City department of correction established pursuant to article 14 of such law, and in relation to the establishment of a twenty-year retirement program for certain members of such uniformed correction force of such city who are subject to article 14 of such law; and to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to providing for employer pick up, pursuant to provisions of the federal internal revenue code, of certain additional member contributions required to be made by participants in such twenty-year retirement program".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MIS), the proposed legislation seeks to correct an inequity created between twenty-year retirement programs for Correction Officers and Correction Captains. Such programs, created in 1990 and 1993, respectively, resulted in disparate Annual Member Contribution (AMC) Rates. According to the MIS, as a result of adverse economic consequences due to the disparity, qualified Correction Officers have declined promotion to the rank of Correction Captain.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

The proposed legislation would provide for various adjustments in the AMC rates for certain Tier H1 retirement programs for Correction Officers and Correction Captains. This bill would amend the retirement and social security law to alleviate the disparities between Correction Officers and Correction Captains. Pursuant to Section 6 if this bill, any City Correction Member of the rank of Captain or above who was eligible to elect to become a participant in the twenty-five year retirement program for captains and above, but who failed to make such an election, may be deemed to have elected to become a participant in such program by filing with the retirement system, within 120 days after the revised contribution date, and application to become a participant in such retirement program. Pursuant to other sections of this bill, participants in the twenty-year and twenty-five year retirement programs may have adjusted rates of contributions depending on the revised contribution dates.

Section 10 of this bill would amend the retirement and social security law to establish a twenty-year retirement program for New York City Correction Members below the rank of captain who become such members on or after the establishment of that retirement program. Section 14 of this bill would amend the City Administrative Code to provide for employer pick-up of certain additional member contributions required to be made by participants in the twenty-year retirement program.

Report for M-125

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a Communication from the Mayor regarding "AN ACT to authorize the city of New York to discontinue certain land as park land". S.7432/ A.11375.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), the New York City Parks Department ("Parks Department") has jurisdiction of a section of the existing Shore Parkway including one access ramp and one egress ramp and an additional grass covered parcel of parkland all of which are mapped as parkland. However, this 3.1 acres of land is maintained by the City's Department of Transportation, and the fact that a portion of the Shore Parkway has been on mapped parkland since it was built in 1939 has created problems for the administration of the roadway. This legislation is designed to correct this situation by authorizing the City to discontinue the use of this land as parkland.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would authorize the City to discontinue the use of the described parcel as parklands, and use the land for other public purposes. Section two of the proposed legislation conditions the discontinuance of the property as parkland on the City's dedication of two parcels of land within the bed of Bay Parkway (described in section four of the bill), to be used solely as parkland. If the two parcels to be dedicated as parkland are not equal to or greater than the fair market value of the discontinued parkland, the City must dedicate the difference between the fair market value of the discontinued parkland and the fair market value of the two parcels for the acquisition of additional parkland and/or the performance of capital improvements to existing parks and recreational facilities.

Section 3 describes the specific map coordinates of the property within Bensonhurst Park, in the borough and county of Brooklyn authorized to be discontinued as parkland. Section 4 of the proposed legislation describes the two parcels to be dedicated as parkland.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support, this bill would extend the current 8% per annum statutory interest rate used by the Chief Actuary for the New York city employees' retirement system, the New York city teachers' retirement system, the police pension fund, subchapter two, the fire department pension fund, subchapter two and the board of education retirement system (hereinafter, "City retirement systems") in valuing retirement system liabilities in order to compute the amount of employer contributions for the one-year period beginning July 1, 2004 and ending June 30, 2005. Further, this bill would extend the current rates of supplementary interest, special interest and additional interest for the same period of time. .

The Memorandum of Support indicates that it is critical to pass this bill. As it explains, the City pension laws currently state that after June 30, 2004 the relevant interest rates for the City retirement systems will be prescribed by the State Legislature, based in part on a recommendation issued by the board of trustees of each such City retirement system. However, the Chief Actuary of the City retirement systems has advised the boards of trustees that there is insufficient time before the close of the current State legislative session to properly formulate such recommendations and have those recommendations approved and transmitted to the relevant State legislative and executive offices. As a result, the Mayor of the City of New York has recommended a one-year extension of the current rates in order to give all concerned officials an opportunity to determine thoughtfully appropriate rates for the future. The Memorandum of Support goes on to state that such one-year extensions were enacted in 1990 and 1995 and that the extension would not create any additional expenses for the City of New York or other participating employers. Accordingly, the Mayor is urging passage of this legislation as quickly as possible.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would amend paragraph 2 of subdivision b of section 13-638.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York to extend to June 30, 2005 the effective date of the current 8% annual interest rate for the City retirement systems.

Section 2 of the bill would amend paragraph 2 of subdivision f of section 13-638.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York to extend to June 30, 2005 the effective date of the current 1 1/4% annual special interest rate for the City retirement systems.

Section 3 of the bill would amend paragraph 2 of subdivision g of section 13-638.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York to extend to June 30, 2005 the effective date of the current 1 1/4% annual additional interest rate for the City retirement systems.

Section 4 of the bill would amend paragraph 2 of subdivision I of section 13-638.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York to extend to June 30, 2005 the effective date of the current 1% annual supplementary interest rate for the City retirement systems.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a Communication from the Mayor regarding "AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to providing excess benefit plans for certain retirees and other beneficiaries of the New York city employees' retirement system, the New York city teachers' retirement system, the police pension fund, subchapter two, and the fire department pension fund, subchapter two of such city; and to amend the education law, in relation to providing an excess benefit plan for certain retirees and other beneficiaries of the board of education retirement system of such city." S.7466/A.11419

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MIS), the proposed legislation would establish excess benefit plans for certain retirees and option beneficiaries. Pension funds affected by the proposed legislation would be the New York City Employees' Retirement System, the Police Pension Fund, the Fire Department Pension fund, the Teachers' Retirement system and the Board of Education retirement system. Such excess benefit plans would pay that portion of benefits otherwise payable to such persons, which the City pension system is not permitted to pay because such amounts would exceed the benefit limitations imposed by the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), section 415.

According to the MIS, the five City pension systems covered by this legislation are subject to defined benefit dollar limitations, as determined by the IRC. Such limitations may vary significantly depending on a particular retiree. The proposed legislation seeks to establish excess benefit funds maintained for the purpose of providing benefits to retirees and option beneficiaries that exceed the IRC limits. According to the MIS, each fund would be funded by allocations from regular employer contributions to the pension system in amounts that are necessary to pay benefits to excess benefit plan participants for that plan year.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of this bill would amend the Administrative Code of the City of New York by adding a new section 13-196 to establish an excess benefit plan, as discussed above, for the New York City Employees' Retirement system. Section 2 of this bill would establish an excess benefit plan for the Police pension fund. Section 3 of this bill would establish an excess benefit plan for the Fire Department pension fund. Section 4 and Section 5 of this bill would amend the Administrative Code and the Education law, respectively, to establish an excess benefit plan for the Teachers' Retirement system and the Board of Education Retirement system.

Section 6 of this bill would state that the effectiveness of the proposed legislation and ensuing benefits are contingent upon the authorization of such benefits by the IRC.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

The Proposed legislation would authorize the City to (1) permanently discontinue the use of certain park lands, described in section three of the bill; and transfer those lands to the New York City Transit Authority (NYCTA); (2) grant easements under certain other parklands described in section four of the bill; and (3) temporarily discontinue the use of certain other parklands, described in section five of the bill. The discontinuance of the use of the lands as parkland, and the easements, are intended to allow the NYCTA to construct a new subway tunnel and reconstruct the South Ferry subway station. Upon completion of the construction, the NYCTA would have to restore the surface of the lands over which the easements were granted, and those lands where the discontinuance as parkland was only temporary.

Section two of the legislation conditions the discontinuance of the property as parkland and granting of easements to the NYCTA on the City's acquisition of additional parklands of equal or greater fair market value and/or the performance of capital improvements to existing parks and recreational facilities which are equal to or greater than the fair market value of the transferred property and easements.

Sections three, four and five of the legislation describe the parklands that are permanently discontinued, those over which easements are granted, and those that are temporarily discontinued respectively.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

Currently, state and local law provide for a demonstration program which authorizes the New York City Department of Transportation (DOT) to use traffic-control signal photo-monitoring devices to enforce traffic-control indications laws. The program allows traffic-control signal photo-monitoring devices to be placed at no more than fifty intersections within the City at any one time. The current program sunsets on December 1, 2004. A report on the use of these "red light cameras" was required to be submitted by the City to the Governor, President Pro Tem of the State Senate, and Assembly Speaker by March 1, 2004.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

This legislation amends the Vehicle and Traffic Law and the Administrative Code, allowing the program to continue until December 1, 2009. The proposed legislation requires a report on the use of the "red light cameras" to be submitted by the City to the Governor, President Pro Tem of the State Senate, and Assembly Speaker by March 1, 2009.

According to the Memorandum in Support, New York City's "Red Light Camera Program" has proven to be an effective traffic safety measure that prevents injuries and the loss of life from vehicles that run red lights.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

See Council Finance Division fiscal impact statement.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

This legislation shall take effect immediately and expires on December 1, 2009.

(The following is the Fiscal Impact Statement for M-129:)

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

IMPACT ON REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES: The financial plan assumes the continuation of the Red Light Program and therefore this legislation to continue the program has no fiscal impact.

IMPACT ON REVENUES: When this legislation is fully implemented adding 25 additional cameras (anticipated to be December 2004), the additional 7 months of revenue in Fiscal 2005 will be approximately $4.1 million. The additional revenue in Fiscal 2006 is anticipated to be $6.3 million and takes into account lower issuance based on increased public awareness of the program and camera locations.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: Costs to implement this legislation include both operating costs and the purchase of 25 new cameras as well as new terminals and equipment to operate the cameras. The total capital cost is approximately $4 million. The annual operating costs of this legislation are approximately $2.9 million. SUPPLEMENTAL RESOLUTIONS

The following are the respective Committee Reports for each of the Resolutions referred to the Council for a voice-vote pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Rules of the Council:

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 154

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution opposing governor Pataki's recent proposed cuts to public assistance spending, which would harm families struggling to make ends meet and would not provide appropriate supports for recipients of public assistance working towards permanent self-sufficiency.

The Committee on General Welfare to which was referred on February 26, 2004 (Minutes, page 904) the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

The Committee on General Welfare, chaired by Council Member Bill de Blasio, will meet on Wednesday, June 15, 2004, to consider Res. No. 154, which opposes cuts to public assistance spending proposed by Governor Pataki. The proposed cuts would harm families struggling to make ends meet and would not provide necessary supports for recipients of public assistance working towards permanent self-sufficiency.

On January 20, 2004, Governor Pataki released the proposed New York State Executive Budget for Fiscal Year 2004-2005. The budget contains several new reductions in funding for public assistance in New York that would affect many of New York City's 438,062 recipients of public assistance.[1] The Executive Budget includes the imposition of full family sanctions, proposed reductions in public assistance grants for long-term public assistance recipients and SSI recipients and a decrease in the amount of income subject to the Earned Income Disregard. If implemented, these cuts would hurt low income working families as well as people with disabilities and other New Yorkers who already face considerable hardships.

The Governor has proposed imposing full family sanctions on public assistance recipients who do not comply with program requirements. Currently, when a person has not complied with work requirements, that person's pro-rata share of public assistance is suspended until the person is in compliance. Governor Pataki has proposed that after 2 months, if the person is not in compliance, their entire family would lose benefits until compliance has been regained. While imposing sanctions would save the state only $1.1 million,[2] it would place children who have no control over their parents' compliance with work requirements at risk of losing benefits.

Further, Governor Pataki has proposed reducing benefits for long-term recipients of public assistance. Under the current system, a recipient's public assistance grant does not change based on the amount of time that person has received public assistance.

Proposed changes, however, would reduce the non-shelter portion of public assistance over time. Families with children would have the non-shelter portion of their public assistance grant reduced by 10% after 5 years.[3] Households without children would have benefits reduced by 10% after receiving public assistance for 1 year.[4] This change would save $4 million in state funds.[5] Long-term recipients of public assistance experience multiple barriers to permanent self-sufficiency, including physical or mental disabilities, substance abuse, domestic violence and low levels of education. Reducing public assistance grants to this population would increase hardships for those most in need of assistance.

Governor Pataki also has proposed changes to the Earned Income Disregard, which benefits working families by disregarding a certain percentage of earned income in the calculation of public assistance for families with children. The current formula disregards the first $90 and subsequently 51 % of gross monthly income. This deduction rate remains constant throughout the family's stay on public assistance. The proposed change would continue to disregard the initial $90 of gross monthly income, but would decrease the subsequent percentage depending on the length of time the family receives public assistance. During the first two years on public assistance the percentage would be 50% and from two to five years it would be reduced to 25% of gross monthly income. After five years on public assistance, families would no longer be eligible for any earned income disregard.. This proposal would increase hardship for recipients of public assistance who are employed but earn insufficient wages to support their families.

Governor Pataki also proposes decreasing public assistance for households with family members who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI). The proposal, which would modify grant eligibility determination processes, anticipates an average grant reduction of $90 per month for 26,700 families for gross savings of $30 million, including $9 million in state funds.[6] SSI benefits are already adjusted according to family size and income.[7] Furthermore, advocates have questioned the lawfulness of enacting this proposal without a statutory change.[8] This proposal would affect many disabled New Yorkers and their families.

Governor Pataki's proposals to decrease public assistance and increase sanctions will increase hardship for New York City's neediest families. Resolution 154 opposes these cuts, which would not provide appropriate supports for recipients of public assistance working towards permanent self-sufficiency.

Report for voice vote Res. No. 155-A

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution calling on the appropriate committee on the Council of the City of New York to hold an oversight hearing on use of the fair hearing process to challenge the Human Resources Administration's use of sanctions on persons who seek and receive public assistance.

The Committee on General Welfare to which was referred on February 26, 2004 (Minutes, page 905) the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

The Committee on General Welfare, chaired by Council Member Bill DeBlasio, will meet on Tuesday, June 15, 2004, to consider Res. No. 155-A, which calls on the appropriate committee of the Council of the City of New York to hold an oversight hearing on use of the fair hearing process to challenge the Human Resources Administration's use of sanctions on persons who seek and receive public assistance.

As of April 2004, 438,062 persons, including 249,238 children, were receiving public assistance in New York City.[1] This represents a 62.3% decrease from the number of New Yorkers receiving public assistance in March 1995.[2]

In 1996, enactment of the federal Personal, Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act ("PRWORA") gave states and localities greater flexibility to shape local implementation of public assistance programs, including sanction policies and procedures. Governor Pataki hailed the New York State Welfare Reform Act of 1997 ("WRA"), passed after PRWORA, as returning important decision-making authority to localities. These reforms led to major decreases in welfare rolls, some of which were caused by the increased use of sanctions to penalize public assistance participants who do not comply with program requirements.[3] Public assistance recipients can be sanctioned for reasons ranging from missing an appointment to not fulfilling work requirements. During the 1990s, the Giuliani administration increased the frequency and the severity of sanctions imposed on public assistance recipients.[4]

Significant numbers of public assistance recipients currently are engaged in the sanction process. As of May 16, 2004, there were a total of 214,346 active public assistance cases.[5] 31,892 of the 129,933 cases deemed engageable[6] -- or 24.5% -- were engaged in the sanction process.[7] 11.7% of the engageable caseload, or 15,183 cases, had sanctions in effect.[8] Family assistance clients had a slightly higher sanction rate as of May 16: 13,398 family assistance cases were involved in the sanction process, or 29.9% of the total 44,764 engageable family cases.[9] In addition, 15% of engageable family assistance cases had sanctions in effect. [10]

PRWORA eliminated the requirement under Federal law to offer public assistance recipients informal means of resolving disputes with welfare agencies before imposing sanctions. Several states, including New York, have implemented procedures that appear to privilege informal resolution of disputes before imposing sanctions." Regulations in New York require local social service agencies to encourage the use of pre-hearing conferences to settle disputes over benefits.[12] Further, social services agencies must issue conciliation notices to public assistance recipients before issuing notices to impose sanctions for failure to comply with work requirements. [13]

As of May 16, 2004, 13,136 public assistance cases, or 10.1% of the engageable caseload, were involved in conciliation or conference procedures. [14] An additional 2,371 cases, or 1.8% of the engageable caseload, were awaiting conciliation scheduling.[15] Among the family assistance population, 13,398 cases involved in the sanction process as of May 16 were involved in conciliation or conferences and another 1,221 cases -- 2.7% of the engageable family assistance caseload -- awaited conciliation scheduling. [16]

Despite the availability of informal dispute resolution processes, thousands of public assistance recipients cannot resolve disputes regarding benefits short of resorting to the fair hearing process. The number of fair hearing requests filed during the month of April 2004 comprised 5.5% of the total number of undercare cases citywide.[17] In 2003 the average percentage of fair hearing requests filed per month was 5.6%, an increase from 4.7% in 2001.1 [s] As of May 16, 2004, 1,202 (.9%) of public assistance recipients and 153 (.3%) family assistance recipients were engaged in the fair hearing process. [19]

Many applicants for public assistance have applications denied because they miss one or more appointments. In order to be found eligible for public assistance, applicants must complete several appointments with the Human Resources Administration ("HRA"), including multiple appointments to access eligibility, several appointments to determine employability, drug and alcohol screenings, health assessments and fingerprinting.[20] If a client misses an appointment, his/her application for benefits can be denied, forcing the applicant to begin the entire process again .[21] For clients who are receiving public assistance, sanctions can result in the temporary or permanent reduction or loss of benefits. Facing sanctions from missed appointments particularly affects clients who do not receive HRA notices or do not understand HRA notices. Persons with low levels of literacy or who suffer from learning disabilities may have greater difficulties understanding appointment notices from HRA or may not understand how to respond to sanction notices.[22] Persons who move frequently or have other difficulties receiving mail sometimes are sanctioned for missing appointments about which they, never received notice.[23]

[17] This figure, which consists of all active cases excluding single issue cases, totals more than 11,300 fair hearing requests in April 2004. Of these requests, only 2,265 engageable cases--or approximately 20% of the requests--were engaged in the fair hearing process in April *2004. [23] According to data from the New York State Office of Temporary Disability Assistance, Office of Administrative Hearings, approximately 6% of fair hearing cases-or about 4,200 cases per year-are based on allegations of non-received mail. Clients ultimately win approximately 2/3 of these 4,200 cases.

In addition, New Yorkers with mental or physical disabilities, who comprise a large portion of public assistance recipients, often have extreme difficulty leaving their homes to apply for public assistance or to attend appointments necessary to obtain and maintain benefits. A study performed in 2001 by the U.S. General Accounting Office found that 44% of welfare recipients nationwide reported having mental and/or physical disabilities.[24] The Urban Institute reported that 48% of parents receiving TANF nationwide either reported poor general health or scored low on a mental health scale.[25] Similar state studies have generated comparable results.[26] Despite protections afforded by civil rights law, advocates have argued that HRA does not take adequate steps to accommodate persons with psychiatric disabilities to enable them to participate in public assistance programs. Specifically, advocates have charged that HRA fails to provide adequate information to clients of the right to receive home visits and to provide home visits to people with disabilities who need them. In addition, persons acknowledged to need home visits apparently receive notices of appointments at job centers.[27] While HRA updated its original 1999 ADA policy in March 2003, subsequent investigations conducted by the Welfare Law Center and the Urban Justice Center have raised questions as to whether the new policy meets the needs of persons with disabilities.[28]

Many public assistance recipients are sanctioned for failure to comply with work requirements. On average, public assistance recipients who are sanctioned face greater barriers to employment, are less likely to work after leaving welfare, and will earn lower wages than other recipients .[29] Some studies indicate that clients are unable to comply with work requirements due to mental or physical disabilities, low levels of education and literacy, substance abuse, and other barriers to employment. A report by the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities maintained that approximately "one-fifth of current TANF recipients have physical impairments that limit their ability to work. ."[30] An analysis of data from the Urban Institute's National Survey of American Families in 1999 showed that between one-third and one-fourth of TANF recipients suffer from mental health problems, including clinical depression, post-traumatic stress disorder, and general anxiety disorder, that could limit their ability to work .[31] In addition, the Urban Institute reported that of the 2002 adult TANF population with multiple barriers to work, only 14.1 % were employed.[32] Furthermore, data suggests that administering sanctions to this population does not necessarily increase compliance or result in employment.[33]

Currently HRA is preparing to launch a new program, called Wellness, Comprehensive Assessment, Rehabilitation and Employment ("WeCARE"). The program reportedly will focus on administering services to public assistance clients with health-related barriers to employment. The Committee seeks more information about how this program will accommodate disabled clients and how this population could be affected by sanctioning procedures that often result from client immobility.

In addition to sanction procedures already in place, in his Executive Budget for Fiscal Year 2004-2005 Governor Pataki has proposed the implementation of full family sanctions. Currently in New York, when a public assistance recipient has not complied with program work requirements, that person's "pro-rata" share of public assistance is suspended until the person is in compliance.[34] Governor Pataki has proposed that after 2 months, if the person is not in compliance, the person's entire family would lose benefits until compliance has been regained.

Governor Pataki's proposal is part of an ongoing nationwide debate regarding the effectiveness of and necessity for full family sanctions. Since state flexibility to impose sanctions increased as a result of welfare reform, many states have enacted sanction policies that are more stringent than is required by federal law.[35] Of the 36 states that have imposed full family sanctions, 18 impose full family sanctions on the first instance of noncompliance.[36] Policymakers have not concluded whether full family sanctions are more "effective" than partial sanctions.[37] While imposing sanctions in New York State would save the state only $1.1 million,[38] it would exacerbate the already stringent sanctioning process and would negatively affect children who have no control over their compliance with welfare work requirements.

Resolution 155-A calls on the New York City Council to hold an oversight hearing on use of the fair hearing process to challenge the Human Resources Administration's use of sanctions on persons who seek and receive public assistance.

Res. No. 155-A

Resolution calling on the appropriate committee of the Council of the City of New York to hold an oversight hearing on use of the fair hearing process to challenge the Human Resources Administration's use of sanctions on persons who seek and receive public assistance.

By Council Members Martinez, Clarke, Dilan, Foster, James, Jackson, Perkins, Comrie Jr., Katz, Stewart, Lopez, Reyna, Gioia, Barron, Sanders Jr., Reed, Addabbo Jr., Liu, Brewer, Gerson, Palma, Baez, Rivera, Seabrook, Serrano, Gonzalez, Quinn and the Speaker (Council Member Miller).

Whereas, As of January 18, 2004, over 430,000 New Yorkers were receiving public assistance; and

Whereas, HRA often sanctions persons who miss appointments related to public assistance, including reducing or denying benefits or terminating applications; and

Whereas, According to information published by the Human Resources Administration in January 2004, 27.5%, or 34,582 of the engageable public assistance caseload was involved in the sanction process; and

Whereas, When HRA notifies applicants for or recipients of public assistance of its intent to impose sanctions or close a file for missing one or more appointments, often their only recourse is to request a fair hearing to challenge the decision; and

Whereas, 1,901 public assistance clients (1.5% of the caseload) were involved in the fair hearing process as of January 18, 2004; and

Whereas, The fair hearing process is burdensome and can cause significant disruption in the lives of public assistance clients, many of whom already face considerable hardships; and

Whereas, Fair hearings are time-consuming and costly for HRA; and

Whereas, Public assistance clients need additional opportunities to reschedule meetings or submit forms before they are subject to the sanctions process at HRA; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the appropriate Committee to hold an oversight hearing on use of the fair hearing process to challenge the Human Resources Administration's use of sanctions on persons who seek and receive public assistance.

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 248

Report of the Committee on Mental Health, Mental Retardation, Alcoholism, Drug Abuse & Disability Services in favor of approving a Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to adopt S.5329 and A.8301; also known as "Timothy's Law", which would provide New Yorkers with fair insurance treatment for mental health and chemical dependency services.

The Committee on Mental Health, Mental Retardation, Alcoholism, Drug Abuse & Disability Services to which was referred on March 24, 2004 (Minutes, page 1435) the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

On Tuesday, June 8, 2004, the Committee on Mental Health, Mental Retardation, Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, and Disability Services (the "Committee"), chaired by Council Member Margarita López, will hold a hearing to consider Resolution No. 248, the ("Resolution"). Invited to testify at the hearing are Dr. Barry Pearlman, NYS Psychiatric Association; Evelyn Roberts, Ph.D, Executive Director of the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, NYC Metro Area; Fred Levine, Esq., Law and Public Policy consultant; Thomas O'Clair, Co-chair, Timothy's Law Campaign; and Paul Macielak, President, Health Care Association. A copy of the Resolution is attached as Appendix A hereto.

Background

Timothy's law is named for Timothy O'Clair, a child from Rotterdam, New York, who had a history of suffering from depression. Because Timothy's father's insurance placed limits on mental health treatment, the family could not cover the cost of Timothy's continuous treatment. Eventually, the family had to give up custody of Timothy to the State so that he could receive the necessary medical care. Regrettably, in 2001, at the age of 12, Timothy killed himself.

Resolution No. 248

The Resolution would call upon the New York State Legislature to adopt S. 5329 and A. 8301, also known as "Timothy's Law," which would provide New Yorkers with fair insurance treatment for mental health and chemical dependency services. The Resolution would state that the Federal Mental Health Act of 1996 prohibits employers with more than 50 employees that offer mental health benefits from imposing aggregate lifetime and annual limits that differ from those limits imposed for physical health care and treatment. The Resolution would also note that, with respect to mental health care and chemical dependency services, the Federal Mental Health Act fails to require parity for deductibles, co-payments, co-insurance and frequency of coverage. The Resolution would further note that according to the National Institute of Mental Health, in any given year, over 50 million American adults, or 20% of the population, suffer from a mental disorder.

The Resolution would state that, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, in a report entitled "Mental Health: A Report by the Surgeon General," over 20% of children have behavioral, emotional or mental health problems that may, without appropriate treatment, lead to school failure, alcohol or substance abuse, family disruption, violence, physical health problems or suicide. The Resolution would also point out that, according to the American Psychological Association, because 50% to 70% of a physician's normal caseload consists of patients whose medical ailments are significantly related to psychological factors, if mental health care were available to such patients, there would be a decrease in the utilization of medical services and a significant cost-savings. Additionally, the Resolution would note that New York State insurance companies currently limit the number of inpatient and outpatient mental health visits per year and charge higher deductibles, co-payments and co-insurance costs for mental health and chemical dependency services than for treatment of physical health services.

The Resolution would state that S. 5329 and A. 8301, also known as "Timothy's Law," would ensure that mental health and chemical dependency coverage is provided by all insurance companies in New York State on terms comparable to other health care and medical services. The Resolution would also indicate that Timothy's Law creates equal coverage for mental health and chemical dependency services by classifying the limitation of such coverage as discriminatory practice. Furthermore, the Resolution would point out that a recent study conducted by Price Waterhouse Coopers estimates that the passage of Timothy's Law would only increase premiums by $1.26 per employee per month. The Resolution would also state that thirty-three other states have already enacted legislation to end the discriminatory policy of providing benefits or coverage based upon whether the patient's illness or condition is mental or physical. Additionally, the Resolution would indicate that the New York State Assembly passed A. 8301 on March 4, 2004.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 389-A

Report of the Committee on Governmental Operations in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution calling upon government officials to protect and uphold Fist Amendment rights to freedom of speech, association and assembly.

The Committee on Governmental Operations to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

The Committee on Governmental Operations is conducting a third oversight hearing to identify and address public policy issues surrounding the City's permitting procedures. The Committee previously examined this issue on February 25 and June 10, 2003. The Committee intends to examine the regulations governing the City's permit application process and the criteria used by the City to determine an applicant's suitability for a permit. The Committee will examine how recent permits were granted or denied, particularly in regards to various anti-war rallies held in the City since February 15, 2003, specifically inquiring into the City's denying United for Peace and Justice a permit to end their anti-war protest march with a rally in Central Park during the Republican National Convention ("RNC"). The Committee will also consider Res. No. 389-A, which calls upon government officials to protect and uphold First Amendment rights to freedom of speech, association and assembly.

Today, the Committee expects to hear testimony from the Administration, the New York Civil Liberties Union (the "NYCLU"), United for Peace and Justice ("UPJ"), Legal Aid Society and various members of the advocacy community and members of the public.

BACKGROUND AND OVERVIEW

The New York City Administrative Code sets forth the procedures used by the City in the evaluation and eventual approval or disapproval of applications for permits to conduct parades or processions, such as a protest march or a demonstration in a public place. [1] Police Department regulations further define the guidelines covering the application procedure, such as the specific information required of all applicants [2] and the system for approving or disapproving permit applications.[3] The City's framework for the equitable evaluation and distribution of permits, however, has been criticized and the subject of litigation.

FEBRUARY 15, 2003 PROTEST RALLY

In response to the Department's denial of UPJ's application to march against the war in Iraq on February 15, 2003, the NYCLU mounted a legal challenge to the constitutionality of such a determination, whereupon on behalf of UPJ, the NYCLU filed a complaint seeking an injunction to allow protestors to march past the United Nations. In its complaint, the NYCLU also declared that the permitting process violated the First Amendment and was unconstitutional. The Court stated that there were distinctive security concerns created by demonstrations in the vicinity of the United Nations and that threats to United Nations' property were not merely speculative.[4] Consequently, the Court found that the City's determination was content-neutral and served a significant governmental interest.[5]

[1] See NYC Administrative Code § 10-110.

[2] See 38 RCNY § 19-03.

[3] See 38 RCNY § 19-04.

[4] The City alluded to two specific occurrences in its concerns about the security of the United Nations. One incident occurred in October 2002, when an individual jumped over a fence at the United Nations and fired seven gunshots at the building.

[5] See United for Peace and Justice v. The City of New York, 03 Civ. 810 (February 10, 2003) at p. 2.

When this Committee conducted its first hearing, the two main legal concerns the Committee addressed were whether there (i) was a per se ban on any type of march anywhere in Manhattan in connection with such rallies and (ii) whether there is a de facto ban on all "protest" marches. The District Court, in its opinion, discussed evidence of a post 9/11 change in police policy regarding such demonstrations.[6] Although the Court believed the "issue was not sufficiently developed for adjudication[,]"[7] this Committee intended to ask the Police Department (the "Department") directly if such a policy change is in effect. The Committee also sought to ascertain when such change went into effect and the contours of such a new policy.[8] The Supreme Court has stated, as the District Court noted, that "the government may impose reasonable restrictions on the time, place, or manner of protected speech[.]"[9] However, such restrictions must still be contentneutral, and a complete ban on a medium of expression such as marching may be an unreasonable restriction, especially if done selectively and arbitrarily, and would be presumptively unconstitutional. If, however, a denial of the right to march at a protest is based on content-neutral time constraints, as the District Court appeared to suggest, [10] perhaps, the Police Department can develop guidelines to better allow for such marches. The Police Department was not available at the first hearing to speak to these matters, but did testify at the second hearing, assuring the Committee that no ban on "protest" marches existed."

In addition to the permit process, this Committee also wishes to review how such rallies will be handled in the future, and how the balance between safety concerns and civil liberties will be effected. Currently there are guidelines in the Department's Patrol Guide that govern how the Department handles such events.[12] These procedures are developed for the benefit of the public and to ensure safety. The Committee wants to be advised of such policies for future rallies and inquire as to whether anything should be done differently or has since changed.

[12] See Patrol Guide, "Policing Special Events/Crowd Control," Procedure No. 213-11. Such procedure calls for Detail Commanders to submit "critiques" that evaluate how the event went and the response of the Department to any issues at such event. Such critique, when complete, might be helpful to better review the events on the day of the Protest.

The Committee will also review some budgetary concerns with crowd control techniques. There are some studies currently being conducted that assess the budgetary impact of such techniques and the Committee believes it will be helpful for the Council, the Department and the public to be apprised of such discourse during the budget season.

NYCLU REPORT: "ARRESTING PROTEST"

While the first NYCLU lawsuit was unsuccessful, the NYCLU did issue a report detailing some issues with the rally on February 15, 2003. The report documents some very serious allegations of police misconduct.[13] The NYCLU received 198 accounts of excessive force, 20 accounts of abuse of authority and 21 accounts of discourtesy. Additionally, serious allegations were made in the report that the police denied arrestees/detainees their constitutional and human rights. Also troubling, if accurate, many protestors were asked questions regarding their religious and political affiliations, which may be a severe violation of their First Amendment rights. The NYCLU has since brought another suit against the Department for violating the state and federal constitutional rights of protestors through the use of interlocking barriers or "pens" to contain demonstrators, the use of police offices and barricades to close streets leading to demonstration sites, the use of horses to break up demonstrations, the searching of demonstrators' bags and the prolonged detention of demonstrators charges with minor infractions. Closing arguments for this trial are scheduled for June 17. The Committee will further review such issues and the status of such litigation.

CCRB FINDINGS OF FEBRUARY 15,2003 RALLY

In the aftermath of the numerous confrontations between demonstrators and police at the February 15th rally the Civilian Complaint Review Board ("CCRB") investigated 54 complaints containing 114 allegations of misconduct by police officers. [14] Sixty-nine percent of the allegations pertained to the use of unnecessary force, far higher than the 31 % percent unnecessary use of force complaints received in 2003. The remaining abuse of authority and discourtesy allegations made up 15% and 16% of the complaints respectively, which are at far smaller levels in comparison to the percentage of authority and discourtesy allegations made in 2003, which made up 46% and 20% of the complaints, respectively.

After dropping 18 of the 54 complaints, the CCRB fully investigated 27 of the remaining 36 cases at the time their annual report was published. These 27 cases contained 46 allegations of which three were substantiated, five were exonerated, three were unfounded, and 12 were unsubstantiated. Additionally, the CCRB had to close 21 of the allegations because the officers in question could not be identified.

[13] The categories of misconduct used in the report generally parallel those used by the New York City Civilian Complaint Review Board: (i) Force- defined as unnecessary or excessive force, including deadly force, (ii) Abuse of Authority- defined as improper use of police powers to threaten, intimidate or otherwise mistreat a civilian, (iii) Discourtesy- defined as rude or profane gestures and/or language and (iv) Offensive Language- defined as slurs that refer to a person's race, ethnicity, religion, gender, age, disability, or sexual orientation. See NYCLU, "Arresting Protest," p. 11 (Apr. 2003).

[14] See Civilian Complaint Review Board – Status Report, Special Study: February 15, 2003 Anti-War Protest Complaints (January - December 2003, pp37-40).

In their attempt to identify the officers in the allegations, CCRB requested complete and unedited video taken by the Department's Technical Assistance Response Unit ("TARU"). The CCRB received heavily edited videos, which provided little assistance in identifying the officers. Thus, many complaints were dropped where the officers went unidentified.

The Committee will examine the Department's policy regarding not providing unedited TARU videos filmed during demonstrations when requested by authorities charged with oversight of the Department.

AUGUST 29, 2004 PROTEST RALLY

With the Republican National Convention being held in New York City this year, UPJ wished to hold an anti-Iraq war protest march on August 29, the day before the start of the convention. Their plans were to begin in Chelsea and march up Eighth Avenue, past Madison Square Garden, the site for the RNC, and continue on to Central Park's Great Lawn for a rally. UPJ stated that they expect as many as 250,000 to participate in the march.

On April 26, the Department of Parks and Recreation ("DPR") denied UPJ the permit on the grounds that since the Great Lawn's renovation in 1998, its official capacity is only 80,000 people and that holding a rally of such magnitude would destroy the Great Lawn, especially if wet conditions existed. UPJ appealed the decision but on May 16, DPR denied the appeal. DPR has not permitted a large-scale protest in Central Park since 1982, which was for an anti-nuclear weapons rally.[15]

In late May, the Department submitted an alternate route proposal to UPI Under the Department's proposal, the March would start on West Street and proceed up the West Side Highway, turning then to Eighth Avenue and 34th Street, passing within a block of Madison Square Garden and then proceeding back down the highway for the rally at the starting point. This alternate proposal has been rejected by UPJ, "calling the march route circuitous and not going directly past the convention site" and that "[t]he City's plan made them feel 'marginalized.'",[16]

Since the City and UPJ have yet to reach an agreement on a route, the Committee will examine the Department's proposed route, the Department's decision-making process that went into their proposed route, the reasons behind UPJ's rejection of the City's proposal and why it is important that their rally be held in Central Park. The Committee will also analyze DPR's policies on holding large-scale protests in City parks.

METHODS OF HANDLING LARGE EVENTS

Various jurisdictions have used different means to police mass demonstrations and other large events. The NYPD approach, as reflected during the February 15, 2003 antiwar protest rally, appears to use very large numbers of police officers to create a huge presence and to limit the location and mobility of protestors. This method contrasts to the approach employed by the San Francisco police department, which is one of "facilitation."[17] "Facilitation" allows protestors to demonstrate without intervention, unless laws are broken. Another approach, called "Negotiated Management," is much more like San Francisco's "facilitation" approach. Such approach seeks to "tolerate a reasonably high level of... disruption."[18] The NYPD's approach to the February 15, 2003 rally received criticism as unnecessarily escalating confrontation.[19] The Committee will inquire as to which policy NYPD follows and whether NYPD believes a shift in policy may be beneficial to the City at this juncture.

The NYCLU litigation, the anti-war demonstrations and the attendant public scrutiny of the City's role in the permitting and law enforcement procedures [20] has raised a series of public policy concerns. The Committee will employ today's oversight hearing to follow up on any issues related to the City's permit process and attempt to develop remedies to ensure a fair balance between the security of public space and the preservation of civil liberties.

RES. NO. 389-A

Resolution 389-A reflects New York City's long tradition of celebrating robust public discussion of political issues, including the First Amendment expression of opinions and viewpoints through public demonstrations, marches (or parades) and rallies. The exercise of such rights is essential to the well being of a democratic society. However, the City must weigh security concerns, especially after 9/11, to ensure that protestors and other city residents remain safe during such events. With many political protests scheduled during the upcoming Republican National Convention, the balance between public safety and civil liberties is a concern to the Council.

[17] See Jim Carlton, The Wall Street Journal, "Police Utilized Varied Techniques for Handling Antiwar Protests"(April 7, 2003).

The Council is a staunch supporter and protector of First Amendment rights of speech, association and assembly. It also understands the need for the Department to ensure the safety of demonstrators, those that they are protesting against and the general public. However, the Council does not believe that there is any inherent conflict between the City's duty to secure public safety and protect lawful political activity.

To this end, the Council will strive to ensure that permit applications for public demonstrations related to the Republican National Convention are acted upon in a timely manner and that such permits are not unreasonably denied, or if granted, do not place unreasonable constraints upon the location or route and the duration of such activities. Additionally, while wanting to ensure public safety at such demonstrations, the Council calls upon the Police Department to do so within the constraints of the Handschu decree,[21] so as not to infringe upon New Yorkers' participation in political activities and provide the proper oversight and accountability regarding the Police Department's investigation of such activities.

Resolution 389-A, in its first resolve, calls upon Mayor Michael Bloomberg, Police Commissioner Raymond Kelly, and Parks Commissioner Adrian Benepe to affirm and uphold the exercise of First Amendment rights in New York City, particularly regarding the 2004 Republican National Convention. In the second resolve, it affirms the Council's strong support for First Amendment values and principles and therefore calls upon City officials to take affirmative measures to uphold and protect the rights of speech, expression and association in New York City and, in particular, at the 2004 Republican National Convention, including the creation and implementation of systems and procedures to ensure a fair and expedient application process that does not place undue constraints upon expressive political activity. In the third resolve, the Council acknowledges the responsibility of the police department and other city officials to protect protesters and the city, however, in executing such responsibility, such city officials must ensure that First Amendment activity is not prohibited, denied or limited except based upon legitimate safety concerns.

[21] The Handschu decree was imposed on the Police Department by a federal court order entered in 1985 in response to a lawsuit claiming that police surveillance techniques were overly invasive and had a chilling effect on First Amendment liberties. The Handschu guidelines (i) limited the investigation of political activity to those circumstances when there was specific information of criminal activity and (ii) established the Handschu Authority to oversee compliance of such guidelines. (See Handschu v Special Services Division, 288 F. Supp. 2d 411 (SDNY 2003)).

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The real property tax law is amended by adding a new section 467-e to read as follows:

§ 467-e. Rebate for owners or tenant-stockholders of one, two or three family residences or residential property held in the condominium or cooperative form of ownership in a city having a population of one million or more. 1. Generally. Notwithstanding any provision of any general, special or local law to the contrary, any city having a population of one million or more is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws in accordance with this section to grant a rebate of real property taxes for fiscal years beginning on and after the first of July, two thousand three in the amount of the lesser of four hundred dollars or the annual tax liability imposed on the property. No such local law may be adopted unless, as originally adopted, it authorizes such rebate to be granted in accordance with this section for three consecutive fiscal years beginning with the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand three. No such rebate shall be granted by local law for any fiscal year beginning on or after the first of July, two thousand six, unless the council of such city, in fixing the annual tax rates for any such fiscal year, shall have uniformly reduced such rates for all classes of property in order to produce real property tax relief among such classes of property in an amount not less than, in the aggregate, the aggregate amount of rebate paid in such fiscal year. Any rebate authorized by local law in accordance with this section shall be paid in the fiscal year following the fiscal year for which the rebate is granted. If, with respect to any fiscal year of such city during which such rebate is to be paid, an increase in average real property tax rates would otherwise be necessary in the resolution of such city council fixing real property tax rates for such fiscal year pursuant to the charter of such city, then the rebate to be paid in such fiscal year shall be reduced or eliminated to the extent necessary to reduce or eliminate such increase in average real property tax rates. The determination of the reduction or elimination of such rebate shall be set forth in such resolution after consultation with the department of finance of such city and shall take effect upon the final adoption of such resolution. Such rebate shall be paid to an owner or tenant-stockholder who, as of the date the application provided for in subdivision four of this section is due, owns a one, two or three family residence or a dwelling unit in residential property held in the condominium or cooperative form of ownership that is the owner or tenant-stockholder's primary residence and meets all other eligibility requirements of this section. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in sections four hundred twenty-one-a, four hundred twenty-one-b or four hundred twenty-one-g of this title, an owner or tenant-stockholder whose property is receiving benefits pursuant to such sections shall not be prohibited from receiving a rebate pursuant to this section if such owner or tenant-stockholder is otherwise eligible to receive such rebate. Tenant-stockholders of dwelling units in a cooperative apartment corporation incorporated as a mutual company pursuant to article two, four, five or eleven of the private housing finance law shall not be entitled to the rebate authorized by this section. Such rebate shall be paid by the commissioner of finance to eligible owners or tenant-stockholders in accordance with rules promulgated by the commissioner of finance.

2. Eligibility requirements. a. To qualify for the rebate pursuant to this section (1) the property must be a one, two or three family residence or residential property held in the condominium or cooperative form of ownership;

(2) the property must serve as the primary residence of one or more of the owners or tenant-stockholders thereof; and

(3) the owner must not be in arrears in the payment of real property taxes in an amount in excess of twenty-five dollars for the fiscal year for which the rebate is claimed and all prior fiscal years, and for residential property held in the cooperative form of ownership, there must be no arrears in the payment of real property taxes in an amount in excess of an average of twenty-five dollars per dwelling unit in such cooperative apartment corporation for the fiscal year for which the rebate is claimed and all prior fiscal years.

b. If legal title to the property is held by one or more trustees, the beneficial owner or owners shall be deemed to own the property for purposes of this subdivision.

3. Definitions. As used in this section:

a. "Applicant" means the owner or owners or tenant-stockholder or tenant-stockholders of the property.

b. "Commissioner of finance" means the commissioner of finance of a city having a population of one million or more, or his or her designee.

c. "Property" means a one, two or three family residence or a dwelling unit in residential property held in the condominium or cooperative form of ownership.

4. Application procedure. a. Generally. An application for a rebate pursuant to this section for the fiscal year beginning the first of July, two thousand three, shall be made no later than the thirty-first of August, two thousand four. An application for a rebate pursuant to this section for fiscal years beginning on or after the first of July, two thousand four, shall be made no later than the fifteenth of March of the fiscal year for which the rebate is claimed. All owners or tenant-stockholders of property who primarily reside thereon must jointly file an application for the rebate on or before the application deadline, unless such owners or tenant-stockholders currently receive a real property tax exemption pursuant to section four hundred twenty-five of this title, in which case no separate application for a rebate pursuant to this section shall be required. Such application may be filed by mail if it is enclosed in a postpaid envelope properly addressed to the commissioner of finance, deposited in a post office or official depository under the exclusive care of the United States postal service, and postmarked by the United States postal service on or before the application deadline. Each such application shall be made on a form prescribed by the commissioner of finance, which shall require the applicant to agree to notify the commissioner of finance if his, her or their primary residence changes after receiving the rebate pursuant to this section, or after filing an application for such rebate, if his, her or their primary residence changes after filing such application, but before receiving such rebate. The commissioner of finance may request that proof of primary residence be submitted with the application. No rebate pursuant to this section shall be granted unless the applicant, if required to do so by this subdivision, files an application within the time periods prescribed in this subdivision.

b. Approval or denial of application. If the commissioner of finance determines that the applicant is entitled to the rebate pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall approve the application and such owner or tenant-stockholder shall thereafter be entitled to the rebate as provided in this section. If the commissioner of finance determines that the applicant is not entitled to the rebate pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall mail to each applicant not entitled to the rebate a notice of denial of that application for the rebate for that year in accordance with rules for denial of applications to be promulgated by the commissioner of finance. The notice of denial shall specify the reason for such denial and shall be sent on a form prescribed by the commissioner of finance. Failure to mail any such notice of denial or the failure of any applicant to receive such notice shall not prevent the levy, collection and enforcement of taxes on such applicant's property.

c. Proof of residency. (1) Requests. From time to time, the commissioner of finance may request proof of residency from the owner or tenant-stockholder receiving a rebate pursuant to this section.

(2) Timing. A request for proof of residency shall be mailed at least sixty days prior to the ensuing application deadline. The owner or tenant-stockholder shall submit proof of his, her or their residency in an application to the commissioner of finance on or before the application deadline.

d. Review of submission. The burden shall be on the applicant to establish that the property is his, her or their primary residence and that any other requirements to obtain the rebate are satisfied. If the applicant submits proof of residency on or before the application deadline, and the submission demonstrates to the commissioner of finance's satisfaction that the property is the primary residence of the applicant, and if the requirements of this section are otherwise satisfied, the rebate shall be paid. Otherwise, the commissioner of finance shall discontinue the rebate and, where appropriate, shall proceed as further provided herein.

e. Oath. The commissioner of finance shall have the authority to require that statements made in connection with any application filed pursuant to this section be made under oath. Such application shall contain the following declaration: "I certify that all information contained in this application is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. I understand that willful making of any false statement of material fact herein will subject me to the provisions of law relevant to the making and filing of false instruments and will render this application null and void." Such application shall also state that the applicant agrees to comply with and be subject to the rules promulgated from time to time by the commissioner of finance pursuant to this section.

5. Discontinuance of rebate. a. Generally. The commissioner of finance shall discontinue any rebate paid or granted pursuant to this section if it appears that: (1) the property may not be the primary residence of the owner or tenant-stockholder who received or applied for the rebate, (2) title to the property has been transferred to a new owner or tenant-stockholder, or (3) the property is otherwise no longer eligible for the rebate. For the purposes of this section, title to that portion of real property owned by a cooperative apartment corporation in which a tenant-stockholder of such corporation resides, and which is represented by his or her share or shares of stock in such corporation as determined by its or their proportional relationship to the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that owned by the corporation, shall be deemed to be vested in such tenant-stockholder.

b. Rights of owners and tenant-stockholders. Upon determining that a rebate paid or granted pursuant to this section should be discontinued, the commissioner of finance shall mail a notice so stating to the affected owner or tenant-stockholder at the time and in the manner to be provided in rules promulgated by the commissioner of finance. Such owner or tenant-stockholder shall be entitled to seek administrative and judicial review of such action in the manner provided by law, provided, that the burden shall be on the owner or tenant-stockholder to establish eligibility for the rebate.

6. Recovery of prior rebate. If the commissioner of finance determines that the owner or tenant-stockholder was (a) not entitled to a rebate under this section, or (b) that a rebate was paid or calculated in error under this section, then the commissioner of finance shall recover or recalculate such rebate and the amount of the rebate or an amount equal to the difference between the rebate originally paid and the amount to which the owner or tenant-stockholder was entitled shall be deducted from any refund otherwise payable, and any balance of such amount remaining unpaid shall be paid to the commissioner of finance within thirty days from the date of mailing by the commissioner of finance of a notice of the amount payable. Such amount payable shall constitute a tax lien on the property as of the date of such notice and, if not paid within such thirty-day period, penalty and interest at the rate applicable to delinquent taxes on such property shall be charged and collected on such amount from the date of such notice to the day of payment, and such amount payable shall be enforceable as a tax lien in accordance with provisions of law relating to the enforcement of tax liens in any such city.

7. Penalty for material misstatements. a. Generally. If the commissioner of finance determines, within three years from the payment of a rebate pursuant to this section, that there was a material misstatement in an application filed pursuant to this section or in an application filed pursuant to section four hundred twenty-five of this title and that such misstatement provided the basis for the payment of a rebate under this section, the commissioner of finance shall proceed to impose a penalty tax against the property of one thousand dollars in addition to recovering the amount of any prior rebate under subdivision six of this section. An application shall be deemed to contain a material misstatement for this purpose when either:

(1) the applicant claimed the property was his, her or their primary residence, when it was not;

(2) the applicant claimed the property was eligible for a rebate pursuant to this section, when it was not; or

(3) the applicant claimed that the applicant owned the property, when the applicant did not.

b. Procedure. When the commissioner of finance determines that a penalty tax should be imposed, the penalty tax shall be entered on the next ensuing tentative or final assessment roll. Each owner or tenant-stockholder shall be given notice of the possible imposition of a penalty tax, and shall be entitled to seek administrative and judicial review of such action in the manner provided by law.

c. Additional consequences. A penalty tax may be imposed pursuant to this subdivision whether or not the improper rebate has been revoked in the manner provided for by this section.

8. Rulemaking. The commissioner of finance shall be authorized to promulgate rules necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section.

9. Non-disclosure. The information contained in applications or statements in connection therewith filed with the commissioner of finance pursuant to subdivision four of this section shall not be subject to disclosure under article six of the public officers law.

§ 2. Section 1310 of the tax law is amended by adding a new subsection (f) to read as follows:

(f) Earned income tax credit. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, any city having a population of one million or more, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws granting in any such city, for taxable years beginning after two thousand three, a credit against the city personal income tax equal to five percent of the earned income credit allowed under section thirty-two of the internal revenue code for the same taxable year.

(2) In the case of a resident taxpayer, the credit provided by local law adopted pursuant to this subsection shall be allowed against the taxes authorized by this article for the taxable year reduced by the credits permitted by this article. If the credit exceeds the tax as so reduced, the taxpayer may receive, and the comptroller, subject to a certificate of the commissioner, shall pay as an overpayment, without interest, the amount of such excess.

(3) If a taxpayer changes his or her status during the taxable year from city resident to city nonresident, or from city nonresident to city resident, the credit determined under this subsection shall be limited to the amount determined by multiplying the amount of such credit by a fraction, the numerator of which is such taxpayer's city adjusted gross income, as defined in chapter seventeen of title eleven of the administrative code of the city of New York, for the period of residence, and the denominator of which is such taxpayer's city adjusted gross income determined as if he or she were a city resident for the entire taxable year. City adjusted gross income shall be adjusted as provided in section 11-1754 of the administrative code of the city of New York. The credit as so limited shall be applied as provided in paragraph two of this subsection.

(4) Subject to the provisions of paragraph three of this subsection, in the case of a husband and wife who file a joint return, but who are required to determine their city personal income taxes separately, the credit authorized pursuant to this subsection may be applied against the tax of either or divided between them as they may elect. In the case of a husband and wife who are not required to file a federal return, the credit under this subsection shall be allowed only if such taxpayers file a joint city personal income tax return.

(5) A local law enacted pursuant to this subsection shall be applicable with respect to any taxable year only if it has been enacted on or before July thirty-first of such year. A certified copy of such local law shall be mailed by registered mail to the state department of taxation and finance at its office in Albany within fifteen days of its enactment. However, the state department of taxation and finance may allow additional time for such certified copy to be mailed if it deems such action to be consistent with its duties under this article.

§ 3. Paragraphs 6 and 7 of subsection (d) of section 606 of the tax law, as added by chapter 170 of the laws of 1994, are amended to read as follows:

(6) Notification. The commissioner shall periodically, but not less than every three years, make efforts to alert taxpayers that may be currently eligible to receive the credit provided under this subsection, and the credit provided under any local law enacted pursuant to subsection (f) of section thirteen hundred ten of this chapter, as to their potential eligibility. In making the determination of whether a taxpayer may be eligible for such credit, the commissioner shall use such data as may be appropriate and available, including, but not limited to, data available from the United States Department of Treasury, Internal Revenue Service and New York state income tax returns for preceding tax years.

(7) Reports. The commissioner shall prepare a preliminary written report after July thirty-first and a final written report after December thirty-first of each calendar year, which shall contain statistical information regarding the credits granted on or before such dates under this subsection, and under any local law enacted pursuant to subsection (f) of section thirteen hundred ten of this chapter, during such calendar year. § 4. Paragraph 3 of subsection (e) of section 697 of the tax law, as amended by section 3 of part M of chapter 63 of the laws of 2000, is amended to read as follows:

(3) Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the department, its officers or employees from furnishing information to the office of temporary and disability assistance relating to the payment of the credit for certain household and dependent care services necessary for gainful employment under subsection (c) of section six hundred six of this article and the earned income credit under subsection (d) of section six hundred six of this article, or pursuant to a local law enacted by a city having a population of one million or more pursuant to subsection (f) of section thirteen hundred ten of this chapter, only to the extent necessary to calculate qualified state expenditures under paragraph seven of subdivision (a) of section four hundred nine of the federal social security act or to document the proper expenditure of federal temporary assistance for needy families funds under section four hundred three of such act. Provided, however, such delivery shall only be made pursuant to an order of the chief administrator of the courts, appointed pursuant to section two hundred ten of the judiciary law. Such order shall provide that such list shall be used for the sole purpose of compiling a list of prospective jurors and that such commissioner of jurors, or such county clerk, shall take all necessary steps to insure that the list is kept confidential and that there is no unauthorized use or disclosure of such list. Furthermore, nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the delivery to a taxpayer or his or her duly authorized representative of a certified copy of any return or report filed in connection with his or her tax or to prohibit the publication of statistics so classified as to prevent the identification of particular reports or returns and the items thereof, or the inspection by the attorney general or other legal representatives of the state of the report or return of any taxpayer or of any employer filed under section one hundred seventy-one-h of this chapter, where such taxpayer or employer shall bring action to set aside or review the tax based thereon, or against whom an action or proceeding under this chapter or under this instituted, or the inspection of the reports or returns required under this article by the comptroller or duly designated officer or employee of the state department of audit and control, for purposes of the audit of a refund of any tax paid by a [~~tax payor~~] taxpayer under this article, or the furnishing to the state department of labor of unemployment insurance information obtained or administrative, reporting, monitoring or evaluating responsibilities, and redisclosure of such information when necessary to enable such department to comply with the provisions of section five hundred thirty-seven of the labor law or any other applicable law, or the furnishing to the state office of temporary and disability assistance of information obtained or derived from New York state Provided, further, that wage reporting information shall be furnished to the office of vocational and educational services for individuals with disabilities of the education department, the commission for the blind and visually handicapped and any other state vocational rehabilitation agency only if such office, commission or agency, as applicable, certifies to the commissioner that such information is necessary to obtain reimbursement from the federal social security administration for expenditures made on behalf of disabled individuals who have achieved self-sufficiency. Reports and returns shall be preserved for three years and thereafter until the commissioner orders them to be destroyed.

§ 5. SUPPLEMENTAL REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Report for Res. No. 152-A

Report of the Committee on Education in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Resolution rejecting the Mayor's ill-conceived educational policy of retaining third graders in New York City public schools based upon their scores on the English language and mathematics standardized examinations, by which time it is too late to begin intervention for struggling students, and which policy offers those students too little support.

The Committee on Education to which was referred on February 26, 2004 (Minutes, page 900) the annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

On Tuesday, June 22, 2004, at 10:00 am, the Committee on Education, chaired by Council Member Eva Moskowitz, will conduct a hearing to consider Resolution No. 152-A. A copy of the resolution is attached.

BACKGROUND

On March 3, 2004, the Committee on Education held a hearing on Res. 152 in an effort to address the Mayor's then-proposed social promotion policy. The Committee heard testimony from the Department of Education, former Mayor Koch, Herman Badillo, who advised Mayor Giuliani education policy, former Chancellor Frank Macchiarola, the Manhattan Borough President, the United Federation of Teachers (UFT), the Council of Supervisors and Administrators (CSA), parents, and advocates. The hearing elicited testimony both for and against the proposed social promotion policy.

Less than two weeks later, on March 14, 2004, the proposed social promotion policy came up for a vote before the Panel for Educational Policy, which, considering the positions of its members at that time, was likely to disapprove of the policy. Before the vote was to take place, the Mayor and the Staten Island Borough President summarily replaced three members of the Panel with new members who voted in favor of the proposed Policy and, accordingly, the Policy was passed. In April, third grade students were tested in English and mathematics and the results of those tests were released on June 3, 2004. Approximately 11,700 children scored at level 1 on one or both of the tests and these students, pending a review of their performance, must attend summer school and/or repeat the third grade.

THE PROPOSED RESOLUTION 152-A

Resolution No. 152-A would reject the Mayor's educational policy of retaining third graders in New York City public schools based upon their scores on the English language and mathematics standardized examinations, by which time it is too late to begin intervention for struggling students, and which policy offers those students too little support.

Resolution No. 152-A would note that on January 8, 2004, Mayor Bloomberg announced that the Department of Education intended to adopt a policy of not promoting to the fourth grade as many as 15,000 third grade students who do not meet the cutoff score on either of the City's standardized tests in English language arts and mathematics [hereinafter the "Promotion Policy"].

Resolution No. 152-A would indicate that the Department of Education's current educational programs and policies do not address the fundamental problems facing many New York City students - i.e. that they do not receive the services they need until they have fallen far behind grade level after spending years struggling in school.

Resolution No. 152-A would, furthermore, state that the use of a single "high stakes" test to determine third grade promotion runs contrary to consensus among educators and the research community. The Resolution would point out that the City previously implemented a policy similar to the Promotion Policy in early 1980s and subsequently revoked that policy because it failed to improve education achievement. Moreover, the Resolution would note that a similar policy was implemented in the city of Chicago for several years until it was substantially scaled back because it was ineffective. The Resolution would also indicate that the third grade is too late to begin intervention to help struggling students, and is too early for making important decisions upon the result of a single test.

Resolution 152-A would note that on March 15, 2004, the Panel for Educational Policy passed the Promotion Policy by a controversial vote of 8 to 5, but only after three of its members, who were planning to vote against the Promotion Policy, had been summarily removed a few hours before the vote was scheduled. Moreover, the Resolution would point out that these summary removals demonstrated the Mayor's lack of support for the Panel as a legitimate check and balance upon critical educational policy decisions. The Resolution would also note that the Mayor's Promotion Policy does not address those fundamental problems or resolve the lack of high quality, early childhood education for all students.

Resolution 152-A would indicate that on April 20, 2004, the Department of Education administered a flawed English language exam to approximately 80,000 third-graders. The Resolution would furthermore point out that an unknown number of third graders had an unfair advantage over their peers because they practiced upon questions that appeared in last year's English language exam, and many of those questions were repeated on this year's exam. The Resolution would state that on May 12, 2004, the Department of Education administered a make-up English language exam for 1,300 third grade students who had either practiced upon last year's exam questions or who missed the exam on April 20, 2004. The Resolution would also indicate that at least 1,300 students were again subjected to a flawed and mismanaged exam because the choices on the exam did not match the choices on the answer sheet.

Resolution No. 152-A would note that approximately 11,700 children scored a level one on one or both of the mathematics and English language arts exams, the majority of whom will have to attend the summer program or be left back. The Resolution would also point out that the Promotion Policy's appeal process, even though it is supposedly automatic, will be cumbersome, inefficient and unrealistic.

Resolution No. 152-A would point out that the Mayor originally claimed that the Promotion Policy would cost $25 million, which ballooned in the Mayor's Executive Budget released on April 26, 2004, to $115 million. The Resolution would also indicate that the New York City Council recognized in its Fiscal Year 2005 preliminary budget response that such funds would be better spent on policies, services, and programs proven to raise student achievement, such as Universal Pre-K; class size reduction; flexible kindergarten enrollment; special education teacher development and after-school programs.

Finally, Resolution No 152-A would state that the Mayor must commit to funding early intervention programs to help schoolchildren succeed from an early age instead of waiting until the third grade to deal with academic problems that may threaten their advancement.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a State Legislation Resolution requesting the New York State Legislature to pass a bill introduced by Assembly Members Lafayette, Mayersohn, P. Rivera, Pheffer, Peralta, Gianaris, Grannis, Seddio, Stringer, Colton, Greene, Dinowitz, Markey and Ortiz, et al, A.4806-B, "AN ACT to amend the vehicle and traffic law and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the number of intersections at which traffic-control signal photo violation –monitoring devices may be installed and reporting upon the use of a traffic-control signal photo violation monitoring system; to amend chapter 746 of the laws of 1988, amending the vehicle and traffic law, the general municipal law and the public officers law, relating to the civil liability of vehicle owners for traffic-control signal violations, in relation to the effectiveness thereof; and to amend local law number 46 of the city of New York for the year 1989, amending the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to civil liability of vehicle owners for traffic-control signal violations, in relation to the effectiveness thereof".

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 22, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

Currently, state and local law provide for a demonstration program, which authorizes the New York City Department of Transportation (DOT) to use traffic-control signal photo-monitoring devices to enforce traffic-control indications laws. The program allows traffic-control signal photo-monitoring devices to be placed at no more than fifty intersections within the City at any one time. A report on the use of these "red light cameras" is required to be submitted by the City to the Governor, President Pro Tem of the State Senate, and Assembly Speaker by March 1, 2004. The current program sunsets on December 1, 2004.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section one of the proposed legislation amends the Vehicle and Traffic Law, changing the name of the monitoring devices to "photo violation-monitoring" devices and authorizing DOT to increase the number of intersections where such devices can be used from fifty to seventy five. Section one also inserts a paragraph stating that signal photo violation-monitoring systems shall not include images that identify the driver, the passengers, or the contents of the vehicle; however, no notice of liability issued under the law shall be dismissed solely because the contents of a vehicle may be identified.

Section two of the proposed legislation amends the Vehicle and Traffic Law, specifying that one-third of any revenues derived from the use of photo violation-monitoring devices shall be used by the city in which the underlying violations occurred for public safety purposes.

Section three of the proposed legislation amends the Vehicle and Traffic Law, establishing that a vehicle owner shall not be subject to a monetary fine under this law if the law was violated by a driver operating the vehicle without the owner's consent.

Section four of the proposed legislation amends the Vehicle and Traffic Law to increase the frequency and requirements of the reports that must be submitted by the City to track the use of photo violation-monitoring devices. Under the proposed section, extensive reports must be submitted to the Governor, the President Pro Tem of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly before June 1, 2005 and on the same date in each succeeding year in which the photo violation-monitoring system is used.

Section five of the proposed legislation amends the Vehicle and Traffic Law to make it a defense to prosecution that a traffic-control monitor was malfunctioning at the time of the alleged violation.

Section six of the proposed legislation extends the augmented program to December 1, 2009.

Sections seven through eleven of the proposed legislation amend the administrative code of the city of New York to reflect the previously identified changes to the program authorized by State law.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

See Council Finance Division fiscal impact statement.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

This legislation shall take effect immediately. The local law authorized by its passage shall expire on December 1, 2009. Any amendments made by this legislation shall be deemed to expire or be repealed with the subdivisions they affect.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 22, 2004 the annexed State Legislation Resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

This legislative item is a Home Rule Request proposal asking for the New York State Legislature in Albany to act favorably in this matter.

BACKGROUND:

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support (MOU), the New York City Parks Department ("Parks Department") owns a 0.63 acre strip of land along the Grand Central Parkway in Queens County. The land is adjacent to property owned by the Yeshiva Har Torah, where a 450 seat private school will be developed. The legislation would allow the Yeshiva to purchase the property from the Parks Department for use to develop access for school buses, sewer connections and a playground.

The Committee approved this legislation previously but must review it again today due to correct a technical error.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the bill would authorize the City, to discontinue the use of the described parcel as parklands, and convey the property to Yeshiva Har Torah. Section two of the proposed legislation conditions the discontinuance of the property as parkland and the conveyance of the property on the City's acquisition of additional parklands of equal or greater fair market value and/or the performance of capital improvements to existing parks and recreational facilities that are equal to or greater than the fair market value of the conveyed property.

Section 3 would describe the specific map coordinates of this property, adjacent to the Grand Central Parkway in the borough and county of Queens.

Report for M-184

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a Communication from the Mayor regarding "AN ACT to amend the real property tax law, in relation to a rebate of real property taxes on certain residential real property in a city having a population of one million or more; and to amend the tax law, in relation to authorizing any city having a population of one million or more to provide an earned income tax credit against the personal income tax of such city." S.7606-A /A.11719

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on June 22, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

PROPOSED LEGISLATION:

Section 1 of the proposed legislation amends the State Real Property Tax law to authorize the City to provide, by local law, a rebate of real property taxes for owners of class one properties, or coop or condo owners who meet the eligibility requirements of the legislation. The rebate would be the lesser of $400 or the property's annual real estate tax liability. The local law, as initially adopted by the Council, would have to provide the rebate for three consecutive years – fiscal year 2004 through and including fiscal year 2006. However, the legislation contains a provision requiring that the rebate authorized during these three years be limited or eliminated to the extent necessary to reduce or eliminate any increases in the property tax rates. The authorization to grant a rebate pursuant to the legislation ends with the fiscal 2006 rebate. The legislation also contains a provision that provides that no such rebate shall be granted for a fiscal year beginning on or after July 1, 2006 (fiscal year 2007 and thereafter), unless the Council enacted an across-the-board property tax reduction in an aggregate amount equal to the aggregate amount of any rebate for such year. Thus, even if the sunset provision in the legislation were to be extended, for example, through fiscal 2007, the legislation's current provisions would require an across the board property tax reduction in that year in order for there to be a rebate. The legislation provides that the rebate would be paid in the fiscal year following the year for which it is granted. However, the first rebate under a local law enacted pursuant to the legislation, for fiscal year 2004, would be paid in 2005 if an eligible owner applied for the rebate by August 31, 2004. Thereafter, an eligible owner would have to apply by March 15th of the fiscal year for which the rebate is claimed, and the rebate would be paid in the following fiscal year.

To be eligible for the rebate: (1) the property must be a class one property or a cooperative or condominium; (2) the property must be the primary residence of one or more of the owners; (3) the owner must not be in arrears on his or her real property taxes by more than $25 (or an average of $25 per unit for cooperative apartments).

Sections 2 through 4 of the proposed legislation authorize the City to adopt a local law providing an earned income tax credit on the City personal income tax. The credit could be provided beginning in taxable year 2004. If such credit is provided, it shall be equal to five percent of the federal earned income tax for that year. The legislation provides that if the credit for any given year exceeds the amount of the tax owed, the excess would be paid to the taxpayer as an overpayment without interest.

In order for the local law to be effective for any taxable year, it must be enacted on or before July 31st of such year.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

See Council Finance Division fiscal impact statement.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

The legislation would take effect immediately but no local law adopted pursuant to the authorization for the rebate may grant a rebate for any fiscal year beginning on or after July 1, 2006 and any actions necessary for the effectuation of the rebate or the earned income tax credit, including adoption of rules or local laws that are taken prior to the effective date of the legislation, would be deemed valid as of the effective date.

(The following is the Fiscal Impact Statement for M-184:)

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY 05	FY Succeeding Effective FY 06	Full Fiscal Impact FY 05
Revenues (+)	($250,000,000)	($250,000,000)	($250,000,000)
Expenditures (-)	($500,000)	($500,000)	($500,000)
Net	($250,500,000)	($250,500,000)	($250,500,000)

IMPACT ON REVENUES: Approximately 437,500 owners of one-, two- or three family homes (property tax Class 1) and 187,500 owners of coops and condos (property tax Class 2) will be eligible to receive the rebate in Fiscal 2005. The fiscal impact of providing $400 property tax rebate checks to 625,000 homeowners resulting from the enactment of this legislation is estimated to be $250 million a year from Fiscal 2005 through Fiscal 2007.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: There will be an impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation to cover the costs incurred by the City's Department of Finance for mailing rebate checks to more than 625,000 homeowners.

RESOLUTIONS

The following are the respective Committee Reports for each of the Resolutions referred to the Council for a voice-vote pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Rules of the Council:

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 14

Report of the Committee on Cultural Affairs, Libraries & International Intergroup Relations in favor of approving a Resolution honoring and commemorating the bicentennial anniversary of Haiti.

The Committee on Cultural Affairs, Libraries & International Intergroup Relations to which was referred on February 4, 2004 (Minutes, page 369) the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

On Tuesday, June 22, 2004, the City Council's Committee on Cultural Affairs, Libraries and International Intergroup Relations, chaired by Council Member José M. Serrano, will conduct a hearing to consider Resolution No. 14, a resolution honoring and commemorating the bicentennial anniversary of Haiti. A copy of the Resolution is attached.

RESOLUTION NO. 14

Resolution No. 14 would note that the proud Caribbean island nation of Haiti marked its 200th year of independence on January 1, 2004, a day also known as "Jour de L'Independence," and that it will commemorate this historical achievement with a year-long celebration. The Resolution would state that in 1791, after over 100 years of colonial rule by Spain and France, slaves of western African origin revolted against their French colonial masters on the western side of the island and, led by a Jamaican-born slave named Boukman, began a 13-year war of liberation that was led by General Toussaint L'Ouverture and General Jean-Jacques Dessalines. The Resolution would also note that the former slaves defeated Napoleon and his army at the Battle of Vertieres in November 1803, and that independence from France was declared on January 1, 1804.

The Resolution would state that the new republic was named Haiti, or Ayiti in Creole, by General Dessalines, which was the name given to the land by its original occupants, the Taino-Arawak peoples, and which means "mountainous country" or "high grounds." The Resolution would indicate that the Republic of Haiti is the world's oldest Black republic, and its hard won victory of independence became an inspiration for the African Diaspora, and was a feat recognized by the new nation in the creation of its flag, which carries the coat of arms of the republic, a palm tree surmounted by the liberty cap and the phrase "L'Union Fait La Force," which means "through unity we find strength."

The Resolution would state that Haiti has enriched the world's cultural life through unique gifts of literature, music and art by such individuals as author Edwidge Danticat; musician Wyclef Jean; filmmaker Raoul Peck; playwright Felix Morisseau-Leroy; author Emile Ollivier; journalist Yvonne Hakim Rimpel; artist Hector Hyppolite; singer Emeline Michel; and many others. The Resolution would also indicate that, according to the United States Census Bureau, the United States is home to a vibrant Haitian community of over 500,000, including approximately 118,000 who reside in New York City, where they have become an integral part of our City's great mosaic. Finally, the Resolution would state that the Haitian community, with its indomitable spirit of liberty and equality, has become an important contributing member of our society, with individuals working in almost every profession and serving as community leaders and elected officials, while continuing to strive for a free and democratic society in their native homeland of Haiti.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

(For text of the resolution, please see the Introduction and Reading of Bills section printed in the Minutes of the Stated Council Meeting of February 4, 2004 page 369.)

JOSE M. SERRANO, Chairperson; TRACY L. BOYLAND, ERIC N. GIOIA, ALLAN W. JENNINGS, DOMENIC M. RECCHIA JR., DAVID I. WEPRIN, Committee on Cultural Affairs, Libraries & International Intergroup Relations, June 22, 2004

Pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Rule of the Council, the President Pro Tem (Council Member Rivera) called for a voice vote. Hearing no objections, the President Pro Tem (Council Member Rivera) declared Res. No. 14 to be adopted.

Adopted unanimously by the Council by voice vote.

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 231

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a Resolution calling upon the Congress of the United States of America to enact legislation that requires criminal background checks on all applicants for flight instruction, pilot licenses and the renewal of a pilot license and to reject such applications if a felony conviction is revealed.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation to which was referred on march 24, 2004 (Minutes, page 1388) the annexed resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

BACKGROUND:

On Tuesday, June 22, 2004, the Committee on State and Federal Legislation will conduct a hearing to consider Resolution No. 231, which would call upon the Congress of the United States of America to enact legislation that requires criminal background checks on all applicants for flight instruction, pilot licenses and the renewal of a pilot license and to reject such applications if a felony conviction is revealed.

RESOLUTION NO. 231:

Resolution No. 231 would note that on September 11, 2001, the United States was attacked by terrorists who hijacked four commercial airplanes and used them as weapons of destruction. The Resolution would also state that some of the terrorists from the September 11th attacks received flight training in flight schools located within the United States.

Additionally, Resolution No. 231 would note that on December 28, 2003, forty-seven year old Richard Langone, who was a convicted murderer who had spent sixteen years in prison, flew a private single engine plane through restricted air-space over New York City during a "Code Orange" alert and buzzed the Statute of Liberty before being escorted back to Long Island by a police helicopter.

Resolution No. 231 would state that the Congress of the United States, the Federal Aviation Administration and the Transportation Security Administration each have certain authority over the aviation industry in the United States of America. The Resolution would indicate that there is currently no federal law, rule or regulation that requires criminal background checks on every person that applies for flight instruction, a pilot license or the renewal of a pilot license. Furthermore, the Resolution would note that a federal requirement of criminal background checks for pilot licenses and their renewal could potentially reduce the amount of drug trafficking that takes place because, according to both the United States Customs and Border Control and Drug Enforcement Administration, private aircraft remains one of the vehicles for transporting illegal drugs into the United States. Finally, the Resolution would state that in light of the September 11th attacks, criminal background checks should be preformed on all applicants for flight instruction or a pilot license and before the renewal of a pilot license in order to reduce the likelihood of further terrorist attacks.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

(For text of the resolution, please see the Introduction and Reading of Bills section for the Stated Council meeting of March 24, 2004, page 1388.)

Pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Rules of the Council, the President Pro Tem (Council Member Rivera) called for a voice vote. Hearing no objections, the President Pro Tem (Council Member Rivera) declared Res. No. 231 to be adopted.

Adopted unanimously by the Council by voice vote.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL

Dear Council Members:

In accordance with Section 107(e) of the New York City Charter, I seek your approval to appropriate new revenues of $1.35 billion in fiscal year 2004.

The $1.35 billion of new revenues results from forecasted increases in tax revenues of $1.17 billion, a net increase in unrestricted aid of $38.2 million and increases in miscellaneous revenues of $149.3 million.

This modification - MN 6 - provides for a grant of $400.0 million to the Transitional Finance Authority, the prepayment of $208.7 million of certain cash based Transit Authority subsidy payments, the prepayment of $112.5 million to the City's Library Systems, the prepayment of $70.8 million of Lease Purchase Debt Service, the prepayment of $159.3 million to the Health & Hospitals Corporation, the payment of $501.5 million of Municipal Assistance Corporation Debt Service in new unit of appropriation 001 and reduces the Budget Stabilization Account in the City's Debt Service budget by $98.1 million.

This modification also transfers within the Miscellaneous Budget $200.0 million from unit of appropriation 002 to new unit of appropriation 004 Pay As You Go Capital/Prepayment of Outstanding Debt.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Supplemental Reports of the Committee on Finance

Report for Int. No. 385

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving and adopting, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to fees for firearms licenses and rifle and shotgun permits.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

I. BACKGROUND

Pursuant to article 400 of the state penal law and section 10-131 of the administrative code, the commissioner of the New York City Police Department (NYPD) is responsible for the licensing of handguns, rifles and shotguns, dealers in firearms, and appointment of special patrolmen in New York City.[1] The NYPD's License Division (Division) acts on behalf of the commissioner to carry out this function.

Under section 10-131 of the administrative code, a license to carry or possess a pistol or revolver "may be issued for a term of no less than one or more than three years."[2] The current fee for application and renewal of a handgun license is $170 for two years or $255 for a three-year period .[3] Under section 10-303 (d) of the administrative code, the fee for an application and renewal of a rifle and shotgun permit is $55 for a three-year period. The handgun fee has not increased since July of 1992 and the fee for rifle and shotgun permits has not increased since July of 1989.

The Division currently licenses 40,400 individuals for various types of handgun licenses, 23,300 individuals with rifle and shotgun permits and 4,173 individuals as Special Patrolmen.[4] In addition, the Division processes 3,900 handgun license applications, 1,200 rifle and shotgun permit applications and 900 Special Patrolmen applications annually.[5]

[1] See also, Administrative Code §14-106

To carry out its mandate, the Division is staffed by nearly 100 employees, uniformed and civilian, at a personnel cost of over $6,000,000 per year.[6] The Division currently collects revenue of approximately $3,350,000 annually for fees associated with processing applications and renewals of handgun licenses and rifle and shotgun permits.[7] This amount does not reflect the actual costs of licensing, including the expenses for equipment and other resources necessary to process applications, handle investigations, address incidents, and monitor compliance with the laws and rules associated with city and state gun laws.[8] In addition, the Division needs to modernize the physical license and supporting database, to replace the fleet of Division unmarked cars, and to purchase a case management system with bar coding tracking ability.[9]

II. INTRO 385

Section one of Intro 385 amends paragraph 2 of subdivision a of section 10-131 of the administrative code by increasing the fee for application and renewal of a handgun license from $170 for two years to $340 for a three-year period. Section one also eliminates the additional pro-rated fee that applied for license applications of more than two years (thus making $255 the current application and renewal fee for a three-year period).

Section two of Intro 385 amends paragraph 3 of subdivision a of section 10-131 of the administrative code by increasing the application fee "for a special permit from the [police] commissioner granting [a license issued by any person other than the police commissioner] validity within the city of New York," from $170 to $340.

Section three of Intro 385 amends subdivision d of section 10-303 of the administrative code by increasing the fee for an application for a rifle and shotgun permit or renewal from $55 to $140.

Section four of Intro 385 indicates that the local law shall take effect ninety days after it shall have been enacted into law except that the police commissioner shall be "authorized to promulgate such rules as are necessary to implement the provision of this law before such date."

Report for Int. No. 386

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving and adopting, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to increasing the fees charged for applications filed with the board of standards and appeals.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 7, 2004 the annexed proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

ANALYSIS:

Section 25-202 of the administrative code of the City of New York establishes fees for various applications for variances, special permits, appeals and amendments under the jurisdiction of the Board of Standards and Appeals ("the Board"). Currently, such fees range between the mid-$200 range to the mid-$3,000 range, depending on the substantive nature of the application.

Section one of the proposed legislation would increase the amount of such fees by approximately 25% each, with the exception of any fees specifically related to variance applications for one and two family homes or related to administrative appeals for one, two and three family homes, which will remain the same. The Mayor's Memorandum of Support states that such increases are necessary to respond to the increased cost of the Board's operations; the Board's application fees have not occurred since 1991.

In addition, § 1 of the proposed legislation would delete the current subsection 4(a) of §25-202, which establishes the fee structure for applications for administrative review under the loft conversion provisions of the zoning resolution. According to the Mayor's Memorandum in Support, this change is necessary because the Board of Standards and Appeals no longer oversees such applications.

Finally, § 1 of the proposed legislation would correct technical errors that create conflict between the current sections dealing with square footage parameters for variances and special permits - set forth in subsection (1)(b)(3) - and those dealing with the time parameters for extensions of time and term, as set forth in current subsections (1)(g)(1 -4).

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Pursuant to §2 of the proposed legislation, this local law shall take effect immediately.

(The following is the Fiscal Impact Statement for Int. No. 386:)

Revenues (+)	$125,000	$125,000

On motion of the Speaker (Council Member Miller), and adopted, the foregoing matter was coupled as a General Order for the day (see ROLL CALL ON GENERAL ORDERS FOR THE DAY).

At this point the Speaker (Council Member Miller) announced that the following item had been preconsidered by the Committee on Finance and had been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for Res. No. 426

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving and adopting, a Resolution computing and certifying base percentage, current percentage and current base proportion of each class of real property for Fiscal 2005 to the State Board of Real Property Services pursuant to Section 1803-a, Real Property Tax Law.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 24, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction. Section 1803-a, a Real Property Tax Law, requires the City Council to certify to the State Board of Real Property Services (the "SBRPS") certain calculations used in the process of updating the class shares from the previous year. These calculations are made every year by the Council to reflect the following changes in each class of real property:

a. Changes in the market value of taxable real property (as determined by SBRPS sample studies),

b. Physical changes as a result of new construction or demolitions,

c. Changes in taxable status, and

d. Transfers of real property among the four classes of real property as a result of changes in use or for other reasons.

Under SBRPS regulations, the Council must update the class shares by making two separate certifications. The action to be taken in the above-referenced resolution constitutes the first step of establishing the class shares of the four classes of taxable real property in the City to which the tax levy for the Fiscal 2005 budget will be applied. The purpose of this step is to give effect to the latest class equalization rates required by Article 18, Real Property Tax Law. Using these rates, new estimates of market values for each class are calculated.

The second step, certifying the "adjusted base proportions", is the subject of a separate resolution that takes account of all the changes that are included in the final assessment roll, after Tax Commission review of taxpayer protests. Attached hereto, as Exhibit A, are definitions of terms that are used in the analysis below.

Analysis. The class equalization rates described above produce prospective current base proportions that show a substantial increase in Class 1 above the Fiscal 2004 adjusted base proportions, or "class shares" (as shown in column R of SBRPS Form RP-6700 attached to the above-captioned resolution), and decreases for Classes 2, 3 and 4. Under current law, if the increase in any class exceeds 5 percent, the Council is directed to shift the excess (and only the excess) to any other class or classes as long as the shift does not cause the current base proportion of any other class to increase by more than the 5 percent limit. In the above-captioned resolution, the excess above 5 percent from Class 1 would be shifted to Classes 3 and 4.

Class	Percent Change Before Shifting Excess to Classes 3 & 4	Percent Change After Shifting Excess to Classes 3 & 4
4	-3.79	+0.55

However, these "current base proportions" must still be adjusted for the physical changes and transfers among classes which are contained in the final assessment roll. These adjustments will be made in a separate resolution constituting the Council's second step. The "adjusted base proportions" thus derived will be the class shares used for allocating the real property tax levy for Fiscal 2005.

EXHIBIT A

"Class equalization rate" represents the percentage that the total assessed value of each class is of the market value of the class, as shown in SBRPS sample studies.

"Base percentage" represents the percentage of total market value that each class constitutes in the 1989 base tax roll. The 1989 base tax roll is the one that was used in setting the tax levy for Fiscal 1990.

"Current percentage" is similar to the base percentage, but applies to the most recent year for which the SBRPS has established class equalization rates (in this case, the 2003 tax roll).

"Local base proportions" are the class tax shares used to fix the tax rates for Fiscal 1991.

"Current base proportions" are the local base proportions modified to take into account the market value changes revealed by the latest class equalization rates.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

(For text of the resolution, please see the Introduction and Reading of Bills section printed in these Minutes.)

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 24, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction. The above-captioned resolution completes the certification procedure required by Section 1803-a, Real Property Tax Law, to establish the class shares used in levying the real property taxes for the adopted Fiscal 2005 budget.

In a separate resolution, the Council computed and certified the current base proportions for Fiscal 2005 (the "CBP Resolution"). The above-captioned resolution uses those current base proportions, together with data supplied by the New York City Department of Finance from the final assessment roll on May 25, 2004, to determine the adjusted base proportions (or class shares) in accordance with the procedure established by the State Board of Real Property Services (the "SBRPS").

The current base proportion for each class of real property takes into account the market value changes in the class occurring between the assessment roll for the base period, 1989, and the latest roll for which SBRPS has established class equalization rates, 2003. The CBP Resolution modified the class shares for the Fiscal 2005 property tax levy accordingly. The remaining step, to be taken in the above-captioned resolution, adjusts these current base proportions to take account of the various physical changes (such as demolitions, new construction, changes in exempt status and transfers among classes) that are reflected in the new final assessment roll. The computations called for in the SBRPS procedure are designed to separate the effects of these physical changes from equalization changes made by local assessors.

Analysis. The calculations shown on the SBRPS Form RP-6702 attached to the above-captioned resolution modify the share for each class to reflect physical changes. For Fiscal 2005, all classes show modest physical increases, resulting in the following changes. The Fiscal 2005 adjusted base proportions for Classes 1 and 4 show slight decreases from the Fiscal 2005 current base proportions, while the changes for Classes 2 and 3 show increases of 0.20 percent and 6.5 percent, respectively, from their current base proportions. However, the changes from the adjusted base proportions from Fiscal 2004 to Fiscal 2005, as reported in the table below, show increases of 4.2 percent for Class 1 and 3.8 percent for Class 3, but decreases of 1.9 percent for Class 2 and less than one percent for Class 4. (Last year's increase in class shares was capped at 2.0 percent.)

Comparison of Class Shares for Fiscal 2004 and Fiscal 2005
Class	Fiscal 2004	Fiscal 2005	Percent Change
1	14.0902	14.6854	+4.22
2	35.5629	34.8724	-1.94
3	7.1175	7.3902	+3.83
4	43.2294	43.0520	-0.41
Total	100.0000	100.0000

The tax rates resulting from the use of class shares shown above for Fiscal 2005 are compared to the Fiscal 2004 tax rates in the following table. The Fiscal 2004 tax rates are the rates effective for Fiscal 2004, as adopted on November 19, 2003:

Comparison of Tax Rates for Fiscal 2004 and Fiscal 2005 (Per $100 Assessed Value)
Class	Fiscal 2004	Fiscal 2005	$ Difference
1	14.550	15.094	+0.544
2	12.620	12.216	-0.404
3	12.418	12.553	+0.135
4	11.431	11.558	+0.127

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

Recommending changes in the Proposed City Fiscal Year 2005 Community Development Program, Proposed Reallocation of Thirtieth Year Community Development Funds, and Proposed Thirty-First Year Community Development Program, as modified, for City Fiscal Year 2005.

The Committee on Finance respectfully

REPORTS:

The Proposed City Fiscal Year 2005 Community Development Program, Proposed Reallocation of Thirtieth Year Community Development Funds, and Proposed Thirty-First Year Community Development Program were submitted by the Mayor to the Council on April 26, 2004 and referred to the Committee on Finance. The Committee on Finance held hearings on May 6, 7,10,11,12,13,14,17,18, 20, 21, and 24, 2004. The testimony elicited at these hearings regarding the budget as a whole and with respect to specific needs and projects was supplemented by further data developed at the meetings of the Committee on Finance, and from Council staff and representatives of City agencies. The primary concern of the Committee was that the funding contained in the Proposed City Fiscal Year 2005 Community Development Program would meet the actual and perceived needs of the communities the City of New York comprises.

In its deliberations, the Committee on Finance took into consideration the testimony of the citizenry at the public hearings and the information furnished by Council Members, staff assistants and City agencies.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

The Committee recommends a Reallocated Thirtieth Year Community Development Program totaling (see page 4, line 2).

The Committee recommends a Thirty-First Year Community Development Program totaling (see page 4, line 3). The Committee makes this recommendation with the stipulation that the portion of the Thirty-First Year Community Development budget which will be spent in City Fiscal Year 2006 and not City Fiscal Year 2005 will be subject to review and reallocation in the City Fiscal Year 2006 Community Development budget recommendations to be made in June, 2005.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

The discount applies to the prepayment of second, third and fourth quarter installments of real estate taxes.

[1] The Banking Commission's resolution was adopted prior to the Charter-mandated date for the transmitting of this recommendation to the Council, which is May 15th, but the letter to the Speaker accompanying the resolution was not dated until May 20th.

Local Law No. 44 of 1978 repealed and reenacted Section 17-151 of title seventeen of the Administrative Code to require that the New York City Banking Commission, not later than the 25th day of May in each year, transmit a written recommendation to the City Council of the proposed interest rate to be charged for non-payment of charges for work performed pursuant to a Board of Health or a Department of Health - now Department of Health and Mental Hygiene -order.

The Banking Commission forwarded, by letter, a recommendation to the City Council to establish an 18 percent per annum interest rate for such non-payments for fiscal year 2005. The laws mandate that the Banking Commission recommend an interest rate in both instances of at least six percent greater than the prevailing prime rate. Currently, according to the Banking Commission, the prime rate is 4%. Pursuant to Local Law No. 47 of 1990, all such interest required to be paid shall be compounded daily. Whereas, Such laws require the Banking Commission to propose a rate at least 6 percent per annum greater than the prevailing interest rates charged for commercial loans extended to prime borrowers by commercial banks operating in the City (the "Prime Rate"); and

Whereas, The Banking Commission notes that the Prime Rate is currently 4%; and

Whereas, It is in the best interest of the City to encourage the prompt payment of taxes by all large taxpayers; and

Report for M-134

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving a Communication from the New York City Banking Commission regarding the transmittal of a recommendation that the interest rate to be charged for Fiscal Year 2005 for non-payment of water rents and sewer rents be eighteen percent (18%) where the annual tax on parcel is more than $2,750 or where taxes are held in escrow or where parcel consists of vacant or unimproved land, and nine percent (9%) in all other cases.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 21, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

INTENT:

Local Law 47 of 1976 amended sections 11-312 and 11-313 of title eleven of the Administrative Code to require that the New York City Banking Commission, not later than the 25th day of May of each year, transmit a written recommendation to the City Council of the proposed interest rate to be charged for non-payment of water and sewer rents.

The Banking Commission forwarded, by letter, a recommendation to the City Council to establish an 18 percent per annum interest rate for Fiscal Year 2005 for non-payment of water and sewer rents for any parcel where the annual real estate tax is more than $2,750, or for any parcel where the real estate taxes are held in escrow and paid to the Commissioner of Finance by a mortgage escrow agent, or where the parcel consists of vacant or unimproved land. In these cases, the law rates that the Banking Commission recommend an interest rate at least six percent greater than the prevailing prime rate. Pursuant to Local Law Number 47 of 1990, all such interest required to be paid shall be compounded daily. For fiscal years 1997 through 2004 the rate adopted was also 18%.

The 18% rate recommended by the Banking Commission is 14% greater than the current prime rate which the Banking Commission notes is 4%. Last year, the rate recommended was 13.75% greater than the prevailing prime rate and in the two preceding years the rate was 13.25% and 11% greater, respectively.

The Banking Commission also recommended that the interest rate for Fiscal Year 2005 to be charged for non-payment of water and sewer rents for all other parcels where the annual tax is not more than two thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($2,750) remain at 9%. The law requires the interest rate to be charged for non-payment of water and sewer rents on these parcels to be at least equal to the prime rate.

This Resolution would take effect immediately and would be deemed to have been in effect as of July 1, 2004.

Res. No. 414

Resolution to establish that the interest rate to be charged for Fiscal Year 2005 for non-payment of water rents and sewer rents be 18% per annum for any parcel where the annual real estate tax is more than $2,750 or where the real estate taxes are held in escrow and paid to the Commissioner of Finance by a mortgage escrow agent or where the parcel consists of vacant or unimproved land; and 9% per annum in all other cases.

By Council Member Weprin

On motion of the Speaker (Council Member Miller), and adopted, the foregoing matter was coupled as a General Order for the day (see ROLL CALL ON GENERAL ORDERS FOR THE DAY).

At this point the Speaker (Council Member Miller) announced that the following item had been preconsidered by the Committee on Finance and had been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for M-185

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving a Communication from the Office of Management & Budget submitted pursuant to Section 107(b) of the New York City Charter, transfer City funds between various agencies in fiscal year 2004 to implement changes to the City's expense budget. (MN - 5)

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 24, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction. At a meeting of the Committee on Finance of the City Council of the City of New York on June 24, 2004, the Committee on Finance received a communication, dated June 24, 2004 from the Office of Management and Budget of the Mayor of The City of New York, of a proposed request, (the "Modification"), to modify units of appropriation and transfer city funds between units of appropriation in the Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget (as defined below) pursuant to Section 107(b) of the Charter of the City of New York (the "Charter").

Analysis. The Council annually adopts the City's budget covering expenditures other than for capital projects (the "expense budget") pursuant to Section 254 of the Charter. On June 27, 2003, the Council adopted the expense budget for fiscal year 2004 (the "Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget"). This modification (MN-5) represents the transfer of funds within and between various agencies in the amount of $1,242,009,532 in the Fiscal 2004 Adopted Budget and results in the reduction of the General Reserve by $39.5 million and the Budget Stabilization Account by $322.4 million.. These funds are used to support some of the needs identified in the Executive Financial Plan and needs arising since then.

If the Mayor wishes to transfer part or all of any unit of appropriation to another unit of appropriation from one agency to another or such that the transfer results in any unit of appropriation being increased or decreased by the greater of five percent or $50,000, Section 107(b) of the Charter requires that the Mayor must first notify the Council of the proposed action. Within 30 days after the first stated meeting of the Council following receipt of such notice, the Council may disapprove such proposed action. If the Council fails to approve or disapprove such proposed action within such 30-day period, the proposed action becomes effective and the Mayor has the authority to make such transfer.

Description of Above-captioned Resolution. In the above-captioned resolution, the Council would approve the Modification pursuant to Section 107(b) of the Charter. Such resolution would take effect as of the date of adoption.

Res. No. 433

RESOLUTION APPROVING THE MODIFICATION (MN-5) OF UNITS OF APPROPRIATION AND THE TRANSFER OF CITY FUNDS BETWEEN AGENCIES PROPOSED BY THE MAYOR PURSUANT TO SECTION 107(b) OF THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

By Council Member Weprin

Whereas, at a meeting of the Committee on Finance of the City Council of the City of New York (the "City Council") on June 24, 2004, the Committee on Finance received a communication, dated June 24, 2004, from the Office of Management and Budget of the Mayor of The City of New York (the "Mayor"), of a proposed request, attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "Modification"), to modify units of appropriation and transfer city funds in the amount of $1,242,009,532 between various agencies in the Fiscal Year 2004 expense budget as adopted by the Council on June 27, 2003, pursuant to Section 107(b) of the Charter of the City of New York (the "Charter"); and

Whereas, pursuant to Section 107(b) of the Charter, the City Council has thirty (30) days after the first stated meeting of the City Council following such receipt within which to act upon the Modification;

NOW, THEREFORE, The Council of The City of New York hereby resolves as follows:

1. Approval of Modification. The City Council hereby approves, pursuant to Section 107(b) of the Charter, the actions proposed by the Mayor as set forth in the Modification.

2. Effective Date. This resolution shall take effect as of the date hereof.

ATTACHMENT: Exhibit A

TO THE CITY COUNCIL

Dear Council Members:

In accordance with Section 107(b) of the New York City Charter, I request your approval to transfer City funds between various agencies in fiscal year 2004 to implement changes to the City's expense budget.

This modification - MN 5 - will implement expense budget changes, which were reflected in the City's Executive Financial Plan modification, as well as changes recognized as part of the FY 2005 Adoption process.

This modification reduces the General Reserve in the Miscellaneous Budget by $39.5 million and the Budget Stabilization Account in the City's Debt Service budget by $322.4 million.

Appendix A details the State, Federal and other funds impacted by these changes.

Your approval of modification - MN 5 - is respectfully requested.

Yours truly,

Mark Page

On motion of the Speaker (Council Member Miller), and adopted, the foregoing matter was coupled as a General Order for the day (see ROLL CALL ON GENERAL ORDERS FOR THE DAY).

Report for M-186

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving, as modified, a Communication from the Office of Management and Budget submitted pursuant to Section 107(e) of the New York City Charter, appropriate new revenues of $ 1.35 billion in fiscal year 2004. (MN - 6)

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 24, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction. At the meeting of the Committee on Finance of the City Council on June 24th, 2004, the Council received a communication, from the Office of Management and Budget of the Mayor, dated June 24th, 2004, of a proposed request to modify, pursuant to Section 107(e) of the Charter of the City of New York, the Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget, and the revenue estimate related thereto prepared by the Mayor as of June 27, 2003, pursuant to Section 1515(a) of the Charter.

Analysis. The Council annually adopts the City's budget covering expenditures pursuant to Section 254 of the Charter. On June 27, 2003, the Council adopted the expense budget for fiscal year 2004 (the "Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget"). On June 27, 2003, the Mayor submitted to the Council a revenue estimate related to the Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget. Circumstances have changed since the Council adopted the Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget.

Section 107(e) provides one mechanism for the Mayor and the Council to amend the expense budget and related revenue estimate to reflect changes in circumstances that occur after adoption of a budget. Section 107(e) permits the modification of the budget in order to create new units of appropriation, to appropriate new revenues from any source other than categorical federal, state and private funding or to use previously unappropriated funds received from any source.

Discussion of Above-captioned Resolution. The above-captioned resolution would authorize the modifications to the Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget and related revenue estimate requested in the Communication.

This revenue modification provides for a decrease of $98 million to the Budget Stabilization Account ("BSA") in the Fiscal 2004 debt service budget. The Fiscal 2004 BSA balance is used to prepay a portion of Fiscal 2005 long term-debt service and other permissible prepayments of Fiscal 2005 expenses as found in Exhibit A.

The resolution would also direct the City Clerk to forward a certified copy thereof to the Mayor and the Comptroller so that Mayor, the Comptroller and the City Clerk may certify the Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget as amended thereby as the budget for the remainder of the fiscal year. The above-captioned resolution would take effect as of the date adopted.

(The following is the text of the Fiscal Impact Memo to the Finance Committee from the Finance Division of the New York City Council:)

Speaker

Honorable David Weprin
Chairman, Finance Committee

FROM: Pablo Zangerle
Deputy Director, Finance Division

DATE: June 24, 2004

SUBJECT: A Preconsidered Budget Modification (MN-6) for Fiscal 2004 that will recognize a net increase in revenues of $1,354,756,902.

INITIATION: By letter dated April 24, 2004, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget submitted to the Council pursuant to section 107(e) of the New York City Charter a request to increase revenues by $1,354,756,902.

BACKGROUND: This modification (MN-6) seeks to increase revenues in the net amount of $1,354,756,902 for Fiscal 2004. This amount includes an additional $1.17 billion in tax revenue, an increase in unrestricted aid of $38.2 million, and increases in miscellaneous revenue sources of $149.3 million.

This revenue modification provides for a decrease of $98 million to the Budget Stabilization Account ("BSA") in the Fiscal 2004 debt service budget. The Fiscal 2004 BSA balance is used to prepay a portion of Fiscal 2005 long term-debt service and other permissible prepayments of Fiscal 2005 expenses as found in Exhibit A.

FISCAL IMPACT: This modification represents a net increase in the Fiscal 2004 budget of $1,354,756,902.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

Res. No. 434

Resolution approving a modification pursuant to Section 107(e) of the Charter of the City of New York.

By Council Member Weprin

Whereas, on June 24th 2004, the Committee on Finance of the City Council received a communication, dated June 24th, 2004, from the Mayor's Office of Management and Budget, of a proposed request to recognize a net increase in revenue pursuant to Section 107(e) of the Charter of the City of New York, attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "Request to Appropriate"); and

Whereas, Section 107(e) of the Charter requires the City Council and the Mayor to follow the procedures and required approvals pursuant to Sections 254, 255 and 256 of the Charter, without regard to the dates specified therein, in the case of the proposed appropriation of any new revenues and the creation of new units of appropriation; and

Whereas, Section 107(e) of the Charter requires that any request by the Mayor respecting an amendment of the budget that involves a increase in the budget shall be accompanied by a statement of the source of current revenues or other identifiable and currently available funds required for the payment of such additional amounts, attached hereto as Exhibit B (together with the Request to Appropriate, the "Revenue Modification");

NOW, THEREFORE, the Council of the City of New York hereby resolves as follows:

1. Approval of Modification. The City Council hereby approves the Revenue Modification pursuant to Section 107(e) of the Charter.

2. Further Actions. The City Council directs the City Clerk to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the Mayor and the Comptroller as soon as practicable so that the Mayor, the Comptroller and the City Clerk may certify the Fiscal 2004 Expense Budget as amended by this resolution as the budget for the remainder of the fiscal year.

3. Effective Date. This resolution shall take effect as of the date hereof.

Exhibit A

June 24, 2004

TO THE CITY COUNCIL

Dear Council Members:

In accordance with Section 107(e) of the New York City Charter, I seek your approval to appropriate new revenues of $1.35 billion in fiscal. year 2004.

The $1.35 billion of new revenues results from forecasted increases in tax revenues of $1.17 billion, a net increase in unrestricted aid of $38.2 million and increases in miscellaneous revenues of $149.3 million.

This modification - MN 6 - provides for a grant of $400.0 million to the Transitional Finance Authority, the prepayment of $208.7 million of certain cash based Transit Authority subsidy payments, the prepayment of $112.5 million to the City's Library Systems, the prepayment of $70.8 million of Lease Purchase Debt Service, the prepayment of $159.3 million to the Health & Hospitals Corporation, the payment of $501.5 million of Municipal Assistance Corporation Debt Service in new unit of appropriation 001 and reduces the Budget Stabilization Account in the City's Debt Service budget by $98.1 million.

This modification also transfers within the Miscellaneous Budget $200.0 million from unit of appropriation 002 to new unit of appropriation 004 Pay As You Go Capital/Prepayment of Outstanding Debt.

Your approval of modification MN - 6 is respectfully requested.

Yours truly,

Mark Page

Report for M-187

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving a Communication from the Chancellor regarding the submission of the five-year educational facilities capital plan for 2005-2009.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 24, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction. At a meeting of the Committee on Finance of the City Council of the City of New York on October 15, 2003, the Committee on Finance received a communication, dated June 24, 2004 from the Chancellor of the New York City Public Schools, transmitting the Five-Year Educational Facilities Capital Plan for 2005-2009. This resolution constitutes the Council's approval of the Chancellor's Five Year Educational Facilities Capital Plan for the City's public school system for the period from July 1, 2004 until June 30, 2009. Council approval of the Plan is required pursuant to Section 2590-p of the State Education Law.

Analysis. The State Education Law sets forth a planning process for repair, maintenance and construction work in the City's public school facilities. Section 2590-p of the Education Law requires the Chancellor to prepare five-year educational facilities capital plans ("plans"). These plans are required to break down the work proposed to be performed on the school facilities into categories called program elements and to provide cost estimates and start and completion dates for design and construction of projects. The current plan ends on June 30, 2004. The plan, which is the subject of the Chancellor's Communication and this Resolution, covers the period from July 1, 2004 until June 30, 2005.

Section 2590-p of the Education Law requires the Chancellor to produce a proposed plan by November 1st of the year prior to the start of the plan period. The law requires the plan to be submitted to the Community District Education Councils who are to hold public hearings. The Chancellor then revises the plan and submits a final proposed plan to the City Board (now the Panel for Education Policy) no later than February 1st for its approval on or before March 1st Since the 2002 State School Governance Legislation brought the City School System under increased local control, section 2590-p now requires the Council and the Mayor to approve the plan before it is final. This is the first plan since these amendments to the Education Law and thus this is the first time a plan has been submitted to the Council for its approval.

In accordance with section 2590-p, the Chancellor prepared a proposed plan in November 2003 and submitted it to the Community District Education Councils. Amendments to the plan were made and a final proposed plan was submitted to the Panel for Education Policy in February and adopted shortly thereafter. The plan calls for an expenditure of $13.1 billion over the five-year plan period and relies on State funding for half of that amount.

Over the course of the last six months, the Council has engaged in extensive discussions and negotiations with the Department of Education (DOE) over the content and specifics of the proposed and final proposed Five-Year Educational Facilities Capital Plan. These negotiations have resulted in changes to the plan's content, as well as the addition of more specific information to it. This revised document is the Five-Year Educational Facilities Capital Plan for 2005-2009 that has been submitted to the Council.

In addition, as a condition to Council approval of the Plan, the Council, the Chancellor and the Mayor agreed to a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU). The MOU attempts to balance DOE's need for flexibility in the planning process required by changing circumstances with the Council's need for specificity with regard to the projects proposed to be undertaken in the Plan's out-years, before the Council's approval of such projects. The MOU accomplishes this by providing for an annual amendment process as well as an amendment if there is a shortfall in State funding relied upon to finance the plan.

Description of Above-captioned Resolution. In the above-captioned resolution, the Council would approve the Five Year Educational Facilities Capital Plan for 2005-2009.

On motion of the Speaker (Council Member Miller), and adopted, the foregoing matter was coupled as a General Order for the day (see ROLL CALL ON GENERAL ORDERS FOR THE DAY).

At this point the Speaker (Council Member Miller) announced that the following item had been preconsidered by the Committee on Finance and had been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for M-189

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving the Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving a resolution of the Council of the City of New York fixing the tax rate for the Fiscal Year 2005, adopted June 24, 2004 upon the recommendation of the Committee on Finance of the Council.

The Committee on Finance to which was referred on June 24, 2004 the annexed communication respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction. On April 26, 2004, the Mayor submitted the executive budget for Fiscal 2005 to the Council pursuant to Section 249 of the Charter. On the date hereof, the Council adopted the budget for Fiscal 2005 pursuant to Section 254 of the Charter (the "Fiscal 2005 Budget"). Pursuant to Section 1516 of the Charter, the Council must fix the annual real property tax rates immediately upon such approval of the Fiscal 2005 Budget. In the resolution, captioned above, fixing the real property tax rates for Fiscal 2005 (the "Tax Fixing Resolution"), the Council fixes the annual real property tax rates, as described in greater detail below, and authorizes the levy of real property taxes for Fiscal 2005.

Determining the Amount of the Real Property Tax Levy. In the Tax Fixing Resolution, the Council determines the amount of the real property tax levy for Fiscal 2005, pursuant to the provisions of Section 1516 of the Charter, in the following manner. (1) First, the Council acknowledges the amount of the Fiscal 2005 Budget to be $47,209,537,582, as set forth in the communication from the Mayor pursuant to Section 1515(a) of the Charter (the "Fiscal 2005 Budget Amount"). (2) The Council then acknowledges the estimate of the probable amount of all non-property tax revenues to be $35,659,857,582, as set forth in the communication from the Mayor pursuant to Section 1515(a) of the Charter (the "Fiscal 2005 Revenue Estimate"). (Attached hereto as Exhibit A is a description of the Fiscal 2005 Revenue Estimate, detailing all sources of revenues exclusive of real property taxes.) (3) Pursuant to Section 1516 of the Charter, the Council finally determines the net amount required to be raised by tax on real property to be $11,549,680,000 by subtracting the amount of the Fiscal 2005 Revenue Estimate from the Fiscal 2005 Budget Amount.

In order to achieve a real property tax yield of $11,549,680,000, however, due to provision for uncollectible taxes and refunds and collection of levies from prior years equal in the aggregate to $1,170,368,530, the Council determines that a real property tax levy of $12,720,048,530 is required. Such amount, levied at rates on the classes of real property as further described below will produce a balanced budget within generally accepted accounting principles for municipalities.

The Council also provides for the application of the real property tax levy (net of provision for uncollectible taxes and refunds and collection of levies from prior years) to (1) debt service not subject to the constitutional operating limit, (2) debt service subject to the constitutional operating limit and (3) the Fiscal 2005 Budget in excess of the amount of the Fiscal 2005 Revenue Estimate.

Authorizing and Fixing the Real Property Tax Rates. After having determined the amount of the real property tax levy, the Council authorizes and fixes the real property tax rates. On May 25, 2004, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance (the "Commissioner") delivered the certified assessment rolls for all real property assessable for taxation in the City in each borough thereof for Fiscal 2005 to the Council, pursuant to Section 1514 of the Charter (the "Fiscal 2005 Assessment Rolls"). On June 24, 2004, the Council adopted a resolution in which the Council computed and certified the current base proportion, the current percentage and the base percentage of each class of real property in the City for Fiscal 2005 pursuant to Section 1803-a(1), Real Property Tax Law (the "Current Base Proportion Resolution"). On June 24, 2004, pursuant to Section 1803-a, Real Property Tax Law, the Council adopted a resolution in which the Council adjusted the current base proportions of each class of real property in the City for Fiscal 2005, to reflect the additions to, and full or partial removal from, the Fiscal 2005 Assessment Rolls (the "Adjusted Base Proportion Resolution").

The following sections describe the determinations the Council must make before it fixes the real property tax rates and the process by which the Council fixes the real property tax rates.

Assessed Valuation Calculations. In the Tax Fixing Resolution, the Council sets out the assessed valuation calculations of taxable real property in the City by class within each borough of the City. Next, the Council sets out the assessed valuation (1) by class of real property for the purpose of taxation (exclusive of the assessed valuation of veterans' real property exempt under state law from tax for general purposes but subject to tax for school purposes) in each borough of the City and (2) by class of veterans' real property subject to tax for school purposes in each borough of the City.

Compliance with Constitutional Operating Limit Provisions. In the Tax Fixing Resolution, the Council also provides evidence of compliance with constitutional operating limit provisions. The Council determines that the amount to be levied by tax on real property for the Fiscal 2005 Budget does not exceed the limit imposed by Section 10, Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of New York, as amended, and Article 12-A, Real Property Tax Law (the "Operating Limit Provisions"). The Operating Limit Provisions require that the City not levy taxes on real property in any fiscal year in excess of an amount equal to a combined total of two and one-half percent (2 ½ %)of the average full valuation of taxable real property, determined by taking the assessed valuations of taxable real property on the last completed assessment roll and the four (4) preceding assessment rolls of the City and applying thereto the special equalization ratio which such assessed valuations of each such roll bear to the full valuations as fixed and determined by the State Office of Real Property Services ("ORPS"), minus (i) the amount to be raised by tax on real property in such year for the payment of the interest on and the redemption of certificates of other evidence of indebtedness described in the Constitution and (ii) the aggregate amount of business improvement district charges exclusive of debt service.

Adjusted Base Proportions. The Tax Fixing Resolution sets forth the adjusted base proportions for Fiscal 2005, pursuant to the Adjusted Base Proportion Resolution, to be used in determining the Fiscal 2005 tax rates for the four classes of properties.

Tax Rates on Adjusted Base Proportions. Finally, in the Tax Fixing Resolution, the Council authorizes and fixes, pursuant to Section 1516 of the Charter, the rates of tax for Fiscal 2005 by class (1) upon each dollar of assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation for all purposes of, and within, the City, as fixed in cents and thousandths of a cent per dollar of assessed valuation, as follows:

All One-, Two- and Three-Family Residential Real Property 0.15094

Utility Real Property 0.12553

All Other Real Property 0.11558

and (2) upon each dollar of assessed valuation of veterans' real property exempt under state law from tax for general purposes but subject to tax for school purposes of, and within, the City, as fixed in cents and thousandths of a cent per dollar of assessed valuation, as follows:

All One-, Two- and Three-Family Residential Real Property 0.08225

All Other Real Property 0.06335

Authorization of the Levy of Property Taxes for Fiscal 2005. The Council authorizes and directs the Commissioner, pursuant to Section 1517 of the Charter, to set down in the Fiscal 2005 Assessment Rolls, opposite the several sums set down as the valuation of real property, the respective sums to be paid as a tax thereon and a and set down the aggregate valuations of real property in the boroughs of the City and send a certificate of aggregate valuation in each such borough to the State Comptroller. The Tax Fixing Resolution then requires the City Clerk to procure the proper warrants, in the form attached thereto, such warrants to be signed by the Public Advocate, and counter-signed by the City Clerk.

The Tax Fixing Resolution would take effect as of the date of adoption.

FOOTNOTES

(1) In accordance with Accounting Systems Directive No. 7 of the State Comptroller, Fiscal 2005 expenditures of the Municipal Assistance Corporation of The City of New York (MAC) have been treated only for accounting purposes of the City as if they were City expenditures. Consequently, these estimates of General Fund receipts for Fiscal 2005 do not reflect anticipated reductions in amounts to be received by the City from the four percent sales tax levied in the City by the State, from the stock transfer tax and from per capita State aid. In fact, the expenditures of MAC are to be appropriated by the State from the sales tax levied in the City by the State, from the stock transfer tax and from per capita State aid otherwise payable to the City; any remaining funds from these sources are to be appropriated by the State to the City. Thus, the expenditures of MAC reduce the funds which may be appropriated and paid to the City from these sources. The presentation of MAC expenditures, instead of showing MAC expenditures as reductions in anticipated City revenues, is made solely to comply with Accounting Systems Directive No. 7 and has no bearing on the statutory relationship between the City and MAC; see Section 3016 of the Public Authorities Law.

In connection herewith, Council Member Weprin offered the following resolution:

By Council Member Weprin.

Whereas, on April 26, 2004, pursuant to the Section 249 of the Charter of the City of New York ("the Charter"), the Mayor of the City of New York (the "Mayor") submitted to the Council of the City of New York (the "Council"), the executive budget for the support of the government of the City of New York and the counties therein (collectively, the "City") for the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 2004 and ending on June 30, 2005 ("Fiscal 2005"); and

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved by The Council of The City of New York as follows:

a. Determining the Amount of the Real Property Tax Levy.

(i) The total amount of the Fiscal 2005 Budget as set forth in the Fiscal 2005 Budget Statement is $47,209,537,582.

(ii) The estimate of the probable amount of receipts into the City treasury during Fiscal 2005 from all the sources of revenue of the general fund and all receipts other than those of the general fund and taxes on real property as set forth in the Fiscal 2005 Revenue Estimate is $35,659,857,582.

(iii) Pursuant to Section 1516 of the Charter, the Council hereby determines that the amount required to be raised by tax on real property shall be $11,549,680,000, which is derived from deducting the amount set forth in the Fiscal 2005 Revenue Estimate from the amount of the Fiscal 2005 Budget.

(iv) In order to achieve a real property tax yield of $11,549,680,000 due to provision for uncollectible taxes and refunds and collection of levies from prior years, the Council hereby determines that a real property tax levy of $12,720,048,530 will be required, calculated as follows:

The Council hereby determines that such amount, levied at such rates on the classes of real property pursuant to paragraph (iv) of subsection b below will produce a balanced budget within generally accepted accounting principles for municipalities.

(v) The real property tax levy, net of provision for uncollectible taxes and refunds and the collection of levies from prior years, determined pursuant to clause (iv) above shall be applied as follows:

(A) For payment of debt service not subject to the 2 1/2 percent tax limitation	$2,256,911,388

(A) The Operating Limit Provisions require that the City not raise an amount by tax on real property in any fiscal year in excess of an amount equal to a combined total of two and one-half percent (2 1/2 %) of the average full valuation of taxable real property, less (i) the amount to he raised by tax on real property in such year for the payment of the interest on and the redemption of certificates or other evidence of indebtedness described therein and (ii) the aggregate amount of district charges, exclusive of debt service, imposed in such year by business improvement districts pursuant to Article 19-A, General Municipal Law.

Reports of the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services

Report for Int. No. 247

Report of the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services in favor of approving and adopting a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to mechanical refrigeration and to repeal subchapter 18 of chapter 4 of title 27 relating to mechanical refrigeration.

The Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1114) the annexed proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

On June 23, 2004, the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services, chaired by Council Member Yvette Clarke, will hold a hearing on Int. 247, a local law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to mechanical refrigeration and to repeal subchapter 18 of chapter 4 of title 27 relating to mechanical refrigeration. Those expected to testify include representatives of the Fire Department and fire unions. The Committee previously considered Int. 247 on April 26, 2004.

II. Background

The requirements in the Fire Prevention Code governing mechanical refrigeration systems installed on or after December 6, 1968 are outdated or superceded by Building Code Reference Standard RS 13-6, which incorporates the 1978 American Society of Heating and Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE) 15 standard. The 2001 edition of the ASHRAE 15 standard reclassifies existing refrigerants and classifies new refrigerants with greater emphasis on toxicity and flammability.

III. Int. 247

Int. 247 would repeal and re-enact Subchapter 18 of the Fire Prevention Code, which regulates the installation and testing of mechanical refrigeration systems. As indicated in the Memorandum in Support of Int. 247, "the new Article 1 would retain and clarify the operating requirements for refrigerating systems, including the requirement that a Fire Department permit be obtained for such systems and that they be operated by a refrigerating system operating engineer holding a Fire department certificate of qualification." The Article "would use the refrigerant classifications to be set forth in new amendments to Building Code Reference Standard RS 13-6, to be adopted in conjunction with this local law, and would include a new §27-4191 and a new table, which together would clarify the requirements for supervision of refrigerating systems when they are in operation."

The standards for systems installed before December 6, 1968 are contained in Subchapter 18, and Article 2 clarifies they would remain unchanged after repeal and re-enactment of the subchapter. Article 2 also specifies that the standards for systems installed on or after December 6, 1968 are governed by Reference Standard RS 13-6.

The bill would amend related sections of the Fire Prevention Code. As explained in the Memorandum in Support, "Section 27-4002 would be amended to make the term 'department' a defined term meaning the Fire Department, and to include a definition for 'refrigerating system,' which is presently set forth in §27-4112 (qq) in a provision of Subchapter 18 that is to be repealed. Section 27-4026 would be amended to substitute the term 'refrigerating system operating engineer' for the existing term 'qualified refrigeration operator.'"

The bill would also amend related sections of the Building Code. The Memorandum in Support indicates that "Section 27-106 would be amended to give the Fire Department the ability to enforce Building Code provisions governing the maintenance and operation of refrigerating systems and oil-burning equipment, and those requiring the posting and/or on-site availability of certificates of occupancy and equipment use permits (Buildings Department approvals needed to obtain Fire Department operating permits). Section 27-184 would be amended to refer to the new refrigerant classification standards to be set forth in new amendments to Building Code Reference Standard RS 13-6."

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

(For text of the bill, please see the Report of the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services for Int. No. 247 printed in the Minutes of the Stated Council Meeting of march 10, 2004, page 1114.)

Report for Int. No. 248

Report of the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services in favor of approving and adopting, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York in relation to flammables and combustibles and penalties recoverable in proceedings before the environmental control board, and to repeal subdivision c of section 27-4065, subdivision b of section 27-4069, and subdivisions a, b and c of section 27-4070, to repeal and reenact subdivisions 10 and 22 of section 27-4002, sections 27-4015, 27-4063, 27-4064, 27-4066, 27-4067, 27-4068 and 27-4070 of such code.

The Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1119) the annexed proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

On June 23, 2004, the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services, chaired by Council Member Yvette Clarke, will hold a hearing on Int. 248, a local law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York in relation to flammables and combustibles and penalties recoverable in proceedings before the environmental control board, and to repeal subdivision c of section 27-4065, subdivision b of section 27-4069, and subdivisions a, b and c of section 27-4070, to repeal and reenact subdivisions 10 and 22 of section 27-4002, sections 27-4015, 27-4063, 27-4064, 27-4066, 27-4067, 27-4068 and 27-4070 of such code. The Committee previously considered Int. 248 on April 26, 2004.

II. Background

As discussed in past Council hearings on the need to modernize the Fire Prevention Code, many sections of this code are outdated. Approximately 75% of the code's provisions are unchanged since 1970, 60% are unchanged since 1960, and 40% are unchanged since 1937 when the 1918 code was re-codified.[51] Moreover, in their report of the April 2002 Kaltech incident, the U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board recommended numerous changes to how hazardous materials are regulated under the code.

III. Int. 248

As indicated in the attached Memorandum of Support, this local law would update numerous sections of the Fire Prevention Code, including eliminating outdated provisions, conforming the code to federal and state laws and industry standards, and addressing recommendations of the U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board regarding the regulation of hazardous materials. Int. 248 would repeal provisions in three code sections, and repeal and reenact eight other code sections. The local would take effect 120 days after its enactment into law.

ATTACHMENT to Committee Report

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT

TITLE: A LOCAL LAW to amend the administrative code of the city of New York in relation to flammables and combustibles and penalties recoverable in proceedings before the environmental control board, and to repeal subdivision c of section 27-4065, subdivision b of section 27-4069, and subdivisions a, b and c of section 27-4070, to repeal and reenact subdivisions 10 and 22 of section 27-4002, sections 27-4015, 27-4063, 27-4064, 27-4066, 27-4067, 27-4068 and 27-4070 of such code

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS:

The proposed local law is part of the Fire Department's ongoing effort to modernize, streamline and clarify the New York City Fire Prevention Code (Chapter 4 of Title 27 of the New York City Administrative Code). The proposed local law would clarify and simplify the statutory provisions, eliminate unnecessary and outdated provisions, and, where appropriate, conform the Fire Prevention Code to federal and state laws and regulations or industry standards, including Model Fire Codes.

The proposed local law would amend the definitions of the terms "flammable mixture" and "combustible mixture" currently set forth, respectively, in Subdivisions 10 and 22 of Administrative Code Section 27-4002 to be consistent with applicable Federal regulations. As amended, the definitions would incorporate the definitions of such concepts set forth in the regulations of the federal agencies that regulate such materials, including the federal Hazardous Materials Transportation Uniform Safety Act, which governs the classification and packaging of hazardous materials. The amendment includes the adoption of the federal "closed cup" testing method in place of the "open cup" Tagliabue testing method to determine the flashpoint of mixtures. This technical change will not significantly affect the regulation of flammable or combustible materials under the Fire Prevention Code.

The proposed local law would clarify and simplify the Fire Prevention Code by eliminating the various provisions of Administrative Code Section 27-4063 setting forth separate prohibitions and standards for the manufacture, storage, transport, sale of specific flammable products, such as stove polish, metal polish and cleaning fluid, and replacing them with a general provision setting forth a permit requirement for the storage, sale, possession or use of flammable mixtures in quantities in excess of five gallons. The proposed local law would add a new section 27-4064 that would authorize the Fire Commissioner to adopt by rule more modern requirements. The similarly detailed, obsolete and/or federally-preempted provisions set forth in Administrative Code Section 27-4065(c) governing the size and construction of containers for a variety of specific flammable materials would be replaced by the basic requirements that storage containers be acceptable to the Fire Commissioner, approved for their intended use and identified as to their content, and not exceed a capacity of 5 gallons (60 gallons for metal drums), except as the Fire Commissioner may otherwise authorize by rule.

[51] Breaking down the Fire Prevention Code by its lettered subdivisions and ignoring definitions sections, the age of the code is approximately as follows: 8% (51 subdivisions) 1990-2003; 11% (73 subdivisions) 1980-1989; 7% (48 subdivisions) 1970-1979; 14% (95 subdivisions) 1960-1969; 19% (132 subdivisions) 1950-1959; 1% (9 subdivisions) 1938-1949; and 40% (269 subdivisions) 1937.

The existing provisions of Administrative Code Section 27-4066, which regulate in detail the transportation of flammable materials, including provisions that have been federally preempted, would be repealed. The proposed local law would regulate the transportation of flammable materials by retaining the existing requirement of a Fire Department permit to transport more than five gallons of flammable mixtures, and authorizing the Fire Commissioner to prescribe such other requirements as may be needed, provided that those requirements conform to Federal and State regulations when those regulations require consistency. This change will afford the Fire Commissioner the necessary flexibility to regulate this industry in the interest of public safety, consistent with ongoing changes in the regulatory environment.

The proposed local law would also regulate the storage and use of flammable mixtures in relation to their proximity to incompatible substances. The proposed local law would require that owners of establishments and persons engaged in the manufacture, storage or use of flammable mixtures in such facilities be familiar with the hazardous nature of the mixtures, and that they obtain a Certificate of Fitness evidencing such knowledge when the Fire Commissioner, by rule, determines that such licensing is necessary or appropriate.

The proposed local law would enact parallel changes with respect to combustible materials. The existing permit requirements of Administrate Code Section 27-4067, for the manufacture of combustibles, and for the storage, sale, or possession of more than ten gallons of combustible mixtures, would be retained. The outdated provisions of Section 27-4068 relating to carbon tetrachloride would be replaced with a general provision (paralleling Section 27-4064 for flammable materials) authorizing the Fire Commissioner to regulate combustible materials in the interest of public safety. The detailed, obsolete and/or federally-preempted provisions of Section 27-4069, regulating the size and construction of containers for combustible materials, and Section 27-4070, regulating the transportation of such materials, would be replaced with provisions paralleling those for flammable materials, except that the existing requirement for a permit to transport more than ten gallons of combustible mixtures would be retained.

The proposed local law would also clarify the process by which the Fire Commissioner approves for use fire safety-related equipment through the issuance of Fire Department certificates of approval. The requirement of a certificate of approval for containers would be eliminated; container requirements would be established by Fire Department rule. This regulatory approach would be less burdensome for the regulated industry, and would facilitate conformity with existing industry standards, the hazardous materials regulations of the United States Department of Transportation, and the regulations of the Consumer Product Safety Commission, with which industry is already required to comply.

The proposed local law would consolidate and clarify the existing fee provisions for certificates of approval set forth in Administrative Code Section 27-4026, without changing the amounts of the fees charged.

The proposed local law would amend Section 15-229 of the Administrative Code to clarify the penalties recoverable in proceedings before the Environmental Control Board for violations to any law, rule or regulation enforceable by the Fire Department.

REASONS FOR SUPPORT:

The proposed local law would clarify existing Fire Prevention Code provisions and procedures. It would eliminate provisions of the Fire Prevention Code that refer to outdated products and materials, or that have been preempted or rendered obsolete by Federal regulations or industry standards.

The proposed local law would also address the concerns and recommendations of the United States Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board, in their report of the April 25, 2002 explosion at the Kaltech facility in Manhattan. The Board recommended separation of incompatible materials, identification of container contents and assuring worker knowledge of the hazardous nature of the mixtures with which they work.

Such changes will be beneficial to the orderly regulation of flammable and combustible materials, as well as to the individuals and businesses affected by such regulations.

Accordingly, the Mayor urges the earliest possible favorable consideration of this legislation.

Respectfully submitted,

Report for Res. No. 71-A

Report of the Committee on Health in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to adopt A.5796 and S.4805, which would legalize the possession, manufacture, sale, administration, delivery, dispensing and distribution of marijuana in connection with medical use for certified patients.

The Committee on Health to which was referred on Health to which was referred on (Minutes, page) the attached annexed amended resolution respectfully

REPORTS:

BACKGROUND

On Monday, February 23, 2004, the Committee on Health held a hearing on Res. No. 71, which calls upon the New York State Legislature to adopt A.5796 and S.4805, legislation that would legalize the possession, manufacture, sale, administration, delivery, dispensing and distribution of marijuana in connection with medical use for certified patients. On May 4, 2004, A. 5796 was amended and introduced as A.5796-A. Today, June 24, 2004, the Health Committee will vote on Proposed Res. No. 71-A, which has been amended to reflect changes in A.5796-A.

Marijuana is a plant whose chemical properties have been found by scientists to have positive physical results for certain ailments when consumed by ingestion or smoking.[1] Marijuana contains cannabinoids, such as tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), which have proven to be effective in controlling nausea, appetite loss and anxiety.[2] Marijuana, when consumed to prevent or control the above-mentioned symptoms, is commonly referred to as medical marijuana.

Medical associations, including the National Academy of Sciences' Institute of Medicine (IOM), the American Preventive Medical Association (APMA), the American Public Health Association (APHA) and the New York State Nurses Association (NYSNA), support the use of medical marijuana as an effective and valuable treatment option for patients diagnosed with any one of a number of diseases and chronic conditions. For example, medical marijuana has been shown to reduce symptoms of severe pain, nausea, vomiting and appetite loss associated with HIV/AIDS and cancer.[3]

Medical marijuana has also been shown to be beneficial for patients managing glaucoma by lowering pressure within the eye, as well as for those suffering multiple sclerosis and epilepsy by reducing muscle spasms and seizures, respectively.[4]

With respect to HIV/AIDS patients, medical marijuana has been shown to be very effective in managing two major conditions associated with the disease- chronic pain and AIDS wasting syndrome (involuntary loss of more than 10% of body weight, plus more than 30 days of either diarrhea or weakness and fever).[5] Dr. Chinazo Cunningham, a physician who testified in support of A.5796 at a December 13, 2002, New York State Assembly Health Committee hearing on the bill, noted that some HIV/AIDS drug therapies, such as antiretroviral medications, can cause severe pain, and that some patients experience pain from HIV/AIDS itself. Dr. Cunningham testified that medical marijuana has proven to help manage pain in both cases, and that while other drugs are available to assist AIDS patients' painful and deteriorating symptoms, they can be very costly and have not been shown to be as effective as medical marijuana.

Opponents of medical marijuana often raise concerns that marijuana possesses dangerous or addictive qualities that will lead to higher rates of recreational use. However, advocates of medical marijuana argue that other drugs currently prescribed by doctors to manage pain, such as cocaine, morphine and methamphetamines, are in fact more deleterious and addictive than marijuana and point out that there is no lethal dose of marijuana. This has been substantiated by the IOM, which has reported that medical marijuana used to treat illness is less dangerous and less addictive than several other legal and controlled substances.[6]

ANALYSIS

New York State bills A.5796-A and S.4805 would mirror medical marijuana laws that have already been adopted in nine other states across the country, including Alaska, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Maryland, Maine, Nevada, Oregon and Washington. The intent of A.5796-A and S.4805 is to offer certified patients the option of utilizing medical marijuana in conjunction with their regular treatment and does not require its use over other complimentary drug treatments. Furthermore, A.5796-A would make medical marijuana available only under appropriate supervision by a physician and to those with serious health conditions that are life threatening or an associated condition or complication of such condition or its treatment. Finally, A.5796-A and S.4805 would strictly regulate the possession, manufacture, sale, administration, delivery, dispensing and distribution of marijuana in connection with medical use for certified patients.

Proposed Res. No. 71-A would state that New Yorkers suffering from HIV/AIDS, glaucoma, cancer, multiple sclerosis, epilepsy, chronic pain and other illnesses have long sought the right to use marijuana to treat their symptoms. Proposed Res. No. 71-A would note that the IOM has determined that "the accumulated data indicate a potential therapeutic value for cannabinoid drugs, particularly for symptoms such as pain relief, control of nausea and vomiting, and appetite stimulation [and] . . . [f]or patients, such as those with AIDS or undergoing chemotherapy, who suffer simultaneously from severe pain, nausea, and appetite loss, cannabinoid drugs might thus offer broad spectrum relief not found in any other single medication." Additionally, Proposed Res. No. 71-A would note that the National Commission of Marijuana and Drug Abuse reports that marijuana "has been used therapeutically from the earliest records, nearly 5,000 years ago . . . and its products have been widely noted for their effects, both physiological and psychological, throughout the world."

Further, Proposed Res. No. 71-A would point out that in the January 30, 1997 issue of The New England Journal of Medicine, then editor-in-chief Dr. Kassirer stated that prohibiting "physicians from alleviating suffering by prescribing marijuana for seriously ill patients is misguided, heavy-handed, and inhumane." Proposed Res. No. 71-A would also note, that the NYSNA has endorsed the therapeutic use of medical marijuana, arguing that prohibiting its use "has led many desperate patients and their families to break the law to obtain marijuana when prescribed medications proved ineffective or too toxic, [putting] patients at risk for criminal charges [and making] them vulnerable to contaminated drugs because there is no quality control in the contraband market."

Proposed Res. No. 71-A would cite an April 1999 Zogby public opinion poll, which found that 80% of New Yorkers support a policy that would allow physicians "to prescribe marijuana for medical purposes to seriously and terminally ill patients, and to alleviate symptoms of diseases and side effects associated with treatments." Moreover, Proposed Res. No. 71-A would note that legal advocates for medical marijuana report that federal law does not hinder a state's right to pass laws allowing patients to grow, possess and use medical marijuana.

Further, Res. No. 71-A would note that eight states have adopted medical marijuana laws and fourteen states, including New York, currently allow for research programs that study the therapeutic effects of medical marijuana. Proposed Res. No. 71-A would also state that by enacting New York's Antonio G. Olivieri Controlled Substances Therapeutic Research Program in 1980, the New York State Legislature found that "the use of marijuana may alleviate the nausea and ill-effects of cancer chemotherapy, may alleviate the ill-effects of glaucoma and may have other therapeutic uses."

Proposed Res. No. 71-A would state that Assembly Member Richard Gottfried (D-Manhattan), Chair of the New York State Assembly Health Committee, introduced A.5796-A, and State Senator Velmanette Montgomery (D-Brooklyn) introduced its companion bill, S.4805, both of which would allow the possession, manufacture, sale, administration, delivery, dispensing and distribution of medical marijuana in connection with medical use by certified patients. Proposed Res. No. 71-A would specify that A.5796-A would require a recipient of marijuana for medical purposes be certified by a practitioner as having a "serious condition" that is life threatening or an associated condition or complication of such condition or its treatment. Proposed Res. No. 71-A would detail that A.5796-A and S.4805 set forth specific standards for patient certification, including that:

- Such patient certification must be made in writing and dated;
- Such certification must be given to the patient or caregiver and a copy of such certification must be placed in the patient's medical record and given to the New York State Department of Health (SDOH);
- Such certification must include specific directions for use, including the dosage and frequency of dosage; and
- Such certification is limited to a thirty day supply of medical marijuana and that the number of renewals by the patient's doctor is limited to five renewals per certification, such that a certification lasts a maximum of six months.

Proposed Res. No. 71-A would also note that A.5796-A and S.4805 would require that medical marijuana be distributed in a suitable container marked in a similar manner as other controlled substances with the patient's name and address, the dispensing organization's name, address and phone number, directions for use and the prescribing doctor's name.

Proposed Res. No. 71-A would indicate that A.5796-A would limit the organizations registered and permitted to distribute marijuana for medical purposes to the New York State Department of Health (SDOH), a local health department, a pharmacy or an Article 28 facility. Proposed Res. No. 71-A would also indicate that A.5796-A and S.4805 would permit medical marijuana sales only by a registered organization to a registered organization, a certified patient or a caregiver of a certified patient; by a Federal, State or local law enforcement agency to a registered organization; or by a caregiver of a certified patient to the certified patient.

Proposed Res. No. 71-A would state that A.5796-A and S.4805 would require that doctors who have prescribed medical marijuana to a patient submit initial and follow-up reports to SDOH, which would include:

- The patient's effective medical marijuana certification period;
- The specified condition for which medical marijuana was prescribed to such patient;
- The names and addresses of the certified patient and the certifying doctor; and
- The level and pattern of use of medical marijuana and the effectiveness of such use for the certified patient.

Further, Proposed Res. No. 71-A would note that A.5796-A and S.4805 would require that SDOH submit, at the end of the legislation's first year and then biennially, a report to the Legislature and Governor on the medical use of marijuana under such legislation and make any appropriate recommendations for future implementation. Proposed Res. No. 71-A would also note that A.5796-A and S.4805 would require that SDOH enter into an agreement with a third party to conduct an evaluation of the implementation and effectiveness of the legislation, including an analysis of the operation of the legislation, the clinical value of medical marijuana use under the legislation and the effect of medical marijuana, if any, on the illegal use of controlled substances. Additionally, Proposed Res. No. 71-A would state that A.5796-A and S.4805 would also permit SDOH to conduct research relating to the medical use of marijuana at its own discretion. Finally, Proposed Res. No. 71-A would note that A.5796-A and S.4805 would contain a sunset provision, which would render the medical marijuana law inapplicable five years after its effective date, unless reauthorized by the Governor and Legislature.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

Whereas, Pursuant to A.5796-A, organizations registered and permitted to distribute marijuana for medical purposes would be limited to the SDOH, a local health department, a pharmacy or an Article 28 facility; and

Whereas, A.5796-A and S.4805 would permit medical marijuana sales only by a registered organization to a registered organization, a certified patient or a caregiver of a certified patient; by a Federal, State or local law enforcement agency to a registered organization; or by a caregiver of a certified patient to the certified patient; and

Whereas, Furthermore, A.5796-A and S.4805 would require practitioners who have prescribed medical marijuana to a patient to submit initial and follow-up reports to SDOH, which would include the effective certification period, the specified condition for which medical marijuana was prescribed, the names and addresses of the certified patient and his or her practitioner and the level and pattern of use and the effectiveness of the medical marijuana for such certified patient; and

Whereas, A.5796-A and S.4805 would also require that SDOH submit at the end of the legislation's first year, and then biennially, a report to the Legislature and Governor on the medical use of marijuana under such legislation and make appropriate recommendations; and

Whereas, Additionally, A.5796-A and S.4805 would require that SDOH enter into an agreement with a third party to conduct an evaluation of the implementation and effectiveness of the legislation, including an analysis of the operation of the legislation, the clinical value of medical marijuana use under the legislation, and the effect of medical marijuana, if any, on the illegal use of controlled substances; and

Whereas, A.5796-A and S.4805 would also permit SDOH to conduct research relating to the medical use of marijuana at its own discretion; and

Whereas, A.5796-A and S.4805 would sunset five years after its effective date, unless reauthorized by the Governor and Legislature; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to adopt A.5796-A and S.4805, which would legalize the possession, manufacture, sale, administration, delivery, dispensing and distribution of marijuana in connection with medical use for certified patients.

Report for Res. No. 324

Report of the Committee on Health in favor of approving a Resolution offering the Council's full support for the "Invisible No More!" campaign that is dedicated to winning home health aide contracts that mandate a Living Wage of $10 an hour by 2006, health benefits for home health aides and their families, paid vacation time and sick leave.

The Committee on Health to which was referred by the Speaker (Council Member Miller) on June 23, 2004, pursuant to Rule 6.30 of the Council, the annexed resolution which was originally referred to the Committee on Civil Service and Labor on May 5, 2004, (Minutes, page 1985) respectfully

REPORTS:

On Thursday, June 24, 2004, the Committees on Health will hold a hearing on Res. No. 324, which offers the Council's full support for the "Invisible No More!" campaign that is dedicated to winning home health aide contracts that mandate a Living Wage of $10 an hour by 2006, health benefits for home health aides and their families, paid vacation time and sick leave.

Resolution No. 324

Res. No. 324 would state that while home health aides provide compassionate care for people discharged from hospitals and nursing homes who need ongoing medical and personal assistance in their homes, they are often not provided with health benefits for themselves. Res. No. 324 would note that, according to the New York Department of Labor statistics, home health aides working in New York City are among the lowest paid workers in the State, often earning less than $7.00 an hour (or about $12,500 a year) with no health, pension, paid sick or vacation time benefits. Res. No. 324 would also note that, according to the Paraprofessional Healthcare Institute, such poor pay and benefits result in high rates of turnover of workers – as much as 50 percent to 60 percent annually. Res. No. 324 would point out that Medicaid dollars fund more than half of the home care services provided in New York State.

Finally, Res. No. 324 would note that, according to 1199 SEIU's report entitled, "The Plight of New York's Home Health Aides," home health aides are left with little compensation in terms of wages and benefits because a complicated regulatory system allows home health agencies to siphon off as much as two thirds of the funding received from Medicaid for administrative overhead – including exorbitant executive salaries – before the money reaches those who actually provide the services.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption.

Supplemental Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings

Report for Int. No. 272-A

Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings in favor of approving an adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to awnings.

The Committee on Housing and Buildings to which was referred on March 10, 2004 (Minutes, page 1160) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

BACKGROUND AND INTENT:

Buildings in the City are often adorned by awnings that serve to advertise and announce the existence and location of a particular store or establishment in such building. The name and street number of the business is often displayed upon an awning, effectively helping potential customers locate and identify the business within the building and the items being sold therein. For small business owners in particular, the presence of these awnings is an indispensable part of their businesses and in many circumstances, these awnings have remained in their current conditions for many years, often for decades. Despite their prolonged existence, the City of New York began to issue notices of violation to the owners whose storefronts have awnings that were in violation of the Buildings Code or the Zoning Resolution and any Rules of the City of New York that were developed in accordance with such law or resolution.[1]. These notices of violation demand the correction of an illegal condition or removal of the awning at issue. Aside from a summons issued for having an awning without a permit, the most common type of summons issued for illegal awning conditions has been for impermissible commercial copy (the descriptive wording displayed on an awning) or lettering height.

Some members of the community had exclaimed that this enforcement initiative was having a detrimental impact upon small businesses attempting to struggle through difficult economic times. Hence, Local Law 44 of 2003 was enacted to address the increase in enforcement by City officials that were issuing summonses by placing a six-month moratorium, beginning on July 14, 2003, on the imposition of fines for select awnings violations.

This six-month moratorium, running from July 14, 2003 through January 14, 2004, was in part to provide financial relief to small business owners that had been hit with large fines that threatened the very existence of their businesses. That same six-month moratorium period was also imposed to provide a period of education whereby summonses could continue to be issued, informing storeowners and property owners of reasons why their awnings are in violation, but property owners would simultaneously be afforded adequate time to bring offending awnings into compliance without a fine being imposed. In addition, during this same six-month period, the Council with the Department of City Planning and other City agencies were to examine whether the current legal parameters[2] pertaining to certain types of awning violations are still relevant and appropriate.

Proposed Int. No. 272-A:

This legislation would re-establish and extend the moratorium on the enforcement of awnings that exist in violation of the Building Code or the Zoning Resolution. Normally, summonses are issued for awnings that are in violation of the Zoning Resolution or the Building Code and any related Rules of the City of New York. This new moratorium would run retroactively from January 14, 2004 to July 14, 2005 or until the conclusion of the educational period established in accordance with the provisions of this bill if such date is later.

Section 26-125 is being amended as it relates to the laws and rules enforceable by the Department of Buildings, while section 26-126 is being amended as it relates to violations of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York. Specifically, no penalty may be sought or imposed for a violation section 27-147[3] of the Building Code or section 32-653(a)[4] or section 42-542(a)[5] of the Zoning Resolution, or any provision amending, replacing or supplementing such sections of the Zoning Resolution. The provisions of this moratorium do not apply where such awning creates an imminent threat to public health or safety.

[1] It has been anecdotally reported that while many of these awnings have existed for many years, they may have originally been erected without a permit issued by the City of New York. Despite not having received a citation, summons or notice of violation in the past, the City may just now be beginning to address these illegal constructions.

[2] Contained in both the New York City Administrative Code and in the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York.

[4] This provision of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York pertains to the projection of signs in C1, C2, C3, C4, C5, C6, C7 and C8 districts and provides that: "Non-illuminated signs may be displayed on awnings or canopies permitted by the Administrative Code, with a surface area not exceeding 12 square feet and with the height of letters not exceeding 12 inches. Any commercial signs shall be limited to identification of the name or address of the building or an establishment contained therein."

This provision of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York pertains to the projection of signs in M1, M2 and M3 districts and contains the same signage criteria as found in section 32-653(a) of the Zoning Resolution.

The Commissioner of Buildings is charged with developing a program to educate the public regarding any amendments or changes to the Zoning Resolution that will be adopted concerning the regulation of awnings during the relevant time period. Such program shall be implemented as soon as practicable after the enactment of any new provisions or rules concerning the enforcement of awnings and shall continue for a period of time deemed sufficient by the commissioner to provide reasonable notice to the public of the requirements imposed by such amendments, replacement or supplementation. The date of the conclusion of such program is to be established by the Commissioner of Buildings by rule but shall, in no event, be later than November 30, 2005. This legislation shall take effect immediately and shall retroactively be deemed to have been in full force and effect on January 14, 2004.

The Committee conducted a hearing on March 29, 2004 on an earlier A-version of this legislation. At that time testimony from representatives of the Department of Buildings and from the Department of City Planning was heard. Subsequent to the hearing, the Administration and the Council reached an agreement that this moratorium would not apply to awnings that were newly displayed after July 14, 2003 in violation of the existing Zoning Resolution and the Building Code, as so provided in the legislation.

Amendments to Int. No. 272

Int. No. 272 was amended to provide that the moratorium will conclude on the later of July 14, 2005 or at the end of the educational period established by the Commissioner of Buildings if such date is later. Int. No. 272 was also amended to provide that under no circumstances will this educational period conclude on a date that is later than November 30, 2005. The original bill was also amended to specifically reference the applicable sections of the Zoning Resolution and the Building Code for which the enforcement of violations issued on or after July 14, 2003 thereof are to be suspended under this moratorium. Int. No. 272 was also amended to so that the legislation would effectively be deemed to have been in existence on January 14, 2004.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

Report of the Committee on Transportation

Report for Int. No. 363-A

Report of the Committee on Transportation in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to newsracks.

The Committee on Transportation to which was referred on May 5, 2004 (Minutes, page 2011) the annexed amended proposed local law respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On June 23, 2004, the Committee on Transportation, chaired by Council Member John C. Liu, will hold a hearing on Proposed Int. No. 363-A. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would effectuate several amendments to section 19-128.1 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York. Section 19-128.1 provides a regulatory framework for the installation, placement and maintenance of newsracks on the sidewalks of the City of New York.

BACKGROUND

Following intensive discussions and negotiations over the course of several months with the Bloomberg Administration and many other interested parties the Committee on Transportation passed hit. No. 14-B, in relation to newsracks, on August 8, 2002. The Council passed Int. No. 14-B on August 15, 2002. Int. No. 14-B constituted the final version of a bill consisting of a comprehensive scheme for the regulation of newsracks[1] on New York City's sidewalks that evolved over many months and was heard by the Committee at public hearings four times.

On August 27, 2002 Mayor Bloomberg signed Int. No. 14-B into law – Local Law 23 of 2002. The law was not effective until one hundred and eighty days after the Mayor signed it into law in order to permit the Commissioner of the New York City Department of Transportation (DOT), the agency charged with regulating the installation, placement and maintenance of newsracks under the legislation, the opportunity to take any administrative actions it deemed necessary in order to effectuate the provisions of the new law. DOT used the one hundred and eighty days to conduct rulemaking to effectuate the provisions of law and to develop forms for publishers to file relating to registration of newsracks and insurance.

Local Law 23 took effect on February 24, 2003. In order to give newsrack owners an opportunity to adjust to the new regulatory scheme, DOT gave publishers a sixty-day grace period. On April 24, 2003, DOT began enforcing all provisions of the new law.

Local Law 23 of 2002 represents the first time in the history of the City of New York that government has set forth any scheme for the regulation of newsracks. As Local Law 23, and all rules promulgated pursuant thereto, constitute a relatively new regulatory framework, it is understandable that certain issues have arisen with respect to its implementation. In response to the new law, the behaviors and activities of newsrack owners and publishers were required to conform, for the very first time, to uniform standards.

[1] Under the bill, a "newsrack" was defined as "any self-service or coin-operated box, container or other dispenser installed, used or maintained for the display, sale or distribution of newspapers or other written matter to the general public". §19-128.1(a)(1).

Over the past several months, the Council received multiple complaints from publishers and newsrack owners that they are experiencing day-to-day enforcement problems that they believe are unjust. They have reported a host of difficulties ranging from allegations of arbitrary application of certain provisions of the law by enforcement personnel to the issuance of heavy fines, allegedly without adequate time to cure a violation, to hearing process problems before the Environmental Control Board (ECB), the body charged with adjudicating violations. The primary areas of concern voiced by the industry stem from the maintenance and enforcement provisions of the law.

In recognition of the fact that this regulatory scheme is still in its relative infancy and in light of the problems reported by newsrack owners and publishers, the Committee convened an oversight hearing on December 9, 2003 to investigate the status of Local Law 23 of 2002, all corresponding DOT rules and the enforcement of such law and rules. As a result of that hearing and numerous subsequent meetings and conversations with all interested parties, including representatives of the Bloomberg Administration, Int. No. 363 was introduced as a means towards remedying some of the issues presented to the Committee on this issue. Int. No. 363 was heard on June 14, 2004. After considerable testimony from all parties, the Int. No. 363 was amended, resulting in Proposed Int. No. 363-A which the Committee will consider today.

ANALYSIS

As stated earlier, Proposed Int. No. 363-A would amend various provisions of section 19-128.1 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York. The first provision of section 19-128.1 that would be amended by Proposed Int. No. 363-A is paragraph 4 of subdivision (b) which requires an owner or person in control of a newsrack to affix his or her name, address, telephone number, and email address, if any, on the newsrack in a readily visible location. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would require such owner or person to conform such information to any changes required to be reported to the DOT in accordance with subdivision (c) of section 19-128.1, explained in detail below. Int. No. 363 would have allowed an owner or person in control of a newsrack to also affix the name, address, telephone number, and email address, if any, of a duly appointed agent for purposes of notification and service of any notice to correct under the provisions of section 19-128.1. This amendment has been deleted in Proposed Int. No. 363-A.

Proposed Int. No. 363-A, would also amend paragraph 1 of subdivision (c) of section 19-128.1 by designating the existing text as subparagraph (a) and adding a new subparagraph (b). New subparagraph (b) would require any owner or person in control of a newsrack to submit a form to the Commissioner of DOT prior to placing or installing such newsrack on a sidewalk that would contain the name of the newspaper(s) or written matter to be offered for distribution in such newsrack, as well as the name, address, telephone number, and email address of the owner or person in control of the newsrack. Such form shall also include a representation by the owner or person in control of the newsrack that such newsrack complies with the provisions of section 19-128.1. This amendment is offered in recognition of the fact that Local Law 23 of 2002 failed to include a requirement that owners submit such information for newsracks placed or installed for the first time subsequent to that law taking effect. Int. No. 363 also failed to include this clause.

Proposed Int. No. 363-A would also amend paragraph 2 of subdivision (c) of section 19-128.1 by changing the schedule by which owners or persons in control of newsracks must notify DOT of the location of their newsracks. Under Proposed Int. No. 363-A, the notification schedule required of owners or persons in control of newsracks regarding the location of their newsracks would be reduced from four times per year to once per year. This was done in contemplation of reduced paperwork for both the owners and persons in control of newsracks, as well as DOT.

However, in order to keep current on the location of newsracks, Proposed Int. No. 363-A would require the same notification information to be submitted to DOT if the number of newsracks owned or controlled by such owner or person increases or decreases by ten percent or more from the number of newsracks that were included in that person's most recent notification. In such event, the owner or person in control of the newsracks would be required to submit the notification information set forth in subparagraph (a) of paragraph 1 of subdivision (c) within seven days of such change, and provided, further, that such owner or person shall advise DOT of any change in his or her name or address also within seven days of any such change.

This amendment differs from Int. No. 363, which would have altered the notification schedule by decreasing it from four times per year to three times per year. Additionally, under Int. No. 363, such notification would have been required to include the name, address, telephone number, and email address, if any, of any duly appointed agent of such owner or other person in control of a newsrack.

Proposed Int. No. 363-A would also amend paragraph 2 of subdivision (d) of section 19-128.1. Subdivision (d) relates to the requirement that satisfactory insurance coverage be maintained by each owner or person in control of a newsrack. An insurance certificate demonstrating compliance with this requirement is also required to be filed with DOT. The bill would only amend this subdivision by making non-compliance a violation of new subparagraph b-1 of paragraph 1 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1, which also would be added by Proposed Int. No. 363-A. This amendment was not contained in Int. No. 363.

The next provision of section 19-128.1 that would be amended is subdivision (e), pertaining to maintenance, continuous use, repair and removal of newsracks. Paragraph 1 of subdivision (e), which imposed obligations concerning the cleanliness of newsracks and avoidance of newsracks as refuse containers, would be divided into separate paragraphs, (1) and (2), dealing with cleanliness and refuse respectively. All subsequent paragraphs would be renumbered accordingly. In the newly constituted paragraph 1 of subdivision (e), all references to the requirement of keeping newsracks "in good repair" would be deleted (as in Int. No. 363). Additionally, the requirement that newsracks be maintained "in a clean and neat condition" would be removed and replaced with a requirement that owners or persons in control of newsracks be required to certify to the Commissioner of DOT, that each newsrack under his or her ownership or control has been repainted or that best efforts have been made to clean each newsrack of graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions at least once during each four month period (same as in Int. No. 363, except that the former bill did not specify that the certification must be made "on forms prescribed by the commissioner" as Proposed Int. No. 363-A does). In Int. No. 363, the certification would have been incorporated into the notification schedule (three times per year) required in subdivision (c) of section 19-128.1 regarding notice of the location of newsracks. Proposed Int. No. 363-A offers a divergent approach with regard to the certification required in paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) because, under the new bill, the location notification required by subdivision (c) would only need to be made once per year. Therefore, the thrice-yearly certification required by paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) would now be independent of the annual location notification requirement.

Additionally, paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) of Proposed Int. No. 363-A, requires that, in addition to the certification of efforts at maintaining cleanliness required of the owner or person in control of newsracks, such person maintain a log in which the measures and the dates and times when they are taken are recorded in accordance with a format approved or set forth by the DOT Commissioner. Such person would also be required to maintain records for a period of three years documenting the use of persons, resources and expenditures used to demonstrate the repainting or best efforts of such person to remove grafitti or other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions from his or her newsracks.

Such person would also be required to make this log and records available to DOT, upon DOT's request, not more than once per four-month certification period, for copying and inspection. If DOT determines that such certification, log and records do not accurately demonstrate that an owner or person in control of a newsrack has repainted or used best efforts for the purposes required by paragraph 1 of subdivision (e), or upon a determination by DOT that such person has failed to comply with any other provision of the paragraph, DOT would issue a notice of violation in accordance with new paragraph b-1 of paragraph 1 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1, as added by Proposed Int. No. 363-A.

New paragraph 2 of subdivision (e) would include the current mandate that a newsrack not be used as a depository for refuse. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would alter the period in which an owner or person in control of a newsrack must remove refuse from a newsrack from within twenty-four hours of being made aware of such condition to within forty-eight hours of receipt of written notice from the commissioner of DOT regarding such condition (Int. No. 363 would have made the exact same changes, except that the new correction period would have been seventy-two hours from receipt of a notice of correction). This adds certainty to the manner in which the owner or person in control of a newsrack receives notice of this problem.

Newly renumbered paragraph 3 of subdivision (e), formerly paragraph 2, would change the period during which newsrack owners and others in control of newsracks could allow their newsracks to be empty without securing the door of such newsrack to avoid it becoming a trash receptacle. This time frame would have been changed under Int. No. 363 from a period of not more that seven consecutive days to a period of not more than thirty consecutive days, but this change is not included in Proposed Int. No. 363-A.

However, newly renumbered paragraph 3 would provide a greater period of permissible time during which a newsrack could remain empty. This period would have been lengthened from not more than the current twenty-one consecutive days to not more than forty-five consecutive days under Int. No. 363. Under Proposed Int. No. 363-A, the period is only lengthened to not more than thirty consecutive days.

Newly renumbered paragraph 4 of subdivision (e), formerly paragraph 3, would delete all references to "vandalism" under Proposed Int. No. 363-A. This change reflects the idea that it is irrelevant how the damage occurred, but that the damage still be repaired promptly. The bill restates the period of time within which a newsrack that has been "damaged or is need of repair" must be repaired, replaced or removed by the owner or other person in control of the newsrack from within ten calendar days to within seven business days of receipt of a notice of correction from the commissioner of DOT regarding such damage or need for repair. This time frame is consistent with the measurement of other time periods which are stated in terms of business days in section 19-128.1 (Int. No. 363 restated this period of time in the same way, would have retained the "vandalism" reference and would have measured compliance from notice from the Commissioner of DOT of the condition (as stated also in the current law), rather than receipt of a notice of correction, a less certain mechanism for triggering corrective action.).

Proposed Int. No. 363-A would require a newsrack that has been damaged, or is in such a state of disrepair that it constitutes a danger to persons or property, to be made safe within a reasonable time following receipt of such a notice of correction from the Commissioner regarding such condition, rather than within a reasonable time following simple notice of the condition as the statute currently dictates and as Int. No. 363 would have required. Again, this introduces greater certainty as to when the obligation to take corrective action is triggered.

Existing paragraph 4 of subdivision (e) would now become paragraph 5. None of this paragraph's text would be altered under the provisions of Proposed Int. No. 363-A (nor would the text have changed under Int. No. 363).

As Int. No. 363 would have done, Proposed Int. No. 363-A would also amend several of the enforcement provisions contained in subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would limit the applicability of subparagraph (a) of paragraph 1 of subdivision (f) to violations of any provision of subdivision (b) of section 19-128.1, such as placement or physical dimensions of newsracks, or violations of paragraphs two (refuse), three (continuous use), four (repair) or five (damage to City property) of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1 as constituted under Proposed Int. No. 363-A (Int. No. 363 did not include this limitation of applicability).

Additionally, in subparagraph (a) of paragraph 1 of subdivision (f) of the existing law, the Commissioner of DOT was authorized to issue a notice of correction whenever a newsrack is found to violate any provision of section 19-128.1 by affixing the notice of correction to the newsrack specifying the date and nature of the violation and by sending written notification, by regular mail, to the owner or person in control of the newsrack. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would no longer require a notice of correction to be affixed to a newsrack (Int. No. 363 would also have eliminated this requirement). Instead, the notice of correction would be required to be sent to the owner or person in control of the newsrack, by regular mail, as the statute currently requires, and also, for the first time, the commissioner of DOT would be allowed to send a copy of such notice of correction to a person designated by such owner or person to receive such notice, and/or the Commissioner would be allowed to send such notice by electronic mail to such owner or person specifying the date and nature of the violation (Int. No. 363 would have required the notice of correction to be sent by regular mail and by electronic mail to the owner or person in control of the newsrack and to any duly appointed agent if one was specified on the newsrack). However, failure to send a copy by regular or electronic mail to a "designee", would not invalidate the notice nor give an owner or person in control of a newsrack additional time to correct such a condition. This amendment is designed to provide notice that correction is needed to those persons in the best positions to expeditiously effectuate such correction.

Additionally, for the first time, the Commissioner of DOT would be required to cause photographic evidence of violations to be taken which would be sent by regular mail together with the notice of correction. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would retain the current statute's obligation that an owner or other person in control of a newsrack cause the violation to be corrected within seven business days from the date of receipt of such notification by regular mail. The bill would, however, clarify that a notice of correction shall be deemed to have been received five days from the date on which it was mailed by the Commissioner. This adds certainty to when the correction period commences. Additionally, Proposed Int. No. 363-A, would explicitly remove from this correction period the obligation to remove refuse contained in new paragraph 2 of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1 (only a forty-eight hour correction period).

Subparagraph (b) of paragraph 1 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1 currently provides that if an owner fails to comply with a notice of correction or an order by the Commissioner to remove a newsrack (as provided for in paragraph 3 of subdivision (f)), a notice of violation returnable before the ECB shall be served on such person. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would add the following new text to this provision: "No notice of violation shall be issued for the failure to comply with a notice of correction issued pursuant to subparagraph a of paragraph one of this subdivision unless the commissioner has caused a second inspection of the violation to take place within a period of time that commences on the day after the applicable period for correcting such violation expires and ends fourteen days after such day. In addition, the commissioner may send to such owner or other person in control of such newsrack, by electronic mail, photographic evidence of such violation taken at such second inspection. Failure to send such photographic evidence by electronic mail will not result in the dismissal of a notice of violation issued pursuant to any provision of this section." This text is a departure from the text in Int. No. 363 which, in part, would have required that the photographic evidence taken at the second inspection accompany the notice of violation.

Proposed Int. No. 363-A would also add a new subparagraph (b-1) to paragraph 1 of subdivision (f). This new, paraphrased text would read as follows: Failure by an owner or a person in control of a newsrack to comply with subdivision (c) (notification of newsrack locations) or (d) (insurance requirements) of section 19-128.1, failure by such owner or person to certify or failure to accurately demonstrate that such owner or person has repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions, as required by paragraph one of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1, shall be a violation and shall be subject to the applicable penalties provided in paragraph six of this subdivision (f). A proceeding to recover any civil penalty authorized by this subparagraph shall be commenced with service on such owner or person of a notice of violation returnable to ECB. However, for these violations, the Commissioner shall not be required to issue a notice of correction before issuing or serving a notice of violation.

Proposed Int. No. 363-A designates existing text relating to procedures before the ECB as new subparagraph (c) of paragraph 1 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1 and makes minor conforming modifications to this text.

Existing paragraph 2 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1, would, under Proposed Int. No. 363-A, now be comprised of two subparagraphs. Subparagraph (a) would contain the current statutory authority for the removal by DOT of a newsrack following an ECB decision upholding the finding of a violation, upon default or after a hearing where the violation is not remedied within seven days of receipt of ECB's decision. Proposed Int. No. 363-A (Int. No. 363 would also have made this amendment) amends this newly created subparagraph to preclude the removal of a newsrack, even after an ECB decision upholding the finding of a violation, where the violation is based upon the provisions relating to certification of repainting or cleaning of newsracks (paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1). Proposed Int. No. 363-A would also specify that an ECB decision shall be deemed to have been received five days from the date on which it was mailed. Again, this introduces greater certainty into the post-adjudication process.

New Subparagraph (b) of paragraph 2 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1 provides that if the ECB renders a decision upholding the finding of a violation based upon failure to certify, or having failed to accurately demonstrate the respondent has repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions, or having failed to comply with any other provision of paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1, ECB shall impose a penalty in accordance with subparagraph (b) of paragraph 6 of this subdivision (f) (explained below).

Paragraph 3 of subdivision (f) requires the commissioner to serve an order upon an owner or other person in control of a newsrack requiring the removal of such newsrack for specifically enumerated purposes, such as the location of the newsrack is need for public utility or public transportation purposes. Under the existing law, removal is required within seven business days of issuance of such an order. The bill would alter this period by requiring removal within seven business days of receipt of such order and brings greater certainty as to the time for compliance.

Paragraph 4 of subdivision (f) would also be amended by Proposed Int. No. 363-A, relating to when a newsrack may be deemed to be abandoned. Current law states that a newsrack shall be deemed to be abandoned if the name, address or other identifying material of the owner or other person in control of such newsrack is not affixed to such newsrack as required by paragraph of subdivision (b) of section 19-128.1. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would require that, in order for a newsrack to be deemed abandoned, the owner or person in control of such newsrack would also need to have failed to submit to DOT the information required in clauses (ii) and (iii) of subparagraph (a) of paragraph 1 of subdivision (c) of section 19-128.1 (name of publication and name, address, telephone number and email address of owner or person in control of a newsrack and a representation that such newsrack complies with section 19-128.1), so that DOT would have no official information as to whose newsrack it is.

Proposed Int. No. 363-A would then amend paragraph 6 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1, the schedule of civil penalties for violations of section 19-128.1. Currently, this paragraph provides that any owner or person in control of a newsrack found to violate section 19-128.1 shall, after an ECB decision has been issued upon default or after a hearing, be subject to a civil penalty in the amount of no less than one hundred dollars and no more than five hundred dollars for each violation. This paragraph would be amended in an effort to provide greater structure for the civil penalty scheme as it relates to specific violations of section 19-128.1. It should be noted that the amendments to these penalty provisions are not the same as those that were set forth in Int. No. 363.

First, Proposed Int. No. 363-A would bifurcate paragraph 6 of subdivision (f) into two parts – subparagraphs (a) and (b). Subparagraph (a) states that any owner or person in control of a newsrack found to have violated section 19-128.1 shall, after an ECB hearing or upon default, be subject to the following civil penalties:

(i) no less than fifty dollars and no more than one hundred dollars for each violation for a specific newsrack of any of the provisions of paragraphs 2, 3, 4 or 5 of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1 or paragraph 4 of subdivision (b) of section 19-128.1 (noted above), except that a person found in violation of any of such provisions after a decision of the board issued on default shall be subject to a higher penalty of no less than one hundred dollars and no more than five hundred dollars;

(ii) no less than five hundred dollars and no more than four thousand dollars for each violation of paragraph 1 of subdivision (c) of section 19-128.1 (notification of newsrack locations); and

(iii) no less than one hundred dollars and no more than five hundred dollars for each violation of paragraphs 1 (maximum physical dimensions for newsracks), 2 (no advertising), 3 (working coin return mechanism, where applicable), 5 (placement near a curb), 6 (other placement restrictions) and 7 (physical stability of newsrack) of subdivision (b) of section 19-128.1.

New subparagraph (b) of paragraph 6 of subdivision (f) would address the situation where an owner or person in control of one or more newsracks is found by ECB to have failed to certify, or to have failed to accurately demonstrate that such owner or person repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions, as required by paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1, or failed to comply with any other requirements of such paragraph, or failed to comply with any provision of paragraph 2 of subdivision (c) of section 19-128.1, or failed to maintain insurance as required by subdivision (d) of section 19-128.1, shall be liable for a civil penalty determined in accordance with the number of newsracks such person owns or controls as follows:

Up to and including ninety-nine newsracks	Two hundred fifty to five hundred dollars
More than ninety-nine and less than two hundred fifty newsracks	Three hundred seventy-five to seven hundred fifty dollars
More than two hundred forty-nine and less than five hundred newsracks	Seven hundred fifty to one thousand five hundred dollars
More than four hundred ninety-nine and less than seven hundred fifty newsracks	One thousand one hundred twenty-five to two thousand two hundred fifty dollars
More than seven hundred forty-nine and less than one thousand newsracks	One thousand five hundred to three thousand dollars
One thousand or more newsracks	Two thousand to four thousand dollars

Finally, Proposed Int. No. 363-A would amend paragraph 7 of subdivision (f) of section 19-128.1 which deals with repeat violators of the provisions of section 19-128.1. The basic repeat violator provisions contained in the existing law remain intact. Proposed Int. No. 363-A would add a new repeat violator provision applicable to persons who have failed to make the certification required by paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) of section 19-128.1 or failed to accurately demonstrate that such person repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions as required by such paragraph in each of two consecutive four-month certification periods in any two-year period or three times in any two-year period.

Proposed Int. No. 363-A would take effect sixty-days after its enactment into law, except that the commissioner of DOT shall be authorized to take such administrative actions deemed necessary to effectuate the provisions of this local law prior to its effective date.

Accordingly, Your Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

Int. No. 363-A

By Council Members Recchia Jr., Liu, Fidler, Nelson, Gentile, Comrie Jr., Sears, Weprin and Gonzalez.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to newsracks.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Paragraph 4 of subdivision b of section 19-128.1of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 23 of 2002, is amended to read as follows:

4. The owner or person in control of each newsrack shall affix his or her name, address, telephone number, and email address, if any, on the newsrack in a readily visible location and shall conform such information to any changes required to be reported to the department in accordance with the provisions of subdivision c of this section. In no event shall a post office box be considered an acceptable address for purposes of this paragraph.

§2. Subdivision c of section 19-128.1 of chapter 1 title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 23 for the year 2002, is amended to read as follows:

c. Notification to city of location of newsrack. 1. (a) Where a newsrack has been placed or installed on a sidewalk before the effective date of this section, the owner or person in control of such newsrack shall, within sixty days after such effective date, submit to the commissioner a form identifying: (i) the address of such newsrack; (ii) the name of the newspaper(s) or written matter to be offered for distribution in such newsrack; and (iii) the name, address, telephone number, and email address of the owner or person in control of such newsracks; and representing that such newsracks comply with the provisions of this section.

(b) Any other owner or person in control of a newsrack shall, prior to placing or installing such newsrack on a sidewalk, submit to the commissioner a form providing the information in clauses (ii) and (iii) of subparagraph (a) of this paragraph.

2. Subsequent to the initial notification requirements set forth in paragraph [1] one of this subdivision, the owner or person in control of any newsrack shall submit the information set forth in subparagraph a of such paragraph [one of this subdivision four times] once a year to the commissioner in accordance with a [quarterly] notification schedule to be established by the commissioner. However, if the number of newsracks owned or controlled by such owner or person increases or decreases by ten percent or more of the number of newsracks that have been included in the most recent notification required to be submitted by such owner or person, such owner or person shall also be required to submit the information set forth in such paragraph within seven days of such change, and provided, further, that such owner or person shall advise the department of any change in his or her name or address within seven days of such change.

§3. Paragraph 2 of subdivision d of section 19-128.1, as added by local law number 23 for the year 2002, is amended to read as follows:

2. Each person who owns or controls a newsrack on any sidewalk shall maintain a general liability insurance policy naming the city of New York, and its departments, boards, officers, employees and agents as additional insureds for the specific purpose of indemnifying and holding harmless those additional insureds from and against any and all losses, costs, damages, expenses, claims, judgments or liabilities that result from or arise out of the placement, installation and/or the maintenance of any newsrack. The minimum limits of such insurance coverage shall be no less than three hundred thousand dollars combined single limit for bodily injury, including death, and property damage, except that any person who maintains an average of one hundred or more newsracks at any one time shall maintain such minimum insurance coverage of one million dollars. An insurance certificate demonstrating compliance with the requirements of this subdivision shall be submitted annually by December 31st to the commissioner by the person who owns or controls such insured newsracks. Should said policy be called upon to satisfy any liability for damages covered by said policy, the policy must be of such a nature that the original amount of coverage is restored after any payment of damages under the policy. Failure to maintain a satisfactory insurance policy pursuant to this subdivision or failure to submit an annual insurance certificate to the commissioner pursuant to this subdivision, shall be deemed a violation of this section subject to subparagraph b-1 of paragraph one of subdivision f of this section.

§4. Subdivision e of section 19-128.1 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 23 for the year 2002, is amended to read as follows:

e. Maintenance, continuous use, repair and removal. 1. [Each newsrack shall be maintained in a clean and neat condition and shall be kept in good repair.] Any person who owns or is in control of a newsrack shall [be required to monitor] certify once every four months to the commissioner on forms prescribed by the commissioner that each newsrack [so that it is kept clean and free of] under his or her ownership or control has been repainted, or that best efforts have been made to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions [and is kept good repair] at least once during the immediately preceding four month period. Such person shall maintain a log in which the measures and the dates and times when they are taken are recorded in accordance with a format approved or set forth by the commissioner. Such person shall maintain records for a period of three years documenting the use of materials, employees, contractors, other resources and expenditures utilized for the purpose of demonstrating the repainting or best efforts of such person to remove such graffiti or other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions. Such person shall, solely for the purposes of complying with the provisions of this paragraph, make such log and such records, and only such log and such records, available to the department for inspection and copying during normal and regular business hours and shall deliver copies to the department upon its request. Such inspection may only be conducted by the department once per certification period. If the department determines that such certification, log and records do not accurately demonstrate that an owner or person in control of a newsrack has repainted or used best efforts for such purposes as required by this paragraph, or upon a determination by the department that an owner or such person failed to comply with any other provision of this paragraph, the department shall issue a notice of violation in accordance with subparagraph b-1 of paragraph one of subdivision f of this section.

2. [Such] Any person who owns or is in control of a newsrack shall [also] use best efforts to ensure that each newsrack under his or her ownership or control is not used as a depository for the placement of refuse and shall be required to remove any refuse placed within such newsrack within [twenty-four] forty-eight hours of [being made aware of such condition] receipt of a notice of correction from the commissioner as provided in subparagraph a of paragraph one of subdivision f of this section regarding such condition.

[2] 3. In no event shall the owner or person in control of a newsrack fail to keep such newsrack supplied with written matter for a period of more than seven consecutive days without securing the door so as to prevent the deposit of refuse therein. In no event shall such newsrack remain empty for a period of more than [twenty-one] thirty consecutive days.

[3] 4. Any newsrack that has been damaged [or vandalized] or is in need of repair shall be repaired, replaced or removed by the owner or person in control of such newsrack within [ten] seven business days of receipt of a notice of correction from the commissioner as provided in subparagraph a of paragraph one of subdivision f of this section regarding such damage or [vandalism] need for repair. If such newsrack has been damaged [or vandalized so as to constitute], or if it is in a state of disrepair, such that it constitutes a danger to persons or property, it shall be made safe within a reasonable time following receipt of such a notice of correction from the commissioner regarding such condition.

[4] 5. Any damage to city property resulting from the placement, installation, maintenance or removal of a newsrack shall be repaired promptly by the owner or person in control of such newsrack. If a newsrack is removed from its location on a sidewalk, the owner or person in control of such newsrack shall be responsible for restoring the sidewalk and any other affected city property to the condition existing prior to installation of that newsrack.

§5. Subdivision f of section 19-128.1 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 23 for the year 2002, is amended to read as follows:

f. Enforcement. 1. (a) Whenever any newsrack is found to be in violation of any provision of subdivision b of this section or paragraphs two, three, four or five of subdivision e of this section, the commissioner shall issue a notice of correction [by affixing it to such newsrack] specifying the date and nature of the violation and shall send written notification, by regular mail, to the owner or person in control of the newsrack. [Such] In addition, the commissioner may send a copy of such notice of correction to a person designated by such owner or person to receive such notice, and/or the commissioner may send such notice by electronic mail to such owner or such person specifying the date and nature of the violation. However, failure to send a copy by regular or electronic mail will not extend the time period within which such owner or other person is required by any provision of this section to take action, nor will such failure result in the dismissal of a notice of violation issued pursuant to any provision of this section. The commissioner shall cause photographic evidence of such violation to be taken. Such evidence shall be sent by regular mail together with the notice of correction. Except as otherwise provided for the removal of refuse in paragraph two of subdivision e of this section, such person shall within seven business days from the date of receipt of notification via regular mail cause the violation to be corrected. For the purposes of this section, a notice of correction shall be deemed to have been received five days from the date on which it was mailed by the commissioner.

(b) If an owner or other person in control of a newsrack fails to comply with a notice of correction issued pursuant to subparagraph a of this [subdivision] paragraph or an order by the commissioner to remove served pursuant to paragraph three of this subdivision, a notice of violation returnable to the board shall be served on such owner or person in control of such newsrack. No notice of violation shall be issued for the failure to comply with a notice of correction issued pursuant to subparagraph a of paragraph one of this subdivision unless the commissioner has caused a second inspection of the violation to take place within a period of time that commences on the day after the applicable period for correcting such violation expires and ends fourteen days after such day. In addition, the commissioner may send to such owner or other person in control of such newsrack, by electronic mail, photographic evidence of such violation taken at such second inspection. Failure to send such photographic evidence by electronic mail will not result in the dismissal of a notice of violation issued pursuant to any provision of this section.

(b-1) Failure by an owner or a person in control of a newsrack to comply with subdivision c or d of this section, failure by such owner or person to certify or failure to accurately demonstrate that such owner or person has repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions, as required by paragraph one of subdivision e of this section, shall be a violation and shall be subject to the applicable penalties provided in paragraph six of this subdivision. A proceeding to recover any civil penalty authorized by this subparagraph shall be commenced with service on such owner or person of a notice of violation returnable to the board. The commissioner shall not be required to issue a notice of correction before issuing or serving a notice of violation pursuant to this subparagraph.

(c) If the return date of [the] a notice of violation issued pursuant to subparagraph b or b-1 of this paragraph is more than five business days after the service of such notice, the board shall, upon the request of the respondent, in person at the office of the board, provide a hearing on such violation prior to such return date and no later than five business days after the date of such request. At the time set for such hearing, or at the date to which such hearing is continued, the board shall receive all evidence relevant to the occurrence or non-occurrence of the specified violation(s), the compliance or noncompliance with any of the provisions of this section, and any other relevant information. Such hearing need not be conducted according to technical rules relating to evidence and witnesses. Oral evidence shall be taken only on oath or affirmation. Within five business days after the conclusion of the hearing, the board shall render a decision, based upon the facts adduced at said hearing, whether [the newsrack violates] any violations of this section have occurred. The decision shall be in writing and shall contain findings of fact and a determination of the issues presented. The board shall send to the owner or person in control of the newsrack by regular mail, a copy of its decision and order.

2. (a) If the board renders a decision upholding the finding of a violation against the respondent upon default or after a hearing held pursuant to paragraph one of this subdivision, other than a decision finding a violation of the provisions of paragraph one of subdivision e of this section, and the violation is not remedied within seven days of receipt of the decision of the board, the commissioner or his or her designee is authorized to provide for the removal of such newsrack and any contents thereof to a place of safety. For purposes of this subparagraph, a decision shall be deemed to have been received five days from the date on which it was mailed. If such newsrack and any contents thereof are not claimed within thirty days after their removal by a person entitled to their return, they shall be deemed to be abandoned and may be either sold at a public auction after having been advertised in the City Record, the proceeds thereof being paid into the general fund, used or converted for use by the department or another city agency, or otherwise disposed of, and the owner or person in control shall be liable to the City for the costs of removal and storage and shall be subject to a civil penalty pursuant to subparagraph a of paragraph [five] six of subdivision f of this section. Newsracks and the contents thereof that are removed pursuant to this subparagraph shall be released to the owner or other person lawfully entitled to possession upon payment of the costs for removal and storage and any civil penalty or, if an action or proceeding concerning the violation is pending, upon the posting of a bond or other form of security acceptable to the department in an amount that will secure the payment of such costs and any penalty that may be imposed hereunder.

(b) If the board renders a decision upholding the finding of a violation against the respondent for having failed to certify, or having failed to accurately demonstrate that such respondent repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions or having failed to comply with any other provision of paragraph one of subdivision e of this section, the board shall impose a penalty in accordance with subparagraph b of paragraph six of this subdivision.

3. The commissioner may, upon notice, serve an order upon the owner or other person in control of a newsrack requiring such person to remove or cause to be removed such newsrack within seven business days of [the issuance] receipt of such order where such removal is required because the site or location at which such newsrack is placed is used or is to be used for public utility purposes, public transportation, or public safety purposes, or when such newsrack unreasonably interferes with construction activities in nearby or adjacent buildings, or if removal is required in connection with a street widening or other capital project or improvement. If such person does not remove such newsrack within seven business days of [the issuance] receipt of such order, the provisions contained in [subparagraph] subparagraphs b and c of paragraph one of this subdivision and subparagraph a of paragraph two of this subdivision regarding issuance of a notice of violation and alternatives for removal, storage, abandonment, disposal, and release, shall apply.

4. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, if a newsrack has been deemed to have been abandoned in accordance with this paragraph, the commissioner, his or her designee, an authorized officer or employee of any city agency or a police officer is authorized to provide for the removal of such newsrack and it may either be sold at public auction after having been advertised in the City Record, the proceeds thereof being paid into the general fund, used or converted for use by the department or another city agency, or otherwise disposed of. A newsrack shall be deemed to have been abandoned for purposes of this paragraph if the name, address or other identifying material of the owner or other person in control of such newsrack is not affixed to such newsrack as required by paragraph four of subdivision b of this section and such owner or other person has not submitted to the commissioner the information required in clauses (ii) and (iii) of subparagraph a of paragraph one of subdivision c of this section.

5. (a) Where emergency circumstances exist and the commissioner or his or her designee gives notice to the owner or other person in control of a newsrack to remove such newsrack, such person shall comply with such notice. For the purposes of this paragraph, emergency circumstances shall mean circumstances which present an imminent threat to public health or safety.

(b) If any owner or other person in control of a newsrack does not remove such newsrack when directed to do so pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph a of this paragraph [five of this subdivision], or if circumstances are such that public safety requires the immediate removal of a newsrack and it is not reasonable to give the owner or other person in control of such newsrack notice prior to removal, the commissioner or his or her designee may provide for the removal of such newsrack to a place of safety. Unless an administrative proceeding brought pursuant to subparagraph c of this paragraph [five of this subdivision] has terminated in favor of such owner or other person in control of such newsrack, such owner or other person in control of such newsrack may be charged with the reasonable costs of removal and storage payable prior to the release of such newsrack and the contents thereof.

(c) If an owner or other person in control of a newsrack fails to comply with a notice issued pursuant to subparagraph a of this paragraph to remove such newsrack, a notice of violation returnable to the board shall be served on such owner or person in control of such newsrack. If the newsrack has been removed by the city pursuant to subparagraph b of this paragraph, such notice of violation shall be served immediately after removal, and, if the return date of the notice of violation is more than five business days after the service of such notice, the board shall, upon the request of the respondent, in person at the office of the board, provide a hearing on such violation prior to such return date and no later than five business days after the date of such request. The hearing shall take place under the provisions set forth in [subparagraph] subparagraphs b and c of paragraph one of this subdivision and a decision shall be rendered by the board within five business days after the conclusion of the hearing. If a decision is rendered at such hearing that emergency circumstances did not exist, such newsrack shall be returned within ten days to the location from which it was removed by the commissioner or his or her designee. If a decision is rendered against the respondent upon default or after a hearing that such emergency circumstances existed, such newsrack and the contents thereof shall be released to the owner or other person lawfully entitled to possession. If, after a board decision that removal was proper, such newsrack and any contents thereof are not claimed within thirty days after the date of removal by a person entitled to their return, such newsrack and any contents thereof shall be deemed abandoned and may be either sold at a public auction after having been advertised in the City Record, the proceeds thereof being paid into the general fund, used or converted for use by the department or another city agency, or otherwise disposed of.

6. (a) Any owner or person in control of a newsrack found to be in violation of any provision of this section shall, after a board decision has been issued upon default or after a hearing, be subject to a civil penalty in the amount of (i) no less than fifty dollars and no more than one hundred dollars for each violation for a specific newsrack of any of the provisions of paragraphs two, three, four or five of subdivision e of this section or paragraph four of subdivision b of this section, except that a person found in violation of any of such provisions after a decision of the board issued on default shall be subject to a penalty of no less than one hundred dollars and no more than five hundred dollars; (ii) no less than five hundred dollars and no more than four thousand dollars for each violation of paragraph one of subdivision c of this section; and (iii) no less than one hundred dollars and no more than five hundred dollars for each violation of paragraphs one, two, three, five, six and seven of subdivision b of this section.

(b) Any owner or person in control of one or more newsracks found by the board to have failed to certify, or to have failed to accurately demonstrate that such owner or person repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions, as required by paragraph one of subdivision e of this section, or failed to comply with any other requirements of such paragraph, or failed to comply with any provision of paragraph two of subdivision c of this section, or failed to maintain insurance as required by subdivision d of this section, shall be liable for a civil penalty determined in accordance with the number of newsracks such person owns or controls as follows:

Number of newsracks owned or controlled by such person	A violation of paragraph one of subdivision e, paragraph two of subdivision c or subdivision d of this section
Up to and including ninety-nine newsracks	Two hundred fifty to five hundred dollars
More than ninety-nine and less than two hundred fifty newsracks	Three hundred seventy-five to seven hundred fifty dollars
More than two hundred forty-nine and less than five hundred newsracks	Seven hundred fifty to one thousand five hundred dollars
More than four hundred ninety-nine and less than seven hundred fifty newsracks	One thousand one hundred twenty-five to two thousand two hundred fifty dollars
More than seven hundred forty-nine and less than one thousand newsracks	One thousand five hundred to three thousand dollars
One thousand or more newsracks	Two thousand to four thousand dollars

7. The commissioner[,] shall remove or cause to be removed from any sidewalk for a period of three consecutive months, every newsrack and the contents thereof under the ownership or control of any person who repeatedly violates any provision or provisions of this subdivision. For purposes of this paragraph, a person shall be deemed to have repeatedly violated this section if such person has been determined by the board, upon default or after a hearing, to have violated the provisions of this section ten or more times within [any-six month] any six-month period and that such person has failed to pay three or more civil penalties imposed during that same time period. For purposes of this paragraph, a person shall also be deemed to have repeatedly violated this section if such person is determined by the board, upon default or after a hearing, to have failed to make the certification required by paragraph one of subdivision e of this section or to have failed to accurately demonstrate that such person repainted or used best efforts to remove graffiti and other unauthorized writing, painting, drawing, or other markings or inscriptions as required by such paragraph in each of two consecutive certification periods in any two year period or three times in any two-year period. The department shall maintain a record of all persons who repeatedly violate any provision or provisions of this subdivision. In the event that the commissioner removes or causes to be removed all newsracks and the contents thereof under the ownership or control of any person based upon this paragraph, such person shall be permitted to replace all such newsracks at the locations from which they were removed upon payment in full of all outstanding civil penalties imposed for violations of this section and the reasonable costs of removal and storage, provided that such newsracks meet the requirements of this section. If any newsracks or contents thereof removed pursuant to this paragraph are not claimed within thirty days after the expiration of the three-month removal period, such newsracks or the contents thereof shall be deemed abandoned and may be either sold at public auction after having been advertised in the City Record, the proceeds thereof being paid into the general fund, used or converted for use by the department or another city agency or otherwise disposed of.

8. In giving any notice of correction or serving any commissioners order required under this section, except as otherwise provided by law, the commissioner may rely on the validity of any address (a) posted on the newsrack pursuant to paragraph four of subdivision b of this section as the address of the owner or person in control of the newsrack or (b) submitted to the department pursuant to subdivision c of this section, and shall provide such notice by regular mail. If the owner of a newsrack or person in control of a newsrack shall have failed to comply with paragraph four of subdivision b or with subdivision c of this section, the commissioner shall make reasonable efforts to ascertain the identity and address of the owner or person in control of such newsrack for the purpose of giving any required notice, and having done so, may take action as if any required notice had been given.

9. Nothing in this section shall preclude the immediate removal of a newsrack when otherwise authorized by law.

§6. This local law shall effect take sixty days after its enactment into law, except that the commissioner of transportation shall be authorized to take such administrative actions deemed necessary to effectuate the provisions of this local law prior to its effective date.

DEVELOP TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-00S-003-262 – DUE 12-30-04 AT 5:00 P.M. – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families including the Neighborhood Based Cluster Residence and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-forth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 3 to 30 years including renewal options and depending on the financial terms and conditions.

Pursuant to Section 312 (c) (1) (ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgment is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03 (c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated as a for-profit entity; 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed Standalone facility location(s); and 3) must demonstrate an intent to enter into lease agreements with the owner(s) or management designee(s) for each property.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: John Iaffaldano, Associate Staff Analyst, Office of Contracts and Procurement at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8435, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor NY, NY 10004, to request a copy of the RFP application, which is available for pick-up Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Use the following address unless otherwise specified in notice, to secure, examine or submit bid/proposal documents, vendor pre-qualification and other forms; specifications/blueprints; other information; and for opening and reading of bids at date and time specified above.

AMENDMENTS TO RULES HOTEL ROOM OCCUPANCY TAX

Section 1. The definition of hotel in section 12-01 of Title 19 of the Compilation of the Rules of the City of New York Relating to the Hotel Room Occupancy Tax is amended to add the following paragraph thereto to read as follows:

A building or portion thereof will be irrebuttably presumed not to be regularly used and kept open for the lodging of guests if, during any four consecutive quarterly tax periods, or, beginning on and after September 1, 2004, during any twelve-month tax period, described in subsection a of section 12-07 of these rules, rooms, apartments or living units are rented to guests or occupants on fewer than three occasions or for not more than 14 days in the aggregate. For this purpose, the rentals of rooms in a single building or apartment will be aggregated and the rentals of apartments and living units will be aggregated. In addition, for this purpose, the rental of a room, apartment or living unit under a single contract for one or more consecutive days will be considered a single occasion. However, if a single contract provides for the rental of a room or apartment for non-consecutive days, each period of consecutive days will be considered a separate occasion. In addition, for this purpose, if a room, apartment or living unit is subleased or the right to occupy it is otherwise subcontracted away to another person, each separate sublease or subcontract of a room, apartment or living unit for a period of consecutive days will be considered a separate occasion. Furthermore, for this purpose, rentals to guests or occupants that qualify as permanent residents will not be included in the number of days or occasions of rentals.

Illustration (iii): A owns a four-bedroom house in New York City. During the period September 1, 2004 through August 31, 2005, A rents three of the bedrooms as follows: one bedroom is rented for the entire twelve month period to individual B who does not sublease the room; one bedroom is rented for one week to individual C; one bedroom is rented for two days to individual D, three days to individual E and one day to individual F. The rental to individual B is not considered a rental occasion or included in determining the number of days of room rentals. A is considered to have rented rooms on four occasions. However, because the total number of days is less than 14, A is not considered to be operating a hotel.

Illustration (iv): Individual A owns four apartments in New York City. During the period September 1, 2004 through August 31, 2005, A rents the apartments as follows: one apartment is rented for the entire 12 month period to individual B who does not sublease the apartment; another apartment is rented for one week to individual C; a third apartment is rented for two days to individual D, five days to individual E and four days to individual F. The rental to individual B is not considered a rental occasion or included in determining the number of days of room rentals. A is considered to have rented three of the apartments on four occasions. Because the total number of days of rentals of the three apartments is more than 14, A is considered to be operating a hotel with respect to the three apartments rented to C, D, E, and F. If the apartment rented to B were rented to B for only 190 days and was subsequently rented during the period to individual G for three days, that apartment would also be included as part of the hotel operation of A.

(a) Every operator is required to file a certificate of registration in a form prescribed by the Commissioner of Finance. In the case of operators commencing business or opening new hotels the certificate is required to be filed with the Commissioner of Finance within three days after such commencement or opening. An operator of a hotel having 10 or more rooms or 10 or more apartments or living units offered for lodging of guests is deemed to have commenced business or opened a new hotel when such rooms are first offered to the public. An operator of a hotel having fewer than 10 rooms or fewer than 10 apartments or living units offered for lodging of guests is deemed to have commenced business or opened a new hotel on the date that the presumption set forth in the last paragraph of the definition of "hotel" contained in section 12-01 of these rules ceases to apply.

Within five days after such registration, the Commissioner of Finance shall issue, without charge, to each operator, a certificate of authority empowering such operator to collect the tax from the occupant, and, in addition, a certificate of authority for each additional hotel of such operator. Each certificate shall state the hotel to which it is applicable. Such certificate of authority must be prominently displayed by the operator in such manner that it may be seen and come to the notice of all occupants and persons seeking occupancy. Such certificates are not assignable or transferable and must be surrendered immediately to the Commissioner of Finance upon the cessation of business at the hotel named therein, or upon its sale or transfer, together with an affidavit setting forth the pertinent details of such cessation. An operator, after having registered, is not deemed to have ceased business merely because the presumption set forth in the last paragraph of the definition of "hotel" contained in section 12-01 of these rules applies during a subsequent quarterly or annual period. If the business is continued at the same place, but there is a change in the form of the organization, such as from a single proprietorship to a partnership or corporation, the operator is required to return his certificate for cancellation, and the successor is required to file a new application for a certificate of authority.

§3. Subsection (a) of section 12-07 of such rules is amended to read as follows:

(a) [Every] Except as provided herein, every operator shall file with the Commissioner of Finance a return of occupancy and of rents, and of the taxes payable thereon, on the form prescribed by the Commissioner of Finance, for the [quarter annual] quarterly periods ending on the last day of February, May, August, and November of each year. Notwithstanding the foregoing, with respect to tax periods beginning on and after the first day of September 2004, (i) an operator of a hotel having fewer than ten rooms may file the above return for each such hotel on an annual basis for each twelve-month period ending on the last day of August of each year, and (ii) an operator of fewer than ten furnished apartments or living units may file the above return on an annual basis for each twelve-month period ending on the last day of August of each year covering all such apartments or living units. Such returns shall be filed within twenty days after the last day of each such period. An operator, after having registered, is required to file a return for each subsequent quarterly or annual period thereafter regardless of whether the presumption set forth in the last paragraph of the definition of "hotel" contained in section 12-01 of these rules applies during that period.

An operator who [terminates his] ceased business must file a final return within twenty days from the date such business [terminated] ceased, covering the period or portion of the period during which he conducted such business subsequent to the period for which a return was last required to be filed. If the business was sold, the purchaser thereof must file a return for the period from the date of purchase to the end of the period of which a return is required to be filed. An operator, after having registered, is not deemed to have ceased business merely because the presumption set forth in the last paragraph of the definition of "hotel" contained in section 12-01 of these rules applies during a subsequent quarterly or annual period.

BASIS AND PURPOSE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

These proposed amendments affect the portion of the Rules Relating to the New York City Hotel Room Occupancy Tax governing the definition of a hotel and the filing of returns.

These amendments establish a safe-harbor for purposes of determining when the renting of rooms or apartments to guests is insufficiently frequent and regular to constitute the operation of a hotel.

In addition, to ease the compliance burden on small operators, these amendments also reduce the filing requirements for certain operators. Effective for tax periods beginning on and after September 1 2004, operators of hotels having fewer than ten rooms or operators of fewer than ten apartments rented to guests and subject to the tax will be permitted to file on an annual basis. The annual return will cover the 12-month period beginning September 1 and ending August 31.

Commissioner of Finance

EMINENT DOMAIN PROCEEDINGS
SYNOPSIS OF DETERMINATION AND FINDINGS

Subsequent to a Public Hearing, duly advertised and conducted on June 16, 2004, at Medgar Evers College ("MEC") of The City University of New York ("CUNY"), 1650 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, with the record held open until June 26, 2004, pursuant to the New York State Eminent Domain Procedure Law ("EDPL"), the Dormitory Authority of the State of New York ("DASNY") at a meeting on July 21, 2004, adopted a resolution making the necessary Determination and Findings pursuant to Section 204 of the EDPL, authorizing DASNY to acquire by exercise of the power of eminent domain, in connection with the expansion of the campus of MEC, fee title to the following privately owned parcels of land (the "Property") in the Borough of Brooklyn, City of New York, generally identified on the Tax Map of the City of New York, Borough of Brooklyn, as: 1) Section 5, Block 1287, Lot 61 (85-115 Crown Street) - Record Owner: Escrown LLC; and 2) Section 5, Block 1287, Lot 70 (85-115 Crown Street) - Record Owner: Escrown LLC (the "Project").

Such resolution of DASNY as required by the EDPL included a Determination and Findings of DASNY regarding:

I. The Public Use, Benefit, and Purpose To Be Served by the Project [EDPL § 204(B)(1)].

The Project would benefit the public as it is part of the implementation of the Campus Master Plan issued by CUNY for MEC to address the projected increase in full-time enrollment at the college due to the demand for higher education services in the local community. The master plan was developed to address the quantitative space needs of future projected enrollment and at the same time provide a campus identity, campus center, redistribute current uses, provide space for extra-curricular activities and community outreach. Acquisition of the Property is necessary for implementation of the master plan. DASNY has determined that there is a definite need for the Property at this time.

II. Project Location [EDPL § 204(B)(2)].

MEC is located in the Borough of Brooklyn, Kings County, New York. The college currently occupies two buildings, the Carroll Street Building at 1150 Carroll Street, and the Bedford Avenue building at 1650 Bedford Avenue. The Property fronts the north side of Crown Street in the vicinity of the Bedford Avenue building. More specifically, the tax section, block and lot numbers of the Property are as follows:

Section 5, Block 1287: Lots 61 and 70 (85-115 Crown Street).

III. General Effect of the Project on the Environment [EDPL § 204(B)(3)].

The general effect of the Project on the environment is set forth in the Medgar Evers College Master Plan Final Environmental Impact Statement ("FEIS"). Briefly, the Project will cause no significant impacts on the environment, the residents of the locality, or the character of the neighborhood, except for the following impacts for which mitigation measures will be undertaken, as more fully described in the FEIS: excavation for the proposed Academic Building I to be built on the Property may disturb any artifacts that may be buried on the site; potential impacts may result from existing on-site lead paint, asbestos-containing materials, underground storage tanks and groundwater contamination from off-site sources; and traffic impacts are expected for several intersection approaches within the study area as detailed in the FEIS.

IV. General Effect of the Project on the Residents of the Locality [EDPL § 204(B)(3)].

The Project will bring about substantial benefits for the residents of the locality. Full implementation of the Campus Master Plan, of which the Project is a part, is expected to meet the growing demand for higher education services in the local community. The master plan projected full-time enrollment of 6,500 full-time students for the academic year 2004/2005. Implementation of the master plan will address the space needs resulting from this projected rise in enrollment, enabling MEC to continue its mission of providing equal access and a quality education to the Brooklyn community. Moreover, implementation of the master plan will allow for the development of a unified campus for academic, administrative and community service purposes. Additionally, inasmuch as full implementation of the master plan will result in a rejuvenation of the area in which MEC is located, nearby residents will have the benefit of proximity to a revitalized community college in their area.

The only use affected by acquisition of the Property is a New York City Department of Sanitation ("NYCDOS") garage currently occupying the Property, which has begun relocating its operations from the Property to another location. Relocation of the garage from the site has long been contemplated by NYCDOS, and would occur with or without the Project.

V. Other Relevant Factors [EDPL § 204(B)(4)].

Comments received prior to, at and following the public hearing (until June 26, 2004), whether orally or in writing, showed support for the Project. Specifically, two statements were made in favor of the Project, and there were no statements made in opposition.

DETERMINATION

Based on due consideration of the July 21, 2004 findings, it is determined that DASNY should exercise its power of condemnation in order to implement the Project and specifically to acquire the Property.

AVAILABILITY OF COPIES OF DETERMINATION AND FINDINGS

Copies of the complete Determination and Findings, of which this is a brief synopsis, will be forwarded without cost upon written request directed to: The Dormitory Authority of the State of New York, 515 Broadway, Albany, New York 12207 (attention: Joseph F. Durkin).

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS OFFICAL NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contracts at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision a of section 25-317.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

a. Any person who violates any provision of sections 25-305 [or], 25-310 or 25-311 or subdivision c of section 25-317 of this chapter or any order issued by the chair with respect to such provisions shall be liable for a civil penalty which may be recovered by the corporation counsel in a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction. Such civil penalty shall be determined as follows:

1. The defendant shall be liable for a civil penalty of up to the fair market value of the improvement parcel, with or without the improvement, whichever is greater, where in violation of such provision or order:

(a) all or substantially all of an improvement on a landmark site or within a historic district has been demolished;

(b) work has been performed or a condition created or maintained which significantly impairs the structural integrity of an improvement on a landmark site or within a historic district; [or]

(c) work has been performed or a condition created or maintained which results in the destruction, removal or significant alteration of more than fifty percent of the square footage of two facades of an improvement on a landmark site or within a historic district, including party and sidewalls; or

(d) the defendant has failed to take appropriate action to prevent any condition described in subparagraph a, b or c of this paragraph from occurring.

2. Where, in violation of such provision or order, work is performed or a condition is created or maintained which results in the destruction, removal or significant alteration of a significant portion of the protected features identified in the designation report of an interior landmark, the defendant shall be liable for a civil penalty equal to two times the estimated cost of replicating the protected features that were demolished, removed or altered.

3. All other violations. The defendant shall be liable for a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars.

4. For the purposes of this subdivision, each day during which there exists any violation of the provisions of paragraph three of subdivision a of section 25-305 of this chapter or paragraph two of subdivision a of section 25-310 of this chapter or any order issued by the chair with respect to such provisions shall constitute a separate violation.

§2. The opening paragraph of subdivision b and subparagraph (1) of subdivision b of section 25-317.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York are amended to read as follows:

b. In addition to or as an alternative to any of the remedies and penalties provided in this chapter, any person who violates any provision of sections 25-305 [or], 25-310 or 25-311 or subdivision c of section 25-317 of this chapter or any order issued by the chair with respect to such provisions shall be liable for a civil penalty which may be recovered in an administrative proceeding before the office of administrative trials and hearings, the environmental control board or other administrative tribunal having jurisdiction as hereinafter provided.

(1) An administrative proceeding for civil penalties shall be commenced by the service of a notice of violation in

The notice of violation shall identify the allegedly illegal conditions or work with reasonable specificity. As used in this subdivision, the term "reasonable specificity" shall mean a description of work or conditions, reasonably described given the circumstances, sufficient to inform a reasonable person that (1) work has been or is being done without an appropriate approval from the commission, [or] (2) conditions have been created or are being maintained in violation of this chapter, or (3) there has been a failure to take appropriate action to prevent conditions that are in violation of this chapter. Such administrative tribunal shall have the power to impose civil penalties in accordance with this chapter. Prior to serving a notice of violation, the chair shall serve a warning letter upon a respondent either personally or by mail in the manner provided by the rules of the commission. The warning letter shall inform the respondent that the chair believes the respondent has violated the provisions of this chapter, shall describe generally the allegedly illegal conditions and/or activities, shall warn the respondent that the law authorizes civil penalties for such violations, and shall provide the respondent with a grace period for removing or applying for a permit to legalize or otherwise address the allegedly illegal conditions. No such warning letter shall be required prior to the service of a notice of violation where (i) the subject violation is a second or subsequent offense, (ii) the subject violation is alleged to be an intentional violation, or (iii) the chair is seeking civil penalties for failure to comply with a stop work order, issued pursuant to this chapter.

DEVELOP TRANSITIONAL RESIDENCES FOR HOMELESS ADULTS AND FAMILIES AND DROP IN CENTERS FOR ADULTS – Competitive Sealed Proposals – Judgment required in evaluating proposals - PIN# 071-00S-003-262 – DUE 12-30-04 AT 5:00 P.M. – The Department of Homeless Services is soliciting proposals from organizations interested in developing and operating transitional residences for homeless adults and families including the Neighborhood Based Cluster Residence and drop-in centers for adults. This is an open-ended solicitation; there is no due date for submission. Proposals will be reviewed by the Department as they are received and contracts will be awarded on an on-going basis, until the agency's capacity needs are met. DHS reserves the right to award a contract on the basis of initial offers received without discussion. Contracts will be awarded to responsible applicants whose negotiated offers are determined to be the most advantageous to the City, taking into consideration the price and other such factors and criteria set-forth in the RFP. Contract award will be subject to the timely completion of contract negotiations between the agency and the selected proposer.

It is anticipated that the transitional residence contracts will range from 3 to 30 years including renewal options and depending on the financial terms and conditions.

Pursuant to Section 312 (c) (1) (ii) of the New York City Charter, the Competitive Sealed Bid procurement method is not the most advantageous method because judgment is required in evaluating competing proposals, and it is in the best interest of the city to require a balancing of price, quality and other factors.

Thus, pursuant to Section 3-03 (c) of the Procurement Policy Board Rules, the open ended RFP will be used because the Department will select qualified providers to develop and operate transitional residences in order to address the need to create additional shelter capacity citywide. In addition, this open-ended method will provide interested applicants an opportunity to propose sites for the targeted population, as they become available for shelter development.

All proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications 1) must have a tax exempt status under 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and or be legally incorporated as a for-profit entity; 2) must demonstrate that they have, or can obtain by the contract start date, site control of the proposed Standalone facility location(s); and 3) must demonstrate an intent to enter into lease agreements with the owner(s) or management designee(s) for each property.

Any organization that believes it can provide these services may contact: John Iaffaldano, Associate Staff Analyst, Office of Contracts and Procurement at the Department of Homeless Services at (212) 361-8435, 33 Beaver Street, 13th Floor NY, NY 10004, to request a copy of the RFP application, which is available for pick-up Monday through Friday on business days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Use the following address unless otherwise specified in notice, to secure, examine or submit bid/proposal documents, vendor pre-qualification and other forms; specifications/ blueprints; other information; and for opening and reading of bids at date and time specified above.

EMINENT DOMAIN PROCEEDINGS
SYNOPSIS OF DETERMINATION AND FINDINGS

Subsequent to a Public Hearing, duly advertised and conducted on June 16, 2004, at Medgar Evers College ("MEC") of The City University of New York ("CUNY"), 1650 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, with the record held open until June 26, 2004, pursuant to the New York State Eminent Domain Procedure Law ("EDPL"), the Dormitory Authority of the State of New York ("DASNY") at a meeting on July 21, 2004, adopted a resolution making the necessary Determination and Findings pursuant to Section 204 of the EDPL, authorizing DASNY to acquire by exercise of the power of eminent domain, in connection with the expansion of the campus of MEC, fee title to the following privately owned parcels of land (the "Property") in the Borough of Brooklyn, City of New York, generally identified on the Tax Map of the City of New York, Borough of Brooklyn, as: 1) Section 5, Block 1287, Lot 61 (85-115 Crown Street) - Record Owner: Escrown LLC; and 2) Section 5, Block 1287, Lot 70 (85-115 Crown Street) - Record Owner: Escrown LLC (the "Project").

Such resolution of DASNY as required by the EDPL included a Determination and Findings of DASNY regarding:
I. The Public Use, Benefit, and Purpose To Be Served by the Project [EDPL § 204(B)(1)].

The Project would benefit the public as it is part of the implementation of the Campus Master Plan issued by CUNY for MEC to address the projected increase in full-time enrollment at the college due to the demand for higher education services in the local community. The master plan was developed to address the quantitative space needs of future projected enrollment and at the same time provide a campus identity, campus center, redistribute current uses, provide space for extra-curricular activities and community outreach. Acquisition of the Property is necessary for implementation of the master plan. DASNY has determined that there is a definite need for the Property at this time.
II. Project Location [EDPL § 204(B)(2)].

MEC is located in the Borough of Brooklyn, Kings County, New York. The college currently occupies two buildings, the Carroll Street Building at 1150 Carroll Street, and the Bedford Avenue building at 1650 Bedford Avenue. The Property fronts the north side of Crown Street in the vicinity of the Bedford Avenue building. More specifically, the tax section, block and lot numbers of the Property are as follows:

Section 5, Block 1287: Lots 61 and 70 (85-115 Crown Street).
III. General Effect of the Project on the Environment [EDPL § 204(B)(3)].

The general effect of the Project on the environment is set forth in the Medgar Evers College Master Plan Final Environmental Impact Statement ("FEIS"). Briefly, the Project will cause no significant impacts on the environment, the residents of the locality, or the character of the neighborhood, except for the following impacts for which mitigation measures will be undertaken, as more fully described in the FEIS: excavation for the proposed Academic Building I to be built on the Property may disturb any artifacts that may be buried on the site; potential impacts may result from existing on-site lead paint, asbestos-containing materials, underground storage tanks and groundwater contamination from off-site sources; and traffic impacts are expected for several intersection approaches within the study area as detailed in the FEIS.
IV. General Effect of the Project on the Residents of the Locality [EDPL § 204(B)(3)].

The Project will bring about substantial benefits for the residents of the locality. Full implementation of the Campus Master Plan, of which the Project is a part, is expected to meet the growing demand for higher education services in the local community. The master plan projected full-time enrollment of 6,500 full-time students for the academic year 2004/2005. Implementation of the master plan will address the space needs resulting from this projected rise in enrollment, enabling MEC to continue its mission of providing equal access and a quality education to the Brooklyn community. Moreover, implementation of the master plan will allow for the development of a unified campus for academic, administrative and community service purposes. Additionally, inasmuch as full implementation of the master plan will result in a rejuvenation of the area in which MEC is located, nearby residents will have the benefit of proximity to a revitalized community college in their area.

The only use affected by acquisition of the Property is a New York City Department of Sanitation ("NYCDOS") garage currently occupying the Property, which has begun relocating its operations from the Property to another location. Relocation of the garage from the site has long been contemplated by NYCDOS, and would occur with or without the Project.
V. Other Relevant Factors [EDPL § 204(B)(4)].

Comments received prior to, at and following the public hearing (until June 26, 2004), whether orally or in writing, showed support for the Project. Specifically, two statements were made in favor of the Project, and there were no statements made in opposition.

DETERMINATION

Based on due consideration of the July 21, 2004 findings, it is determined that DASNY should exercise its power of condemnation in order to implement the Project and specifically to acquire the Property.

AVAILABILITY OF COPIES OF DETERMINATION AND FINDINGS

Copies of the complete Determination and Findings, of which this is a brief synopsis, will be forwarded without cost upon written request directed to: The Dormitory Authority of the State of New York, 515 Broadway, Albany, New York 12207 (attention: Joseph F. Durkin).

■ NOTICE

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM (CD) NOTICE OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, COMMUNITY BOARDS, GROUPS AND PERSONS:
This document constitutes the Notice of Intent to Request Release of Funds for the Harlem Armory Rehabilitation Project. On September 8, 2004 the City will submit to HUD its Request for Release of Funds for this project.

Harlem Armory Rehabilitation Project

The Harlem Armory, also known as the 369th Regiment Armory, is a New York City Designated Landmark located at 2366 Fifth Avenue in Manhattan. CD funds in the amount of $1,833,762 are allocated to the Police Athletic League (which has been granted a lease for the drill shed portion of the Armory by the New York State Dept. of Military and Naval Affairs) to assist in its rehabilitation of the site. For many years, the drill shed of the armory has been used by the community as a tennis facility. The project will upgrade the drill shed for its continued use as a tennis facility and will also allow for other multi-use athletic activities. The scope of work includes bathroom renovation, painting, the replacement of broken seating and wood flooring boards; and the installation of a permanent tennis/athletic flooring surface, improved lighting, fire doors, signage and an elevator. The total cost of rehabilitation is estimated at $2.3 million. The New York City Department of Design and Construction will oversee the project.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the City of New York which documents the environmental review of the project. This Environmental Review Record is on file and copies may be obtained at the Office of Management and Budget, Community Development, 75 Park Place, 8th Floor, New York, New York 10007, between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Please call (212) 788-6177 to make an appointment to view or obtain a copy of the document.

The City of New York will undertake the project described above with CD funds from HUD, under Title I. The City of New York is certifying to HUD that the City and Budget Director Mark Page, in his official capacity as the Certifying Officer for the CD Program, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making and action and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, New York City may use the CD funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: a) That the certification was not in fact executed by the recipient's Certifying Officer, b) the recipient has failed to make one of the two findings pursuant to 58.41 or to make the written determination decision required by 58.47, 58.53 or 58.64 for the project as applicable, c) the recipient has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at Subparts F and G for the preparation and completion of an environmental assessment, d) the recipient has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at Subparts H and I for the preparation and completion of an environmental impact statement, e) the recipient did not comply with the historic review provisions of 36 CFR Part 800, f) with respect to a project for which a recipient has decided that 58.47, 58.53 or 58.64 apply, the recipient has failed to include in the ERR the written decision required, or its decision is not supported by the facts specified by the objecting party. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD, Office of Community Planning and Development, 26 Federal Plaza, 35th Floor, New York, New York 10278. Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. The proposed last date of comment is September 23, 2004; however, potential objectors should contact HUD to verify the actual last day of the objection period.

READER'S GUIDE

The City Record (CR) is, published each business day and includes notices of proposed New York City procurement actions, contract awards, and other procurement-related information. Solicitation notices for most procurements valued at or above $100,000 for information technology and for construction and construction related services, above $50,000 for other services, and above $25,000 for other goods are published for at least one day. Other types of procurements, such as sole source, require notice in the City Record for five consecutive days. Unless otherwise specified, the agencies and offices listed are open for business Mondays thru Fridays from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. except legal holidays.

NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS OFFICAL NOTICE TO ALL NEW YORK CITY CONTRACTORS

The New York State Constitution ensures that all laborers, workers or mechanics employed by a contractor or subcontractor doing public work are to be paid the same wage rate that prevails in the trade where the public work is being done. Additionally, New York State Labor Law §§ 220 and 230 provide that a contractor or subcontractor doing public work in construction or building service must pay its employees no less than the prevailing wage. Section 6-109 (the Living Wage Law) of the New York City Administrative Code also provides for a "living wage", as well as prevailing wage, to be paid to workers employed by City contractors in certain occupations. The Comptroller of the City of New York is mandated to enforce prevailing wage. Contact the NYC Comptrollers Office at www.comptroller.nyc.gov, click on Labor Law Schedules to view rates.

New York City's "Burma Law" (Local Law No. 33 of 1997) No Longer to be Enforced. In light of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000), the City has determined that New York City's Local Law No. 33 of 1997 (codified in Administrative Code Section 6-115 and Charter Section 1524), which restricts City business with banks and companies doing business in Burma, is unconstitutional. This is to advise, therefore, that the language relating to Burma contained in existing New York City contracts may not be enforced.

VENDOR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION

New York City procures approximately $7 billion worth of goods, services, construction and construction-related services every year. The NYC Procurement Policy Board Rules require that agencies primarily solicit from established mailing lists called bidder/proposer lists. To register for these lists--free of charge-, prospective suppliers should fill out and submit the NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.

- Online at NYC.gov/selltonyc
- To request a hardcopy application, call the Vendor Enrollment Center at (212) 857-1680.

Attention Existing Suppliers:
Even if you already do business with NYC agencies, be sure to fill out an application. We are switching over to citywide, centralized Bidders Lists instead of the agency-specific lists previously used to issue notices about upcoming contract opportunities. To continue receiving notices of New York City contract opportunities, you must fill out and submit a NYC-FMS Vendor Enrollment application.
If you are uncertain whether you have already submitted an application, call us at (212) 857-1680.

SELLING TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING WORKSHOP

New and experienced vendors are encouraged to register for a free training course on how to do business with New York City. "Selling to Government" workshops are conducted by the Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, New York, NY 10038. Morning and afternoon sessions are convened on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, and to register, call (212) 618-8845.

PRE-QUALIFIED LIST

New York City procurement policy permits agencies to develop and solicit from pre-qualified lists of vendors, under prescribed circumstance. When it is decided by an agency to develop a pre-qualified list, criteria for pre-qualification must be clearly explained in the solicitation and notice of the opportunity to pre-qualify for that solicitation must be published in at least five issues of the CR.

Information and qualification questionnaires for inclusion on such list may be obtained directly from the Agency Chief Contracting Officer at each agency, (see Vendor Information Manual). A completed qualification Questionnaire may be submitted to the Chief Contracting Officer at any time, unless otherwise indicated and action (approval or denial) shall be taken by the agency within 90 days from the date of submission. Any denial or revocation of pre-qualified status can be appealed to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, (OATH), Section 3-11 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules describes the criteria for the general use of pre-qualified lists.

NON-MAYORAL ENTITIES

PUBLIC ACCESS CENTER

The Public Access Center is available to suppliers and the public as a central source for supplier-related information through on-line computer access. The Center is located at 253 Broadway, 9th floor, in lower Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M to 3:00 P.M. For information, contact the Mayor's Office of Contracts at (212) 788-0010.

ATTENTION: NEW YORK CITY MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Join the growing number of Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (M/WBEs) that are competing for New York City's business. In order to become certified for the program, your company must substantiate that it: (1) is at least fifty-one percent (51%) owned, operated and controlled by a minority or woman and (2) is either located in New York City or has a significant tie to New York City's business community. To obtain a copy of the certification application and to learn more about the program, contact the New York City Department of Small Business Services, 110 William Street, 2nd Floor, New York, New York 10038 (212) 513-6311.

PROMPT PAYMENT

It is the policy of the City of New York to pay its bills promptly. The Procurement Policy Board Rules generally require that the City pay its bills within 30 days after the receipt of a proper invoice. The City now pays interest on all late invoices. The grace period that formerly existed was eliminated on July 1, 2000. However, there are certain types of payments that are not eligible for interest. These are listed in Section 4-06 of the Procurement Policy Board Rules. The Comptroller and OMB determine the interest rate on late payments twice a year, in January and in July.

HOW TO READ CR PROCUREMENT NOTICES

Procurement Notices in the CR are arranged by alphabetically listed Agencies, and within Agency, by Division if any. The notices for each Agency (or Division) are further divided into three subsections: Solicitations, Awards; and Lists & Miscellaneous notices. Each of these subsections separately lists notices pertaining to Goods, Services, or Construction. Notices of Public Hearings on Contract Awards appear at the end of the Procurement Section. At the end of each Agency (or Division) listing is a paragraph giving the specific address to contact to secure, examine and/or to submit bid or proposal documents, forms, plans, specifications, and other information, as well as where bids will be publicly opened and read. This address should be used for the purpose specified UNLESS a different one is given in the individual notice. In that event, the directions in the individual notice should be followed. The following is a SAMPLE notice and an explanation of the notice format used by the CR.
